OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union was held at the Courthouse, Elizabeth, New Jersey, on Wednesday, July 3, 1912, at 2:30 o'clock.

Present—Director Cady, and Freeholders Bourdon, Crane, Darby, Fay, Gruener, Hall, Hennessy, Jones, Krouse, McMane, Meisel, Perry, Pierson, Randolph, Smith, Teller and Wilbur.

Absent—Freeholder Acken.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur the reading of the minutes of meetings of June 6 and 20, 1912, was dispensed with, and they were approved as per printed copies on members' desks.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication from W. L. Richard relative to his having purchased from the Warren Directory Company all its rights to the city directories of Plainfield, Westfield, Mountainside and Fanwood, and as to issuing a new copy of said directories, was read.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this communication was received and ordered placed on file.

July 1, 1912.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Several inquiries having been received at this office as to the jurisdiction of the State Board of Health relative to sites selected by boards of chosen freeholders for the location of county tuberculosis hospitals, the Attorney General's Department was requested to advise the board in regard to the matter and a communication received from the Assistant Attorney General states that in his opinion the provisions of Chapter 66 of the Laws of 1910, which require the State Board of Health to give hearings and grant consent for the establishment of tuberculosis hospitals, are not repealed by the provisions of Chapter 88 of the Laws of 1910 nor Chapter 217 of the Laws of 1912.

It is, therefore, evident that it will be necessary for boards of freeholders to apply to the State Board of Health, for approval of sites which may be selected for the location of county tuberculosis hospitals and to also present plans of the proposed buildings to said State Board for approval before proceeding to erect said buildings.

Very respectfully,
BRUCE S. KEATOR, Secretary.
June 29, 1912.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this matter was referred to the Tuberculosis Committee.

To the Honorable Board of Freeholders of Union County:

Gentlemen—At a special meeting of the Council of the Borough of Mountainside held on the above date I was instructed to send to you a copy of a resolution that was passed, as the Council would like to have it brought before your board at its next meeting. I am,

Respectfully yours,
ROBERT LAING, Borough Clerk.

Whereas, There is at the present time no practical road connecting Westfield and Mountainside with New Providence and Murray Hill, the only one passable being the New Providence road, which is not only dangerous on account of its steep grades and sharp turns, but is the only available way of reaching the summit of the Mountain; and

Whereas, A petition to improve the said New Providence road has been presented to the Council, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Honorable Board of Freeholders of Union county be hereby petitioned to investigate the matter of making the above mentioned New Providence road a State Aid road, same to begin at its intersection with Mountain avenue, Borough of Mountainside, and extending to the Murray Hill Line, and that the borough clerk be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Honorable Board of Freeholders.

CHARLES BARCHTOLD, Mayor.
ROBERT LAING, Borough Clerk.
(Seal.)

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this matter was referred to the County Road Committee, County Engineer and County Attorney.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

July 1, 1912.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Herewith is submitted a report of the work of the Department of Weights and Measures for the month ending June 30, 1912:

During the month 1,065 inspections were made, divided as follows: Number of counter and balance scales inspected, 230; weights, 451; dry measures, 226; liquid measures, seventy-three, and counter measures and yard sticks, eighty-five. There were forty-four confiscations of scales and thirty-three condemnations, making a total of seventy-seven found incorrect. Sixty-six defective weights were confiscated, twenty dry measures and twelve liquid measures. Of the eighty-five counter measures inspected thirteen were condemned, two confiscated and thirty-five adjusted, leaving only thirty-five measures which were correct on first inspection.

The office inspections have increased over the inspections of the previous month, there being ten scales, thirty four weights, seventy-two dry measures and thirteen liquid measures inspected and sealed.

Since March 11, when the field work of the office started, 3,264 inspections have been made, 582 confiscations of defective and incorrect scales, weights and measures.

There are only two municipalities in the county in which inspections have not been completed, viz., Plainfield and Summit. This I expect to have finished before the middle of July, at which time the county will have had its first official inspection, every place of business having been visited, leaving only the return trips for the adjustment and sealing of new apparatus which takes the place of the defective weights and measures.

Respectfully submitted,
A. W. SCHWARTZ,
Superintendent of Weights and Measures.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Elizabeth Drawbridges would respectfully report that the South Front street drawbridge over the Elizabeth River is in very pressing need of replanking. The westerly approach to the bridge, which is constructed of timber, must also be entirely rebuilt.

Your committee has had specifications drawn for the work, and bids were received for the same. The work has been awarded to the M. Byrnes Company, city of Elizabeth, at $1,277.

Your committee would recommend that this award be confirmed by the board.

Signed by the committee.
JOSEPH PERRY,
D. F. HENNESSY,
GEO. G. TELLER.

On motion by Freeholder Smith this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Report of committee on Proposed Bridge at Roll Avenue, Linden, New Jersey.

Gentlemen—Your committee on the above-named bridge would report as follows:

The site has been visited and examined, and your committee is of the opinion that a bridge should be built, there being none there at present. The bridge to be about twenty feet span and twenty feet wide, to be constructed of concrete and steel, and to cost not exceeding the sum of $1,800.

Signed by the committee.
HENRY KROUSE,
W. H. RANDOLPH,
J. LOGAN FAY.

On motion by Freholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Report of Committee on County Roads.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on County Roads would respectfully report that the following named men have been appointed inspectors on the roads now under construction: Edward A. Leach, appointed inspector on Rahway avenue, city of Elizabeth; Victor R. Value, appointed inspector on Newark avenue, city of Elizabeth; William D. Decker, appointed inspector on Westfield avenue, city of Elizabeth; W. H. Hand, appointed inspector on South avenue, Plainfield. The above-named persons to serve during the construction and at the pleasure of the committee at a compensation of $3 per day.

Your committee has also appointed Gustave Pein as assistant inspector on general county road repairs, acting under inspector James W. Fink. Mr. Pein to serve at a compensation of $3 per day, and at the pleasure of the committee

Signed by the committee.
S. P. T. WILBUR,
HENRY KROUSE,
CHAS. A. SMITH.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted, Freeholder Pierson voting in the negative.

Report of Committee on Amsterdam Avenue Bridge, Etc., Roselle, New Jersey.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your committee on the above-named bridge respectfully reports that it has examined the streets in question and would recommend the following action.

It is recommended that the bridge on Amsterdam avenue near the B. & O. R. R., be extended across the sidewalk of Amsterdam avenue at the westerly side of the street for a length of about eighteen feet, the cost not to exceed the sum of $500.

With regard to the proposed bridge on Prosper street your committee would report against the construction of the proposed bridge, as the street has no outlet and it does not seem necessary at this time to construct this bridge.

Your committee also examined a bridge on the Wheatsheaf road in Roselle, which has fallen in at one end and is in very bad repair. Your committee would recommend the construction of a new bridge at the location named, to be twenty-four feet long by four feet six inches span, the cost not to exceed the sum of $400.

Signed by the committee.
HENRY KROUSE,
S. P. T. WILBUR,
CHAS. A. SMITH.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Report of Committee on Culverts at Locust Street and Fourth Avenue, and at Locust Street and Second Avenue, Roselle, New Jersey.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your committee on the above-named work would respectfully report that it has examined the streets in question and would recommend the following action:

Construct two new cast iron covered culverts across Locust street at Fourth avenue, also construct one new culvert across Locust street at Second avenue also one new cast iron covered culvert across Second avenue at the westerly side of Locust street. The total cost of all the work not to exceed the sum of $500.

Signed by the committee,
HENRY KROUSE,
S. P. T. WILBUR,
CHAS. A. SMITH.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

Report of Committee on Parker Avenue and Raleigh Avenue Bridges, Cranford, New Jersey.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Your committee on the above-named bridges would respectfully report that it has examined the streets named and that it is of the opinion that a new bridge about fifty feet long and five feet span should be constructed at Raleigh avenue, and a similar bridge should be constructed at Parker avenue, the total cost of the bridges not to exceed the sum of $1,200.

Signed by the committee,
GEO. G. TELLER,
J. LOGAN FAY,
PETER MEISEL.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

To the Board of Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on the Elizabeth Drawbridge would report that bids have been received for a drawbridge and also for a lift bridge at South street, on Elizabeth River.

Your committee considers it necessary to provide for sidewalks, and as such sidewalks cannot be provided excepting by means of a lift bridge, your committee would recommend that the appropriation for this work be made $8,500 instead of the present appropriation of $5,000, so that a bridge with sidewalks may be had.

JOSEPH PERRY,
GEO. G. TELLER,
D. F. HENNESSY.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call adopted unanimously.

NEW BUSINESS.

Resolved, That the County Collector is hereby authorized and directed to pay to the order of Melvin H. Cleaves, Collector of North Plainfield Township, the sum of twenty and 28-100 dollars ($20.28) in payment of taxes on that portion of the land lying within North Plainfield Township which was purchased for the Bonnie Burn Sanatorium.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously.

By the Committee on Appropriations:

Resolved, That the sum of fifty thousand, four hundred dollars is hereby credited to the appropriations for the year 1912 heretofore made by this board, and that said sum be transferred from the unexpended balance to the appropriations account, and that the sum of four hundred thousand dollars be raised by tax for the use of this county, to be assessed and collected in the manner and at the times prescribed by the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes for the use of the State, and the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in the cities of Elizabeth, Plainfield, Rahway and Summit, in said county, respectively; and that the board hereby directs the assessors of the respective townships and wards in said county to assess the said sum of four hundred ——— thousand ——— dollars on the inhabitants and their estates, agreeable to the law for the time being for the raising of money by taxation for the use of the county of Union, State of New Jersey; and that the said assessors meet at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth on First Tuesday of August next, at 10 o'clock a. m., to adjust and ascertain the proportion of said sum to be levied in each township, borough and ward in said county; and that the clerk of the board send a copy of this resolution to each of said assessors; and be it further

Resolved, That the resolution of this board adopted May 12, 1912, appropriating the sum of four hundred and fifty thousand, four hundred dollars be amended accordingly.

Respectfully submitted,
CHAS. A. SMITH,
J. LOGAN FAY,
BRADFORD JONES,
AARON D. CRANE,
BURTON P. HALL.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Krouse:

Resolved, That the bill of The Weldon Contracting Company for repairs to county roads, amounting to $3,930, be paid when properly audited by the Committee on County Roads.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Hall:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine the bridges on Le Grande avenue, Borough of Fanwood, and report at next meeting as to the advisability of constructing new bridges.

On motion by Freeholder Gruener this resolution was adopted unanimously.

The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Hall, Gruener and Pierson.

By Freeholder Meisel:

Resolved, That plans, cross-sections and specifications for the permanent improvement of the following named roads, streets or avenues submitted to this board be approved, viz:

Beginning at the intersection with the centre line of Morris avenue, in the Township of Springfield, distant easterly along the centre line of Morris avenue about thirty-five feet from the easterly side of a bridge over Van Winkle Brook; and from said beginning point thence running in a southwesterly direction through lands of William Flemer and others, about 1,750 feet, to a point in the centre line of Westfield avenue, at a bend in said avenue, and nearly opposite the residence of Albert A. Sickley.

Beginning at the intersection of South avenue and Martine avenue, in the Borough of Fanwood, and thence running along South avenue in a northeasterly and easterly direction about 3,700 lineal feet to the centre line of Summit avenue, and the easterly line of the Borough of Fanwood, being at least sixty feet in width.

Beginning at the intersection of Morris avenue with the township line of Union Township and the city line of the city of Elizabeth, and thence running in a northwesterly direction along Morris avenue, in the Township of Union, to the intersection of Morris avenue and Stuyvesant avenue in the Township of Union, a distance of about 2 9-10 miles. The roadway being at least thirty-three feet in width.

Beginning at the intersection of South avenue and Martine, in Fanwood Borough, and running thence southwesterly about 3,200 feet along South avenue to the intersection of South avenue and Terrill road, all in the Borough of Fanwood, being at least sixty feet in width; also South avenue, in the Township of Fanwood, beginning at the intersection of South avenue and Summit avenue at the easterly line of Fanwood Borough; and thence running easterly about twenty-three hundred (2,300) feet through the Township of Fanwood to the westerly line of the town of Westfield, being at least sixty feet in width.

Beginning at Morris avenue in the Township of Springfield; thence running easterly through the Township of Springfield and Township of Union, and partly bordering on Millburn Township line to the Essex county line, being about one and three-quarter (1¾) miles in length and at least thirty-three feet in width; and

Whereas, The estimated cost of the building and construction of the aforesaid roads will amount to the sum of one hundred thousand dollars; and,

Whereas, Instead of certifying to the County Board of Taxation to the county's share of the cost of the work to be done, as provided for in section 9 of said act, it is deemed advisable to issue bonds of the county for its proper share of the costs of said work; therefore, be it

Resolved, That, for the purpose of raising money to pay the costs of the permanent improving of the aforesaid roads hereinabove referred to the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union do hereby authorize and direct that bonds of the county of Union, to the extent and amount of not exceeding sixty thousand dollars be issued in accordance with the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to provide for the permanent improvement and maintenance of public roads in this State" (Revision 1912), and the supplements and amendments thereto; said bonds to be designated "Road Improvement Bonds," in the sum of one thousand (1,000) dollars each, payable in thirty years from the date thereof, with interest at the rate of four and one-quarter (4¼) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, principal and interest payable at the National State Bank of Elizabeth, New Jersey; said bonds to be signed by the Director and Clerk of the Board of Chosen Freholders of the county of Union, sealed with the seal of this board and countersigned by the County Collector of the county and properly numbered, and a registry thereof kept by the board; and that said bonds be coupon bonds, said coupons to be signed by the Director of the board, and the number to correspond to the several bonds to which they shall be severally attached, provided, however, that a facsimile signature of said Director may be engraved and lithographed on said coupons in lieu of actual signing; and be it further

Resolved, That the Director of this board and the County Collector are hereby authorized to cause said bonds to be prepared, printed and executed, and advertised and sold to the highest bidder, but not less than par.

On motion by Freeholder Doane this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously.

Secretary William J. McCloud, of the Board of Governors of the Bannie Burn Sanatorium, at this time appeared before the board and stated that they had decided to engage the srvices of Dr. J. E. Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the Common Council has fixed the thirteenth day of August, A. D. 1912, at eight o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 142 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., as the time and place for Elliot T. Barrows, William A. Woodruff and Michael Rimmer, the commissioners appointed by the Common Council pursuant to the ordinances entitled "An Ordinance to Lay Out and Open Manson Place from the southeasterly side line of South Second Street to the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street;" "An Ordinance to Lay Out and Open McDowell Street from the southeasterly side line of West Third Street to the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street," "An Ordinance to Lay Out and Open Halsey Street from the southeasterly side line of West Third Street to the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street," and "An Ordinance to Lay Out and Open Bergen street from the southeasterly side line of West Third Street to the northeasterly side line of West Fourth Street," all approved March 13, 1912, and the resolution of the Common Council in these premises adopted June 22, 1912, to meet and proceed with the discharge of their duties and hear all persons interested in the premises and make their estimates and assessments under said ordinances and said resolution and the statutes in such case made and provided.

The streets to be laid out and opened to extend as follows: On Manson Place from the southeasterly side line of South Second Street to the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street; McDowell Street, Halsey Street and Bergen Street each from the southeasterly side line of West Third Street to the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street, the center and side lines of which streets as well as the width thereof, being particularly described in said ordinances and shown on map therein referred to and on file in the office of the City Clerk, entitled "Map Showing Proposed Laying Out and Opening of McDowell Street, Halsey Street and Bergen Street, each from West Third Street to West Fourth Street and Manson Place from South Second Street to West Fourth Street, City of Plainfield, N. J., January 1912."

The lands, real estate and appurtenances intended to be taken for such purposes include all that part of the several properties described in said ordinances, viz: On Manson Place, property now or formerly owned by Samuel T. Shaw, on McDowell Street, property now or formerly owned by Samuel T. Shaw and Julia E. Ford, on Halsey Street, property now or formerly owned by Julia E. Ford and on Bergen Street, property now or formerly owned by Julia E. Ford as shown on said map and said ordinances to which reference is hereby made for more detailed description.

HELD FOR THREATENING TO SHOOT HIS OWN SON

Mt. Holly, Aug. 12.—In default of $300 bail, Gorden Tucker, of Smithville, has been committed to jail. The prisoner is being held for threatening to shoot his son, Charles Tucker. The son said his father's thirst for liquor had brought much trouble to their home and he was afraid of his life.

Leaving his home, Tucker went to the railroad station where his son-in-law, Thomas Dean, is a telegraph operator, and as he was drawing a revolver on the latter, Dean and some friends knocked Tucker down and disarmed him. Dean said that on June 16 he had a warrant issued for Tucker, who had planned to kill him with a club by lying in wait near his home. Dean said that from a window his wife warned him of his danger and perhaps saved his life.

COUNCILMAN BIDS FOR BOARDWALK CONCESSION

Asbury Park, Aug. 12.—The Beach Commission, in final session on the matter of granting concessions on the boardwalk for the next three years, has given the confectionery and soda water concession to William J. Couse, who bid $37,400.

The award was criticized by Dr. Thomas H. Pratt, a councilman of the city, who, with a number of associates, bid $39,843 for the concession. After appearing before the commission in executive session, Dr. Pratt offered to resign from the Council to get the concession.

His holding office was made a point in the refusal of his bid. Dr. Pratt offered to resign at once if the awarding of the concession was put off for a week, and he accuses the commission of throwing away the difference between his bid and the one accepted.

BIG FINES FOR VIOLATING LIQUOR DELIVERY RULES

Passaic, Aug. 12.—Hereafter, it will probably not fare well with bottlers and others selling liquor in Passaic without a license, for a new ordinance is expected to be in effect soon, providing a penalty of $250 for the first offense, $350 for the second and $500 for the third, with a possible jail term of six months to boot.

Commissioner of Public Safety John H. Kehoe has carefully studied the excise question in Passaic and has come to the conclusion that the city is not receiving the revenue it should from the liquor traffic carried on here. So he has drafted an amendment to the ordinance, which is so worded that all bottlers and brewers delivering beer or other liquors in Passaic must have a license just like the wholesalers, saloonkeepers, hotel proprietors and pay the same fee, $501 per annum. By actual count there are thirty-one such concerns operating here, meaning an additional revenue each year of over $15,000, if the amndments are passed.

Heretofore, brewers delivering here were not required to have a license. Bottlers took a chance on escaping the police and, when arrested, readily paid $25 for the first violation and $50 for each subsequent violation, for they had to be caught nearly a dozen times before the fines amounted to the $501 license fee. With a fine of from $250 to $500 staring them in the face and chances of serving six months in the county jail, it is believed few would attempt to take the risk.

AID ASBURY'S WATER SUPPLY.

Ocean Grove, Aug. 12.—The artesian well system of this place will be placed at the disposal of Asbury Park through an arrangement made by committees representing both communities. The committees were composed of Mayor Reginald S. Bennet, Councilman Thomas Hancock and City Engineer Rufus L. Savage, of Asbury Park, and T. J. Preston, John E. Andrus and E. M. Cole, of Ocean Grove. There is no present deficiency in the water supply of Asbury Park and the measure was taken merely as a safeguard and to meet the extraordinary strain put on the water supply because of the annual influx of summer residents.

—You can boost a hero up on a pedestal, but it's another thing to keep him there.

NINE GYPSIES IN RAID TO RECEIVE JAIL FARE

Atlantic City, Aug. 12.—The gypsy chief and eight of his hungry followers, who raided the suburb of Absecon for food Thursday night and were dispersed in a running fight with constables and citizens, were sentenced to three months in the county jail Friday when arraigned before Squire Weeks. Most of the loot was recovered.

Merchants of Absecon and Pleasantville kept their places of business locked Friday, fearing a return of the raiders. In the affray Thursday night one of the nomads was wounded, but was removed by his fellows. Persons in the town think there must have been about 100 in the marauding party.

GET AFTER HOTEL MEN WHO FLEECE VISITORS

Atlantic City, Aug. 12.—Members of the City Commission, headed by Mayor William Riddle, have decided to take summary action against proprietors of hotels here who are fleecing unsuspecting visitors. Fake advertisement, the charging of exorbitant rates, holding of baggage until ransom is paid, when visitors through misrepresentation have been led to take rooms, will all be prosecuted.

"I'll pay the cost of prosecution myself if necessary," declared Mayor Riddle Friday night. "This sort of business must stop, and stop immediately. Every day the commissioners and police department are receiving complaints from visitors, many of them too poor to remain over and push cases themselves. From now on we will go after every case brought to our attention."

CAR WRECKED AT BEND; OCCUPANTS DISAPPEAR

Jamesburg, Aug. 12.—A jumbled mass of iron and wood is all that remains of a Hupmobile automobile lying in a ditch at Halfacre. It marks the termination of a fast ride by two men and two women whose names have not been found out. How they escaped injury when the car was ditched is more than the observers can grasp, considering the mess that was made of the car.

The accident happened Thursday night. The proprietor of the Half acre Hotel heard the crash and the cries of the occupants. When he reached the spot they had stripped three tires from the wheels and were making away in the darkness. They declined to tell their names. It was found in the morning that they also had taken their license tag.

The smash occurred at a sharp bend where the road turns toward Englishtown. It is evident the autoists were going too fast to make the turn, and in the effort went over the bank.

WOMAN HASN'T SPOKEN WORD FOR FIVE WEEKS

Passaic, Aug. 12.—Miss Mary Rapatz, of Jefferson street, who was removed to the General Hospital nearly five weeks ago, suffering from a mild form of insanity, probably has established a new record for women. According to the nurses and physicians at the institution, she has not spoken a word since she was admitted.

Miss Rapatz was employed by Eckel Goldstein, of 157 Jefferson street, to assist about the house and care for his children for several months. Early in July she began acting strangely and the authorities were notified. County Physician Armstrong examined the woman and ordered her removal to the hospital. She made no objection whatever. Efforts have been made to get the woman to ask for necessaries, but she apparently prefers to go without them rather than speak.

County Physician Armstrong has noticed that the woman's condition makes it advisable that she be removed to the State Hospital for the Insane, and this will probably be done some time this week.

THREE SENTENCED.

New Brunswick, Aug. 12.—Allison Pierson, Patrick Kelly and Joseph S. Kelly, who were convicted last week of assaulting Mae Maher, fifteen years old, have been sentenced to the Rahway Reformatory by Judge Daly. The court gave the young men a lecture before he passed sentence on them. The assault took place on a barge at Port Reading between July 4 and 14.

FOR JENKS, NOT FAWCETT.

Woodruff Predicts Action of Kings Progressives.

New York, Aug. 12.—Timothy L. Woodruff caused a flutter among the Republican managers in Brooklyn by intimating that Supreme Court Justice Almet F. Jenks, who is to be renominated by the Democrats, would probably be indorsed by the Progressives and declaring that County Judge Lewis L. Fawcett, who has been slated by the Republicans for one of the places on the judiciary ticket, would "emphatically not" receive the indorsement of the third party. In regard to Justice Jenks Mr. Woodruff had this to say:

"He is an excellent official and I think meets our requirements. It is quite likely that he will receive the indorsement of the Progressives.

CODDING HASN'T DECIDED TO RUN

Says He Is Still Considering Advisability of Seeking Assembly Nomination.

URGED BY BRIGGS MEN

He Is An Ardent Supporter of the Senator, and Is Wanted In the House to Help Latter's Campaign For Re-election.

Trenton, Aug. 13 (Special)—Although there was talk at the annual outing last Saturday of the Union County Republicans, of the nomination of Deputy Supreme Court Clerk Charles N. Codding, of Westfield, for the Assembly, it is not settled definitely that Mr. Codding will run. The proposition that he be a candidate for the Assembly on the Taft ticket has been put up to Mr. Codding and he is considering it. Assemblyman George C. Otto, of Elizabeth, having declared that he will not seek a renomination but will fight for a place on the small Board of Freeholders.

County Chairman Frank H. Smith, voicing the desire of the regular leaders in Union county, is extremely anxious that Mr. Codding shall be an Assembly candidate. The Deputy Supreme Court Clerk has not always been in the Kean camp and is known to be more or less independent. For this very reason it is calculated that Mr. Codding will be a mighty good addition to the regular Republican Assembly ticket in Union in this fight in which the G. O. P. will have to battle with the Progressives as well as with the Democrats.

Mr. Codding said today that he was considering the question of the Assembly candidacy, but was not now prepared to say positively whether or not he would run. He has declined already to be a candidate for Surrogate in Union county. Mr. Codding is one of the chief supporters of United States Senator Frank O. Briggs, and is one of the leaders in the fight for the renomination of Mr. Briggs.

Friends of Senator Briggs believe that if Mr. Codding were elected to the Assembly it would be a big factor in bringing about the re-election of the Mercer county man as United States Senator. This argument is to be made to Mr. Codding and it is the hope of the Briggs men that Mr. Codding will look at the proposition from this standpoint and will agree to run. Mr. Codding was Assemblyman from Union county in 1894 and 1895 and was given a third nomination in 1896, but declined to stand. He is one of three men who were ever given the third nomination for the Assembly in Union county.

YAMA YAMA CLUB PLANS FOR OUTING NEXT SUNDAY

A meeting of the Yama Yama Club was held last night for the purpose of completing arrangements for the annual outing to be held next Sunday on the Traynor farm at Warrenville.

The committee urges those who contemplate going to purchase their tickets as soon as possible, not later than Wednesday, as the number to go will be strictly limited.

The stage will leave from the corner of Front and Somerset streets at 9 o'clock sharp Sunday morning. Tickets may be procured from any of the members of the club.

CARRIED A DAGGER.

For carrying concealed weapons contrary to law, Dominick Ventze, of 510 East Third street, was arrested by Patrolman Sweeney and fined $10 with the option of twenty days in jail, by Mayor G. W. V. Moy in the Police Court yesterday. Patrolman Sweeney produced a murderous looking dagger which he said he observed protruding from the defendant's hip pocket. When questioned by Sweeney as to what he was carrying the weapon for the prisoner said that he was "going to get some one with it." The Mayor gave him a severe rating and threatened to commit him to State prison if he ever appeared before him again for a like offence.

TAX BOOKS SHOW GROWING VALUES

Assessors End Work—Impossible Yet to Tell What Rate Will Be.

The Plainfield Board of Assessors, comprising Clarence B. LaRue, of the First ward; Asa F. Randolph, of the Second ward; George E. Stillman, of the Third ward, and Harry C. Runyon of the Fourth ward, have completed their work and filed their books with the Union County Board of Taxation at Elizabeth. The County Board will now go over all the figures, which are subject to change, and according to law the books must be returned here by October 1 so that the tax collector can prepare his bills to be sent out. At present it is impossible to tell what the tax rate will be but every effort will be made to keep it down. It is now $1.75 on the $100.

There is a substantial increase in every ward of the city. Last year's total assessed valuation was $25,307,880, and that for this year totals $26,081,691. As has been stated Plainfield has never had a mushroom growth nor a slump and the growth has been steady and substantial for many years past. The figures as filed by the different assessors are as follows:

First ward—Land, $1,788,400; buildings, $2,620,025; personal, $882,675; deductions, $2,950; total, $5,288,150; increase, $184,025.

Second ward—Land, $2,757,375; buildings, $4,417,250; real estate, $7,174,625; personal, $1,123,960; deductions, $13,100; total, $8,285,485; increase, $315,075.

Third ward—Land, $2,341,175; buildings, $3,409,650; real estate, $5,750,825; personal, $641,351; deductions, $19,375; total, $6,372,801; increase, $146,906.

Fourth ward—Land, $1,871,575; buildings, $3,276,475; real estate, $5,148,050; personal, $991,205; deductions, $4,000; total, $6,135,255; increase, $127,805.

The totals for all four wards of the city are as follows:

Land, $8,758,525; buildings, $13,723,400; real estate, $22,481,925; personal, $3,639,191; deductions, $39,425; total, $26,081,691. According to the returns of the assessors there is now only 130 acres of what is called unimproved land.

DUNELLEN LODGE HAS 20TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

State Organizer W. C. Bingham, of Elizabeth, was the chief speaker and guest at the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of Court Dunellen, I. O. F., held in Junior Hall, Dunellen, last night. Mr. Bingham helped organize the court and in his speech reviewed its history and success. He complimented the members on their always progressive spirit and outlined the merits and benefits of their order.

There were several other speakers, among whom were High Court Secretary W. H. McKenzie, of Elizabeth; High Court Physician Dr. Mark Clausen, of Plainfield, and High Court Messenger, J. J. Praed, of Park avenue.

S. T. Titsworth, chief ranger of Court Dunellen, presided. There were representatives present from Courts Somerset, Watchung, Plainfield and Bound Brook.

Refreshments were served. A novelty of the collation was ice cream served in cones.

BOY BICYCLIST HURT.

The 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Telfer, of Bound Brook, is in a serious condition in Somerset Hospital, Somerville, as the result of a bad fall from his bicycle Sunday afternoon. The boy was riding the bicycle down the Vosseller avenue hill when he was thrown to the pavement. He was picked up unconscious and Dr. A. A. Lawson, of West Main street, was summoned immediately. The physician said that the boy was badly hurt and must be taken to the hospital. At the hospital today it was said the boy's condition was grave.

ALBERT WALTER CARTWRIGHT.

WORLD-TOUR TO ADVERTISE CITY

Ryan Footing It Over the Globe to the Glory of Edmonton, Can.

STAYED OVERNIGHT

He started April 12 With Five Companions, Four of Whom Have Given Up and One Is 2,000 Miles Behind Him.

Pittsie Ryan, of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, who left his home on April 28, 1912, for the purpose of making a trip around the world, reached Plainfield last night, and this morning continued his journey on foot, his next point of destination being Philadelphia, where he will take a steamer for Europe. Considering the distance already covered, Ryan, who is a young man, is in excellent condition. There were six in the party that left Edmonton and vicinity to perform the task of walking around the world, but four of the men dropped out. The other man, Jack Anderson, is now about 2,000 miles behind Ryan.

Some of the important points touched by Ryan in his journey to this city include Calagry, Saskatoon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Brandon, Winipeg, Kenora, Port Arthur, Fort William, St. Marie, Sudbury, Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, Canada; Concord, N. H.; Boston, Mass.; Providence, R. I.; Hartford, Bridgeport, New York, Jersey City, Newark and Elizabeth.

The "stunt" is being done to advertise Edmonton, and according to the arrangement, Ryan started without a cent of money and when he completes his job within five years he expected to have $500. This money he is expected to get by selling newspapers. He has been a newsboy for twenty-one years, he says.

After crossing the Atlantic he will tramp through England, Scotland, Ireland and other foreign countries. Ryan says that he made a similar trip around the world in 1905, concluding his journey in 1910. That tramp is almost identical with the one he is taking now. On the former occasion he returned with $2,500. He says he can cover 45 miles on foot in eleven hours. Last night he stopped at Clevely's hotel on North avenue, and he started early this morning for Philadelphia, which place, he says, he will reach sometime tomorrow night.

MISS RAYBERT SINGS AT YACHT CLUB'S CONCERT

Miss Etta Raybert, of this city, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walling, of Philadelphia, at their summer home at Seaside Park, near Barnegat, took part in a concert given by the Carnotius Mandolin Club, Saturday night. Miss Raybert responded to two encores in part one of the program and in the second half she gave one encore.

The concert was attended and enjoyed by a large number of summer visitors at the shore, including A. L. Force and daughter, Miss Lillian A. Force, of Duer street, the borough, who are also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walling.

GROCER CHARGED WITH VIOLATING SABBATH LAW

Samuel Kline, grocer, of 545 West Third street, was arraigned before City Judge William G. DeMeza in the police court, this morning, on a charge of violating the State law which calls for the observance of at least one day in the week. Judge William Newcorn appeared for the defendant. The hearing was adjourned for two weeks.

The two Sweeney boys who live at 544 West Third street and who have appeared several times in the police court on the charge of stealing, were up again this morning for the theft of several bicycle lamps. Fortuno, aged 13, said he had obtained one of the lamps from Suhr's piano store on East Sixth street. Two other boys, Edward Fay, 13, and Henry Richardson, 10, were present as witnesses. Patrolman Flatley made the arrests. The case was put over to Saturday morning.

PRESS TOURISTS END THEIR TRIP

Four of the Six Young Women Reach Home Early This Afternoon.

TWO REMAIN ABROAD

Four of the Plainfield Daily Press European tourists arrived home at 1 o'clock this afternoon after a delightful two months' trip abroad. Miss Ethel Hudson, of North Plainfield, and Miss A. Agnes Leighs, of this city, the other two members of the party, arranged to remain awhile longer in Europe. Miss Hudson will visit friends and will leave for home on September 18, while Miss Leighs will visit her grandparents in England, returning home about October 1.

The returning members of the party comprise Mrs. Clarence Brokaw, Miss Mabel Vail, of this city; Miss Agnes McWilliams, of Raritan, and Miss Helen Howard, of Higham, Mass., the chaperone. They made the voyage home on the steamer Haverford, of the American Line, which arrived in Philadelphia last night too late to land her passengers. Captain Evans disembarked his passengers this morning about 9 o'clock. There were 195 cabin and 430 steerage passengers on board.

Being somewhat uncertain as to the exact time of the arrival of the young women in Plainfield their relatives and friends did not arrange to meet them at the North Avenue station. The four returned tourists were in good spirits and voluble in their praise of the tour which had been made possible by the Plainfield Daily Press.

As has been stated before, the trip took the party into England, Holland, Belgium, Germany and Switzerland and the letters received from time to time which have been published in the Plainfield Daily Press, have kept relatives and friends informed of the good times that the young women have had while abroad.

There was one especially interesting fact in connection with the departure of the Plainfielders and that it was just twenty-five years ago on June 22, the day they left, that George Leighs, father of Miss Agnes Leighs, came to this country from England.

Miss Mabel Vail, when seen by a reporter for The Plainfield Daily Press, shortly after her arrival at her home, expressed great pleasure over the trip and the regret of the entire party that the tour was all over. She said that they had only

AUTOISTS ESCAPE FROM ROBBERS

ROAD WAS BARRICADED

Posse Fails to Capture Robber Trio—Spot Where Attempt Was Made the Scene of Hold-up and Shooting a Year Ago.

Gus Barfuss, proprietor of the South Plainfield auto bus line, and John Thornton, of South Plainfield, while returning from Perth Amboy to South Plainfield in the former's auto last night, were held up on the Plainfield-Metuchen road by highwaymen who had barricaded the road with boulders and stumps of trees. The autoists were speeding along at a lively clip when suddenly the obstructions in the road loomed up in front of them. Mr. Barfuss just had time to stop his car to prevent a smashup.

As the car came to a standstill the occupants saw three strange men spring up from behind a fence and head for the auto. Barfuss and Thornton being armed they scared the highwaymen to a standstill, and Barfuss took a chance of wrecking his car and drove it among the boulders.

In the get-away one of the tires on the machine burst, but another stop was not made until South Plainfield was reached.

The autoists reported the attempted holdup to the Plainfield police, but Captain Frederickson was unable to send an officer out at that time. Former Town Committeeman William Hamilton, of South Plainfield, was then notified and he led a party comprising John Kaine, Michael Savard, Charles Thornton, John Thornton and Mr. Barfuss. They returned to the point of the holdup and upon their arrival found the obstructions to be even worse than at first reported.

The posse searched the woods for three hours, but no trace of the highwaymen could be found. The place where the autoists were held up is about three-quarters of a mile south of the Lehigh Valley Railroad crossing and is densely covered with woodland along the side of the road. It is just a year ago that Harry VanNest, of Alton, was held up and shot through the leg while riding his bicycle along that same road. There is no clew to the highwaymen, but if the practice continues steps will be taken, it is said, to have the county roads in that vicinity patrolled at night to prevent similar occurrences.

LIQUOR MEN SAVED MONEY BY AVOIDING COURT TRIALS

Assistant Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., who represented the city in its action against several wholesale liquor dealers for violations of the State law, which forbids the delivery of liquor from one municipality to another, in discussing yesterday's decision in the city court, said today that it was because he recommended leniency that Mayor Moy did not impose the full penalty. He said that it was not his intention to be too severe on the defendants who saved the city the expense of a trial. In such cases he recommended leniency, which resulted in the dealers being fined $15, which is $5 less than the maximum. Mr. Hetfield said that his father, Judge Walter L. Hetfield, did not represent any of the defendants.

VACATIONISTS HELP HILLTOP BABY CAMP

Colony of Plainfielders at Wolfboro, N. H., Make Up Offering at Sunday-school.

There was received today from William D. Murray, who is summering at Wolfboro, N. H., a check for $5.97 for the King's Daughters' Baby Camp, which is in answer to an appeal for the support of this work. The money represented an offering received in a Sunday-school at Wolfboro. There are many Plainfielder's spending the summer there and all were glad of the opportunity to remember those who are working faithfully at home during the warm weather.

Some of the Plainfielders at Wolfboro saw the appeal for funds in the Plainfield Daily Press and decided to render some assistance. The work at the camp is progressing well and the contributions received daily for the fund is a source of great encouragement to those in charge of the camp. It will require between $500 and $600 to maintain the camp throughout the summer and the King's Daughter's are earnestly hoping that all friends will do their share in realizing that sum.

THIEVES GET AWAY WITH MALI SILVER

Effort Made to Keep the Burglary Quiet—Safe's Combination Solved.

Despite persistent efforts for the past four days to hush the matter up the story has leaked out that on last Thursday night the home of Pierre Mali, 843 East Front street, was entered by burglars, the safe unlocked and silver plate to the value of $200 or more stolen. Two valuable gold watches were also taken. Entrance was effected by boring a hole through the sash of the window in the butler's pantry and pulling back the catch. One of the waitresses employed in the house made the discovery the following morning when she went to the safe to get the silver. The safe was locked, as she had locked it the night before.

A small bag of silver tea spoons were found under a tree at the rear of the premises indicating that the flight of the thieves must have been hurried. Imprints of bare feet were observed in the pantry and hall showing that the burglar, to obviate making the least sound, had discarded his foot wear.

It is believed that the thieves had an automobile stationed on Mountain avenue to aid them in their get away. On the night of the occurrence Mr. Mali was at home, and sleeping in the house were Mr. Hempstead, his bookkeeper, and two servants. No unusual noise was heard during the night. The police were informed of the burglary and Detective Sergeant Flynn made an investigation but so far as can be learned, without result.

An attempt was also made on the same night to enter the premises of George F. Murphy, 842 East Front street. He heard footsteps on the porch of his house and got up out of bed to investigate. The noise he made scared the intruder away. A house in Murry Hill was entered the same night or morning and a quantity of silver plate stolen. As the mode of entry was identical with that employed in the Mali case, it is believed that the thieves were the same.

LIVELY HEARING IN VON OHL CASE

Vivacious Defendant Fined $10 For Firing Shot When Police Entered Grounds.

AND MUST TAG DOGS

Told to Purchase Three Licenses After Her Claim to Residence In Middlesex County Is Ruled Out—Exit From Court Barred.

For violating the fourth section of the City Ordinance prohibiting the discharging of firearms within the city limits Mrs. Caroline J. Von Ohl, of Lane avenue, this morning was fined $10 with the alternative of twenty days in jail. She elected to pay the fine after declaring that she would "do" the term.

At ten minutes to ten this morning—twenty minutes after the regular court sitting—Mrs. Von Ohl and her daughter, Wenonah, drove up to the station house in a buggy. Wenonah had a sombrero perched jauntily on her head. After cordially greeting Chief Kiely they were shown into the court room and City Judge William G. DeMeza resumed his seat on the bench.

The complaint having been read, Mrs. Von Ohl got to her feet and in a burst of words began her story without waiting for the formula of being sworn. She said that about ten or half past ten o'clock on the night of August 8 she heard a noise in the yard. She called out "Who is there," but received no answer. Wenonah said it would be well to discharge a gun and find out if that would bring any response. Immediately the shot was fired into the air by her daughter and a man called out.

At this point she halted in her narrative, apparently from want of breath. Judge De Meza seized the opportunity to call Patrolman Arthur Craig and obtain his version of the affair. He described how he had gone up to the house to warn Mrs. Von Ohl about allowing her horses to roam at large. When he arrived, he said, he heard some one rushing about in the yard and the barking of dogs. Then a shot was fired. He shouted out who he was and the nature of his errand. It was then about nine o'clock.

Mrs. Von Ohl was then sworn and in reply to Judge De Meza said that there were three dogs which belonged to the estate not to her and another belonging to her son-in-law. They were not licensed as she lived outside the city limits. She denied being at home at nine o'clock, but was out visiting.

Judge De Meza said: "I will give you to Friday morning to license these dogs. Your house is in Plainfield though your barn is in Middlesex county."

"If I do live in Plainfield I don't get any benefit from it any way," interrupted the defendant.

Resuming Judge De Meza said: "You are firing this revolver too promiscuously and I am going to put a stop to it."

"I have not fired a revolver in three years," exclaimed the defendant indignantly.

"I fine you $10 or you go to jail," said the judge closing the case abruptly.

There was considerable talk and commotion for ten minutes afterwards, defendant making several efforts to leave the court but being restrained by the court officers. Wenonah left court and subsequently returned with the necessary amount.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

As instancing the rapidity with which success spreads itself around the world, it is worth noting that "Alias Jimmy Valentine," that stirring detective-thief play of Paul Armstrong's, which comes to the Plainfield theatre, Saturday night, has been snapped up for production from one end of the earth to the other. Several days before the play opened its sensational season at Wallack's theatre in New York, Charles Forhman obtained the English production rights. Following the opening at Wallack's J. C. Williamson acquired by cable the Australian rights. Suortly after this the French and German rights were claimed by Miss Elizabeth Andrews, of Paris, and the unusual spectacle was presented of a play being performed simultaneously in New York, London, Paris, Berlin and Melbourne.

HE WINS FOOT RACE AT HIS GOLDEN WEDDING

Burlington, Aug. 13.—Joseph G. Rodman, one of Burlington Township's oldest residents, crowned his golden wedding anniversary by winning by a lead of four feet a fifty-yard foot race, open to all elderly guests at the celebration. His youngest sister, Mrs. Mary Chew, of Burlington, won second place.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodman were married in Burlington in 1862, and spent their married life on their big farm in the suburbs. Nine children and eighteen grandchildren wished them continued health and prosperity.

IMITATES DEVIL, BUT HE LANDS IN LOCK-UP

Trenton, Aug. 13.—After an argument as to the respective merits of the Baptist and Methodist denominations Frank James and William Watkins came to blows Saturday night. James, finding his fists insufficient, stabbed Watkins in the abdomen with a fork.

Watkins was not hurt badly enough to be taken to a hospital, and both were arrested and held under $500 bail for disorderly conduct. James said he was merely illustrating what the devil would do to Watkins when he got him, and that Watkins had jumped in the way of the fork.

DASH OF CAVALRY CHECKS RED ARMY

Blue Defenders Had Been Forced to Retreat.

MOUNTED MEN SAVE THE DAY

Prevent Disorderly Rout of Blues and Later Force Reds to Fall Back Toward Orange—Both Sides Have Advantage as Result of Fight.

Stratford, Conn., Aug. 13.—After four hours of hard fighting the blue defenders of New York were forced to retreat. They still hold the bridge at Naugatuck Junction, on the west bank of the Housatonic river, where they have established camps. This checks for the present the red advance on New York.

The red army, consisting of the Seventh, Twelfth, Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first New York, was unable to gain much advantage through the retreat of the blue troops, consisting of the Fourteenth, Twenty-third and Forty-seventh regiments of Brooklyn.

While the blue army was retreating through Milford the First New York cavalry, under Colonel Oliver B. Bridgeman, swung around the blues and came up on the advancing reds with a suddenness that was startling to the invaders.

Cavalry Saves the Day.

The cavalry saved the blue army. They turned the tide of battle and prevented a disorderly retreat and later forced the reds to fall back toward Orange. When the cavalry first swung into the battle line it was at Five Forks and was met by the Twelfth and Sixty-ninth New York regiments. The troopers dismounted and went into action on foot, forcing the Twelfth and Sixty-ninth to deploy. The Seventy-first New York threatened the rear of the cavalry, and the troopers fell back toward Milford and took up a position from which they could not be dislodged.

The red army moved back to the vicinity of its headquarters at Orange. Captain A. W. Maun, chief of staff for the umpire, said the battle was a draw. Both sides have advantages as a result of the fight. The blues are well located at Naugatuck Junction, and the First cavalry is encamped to the eastward of Milford, the original position held by the blues.

May Try to Cross River.

The reds occupy practically the same ground they did before the action. It now appears that the reds will attempt a crossing of the Housatonic river into blue territory at Derby. They have the Twenty-second New York engineers near this point with pontoons, and the crossing may be attempted late today.

This was entirely a New York battle, and the regular army umpires are enthusiastic in their comments on the work of the Gothamites of both sides. The fight was a hot one, and the soldiers were heartily glad when "Cease firing" was sounded, and the orders to make camp were issued. The sun was blazing hot, and the many hills and woods cut off what little breeze was stirring.

The main fight was along the New Haven turnpike, the battle line being about five miles wide.

CORSICAN HITS ICEBERG.

Proceeds on Voyage Apparently Having Suffered Little Damage.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The Allan liner Corsican, which sailed from Montreal for Liverpool Tuesday, struck an iceberg east of Belle Isle, but proceeded on her voyage, having apparently suffered little damage.

Corsican struck an iceberg this afternoon at 4 o'clock while proceeding very slow. Stem injured above waterline, but ship is making no water. Proceeding on voyage.

The Corsican has on board twenty five first class, sixty two second class and 200 third class passengers.

MUST KEEP FAITH, SAYS LODGE

Demands That Fur Seal Treaties Be Acted on Before Adjournment.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts served notice on the senate that he would demand that the three treaties carrying out fur seal regulations in Alaska decided upon by the United States, Great Britain, Russia and Japan be considered before adjournment.

"An agreement with three great powers cannot be lightly ignored," he declared. "We must keep faith with them."

Sealed bids for the real estate and the personal property separately or together, and for the personal property in bulk or in parcels should be submitted to the Trustee at his residence, No. 756 Kensington Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, on or before August 22nd, 1912, at twelve o'clock noon. A certified check for ten per cent. of the bid should accompany each bid. The real estate to be sold consists of a plot of land about one hundred feet square on Berckman Street in the City of Plainfield on which is erected a steel frame one story factory building. The personal property consists of tools and machinery for the manufacture of architectural and decorative bronze work. The real estate is subject to a mortgage for $3,500.

The property, real and personal, may be inspected at the plant on Berckman Street on any day. The Trustee reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Such of said property as remains unsold will be sold by the Trustee at public auction at a date to be announced later.

"IN TIME OF PEACE."

Until a very few years ago the National Guard organizations of the various States were little more than show organizations, for which the greatest praise was that they marched well while on parade. Now all is changed, and the National Guard is being rapidly developed into a true reserve army, which can be depended upon to muster in and assist the regular soldiers of Uncle Sam's army at a very few hours' notice. All of this development of the citizen soldiery into more than an organization for show purposes has been brought about through the enactment of the Dick law, passed by Congress within the last decade. Under its provisions the Government at Washington has taken over control of the Guard of the various States, and they can be called on for duty at any time. They have the regular army equipment, are enlisted so that they cannot get out of the work through easy excuses, and the members know that when they don the uniform it is with as much obligation as if they had joined the regular army.

Just now there are appearing in the newspapers accounts of the imaginary attack on New York city, being made by combined National Guard and regular army troops. The hardships which these men are encountering are at times equal to the strain put upon them in time of actual warfare, and such schooling is making for this country a great standing civilian army. In these maneuvres are three regiments and various other organizations from New Jersey, and a short time ago there appeared similar stories telling of the war game played at Mt. Gretna, Pennsylvania, when the Second and Third regiments of the State Guard took part. It is the first time in many years that the Sea Girt encampment has not been the gathering point for at least two or three regiments. At that place there was nothing for the men to do but go through a few drills on the flat level ground, and be instructed in guard duty, things which could as well be done in the home armories.

The Government is making soldiers now of all men who have the military spirit at heart, and at the same time, through the actual field maneuvres, is driving from the guard those who originally joined because they thought that it was an outlet for them to relieve their exuberant spirits, and not a place for work. Only one thing makes real soldiers, and that one thing is hard work, under the practical instruction of the men who are working at the game the year round. With a reserve army trained as the men are being trained this year, the United States need have no fear of foreign nations, even though their standing armies be many times as large as that in this country.

Former Governor Stokes seems to be having a hard time trying to get settled politically. He was a Roosevelt man before the primaries, realizing rightly that the majority of the Republicans of the State wanted the former President to run again. Then after Mr. Taft was nominated, Mr. Stokes tried to devise a scheme by which the Taft and Roosevelt people could get together, and work harmoniously, but the plan met with little encouragement. The former Governor then attended a gathering of the Roosevelt leaders one night, and the next day telegraphed the Republican State Committee that he could not attend a meeting of that body because of pressure of business. Later he attended a meeting of the executive committee at Newark. This left him still in a position to join either faction and remain consistent. He evidently wants to support Roosevelt, and yet remain a loyal Republican. This he has been told he cannot do by former Governor Franklin Murphy, if we are to believe what the papers tell us. Mr. Murphy is reported to have written Mr. Stokes that he considers that the election of Roosevelt would be the greatest calamity which this country has ever seen, and insinuating that he personally would not stop at anything to bring about Roosevelt's defeat. With all these conflicting thoughts in mind, there is no exaggeration in the statement that Mr. Stokes is having a hard time getting settled.

It seems to us that it is about time the City Council reached some kind of an agreement with the Public Service Corporation, and signed the contract for lighting the city. It is now some weeks since the present contract expired, and as we understand it the city fathers refused to close at the new and lower rate which the company offered, because the latter refused to continue the free lights it was giving. If the city is entitled to these free lights by the franchise under which the corporation is operating, there must be some way of compelling their continuance. It would seem to us that the proper method would be to force the company, through the Utilities Commission if necessary, to close a contract at the rates which they widely announced were to go into effect some time ago, and at the same time give the free lights provided for in the franchise. If the city is losing money by paying for lighting at the old rate, there should be no delay in executing a new contract.

Another secret has leaked out. Eugene V. Chafin has been notified that he is the candidate of the Prohibitionists for President. This duty having been performed by the drys, in order to get the name of their candidate in the papers, the party will now be forgotten by the general public until 1916. There is no show for the little fellow in a year like this, with three real candidates making a nation-wide effort to get votes.

The newspapers tell us that Francis B. Lee, State historian, and a well known and popular Democrat of Trenton, may be a candidate for Congress from the Fourth district, composed of Somerset, Mercer and Warren counties. If Frank is ever turned loose with that giggle, and a few of his stories, it will be all up with his opponents.

"Otholofists to urge noise abolishment," a headline tells us. A careful examination of the article underneath the heads fails to disclose what they are, but everyone who lives near a house where the small daughter is taking piano lessons wishes them all the success in the world, in what they have started out to do.

CALIFORNIA'S FIGHTING GOVERNOR.

The Life Story in a Few Words of a Man Whom the People of the Country Will Some Day Know Well.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson.

In California they say Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, who is Colonel Roosevelt's running mate in the political battle now in progress, tackles railroads and bosses before breakfast and laughs at gun fighters and bad men all day long. And they cite events in his history to prove their statements.

"Condensed to a sentence," he said two years ago, when he was placed in the gubernatorial chair, "I purpose to put the government of California back into the hands of the people."

For that task Gov. Johnson had four years ahead of him, if they were necessary. Only two of them have passed, but he now says the "forces of right" are sufficiently well organized in California to permit him to engage in the wider battle to do for the nation what he originally proposed to do for California."

Gov. Johnson is 46 years old. He was educated at the University of California, where he pitched baseball on the varsity nine, edited the college paper and eloped with his wife in his junior year.

He was admitted to the bar and began practice in Sacramento, where he made both a legal and a political reputation, the latter for his independence. He fought the gamblers' ring that controlled Sacramento, and closed his fight thereby winning for Mayor Clark the suit through which the ring tried to oust him.

Johnson moved to San Francisco soon after the Clark case, and he repeated his Sacramento success in the larger city. His reputation as a criminal lawyer is especially high on the coast. On one occasion, a professional "bad man" was introduced as a witness in a criminal trial to testify against Johnson's client.

"Are you wearing your bowie knife and your two revolvers today?" Johnson asked the bad man pleasantly as his first question. That was the armament this human battleship was advertised to carry.

"You wouldn't dare ask me that ouside," growled the bad man, shifting uneasily in his chair.

"I'll ask you that outside or anywhere," snapped Johnson. "Shall we go outside now?"

But the gun fighter had nothing to say. On one other occasion Johnson challenged another artillery expert in court in the same terms, and this man likewise neglected to accept the invitation. It was the nerve the lawyer had displayed in these cases and in Sacramento, as well as his success with the Clark ouster cases, that took him into the Ruef prosecution at a critical time. Ruef was trying to substitute himself for William H. Langdon in the office of district attorney. This would have enabled him to discharge Heney and become his own prosecutor. Rudolph Spreckles hurriedly retained Johnson on Heney's advice and Johnson easily baffled Ruef's attempt. When Heney was shot in the courtroom Johnson took charge of the prosecution and convicted Ruef.

Then Johnson formally opened the battle against the Southern Pacific interests, announcing his determination to drive the railroad and its employes out of politics. He had no campaign fund and the only vehicle available for his campaign was an old model automobile. His drivers were his two sons, who alternated at the steering wheel.

That fight began in March, 1910, and the field campaign continued more than five months, and covered 13,000 miles. Day after day, with his boys driving his machine through the mountains, he covered even the most remote districts of the State. He opened the day with a speech in the town where he had slept. One of his sons would telephone the next town that a speech was to be made there an hour later, and then the run would be made to that point.

In every speech the Southern Pacific was attacked. In every speech the demand for direct legislation and election was made with all of Johnson's remarkable physical force.

The result was that he defeated in the primary four candidates, including two whose backers had asserted loudly they would win "hands down." In the election that followed two years ago, Johnson carried even the city of San Francisco, the headquarters of the Southern Pacific's influence.

Through all this fighting the keynote to Gov. Johnson's position has been his utterance:

Through it all there has been another influence—that influence that causes his close friends to refer to Mrs. Johnson as "the only boss" that has any influence with the governor.

PERFECT NEW METHOD OF TREATING HUNCHBACK

Baltimore, Aug. 13.—Physicians at Johns Hopkins are perfecting a new treatment for Pott's disease, commonly known as hunchback, eliminating the old mechanical devices. Grafting of bone forms a conspicuous part.

The operation is performed in a similar manner to that for the stiffening of the knee joint, as was done recently by mortising the knee plate in one of the tendons of the leg into the joint, after the tough and fibrous tissue surrounding the bone had been removed, thus generating the necessary bony tissue. The fibrous tissues as removed were preserved and returned to the upper and lower joints, where a continuous bone was produced, thus obliterating the joints.

ACCUSED OF TRYING TO END LIFE WITH KNIFE

Chatham, Aug. 13.—Lorenzo Brown, who, in a fit of supposed insanity, leaped from a second-story window, sent in a false alarm of fire and stabbed himself several times in the neck with a knife, is now in the Morris County Jail at Morristown, awaiting trial on a charge of attempted suicide.

He was brought from Overlook Hospital, Summit, where he had been treated for his injuries, and when arraigned on Saturday he appeared to be perfectly sane. He ascribed his injuries to being cut by some sticks when he "fell" out of the window. He made no explanation of pulling the false alarm. He said he used the knife to scrape blood from his shirt. He appeared to be greatly improved from his treatment at the hospital.

CLOSE CONTRACT WITH S. & H. STAMP COMPANY

Sometime ago it was announced that the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company had brought suit against the Sperry and Hutchinson Green Trading Stamp Co. for alleged violation of contract, in that inferior goods were given to those promised for specified number of stamps. Not only have the Tea Company officers found that the suit, which was for $750,000, was not called for, but they have closed a contract with the stamp company to furnish them stamps for a long term of years. In a letter written by John A. Hartford, vice-president of the Tea Company, under date of August 7, the following statement is made:

"Having carefully investigated the value and character of the premiums given by the Sperry and Hutchinson Company, in exchange for its "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps, and having found them satisfactory in every respect, we take the pleasure in announcing that we have renewed our contract with said company for a term of years, and will continue to give the famous "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps to our customers, as heretofore."

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

STEWED VEAL.

VEAL is a meat that is to be particularly recommended for summer. It is delicate and easily digested and so commends itself to fastidious stomachs.

When stewed, veal should be skimmed constantly to remove the scum. It should be well seasoned and may be spiced to suit the palate.

If you are fortunate enough to own a fireless cooker stews may be prepared in summer with much less trouble than other dishes. All that is necessary is to start the stew on the fire and then transfer it to the cooker.

Succulent Stews.

Stewed Neck of Veal.—Select a piece of neck, wash and trim it. Take some nice fresh drippings of butter and drop a little of it into a saucepan. Then lay the veal in and keep turning until a nice brown all round. Take the veal out and add to the drippings in the saucepan one good tablespoonful of flour, keeping stirred until a rich brown. Then add a pint of water or gravy and when it boils add three ounces of small onions; place the veal in again and simmer until done.

Stewed Veal With Beans.—Stewing veal is required for this, and it should be comparatively boneless, for it must be cut into small squares. Wash, saute in a little butter or drippings, add one onion and one carrot, each cut in small pieces. Put in seasoning and stew one hour. Add wax beans which have been cleaned and broken and stew one hour longer. A piece of butter with an equal amount of flour will add to the flavor and thicken the gravy.

Savory Viands.

Stewed Fillet of Veal.—Bind the veal with string to keep it in the shape of a roll. Put it in a floured cloth and in cold water; simmer four hours. It may be sent to the table in bechamel or with oyster sauce. Care should be taken to keep it as white as possible.

Stewed Knuckle of Veal.—Take a small knuckle of veal and cut off the shank bone. Stew this very slowly in a cloth till tender. The gristle should become like jelly or the dish will not be at its best. Very slow and long cooking is necessary. Serve liberally covered with parsley sauce and garnished with boiled carrots and turnips cut into small balls.

HUSBANDS IN THE WAY.

American Woman In Europe Tells What a Nuisance They Are.

That "American husbands are a drag on their women folk when traveling abroad" is the startling generalization made in a London paper on the authority of an American woman.

After stating that American women are considerably in the majority among transatlantic visitors this summer and declaring that the fact is not without interest as marking the degree of self reliance and confidence with which American women face an extended foreign tour without a male escort and sometimes without even the companionship of a woman friend, the paper quotes an American woman whose husband is the head of a big furniture manufacturing firm at Grand Rapids as saying that she learned more about England this season during a fortnight alone than she had done in half a dozen previous visits under the ciceronage of her husband. She added:

"I don't mean merely getting about and finding places and scheming and plotting to keep my day full of interest and enjoyment, but more especially the smaller but even more important things that make for happiness and comfort.

"For instance, I can order my dinner at a restaurant now. For years my husband invariably ordered the dishes. Once, on our honeymoon in Paris, I said I liked a vol au vent which my husband ordered and which I tasted for the first time. Later on I expressed my warm approval of a tournedos.

"Now, would you believe it, for nine years past vol au vent and tournedos have been ordered for me because of that early appreciation, out of sheer kindness. A new dish was never risked on me for fear I shouldn't like it. Isn't that like a man?"

Secret Lockets.

Would you have something quite new and different to wear on your pretty, long chain? Then here are some fascinating lockets with a compartment for a hidden picture. They may be turned and twisted and examined most minutely and still retain the secret of the inclosed portrait. Neither hinge nor crevice is to be seen, and the bejeweled and ornamented cover will defy the detection of the secret picture.

These lockets are handsomely carved in many beautiful designs, and they are shown in the jewelry shops in various shapes and sizes. Some are studded with diamonds or pearls and others with the colored stones.

One charming locket is set with an amethyst and three beautifully tinted baroque pearls, while from it is suspended a large baroque pearl as a pendant.

Another is set with a large topaz, and this gold locket is heavily carved and chased.

Suffragettes In Budapest.

Budapest has been chosen as the place of meeting of the International Woman Suffrage association for its seventh biennial congress, June 15-20, 1913. Dr. Stefan von Barczy, lord mayor of Budapest, is quoted as saying that he will be happy to welcome the congress in Budapest, because the movement must be advanced by all right thinking men. It is expected that delegates will for the first time include women from India, Egypt and Java. The Hungarian Men's League For Woman Suffrage has decided to invite the Men's International League For Woman Suffrage to hold its first general meeting in Budapest during the session of the congress of women.

EQUIPMENT OF BUSINESS GIRLS

A Fair Education, Common Sense and Good Health Are Among the Chief Essentials For Permanent Success.

GIRLS do not nowadays sit idly around and let father support them. In families whose means are moderate, when the daughter of the house is through school or college, she looks about for some work to occupy her time and provide her with an income. This is a good thing, for it will make her self reliant and self respecting. Many of the tragedies of middle life are the women suddenly thrown on their own resources and absolutely helpless. Had they learned to take care of themselves when younger they might have been able to face the world with a measure of calmness. Middle age is not the time to learn a business or profession, and the fact that exceptional women have got on only means that they have attained a measure of the success they might have had with an earlier start.

Even when a girl has a good home and there is no special need for her to be self supporting the training that she will get in her business life will be useful. Not all women have a taste for housekeeping, and when they have not it is just as useless to insist on their devoting themselves to it as to piano playing. They should learn the elements of the art in order that they may direct the affairs of their own households properly.

It would be a good thing if no girl were permitted to enter the business world before she is eighteen. She is not strong enough and her judgment and character are not sufficiently formed for her to be thus thrown on her own resources. Unfortunately many girls are forced to go out and add to the family income as soon as they are through grammar school.

Poorly equipped, it is only the brighter and more ambitious who can hope to advance, and for them only the cheaper grades of work are open. They may enter factories or stores, and of these two the latter is the preferable choice, not because there is more dignity in one occupation than in another, but because a girl has more opportunities to rise as a saleswoman than as a factory worker. She may start as a cashgirl or as a wrapper, but she may aspire to be foreign buyer of a big department if she has the right sort of business ability. Some of the best paid department store buyers in the country began in the humblest positions and worked their way up. While working their way, however, they did not neglect to supplement their education with everything that would help them in business. One bright woman studied French because she wished some day to be the store's Paris buyer, and another took up designing and dressmaking because she wished to be head of the suit department, where she was then only a saleswoman.

In every case the young girl who goes into the business world will find that knowledge is power. If she ever expects to have her measure of power she must get knowledge. The woman who whines about never having "had a chance" is invariably the one who hasn't really tried.

Stenography is a useful opening for a young woman because it gives her a chance to learn business under the tutelage of experts and to know that business in its ins and outs as no other employee is able to know it. Women who have branched out into business for themselves have, as a rule, served an apprenticeship of this sort. A stenographer should have a good general knowledge of grammar and must understand spelling and punctuating or she cannot hope to hold a good position. The plums in the stenographic world are few, but the girl who can take dictation in one or more foreign languages is valuable. The stenographers in the government employ and court reporters are well paid.

The college girl, as a rule, enters a profession. She may be a lawyer, a doctor, an artist, a writer or go in for philanthropic work via the college settlement. Unless she has been very well educated it is not worth while for any girl to expect to do well in a profession, nor need she expect to earn much at first.

The girl who wishes to establish a business of her own, whether it is the opening of a shop or an office, should learn its principles by first working in a successful business of that kind carried on by some one else. A millinery shop, a fancy work store, a tea room, a dressmaking establishment, a notion store, a fine laundry, a delicatessen shop and a confectionery or bakery are all lines in which women are especially suited to succeed.

The craftswoman after attending one of the schools which give training along this line will know whether she wishes to design gowns or wall paper, whether she wishes to carve or paint.

Above all, the girl who expects to look for work this fall should decide on something that is congenial and then equip herself for it as well as she can.

One of the best equipments is good health. No weaklings have much chance in the business world, but no young woman need be a weakling if she will set herself seriously to work to build up her health. Youth can work miracles.

—Wigwag—"I don't understand what makes Bjones such a pessimist." Henpeckke—"Nor I. Why, he has never even been married."

SCRUB NINE DEFEATS TEAM OF REGULARS

Pirates' Pitchers Are Given a Drubbing By the Senators' Hitsmiths.

Today's contest scheduled in the Parker Field Junior Baseball League was called off and will be played on some future date. The Pirates played a scrub nine terming themselves the "Senators" and came out on the smaller end of a 7 to 5 score. Both twirlers who were sent into start the box work were taken out after they went through a cross-fire in the early rounds, and those that succeeded them on the mound were not treated any better.

Efforts figured prominently in the fielding of both aggregations and a total of fifteen misplays were chalked up.

The Senators knocked Ott out of the box in the first inning when they were able to bring across a quartet of counts on a single and five fielding fizzles. Seidel walked five men during his stay on the mound and was taken out in the third.

The score:

FISHING NOTES.

Quite a few weakfish were caught at Great Kills, Staten Island, yesterday. The fishermen from Lemon Creek located the fish under the Staten Island lighthouse.

Several surf fishermen struck the channel bass at Sea Side Park last week and caught some big ones. The striped bass are also in there several fishermen having lost all their leaders and hooks on them.

Eight to twelve weakfish is about the average catch in the Shrewsbury River. It is the same way at all the fishing resorts north of Barnegat Bay. Everybody is hoping that the fall run will be a large one so as to make up for the poor summer fishing.

From all accounts, the present fishing season will be a record breaker, the catches of salt-water fish during the month of July far exceeding those made during the same month last year, and present conditions are very promising for a continuation of the good sport until the close of the season.

The bays along the Jersey coast are fairly teeming with all kinds of fish, and the gamy bluefish, bonita and mackerel are making things lively for the outside fishermen.

So numerous are the small black bass, porgies, blackfish and bluefish in the bays and thoroughfares that the weakfish anglers who have been baiting with live shrimp and fishing on bottom are losing much of their bait.

The only way to prevent these smaller fish from stealing your bait when you are after weakfish is to attach a cork float to your line and a ringed sinker just heavy enough to keep the bait sunk a few feet below the surface. A little chumming will lure the fish close to the boat and increase the chances of making a good catch.

The successful angler always takes a good supply of bait along. When shrimp are scarce he uses surf clams, mussels or hardshell crabs for chum. The legs and claws of the crab make good chum, while the white meat of the body is sometimes taken more readily by the fish than live shrimp bait.

Fishermen may be forced to fall back on the hardshell crab for bait altogether before the season ends, as the softshell and sheddar crab are unusually scarce this year.

This scarcity, according to the baymen, is due to the heavy ice that formed on the bays last winter and killed all the large crabs. How the young crabs escaped the same fate is yet unexplained; they appear to be as plentiful as ever in many of the bays, and promise to grow large enough to make good bait in time to replace the shrimp that are being rapidly wiped out by the swarms of fish now running.

Sea bass, flounders and other small seafish are not so particular about their food, and clams, mussels and minnows are acceptable to them at all times, while the members of the mackerel family that visit the Jersey coast during the summer months, especially the bluefish, bonita, Spanish and common mackerel, will strike at anything bright that is trolled along the surface of the water, and may be taken in this manner without the use of any bait.

Bluefish are now running so thick off the Jersey coast between Barnegat and Cape May that they are driving thousands of weakfish clear into the shore. Especially is this evident at Ocean City, where women and children are now enjoying the sport of catching weakfish on the beach with their hands.

PRESS TOURISTS END TRIP

two rainy days while away, that not a member of the party was seasick either going abroad or returning home, and everyone enjoyed the tour to the limit.

Miss Vail said that when the party arrived in Philadelphia last night, one of the health regulations imposed was that all the passengers who had not been recently vaccinated should submit to the operation. Fortunately, the Plainfielders were not obliged to undergo it.

"One delightful feature of the trip," said Miss Vail, "was that throughout we had cool weather and the first touch of real summer weather we found upon our return. While we enjoyed all the sights abroad, everyone of the party was mighty glad to get back to America."

FOWLER FOR CONGRESS

Ackerman, of Plainfield, has been approached on the subject of the Congressional race, but he has declared he will not be a candidate. John K. English, of this city, who was president of the defunct Roosevelt Progressive Republican League, also has been mentioned as a probable nominee for Congress. Mr. English has strong progressive tendencies, but has indicated that he believes in sticking to the old party.

The Union County Republican organization is showing a very apparent desire to treat with the Progressives in an effort to induce them not to nominate a third party city or county ticket. Indications are that some sort of a deal will be made before the petitions of candidates are filed, although the Progressive leaders declare they will have complete city and county tickets.

The Freeholder situation also is worrying the regular leaders. They have fixed up a slate of seven men they want nominated, but it looks very much as though the slate will be smashed. Among those left off who look like winners at the primary election, are Major William B. Martin and Van Wyck Lott. It is expected that these men will be nominated instead of two members of the present board who are slated for renomination.

FOUND MONEY RATS TOOK FROM HIS ROLL IN CAFE

Rahway, Aug. 13.—Former Fire Chief Alex G. Fyffe, while having part of the back bar in his cafe removed yesterday, was surprised to find a ten dollar bill, which was lost three years ago at which time it was given up as stolen.

Removal of the bar also revealed a one dollar bill, partly mutilated and several other bills which had been chewed into bits by rats.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Well the weather man has had his day and he may give some one else a show next week.

Bound Brook will be at the oval next and take lessons on how to play the game without losing at least a barrel of balls.

A few tips for Slocum to worry about:

Eddie Stallings does not believe in hitting them where they ain't. He hits them where they are (meaning the bleachers).

Youth will be served after the fight, reads a headline, probably referring to an invitation to a cannibal feast sent out by King Booloolong Frederickson.

That's enough, Louis, let the next man pass.

Manager Dorflinger hints that if the Plainfield team beats Bound Brook he is going to cut up Crescent Oval in building lots and tramp the country as an embrella mender.

It is no wonder Warry McLaughlin of the Dunellenites, is as light on his feet as a cluny lace. The volatile twirler used to be the whole show in Scotch Plains, N. J., a little hamlet that is likely to blow off the map at any time.

The Temple Baptist aggregation have been cellar diggers in the Sunday-school League long enough to complete the Panama Canal.

Manager Conger has a reversal of form on tap, however, and this may mean a shift.

Let us hope so.

It won't be very long until a dispatch from North Plainfield High School is received reading: "Football prospects at this school never looked better."

Wally Cosgrove may have to live in a refrigerator yet. No matter where he is. Any time the mercury in the thermometer floods above 80 degrees, Frank does a brodie, rubs his much beaned head and walks ninety feet to his right.

Never mind Wally a hitter is generally a kicker and a kicker is generally an interesting fighter.

The Hope Chapel baseball team has been kicking up huge clouds of dust lately and before long at their present rate of speed the Chapelites will be right in the race.

Just when the prophets cut loose with predictions that the Washingtons will win the pennant the team wins one game in three days and loses ground.

Doyle is hitting hard but not safely, and this, together with the batting slump of Merkle and Meyers, is one reason why the Giants aren't making more runs.

Al Bridwell is playing Dresden china ball at short for Boston. The boy from Portsmouth, O., has recovered from his injuries and is playing tidy ball for the Braves.

Maybe the same malady which has bothered the Yanks all season is contagious and has infected the Giants. McGraw's pitching staff seems very wobbly just now.

Ralph Craig, winner of the 100 and 200 metre races in the Olympic games at Stockholm, was accorded an enthusiastic reception by the citizens of Detroit when he arrived home yesterday. The reception was in charge of leading business men and athletes of the city. Among those in the receiving line were Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit American League baseball team; Tyrus Cobb, and Jack Stahl, manager of the Boston American League team. Craig has announced that he will never again take part in big athletic events, but will devote his entire time to business.

TIMELY HITTERS IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES

Although Hits Come at the Psychological Moment Their Average Is Low.

Joe Tinker, of the Cubs, and Max Carey, of the Pirates, are two athletes who have been doing some timely hitting at the psychological moment this season, even if their batting averages are not very high. Chicago has landed an even dozen of battles either in the ninth or subsequent innings during the present championship running, and J. Faversham, who had eleven points in the voting for the Chalmers National League Trophy last year, has kicked in at the proper time with wallops that gave the team now trailing the Giants the verdict.

Carey has a similar record, having been responsible for four of the Corsairs' ninth or extra-inning triumphs. Senor Marsans, of the Reds, has a record of having batted home the winning tally in three games copped by the O'Dayites either in the last regularly scheduled inning or final round.

Stuffy McInnes, of the Athletics, is the American League's premier finisher. He has batted home the winning run in two games won by the Mackmen in the ninth and two games landed by them in overtime. In point of usefulness, these feats should win him some votes for the Chalmers. Tris Speaker, of the Red Sox, and Guy Zinn, of the Highlanders, each have been responsible for three of their teams' win, either in the ninth or in subsequent innings.

This is the honor list of major leaguers who have struck telling blows for their clubs in the ninth and extra inning victories this season:

National League

YOUNG PLAINFIELDER AN EXPERT CANOEIST

Robert Thickstun Will Appear In a Number of Water Carnivals.

Robert G. Thickstun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Thickstun, of Central avenue, has entered the canoe races to be held at Belmar on Labor Day. He is an expert canoeist and has won prizes during the past two years at the seaside races. He entered the water sports at that place two years ago when he knew nothing about the art of paddling and relying upon shear brawn and endurance he came out a victor in two events. This spurred him on to further efforts and last year he had a canoe of his own which he managed skillfully and managed to come out first in the singles and also got into the prize list in the double event, paddling with Henry Bomgard, of Jersey City.

Young Thickstun is getting into shape for the coming events and has been studying the fine points of paddling a canoe. He will not only enter the Belmar races but will also go to Spring Lake and other nearby points that always hold water carnivals. A number of handsome trophies and medals are offered as prizes in the various events and Thickstun has an excellent opportunity to get away with some of the awards.

WAS RECORD BROKEN AT Y. M. C. A. MEET?

Cranford H. S. Sprinter Claims to Have Smashed Record For Base Running.

Although the Y. M. C. A. field and track meet, held on Parker Field, July 4, is now a matter of history, every once in a while something springs up to remind us of the initial meet on the local playground. One of the after effects has just come to light in the shape of a badly broken record. Charles M. Gilmore, of the Cranford High School, clams that he smashed the amateur athletic union mark for the base running event. The official record of the Spalding athletic guide is 15 3-4 seconds, while Gilmore was clocked in this city at 14 3-5 seconds. The question now arises as to whether or not this record will be recognized and if it should be it will give the Y. M. C. A. meet a high standing among the Metropolitan district athletic circles.

Gilmore covered the regulation distance around the bases and was timed by three experienced timers, but the record will probably be thrown out as there was no official amateur athletic union timer in attendance.

The Cranford boy is an exceptionally fast sprinter and showed his class in the local meet by taking first place in the 100 yard dash as well as in the base running competition.

—If blessings never come singly, how about single blessedness?

—Nell—"What a beautiful color Maude has." Belle—"Yes. I wonder if it runs?"

MFG. LEAGUE HAS LIVELY MEETING

Held In the Y. M. C. A. Parlors Last Night With Full Representation.

POST SEASON SERIES

Dissatisfaction On Part of the R. G. E. Manager—Protest Laid Over Until Future Meeting—To Turn In Score Books Before Saturday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Manufacturers' Baseball League was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, last night, with a full representation of the governing board. Several important business matters were brought up and discussed and plans made for a fitting celebration to end up the initial season of the organization. James Kimball, president of the League, was in the chair and a protest was filed by the Saurer team in regard to a recent contest with the Spicer nine, but President Kimball laid the matter on the table. He ordered both managers to state their cases in writing and when this order is complied with the matter will be taken up in detail at one of the board meetings.

A committee of three was appointed by the president to take charge of the league's interest, both in a financial and business way, for the coming post season series between the Manufacturers' and Sunday-school Baseball Leagues. Those on the committee are E. C. Ostlin, chairman; manager Causbrook, of the Public Service team, and Manager Decker, of the Saurer team.

Frank Hoffman, representing the R. G. E. aggregation, claimed that he had been tipped off to the effect that the Monroe Avenue team, of the Sunday-school Baseball League, had the pennant cinched in the latter organization race, and asked permission to go ahead and sign up a series of post season games with this nine as the aggregation which he represented was sure of first place in the factory league. This request was granted upon the condition that it take place after the Manufacturers' League season had ended and would in no way interfere with the season's schedule.

This request has a decided ludicrous taint to it, however, as the Sunday-school race is as yet very much in doubt and the First Baptist aggregation are conceded to have every bit as good a chance of coming out ahead as the Monroes have.

It would therefore be foolish to begin a post season's schedule with a nine that is not sure of landing on the top rung at the sounding of the final gong in September. The R. G. E. manager refused to have anything to do with an all star series and seems to have the impression that his nine is too fast for this sort of a series.

A motion was made and carried to the effect that all of the league score books must be turned in to Secretary Thompson some time this week, the respective managers so that sufficient publicity can be given the leading hitsmiths. President Kimball ordered that they be turned in not later than next Saturday. The Spicer and Public Service game scheduled for next Saturday afternoon could not be played on Parker Field, as Manager Thompson considerately gave the grounds over to the Scottish Clans for their meet on that day, and will be staged as a preliminary on Crescent Oval. The game will be started at 2 o'clock, so as to get it over with before the big game when Plainfield hooks up with Bound Brook. The R. G. E. and Spicer game, which was carded to be played on the Oval last week but was called off because of wet grounds, will be played at the same place on the twenty-fourth.

ROYALS WANT GAME.

The fast Royal Colored Giant team of this city has next Saturday afternoon open and Manager Simmons is desirous of arranging a game with some strong team in this section. This dusky aggregation make an excellent attraction for teams on their home grounds and also have a good field of their own to play on at Filmore avenue. Address P. J. Simmons, 121 Madison avenue, 'phone 1988-W.

Read This, Then Ask Yourself if It's Worth Your While to Come In Today!

For the past month I've been conducting a sale—the first since I "opened shop" in Plainfield.

Like all good things it has an end, and therefore, starting next Monday prices go back to "where they belong" and I'll begin to talk "Fall Things."

THIS IS ABOSLUTELY THE LAST SALE WEEK.

And I want to say that I'm closing stronger than ever. Better come in today—tomorrow never comes.

AMERICAN RACER IS AFTER FRENCHMAN

David Bruce-Brown, twice winner of the American Grand Prize Race, has challenged Boillet, the great French driver who won the French Grand Prize at Dieppe on June 25 and 26 last, to meet him in this year's American Grand Prize Race at Milwaukee. Bruce-Brown won the first day's round of the French race and was leading on the second day when he ran short of gasoline and was disqualified for taking on a fresh supply at a spot not designated as an official supply station.

Following is the letter which the American sent to Boillot:

"My dear Boillet:—I regret not to have seen you before I left Paris, because I wanted to talk to you about the American Grand Prize Race. I shall drive in that race the same Fiat car which I drove over the Dieppe Circuit, with the same wooden wheels, the same demountable rims and the same standard Michelin Tires, and I challenge you to meet me there.

"I should be very pleased to continue our contest of Dieppe, as I remain convinced that under the same conditions, with the same cars which we drove at Dieppe, I could finish ahead of you.

"Will you be kind enough to let me have your answer at the earliest possible moment?

"Meanwhile I beg to remain,

"Yours very truly,

"David L. Bruce-Brown."

As yet Boillot has not indicated whether he will come to America for the big race, but it is generally believed that he will. The Grand Prize will be held in Milwaukee on September 17, 1912.

LICKING FOLLOWS RAISING OF PENNANT BY THE GIANTS

The Giants were smiling and happy for a few minutes at the Polo Grounds yesterday, just before the ball game began. The National League pennant, which was won by the New York's last season, was unfurled, and there was a brass band, speech making and a parade. No wonder they were happy. The pennant is about 17 yards long, and for a time it looked as if a derrick would have to be rushed into use to get it to the top of the flagpole, but finally, by the combined strongarm methods of the Giant and St. Louis players, the huge flag was hauled to the mast top.

The smile of joy was still on the faces of the Giants when the game started, and soon gave way to expressions of misery, for the Cardinals took all the fun out of the festivities by defeating the champions by a score of 8 to 6.

TARRYTOWN RUNNER IN SCOTTISH MEET

Long Distance Crack Visiting In This City Has Entered Saturday's Meet.

One of the athletes entered in the Scottish Clan athletic meet on Parker Field next Saturday afternoon has come all the way from Tarrytown, N. Y., and has now entered active training for the Highland affair. He is visiting at the home of William S. MacClymont, of East Seventh street, and heard of the meet to be held here on the 17th and immediately made arrangements to enter it.

Although practically unheard of in this part of the country, Westervelt Ashmead, is one of the best long distance runners in New York State and has a large collection of trophies that he has gathered together in various meets around the country. He is a member of an athletic club in Tarrytown and is an old hand at the running game.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

A meeting of the general committee on arrangements for the Scottish Clan meet to be held on Parker Field next Saturday afternoon will be held in the Daily Press offices tonight. This is the committee which is composed of business men who are not in any way affiliated with the clan. The prizes for the meet will be on exhibition in the Fitz's show window after today.

SCHEPPS UNDER SPECIAL GUARD

Hot Springs Police Fear Attack by Gamblers.

PRISONER IS VERY NERVOUS

Whitman's Men Expected to Leave With Schepps Today — Burns Tells Whitman of Triumvirate Which He Designates as "Board of Directors of Graft."

Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 13.—Sam Schepps, said to have been the pay master who provided the murderers of Herman Rosenthal with money with which to make their escape after they had killed the New York gambler, is still here.

Schepps has succeeded in attracting much attention in this city. Acting Mayor Pettit, alderman of the Third ward, who is officiating in the absence of Mayor Waters, received a telegram from District Attorney Whitman stating that Messrs. Turbin and Stewart would arrive in Hot Springs, coming from him today, and that Officer Thomas would arrive later.

It is believed from the New York prosecutor's telegram that Turbin and Stewart have stopped in the various state capitals en route here and secured the necessary requisition and legal papers in order to be sure that they would have no trouble on their return journey. Why they should have taken all this trouble is a mystery to the local officials who have Schepps in charge and especially so to the noted prisoner, who said: "They needn't have gone to all the bother of getting requisition papers, for I'll go back with them the moment they arrive whether they have requisition papers or not. I am anxious to see Whitman, and when I tell my story to him, which I will do when we are alone and I can look him squarely in the eyes, something is going to drop."

The foregoing was the longest statement that Schepps has made, denying all newspaper men an audience.

Schepps Is Watched Closely.

Acting Mayor Pettit gave Captain of Police Howell orders to have Schepps in his room promptly by 1 o'clock and keep him there. The mayor fears that some of New York's gambling gang or gunmen may slip into Hot Springs and shoot Howell and Schepps on the street.

Saturday night Schepps and the two officers paraded the streets until midnight. The prisoner was nervous and did not care to be in his room, and the officials acquiesced in his request to take a walk. Schepps has attracted hundreds of persons to the Marquette hotel. The lobby has been filled with a steady stream of curious callers, many of them asking permission to go to his room. Schepps, accompanied by Howell, came into the lobby of the hotel after the lunch at a nearby restaurant. Mrs. Pettit jokingly asked him if he would object if she got a tent, put him inside and charged an admission fee, as every one seemed so anxious to see him.

"I'll do anything to accommodate the ladies," laughingly replied Schepps. "When you are ready, let me know."

"I realize that in Schepps we have one of the most important prisoners in the famous Rosenthal murder case, and I do not intend to take any chances while he is in our care. I'll be mighty glad when the representatives from District Attorney Whitman arrive in order that we can get him off our hands, and that is why I have ordered Captain Howell to have Schepps in this room by 10 o'clock," said Mayor Pettit.

Burns Names Graft Directors.

New York, Aug. 13.—William J. Burns named to the district attorney three men who have made it possible for policemen to blackmail gamblers and disorderly house keepers. One of these, says Burns, is a lawyer politician who claimed to represent the city administration. Another is a hotel man with influence in the Democratic party. This man represented the organization. The third, less prominent, made it appear that he spoke for the police.

It has been their custom, says Burns, to meet frequently in an uptown hotel not far from Forty-second street and Broadway. The hotel in which they met was not the Metropole, nor was it a resort of common gamblers or lawbreakers. In addition to information which points to these three as the board of directors of graft, Mr. Burns has, he informed the district attorney, grounds for stating that two police inspectors at least were profiting richly through the looting of gamblers and other persons outside the law.

"I was very much surprised," said the district attorney, "to read what purported to be descriptions of a method used by you in obtaining evidence against corrupt policemen. If you had obtained such evidence it was my right to have it. If you have not such evidence your name should not have been connected with such stories."

Mr. Burns replied:

"It is absolutely untrue that I have been obtaining evidence by any such means. I would have informed you, of course, if I had taken such measures. I did not lend my name to these stories. It is not my habit to trumpet my work while the work is under way."

—The line of least resistance demonstrates that the people who yield to temptation are generally looking for it.

MRS. JOHN JACOB ASTOR.

Stork's Visit and Advent of $3,000,000 Baby Expected Today.

At the Astor home in Fifth avenue, New York, it was said that the heir to the Astor millions is expected some time today. Mrs. Astor is the widow of John Jacob Astor, who lost his life on the Titanic.

MAIL LOOT CHARGED BY SEN. LA FOLLETTE

Letters Involving Postal Service Conditions Rifled.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Senator La Follette charged officials of the postoffice department with rifling his mail in an attempt to learn the results of an investigation he was making into conditions in the postal service. He showed the senate a bundle of letters which he declared had been opened before he received them.

"My mail was subjected to an espionage almost Russian in character," declared Senator La Follette. "I have here a bundle of letters showing that my mail was opened, in violation of law, and rifled by some one hostile to the purposes I had in making the investigation."

The charge was made in connection with the provision of the postoffice appropriation which would permit employees to join associations and petition congress for redress of grievances.

Senator La Follette said he had sent out 15,000 letters to postal employees asking for the exact conditions in the service.

HILLES OFF FOR CHICAGO.

Will Meet a Lot of Western Chairmen There and Confer.

New York, Aug. 13.—Charles D. Hilles, the Republican national chairman, went to Chicago today to aid in opening headquarters there. During the two or three days he will be in Chicago he will have conferences with many of the committeemen and leaders from the middle western and prairie states.

From these men the chairman expects to learn the exact situation in their respective states and to lay out his campaign plans according to the reports they will bring to him.

James R. Reynolds, the national secretary, will go to Chicago with Mr. Hilles.

ALLEGED BANK THIEVES NABBED

Said to Have Been Victimizing Financial Concerns.

STEALING CHECKS CHARGED

Detectives Say Band Stole Many From Letter Boxes and Offices—Claim They Operated by Forging Indorsements. Young Girl Said to Belong to Gang.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 13.—Two Newark detectives and an operative of the Pinkerton agency in New York watched four men approach the American National bank in this city. One of the men looked over his shoulder at the detectives and suddenly changed his course. The others kept on past the bank and were presently put under arrest. They said they were Morris Luban of 902 Gates avenue, Jacob Luban of 351 Forty-sixth street and Samuel Freidman of 56 Second avenue, all Brooklyn addresses.

M. H. Mayer, the Pinkerton, said the men were members of a gang that has been victimizing banks throughout the east for the past year by forging indorsements to checks stolen from letter boxes and offices. Esther Halken, a pretty girl of twenty, who is now under indictment in New York on such a charge, is said to be a member of the gang, while Frank Bernstein, called another member, was convicted of forgery in the second degree in Brooklyn last month.

Introduced at Bank.

On Aug. 5, the Newark police say, Jacob Luban and a man known as Samuel Greenberg told Meyer Leibowitz of 264 Springfield avenue that they wanted to open a store in his neighborhood. A day or two later he was persuaded to introduce them at the American bank, where Greenberg opened an account by depositing a check for $116.25 drawn on the National City bank of New York. He checked out $85, but deposited another check for $75 drawn on a Pittsburgh bank. Mayer says the New York check was stolen from a letter box. Greenberg is believed to have been the man who got away, and the police say that when Jacob Luban was searched they found in his sock a piece of a check drawn by Greenberg for most of his newly established account.

Girl Was Arrested on May 28.

Esther Halken was arrested on May 28 last, two weeks after one Sadie Levine had opened an account at the East New York branch of the Mechanics' bank by depositing a check for $230. On May 15 two men presented at the bank a check for $80 drawn by the woman and were arrested. One of these men was held for trial under the name of Jacob Luban, while the other was convicted as Frank Bernstein.

Pinkerton detectives testified before Magistrate Hylan that the same woman had opened an account in the Williamsburg branch of the State bank on April 22 under the name of Anna Cooms, depositing checks on the Public and Jefferson banks until it was possible for her to withdraw $720 and still leave a balance. Forged indorsements were found, it was said, on all the checks, but the girl was discharged.

SOCIALIST IS FREED.

Katz, I. W. W. Leader, Spent His Time Campaigning From Cell.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 13.—After serving three months in the county jail Rudolph Katz, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World in this section and Socialist Labor candidate for congress from this district, was released on an order from Supreme Court Justice James F. Minturn.

Bail in the sum of $500 was furnished by August Redner, pending a hearing on a writ of certiorari.

Katz was sent to jail for six months for loitering around a silk mill during the recent strike in this city. He has been spending his time in prison waging a campaign for congress and had sent out hundreds of letters asking support.

TRAIN CUTS OFF GIRL'S LEGS

Thirteen-year-old Miss Crosses Between Cars and Dies of Injury.

Harrison, N. J., Aug. 13.—Harriet Reville, thirteen years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reville of this city had her legs cut off by a Pennsylvania railroad freight train here. She died in St. Michael's hospital in Newark. With her sixteen-year-old brother she had carried lunch to their father, who is employed in the Crucible Steel works.

On their way home the children found the Essex street crossing blocked by a train. The girl's brother climbed between two of the cars, getting over in safety. The girl followed, and the train started suddenly, and she fell.

Seeks Men to Shoot Slayer.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 13.—Warden George W. Cowing of the Nevada state prison is experiencing difficulty in finding five men who are willing to shoot Andrigi Mirkovich to death on Aug. 29. The condemned man, given the privilege by a new law of choosing the means whereby he shall be put to death, selected shooting.

TY COBB.

Great Ball Player Held Up and Knifed by Thugs.

Ty Cobb was attacked by three assailants and stabbed in Detroit while he was on his way to take the Southwestern express for Syracuse, N. Y. While Cobb was not seriously injured, he was slightly bruised and received one knife wound in his back. The ball player's agility saved him from a bad beating and possibly death.

W. F. M'COMBS ILL, IS FORCED TO REST

Wilson Manager Victim of Fatigue and Indigestion.

New York, Aug. 13.—Fatigued by his campaign of nearly a year to make Wilson the Democratic presidential nominee and attacked with intestinal indigestion, Chairman William F. McCombs of the Democratic national committee was compelled to take to his bed. Physicians who attended him at the Royalton insisted he forget all about his duties for a week at least.

Mr. McCombs' partial collapse has been imminent almost daily since the Baltimore convention. The strain on his weak physique and the pain he suffers from a crippled limb were of themselves sufficient to overcome him. Saturday night he ate a dinner that did not agree with him. This sent him to his bed.

ANTI-MURPHY MEN TALK.

Up State Democrats Will Meet Again at Syracuse Oct. 1.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The conference of up state anti-Murphy Democrats in the Hotel Seneca discussed plans, adopted a declaration of principles and adjourned to meet in the Onondaga House at Syracuse at 10 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 1. It was distinctly stated that the movement has nothing to do with the Empire State Democracy movement. After the open meeting the committee which issued the call held a session to formulate further plans.

Ex-Judge John D. Lynn of Rochester was chairman of the open meeting. He said that through lack of organization the state Democracy has become a one man's party instead of a party representative of the Democrats of the state. Former Public Service Commissioner John N. Carlisle said Murphy was a selfish individual.

Henry P. Keith, state committeeman of Nassau county, where the movement was started, and Jacob L. Ten Eyck of Albany also spoke.

SENATOR CRANE SAVES A LIFE

Directs Rescue of Laborer Buried in Quicksand at Dalton, Mass.

Pittsfield, Mass., Aug. 13.—Pinned down by tons of gravel and quicksand, Martin Fahey, Jr., has held in a ditch for three hours in Dalton while Senator W. Murray Crane superintended the work of rescue. Every hour Fahey was dragged deeper into the quicksand. A cofferdam was built, automobiles bringing lumber for the work.

The Rev. Thomas Murray, a priest of St. Thomas Aquinas' church, Brooklyn, went into the ditch and gave the last rites of the church to Fahey. The man was unconscious when taken out. He was badly crushed, but will recover.

ANARCHIST SHOT IN RIOT.

Leon Guitterez Killed by Policeman in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 13.—Leon Guitterez, a well known anarchist, is dead and Patrolmen Perry and Bains are wounded as the result of a riot in the plaza when the police were stoned by a crowd of Mexicans.

The police were attempting to arrest Ed Moreno, an alleged pickpocket, when Guitterez drew a pistol and called upon the crowd of Mexicans to go to the rescue. As Guitterez came to the attack Patrolman Perry fired and sent a bullet through the Mexican's heart.

Weather Forecast.

Probably fair today; local showers tonight or tomorrow; not much change in temperature; light to moderate south and southwest winds.

Advertising Pulls—It Doesn't Jerk

That is if it is put together rightly and placed in the right mediums. Under such conditions it is certain to influence your business to the betterment of it if you will only have the courage to "keep at it."

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You wouldn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it. If you can't find the necessary time to devote to advertising your business properly phone us. We have an expert who will put up your "Copy" that will bring sure results.

Candidates For the Office of Vice President

Five of Them, Sherman, Marshall, Johnson, Seidel and Watkins.

An Office That Is Ridiculed, but by No Means to Be Despised.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

TWO of the five candidates for vice president are now governors of states, one is already vice president, one is a former mayor of Milwaukee, and the other is a lecturer and college professor. People usually regard the vice presidency in a jocular way, as a sort of fifth wheel to the administration band wagon. Yet in a social sense the vice president outranks everybody but the president. He presides over our highest legislative body and occasionally is permitted to vote. He is entitled to be called "Mr. President" and to have his pictures in the newspapers and the campaign lithographs and posters.

Since the foundation of this government eight of our vice presidents have afterward become president — John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester A. Arthur and Theodore Roosevelt. In other words, the vice president stands nearly one chance in three of reaching the higher office. Among other distinguished holders of the job were such men as George Clinton, Elbridge Gerry, John C. Calhoun, George M. Dallas, John C. Breckinridge, Hannibal Hamlin, Schuyler Colfax, Thomas A. Hendricks, Adlai E. Stevenson, Levi P. Morton and Charles Warren Fairbanks. By all of which tokens it doth appear that the vice presidency is a place neither to be laughed at nor sneezed at. Therefore please be serious in reading about the several tails to our national tickets.

First there is our old friend "Sunny Jim"—beg pardon—James Schoolcraft Sherman, he of the clarion voice and the bland smile. To hear Sherman preside over the United States senate is a perpetual delight. Those silvery tones have the average bell sounding as if it had a bad cold. The vice president is a very democratic citizen and something of a politician withal. When he is not presiding over the senate he is usually at a ball game.

Twenty Years In Congress.

Before Sherman became Taft's running mate he was congressman from the Utica (N. Y.) district. I remember when I was up in Herkimer county trying to elect W. R. Hearst governor that the Democrats used to tell me what an all fired smart politician Jim Sherman was. Said they "couldn't beat him nohow; he was too foxy for 'em." And, believe me, there is some politics in Herkimer county. What they don't know about the game is not worth the use of a microscope to discover. They are just as well versed in political arts and artifices in Oneida county, which at that time constituted the rest of the district. Yet term after term Sherman took the nomination and election away from all the other able citizens and political postgraduates who thought they would be an ornament to the job. I don't know how often he was elected to congress, but it got to be a habit with him. His official biography says he was in from 1886 to 1908 except for one term, 1890-2, when the Democratic landslide ran away with him. That is a matter of twenty years. No wonder the other aspirants grew discouraged.

Mr. Sherman was born in Utica in 1855 and has lived there ever since, except for some twenty-four years in Washington. He was graduated from Hamilton college and has the degree of LL. D. from two or three other institutions. He is a lawyer, director in many local corporations and member of a long array of clubs in Utica, New York city and Washington. He presided over Republican state conventions in 1895, 1900 and 1908 and would have presided over one in 1910, but Roosevelt wouldn't let him. Sherman's voice in political campaigns has been heard from Maine to California, but not at one and the same time. Wonderful as it is, it does not carry quite that far. To claim otherwise would be overpraise, and we should not deceive in a matter of this kind.

At one time Mr. Sherman was chairman of the national Republican congressional committee, which shows that his reputation as a politician got outside of the Utica district. It was then that he became mixed up with the Roosevelt-Harriman episode, naturally a very hot situation.

There is one honor done our vice presidents that I had almost forgotten. Theirs is the proud privilege of having their busts stuck around in niches in the senate chamber. "Sunny Jim" has the further distinction of having "specs" on his bust, the first time, it is believed, that glasses were ever "busted" in this way.

Speaking of Orators.

Mr. Sherman is not the only candidate for vice president. There is Thomas Riley Marshall of Indiana. The Hoosiers call him Tom Marshall, and the whole country will soon get the habit. Marshall was elected governor of Indiana because of his oratory. Now, it takes some orator to do that in Indiana. It is a land of orators, as well as of "best sellers." There is Beveridge, to say nothing of Kern and Shively. There also are the Landis brothers. And there in other days were Oliver P. Morton, Benjamin Harrison and Dan Voorhees, the "Tall Sycamore of the Wabash."

Marshall is not a "tall sycamore." On the contrary, he is short and if he were not a candidate for vice president would be described as skinny. But you know how some men of that type can talk. Marshall is one of them. He got the Hoosiers going, and they have been fed on high class rhetoric and moving periods for generations.

In the beginning of the campaign somebody said that Governor Marshall was a great-grandnephew or something of Chief Justice John Marshall, and the tale went all over the country. You have observed how a lie like that will travel once it gets started. This caused a real descendant of Chief Justice John to utter indignant denial. He said the governor belonged to a different breed of Marshalls. All right. If Tom has not the distinction of being related to John, neither has John the distinction of being related to Tom. This tub can stand on its own bottom. What is a matter of pedigree between Democrats anyway? Almost anybody can have ancestors, but only a few men can run for vice president.

Mr. Marshall is not a politician, his first office being the governorship. To this he has been elected twice. The first time was in 1908, when he carried the state by 15,000, although Taft had 10,000 the other way.

Opposed Taggart.

In his first term Marshall had an adverse senate, yet made himself so popular that he swept the state a second time and carried everything with him. He then had a memorable battle with Tom Taggart, the state boss of his own party, over the United States senatorship. Marshall won a victory in the election of John W. Kern, who, by the way, was the Democratic vice presidential candidate four years ago. Woodrow Wilson, Marshall's running mate, also had a little experience in fighting the boss of his own party over the matter of a United States senator. Aspirants for Democratic presidential or vice presidential nominations in 1916 should study this lesson carefully. If they want to win they should fight a boss on the election of a senator. The only difficulty with this program is that by 1916 all United States senators will be elected by direct vote of the people and there won't be any bosses.

Governor Marshall was born in Wabash county in 1854 and was graduated from Wabash college. Even though not a "tall sycamore" he is thus a Wabash man all along the line. Admitted to the bar in 1875, he has practiced law in Columbia City since that time. He is a thirty-third degree Mason and member of two college fraternities. He was also a trustee of Wabash college. Otherwise he has led an exemplary life, being of a philosophical turn of mind and fonder of a pipe in his library than a seat among the mighty. "I don't suppose," he once said, "that I have the ordinary motives for 'ambition.'" All of which teaches us that modest men may still win out.

The "Big Stick" Governor.

Hiram W. Johnson, Roosevelt's running mate, is also a governor—the "big stick" governor they call him in California. He is likewise a modest man. He won't tell when he was born, or whether his nose was freckled when he was a boy, or any of these interesting personal things. Nobody even knows what the W. in his name stands for. A few months ago the country was in a like quandary about the W. in Oscar Underwood's name. Finally the deep, dark secret was out and public suspense was at an end. Oscar's middle name is Wilder. But Hiram's middle name is still a thing of mystery. Well, the campaign is young, and we may learn it before election day.

Here is another circumstance that illustrates Governor Johnson's modesty. "Who's Who" has not a line about him except that he is governor of California, and that he could not well conceal. If we do not know when he was born, however, we know where. That occurred in Sacramento. His father is Grove L. Johnson, a lawyer and for years a member of the legislature, where he stood close to the Southern Pacific. It was on this point that father and son broke, but we are getting ahead of the story.

After having a part in a reform administration in Sacramento the future governor went to San Francisco, where he first became prominent in helping Francis J. Heney prosecute the graft cases. At one time he withdrew from the case. Friends urged him to return, but he refused. One day a friend was pleading with him when word came that Heney had been shot.

"That settles it!" cried Johnson, and he again joined the prosecution and sent Abe Ruef, the "boss," to jail.

Rode All Over California.

Johnson was reluctant to make the race for governor, fearing that he was not well enough known, but when he did go in it was with his whole heart, and he made a campaign such as California had never before known. He rode all over the state in an automobile, which is no slight task, considering the size of California. His promise to the people was that if elected he would "kick the Southern Pacific out of politics," a promise that he has made good. Before the machine politicians awakened to what was going on Johnson had his fight won and gained a popular majority in the primaries that is the talk of California yet. That was the beginning of a new era in the politics of the Golden State, and under the leadership of Governor Johnson the Progressives have maintained their ascendancy to the present day.

While Eugene V. Debs has been a candidate for president on the Socialist ticket ever since 1900, his running mate is making his first race. It was Emil Seidel's victory as a candidate for mayor of Milwaukee that first awakened the country to the growth of socialism. While Seidel was not re-elected, it required a combination of both old parties to defeat him. He was born in Ashland, Pa., went to Germany as a boy and learned woodcarving and then settled in Milwaukee. He was once a candidate for governor and was an alderman before his election as mayor.

Aaron Sherman Watkins, Prohibition candidate for vice president, was the nominee for the same office in 1908. He also ran twice for governor of Ohio. He was born in Ohio in 1863, was educated at the Northern university at Ada, admitted to the bar, became a teacher in the public schools, entered the ministry, was a professor of literature and philosophy at Ada, president of Asbury college and is now a lecturer. That is certainly a wide enough experience to fit a man for almost any office.

OLD FRIEND OF LINCOLN DEAD

Ira Haworth Was Called "Grandfather of Illinois Republicans."

Ira Haworth, known as "the grandfather of the Republican party in Illinois" and once a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, died recently, aged eighty-five years.

Haworth was one of the six men who attended the first Republican meeting in Illinois in 1856 and later was one of the delegates who voted for the nomination of Lincoln for president. In 1860 Lincoln sent Haworth a gavel and a cane made from a rail which he had hewn for a fence. These Haworth treasured and always kept locked in a chest.

The Scrap Book

A Twice Told Tale.

The late A. L. Williams of Topeka, general attorney for the Union Pacific, was once on a trip with a party of friends in a private car. While in Denver one of the party, a man of convivial habits, came in the car late one night and found Mr. Williams playing solitaire. The convivial one was enough under the influence of liquor to be talkative and proceeded to tell Mr. Williams a long story of his domestic unhappiness. The next morning, when sober, he mentioned the fact that he had talked too much the night before and requested that anything he might have said would not be repeated. Mr. Williams, in order to relieve the man's embarrassment, said: "That's all right. I never listened to you and have no idea what you said."

That night the man returned in the same condition. Looking sternly at Mr. Williams, he said:

"Now, durn you, you said you didn't listen to me last night, so I'm going to tell you the whole story again, and you've got to listen." — Kansas City Star.

On the Firing Line.

For glory? For good? For fortune or fame?
Why, ho for the front where the battle is on!
Leave the rear to the dolt, the lazy, the lame.
Go forward, as ever the valiant have gone.
Whether city or field, whether mountain or mine,
Go forward, right on to the firing line.

Whether newsboy or plowboy or cowboy or clerk,
Fight forward, be ready, be steady, be first.
Be fairest, be bravest, be best at your work.
Exult and be glad; dare to hunger, to thirst,
As David, as Alfred. Let dogs skulk and whine.
There is room but for men on the firing line.

Aye, the place to fight and the place to fall,
As fall we must all in God's good time.
It is where the manliest man is the wall,
Where boys are as men in their pride and prime,
Where glory gleams brightest, where brightest eyes shine,
Far out on the roaring red firing line.
—Joaquin Miller.

Bill Nye's Disappointment.

Representative Nye came to the breakfast table at his hotel one morning, chuckling to himself, and he explained that he had just thought of a boyhood incident for the first time in many years. It was when the Nye family were living on a farm in Wisconsin. He went to the pump one noon to wash his face after toiling in the fields all morning and was met by Bill Nye, his elder brother, who had been at work in another part of the farm. Bill looked at him as if he were a stranger and asked seriously, "Is your name Nye?"

"It is," replied Frank, with equal seriousness.

"Why, that's my name, too," went on Bill. "Wonder if we could be any relation. Where were you born, friend?"

"I was born in Maine."

"Well, this IS interesting," said Bill. "I wouldn't doubt at all if we're related. Ever have any brothers?"

"Yes, one older brother and one younger brother," replied Frank.

"Oh, well, it can't be the same family, then," said Bill, in a disappointed tone. "I had two brothers myself, but mine were both younger."—New York Press.

Two Puzzles.

Willard S. Straight of the Morgan banking house said in a recent letter from Peking:

"The things that puzzle and perplex us in the Chinese become, on closer knowledge, simple, and so, no doubt, do we perplex and puzzle the Chinaman till he gets to know us better.

"It is like a mandarin from the far interior who dined with me the other evening. In his honor the dinner was very Chinese. One course consisted of eggs apparently quite whole, yet within them was a delicate salad of mushrooms, lettuce, nuts and mustard.

"'It puzzles me,' I said to the mandarin, 'how all these things are put inside a whole egg.'

"My guest took up an uncut magazine from a table.

"'But it puzzles me still more,' he said, peering between the leaves, 'how you manage to put printing in here.'"
—Washington Star.

Let the Cat Out of the Bag.

A certain English innkeeper's family conducted a weekly raffle. In this raffle the prizes were turkeys, ducks, young pigs, baskets of eggs and such like rural commodities. A quantity of steel disks, numbered from 1 to 25, were put in a black bag, and the little daughter of the innkeeper put her hand in the bag and drew a disk for each speculator in turn. The person whose number was the highest got the prize.

Well, it had been noticed that the innkeeper's wife had got the prize pretty frequently, but nothing was thought of this by the simple, honest rural folk.

One evening, though, the little girl, with her hand in the bag, paused. It was her mother's turn, and she did not draw forth her mother's disk in her usual quick and careless way. She rummaged about. The other raffers looked at one another oddly. The innkeeper said:

"Come, come, child, hurry up."

"But, father," said the little girl, "I can't find the hot one."

HORSE THIEF GETS AWAY.

Port Murray, Aug. 13.—Albert Fleming, of Penwell, near Port Murray, had one of his horses stolen. It is thought it was taken by a former employe of the farmer, who was seen in the vicinity the day before. From evidence gathered at Easton, Pa., the driver answers the description of the suspect. The animal stolen was a brown mare and the thief hitched her to an old buckboard. This is the third horse stolen in Warren county since last April, and the other two horse thieves are serving time. In each of the other cases the culprits had formerly worked for the man from whom he stole a horse.

COW WITH TAIL CUT OFF.

Highlands, Aug. 13.—The local police are endeavoring to locate the person who cut the tail from a cow belonging to William Worth. PLAINFIELD BRICK STAND THE TEST

Compressive Test Made By Dr. McKenna.

brick manufacturer, called at the laboratories of Dr. Charles F. McKenna, of 50 Church street, New York city, and had tested the various qualities of bricks manufactured by Mr. Rajotte.

The test required by law is 400 pounds pressure to the square inch

The A No. 1 brick of Rajotte's stood a test of 3600 pounds to the square inch or nine times the pressure required by the building laws. The light hard or seconds stood a pressure of 1300 pounds to the square inch, while the poorest grade, or soft light brick, as they are commonly called, stood a pressure of 930 pounds to the square inch.

The latter especially is considered remarkable as these brick heretofore have been considered useless except for filling in purpose.

The fire chief was considerbly surprised and gratified that a home product passed such a high test.

Mr. Rajotte has furnished brick for practically every large building, including nearly every schoolhouse, the entire block from the Plainfield Trust Company building to the railroad, the Stillman, Brotherhood hospital and telephone buildings, and others too nuermous to mention. **

LIGHTNING FIRES BARN.

Whitehouse, Aug. 13.—During the heavy electrical storm which passed over this section on Saturday evening the barn and hovel on the farm of John I. Powelson, at Burnt Mills, near this place, was completely destroyed by fire. The barn was struck by lightning and soon was a mass of flames, which spread to the hovel. Mr. Powelson was in the latter building milking his cows and with the help of his neighbors managed to get all the live stock, machinery and automobile and other goods out of the structures. The entire hay and oats crop, which had just been gathered, were lost. The Powelson residence, which stands near, was saved owing to the heavy rain fall and to the fact that the storm was accompanied by very little wind. The loss is about $3,500, which is partly covered by insurance.

REGULARS TRYING TO DRAFT PROGRESSIVES

Plan Is to Strengthen the G. O. P. Ticket With "Restrained" Independents.

Trenton, August 13 (Special).—While the Regular Republican leaders of the State are preparing for a red-hot battle with the Extremists among the Progressives, a movement is under way to enlist under the Regular banner as many "Progressives with the brakes on" as possible, in order to strengthen the Standpat ticket and at the same time weaken the Bull Moose cause. This is particularly true of the legislative ticket and special emphasis is being laid upon the proposition in four counties in which State Senators are to be elected. The Stalwart Republicans in order to maintain their majority in the State Senate must elect at least four out of the six Senators who are to be chosen in November. Two of the counties in which Senators will be elected are Democratic and with Governor Wilson running for the Presidency, it will be hopeless for the Republicans to endeavor to elect their Senators in them. These counties are Hunterdon and Sussex.

In the other four counties the Regular leaders are quietly and persistently at work in the plan to nominate a ticket which will command the support of at least a portion of the Progressive vote. For example, in Cape May county it is understood that the proposition is to be put through of having State Senator Robert B. Hand retire this year and nominate in his place former Assemblyman Lewis N. Cresse. Senator Hand is a Regular of the Regulars and has always been so, while Cresse is more or less of an independent and has headed a faction which frequently has fought bitterly against Senator Hand and his followers. It is the hope of the Regular leaders that by uniting upon Cresse as the senatorial candidate they will harmonize Republican party differences in the county and thus practically "spike the guns" of the Progressives.

In Burlington county, another Republican ballwick which chooses a Senator in November, it has practically been decided that Assemblyman Blanchard N. White shall be the candidate for Senator on the Regular ticket, while as a concession to the Independents in the party it is more than likely that Harold X. Wells, a young lawyer of Bordentown, will be given the nomination for the Assembly. Mr. Wells is quite Progressive in his political beliefs and in the last two or three campaigns has fought the Regular party leaders in his county. Also he favors local option.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear in Middlesex county to prevail upon Assemblyman John F. Ten-Broeck, of Perth Amboy, to accept the Regular Republican nomination for State Senator. The nomination was offered to Mr. Ten Broeck some time ago, but his inclination was then to decline to run, partly owing it is said, to the fact that his employer did not wish him to continue actively in politics. The Regular party leaders, however, look upon Ten Broeck as just the man for their ticket in Middlesex, as he has a clean cut, square record, is independent and has other qualities which would commend him to the Progressive voters. Besides all this, last year he ran more than 500 votes ahead of his ticket and was the only Republican Assemblyman elected in Middlesex county.

Speaker Thomas F. McCran will be the Regular Republican candidate for the Senate in Passaic county. While Mr. McCran is in the Regular camp and has some Standpat characteristics, he has shown some independence of real machine methods and this, combined with his all-round ability as a law-maker is deemed by the Regular State party leaders to make him the strongest possible candidate in his county. They figure that Mr. McCran's strength will be such that he can win the Passaic County Speakership even if the Progressives shall make a nomination against him.

In the Democratic counties of Hunterdon and Essex the Regular candidates have not yet been picked. It was said today that men of strength will be selected in these counties too, in the hope of cutting down the Democratic majority as much as possible.

DEFENDING N. Y. WATER SUPPLY

Notes In Mimic War By a Member of Co. K at Front.

THIRTY-SIX-HOUR FAST

Commissary Wagon Breakdown Gives the Defenders a Real Taste of Wartime Hardship—"Personalities" From the Company K Detail

Private James A. Thompson, one of the detail of Co. K men assigned to the big war game about New York, has sent an interesting batch of notes from the seat of "war." His newsletter follows:

Hunterdon, Conn., 8-13-12.

Twenty-one members of Co. K, Second Regiment, proceeded to Paterson on Friday night, August 9, 1912, to the Fifth Regiment Armory where they joined Co. I, Fifth Regiment. They proceeded by the D. L. & W. R. R. to Jersey City on Saturday a. m., at Jersey City they boarded a transport and went up the East River to the Mott Haven yards of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., where they again boarded trains for Bridgeport, Conn. At Bridgeport the trains were switched off the main line to a branch and proceeded about eight miles up the branch to a place called Long Hill, from there they proceeded to Hunterdon about four miles distant on foot, arriving in camp about 8 p m. Before camp was pitched it began to rain and continued for the best part of the night. Next morning everybody was soaking wet, because of negligence in not intrenching the tents before they went to sleep.

One of the uncertainties of transporting troops was felt by the men, that of not being able to eat for 36 hours due to a breakdown of one of the company wagons which tied up all wagons that were in the rear of it. The damage was repaired and the wagons reached camp about 4 p. m. Sunday, when the cooks got busy and began preparing something for the men to eat.

Monday a. m. was spent in extended order drills, which was fairly well done. At noon they walked back to the main camp, about two miles, and received a good meal. Since then we have had fairly good eats. Monday, at 5 p. m., broke camp, marched about 2 miles from the old camp and encamped for the night. While in this camp they will get outpost duty. As the "Reds" are within a mile from the camp, it is being conducted as a camp would if it were actual warfare.

A report was received last night, the 12th, that the "Reds" had captured one of the "Blue's" batteries, one troop of Cavalry and part of a company of Infantry.

Tuesday still on outpost duty and expected to be called on at any time to go to the front for an engagement with the enemy.

The men of Co. K are all enjoying good health and are as full of good cheer as ever, but, although we have our first and second lieutenants in the brigade, we miss out captain, and feel lost under the command of the captain of Co. I, Fifth Infantry. First Lieut. N. A. Hort, of Co. K, Second, who is acting as aid-de-camp on the Brigade staff, goes around and encourages the men of Co. K when they feel "blue" and discouraged. The opinion of all the Second Regiment men is about the same, that is, that the Fifth Regiment cannot touch the Second Regiment in drilling, fighting or anything else.

As the enemy is so close to camp no man is allowed to go outside the lines at any time unless they are out with a party scouting or manouvering, as the officer do not want any of the men captured.

So far there has not been any fatalities in this brigade and very little sickness. The only case of any account was with one of the men of Co. K, Fifth Regiment, who was taken to a hospital, at Bridgeport, with a slight case of diphtheria. The rest of that Company was quarantined for two days following.

The last orders issued are that we break this camp this p. m. and proceed within six miles of our present encampment for more duty on outpost and scouting.

Personalities of Co. K, 2d Reg.

Private G. W. Hanson seems to be mailing plenty of views and letters at this encampment. We wonder what that means.

Private Green is getting the reputation of being the biggest kicker in the bunch.

Private Thompson tried to get a pass through the lines Sunday but the Colonel wouldn't let him. The Colonel was afraid he would bring back a grocery store with him, as he is ready to eat at any minute of the day or night.

TRIED TO SEPARATE FIGHTING BULL DOGS

Wallace Was Bitten Twice and Had to Call In the Police.

Mr. Wallace, of 519 West Sixth street, has come to the conclusion that bull dogs should never be allowed in private houses, at least where women are around, and after an experience which he had last night, his conclusion would appear to be a good one. After taking an auto ride last night, he returned to the house of his aunt, who lives at the Sixth street address and went to his room to attend to some business matters, to be called down stairs again by screams from below.

When he reached the lower floor he found two bull dogs mixing it up on the floor, underneath the table. Prior to that they had upset most of the other furniture in the room. Mr. Wallace tackled the job of separating them, and as a result has two bites, one on the arm and the other on the leg, as evidence that it was no easy one. He was unable to quiet the brutes and phoned for the police to come and shoot the dogs. Roundsman Higgins and Patrolman Kelley went to the house, and they succeeded in soothing the dogs with their night sticks. One bull dog belongs to Mrs. Murray, of Rockview avenue, and was at the house for the summer while the Murrays are away. Patrolman Higgins took the animal to his home last night, in order to preserve peace. Higgins has an extra night stick, which his wife knows how to use in hitting dogs.

MRS. FRANCES MONTANYE DEAD AT THE AGE OF 75

Mrs. Frances Trear Montanye, aged 75 years, wife of Joseph D. Montanye, died last night at her home, 1027 Arlington avenue, following an illness of two or three years with complications. She had been a resident of this city about thirty years.

She was a member of the Brethren religious society. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Donna Montanye. The funeral service will be held at the late home tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

ITALIAN OWLS INSTALL NEWLY-ELECTED OFFICERS

Installation and election of officers of the newly formed branch of the Italian Nest of Owls was held in Eagles Hall last night. Seventy-five members were initiated. The officers elected were: President, Daniel Diloriardo; vice president, Joseph Clement; past president, Ercole Brancati; invocator, Joseph Sapia; corresponding secretary, Albert Coletta; financial secretary, Frank Caruso, warden, Joseph Tumolo; sentinel, Tony Digiacomo, and picket, Joseph Lapipero.

An address was made by the president in which he pointed out the advantages of belonging to the order. At the conclusion of the business singing and dancing followed. Refreshments were also served.

GRACE CHOIR BOYS CAMP AT MANASQUAN

Six members of the boys' choir of the Grace Episcopal church, will leave tomorrow morning for Manasquan, where they will be entertained at the bungalow occupied by Choirmaster and Mrs. S. Frederick Smith, at that place. The fellows who leave tomorrow will go first to Asbury Park and spend the day at that place and will reach the camping ground some time tomorrow evening. Harold Williams and Daniel McNamee are scheduled to remain at the camp for two weeks, while the other four fellows, Chester Alpaugh, Edward Ryder, William Whelan and Albert Huelson will return next Thursday.

Daily excursions have been planned by the choir boys and they will take in the carnival week at Asbury Park and also the one at Belmar. A number of fishing trips will be made and some of the fellows have long bicycle trips mapped out.

DETECTIVES FAIL TO APPEAR FOR HEARING

Railroad Policemen Break Word to Dunellen Recorder —Will Be Arrested.

Detectives Gray and Laverett, and other members of the New Jersey Central Railroad police force failed to appear before Recorder David S. Campbell, of Dunellen, this morning at 10 o'clock, to answer to charges of illegal arrest preferred by Charles Wyckoff, as they had agreed to do. They sent no word of their non-appearance. Warrants were issued for their arrest Friday night, and they agreed to surrender themselves and appear for a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning provided that the date and hour of the hearing be kept secret.

When they failed to appear this morning Recorder Campbell said he wouldn't stand any fooling and that all efforts would be made to arrest the men. The Recorder believes that the railroad officials can be held responsible for the detectives and that the company can be compelled to make them appear. He said that principle alone should impel the railroad officials to produce their detectives and either defend or reprimand them for their actions at the Wyckoff home.

DANGERS OF STRAIN ON CHILDREN'S EYES

Interesting Talk By Dr. Hubbard at Herbart Hall Institute.

"The Encourageable Eye," was the subject of an interesting talk given by Dr. H. V. Hubbard, of this city, before the Teacher Training Course at Herbert Hall, Watchung Crest, yesterday afternoon. During the course of his talk, which opened several new avenues of though, Dr. Hubbard showed the necessity of watching children's eyes, explaining that impaired vision and other eye troubles not only affects the child in study, but leads to nervous troubles and has been known to result in insanity.

One of the first symptoms of eye trouble, Dr. Hubbard said, was headache and the matter should be given attention at once. He declared that tuberculosis in children is invariably discovered first in the eyes and not the lungs and that is another important reason why the eyes should be watched carefully.

Dr. Hubbard then talked on the general conditions of the eyes, pointing out that it is quite necessary that a child's eyes should be examined prior to the sixth year, for afterward it is difficult to correct troubles and adjust the functions. In conclusion the doctor pointed out the difference between granulated lids and trachoma, adding that as yet the origin of trachoma had not been found. An informal discussion followed.

The Teacher Training Course will be concluded on Saturday and during the week the students will be busy taking examinations for certificates to be issued by the association under which the course has been held during the summer.

THIEVING SERVANT GIRL HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Annie Worobek, who stole a quantity of linens and underwear from the home of W. W. Warnock, 22 Craig place, where she was employed as a maid, was held for the Grand Jury in $200 bail by Justice Snape at a hearing held in the North Plainfield police court, yesterday afternoon. Annie's counsel, J. P. Owens, said she desired to waive examination and take the case before the Grand Jury. The Warnock family were present and identified the stolen goods.

Annie is still being held in the borough cell for a hearing before Justice Snape at 8 o'clock tonight, when Joseph Graniskje, of Bound Brook, will be arraigned on charges preferred by her. He was released last Thursday on $500 bonds to appear tonight.

Julie Worobek, a sister of Annie's, was released from the borough jail last night when a friend furnished $100 bail. She was held on the charge of receiving stolen goods.

AVIATION MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

Beachey and Havens Will Fly Two Days at the Driving Park.

TO TRY FOR A RECORD

Beachey Announces That He Will Go After the Altitude Mark—Field Is Regarded As Almost Ideal By the Flyers.

Plainfield is going to have an aviation meet, announcement of that fact being made today by H. C. Pritchard, of New York, who is promoting the affair under the auspices of the Curtiss Exhibition Co., of New York. The meet is to be held Friday and Saturday afternoons, August 23 and 24, at the Plainfield Driving Park, near Holly Park. Lincoln Beachey, whose aerial flights are well-known, and Beckwith Havens, who is now with the regular army in New York, will give the exhibition in this city.

Beachey will try for the world altitude record while here. The present record made by a Frenchman is 11,400 feet and Beachey will make an effort to exceed that height. The promoters of the exhibition will also endeavor to obtain permission to have the flyers carry the U. S. mail on both days.

The flights will be held each day from 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, that time being considered the best for ascensions as there is a minimum of treacherous air currents. The Manitowoc, (Wis.) Daily News, said of Havens after he appeared in that city:

"The flights Saturday afternoon by Aviator Havens of the Curtiss team, were a revelation to the citizens of Manitowoc and as the daring young birdman dipped and soared over the housetops, factories and business district of the city, many were the expressions of surprise and admiration heard. He made three most successful flights, beginning a few minutes after three o'clock in front of the grandstand at the fair grounds and ending shortly after five o'clock when Havens alighted on the green in front of the clubhouse of the Lake Side Country Club on the lake shore north of the Little Manitowoc."

Mr. Pritchard says that many members of the Aero Club, of New York, have arranged to come to Plainfield for the meet and the exhibition of the birdmen is expected to draw large crowds from the surrounding country. The site selected for the flights is considered one of the best in this section, especially as it offers an enclosed field. Both Beachey and Havens are expected to show the possibilities of the Curtiss biplane and give a series of evolutions that will be graceful and thrilling. As this will be the first meet of the kind in this section it will afford an opportunity for thousands of people to witness aerial flights for the first time.

MORE BEDSTEADS NEEDED AT NETHERWOOD HOME

Miss Sarah Curry, director of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home, has issued a plea to the residents of Plainfield and vicinity for bedsteads. The number of poor and crippled children at the Home has created a crowded condition. More than 400 are being cared for.

During the past week it has been necessary to spread beds on the floor of the attic. It is assumed that many people have old bedsteads that they are not likely ever to have use for, and if such persons care to give them to relieve the crippled children Miss Curry will appreciate it greatly. A postal or a telephone call will bring the "Home" wagon.

James F. Parker, of Grove street, will treat the children and mothers to ice cream and other goddies tonight after the entertainment, which will consist of Japanese drills and fancy costume tableaux.

Miss Nettie Beeching, of the Primary Teachers' Union, will take charge of the religious services tomorrow evening and will conduct a blackboard talk.

Special Baby Parade Excursion to Asbury Park, August 21.

For the famous Baby Parade on above date the New Jersey Central will run a special train leaving Grant Avenue 8:43, Plainfield 8:47, Netherwood 8:50 a. m. Round trip tickets good only on that train going and returning only $1.25, children 65c. (Clinton Avenue rate $1.30, leave at 8:40 a. m.)

ANGRY BOY'S DARING JUMP FOR FREEDOM

Six-year-old Drops 2 Stories From Room In Which He Was Locked.

John Owens, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Owens, of 110 Westervelt avenue, North Plainfield, jumped from a second story window at his home at noon yesterday but was lucky enough to escape serious injuries. His mother locked the boy, who had been disobedient, in his bed room on the second floor as a punishment.

The boy thought he could escape and in a fit of childish anger took the screen from the window and jumped to the ground, a distance of twenty feet. His mother heard the thud when the boy's body struck the ground and ran out. When she picked him up, he was unconscious.

Dr. A. G. Sheppard, of West Front street, was summoned and on examination found that no bones had been broken by the fall. The boy was shaken up but no internal injuries have manifested themselves up to the present time. The boy was resting quietly this morning. Dr. Sheppard said he was exceptionally fortunate, as a fall of such a distance generally proved serious and often times fatal.

TRUST CO. EXECUTOR OF THE CLARK ESTATE

Executors Under Will Agree to Withdraw — Kraffert Bond Reduced.

Elizabeth, Aug. 14 (Special)—The adjourned hearing of the will case of Mrs. Dorothy Sparkman Clark, of Plainfield, was up before Judge Atwater here, today. Acting upon the suggestion of William A. Coddington, of counsel for William H. Clark, of Plainfield, husband of the deceased, who was one of the executors, all the executors consented to withdraw, and The Plainfield Trust Company was made the executor of the estate. There had been some dissatisfaction as to an accounting by Mr. Clark and the other executors readily agreed to the change.

The other executors were C. L. Laudy and Emma F. Turtle, of New York, represented by Judge Skinner, of Newark; Charles P. Sparkman, a residuary legatee, who was represented by W. D. Wolfskeil and W. H. Clark, represented by W. A. Coddington.

In the will case of B. F. Kaffert, formerly of Plainfield, W. A. Coddington, of counsel for the estate, secured a reduction of the bond of the guardian of a fourteen-year-old son of Mr. Kraffert, from $120,000 to $25,000. The Plainfield Trust Company is the executor of this estate, which is valued at $250,000.

The hearing in the C. F. Aaron will case was postponed for one week to permit the counsel to secure releases from executors residing in Ohio. Mr. Aaron formerly resided in Plainfield.

REPUBLICAN CLUB PICKS COMMITTEE MEMBERS

The Republican Club of the First Ward held their regular monthly meeting in the Frost building, last night. Albert I. Littell presided and about thirty members were present. Certain sections of the primary law were discussed, and the meeting adjourned to reassemble on September 4. The following members were recommended for county and city committeemen:

For the First ward districts—V. W. Nash, Jr., county committee, and Albert Littell, city committe (First district); W. L. Hetfield, Jr., county committee, Walter Firstbrook, city committee (Second district); Harry Hicks, city committee, W. L. Gloak, county committee (Third district); Albert Prudhon, city committee, and Amos Andrews, county committee (Fouth district.) V. W. Nash, Jr., was appointed vice president of the club for the First district; W. L. Hetfield, Jr., of the Second district; Harry Hicks, of the Third district; and Robert N. Crane, of the Fourth district.

SAMUEL BROWN.

Samuel Brown, aged 50 years, of 1424 West Front street, died at Muhlenberg Hospital, last night, where he had been under treatment for complications for the past two weeks. Mr. Brown was born in Ireaind and had lived in this country twenty-two years. He was employed as a driver by a local concern. He is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Eliza Brown, of Hoboken. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

UNION DEMOCRATS INVADE LONG ISLAND

The annual outing of Union County Democrats is being held today at Witzel's Grove, College Point, L. I. When the steamer Sirius left Elizabethport this morning at 10 o'clock there were about four hundred members of the party and others, from all parts of the county, and some of the more prominent Democrats from different parts of the State on board. It was expected that United States Senator James E. Martine would be able to go on the outing, but duties in Washington prevented his leaving the Capitol City.

As the Democrats have already decided not to endorse any candidate, nothing will be done today in the way of "making up" a ticket. The usual number of petitions will be circulated for signers, and there will be the rustomary political gossip. However, it is the intention to devote the day to pleasure and politics is likely to play a small part in the outing.

There was a large delegation from Plainfield, including some Republicans. J. V. F. Dilts, who is seeking the nomination for tax collector, said before leaving Plainfield that he was confident of winning out both in the primary and at the election. Among the Plainfielders on the outing are the following:

Judge Walter L. Hetfield, J. V. F. Dilts, Lester Hamilton, Robert Washington Scott, John Caulfield, Alvin E. Hoagland, Hyman Adelberg, Henry Windham, Frank J. Shattle, who has just announced himself a members of the Bull Moose party; Horace J. Adams, clerk of the District Court; Frank M. Wagner, LeRoy J. Ellis, J. O. Stevens, Calvin E. Brodhead, James Edward Prindle, TenEyck R. Beardsley, Councilmen Fred Endress and P. J. Reville, J. J. Kenney and J. P. Owens.

NO MORE SEWER MEETINGS UNTIL SOMETIME NEXT MONTH

Owing to the fact that many of the members are out of the city on their vacation at present there will probably be no more sewer conferences before September, and until Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen officially passes on the plans as prepared by George W. Fuller, sanitary engineer, they cannot go before the State Board of Health for approval or rejection. By some this delay is regretted for it was hoped that the plans could be sent to Trenton this month.

However, some of the Plainfield councilmen are not altogether satisfied with the plans, especially as to the route of the trunk sewer, and it is confidently believed that some changes will have to be made before the City Council will be willing to pass upon them. Whether North Plainfield will agree to this is not known, but at any rate the dispute will only mean further delay in solving an important question.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPERS BACK FROM LAKE WAWAYANDA

Four of the local Y. M. C. A. boys who have been spending their vacations at the State camp at Lake Wawayanda returned home last night and all report having the time of their life. The fellows came home under the supervision of Preston Dunning, who will return to the camp tomorrow morning, where he is scheduled to remain until it closes for the season in September. In order to get back to the camp site in the hills of northern New Jersey, Dunning will be obliged to tramp over land from Greenwood Lake, a distance of twelve miles to the camp.

All of the Plainfield campers came back enjoying the best of health and plainly showed the effects the rugged out of door life had upon them. Several were suffering from minor cases of sunburn but none of them had been sick a day since they left Plainfield. Edward Ryder and Holmes Clawson made the return trip by automobile and arrived in this city ahead of the other group who were forced to enjoy life aboard one of the much talked of Erie trains for three hours yesterday afternoon. The other fellows who returned yesterday were Fred Ross, Russel Beekman, William Smith and Le Roy Traynor.

PEACE IN CAMP OF PROGRESSIVES

State Committee In Private Session at Trenton Evolves Harmony Pact.

MR. FORT CHAIRMAN

Mayor Moy Appointed a Member-at-Large of the State Committee—Chairman Will Resign Place On National Committee.

Former Governor J. Franklin Fort was elected chairman of the State committee of the Progressive party at a meeting of the committee at Trenton yesterday afternoon, and Mayor George W. V. Moy was named a member-at-large of the State committee.

Mr. Fort will resign as the New Jersey representative of the Progressives in their national committee. Borden D. Whiting, who had charge of the presidential primary campaign for the Roosevelt faction, will be named to the national committee, which itself fills such vacancies on recommendation of the State organizations.

The meeting yesterday afternoon was not thrown open to the reporters, a proposal to make the session public having been voted down, but the result is generally regarded as a harmony plan and a settlement of the differences that have recently arisen in the new party.

Former Senator Everett Colby, who had been quoted as expressing keen disappointment because Mr. Whiting was not the choice of the Jersey delegates at the recent Progressive convention at Chicago for the national committee, attended the session and was apparently pleased with the outcome. Mr. Colby said last night that he would have a statement to give out today. He would not volunteer any information about what he intended to say.

Other officers of the Progressive State Committee were elected yesterday as follows: Vice chairman, Frank B. Jess, of Camden, who is a member of the State Board for Equalization of Taxes; secretary, Frank J. Higgins, of Jersey City; treasurer, Irving K. Taylor, of Essex. The chairman was authorized to appoint an executive committee which will consist of seven members.

By resolution the executive committee to be chosen is authorized to add four women to the State committee. The New Jersey Progressives will thus give official approval to the "votes for women" agitation.

The State committee was in session more than three hours, but only a skeleton statement of its proceedings was given to the press. It is said that the question of the attitude to be pursued regarding the primaries was again threshed out with the result that there was no change from the decision of the recent Asbury Park convention. The committee went on record, in fact, as favoring the placing of Congressional and Legislative candidates in the field all through the State by petition.

Whether county and city candidates shall be nominated in like manner was left to the local organizations. The Progressives will have such candidates in most of the cities and counties.

Former Congressman Charles M. Fowler, of Elizabeth, who had advised the Progressives at the Asbury Park convention to continue their fight within the Republican party, while supporting Roosevelt up to election day, took an active part in yesterday's proceedings.

Former Governor Fort was named as member-at-large of the State committee, as was Everett Colby, of Essex; Frank B. Jess, of Camden; John E. Gill, of Mercer; Edgar B. Bacon, of Hudson; Harold J. Howland, of Essex; George W. V. Moy, of Union; Henry M. Bailey, of Bergen; Henry C. Whitehead, of Passaic. Mr. Fort is a representative-at-large ex-officio.

MID-SUMMER SHOE SALE.

Morris C. VanArsdale, the East Front street shoe merchant, is now conducting his annual mid-summer clearance shoe sale. The shoes now offered in this sale are taken from the regular stock and are genuine bargains. Mr. VanArsdale does not claim to have every size and width, but in the stock offered hundreds of people will be able to get the best values. There is no misrepresentation in the sale, the markings being clear and plain. If you are in need of shoes attend this sale, which started on Saturday last and will continue for two weeks.

A PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY BILL

Measure Introduced by Representative Howland of Ohio.

ADMINISTRATION INDORSES IT.

Likely to Become a Law Before the Presidential Election In 1916—Will Come Up Early In the December Session of Congress.

Supporters of the direct presidential primary plan will be interested in the preferential primary bill which has been introduced in the house by Representative Paul Howland of Ohio. The bill is said to have the indorsement of the administration, and it seems likely that it will become a law before the 1916 presidential election. It will probably come up for consideration early at the December session of congress.

The Howland bill provides that "a preferential primary for all candidates for the office of president shall be held in the several states at the time and in the manner therein provided." All political parties whose candidates have polled at least 5 per cent of the total number of votes cast in the election preceding the approval of the law shall have a place on the ballot. It is provided, however, that all candidates for the office of president shall give notice to this effect forty five days before the holding of the primary, filing nomination papers in substantially the following form:

I, the undersigned, a qualified elector and a member of the ... party, hereby declare my candidacy for the office of president, subject to the preferential primary. I further declare that I am a natural born citizen of the United States and that I am thirty-five years of age and have been fourteen years a resident of the United States.

Candidates to Pay.

It is further provided that each presidential candidate shall pay to a "national canvassing board for presidential primaries" the sum of $1,000, without which the nomination papers will not be certified to by the board.

The bill provides that the national organization of a political party shall consist of one committeeman from each state and that the national committee so constituted shall be the sole judge of the qualifications of its members.

Representation in national conventions is based upon the vote cast in each state, one delegate and one alternate being allowed for each 10,000 votes polled by each political party. In addition each state will be allowed four delegates at large and four alternates, in accordance with the present custom.

Provision is made in the proposed bill to prevent a voter of one party from voting for the candidates of another party. The provision touching on this point reads as follows:

"The clerk or clerks of the election shall deliver to each qualified voter in each precinct on demand the ticket of the party to which said elector declares he belongs and as the votes are cast write the name and address of each voter and the party affiliation as declared by the voter, which list, having been certified by the judges, shall be returned to the state canvassing board with the returns of the election."

Does Away With Repeating.

It is argued that the holding of the primary for all parties on the same day will do away with repeating. Stringent measures against bribery and all other forms of election trickery are provided for in the bill.

The form of ballot is prescribed and made uniform throughout the country. Provision is also made for the primary vote to be held in all states on May 2 every fourth year, beginning with 1916. Furthermore, the bill prohibits electioneering or canvassing within 100 feet of a polling place.

The national canvassing board for presidential primaries will sit in Washington, and each member is to receive a salary of $1,000 a year. Each of the various states shall have a state canvassing board.

Another attempt at absolute fairness is the provision that each candidate, irrespective of the alphabetical order in which his name may come, shall have it printed first on an equal number of the ballots. This is designed to prevent repetitions of the scandals in Pennsylvania and other states, where the organization men made up slates of candidates many of whose names began with A.

Many other minor provisions tending toward primary fairness are mentioned in the bill.

A MEASURE OF MERIT.

Plainfield Citizens Should Weigh Well This Evidence.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence.
Convincing evidence in Plainfield.

But the endorsement of Plainfield people.

That's the kind of proof given here—

I was in misery and nothing gave me the least relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained at Randolph's Drug Store. They acted on my kidneys at once and not only removed the pain from my back but corrected the kidney weakness and restored me to good health. I shall always be willing to give Doan's Kidney Pills the praise they deserve."

FISHING NOTES.

Everybody is looking forward to another good week of fishing at the banks. The passengers on the Taurus enjoyed themselves very much from Sunday to Sunday, as every day the fishing improved. Every time the boat went to the Cholera Banks humpback sea bass were caught. Fifteen and twenty to a man were the registered catches, and it was common to find more than half of them humpbacks.

One of the best fishing places in this State is at Greenwich, Cumberland county. Weakfish, bluefish, croakers, kingfish and mackerel are hitting there, and a hundred fish in an afternoon is a regular catch.

If sharks were worth money the fishermen in Raritan Bay would be enlarging their bank accounts every day. There is a great conglomeration of sharks, dogfish, horse mackerel and toadfish in the bay, and it looks as though the boatmen will have to advertise for sea bass and fluke parties if they want to keep their boats busy. Dozens of powerboats run from Newark, Elizabeth and Jersey City to Ambrose Channel and Sandy Hook for fluke and the Seabright banks for sea bass, and if they can run all that distance there seems to be no reason why the boats at Amboy, Morgan and Keyport can't go a quarter of the distance. The man out for a day wants fish, and it makes no difference whether they are bass, porgies, fluke, weakfish or bluefish.

From now until October the channel bass fishing at Corson's Inlet, N. J., will steadily improve. During the last ten days thirty fish have been taken there by five fishermen, who, learning of the fish being in the surf, made hurried trips to the Wittkamp Hotel. Usually they wait until the summer fishing has quit and the vacation period fishermen have gone home, as these surf fishermen are peculiar chaps and like to fish alone. Surf fishing is hard work and there is very little chance to talk to strangers. Four men may start fishing together and in an hour they are miles apart, working up and down the beach trying to locate the feeding grounds of the channel and striped bass.

For many years fishermen have been wondering what dogfish were ever made for, because they drive all other fish away and annoy the fishermen by making the bait. It was left to an Italian fish dealer to solve the question, and he did it in a profitable manner. The flesh of a dogfish is white and firm, and this man experimented with it until he succeeded in curing it to imitate smoked sturgeon. It finds a ready market as such, and he has contracted with several large net fishermen for every dogfish they catch. The despised toadfish is also purchased by the same man. In some localities this ugly-looking fish is caught in great quantities and shipped to him. The head, tail and skin is removed and the fish is boiled and pickled and readily made to pass for pickled eels. The same individual has a wonderful trade in skates, thousands of which are caught from the Coney Island piers. Almost any evening his employes can be seen gathering up the skates, which are cut up and sold to places where there is a large demand for fish chowder. There is nothing injurious in the flesh of any of these specimens, but they are repulsive looking, and the fishermen will have nothing to do with them.

Fishing for striped bass in Belmar during the last week was not as good as in the week before, though a number of large fish were caught by casting in the surf. The weakfish, which have been expected for a long time struck in on Friday and those fishermen who happened to be on the pier had big catches. Charles Woodland, the champion fisherman in Belmar, caught twenty-seven from the pier, and David McIntyre came next with about fifteen. A number of other fishermen caught between six and twelve. The fish were all very fine, running from one pound to 2¼ pounds each.

Why We Knock on Wood.

Long ago, when our ancestors wandered through forests believing that fairy creatures inhabited the woods and streams, that little mischievous gray gnomes were in the earth, they would tap gently on the bark of the trees for the good wishes of the little fairies to protect them from the malevolence of the gnomes. In the rustling of the leaves or the swaying of the branches they would read the promises of protection.

So now when we knock on the table or the chair to inspire safety from some too boastful remark we are simply copying without knowing it just what our pagan ancestors of old did.

NEW TARIFFS TO THE COAST.

Lines File Schedules In Accordance With Spokane Decision.

To meet the interstate commerce commission's decision in the Spokane case transcontinental carriers have placed on file with the commission freight tariffs effective Sept. 2.

The commission will check up the new tariffs, and if it is found, as now seems certain, that the carriers have attempted to make increases it will suspend the tariffs and make an investigation before they are allowed to go into effect.

The checkings indicate thus far that the increases to the Pacific terminals are considerably greater than reductions to the intermountain territory.

CITY IN DANGER; REDS APPROACH

Invading Hosts Have Big Lead In War Game.

BLUES STAND AT MILFORD

Red Infantry and Cavalry Prepare For Northward March Into Hudson River Valley—Air Scouts Prove of Great Aid to Onrushing Troops.

Stratford, Conn., Aug. 14.—In the first big engagement of the war game the battle of "Great Ring hill," the red army, which is seeking to capture New York, won a signal victory. The blue defenders were routed.

Reconnoitering expeditions by the aviation corps of the "enemy" helped materially in bringing victory to the red troops. The battle, while it lasted, was fast and furious, General Bliss afterward commenting that the problem had worked out more successfully than he had anticipated.

Great Ring hill is in Newton and was the key to the position which Colonel Kirby of the blue army took when he discovered that the reds, under Colonel Cowles, were approaching him in force. The first engagement of the battle came on the turnpike towards Newton. Both commands were moving cautiously. Almost at the same time both commanders saw the hill would be a vantage point.

Reds Emerge From Woods.

The blue troops were swarming up the hill, certain they had won an important position, when a Maine regiment of the red army and some cavalry troops emerged from a narrow strip of woods. With a cheer the red army advanced, the blues falling back, leaving the "enemy" in possession of the hill and the highway, which is an important artery across the western section of the state.

Only near Milford is the blue army successfully intrenched. The red army has been making rapid strides. Practically all of the red infantry and cavalry are across the upper Housatonic river, preparatory to a northward march into the Hudson River valley below Poughkeepsie. General Smith sent other red troops at Long Hill, in Huntington, where they can take Bridgeport with little difficulty.

GIRLS MUST WEAR STOCKINGS

Or They Can't Go In Bathing on Atlantic City's Beach.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 14.—William H. Bartlett, director of public safety, who recently gave orders that women bathers should not go to the beach in bathing suits which were not covered by raincoats, went further. Two girls who were bathing in suits without stockings were ordered from the beach by a life guard.

"Put on your stockings, leave the beach or be arrested," was the ultimatum. One of the young women wanted to know why the guard didn't chase off some of the men who wore short trunks.

"I haven't anything to do with that," replied the life guard. "My orders are to tell you to put on stockings or leave the beach."

There were no stockings at hand, and the bare legged bathers left the strand.

WOMAN KILLS ANOTHER.

Wife Finds Husband With Widow and Shoots Her Dead.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Mrs Georgia Smith, a handsome young widow with one child, was shot to death by Mrs. Cleveland Echols, a bride of a year, when the latter found the former sitting in the lap of Echols. The tragedy occurred in the home of Mrs. Smith, which adjoins that of Mrs. Echols.

Mrs. Echols suspected her husband of being intimate with Mrs. Smith. She watched her husband and saw him enter Mrs. Smith's home. The jealous wife followed with a shotgun and found her husband with Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Echols at once discharged both barrels of the shotgun into Mrs. Smith and she died in the arms of Echols. When arrested Mrs. Echols said, "She ruined my home; I had to kill her."

KILLS MAN, WOMAN AND SELF

Chicago Man Locked Victims in Room and Then Shot Them.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Locking his intended victims in a room and pocketing the key, J. B. Lautzenheiser shot and killed a man and a woman at 2307 West Madison street and then fired a bullet into his own brain. All died instantly.

The pair murdered by Lautzenheiser were Mrs. Mary Burwell, fifty-five years old, who kept a rooming house at the address where the tragedy was enacted, and Thomas Dugan, fifty years old, a motorman employed by the Chicago Railways company. Lautzenheiser was a nephew of Mrs. Burwell. The cause of the tragedy is a mystery.

Weather Forecast.

Local thunder showers today; Thursday probably fair and not quite so warm; light to moderate south to west winds.

LIFT QUARANTINE; EXPECT MEAT DROP

Agriculture Department Moves to Help Conditions.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Action taken by the department of agriculture may tend to reduce the cost of meat. Secretary Wilson issued an order, to take effect Aug. 15, releasing from the quarantine maintained on account of the disease known as "scabies" in cattle 51,664 square miles of territory in South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Texas.

This action was taken, it is stated, as a result of the progress that has been made by the bureau of animal industry and state authorities in the work of eradicating the disease. The quarantine maintained in the states prevented the shipment of cattle to market from numerous large shipping points.

The area released in each state by the order is as follows: South Dakota, 27,601 square miles; Nebraska, 11,390; Kansas, 9,000; Texas, 3,673. The entire state of Kansas is now out of federal and state quarantine.

BULL MOOSE LEADERS CONFER

Important Gathering of Progressive Party Heads at Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 14.—A big campaign conference of the bull moose leaders was held at Sagamore Hill. The council of war, the first since the National Progressive candidates were named at the Chicago convention, continued its deliberations until early today.

Those of the inner circle of Colonel Roosevelt's advisers who motored down to confer with their leader were Senator Joseph M. Dixon, his campaign manager; George W. Perkins, chairman of the National Progressive executive committee; Judge Ben Lindsey, Colorado state chairman; Medill McCormick, Illinois state chairman; Francis W. Bird, former appraiser of the port of New York, and O. K. Davis, the Progressive publicity manager. The meeting was for the general purpose of taking stock of the political situation in its national aspects, as it has altered since the convention, and of formulating campaign plans in these states wherein a complete third party ticket will be named.

DARROW DEFENSE OPENS.

Accused Lawyer Himself Will Speak In Own Behalf.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14.—The opening argument of the defense in the Darrow bribery trial was made by Attorney Horace H. Appel.

The crowd which jammed the corridors of the building when the attorneys appeared was so great that even Darrow himself had difficulty in reaching the door of the courtroom. Darrow will make the closing argument for the defense.

Schurman Minister to Greece.

Washington, Aug. 14.—President Taft sent to the senate the nomination of Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell university, to be minister from the United States to Greece and Montenegro and that of Christopher Kalaman to be receiver of public moneys at Vancouver, Wash.

Plainfield, N. J., August 14, 1912.

The King's Daughters' baby camp on the mountain is still in need of funds, and the Daily Press hopes to see contributions continue to be sent to this office for the worthy cause. Yesterday a letter was received from W. D. Murray, containing a check for a sum given by the members of the Sunday-school at Wolfeboro, New Hampshire, where several Plainfield people spend the summer. If all those of our readers who are away for the summer would do as much as the people at Wolfeboro, the baby camp would not be in need of funds. Unfortunately, too many people forget all about those left at home, when they are away enjoying themselves in some cool and comfortable resort. Send along your checks! There is no more worthy cause than this one, which makes the lives of little ones comfortable during the hot days of summer.

It is a remarkable fact that while the Republican papers are making all the noise they can about the treatment which they say that Colonel Roosevelt and the Progressives gave the colored men at Chicago, at the same time every negro who attended the convention, including even those who were ousted as delegates, has declared that the action taken was exactly right. The New Jersey member of the credentials committee at the convention was a negro, and he made the motion before that committee which resulted in the ousting of the colored delegates. He is a Jersey City doctor, a man of intelligence, and one who realizes, as did all of the other negroes at the convention that the policy of recognizing the negro adopted by the Progressives is the only policy which will eventually result for their good.

No person receives so much sympathy as a child, or a grown person for that matter, afflicted with the deformity commonly known as hunchback. It is therefore interesting to learn that the physicians at Johns Hopkins University are perfecting a new treatment for this terrible disfigurement, which eliminates the old mechanical devices, and is said to give promise of eventually being able to cure the trouble entirely, if begun in time. The new operation is performed in a manner similar to that used in stiffening the knee joint. If the story is really based on fact, and not a mere newspaper yarn, the physicians at this famous school will be entitled to even greater praise then they have received in the past, for their service to mankind.

It is now the day of the summer story to furnish enough news to fill up the newspapers. The latest yarn comes from Fairfield, Essex county, and appeared in a Newark paper. A farmer found last fall that one of his apple trees was decaying, and filled the decayed place with concrete, according to the most approved method. The other day he thought the fruit was ripe enough to pick and took off an apple, only to find when he bit into it that it was solid concrete inside. The rest of the crop is said to be in the same condition. He has discovered a splendid way to raise fruit for window displays in restaurants and similar places, and there is no danger of its ever being stolen by small boys.

Another auto speed fiend, who drove across a narrow bridge at a rate of sixty miles an hour, while two inspectors of the motor vehicle department happened to be in the neighborhood, has been fined $25 by a Manasquan justice of the peace. Of course he was rich, and the fine meant no more to him than a penny does to a newsboy. The only way to treat such speed fiends is to put a few of them behind the bars for a couple of weeks or a month. Keep them away from the society of the people they are accustomed to be with, and they will soon learn that the law means something. Touch their pocketbooks, they boast to one another about the fine, considering it a joke.

The new primary law is considered by many to be the best the State has ever had, but the ballots which will be used this year in Hudson county can hardly be said to be such as will make voting easy. No less than ninety men have declared that they will seek the freeholder nomination, and fifty are out for legislative office. The Hudson county people will apparently have to vote a ticket about the size of a bed sheet.

Now we see dispatches telling of the arrival of mysterious men at various small towns about the country, and that they are thought to be after "Gyp the Blood," who is wanted in connection with the Rosenthal murder in New York. Strangers who do not want to be taken for detectives would do well to call at the newspaper offices in the small towns and make themselves known.

The contributed editorial for next Saturday will prove of interest to every reader of the Daily Press. The feature has become so popular that it will be continued indefinitely each Saturday night.

"Watching War Game, Fall in Love and Wed," says a newspaper headline. Let us hope for their future happiness that from now on war will be the last thing thought of.

Considering the fact that it is August, when usually there is nothing doing in Plainfield, it seems to us that there is a whole lot going on here.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from the State Trust Company today follows: 9 a. m., 79 degrees; 11 a. m., 85 degrees; 1 p. m., 90 degrees.

STRONG COMPANY WILL PRESENT OPENING PLAY

The local theatrical season will open on Saturday night, when that strong production, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," will be the attraction at the Plainfield theatre. The management assure theatre patrons that the company will be the best, every role being in the hands of competent people. Edmund Elton, who plays the title role, has received the highest praise for his work. A professional bank robber occupied a seat in the gallery of the Studebaker theatre, Chicago, when the play was given its first presentation. When the scene where Valentine "feels out" the combination of the safe was reached, naturally, the professional crook was alert and on the lookout for flaws in the staging. He found them and the expert advice of a professional bank robber is responsible for one of the most important changes in the "business" intrusted to Edmund Elton. According to an anonymous letter received by the manager of the company next day, he found them. He related in his letter that he would have Mr. Elton feel out the combination with his left hand instead of his right as the skin is always thickest on the fingers of the right hand and the nerves are less sensitive to outside impulses. His greatest objection was in the matter of pulling down the blinds in the vault scene. He said that if the blinds were pulled down people from the outside might observe a change from the usual order of things and that in order to satisfy his desire to work in the dark in order to better feel the combination, Mr. Elton should cover his eyes with a handkerchief and let the window curtains alone.

After the receipt of the crook's letter the stage manager acted on his suggestions and patrons of the Plainfield theatre, where "Alias Jimmy Valentine" will appear Saturday night, may see Mr. Elton "feeling out" the combination with his left hand, and a heavy handkerchief acros his eyes for the final big scene of the play.

JOHN MACKEY DIES IN HIS 70TH YEAR

Was One of the Fist Letter Carriers Under Free Delivery System.

John Mackey, aged 69 years, for many years a resident of this city, died last night at his home on Emerson avenue. He had been ill with complications for some time. He was a veteran of the Civil War, serving from 1861-4, with the exception of the time he was held a prisoner in Andersonville. He took part in a number of engagements throughout the war.

Mr. Mackey was one of the first letter-carriers employed upon the introduction of the free delivery service here under the term of Postmaster William L. Force. That was prior to the Civil Service requirements and being a Democrat, he was later succeeded by a Republican appointee when Mr. Force retired from the office. For the past fifteen years Mr. Mackey was employed as a night watchman by the Woodhull & Martin Company, which position he held up to the time illness prevented him from being at his post. Mr. Mackey was a member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., and the First Baptist church.

Surviving beside a wife are three sons, Charles, Edwin and Sidney Mackey and three daughters, two of whom are Miss Sara E. Mackey, a teacher in the North Plainfield Public School, and Miss Anna L. Mackey. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

JUST OBEISANCE TO BRITISH FLUNKEYISM

Martine So Describes Stand of Those Who Want Canal Open to Powers.

Elizabeth, Aug. 14.—Speeches by United States Senator James E. Martine and Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr., were features of the meeting of the Elizabeth Democratic Club, last night. Both men predicted success for the Democratic party in nation, State and county.

Senator Martine declared in characteristic manner that Governor Wilson would carry forty States in his campaign for the Presidency. The Senator paid his repects to the members of Congress who wanted to throw the Panama Canal open to foreign powers and described their actions as "obsisance to British tomfoolery, flunkeyism and toadyism."

Congressman W. E. Tuttle formally launched the candidacy of Congressman William H. Hughes for the United States Senatorship in this city. Many Hughes campaign buttons were distributed.

The committee appointed some time ago to arrange for the trip of the club to Sea Girt on the occasion of Governor Wilson' notification of his nomination for the Presidency, was instructed to arrange for a trip of the club to the "Little White House" next Saturday when New Jersey Day will be celebrated.

The following committee was papointed to solicit funds for the Wilson-Marshall campaign on the outing of the Democratic City Executive Committee today: John J. Heck, chairman, Frank J. Pfaff, John J. McGovern, Anthony Sattler, Dennis J. Harrington, Walter Tenney, Hugh J. McLoughlin, William P. Maher, Jeremiah A. Kernan, Harry Eckerson and Arthur O'Brien. The club's fund was started with a contribution of $100 from Senator Martine. It is expected more than $1,000 will be raised today. The work of the local club will be used as an example for other organizations by the National Democratic Campaign Committee.

SAENGERBUND WILL TAKE PART IN SONG FESTIVAL

The singing section of the Gesang and Turn Verein will participate in the "Saengerfest" of the National Society to be held at Perth Amboy Sunday and Labor Day, September 1 and 2. This was decided at the regular meeting of the Saengerbund in its hall on Somerset street last night. Vice President Renz presided in the absence of the president, Henry Haurand.

Mr. Renz, who is also president of the singing section, said that every effort would be made to have the local society present strong contestants in the Saengerfest. Adolph von Hofe will be director of the local singing section.

Nothing was done in regard to the celebration of the anniversary in October.

Miss Celia Anderson, of Park avenue, has returned from her vacation at Dover. She was accompanied by her sister.

VISITED HEAVEN IN DREAM.

Girl Says She Spoke to Her Mother While In Trance.

Physicians and psychologists are investigating the strange tale told by Miss Lula Mae Satterfield, twenty years old, of Chunky, Miss., who awoke from a trance which she had entered upon July 27 and after summoning about fifty relatives and friends to her bedside told a graphic story of how she had visited heaven during her long sleep and while there had talked with her mother, her sister and two brothers, all of whom have been dead for some time.

Miss Satterfield was in perfect health when she awoke from her trance and declared that she felt refreshed, although too weak from the long fast to leave her bed. Dr. William Wairing, the physician who attends her family, was at her side when she told her strange experience and noted every word carefully.

The girl said that after talking with her mother, who died a year ago, she had been called before her Heavenly Father and ordered to return to earth and tell mankind of the glorious future that awaited them, urging them to live good lives.

The girl's discourse was perfectly coherent, and she talked with such deep conviction that most of her hearers were in tears when she concluded. The young woman's father is the Rev. M. Satterfield, a Baptist minister. The preacher declares that his daughter has always been devout and pious to the extreme.

15,000,000 CHILDREN AILING.

Dr. Wood of Columbia Estimates That 10,000,000 Have Defective Teeth.

Fifteen million American school children need a doctor's attention. This is the estimate furnished the United States bureau of education by Dr. Thomas D. Wood, professor of physical education in the Teachers' college of Columbia university.

"Of the 20,000,000 school children in this country," says Dr. Wood, "not less than 75 per cent need attention today for physical defects which are prejudicial to health and which are partially or completely remediable."

Several million children have two or more handicapping defects; 400,000 have organic heart disease; at least 1,000,000 have or have had tuberculosis; about 1,000,000 have spinal curvature, flat foot or some other moderate deformity; about 1,000,000 have defective hearing; about 5,000,000 have defective vision; about 5,000,000 are suffering from malnutrition; over 6,000,000 have enlarged tonsils, adenoids or enlarged cervical glands; over 10,000,000 have defective teeth, which are interfering with health; about 100 cities have organizations for the care of health in the schools.

Mrs. Irving Niles and family, of West Fifth street, have returned from an outing at Ocean Grove.

THOUSANDS FORCED TO USE R. R. TRACKS AS HIGHWAY

Elizabeth, Aug. 14.—Mayor Alfred A. Stein has had figures compiled by the police department showing that thousands of persons in the southeastern part of the city are without adequate transportation facilities and that because of this the lives of hundreds of men, women and children are endangered daily.

The statistics will be submitted by the First Street Association to the Public Service Railway Company in an effort to convince the corporation that a spur down Bayway from its South Broad street extension to its tracks in South First street should be built. If the railway company continues to refuse to construct the spur the figures will be laid before the Public Utilities Commission in an attempt to compel the corporation to act.

A count of persons who use the South First street and South Front street bridges and the tracks of the Long Branch Railroad for thoroughfares, because there is no street car service to and from their homes, shows that more than 2,000 walked in and out of the southeastern section in four hours of one day.

From these negroes it is estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 persons go to and from the section in question in an entire day. Hundreds of these go over the Long Branch Railroad bridge at the Elizabeth River at the risk of their lives. It is argued that a large majority would patronize street cars if there were any, and that the desired spur would prove a profitable investment.

A wireless message received here today states that the steamer Olympic will dock in New York about 4 o'clock this afternoon. Among the passengers are Mulford Estil, Irving Walsh and Mrs. Philip B. Macintyre, of this city. Mrs. Macintyre has been abroad two months.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PRESERVED PEARS.

EVEN very tasteless pears sometimes give good results when put up, especially if they are well spiced. No fruit, not even excepting peaches, looks nicer, for they keep their form, no matter how much they are cooked. The preserved pears may be used when the fresh fruit is not available for making nice desserts.

Pungent Pears.

Ginger Pears.—Use firm, ripe pears. Pare and cut into thin slices. To eight pounds of sliced fruit use the juice of five lemons, one cupful water, seven pounds sugar, one-half pound ginger root, cut in thin slices.

Let the sugar dissolve in the kettle before adding the fruit. Cut peel of lemon in long, thin slices. Let the fruit and lemon cook slowly for an hour and put in jars.

Spiced Pears.—After paring the fruit cut each pear into halves or quarters, taking out the cores. Soak in cold water to avoid discoloration. To each quart of sliced pears allow three-quarters of a cupful of sugar and three-quarters of a cupful of pure cider vinegar. In a piece of cheesecloth put a two inch stick of cinnamon broken into small pieces, six cloves and six allspice. Put the sugar, vinegar and the bag with the spice into a kettle to boil for three minutes. Skim, drain the pears and add to the sirup. Boil very slowly, being careful not to break the pears. When tender put into glass jars that have been heated. Have the pears covered with the sirup.

Toothsome Marmalades.

Pear Marmalade.—Boil six good sized pears to a pulp; weigh them; take half their weight of sugar, put it into a saucepan with very little water; boil it and skim it while boiling. When boiled to a crack add the pulp of the pears and give it a boil and add about four drops of essence of cloves. When it is cold it is ready for use.

Bittersweet Marmalade.—This is a combination of pears and lemon which is deliciously poignent in taste. Cut pears into quarters, but do not peel or core them. Add enough water to them to prevent burning and let them cook until tender. Press them through a potato ricer. Measure the pulp and to five cupfuls add the chipped rind of two lemons and also a cupful of sugar. Boil on the back of the stove after putting into a porcelain lined kettle. When cooked until very thick and glossy pour into hot sterilized jars or cups and when cold seal carefully.

Tan and Champagne Shades Figure In Fall Color Card.

Shades of tan and champagne are said in great favor.

Rosettes, flowers and other fancy effects are strongly in favor.

Black and white parasols of every description have the front rank.

A FALL SKIRT MODEL.

Low hung panniers are more practical than hip line draperies.

Picot edged taffeta ribbons have returned to favor along with the panniers.

A parasol of black dotted net over yellow satin is beautiful with a deep border of velvet.

Skirts still preserve their long, straight lines, but many of them are showing plaited portions that are pressed very flat, but allow greater freedom for walking than the plain model. The illustration shows one of this kind. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SIMPLE HOUSE GOWN.

An Odd Whimsey In Button Trimming.

IN WHITE COTTON RATINE.

This simple house gown was designed for a young French actress. The material is white ratine, and the plaits down the front give height and dignity. The arrangement of the buttons, half under the buttonhole, is an odd whimsey.

DRESSMAKING BIDS.

Contracts For Sewing Awarded In Businesslike Fashion.

Letting out the making of a summer wardrobe to the lowest bidder is a new wrinkle to one dressmaker who was recently invited to participate in such a contest.

"I have a number of gowns, separate blouses and shirt waists, which I wish made up by June 1," wrote the woman who had the contract to let. "Will you kindly call at my house for particulars and make an estimate of charges?"

The dressmaker went and named a figure. When she came back she said she never felt so important in her life.

"It was like bidding for a government job," she said, "and when I agreed to make up so many yards of taffeta, dimity and linen for a certain sum, I felt as if I were signing a contract to drape the columns of the library or postoffice or some other public building. That illusion was heightened by the size of the customer, who is stately enough for statuary, and solid enough for masonry. There is only a small chance of my getting the work, for she invited scores of other dressmakers to compete, some of whom are likely to underbid me, but if I do get it it will be the first order I ever obtained on those businesslike terms."

SING A SONG OF FASHION.

Feminine Fancy In Dress.

Ah, ladies, ye whom Fashion's stringing,
What of the style of skirt called "clinging?"
So thin that you and light show through it,
As thousands are aware who view it,
With little underneath but nature
To constitute the filling feature,
So startling as to cause a modest
Man to wonder if the oddest
Sculpture ever carved or molded
Were not in public now unfolded.
Ladies, ladies, your apparel
Makes one wish you wore a barrel!
And if by chance you are not knowing
That you are making such a showing,
Oh, wad some power the giftie gie you
To see yoursel's as ithers see you!

ARTISTIC LIGHTS FOR THE HOME

Attractive Lamps In Many Rare and Lovely Forms Are Available In the Shops at Very Moderate Prices.

THE lighting of the home is a problem that requires as serious consideration as the decorating of walls or ceiling and the choice of furniture. There is a philosophy of lighting as well as a philosophy of lights.

The choice of the kind of light is largely a matter of convenience. There is no doubt that the old fashioned candle, so far as softness and artistic effect are concerned, was ideal, but modern ingenuity has solved the problem of giving us candle-like illumination with electric light.

Candelabra, with each branch equipped with electric bulbs, are made in many artistic designs. When shades are slipped over the bulbs the result is a softly shaded light that closely approximates the beauty of candlelight.

In a country house candlelight is charming. For illuminating the dinner table or for lighting the sitting room on some idle rainy evening, when nothing particular is to be done indoors, it is delightful. Cheap candlesticks in pretty shapes are to be bought very reasonably in the shops.

Sometimes in attics in the country are to be found old brass candlesticks incrusted with verdigris. Their appearance may discourage the uninitiated, but patience and a little rubbing will restore the candles to their pristine brightness. In cleaning candlesticks of this sort household ammonia will be found very useful. Dip the flannel rag with which you scour the candlestick into the ammonia before rubbing it over the sand soap, then scour vigorously. Sometimes a little of the ammonia brushed over the verdigris before it is cleaned will help to loosen the crust. If it is very thick the outer layer may sometimes be scraped off. Boiling in salt and vinegar will help to brighten the candlesticks.

Glass or china candlesticks are inexpensive and cheap. The delft models are particularly pretty, especially if finished with shades of delft blue.

The care of candlesticks is important. They should be inspected every day, cleaned and filled when necessary. The candles should be changed about, so that those in a pair of sticks are both kept the same length. Brass candlesticks require polishing twice a week, and glass ones must be washed almost every day. If the candles are removed and the sticks set on a paper before or above the stove all the superfluous wax may be easily taken off by rubbing with a soft cloth.

The housewife can save the ends of the wax candles. They are useful on ironing day. New candles may be made from them by melting the candles, taking out the bits of wick and then running the wax into paper molds in which a wick is suspended.

Lamps either for oil or for electric light are receiving the attention of the most gifted designers, and some wonderfully pretty shapes are being turned out. Some of these are in bronze, silver, glass or fine china.

Wickerware lamps are quite a new notion and have no brass to polish, no china body to wash nor even a china shade. Even the shade is wicker covered. These lamps come in all sizes and are painted and stained in tints matching the furniture.

Even where the home is lighted by electricity the pleasure of soft lamplight is not quite to be dispensed with, and those lamps, therefore, so appropriate for summer use, will probably become more than popular.

In shades for lamps there are some Japanese grass cloth in red, green and gold color. These have a silhouette design over them and a binding of black paper picturing a moose in the woodlands. The shade is wholly appropriate for the lover of outdoors.

The lamps shown here are fancy ones suitable for ornamenting the dinner table. One is in the form of a small cherry tree and is supplied with several bulbs. The other is in the shape of a single branch, from the end of which springs an American Beauty rose in whose petals nestles the bulb.

Today the United States is beginning to realize the truth of a statement made fifty years ago by Lucy Stone that our nation would be twice as strong as it now is if women were granted the franchise. To review the steady, though sometimes slow progress of the equal suffrage movement from the days of Susan B. Anthony, the Blackwells and Julia Ward Howe to the present hour is eminently satisfying, for the dream of these pioneers is on the eve of becoming a reality. No one can doubt it. At this hour the Woman's Suffrage League of New Jersey are meeting in Ocean Grove, to pay tribute to Lucy Stone, one of the noblest advocates of woman's rights our country has had.

Luck Stone was born ninety-four years ago today, the fourteenth of August, 1818. She was country-born. This unquestionably had its fortunate side for she was not diverted by the multiplicity of interests that hold fast-bound the town-bred woman. The strength lay largely in her singleness of purpose due, we must believe, in part, to the early conditions of her life. Even in her girlhood she knew what she wanted and she worked for it. To begin with she longed ardently for a college education. No whit daunted by her poverty or by her father's fixed disapproval of higher education for her sex, she went to Oberlin, the only college in the United States at that time open to women. There she prepared herself for her future work. She trained her voice; she argued in the debating society; she studied history and sociology. Even then she was dominated by a high purpose. Because of her convictions and of her aim to become a great speaker, she had courage to work her way through college though she did not receive her degree until she was twenty-nine years old.

The year of her graduation, 184". Lucy Stone gave her first lecture on Woman's Suffrage in her brother's pulpit at Gardner, Massachusetts, and almost immediately she was engaged to lecture for the Anti-Slavery Society. In the "fifties" it was the custom of this society to send women from one end of our country to the other, even to small towns and remote districts, to speak on slavery, temperance, suffrage. This suited Lucy Stone. Traveling through the United States and even into Canada she had the opportunity to plead for the freedom of women as well as for the freedom of the colored race; to promulgate her belief in women's inherent right to participate in a govenment that professes to be based on the consent of the governed. This was no half-belief with her. She once let her property in New Jersey be sold for taxes and then published a pamphlet on "Taxation Without Representation."

The great man inevitably is a great worker. He works early and late and all the hours in between early and late and, at high pressure, all the other hours there are. No one accomplishes much who hasn't this power. To a large degree it was Lucy Stone's. The record of her work up to 1893, the year of her death, is remarkable. She was one of the organizers of the first National Woman's Rights Convention, held in Wocester, Massachusetts, in 1850; of the New England Woman's Suffrage Association in 1869, of the executive board of which she was chairman for twenty years. In 1872 she established The Woman's Journal of which she was editor until her death. She campaigned for Woman's Suffrage amendments in Kansas in 1867; in Vermont in 1870; in Michigan in 1874; in Colorado in 1877, and in Nebraska in 1892, the year before she died.

In many ways Lucy Stone's life was unusually fortunate. Few workers have met with closer sympathy or more intelligent support from their immediate family. Her husband, Henry B. Blackwell, a prominent abolitionist and an advocate of woman's rights, gave her practical assistance in managing the Woman's Journal. As she was already widely known at the time of their marriage in 1855, he agreed that she should keep her maiden name. Their daughter, Alice Stone Blackwell, inherited much of Lucy's enthusiasm and for many years has been on the staff of the Woman's Journal. Quite the most interesting names connected with the Blackwells are Henry's two sisters, Elizabeth and Emily, who together established the New York Infirmary for women and children. Both these women were physicians and ardent workers for social reform. Elizabeth being the first woman in America to receive the diploma of M. D.

Lucy Stone was a little woman with a low broad brow and beautiful eyes. In her presence was power. She was magnetic. When she spoke she usually stood with one hand pushed behind her back, her eyes fixed on her audience, her face shining with light. Her voice was clear, her manner simple, her utterances sincere. Those who heard her loved her. Even a tumultuous crowd, assembled to show disrespect, quickly felt her charm and became quiet listners.

Nowadays there is danger of disregarding the plain old-fashioned positive virtues, patience. Every great movement has to be a growth. The advocates of equal rights fifty years ago planted in the night. They could not see the results of their work. That was the heritage of another generation, another century. Lucy Stone died before one State in our country had granted equal suffrage. This autumn women in six States of the Union have the privilege of casting their votes for the candidate whom they wish to be President of the United States.

Corporation Notice.

CITY OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Call for Sealed Proposals for Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000) of Street Improvement Bonds of the City of Plainfield, N. J.

Pursuant to resolutions adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, N. J., at a regular meeting thereof held August 5, 1912, and duly approved by the Mayor, notice is hereby given that Tuesday, the third day of September, 1912, at eight o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., the Common Council of the City will receive and open sealed proposals for the purchase of Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000) of Street Improvement Bonds called for by the said resolutions and the other resolutions and ordinance therein referred to.

The Street Improvement Bonds referred to are in the denominations of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, and will bear date as of the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and be payable as follows: July 1, 1922, with the option to the City to redeem and pay off the said bonds or any one or more of them at any time after one year from the date thereof and before three years from the date thereof, on giving personal notice to said holders of said bonds or thirty days' notice by advertisement in the official newspapers of the City of the intention to make such redemption or payment. Said bonds will bear interest at the rate of five per centum (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually. Principal and interest will be payable in gold coin of the U. S. of the present standard of weight and fineness at the office of the City Treasurer in said City. The forms of both bonds and coupons are on file in the office of the City Clerk and there open to inspection by bidders. The Bonds will be delivered to the purchaser at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Plainfield, N. J., on Thursday, September 12th, 1912, at eleven o'clock a. m.

A certified check for two per cent (2%) of the face value of the bonds bid for, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield, N. J., must accompany each bid. All such checks except the checks of the party or parties whose bids shall be accepted will be promptly returned by the City Treasurer. If all bids are rejected, all checks will be returned. All proposals for bids must be submitted in the forms of proposals especially prepared for that purpose, copies of which may be obtained from the City Clerk.

The bonds will be engraved under the supervision and certified as to genuineness by the Columbia-Knickerbocker Trust Company, of New York City. Each proposal together with the certified check accompanying the same shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Proposals for Bonds," and addressed "To the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, N. J.," and delivered to the Common Council at the time and place specified in this advertisement.

No bid for less than par and accrued interest will be accepted.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council, together with that of waiving any informalities or defects.

At the time and place appointed, viz. Thursday, the 12th day of September, 1912, at eight o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the bids or sealed proposals and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Common Council.

J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.

SIGN BRIGGS' PETITION; BROWNING'S IS FILED

Trenton, Aug. 14.—Petitions were placed in circulation in Mercer county Monday in behalf of United States Senator Frank O. Briggs, who is seeking the indorsement of his party under the preferential primary plan.

There was no difficulty in obtaining signatures and within a few hours friends of Senator Briggs had plenty of signers to insure the printing of his name on the primary ballots.

In this city, particularly, Republicans volunteered to sign the petitions without apparent regard to the particular wing of the party with which they have affiliated themselves. Many of the volunteers are men who have been actively identified with the third party movement, but who, nevertheless, refuse to have themselves read out of the party on that account. In Morris county 1,500 signatures have already been secured to petitions indorsing Briggs.

By filing a petition with the secretary of State Monday afternoon, Representative William J. Browning, of Camden, became a formal candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the First District. Mr. Browning, who for many years was chief clerk of the House of Representatives, was elected to succeed the late Representative Harry C. Loudenslager, who died August 12, 1911.

ACTION ON COMPLAINT AGAINST SHAM BATTLE

New Providence, Aug. 14.—Remonstrance against the actions of Companies C, J, K, and L, of the First Regiment, National Guard, during a sham battle at Murray Hill, Sunday, July 28, was made at a meeting of the Borough Council by Rev. W. A. L. Jett, rector of St. Luke's Reformed Episcopal Mission. The Council instructed the clerk to write to the adjutant-general that while the borough would gladly welcome the National Guard, religious and property rights must be protected.

Mr. Jett said that the soldiers deliberately invaded the church property and kept up such a continuous fire that service had to be discontinued. The rector stated that he was compelled to telephone to the borough recorder for protection.

The clergyman added that he had 152 signatures to a petition to the adjutant-general against "such lawlessness."

Councilman William B. Clark said he was sorry the church services had been disturbed. He added, however, that while his residence is directly opposite the ground where the companies camped at Murray Hill, he found the soldiers not annoying. He said that, on the contrary, he was impressed by the discipline maintained. Mr. Clark stated he had heard Major Crocker warning the soldiers that they must protect private property.

Collector Arthur C. Doty reported a balance of $2,138.80. The chairman of the road committee reported that there had been sprinkled on the borough roads 3,600 gallons of oil and it had given general satisfaction.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

While much good work has been done in the way of sign posting, there is still a wide field for its continuance, particularly to South Jersey. It is pretty hard for a motorist to get off the route going to Asbury from this section, but beyond that point and along much of the adjacent country directing signs are very much needed.

The use to which the automobile is being put these days in carrying people to big events was well demonstrated recently at the Wilson notification at Sea Girt. It is no exaggeration to say that the majority of the more than 6,000 people present went there in motor cars. The lawn surrounding the "Little White House" was used as a parking space for the cars, as well as the clots adjacent, and they covered a wide territory. The occasion was an opportunity for an enjoyable trip under ideal conditions to a country rich in its summer dress.

Two new records for country roads were made by Barney Oldfield Saturday. Oldfield drove a mile in 41 4-5 seconds, which is a second and a half less than the mark set at Wildwood. Oldfields' other mark was 18 1-5 seconds for half a mile. Driver Dritch drove a 300-inch car a mile in 46 2-5 seconds, which is a record for this class of car.

With a run of seventy and three-tenths miles yesterday, from Bardstown, the Glidden pathfinding car for the 1912 tour route reached Cave City, Ky., last night, giving the car a total official distance of 562 miles in five and one-half days' travel. The run carried the pathfinding party over the roads which two years ago gave the Glidden tourists so much trouble. Much of the terrible roads of two years ago was found improved. On the journey a side trip was added to the route, the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln was visited, the cabin of Lincoln being contained in a magnificent marble building. The tourists will today make Mammoth Cave, which will be a night stop for the tour, providing accommodations can be secured; if not the cave will be cut out and the tourists will spend the night at Bowling Green, thirty miles from there.

Upon learning that David Bruce-Brown, twice winner of the Grand Prize race, had challenged Georges Boillet, winner of the last French Grand Pix, to a match race, on any sort of a course in this country, officials of the new Metropolitan Motor Speedway, which is now in course of construction on the Newark Meadows, immediately made a bid for this match. The inducements are so alluring that the Frenchman, who will shortly receive the formal offer in France, can hardly afford to refuse. A prize of $25,000 is offered by the Speedway Association for the winner.

Motorists traveling between Newark and Elizabeth are complaining about the condition of the roads between the two cities. Elizabeth avenue is torn up, and is being repaired, while the same conditions prevail on Frelinghuysen avenue in Elizabeth. The latter road is the better of the two just now. The stretch from Astor street, in Newark, almost to North Broad street, in Elizabeth, is in excellent condition. Just before entering Elizabeth, however, the road is torn up, and it is necessary to take to the car tracks.

In Elizabeth, Westfield avenue is also torn up and almost impassable. Tourists are advised to continue down Broad street, in Elizabeth, passing under the viaduct where the Pennsylvania and Central railroads cross overhead, to Rahway avenue, and turn right on the latter thoroughfare until connection is made with St. George avenue.

The remainder of the road to the shore resorts is in excellent condition, and no finer trips can be taken at this season. The "inland route," too, by way of Freehold and Lakewood, is in fine shape, especially the gravel roads of the central part of the State, which are now better than they have been in a long time.

BUILDING CODE BLOCKS NEW "MOVIE" SCHEME

Negotiations were opened a few days ago by Walter Graves, of Rahway, for the leasing of the Codington building near Nagle's pharmacy on West Front street as a moivng picture house. When plans of the contemplated alternations were submitted for approval to Building Inspector Doane he pointed out that under the provisions of the new code such houses must be absolutely fireproof with sufficient number of exits and fire escapes. As this meant a considerable outlay, in fact the tearing down of the building and the erection of a new one, Mr. Graves has abandoned that plan. There is some talk of his purchasing a lot centrally situated and building a suitable structure. That plan would be cheaper than the other.

Mr. Graves runs a number of "movies" in different towns throughout the State with much success. It is his conviction that the Plainfield venture would pay well.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Saturday would be a good day to raise that Central New Jersey League pennant on the Oval.

The Bound Brook aggregation would make pretty fair substitutes for the St. Louis team and Manager Dorflinger really does look something like Jawn McGraw. But Charlie Newhouse is too good looking for anything in the National League, so we will have to let him be the master of ceremonies on that day.

Frederickson says there will have to be some kind of a ceremony befitting the rapid decline of the opposing hitsmith's batting averages on that day, anyway.

It is now reported that Newhouse has sent Slocum to the seashore to rest up for Saturday's battle. Pretty soft that. Slocum left yesterday afternoon, bag and baggage, and will not show his face in this burg again until Saturday afternoon.

The race for the Plainfield Daily Press cup in the Manufacturers' League has just about narrowed down to the R. G. E. combination, and they are generally conceded as sure winners at this time.

Spicers' and the Public Service aggregation will be the preliminary attraction on Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon.

This will add to the already long list of attractions carded for Randolph road Saturday afternoon.

Everyone will probably be headed in that direction, as the two games on the oval will be hot ones and then there will be those Scotchmen performing on the adjoining lot.

Spicers' still have a chance to finish in third place by taking this game, and Manager Thompson says his charges will fight to a finish.

WHITAKER DEFENDS THE CRAWL STROKE

Former Plainfielder, Now Connected With the Missouri A. C., Favors Racing Style.

Thomas S. Whitaker, formerly physical director of the local Y. M. C. A., is a staunch defender of the crawl stroke as a racing means of propulsion in the water and in regard to the adverse criticism of the style Whitaker has the following to say:

"It is only within the last five years that attention has been called to the crawl, yet now all of the short distance records and many of the middle and long distance marks were established by users of that stroke. In the crawl the body is kept as close to the surface as possible, and the resistance is therefore reduced to a minimum."

He declares that it is a method par excellence in sprints and that it is slowing but surely supplanting the trudgeon in distance races. Whitaker will be remembered by Plainfielders as a hearty advocate of all water sports and was himself one of the finest swimmers in the country a few years ago. He has several championship medals, one of them for the superiority in the State of Pennsylvania. He was for a number of years connected with the Philadelphia athletic club before coming to this city and after leaving here he took a position as swimming instructor in the University of Pennsylvania summer school.

Whitaker is at present connected with the Missouri A. C., at St. Louis, and has charge of all the aquatic work of that club. When he was in Plainfield he started a crawl stroke craze which still lingers and many of those who received instructions under him are winning laurels now. Whitaker attracted widespread attention at Asbury Park while he was connected with the Plainfield association when he rescued an 180 pound man in the surf at that resort.

SIMPLE EXPLANATION OF THE CURVING BALL

New York, Aug. 14.—The "why" of a baseball curve should no longer be a mystery, at least to the students of the Columbia University Summer School. In a lecture on the "Science of Baseball Curves" last night Professor W. S. Franklin explained it all as follows:

"The whole secret of a curved ball lies in the relation of the pressure to the velocity and vice versa, each ball creating its own pressure by the velocity and the spin that the pitcher gives it as it leaves his hand.

"Daniel Bernouilli, a Swiss physicist, who died in 1782, was the man who discovered the principle. He was observing a stream of water that flowed through wide pools and narrowed shoals. In the pools he soon found that the pressure was very great, while the velocity was almost nothing; in the shoals he saw that the velocity was very swift, while the pressure had almost disappeared.

"This is the principle that governs the flight and curve of a ball. If the ball sails straight through the air with no spin the air is pushed aside equally in all directions and the ball is directly under the control of gravity so far as its curve is concerned and it soon falls to the ground. Whereas, if the front of the ball is given a downward spin there is in addition to the straight forcing aside of the air a circulation motion of the air around the ball. This motion, being over and then under the ball, tends to increase the speed with which the air passes beneath the ball and retards it above the ball."

Mrs. Robert W. Scott and family, of West Third street, are spending a few days at the home of her mother in South Bound Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Slocum and family, of Central avenue, are spending a two weeks' vacation at Avon.

HOW DUNELLEN IS PLAYING BALL

Manager Bogardus' Charges Have Won Eleven Out of Sixteen Contests.

DIXON SHINING LIGHT

He Leads Both at the Bat and in the Field—Team Batting and Fielding In Grand Style—Wolfe to Join the Team at Raritan Saturday.

Bob Bogardus and his Dunellen clan have been ripping things up around that burg during the past season and the team this year is one of the best that ever played the game under the Dunellen name. The team average shows that sixteen games have been played and eleven of these have resulted in voctories. The percentage of games won is .687 and but five games have been lost. Among thse were the Plainfield contest, one with Raritan, one with Bound Brook, one with High Bridge and a ten inning tussel with the Rahway ball tossers. The Bound Brook beating is even up now, however, as the Dunellenites have also scored a win over this crowd and the decisive game is now pending. Bogardus will take his team to Raritan next Saturday afternoon and try to take another from the nine of that place. His lineup will be strengthened by the addition of Wolfe, the heavy hitting outfielder from Somerville. The season's schedule up to this time is as follows:

Dunellen 1, Cranford 0 (13 innings).
Dunellen 21, Perth Amboy 5.
Raritan 5, Dunellen 2.
Dunellen 7, Catholic Club 2.
Dunellen 2, Cranford 0.
Dunellen 6, Bound Brook 1.
Bound Brook 4, Dunellen 3.
High Bridge 7, Dunellen 0.
Dunellen 10, C. R. R. of N. J. 3.
Rahway 5, Dunellen 4.
Dunellen 8, Westfield 6.
Dunellen 8, Royal Giants 4.
Plainfield 6, Dunellen 3.
Dunellen 12, Cranford 3.

The batting averages of the nine show that Dixon is still leading with a grand total of .352 in the fourteen contests in which he has played. Captain Britt Martin is a close second with an average of .313, and the rest of the team are all wielding the willow above the .200 mark. Sixteen games have been played by the team and in the sixteen contests tre Dunellenites have pounded out a total of 143 safe wallops for a team percentage of .273. Three base hits have been made by McLaughlin, Coyle, Schott and Dixon who has four to his credit. Martin has made five two baggers. Schott and Dodwell each one. The batting averages of the individual members are as follows:

	G.	A.B.	H.	P.C.
Dixon	14	54	19	.352
Martin	16	67	21	.313
Barnes	16	67	19	.286
Giddes	12	43	12	.279
Schott	15	55	15	.273
McLaughlin	14	59	16	.271
Dodwell	15	51	13	.255
Elliott	16	60	14	.233
Coyle	15	65	13	.200
Team		521	142	.273

Dixon also leads in the fielding department of the game with a percentage of .973. All the rest of the team is fielding above the .900 mark with the exception of Bill Coyle, who plays the shortstop position. His average of .816 is exceptionally good for his position, however, as it is the hardest fielding position on the team to play. The indivdual fielding averages are as follows:

	PO.	A.	E.	PC.
Dixon, c.	91	18	3	.973
Barnes, 1b.	162	5	6	.965
Dodwell, cf., 3b.	22	1	1	.958
Schott, lf.	21	1	1	.956
Giddes, 3b.	25	17	2	.954

SOMERVILLE TO SEE ALL-STAR MFG. NINE

Managers Have Picked the Best Material Available to Meet K. of C.

An all star team from the Manufacturers' Baseball League of this city, will journey over to Riverside Park, Sunday afternoon, to cross bats with the fast Knights of Columbus ball players, of Somerville. A hard battle is looked for by the Plainfield stars as the Knights are playing some of the best semi-professional teams in this section and has a team of some of the best ball players who are playing the game in these parts. Eddie Kraft will oppose the locals on the mound and Jack Torpey will do the backstop work. Both of these men are old leaguers and are well known to baseball enthusiasts.

The managers of the all star aggregation are trying to get a team of the best available material together and there is so much of it to pick from in this organization that they have had their work cut out for them. Although the lineup has not been definitely decided upon, Jimmy Montross, who is considered as one of the fastest all around players in the league, will occupy either the mound or the initial sack. George Conover, who ranks among the leaders with the stick in this organization, and has shown that he can twirl the pill, will probably be given one of the bases to cantor around Harry Van Zandt, Conover's battery partner, will be given a chance on the mound and in the event that he plays, Conover will do the catching. The rest of the lineup will be composed of Billy O'Loughlin, the captain of the Spicer aggregation; Dixon, of the Saurer team, "Nuts" Jaeger, of the Spicers; Buckley, of the Saurers; Eddie Montross, of the Public Service; Jim Scott, of the Spicers, and A. C. Jaeger, also of the Spicers.

ATHLETE RETURNS HOME.

Westervelt Ashmead, the long distance runner from Tarrytown, N. Y., who has been visiting William E. McClymont, of Woodbine avenue, has returned to his home in order to get into condition for the Scottish Clan field and track meet to be held on Parker Field next Saturday. He is a member of a noted athletic club in Tarrytown and although he did some training and roadwork while in Plainfield, he will put the final touches on under the supervision of the club's trainer.

THREE GRAND REVIEWS OF THE U. S. NAVAL FORCE

Will Be Held at New York, San Francisco and Manila Simultaneously.

The entire naval force of the United States will be assembled in three grand reviews held simultaneously on Oct. 14 and 15 at New York, San Francisco and Manila. The mobilization will be much like the one held last year on the first days of November, which was the first of its kind in the history of the United States navy.

According to present plans, President Taft will review the Atlantic fleet, assembled at New York, as will also Secretary of the Navy Meyer. Diplomatic officers and other notables will be invited to attend the review at New York.

The assemblage of ships will be considerably larger at New York in the coming review than was the one of last year. It is now expected that about 120 vessels will be in formation on the Hudson river opposite the city. This number will include not only the battleship fleet, but also the auxiliaries, the reserve fleets and the submarines.

Notable additions will be the 26,000 ton Dreadnoughts Wyoming and Arkansas.

About fifty vessels will take part in the review at San Francisco and twenty at the review at Manila. Rear Admiral Osterhaus will be in command at New York, Rear Admiral Southerland at San Francisco and Rear Admiral Nicholson at Manila.

The plans for the review at Manila are subject to change owing to the unsettled state of affairs in China. The general plans for this year's review were conceived by Secretary of the Navy Meyer, who was responsible for the review of last year.

SCOOP MAKES A SEASHORE CALL ON GLADYS

The Square Pot gives heat—you don't have to extract it

It cannot choke or clog with ashes, as the square bottom dumps the ashes evenly over the grates—they cannot cling to the sides or smother the fire. The poker, too, is obsolete—a slight turn of the grates empties the Square

Fire Pot of all ashes—the cutting bar breaks up all clinkers.

The Square Pot is clean, economical and easy to adjust—the operation is simple and is all accomplished from the outside—you need not put a finger inside the door.

BECKER BANKED MANY THOUSANDS

Charged He Owes Webber Money For Murder.

HAD AGREED TO PAY $1,000

Webber Tried In Vain to Collect It. Whitman Says From What Information He Has at Hand Accused Police Lieutenant Accumulated $200,000 In Cash.

New York, Aug. 14.—In ten months Lieutenant Charles Becker, indicted for the murder of the gambler Herman Rosenthal, deposited in one bank alone $30,115. That was the evidence furnished by bank officials to the grand jury. Becker's salary was $2,250 a year.

There are other records supplied to the district attorney by bank officials concerning Lieutenant Becker's precautions against a rainy day. There is now proof that while the graft was good he made these deposits in four banks: April, 1912, Lincoln Trust company, $1,500; May, 1912, West Side Savings bank, $3,000; April, 1912, Empire City Savings bank, $3,500; November, 1911, Corn Exchange bank, $20,615.

And besides these accounts obtained from bank ledgers, the district attorney, through the intelligent work of his assistants, has information that Lieutenant Becker has at least five other bank accounts in Manhattan alone, and that Becker's total cash savings approximate $200,000.

Becker's money and the use he made of it was the central feature of the developments as to the lieutenant's part in the blackmailing of lawbreakers and in the murder of Rosenthal.

After the district attorney had secured the records of the bank accounts the grand jury heard from Jack Rose and "Bridgie" Webber that it was Becker's cash that went to pay the pistol men who shot down Rosenthal.

Becker Hasn't Paid Webber.

Before the murder Becker owed Webber $500. Less than one hour after Rosenthal was murdered he told "Bridgie" Webber in front of the Murray Hill baths in the presence of Rose and with Jack Sullivan standing by that he hadn't much money with him, and he ordered Webber to give Rose or Schepps $1,000 "so that the boys could get out of town in a hurry.

He told Webber that he would pay him the whole $1,500 the next day. Webber sent Jack Sullivan three times to get the money from Becker, but the lieutenant dodged payment, and Webber never got his money.

Having scrutinized and analyzed the profits of blackmail as exemplified in Becker's bank accounts, the district attorney examined with much interest a tabulation he secured from William J. Burns and from the gamblers as to assessments and rates of blackmail, the financial details of the gathering of what Rose says was $2,400,000 in Manhattan alone.

Illegal Resorts Graded.

This tabulation reveals that there was a complete and systematic sliding scale of collections from big and little gambling houses, from large and small disorderly houses and other unsavory resorts, from stuss and crap games, from poker rooms, from pool rooms and even from the dice throwing privilege in saloons and cigar stores. Nothing was too big for the appetite of the grafters, nothing too small for their greed.

The big gambling houses—the elaborately furnished art galleries maintained by the blue ribbon gentry—paid $1,000 a month. The first class pool rooms, with a wide telephone patronage as well as a handsome cash play, contributed $600 a month. And on down through levels of gambling from top to bottom the grafters worked their perfected system, even to blackmailing the cheap and fly by night crap games at the rate of $60 a week.

KILL NEGRO SEIZED IN COURT

Georgia Mob Overpowers Officials After Man Receives Short Sentence.

Columbus, Ga., Aug. 14.—Holding up officials in the courthouse, a mob of about forty men took T. Z. Cotton, alias T. Z. McElhenny, a sixteen-year-old negro, just sentenced, and lynched him just beyond the city limits. The negro was accused of killing Cedron Land, a white boy, near town two months ago.

The court guards were overpowered a few minutes after Cotton had been sentenced to three years in prison. A jury had just brought in a verdict of "guilty of unlawful manslaughter."

POPULISTS SAID TO FAVOR ROOSEVELT.

Avoid Nominations For National Ticket, However.

St. Louis, Aug. 14.—Nominations for president and vice president were avoided by the Populist national convention, in session here. Delegates were advised that they may vote for any candidate and remain in good standing with the People's party. Although no mention was made of any party other than the Populists, the Roosevelt Progressives were favored in all the action.

It was announced the Progressives had adopted in their platform eighteen planks of the Populist platform, that the Democrats had appropriated six and the regular (Taft) Republicans four, leaving only six unappropriated. Delegates were urged to take the various parties' platforms into consideration in voting, and in this manner Roosevelt was favored. Wilson fusionists were given the cold shoulder by the convention. A delegation of six Nebraska fusionists appeared at the convention headquarters, but were refused admittance. They were headed by Thomas H. Tibbles of Omaha.

"Most of the Populist workers will vote for Roosevelt, a few will be for Wilson and almost none for Taft," said W. W. Wiley of Topeka, one of the old guard of Populists attending the convention.

STRONGLY URGES DEATH PENALTY

Brother of Murdered Woman Replies to Mrs. Clark.

THINKS PUNISHMENT RIGHT

Brother of Mrs. Mary Hall, Who Was Murdered at Croton Lake, N. Y., by Seven Men, Who Have Been Executed, Differs With Speaker's Wife.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 14.—G. W. Eigenrauch of Hudson City, brother of Mrs. Mary Hall, who was murdered at Croton Lake, N. Y., by the seven men who were executed at Sing Sing, N. Y., does not agree with Mrs. Champ Clark as to the proper disposition of murderers. He says:

"As a brother to the deceased Mrs. Hall I beg to differ greatly on the question of capital punishment from Mrs. Clark.

"In reply to Mrs. Clark's quotation from Bulwer Lytton that 'the worst use you can put a man to is to hang him' and her opposition to 'taking a life which you cannot give' I beg to ask could these scoundrels who so brutally murdered my sister give a human life?

"In my estimation Mrs. Clark does not consider this very important fact. Furthermore, Mrs. Clark's plan of placing these men to work on the public roads and parks would mean the abolition of capital punishment, which at the same time would mean an invitation to greater crime in this country.

"There are hundreds of this class of criminals at the present time that, should capital punishment be abolished, would long for an opportunity whereby they could not only obtain revenge and money, but, in fact, anything that may stand in their way.

"While I am not exactly in favor of capital punishment, I do think that were some of the tortures of the sixteenth century brought back to existence for a few years crime would be entirely abolished.

"I feel surprised to hear remarks of this kind made by a thoroughly educated American, born under the stars and stripes.

"I further trust that Mrs. Clark will never lose any of her dear beloved ones in a like manner, never know the anguish borne by those surviving."

STOPS HEARING FOR DRINKS.

Referee Invites Everybody Out, Then Case Goes On.

New Brunswick, N. J., Aug. 14.—Declaring an intermission in a hearing in bankruptcy here, Referee Captain James Parker of the United States district court surprised his audience, consisting of the bankrupt, lawyers, reporters and spectators to the number of about a dozen, with an invitation to come out and have a drink.

"If you want a drink, now's your time," said the Captain as he started for the door. The response was generous. In a few minutes the captain and his guests reappeared, apparently much refreshed, and resumed business.

Captain Parker is an old naval officer, having commanded gunboats in both the Mexican and civil wars. He was associated with Isidor Rayner, now United States senator from Maryland, as counsel for Rear Admiral W. S. Schley when the latter was court martialed in 1901.

AUTOMOBILE KILLS BOY.

While Playing Lad Runs Directly Into Machine—Dies From Fractured Skull.

Long Branch, N. J., Aug. 14.—Wilber Emmons, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Emmons, was struck by an automobile and died four hours later of a fractured skull at the Monmouth Memorial hospital. The boy was playing in front of his home and ran directly in front of the machine driven by Edward L. Blaisdell, an electrician. The latter, to avoid striking the boy, ran his machine up on the embankment.

The front part of the machine hit the little fellow. His mother heard his cries and hastened out to see the unconscious lad taken away to the hospital. Mr. Blaisdell put his car into service and remained at the hospital till the boy died. Wilbur was an only child.

HUNGRY SOLDIER DESERTS.

New Jersey Guardsman, Sick of Field, Arrested at Dinner Table.

East Orange, N. J., Aug. 14.—The war game proved too strenuous for Walter Atterbury, twenty-three years old, of 34 North Sixteenth street, this city, a private in the Fifth regiment, N. G. N. J. Going without anything to eat from Friday until Sunday noon was more than he felt he could stand, so he lit out and got home. A telegram from his commander, Captain Lamble, notified the local police.

Detective Wendel found Atterbury making up for lost time at the dinner table.

Town Stops Telephoning.

Checotah, Okla., Aug. 14.—All the telephone receivers in town are down as a protest against what the patrons of the telephone company characterize as poor service. The citizens assert that they will not allow the phones to be used until improvements in the service are made.

BULLY SHOES AT $1 A PAIR

EVERYBODY'S BUYING THEM

WOMEN'S, MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S

PUMPS, OXFORDS AND SHOES

Are Being Gobbled Up In Two, Three, Four and Five Pair Lots By Women Who Know Values When They See Them.

This round up of factory surplus stocks brought up a lot of mighty good shoes to put into this sale at $1 a pair. There hasn't been any sale like it. People never got such value at $1 a pair.

When you come to think that none of these shoes would sell for less than $1.50, and that many are worth $2 and $3, and some as much as $3.50, you will see that the proposition is a mighty fine one.

The fact that the collection is so large and so varied, and the shoes are so really dependable, makes it easy to sell them. No wonder the crowds continue day after day with the selling as big one day as the day before.

These in the collection—

Women's Gunmetal Oxfords, Pumps and Ankle Strap Pumps, with welt soles, worth $2 to $3.50.

Women's Oxfords of Tan and Black Vici Kid, worth $2 and $2.50.

Misses' Pumps of Patent Leather and Gunmetal, with low heels, and Button and Lace Shoes of Patent Leather and Gunmetal, good for dress or service, worth $1.50 to $2.50.

Women's High Shoes of Vici Kid and Patent Leather, in both button and lace styles, with welt and turned soles, worth $2 to $3.50.

Notifying The Presidential Candidates

CUSTOMS, however absurd or useless, have a way of perpetuating themselves. Presidential candidates are still notified of their nomination many days after the adjournment of the conventions and when the fact is already known to practically every man, woman and child in the land.

The notification of a presidential candidate is done by a committee headed by the permanent chairman of the convention that nominated him. The temporary chairman of the convention heads the committee that notifies the vice presidential candidate. When the permanent and the temporary chairmen are identical, as was the case in this year's Republican convention, then the permanent chairman usually designates some one to act for him at the notification of the vice president.

President Taft was notified before about 500 Republican leaders who had gathered at the White House from all parts of the country. The ceremonies, which were held in the east room, were as informal as possible.

The president took his place on an improvised speaker's stand, accompanied by Senator Root, the Marine band playing "Hail to the Chief." Moving picture men had been given liberal privileges, and every step of the proceedings was pictured. All the nation will consequently have an opportunity to view the event. This was the first time a moving picture has ever been taken of any function in the White House. It was also the first time in many years that a presidential candidate was notified of his nomination in the White House.

Woodrow Wilson was notified amid the cheers of some 6,000 persons, the honking of about 500 automobile horns, the intermittent blare of a brass band and the steady, rapid fire of detonations of threescore cameras of all kinds. He stood on the veranda of the "Little White House," as his summer home at Sea Girt, N. J., is called, flanked by distinguished Democrats from all parts of the country. Senator Elect Ollie James, chairman of the notification committee, did the honors. The committeemen and their guests occupied a roped off space. Most of the thousands stood as close to the ropes as they could; others stood back farther, sat on camp stools or stood on boxes. The general color scheme was heightened by the bright summer dresses of the women and by flags and banners.

MRS. ROBERT H. ELDER.

She Was a Delegate From New York to the Progressive Convention.

Up to this year women who attended national political conventions have gone merely as wives and daughters of delegates. Nineteen hundred and twelve, however, marks a new era in politics, and the feminine hearts beat proudly under delegates' buttons.

One of the delegates to the Progressive party convention in Chicago was

MRS. ROBERT H. ELDER.

Mrs. Robert H. Elder of New York. She is the wife of a prominent lawyer who has been an assistant district attorney.

Mrs. Elder was elated at taking part in the convention. She says it is glorious to be in politics.

"The new party's stand for woman suffrage is the chief reason I lean to it," said Mrs. Elder. "I have always been a Democrat, like my husband, but I have always been a progressive, too, and when the new party declared for woman suffrage I couldn't see what else I could do but line up for it. I got tired of waiting for the old parties to recognize women."

Mrs. Elder declares that there will be a woman's campaign committee in every state to work for the Progressive candidates.

DR. T. J. HEADLEE.

He Has Been Invited to Become State Entomologist of New Jersey.

Dr. T. J. Headlee, state entomologist and head of that department at the Kansas Agricultural college, has been offered the position of state entomologist of New Jersey at a considerable increase of salary and between three and four times as much money with which to work as he now has. This fund includes $25,000 for mosquito extermination. Dr. Headlee is offered the position made vacant by the death of John B. Smith, one of the foremost entomologists of the country. He has not determined whether he will accept.

Dr. Headlee is a graduate of the University of Indiana, where he got the degree of A. B. in 1902 and the degree of A. M. the following year. He took graduate work in entomology in Cornell university in 1904-5 and in 1906 was given the degree of Ph. D. He was assistant entomologist in 1906 and 1907 in the New Hampshire agricultural experiment station and then associate entomologist. He became professor of entomology in the Kansas Agricultural college late in 1907.

Dr. Headlee is a native of Indiana, is about forty years old, married and has two children. In addition to his field work and his teaching he has conducted a laboratory course invaluable in conjunction with the theoretical side of his science. His bulletin work has been particularly popular with farmers as well as with men of science. It includes treatises on the prairie ant, insects injurious to alfalfa, green bug, chinch bug, Hessian fly, greater wheat straw worm, corn ear worm, etc.

Sale of Lands for Unpaid Taxes

Collector's Office, City of Plainfield, New Jersey.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber, the Collector of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, pursuant to the authority of the statute in such case made and provided, will on at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the said Collector's office, No. 151 North Avenue, in said city, expose for sale and sell the several tracts or parcels of land hereinafter specified, or any part or parts thereof severally sufficient for the purpose, on which taxes for the year nineteen hundred and eleven remain in arrears, to such person or persons as will purchase the same for the shortest term and pay the tax lien thereon, including interest and costs of sale, or in fee where no one will bid for a shorter term.

This sale is made under the provisions of the act of the Legislature of this State, entitled: "An Act for the assessment and collection of taxes," approved April 8, 1903, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

Further particulars of the land to be sold, as shown on the City records, may be obtained at the office of the subscriber any week day prior to the day of sale, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., except holidays and Saturdays, and on Saturdays between 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

The following is a list of the several tracts and parcels of lands to be sold, which shows the names of the delinquents, the supposed owners thereof as the names of the delinquent owners appear on the books of the taxing district, together with a statement of the wards of the city wherein said lands are respectively situated, and the street in which each lot is situated, the block and lot number of each lot as they appear on the Official Assessment Maps of the City of Plainfield, on file in the office of the City Collector, and the amount due from each of the said lots respectively. To the amount due on each lot and parcel as hereinafter designated, there will be added interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum from the twentieth day of December, 1913, to the day of sale, and the fees provided by said act of the Legislature, viz.: for preparing and publishing notices of sale twenty-five cents for each parcel of land advertised; and for selling twenty-five cents for each parcel sold; and for each certificate of sale, fifty cents, besides necessary disbursements for printing, postage, affidavits and acknowledgements, which are hereby estimated at three dollars for each item of arrearage, and the City Clerk's fee for recording report, ten cents for each parcel of land sold, and all said fees and expenses shall form part of the tax lien and be paid by the purchaser at the tax sale.

COUNCIL GETS PROTEST ABOUT ALLEGED NUISANCE

Elizabeth, Aug. 14.—The law committee of City Council yesterday gave a hearing on the petition of residents in the neighborhood of Second street and Port avenue, for abatement of the alleged nuisance at the plant of Kaufman & Sons, junk dealers. The signers of the petition attended the hearing and declared that an apparatus in use at the plant for crushing scrap iron had caused plaster to fall and windows to be broken in nearby houses. They also said that the noise of the apparatus was annoying.

Counsel for the firm took the position that if there was any nuisance, it was a private one, and not subject to the jurisdiction of City Council. The committee will make a report at a meeting of the Council tomorrow night.

ROSELLE BOROUGH PLANS FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Roselle Park, Aug. 14.—The general celebration to be held in this borough on Saturday, August 31, promises to be a big affair. The celebration was arranged by the citizens of the borough, and an exceptionally pleasing program has been arranged by the committee. One feature of the celebration will be the parade of the various fraternal societies of the borough. It is expected that every fraternal society in the borough will participate in this parade, for which two prizes will be offered. One prize of $10 will go to the society having the largest number of bona fide members in parade, while a prize of $5 will go to the society making the best showing in appearance and attractiveness.

The general program for the day will be as follows:

11 a. m., garden produce exhibition; 12 noon, breaking ground for new school in Lorraine section; 2 p. m., parade of fraternal society members; 3 to 6 p. m., sports on the High School recreation ground; 7 to 9 p. m., promenade concert; 9 30 p. m., fireworks.

Those in charge of the celebration are the following: W. E. Johnson, president; W. E. Bemnridge, vice president; G. H. Horning, treasurer; John Gazey, secretary. The chairmen of the various committees are as follows: Automobile, E. L. Lillibridge, ex-president of the school board; finance committee, John Gabey; garden committee, W. A. Cole; breaking ground committee, Robert Gordon; fraternal parade, John Gazey; sports committee, W. T. Leonard; promenade concert, John Gazey; fireworks committee, Joseph Ricciielli; program committee, George Smabey.

SCOTTISH MEET HERE SATURDAY

HIGHLAND EVENTS RULE

Line of March For Street Parade—Officials In Charge—Prizes Offered—Many Noted Athletes to Appear.

Entries for the first annual games of the Scottish Clans are beginning to come in fast, and some of the best known athletes will be on hand to contest the various events Saturday afternoon. Several of the contestants will be the same as competed in the Y. M. C. A. meet on July 4, and their fine showing on that date will probably be repeated at the Scotch meet. Prizes have been contributed by nearly every merchant in town, and consist of athletic supplies, wearing apparel, medals and cups. A feature of the affair will be the Highland dancing and bagpipe competition for which a number of gold prizes have been offered. The Walter Scott medal will be awarded to the best dressed Highlander, and as it is one of the prizes always keenly sought for by loyal Scotchmen the competition in that event will be of the closest.

Among those who will appear will be the champion Highland dancer of the world, and he has consented to give a special exhibition of the dance which he makes a specialty of. Carl Tool, the Cranford High School sprinter, who made such a fine showing on July 4, has entered the 100 yard dash and will make the others hustle to get into the running for first place. Herman Rosenson, the crack little short distance runner who created such a sensation by his work in the quarter mile on July 4, has entered the event again, and although there are several other crack miners who have sent in their applications for admittance into the 440 yard run, the consensus of opinion is that they will have to break a record in order to get in ahead of Rosenson. Andrew McDonough, who came in first in the Y. M. C. A. modified marathon a few years ago, will be seen in the three mile run and the 440 yard dash. Edward McCarthy, an all-around athlete competing under the colors of the Yonkers Y. M. C. A., has entered the 100 yard dash, the running broad jump and the running hop, step and jump.

The street parade will start from Robert Murray's store on West Front street and proceed to Park avenue, where it will turn and march direct to the athletic field where the main performance will be held. In addition to the Scottish dancers, bagpipers and representatives present from other clans throughout the State the boy scouts of the First Presbyterian church will be in the line of march in full uniform, and as it will be their first appeearance in public they will add greatly to the demonstration.

Refreshments will be served by the women members of the clan at Parker Field, and committees have been appointed to take charge of the visiting athletes. The officials in charge of the athletic events will be selected from the following: E. C. Ostlin, Charles R. Bostwick, Walter Hetfield, Jr., William Townsend, Leeonce Texier, William G. DeMeza, Allen Miller, George Ballentyne, F. O. Dunning, Sr., C. C. Thompson, Grove P. Hynman, Alvah L. Conant, Harry Marshall, Alexander Milne and Stanley Robins. Charles R. Bostwick is chairman of the field committee and has charge of placing the officials in their various positions. Entries wil be accepted on the field Saturday in order to give those a chance to enter who would otherwise not be able to compete. All the competitors in the open events must be registered athletes, as the meet has been sanctioned and under the regulations of the Amateur Athletic Union only registered athletes can be allowed to compete Registration in this body can be obtained by applying to either E. C. Ostlin at the Y. M. C. A., or Robert Murray, who is promoting the meet. The official photographers are George W. Hayes and Paul R. Collier and they will be the only ones allowed inside the roped area surrounding the track.

ONE MORE CHANCE.

PROTESTS PLAYGROUND ADMISSION CHARGES

Citizen Writes Against Ticket-Selling For Games—Fees Are Needed.

A letter regarding charges for admission to Parker Field, the city playground, and the reply to it follows:

"Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 15, 1912.
"Editors, Daily Press:

"The public has been informed through the columns of the Press and the News, that Parker Field, that splendid playground, which was given to the city for the free use of the people, that no individual or organization could charge an admission fee to it. Yet the announcement comes in regard to the Scottish Clan games to be held next Saturday afternoon, informing the public that an admission fee of twenty-five cents must be paid by all those entering the grounds, twenty-five cents more to enter the grandstand and fifteen cents for children.

"Myself, several friends and no doubt the general public would like to know if this is to be permitted? If you will kindly publish my inquiry and your reply you will confer a favor upon me.

"Yours respectfully,
"F. W. DOWNS, SR.,
"R. F. D. No. 2,
"Plainfield, N. J."

The admission fee charged by the Scottish Clans is perfectly legitimate. When seen this morning, Harry Marshall, a member of the playground commission, said that any organization could get permission to hold a closed affair of this kind and charge admission, as the constitution of the commission may be charged for entrance to the field during eight hours of any one week and of such admission twenty-five per cent. must be turned over to the playground commission as revenue for the upkeep of the field. The Order of Scottish Clans have levied admission fees just as stated in your letter but out of the proceeds they have agreed to turn over one-fourth, or twenty-five per cent. to the commission.

This rule prevails in East Orange, which has the finest athletic field in the State, and many other cities having fields of this kind charge admission to all of the affairs held on it. The money paid out for keeping the field in condition could not be returned in this manner. Mayor Moy stated that the matter was entirely up to the playground commission which has entire control of Parker Field and if they saw fit to allow the Highlanders to use the grounds in a manner as stated above it must have been provided for in the by-laws of the organization. In other words, Mr. Moy put the matter entirely up to the commission and held their decision as final in the manner.

The Scotchmen have gone to considerable expense in bringing their dancers and bag pipers to this city and it is no more than right that they should receive some return for their work. In fact, there will have to be an unusual large number of paid admissions to the field Saturday afternoon in order to cover expenses.

FREEHOLDERS TO ACT ON TWO ISSUES OF BONDS

Elizabeth, Aug. 15 (Special)—The Board of Freeholders will meet this afternoon to receive bids for a large bond issue for the repair of several streets in this city and county which it was recently decided to repave. The board will also vote a bond issue for the bridge account, which has been overdrawn.

After the meeting the board will attend in a body the ceremonies incident to the returning of a flag to this city which was presented to the Fourteenth New Jersey Volunteers in 1861, prior to their departure for the seat of war. The ceremonies will take place on the courthouse steps.

FUNERAL OF JOHN MACKEY.

The funeral service of John Mackey will be held at his late home on Emerson avenue, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Frank Fletcher, of this city, will officiate and the burial will be in Hillside cemetery. Mr. Mackey was not a member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., as stated yesterday. He was identified with Major Anderson Post, before it consolidated with Winfield Scott Post, but he did not continue his membership.

BOOM HETFIELD FOR SURROGATE

Democrats Urge District Judge To Enter Race For County Office.

ECHO OF THE OUTING

Party Will Have a Full and Unadulterated Ticket In the City This Fall — Whisper of Sentiment Against Percy H. Stewart.

Judge Walter L. Hetfield, of this city was boomed for surrogate on the annual outing of the Union County Democrats at Witzel's Grove, College Point, L. I., yesterday, and while he did not consent to enter the race, his many friends are urging him to do so, promising him their full support. The outing was one of the biggest in the history of the county organization and was considered a great success financially and otherwise. It is estimated that there were about 1,500 aboard the Sirius.

The steamer did not reach Elizabethport last night until 11 o'clock, the delay being caused by the boat settling on a mud bank just before it got to the 'Port. It was 1 o'clock this morning when the Plainfielders reached this city. All were thoroughly tired out, but declared they had had a fine time.

Among those on the outing was United States Senator James E. Martine, as well as some of the less prominent Democrats from the county and State. All the Democrats were in high glee over the prospects of success at the coming election. They expressed their confidence in the winning powers of Wilson and Marshall. Being satisfied that the national ticket will win out, considerable attention was devoted to county and State affairs.

Numerous booms were started and everyone seemed anxious to "get in" on the winning ticket. Senator Martine inspired all by his optimistic views of the situation and everyone declared his loyalty to the party and its principles.

Frank J. Shattle, of this city, who recently, according to a well-founded rumor, has joined the Progressive party, was the object of much laughter and jolly which he took good naturedly. As yet there has been no official denial of the fact that Mr. Shattle has left the Democratic party to join the "Bull Moose" organization.

J. V. F. Dilts, of this city, who is seeking the nomination for tax collector on the Democratic ticket, received assurances of support in his contest, and naturally feels elated. There were twenty-five or more petitions in circulation among the Democrats and everyone secured signatures.

One important matter was finally decided yesterday and that was that the party will put a full ticket in the field in Plainfield. There will be a nominee for every office. The fact that Percy H. Stewart is to seek the Mayoralty nomination was well received by many, although it was found that there are some Democrats who favor a "home man" for the office, one who is in Plainfield all the time.

The Democrats reached Witzel's Grove about 4 o'clock and after enjoying a fine dinner, spent the afternoon playing all kinds of games. Some of the leaders of the party accepted the opportunity to get together for a quiet talk concerning the political situation. There were not a few Republicans on the outing and while they did not mix up in the political confab, they fully enjoyed the trip.

DUNELLEN OFFICIALS TALK OVER SEWER PLANS

The sewage commission of Dunellen met with the Council of that place, Tuesday night, and went over the plans as furnished by Mr. Fuller, checking up the relative cost to the various municipalities. It was estimated that Dunellen's share, including the local collecting system would amount to about $81,000, and according to the present plans which call for two pumping stations there would be an additional cost of $4,000.

The members of the Council and Commission decided to co-operate with Plainfield and whatever the city decided would be agreeable to Dunellen so far as the building of the trunk line is concerned.

SKIDDING FRIGHTENS AUTOCAR PASSENGER

Made So Nervous By Slight Accident That Doctor's Services Are Needed.

Mrs. Henry Nischwitz, of Fairview avenue, while returning in an automobile from Newark, last night, received a severe shock when the automobile skidded as the car was passing through Roselle. The accident happened just after the severe shower in this section and the roads were very slippery. It was while turning a corner that the auto skidded.

The car proceeded on to Westfield, where it was found necessary to secure the services of a physician to quiet Mrs. Nischwitz's nerves. Her nervous condition was also aggravated by the severe thunder storm, and it was sometime before she recovered from the effects of the shower and the slight accident to the car. Mrs. Nischwitz was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Richard L. Bellis, and some friends from the borough. In another car ahead was the husband of Mrs. Bellis and her sister, Miss Hattie Nischwitz. They rendered such assistance as was needed.

HYDROAEROPLANES FOR AVIATION EXHIBITION

Birdmen Will Use the Water-and-Air Machine In Making Flights.

Beckwith Havens, who with Lincoln Beachey, will give exhibitions of flying in a Curtiss hydroaeroplane at the Plainfield Driving Park, Friday and Saturday afternoons, August 23-24, has given some wonderful performances as a birdman. By making a flight across Long Island Sound, from Bridgeport to Port Jefferson, with a passenger, he established a new record, this being the first cross-sound flight to be made. This sensational feat was the conclusion of a series of three flights made at Sea Breeze Island during an afternoon, in all of which Havens showed himself to be a complete master of aircraft.

Both Havens and Beachey will give thrilling exhibitions in this city, including many fancy evolutions. They will also carry the mail, if permission can be obtained, and it is believed it can be. Havens, as an extra attraction, will try for the world's altitude record which is now held by Beachey. The flights each day will begin at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. A nominal admission fee will be charged to the park.

THEY'VE ALL LEARNED TO LOVE SUFFRAGISTS

Jersey G. O. P. Follows the Lead of Progressives and Democrats.

Trenton, Aug. 14 (Special)—From present indications women are going to figure strongly in this campaign It was announced today that the Old Guard Republicans are going to make a strong bid for the support of the women in order to help the Taft ticket. This decision follows the action of the New Jersey Progressives in putting a woman suffrage plank in their platform and of the Democratic decision to organize a Woodrow Wilson Women's League, at Sea Girt on Saturday.

The Regular Republican bid for women's influence in Jersey will be under the auspices of the Republican National Committee. The National Committee is backing the Women's National Republican Association, and through this latter organization the movement is to be pushed into this and other States. The plan in this State, it was said today, will be to enlist a number of prominent women who favor Taft and Sherman and form a central organization. With this body as the nucleus and supervising body subordinate branches will be formed in each county. Then the movement will be carried still further and a women's committee selected in each municipality.

GOVERNMENT PAY CHECKS HELD UP

Pensioners and Postoffice Employes In This City Are Affected.

BILLS WEREN'T PASSED

Old Soldiers Worry Over Delay Until Explanation Comes From Washington—Cash of N. Y. Pension Agency At a Low Ebb.

The failure on the part of Congress to pass the appropriation bills, which includes the pensions to old soldiers and the pay of soldiers in the regular army as well as postoffice employes, is felt in this city, where it is learned, there are hundreds of pensioners who have failed to receive their quarterly check from the Government. According to the report from Washington everyone of the eighteen pension agencies are without funds to send out checks. In New York there is less than $100 on hand. The pensioners in Plainfield and vicinity get their checks from the New York agency.

When the pensioners did not get their checks they immediately hunted up the lawyers who had taken their affidavits to learn the reason. Many thought that their papers had been lost in the mail, but the explanation given out at Washington yesterday gives the cause for delay.

It is understood that Congress has agreed to abolish the eighteen pension agencies on and after January 1, 1913, and that after that date pensioners will receive their checks direct from the Pension Department at Washington. It is claimed that this arrangement will compell the hiring of many extra clerks to take care of the business. Some of the congressmen declare that the abolition of these agencies will result in a big saving to the Government. The change has been under consideration for a long time.

POLICE HAVE CHANCE FOR 'POSSUM FEAST

Little Animal Pays a Visit to Headquarters and Is Promptly Caught.

Captain Frederickson was sitting at his desk in the police station in the early hours of the morning today wearily waiting for something to happen. He was listening to the ticking of the recorder as the policemen one after another reported at their boxes when suddenly he had one of the queerest visitors that have ever entered the tsation.

When the day men reported at 6 o'clock this morning and heard the captain tell of how a young gray possum walked in the station house at 3 o'clock this morning, he was greeted with a few remarks such as "Come out of it," "What did you have to drink," "Where were you yesterday," and the like. But the captain said his hairy caller stayed to show that he was not asleep or dreaming. He said, "Follow me, and I'll show it to you."

The men lined up with guns in hand and slowly and cautiously followed the captain to the door. There, in the triangular space included by the corner and the door, was the captain's queer visitor. Captain Frederickson explained that he backed the "beast" into the corner and quickly captured him by throwing back the door.

When "Jack Johnson" (colored) passed the door and saw the young possum he said "Oh, how I'd like to have 'im. I'd feed him up fo' de wintah and den—yum-yum," meaning something to eat.

Mr. Possum is being held for a hearing before Judge DeMeza.

PAY $20 RATHER THAN FORGIVE A NEIGHBOR

Mother and Daughter Choose a Fine In Preference To a Reconciliation.

Rather than shake hands with Angelina Lombardi and become friends, Josephine Angelina and Josephine Paglosi, of St. Mary's avenue, paid a fine of $10 each in the city court this morning. City Judge William G. De Meza did his best to have the defendants shake hands with the complainant and in this he was aided by counsel on both sides, but in vain.

Because of a report circulated, it was claimed, by the complainant, Angelina Lombardi, of Cottage place, regarding the moral conduct of Josephine Angelina's married daughter, a visit was paid by mother and daughter to the home of Lombardi, where a fight took place.

Counsellor J. Henry Crane appeared for Lombardi and Francis J. Blatz represented the defendants. The hearing took a considerable time as the examination had to be conducted through the medium of an interpreter. Angelina Lombardi testified that on July 29 the defendants came to her house in Milton place and asked her what she had been saying about the married daughter, Josephine Paglosi. She replied that she had not said anything. Thereupon the eldest woman attacked her, knocked her down, bit her arm, and jumped on her; her daughter also aided by scratching her on the face and pulling her hair. Other witnesses were examined in support of her statement.

For the defense it was endeavored to be shown that Lombardi made a pass to strike Angelina but the latter got there first with a body blow; then they grappled in strenuous combat; and fell to the floor; that Paglosi had done her best to separate the pair.

BACK TO PLAINFIELD AFTER NINETEEN YEARS' ABSENCE

Dr. Robert W. Anderson, who resided in this city many years ago, where he practiced dentistry, but who has been living in Honolulu, has returned to Plainfield for the first time in nineteen years, and is visiting his son, Francis K. Anderson, of East Second street. The latter was a baby when his father went away, and this is the first time that he has seen him since. Dr. Anderson was married a second time to the daughter of an American, who was the owner of a large plantation in the Hawaiian Islands.

By the second marriage, Dr. Anderson has two children, one of whom will enter Cornell University this fall. Mrs. Anderson and the two children accompanied the doctor on the visit here. They will remain here until fall. It was Dr. Anderson's father, Robert Anderson, who conducted one of the first village stores at East Front street and Watchung avenue. During his visit here he hopes to meet many of his old friends.

FEWER QUESTIONS NOW WHEN YOU WANT TO WED

The new blanks that applicants for marriage licenses must sign contain fewer questions than the old ones did. The applicants now are asked only to state their name and age, their residence, whether or not they are related, whether single, widow or widower, or divorced; if widow, the name of the husband and date and place of his death; if divorced, where, and show the decree.

A remarkable question on the blank is: "Are you an epileptic, or of unsound mind, and are you an inmate of an institution for the insane or indigent?"

The witness must state age and residence; whether or not he or she is intimately acquainted with the applicants and whether there is moral or legal objection to the marriage.

STREET HEARING.

The commissioners of assessment in the matter of opening up and laying out Manson place, McDowell, Halsey and Bergen streets, have met and organized by making E. T. Barrows chairman, William A. Woodruff secretary. Michael Rimmer is the third member of the commission. Arrangements have been made for a public hearing to be held on Tuesday night, August 27, at the Common Council rooms, when the commission will treat with the interested property-owners. The commissioners will assess benefits and damages in connection with the improvements to be made in the streets named.

THUNDER CRASH PROSTRATES MAN

Bolt Strikes Near Newman and Shock Sends Him Into Unconsciousness.

TAFT BANNER WRECKED

House and Tree In Westfield Struck—Storm Sweeps Away to the East and Dunellen Escapes Wind and Rain.

Frank Newman, of Prescott place, was prostrated as the result of a thunderbolt which struck the earth within a short distance from where he was sitting in an automobile on Somerset street yesterday afternoon when a teriffic electric storm passed over the city and vicinity.

Newman, who is employed as a chauffeur for Elston M. French, of 44 Somerset street, had been making some repairs to the machine in the rear of Horace Martin's blacksmith shop on Somerset street. When it started to rain, he and a friend sat in the car to wait for the storm to abate.

A thunderbolt struck within a short distance of the machine. The sudden crash and possibly a small shock sent Newman into unconsciousness. His friend ran to Mr. Martin, who telephoned for the ambulance. Before medical aid arrived, Newman recovered consciousness. Dr. Pittis examined him and said that the sudden crash which undoubtedly struck but a shore distance from the car had caused Newman to faint.

After the ambulance had returned and the physicians had left, Newman had a relapse and fainted again. He was unable to walk and he was taken to his home on Prescott place in a carriage. He could not attend to his duties today.

Nobody has been able to find out where the lightning bolt struck. There are no marks to indicate that the bolt hit in that neighborhood.

The wires of the Public Service corporation were struck during the storm, and a clicking noise in all the telephones throughout the city was noticed. It is believed that the bolt which caused Newman to faint was the one which struck the wires.

The storm, which came on the city very suddenly, darkened the sky for an hour or more and was accompanied by a heavy rainfall and a very strong wind. Before the rain fell the wind dusted along the brick and macadam pavements of the streets, raising great clouds of dust and making walking disagreeable and difficult. The rain fell in torrents and drenched many who were caught without umbrellas or rain coats.

The wind on its sweep down Park avenue tore the Taft banner, erected by the Republican Club, from its moorings near North avenue. Many branches of trees were snapped and blown to the pavements by the heavy gusts.

At Westfield the home of W. H. Sane at 237 Kimball avenue, was struck by lightning. The bolt passed through the attic of the house tearing off many of the shingles. Another bolt struck a tree in front of the home of John Dickson on East Broad street, ripped zig zag pieces of bark from the branches and trunk.

Dunellen escaped the electric storm, which passed to the east of the town.

FINED FOR DRINKING BEER NEAR TUBERCULAR PATIENT

Elizabeth, Aug. 15.—The first prosecution in a campaign started by Louis Richards, health officer, against violations of section twelve of the sanitary code, providing against the spreading of contagious diseases, took place in Police Court yesterday, following the arrest of John McGlyn, of 62 Elizabeth avenue and John Kelly, of New Brunswick. The specific charge was that the two men bought beer Tuesday and took it to the rear of premises at 905 Magnolia avenue, where there is a tubercular patient. The Elizabeth Society for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis complained to the health authorities. Patrick J. Connell, deputy health inspector, arrested the men.

They admitted their guilt in Police Court, telling the court "that it was only a pint." Judge Mahon fined them $2 and costs and imposed an alternative sentence of ten days in jail and then suspended sentence, warning the men of the danger of their actions.

Mr. Richards said later that when men imbibed too freely under such circumstances they were very apt to be careless, hence the danger was very great. He desires the prosecution to serve as a warning to others. Alcoholic beverages are highly injurious, he declared, when partaken of by tuberculosis sufferers, while those who drink promiscuously with or near such victims stand in great danger of contagion.

TELLS WHAT THE DEVIL LOOKS LIKE

Chaloner Has an Accurate Description of Hell.

SATAN IS NAPOLEONIC.

Is of Medium Height and Sits In a Hall of Rubies, Diamonds and Crystal—Former Confederate Officer's Message From the Other World.

John Armstrong Chaloner, famous partly as the author of "Who's loony now?" recently disclosed a message he says he received from the other world.

The message brings "news" of the physical characteristics of the devil and a description of hell that at least has the merit of being unique. The message received by Chaloner comes, he insists, from Thomas Jefferson Miller, a former Confederate officer.

Chaloner was born Chandler and changed his name because of the alleged plot against him by his relatives. He was adjudged insane in New York State, escaped from Bloomingdale asylum and then was declared sane by the Virginia courts.

"Last month," said Chaloner, "I picked up a copy of an English illustrated paper and saw therein an account of a supposed spirit communication with W. T. Stead, who went down on the Titanic. The statement, while essentially puerile, attracted my attention because the late Professor William James had informed me at one time that I was a medium, although I do not believe in spiritualism."

"Graphic Automatism"

Chaloner said that he had invoked his art of "graphic automatism" and had managed to get in touch with the spirit of Thomas Jefferson Miller, with whom he had been very friendly when Miller was of this world.

He continued:

"Miller or whatever force it was immediately replied through my hand and wrote a lengthy statement, answering my queries and giving much information in regard to his present abode, which, he said, was hell temporarily."

Here the medium read a sixteen page typewritten statement giving in full the interview with the disembodied spirit. It took eight hours for him to transcribe the message with short intervals for food and sleep. It was mighty exhausting business.

According to the message, the kingdom of sin is a very bearable place and one which everybody must pass through.

The message handed out by Chaloner describes Satan as of medium height. With the face of Napoleon Bonaparte at the apex of his power, and his habiliments are those of Michelangelo's statue "The Thinker." His Satanic majesty was seated on a throne in the center of an immense audience chamber.

The Audience Chamber.

"The walls of this audience chamber," says the message recorded by Chaloner, "are of rubies. The rubies are the size of ordinary building blocks and of the luster and fire of rubies known as pigeon blood. In place of mortar binding the bricks and making a white line we here have diamonds as large as your thumb nail and of the purest water. To soften and enrich the fiery effect of such splendor the diamond line is broken every little way by several inches of sapphires as blue as the Mediterranean.

"The floor of the hall is of marble that has the marvelous quality of being capable of taking on the color of whatever stands upon or flies over it. Thus if a cherub flies over the floor space the marble at once becomes tinged with red. If, on the other hand, a seraph crosses the space the marble at once becomes of a cerulean blue like an Italian sky. The marble takes on these colors from the armor and vestments of the mighty angels, which are scarlet and blue respectively."

Chaloner acknowledges that he finds it very difficult to believe in these revelations and he is offering them to the public "merely for what they are worth."

HAS FACED DEATH 11 YEARS.

Woman Convicted of Killing Husband May Go Free at Last.

After spending more than eleven years in the Berks county (Pa.) prison under sentence of death for the murder of her husband efforts are about to be made to obtain a pardon for Mrs. Kate Edwards on the ground that she has made sufficient atonement for the crime charged against her.

Four governors of Pennsylvania have failed to take final action in fixing a day for this woman's execution, each governor having let the case rest in the files of his office.

Mrs. Edwards and a negro were convicted of first degree murder for the killing of her husband. Both were sentenced to be hanged, and their cases were taken through all the state courts and repeatedly brought before the board of pardons. The negro was finally freed, it having been shown that he did not commit the murder.

Krupp Gives Away Fortune.

In commemoration of its centenary the Krupp Iron works of Berlin distributed $3,500,000, of which $1,250,000 went to the workmen, $125,000 to their wives and children and $250,000 to the clerks.

LUNA PARK HAS A BIG ARRAY OF HAUNTING HITS

With the latter part of the season at Luna well started, the stamp of the public's approval upon the amusements offered becomes more and more apparent. This season's Luna marks the inauguration of a new era in amusement annals, for never before has any project for the public pleasures been launched upon so large or so successful a scale. The "Kiss Waltz" is proving a hit in a summer of hits.

The originality of this ride, and the fact that its appeal is distinctly to pairs (in other words to every fellow and his girl) are reasons for its great popularity, even when its other advantages are not taken into consideration. The "Turkey Trot," "Gyroplane," and "Jolly pop" are other rides which have difficulty in accommodating the throngs which desire to try them.

The Iroquois Indians connected with Hill's circus are attracting much attention. They come from a large settlement of about four thousand of their tribe on the St Lawrence River in Canada. Little Bear the old chief, is a scarred veteran of more than one frontier engagement, and in his younger days fought under Sitting Bull in the famous battle of the Little Big Horn in which Custer and his command were wiped out. The aggregation in Luna numbers women as well as men among its members.

Much amusement is occasioned by the dancing of Cynthia well known to all who are familiar with Luna, and Sammy, the diminutive policeman. Often when the band plays they do an impromptu dance, with a delightful crowd ten deep around them. The ever present good spirit of these two and their fun making form a combination which is guaranteed to be a sure gloom killer.

ELIZABETH FORESTERS LEAD.

Elizabeth, Aug. 15.—Court Advance No. 21, Foresters of America, has just received word from the grand court that it is leading all the courts of the State in increase in membership and that it has an excellent chance to win the handsome trophy recently offered to the branch showing the largest gain for the year. A committee of ten has been appointed to carry on a campaign for more members and a concerted effort will be made to bring the trophy to the Elizabeth court.

GOVERNOR H. S. HADLEY.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

Herbert S. Hadley, governor of Missouri, who was the Roosevelt floor leader at the Republican convention and was spoken of as a compromise candidate until Roosevelt refused to compromise, has written an article telling why he is going to stand by the Republican party and why he has refused to join the Progressives. He says the Republican voters can carry out progressive ideas through their own party. Governor Hadley's term expires soon, and it is reported that he will be a Republican candidate for United States senator from Missouri.

"NEVER ASKED CENT OF HARRIMAN"—T. R.

Colonel Replies to Testimony of Former Governor Odell.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Referring to the testimony given by Benjamin B. Odell before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions, Colonel Roosevelt dictated the following statement:

I have not a thing to add to what was contained in my statement containing the letters published at that time. These letters speak for themselves. Mr. Sheldon's testimony bear them out absolutely. I never directly or indirectly asked Mr. Harriman for a dollar, and he never spoke to me about giving a dollar to the national campaign fund. On the contrary, he asked me to help him get for Odell and the state campaign fund some large sums of money from the national campaign committee on the ground that my election was safe anyhow, that it was essential to help Odell carry the state ticket.

Let me repeat that every fact was set forth in full and in detail by me six years ago while Mr. Harriman was alive. This statement contained my letter, written at the time to Mr. Harriman, and neither Mr. Harriman nor Mr. Odell ever attempted to answer this communication of mine, and no human being can so much as attempt to refute any statement I therein made without branding himself as dishonest and untruthful. Mr. Sheldon's statement, which he of his own accord volunteered to make, corroborated everything that I said. I was glad to have it published, but the letters I gave needed no corroboration.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE MOBBED.

Police and Firemen Hurl Bread and Chicken Bones at Speaker.

Dayton, O., Aug. 15.—Dayton policemen and firemen on their annual outing mobbed five women suffragettes who attempted to talk to them on the question of votes for women in White City park.

Miss Margaret Foley of Boston mounted a table and was in full swing with a suffrage argument when a load of bread knocked off her hat. But that was not enough to dampen her ardor. She talked on. Finally banana skins, chicken bones, lemon rinds and other refuse from the table came in a regular torrent, and she retired.

Safety Director Dodds said he intends to look into the case to find out where the trouble started.

CORSICAN'S DAMAGE SERIOUS

Steamer Lake Champlain Still Standing by Injured Liner.

Montreal, Aug. 15.—In spite of Captain Cook's reassuring messages to the Allan line officers that the steamship Corsican was but little hurt by her collision with an iceberg and was proceeding to Liverpool it was rumored here that the liner was seriously damaged.

It was said that government signal service men learned that the Corsican was not far from the place where she hit the berg and that the Canadian Pacific steamship Lake Champlain was standing by the injured vessel.

Morgan's Partner Ill.

London, Aug. 15.—Charles Steele, a partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, is ill at Claridge's hotel in this city, although his condition is not serious. He was scheduled to depart with Mrs. Steele for the Channel islands, but was unable to leave his bed.

La Follette Bill Rejected.

Washington, Aug. 15.—By a vote of 14 to 46 the senate rejected a substitute cotton tariff revision bill proposed in place of the house measure by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin.

WITNESSES FEAR GRAFT DIRECTORS

Webber and Vallon Refuse to Support Jack Rose.

MAY MAKE BECKER "GOAT"

Murder Prisoners Are Told They Will Be Killed if They Expose "Higher Up" Officials—Big Demonstration of Citizens Demands Purified City.

New York, Aug. 15.—District Attorney Whitman has been told that "Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon have been "reached" by the system. Representatives of the three men named by Detective Burns as the directors of police blackmail have succeeded in closing the mouths of Vallon and Webber, at least so far as these accused officials are concerned. Apparently Becker is to be made the "goat."

James M. Sullivan, declining to act any longer as Vallon's counsel, hurried from the west side court prison to tell Mr. Whitman that the threats and persuasions of the triumvirate—the lawyer politician, the hotel man and the police department official—have silenced Rose's fellow informers. For the past week, said Mr. Sullivan, messengers from the big three and from dishonest inspectors have visited Rose, Webber and Vallon. The messengers brought word that the informers were at liberty to make any kind of accusations they pleased against Becker, but that if they mentioned any of the names that Becker had given to Rose and Webber they might as well kill themselves, because they would certainly be killed after they got out of prison.

Jack Rose Standing Pat.

Jack Rose declined to be influenced by threats or promises of reward. He told Mr. Sullivan that he would stand fast and that he would do everything he could to aid the district attorney in bringing to justice the big three of the gambling grafts as well as the police official who profited with Becker in the distribution of blackmail from gambling and disorderly houses. But it was evident to the lawyer that Webber and Vallon had been "reached."

The discovery of the $3,500 account in the Chelsea Exchange bank was particularly interesting to the district attorney because it pointed to the high tide of Becker's prosperity as a collector of graft. April, 1912, appears to have been his richest month, although he put $10,000 in the Corn Exchange bank in July, 1912. But in April there are records of several substantial deposits. There is the $1,500 deposit in the Lincoln Trust company, the $3,500 in the Empire City Savings bank, the $6,000 deposit in the Corn Exchange bank, of known deposits for the month of April of $14,500.

Herman Rosenthal told District Attorney Whitman a few hours before he was shot to death considerable about Becker's immense profits, and he said also that April was Becker's best month. The stories of Rosenthal, which even to the district attorney who already had an inkling that there was widespread grafting by policemen, seemed far-fetched and highly colored, were borne out by statements Rose made before the bank accounts were located. Rose told Mr. Whitman that such accounts existed, and he added that it would be shown that Becker did better in April than in any other month.

Thinks Becker Has $200,000.

The district attorney hopes to have by the end of this week the figures as to seven other bank accounts, and from what he has been told he believes that the total deposits made by Becker on a salary of $2,250 a year will run pretty close to $200,000.

Becker's lawyer, John F. McIntyre, declined to discuss the evidence brought out as to Becker's savings. But Mr. McIntyre gave out that the accounts could be explained.

The district attorney himself talked to no bank officials, but his assistants communicated with several who have knowledge of Becker's deposits. The assistants are endeavoring also to procure records of the deposits made by inspectors against whom indictments for extortion will in all probability be returned. Two inspectors, according to the district attorney's information, have benefited particularly in the past year's graft. One of them has an account in an uptown trust company of close on to $20,000. No figures have been obtainable as to the deposits made by the other man especially accused, but the district attorney has no doubt that the figures will be produced by the time the grand jury requires them.

Citizens Hold Mass Meeting.

At an old fashioned town meeting in Cooper Union people in all walks of life set the seal of disapproval on the system of organized graft in the police department as disclosed by the killing of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

After listening to speeches by District Attorney Whitman, Emery R. Buckner, who has been one of Mr. Whitman's assistants and is now counsel to the aldermen's police investigating committee; the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, Rabbi Schulman and others the meeting adopted a resolution by a determined and noisy chorus of ayes calling upon the police department to "put forth additional efforts looking to the arrest of all those implicated in the Rosenthal murder."

THE SUFFRAGE RECOGNITION.

One of the interesting things about the political campaign is the sudden change in sentiment toward the women's suffrage question, brought on because of the recognition of the cause by the Progressive platform. Four or five years ago the advocates of suffrage were considered only in a joking way. Then as the women began to secure the right to vote in western states, people began to think more soberly of the matter, until finally the great victories were won by their votes in Denver by Judge Lindsey, and in the overthrowing of the corrupt ring in Seattle. When the real effect of the vote of the women in these two cases became known around the country many men who had previously laughed at the idea began to think that perhaps the granting of the franchise to the other sex would have a wholesome moral effect on the politics of the country, for on every question of a moral character their vote could be depended upon to be on the right side.

After the Progressive convention pledged itself to try to bring about suffrage, it was amusing to see the way the cause was recognized by the other two parties, although they have no planks in their platforms which could prove embarassing in case legislation is sought on the subject. When Miss Jane Addams joined the Progressive cause and made her great speech at the convention, the leaders in the other parties sought for women of equal prominence to pin their party ribbon on. The Taft managers picked Miss Mabel T. Boardman, whose work at the head of the American Red Cross has made her nationally famous. Miss Boardman was announced as chairman of the committee to conduct the women's work in the Republican party. She was evidently chosen without being consulted for she has declined the job, saying that she does not think any one whose name has been closely associated with any great non-political work should permit the use of their name when it would carry more or less of the influence of the organization. Hence the Taft managers will have to look elsewhere. The action being taken by the big political parties cannot but mean that the suffrage cause will gradually be victorious in all sections of the country, and that it will probably be within the lifetime of many of us when women will vote all over the country.

Chief of Police Kiely, in discussing the graft disclosures being made in New York city, said the other day that he feared that they were going to have a serious effect on policemen all over the country, and put all who wear the uniform in a bad light before the public at large. We fail to see how such a condition can arise outside of the big cities, where it is pretty generally believed there is more or less grafting going on all of the time. In Plainfield, for instance, no one doubts the honesty of the men who form the police department. Most of them have grown up here, and are known to a large proportion of the men and women whom they see on the streets. In the big cities by the transfering of men to sections of the city where they are unknown, they can work the graft game and be dishonest, with comparatively little trouble or danger of being caught. That type of men care nothing for the opinion of those with whom they come in contact, and are little better than the crooks from whom they take toll. In a city like Plainfield anyone at all familiar with police conditions knows that the law is enforced so far as it is possible with the small number of men available, and that crime is at a minimum, with none of the kind of things going on such as are found in all sections of the great cities, and some places no larger than this. No fair minded person, at all conversant with the facts, would think for a moment that the local police are not as honest a group of men as are to be found in the police departments of any city in the country.

The Atlantic City Review calls attention editorially to the fact that on the detective force of that resort is a man who has been connected with every kind of crime possible, has been in jail in numerous cities, and is generally an undesirable citizen, in their estimation. While probably before such charges were made they were thoroughly investigated, and the man whom they point at is an undesirable citizen, there have been cases where such men have been of inestimable value in running down crooks. We know of a man now in a position of a most responsible kind, employed by one of the greatest railroad corporations in the country, who has done time, and who when he was active in crime was one of the best second story men the police ever knew. He realized, after serving several years in prison, that there was only one way to have any future peace of mind, and that was to reform, and he took a minor position paying less per month that he had been accustomed to average for every day in the week. He attended steadily to business for a few years, showed that his familiarity with crooks was invaluable to his employers, and in course of time demonstrated that he was sincere in his desire to reform. Citizenship was restored to him, and today he holds an important position in protecting the patrons of the road from crooks. Because a man has been dishonest in the past, it does not follow that it is unwise to put him in a position of trust, if he convinces those who employ him that he has reformed.

Governor Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri, was one of the leaders in the fight against the nomination of President Taft at the Republican convention in June. After Mr. Taft had been named Mr. Hadley announced that he would remain in the Republican party and not join the third party movement, but he did not specifically state that he would support President Taft for re-election. Now he comes out in a long article in one of the current magazines, telling why he remains within the party. The most remarkable thing about his statement is that he in no way defends or apologizes for the thefts by the committee, made to bring about the nomination of Mr. Taft, but says that because a few politicians abused their power was no reason for believing that the whole party is corrupt. He adds that any new party might put its national committee in the same position which the Republican national committee was put in June, and that in such a case the disgraceful actions then participated in would be repeated. Governor Hadley had evidently not seen the rules adopted by the Progressive convention, for they are so drawn that a repetition of the June action will be impossible in the Progressive conventions of the future.

The Daily Press will at no time let its editorial opinions sway the news columns. Whatever may be the idea of the publishers of this newspaper on politics or other current topics, it is the intention to continue to print, without bias, the news of all political parties, without fear or favor. The reports of all three national conventions were of equal length and were supplied by an impartial news association. Local political news will be welcomed and given all the prominence necessary to thoroughly tell the facts, and our columns are open at all times for communications, so long as they are signed and are not libellous. Whatever may be our opinion on any subject there is only one place in which it will be allowed to gain prominence and that is in the editorial columns. In this age the only newspaper that can be successful is the one which prints all the news of all parties fearlessly and without regard to personal feelings.

On Saturday night the Daily Press will print an editorial which every business man should read. It is contributed by one who is an authority on the subject about which he writes, and who has been more than successful in his chosen profession. There are a lot of local references which adds strength to the splendid arguments presented, and make the editorial, while it takes up but one line of business, interesting to all.

Five prisoners having calmly walked out of the city jail at Newark, without any difficulty whatsoever in getting by the guards, it has been decided to put another wall around the jail. If it is as easy as that to get away it is quite evident that up to the present time the Newark jail must have been a pleasant summer resort, or more would have left.

MILLINGTON WANTS MORE SERVICE FROM THE D., L. & W.

On the initiative of a number of residents of Millington and other places upon the road a Passaic and Delaware Commuters' League has been formed with the purpose of bringing organized influence to bear upon the Lackawanna Railroad Company through the Public Utilities Commission, for securing additional trai nservice and the appointment of station agents at places where there now are none.

It is particularly desired that there shall be one or two late trains at night. At present the last train leaves New York at 6:30, so that anyone who is detained at his office after that hour, or who stays in town to dinner, cannot get home that night, unless he drives up from Summit. People in New Providence can do that, but those at Stirling and Millington and further points cannot, unless in automobile. All that is needed is to run a shuttle train from Summit, connecting there with some existing trains from Hoboken. It is suggested that there should thus be connection with the trains which leave New York at 9:15 and at midnight.

Efforts are also being made to secure the establishment of station agents at Berkeley Heights and Gillette, where they are certainly much needed.

William J. Kearns, of Lyons, will serve as counsel for the league at a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

ABOUT FRESH APRICOTS.

APRICOTS are now in the market and may be served in any of the ways that one uses peaches. They are a luscious, juicy fruit and on taste for them is acquired are a welcome variation in the fruit diet.

Apricots may be used to advantage in puddings. They make a delicious water ice.

Unfortunately they do not keep long. They are even more perishable than peaches, and if you want to enjoy them at their best use them as quickly as possible.

Here are some suggestions for serving this delicious and wholesome fruit:

Apricot Pastries.

Apricot Puffs.—This is an easily made dessert that is very tempting. Stew half a pound of apricots until tender, with sugar to taste. When cool half fill small patty shells, heap with meringue and put in a moderate oven to puff and brown. Top each with a bit of bright jelly and serve cold with custard sauce.

Apricot Tarts.—Take an egg, with its weight in stale cake crumbs and fresh butter, a tablespoonful of sugar, a small piece of citron and a little flavoring. Beat up the butter to a cream with the sugar, add the cake crumbs and eggs, then the flavoring, mixing all well together. Line some patty pans with puff paste, put a small piece of stewed apricot in the center of each and then a thick layer of the mixture. Lay a piece of citron across each patty pan and scatter chopped almonds on either side. Bake for about a quarter of an hour in a quick oven.

A Rich Marmalade.

Apricot Marmalade.—Take firm ripe apricots, stone them and remove any hard stains on the skin. Cut them in two and put them over the fire in a preserving kettle, with a pound of sugar to the pound of fruit. Boil for about a quarter of an hour. To test if sufficiently cooked put a little of the marmalade on the top of the fingers, and if on pressing the thumb on it and then lifting it the apricot marmalade forms a thread it is done and ready to be put in jars. Be sure to stir constantly while the apricots are cooking or they may burn. Break half of the stones, take out and blanch the kernels and put them in a short time before the fruit is ready.

Anna Thompson.

IN FASHION'S MART.

Ostrich Plumes Prominent in Midsummer Millinery.

Shaded or two toned ostrich plumes are much in evidence this season, the list including French gray tipped with old blue, amber shading to apricot, green shading to gold and sulphur color tipped with rose.

Ostrich feather plumage is the most highly favored hat trimming of the season.

Good Form

Afternoon Tea Etiquette.

The duties of a hostess should be added to the modern curriculum of education.

Have simple entertainments gone out of fashion, submerged in the tidal wave of extravagance?

There have been of late many references made to the king and queen of England having expressed their wish that afternoon tea, as a fashionable function, should be abolished as being an unnecessary and unhealthful custom. Whether the king and queen really did make such a statement and issue a royal command to that effect has not, as yet been authoritatively made public, and in the meantime "5 o'clock teas" flourish apace both in England and in this country.

It is possible to give to this entertainment such distinctive originality to make of the simple repast a suitable function to which invitations are eagerly sought, so that small wonder is it that women and men alike fall victims to its charm.

Every good housekeeper has some recipe that she guards with jealous care, and to be known as having the most delicious of cakes, biscuits or sandwiches at afternoon tea is every whit as desirable as in the olden days when every woman was taught the art of making cake. In all well appointed households the tea table is made ready at 5 o'clock, even though for the moment the hostess may not have returned from her afternoon drive. The tea service is set forth on a low tea table—in winter near the fire, in summer on the pleasantest corner of the veranda. Only the tea service is for the tea table. If there is a lower shelf the cups and saucers may be placed on it. A pile of small tea plates, each with its dainty tea napkin, occupies one shelf of the "curate's assistant," a three tier stand. On the remaining shelves are hot biscuits of diminutive size and small tea cakes and one large cake. All kinds of sandwiches, from the wafer thin bread and butter to the endless variety of tomato, lettuce, cream cheese and nut sandwiches, are included. Only there must not be too great a variety served the same time.

The hostess makes the tea. If the head of the house be at home it is her duty, but if she be not present then the eldest daughter takes her place at the tea table. The kettle must be boiling, then the teapot be warmed. A spoonful of tea for each guest and one for the teapot is the rule. A small quantity of the boiling water is then poured on the tea and stands for three minutes, and then the teapot is filled with boiling water. On the tea table must be cream, sugar, saccharin and sliced lemon. In winter a small decanter of rum is also added. The camomile tea, so fashionable now, must not be forgotten, for it is said to have the most marvelous effect upon tired nerves and sleeplessness. It is brewed in the same fashion as other tea, and no tea table should be without it.

The older woman or the young girl of today who makes of the afternoon tea hour an entertainment (in the best sense of the word) for her friends finds nothing pays so well for the time and thought given it, while for the woman who from forced economy cannot give dinners and luncheons as she would there is nothing to take its place. And there is no time nor place where a woman is seen to such advantage. Attired in becoming gown in front of a fire with the tea table and tea service artistically arranged, she must shine as a hostess. And, "May I bring an entertaining friend in for tea?" often introduces a stranger of note into the charm of the American home life in a way he could never have found through a formal dinner or dance.

All young girls should be instructed how to play hostess at the afternoon tea, should know how to make tea and, if not, how to make the cakes and sandwiches and to tell how they should be made; to take interest in having the silver tea service kept in perfect condition and, above all, be taught how to make the guest feel he or she is welcome to the home life and not regarded as an outsider. And afternoon tea is possible even with the smallest of incomes, for it can be most delightfully served in the house where but one maid or no maid at all is kept.

Visiting Cards For Young Women.

The cardboard now in use is of medium thickness. The very thin cards popular a little while ago had the advantage of taking up very little room in the cardcase and of weighing very little, but they were too easily bent.

Old English type and block letters are fashionable at the present moment. Script is now and always in good taste. Many people prefer it because it is simple and unostentatious and never goes out of fashion.

Old English is by far the most expensive style in the beginning, as complicated letters take more time to engrave than plain ones. Some stationers charge three times as much for it as for script, block type costing twice as much as the last named. The lettering should be of medium size, neither very large nor very small.

The card of a young single woman is smaller than that of a married woman and nearly square. Girls who are still at school may omit the "Miss." As soon as they graduate and prepare to assume the duties of grown persons they assume it.

THE SEASHORE GIRL'S OUTING

A Merry and Useful Vacation Is Possible For Her Who Spends Midsummer by the Ocean.

IN late July and in August the seashore girl has the best of it. When there is ease to be found nowhere else one may be cool and comfortable in the surf, floating over the waves in an easy going boat or dangling a line from the end of some moss grown pier. There is hardly a day when a breeze does not blow in from the sea.

Boating, bathing and fishing are delightful if one takes them in a sensible way. An excessive care for dress and conventionality will rob them of many of their joys. To be happy and get the most benefit out of the seashore life do not seek a stylish hotel where one must dress like a fashion plate and take one's recreation in a modish manner.

If it is possible to seek some obscure seaside town where comfortable quarters are to be had with plain people a month of this sort of life will do wonders for a woman. She should not concern herself with a smart or expensive wardrobe. A couple of simple linen gowns, a serge skirt, which may be worn with a linen middy blouse and a useful beach gown like the one illustrated here will be all she requires. The natty jersey shown here is waterproofed. So, too, is the mohair of which the plaited skirt and bloomers underneath it are fashioned. The collar and tie are of satin. The length of the skirt is a matter of taste, and so, too, are the shoes. Bathing sandals are worn in this case. In a gown of this sort a woman may lie about the beach all day or go boating or fishing as it suits her.

Marine life is at its best in August and if the vacation seeker is of a studious turn of mind she can learn much of seaweeds and sea creatures by carefully going over the sands at low tide and peering into every pool where the receding waves have left ocean treasures.

Marine shells may be picked up that will be useful later when holiday souvenirs are to be thought of. The rough outside may be removed from mussel and clam shells by putting them into a bath of diluted muriatic acid, which will eat away the soft part of the shell, but will not hurt the hard parts. These may be then smoothed and polished until they glow like mother-of-pearl and may be used in mounting calendars, thimble cases, pincushions, or in fashioning stamp boxes and trifles of that kind.

One woman who goes to the shore every summer collected enough tiny shells to string together and form an odd portiere. It reminds one of those very pretty Japanese ones that are made of strands of beads.

Seaweeds are charming in themselves and may be used in many different ways. A collection of them mounted on blotting paper can be tied together to form a little booklet. They may be mounted on box lids, used to adorn photograph frames or souvenir cards.

As to a life by the ocean wave, it should not be forgotten that sea tan while wholesome is a trifle hard to get rid of. One woman, who sunburns easily, said she had been quite immune since she adopted the habit of rubbing a little glycerin and rosewater into her skin before she goes out on the beach. When she bathes she rubs cold cream into her face and skin before she goes into the water, and on coming out she washes in clear, slightly warm water and applies more cold cream.

It is best to bathe in the morning. About 11 is a good time to go into the water, and it is not wise to bathe after 2. Do not remain in too long. When you begin to tire come out. The whole body should be submerged, and then even if the water feels a little chilly at first, you will find it quite tolerable.

If a woman has thin arms and a scrawny neck there is nothing that will correct this deficiency more quickly than a course in swimming and a daily turn at the oars. There is not only the improvement in appearance, but it insures deep breathing and stronger lungs. MARGERY LANE.

To strip them off, 'tis being flayed alive. —Cowper.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association.
Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.
Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

In Illinois no married woman living with her husband was guardian of her children. Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch wrote a little book about it. She also wrote a little bill, she took this bill to women's clubs and argued for it, she took it to the Legislature and argued for it. It passed. In Illinois today the father and mother are both guardians, joint guardians of their own children.

In New Mexico there is no joint guardianship law. A newsboy eleven years of age was so injured by a railroad train that he lost a leg. His mother had long been abandoned by his father and was at the time supporting her family of three boys by doing washing. The mother brought suit against the railroad company for ten thousand dollars. This amount seemed in a fair way to be recovered. So, appears upon the scene the absent father, who as sole guardian of the boy, promptly compromised with the company for three thousand five hundred dollars. The mother committed suicide.

In New York Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair had separated. It was the fault of both—or of neither, so said the court, and they were equal in moral fitness to care for children. So said the court, where then were they unequal? Only in money, and there the superiority lay with Mrs. Sinclair, she had a house and an income of her own.

The Supreme Court of New York took Mrs. Sinclair's five year old boy away from her and entrusted him exclusively to Mr. Sinclair because Mr. Sinclair had a paramount legal right to him. New York has a joint guardianship law but it is weak, it could not prevent that Sinclair decision. Do you know the law of guardianship in your own State? "The Delineator" is conducting a campaign for the enactment of juster laws concerning women within the field of their family relations. It should appeal to all persons who wish to see women come into possession of their really important rights.

The National Congress of Mothers has always taken the stand that childhood's possibilities are limitless and that when parents and teachers, church and state, become conversant with the principles of child nature and apply them there will be no need must adapt himself to methods planned without study of his needs, and if he would not, force must be used. The child's point of view is now being considered as worthy of study. No true conclusion can be reached unless this is done. The world has not realized that grownups were often responsible for children's failures. It is the dawn of a new era for hte race when here and there men and women of different nations rise and proclaim the possibilities that lie dormant in the soul of every child. Those who are doing this are not visionaries, but students of childhood. They see a vision of what the world may be when every little child has the chance he should have. Frances Hodgson Burnett says: "One generation, one entire generation, of all the world of children understood as they should be, loved as they ask to be, and so developed as they might be, would more than begin the millenium." Once let the belief permeate the mind of humanity that all the evils it spends so much time in prosecuting and punishing can be prevented by right treatment of the children, what a study there must be to overcome the errors of the past. It is this belief which has taken hold of the organized motherhood of America. It is this belief which causes the devoted service given by the women and men allied to promote better opportunities for children through better understanding of the child.

At Leicester, England, an interesting experiment has been tried by the Leicester Education Committee. Forty elementary school children with tendency to tuberculosis were sent to the shore for two months in the autumn. The Medical Inspectors of the school selected the children, twenty boys and girls. The Summer Camp Committee placed their establishment at the disposal of the Educational Committee. The parents paid a small amount for the children and provided the clothing desired for the out-door schools on the sands, for all instruction was given out-doors. To see twenty children standing in a circle while the teacher drew the outline of a country on the sand, and then let the children indicate the important places by making mountains, lakes and rivers of sand and water was a novel sight. There can be no doubt that geography learned in that way was as interesting as play. Singing and breathing exercises in the sands, in the pure air, long walks, going for milk to the farms a dietary calculated to give the necessary amount of proteid, fat and carbohydrate, all were factors in the children's physical development. Allan Warren, M. D., school medical officer, says, "Every one was surprised to see the great improvement which had taken place in their general appearance and carriage. The complete success of the experiment has warranted arrangements being made for a repetition of this valuable work during the present year."

Happy children; if the gain was so great for them would it not be as great for all children? The imprisonment of children in close rooms for many hours a day in positions that are forced and unnatural is surely to be relegated to the past, with the new light on childhood's proper training given by outdoor schools, by the kindergarten, the Montessori method and the appreciation that education when fitted to the child will develop a better race of men and women.

ACTION ON VAN COURT INN LICENSE DELAYED

Elizabeth, Aug. 15. — Without comment Judge Atwater declared in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday that he would have to defer action on the application of Thomas A. McDeavit for a renewal of his liquor license for the Van Court Inn, at Roselle, one of the most exclusive suburban hotels in the county.

County Collector Nathan R. Leavitt appeared in behalf of McDeavit and the postponement of the action without explanation caused surprise. It was announced that the application would be considered by the court August 21.

The transfer sought by Fred Hassig, of Cranford, to Edward Muller of his inn and tavern license was granted. The license expires October 1.

The court granted the application of Annie E. Ondelfinger, who wished to transfer her inn and tavern license to Frederick Bauer in Clark Township. The place was conducted by her husband, who died recently.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR NEW PROVIDENCE MAN

New Providence, Aug. 15.—A surprise party was given Rudolph Shaffer Tuesday night at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Collector and Mrs. Frank C. Shaffer, of Plainfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, in honor of his seventy-second birthday. Mr. Shaffer was connected with the Morris and Essex Railroad for almost half a century, starting to work for the company when a mere boy. He was an engineer at the time of his retirement.

The rooms were decorated in purple and white. Refreshments were served. Numerous gifts were given to Mr. Chaffer. Among those present wer: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winkler, of Hoboken; Mr. and Mrs. Adison I. Youngs and Miss Adelaide B. Thurston, of Mountain avenue; Murray Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Saxtan, Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, Miss Anna Thompson, of Flatbush, Long Island, and William Jeffrey.

PATENTS IN GERMANY.

There Inventors Are Looked Upon as Teachers to the Nation.

In Germany a patent is regarded to be equivalent to a promotion of national knowledge by the disclosure of a heretofore unknown art, writes H. F. Wertheimer in Paper. The inventor is judged to be some kind of teacher to the nation; therefore the patent office does in no way care for the real father of an invention. To the first applicant is allowed the patent, and lack of first and true inventorship does not invalidate or bar the grant of a patent unless the invention has been fraudulently obtained or stolen. If the person from whom a patent has been stolen flies an opposition at the proper time or starts an annulling suit against the granted patent the patent is refused, or annulled. Moreover, under certain conditions a fraudulent patentee may be compelled by a lawsuit to assign the patent or even the patent application to the rightful owner.

This broad principle regulates easily the status of persons who have actually carried out the invention previous to a patent application by another, as well as the question of interfering applications. Such persons are not affected by the patent, for they have not been instructed by the inventor. In other words, they have not derived any new or useful knowledge by the disclosure of the patent; therefore they have a legal right to use the patent for their own business, but this right can only be assigned to others, together with the transfer of their whole business. In other terms, they are entitled to a limited free license.

Infringement suits are relatively rare and by no means so frequent as in the United States. Furthermore, they are considerably less expensive.

Ozone and Air Sewage.

Ozone is a particularly active or concentrated form of oxygen. One molecule of oxygen contains two atoms; a molecule of ozone contains three atoms. As only two atoms of oxygen balance harmoniously in a molecule when there are three of them together in a molecule the third atom will cut loose and seek a union elsewhere. The oxygen atom has a remarkable affinity for carbon, of which decaying organic matter is a common form, and as the greater part of the organic matter in the air is in process of decay the third atom at once attacks and oxidizes it, burning it up.—Cassier's Magazine.

A Ship's Speed.

A ship's speed is reckoned by knots, a knot being a geographical mile or one-sixtieth of a degree. Six geographical miles are about equal to seven statute miles, and a ship that sails twelve knots therefore is really moving at the rate of fourteen statute miles an hour. It should be remembered that it is incorrect to say so many "knots an hour," simply so many knots, for a knot means "one mile an hour."

MRS. ELIZABETH BLAINE DIES ON VISIT TO NIECE

Mrs. Elizabeth Blaine, of Philadelphia, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Goldson Smalley, on Fairview avenue, and Walnut street, Dunellen, yesterday, after a short illness. Mrs. Blaine, who was 75 years old, came to Dunellen last Thursday to visit Mrs Smalley. She was taken ill suddenly. Death was caused by a complication of diseases. She is survived by a son, William S. Blaine, of Chicago; Wesley Blaine, a brother-in-law, of Dunellen, and Mrs. Voorhees, of Dunellen.

The funeral services were held at the office of William Runyon, on Dunellen avenue, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Dr. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment was made at Bound Brook cemetery.

MRS. F. L. HALL SPEAKS ON LUCY STONE BLACKWELL

Asbury Park, Aug. 15.—An all-day session of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage League was held here yesterday in the Young People's Temple. About eight hundred persons listened to suffrage addresses, the majority being women. Pledges to join the league were signed by about one hundred and fifty persons including men and women, the understanding being that such action should not interfere with the signers' regular political affiliations.

One of the most interesting addreses of the day was given by Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, a daughter of Julia Ward Howe, who all her life was known as an apostle of equal suffrage.

Mrs. Hall told of the first suffragist in New Jersey—Lucy Stone Blackwell, of Orange, who more than a generation ago advanced the principles now attracting so much attention.

Addresses also were made by the league's president, Mrs. Clara Laddy, of Arlington; Dr. A. Ballard, president of the Ocean Grove Association; Miss Laura Barnes, head of the league's branch in Asbury Park, and by Mrs. Abraham Van Winkle, of Newark, president of the Woman's Political Union of New Jersey.

FEAST OF ASSUMPTION.

The feast of the Assumption was celebrated in all of the Roman Catholic churches today. Masses were at 5:30, 7, 8 and 9 o'clock. All the services were well attended and many communicants received the Sacrament. In St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock Solemn High Mass was celebrated. The celebrant was Father Sciolla; deacon, Father Bogan and sub deacon, Father Hogan. Special music was rendered by the choir. The service was largely attended by the members of the Italian Sick Benefit Society who were accommodated with reserved seats in the centre of the church. An eloquent discourse on the "Assumption" was preached in Italian by Father Sciolla.

QUARREL OVER DOG.

Trouble has arisen between Rev. George Hauser, who was recently elected to the pastorate of the German Reformed church, and Freeman Strait, of Warrenville. Mr. Hauser lives near Warrenville. It was said at the North Plainfield police court that Strait had filed a complaint against Rev. Mr. Sauser and the case was to come before Justice Snape in the North Plainfield court at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It was reported the Rev. Mr. Hauser intended preferring a counter complaint. A dog of Mr. Hauser's caused the trouble. It roamed once too often on Strait's property and was shot.

MONEY FOR BABY CAMP.

William C. Kinney, of this city, increased the King's Daughters' Baby Camp fund today, with a contribution of $5. This worthy charity needs all the support it can get from friends and contributions no matter how small will be appreciated. As stated before between $500 and $600 is required to maintain the camp during the summer and it is hoped that there will be no deficit at the end of the season.

FOUND SCALES ALL RIGHT.

A. W. Schwartz, Superintendent of Weights and Measures for Union County, paid another visit to this city today. He made calls at several grocery stores, but it is understood found the scales in use up to standard. A week ago he made an examination of scales in use on ice wagons and confiscated two.

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET TO TALK OF WAYS AND MEANS

The Wilson and Marshall Campaign Club will meet tomorrow evening in the Marshall building at the corner of Fourth street and Watchung avenue for the purpose of electing officers. The local situation will be discussed freely.

Ways and means will be devised for the best method to be adopted in furthering the interests of the club and securing votes for the presidential Democratic nominees at the coming election.

BIG NAVIES, BIG ARMIES AND BIG GUNS HIS TOPIC

The interest at the Gospel Tent on Darrow avenue is still good, regardless of the hot wave and an occasional storm.

"Christ Our Great High Priest in the Heavenly Sanctuary" was the subject for last evening. The speaker's remarks were based largely on Hebrews, eighth and ninth chapters. He said the earthly sanctuary, with all its services was patterned after the one in the heavens, and that today, Christ our great high priest, is still officiating in the heavenly sanctuary in behalf of fallen humanity. He said there was no salvation in the blood of bulls, goats and lambs, but they all were the finger-point to Christ, the true sacrifice, who alone could take away sin.

Subject tonight, "Big Armies, Big Navies, Big Warships, Big Guns. What Does All This Mean to This Generation?"

—A man may have an iron will, and still his heirs may break it.

—When a man talks about the good old days, he generally means the nights.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Two more days till the big show on Crescent Oval and then somebody will lose a lease on life.

Frederickson got another new suit the other night. He must think that getting "Rothberged" brings good luck.

It must be time for Slocum to get another one.

A good preliminary game has been arranged for the oval on Saturday.

Evidently those double headers agree with the Plainfield bunch. They were never known to lose the second half of a double bill.

Communicated—Say, Newhouse, do you remember that time your Bees got homesick when Plainfield administered a near beating on the oval a few weeks ago?

Make them bring their wives along this trip.

Slocum has been sent to rusticate at the seashore until Saturday's contest.

Then we have that Scottish Clan athletic meet on the other side of the fence. That man Murray who is promoting the affair seems to be a scintillating star at getting away with this kind of stuff. (Whatever that is).

Did he give you an invitation? If he did not, you want to neck him. It is sort of a "get acquainted invite," but what is the difference. Oh, yes, we got one.

Joe Alberts, manager of the Scotch Plains baseball team, has introduced a novel stunt in the way of a crowd producer. He has booked a team of suffragetts to give a Sunday afternoon exhibition of the national pastime.

How could they ever get up the nerve to play in a burg with a handle like Scotch Plains anyway? What's in a name?

Joe says they carry their own canvas. Whatever that man means.

Saw Jack Martin yesterday afternoon.

He also had a new suit. This habit must be contagious. Jack says he will join Rochester at Jersey City Saturday.

Let's hope that you are weary now, because we are.

LOOSE FIELDING COSTS GIANTS THE GAME

Athletics' Victory Over Giants Boosts Their Claim for First Place Stock.

PARKER FIELD BASEBALL LEAGUE STANDING.

	W.	L.	PC.
Pirates	5	2	.714
Athletics	5	3	.625
Cubs	4	3	.571
Yankees	2	4	.333
Giants	2	6	.250

The Athletics are rapidly climbing back to the top rung in the Parker Field Baseball League and further strengthened their claim by administering a 19 to 6 wallopping to the Giants yesterday morning. Since they were vindicated by the Giants a week ago they seem to have struck a winning stride and before long this aggregation will again be seen on the top perch.

Errors in the eighth inning cost the Giants the game and their opponents managed to push nine runs across the rubber. The Athletics hit the offerings of the Giants' twirlers to the four corners of the lot and chalked up fifteen bingles.

EXPERIENCES OF SIXTEEN WEST END IZAAK WALTONS

Sixteen local fishermen spent the day at Sandy Hook, yesterday, and returned home in the evening with a catch of seventy fluke and wet clothes. In the party were Charles Drake, Charles Loizeaux, George Hummer, Walter Wyckoff, W. K. Barnes and Jerry Manning. The finny tribe was taking the bait as fast as the men in the small motor boat could deal it out, but there happiness became dimmed in the latter part of the afternoon by the appearance of a heavy cloud on the horizon. While the men were debating whether or not the storm was going to break, Jerry Manning thought of a little matter he had to attend to in the tender of the boat. He climbed over the stern, and while sitting on the edge of the tender lost his balance and fell overboard. Great excitement prevailed for sometime and after much difficulty the unfortunate one was pulled into the boat minus a leg of his trousers.

About this time the rain began to fall in torrents and the wind blew a gale churning the waters of Sandy Hook until they resembled a small ocean. Charles Drake was the most frightened of the group and begged the others to turn for the shore, but this could not be done, as the tempest was raging with too much fury. He did the next best thing and advised all his comrades to get a life preserver and fasten it about them. Drake passed out the cork confidence givers and kept two of the things for himself, claiming that his life was the most valuable of the group. They waited until the storm abated and all returned home in safety but wet to the skin.

REVIVAL OF SUNDAY BALL AT THE 'PLAINS

Manager Alberts Has Signed Several Fast Nines For Sunday Attractions.

Manager Joe Alberts, of the Scotch Plains baseball team, is arranging a schedule of games with some of the fastest combinations in the State, and from now on Sunday baseball will be a regular weekly attraction at the 'Plains. Next Sunday the home nine will stack up against the strong Dunellen team, and one of the best games of the season is expected as it will be the first meeting of these two aggregations. Warry McLaughlin will be on the mound for the Dunellenites with Dixon at the receiving end, while Frederickson will do the twirling for the 'Plains with Hand working as backstop. Dunellen will be without its plucky little leader, Bob Bogardus, in Sunday's game, as Bob is not an advocate of Sunday baseball and will give the managerial reins over to Captain Brit Martin. Both teams will have their regular lineups and the game will be one for blood, as Sunday will probably be the only time during the season of 1912 that these two teams will be brought together.

The Female Stars have been booked for September 1, and as the appearance of a team of feminine ball tossers is somewhat of a novelty in these parts a record crowd is expected. The nine that Alberts has signed up makes a business of playing baseball and is recognized as the champion female team of the world. They have a left handed twirler on the mound and she is hailed as the best of her sex in the business. The Female Stars have travelled all through the East, playing some of the fastest semi-professional nines and draw record crowds in every place they stop. The girls carry a huge canvas fence with them and this is put up around the field before every game. A good preliminary contest will be staged before the big game between the West End A. C. and the North Plainfield A. C., which will be called at 2 o'clock.

The following Sunday the main attraction will be either Dover or Plainfield, with a warming up contest between the Spicer and R. G. E. aggregations of the Manufacturers' Baseball League. The Dover team is the champion of the Lackawanna League and hail from Morris City

ROCHESTER UNIFORM FOR MARTIN AFTER SATURDAY

Jack Martin, the local boy, who was released by the New York American league team to Rochester last Saturday, will join the team when it comes to Jersey City, Saturday afternoon. Martin will take McMillan's place at short and the Rochester player will join the New York team at the same time.

The Plainfield shortstop says that he never felt better and is ready to show the International League fans a thing or two along the fielding line. He has been keeping in condition by practising on Parker Field every afternoon and will be ready to step into McMillan's shoes in the first game at Jersey City.

The Scrap Book

Talked Just Like a Man.

Miss Florence Marryat, the novelist, daughter of Captain Marryat, had some mannerisms of her own. The following anecdote was told by William Downey: "'Here is a letter from Florence Marryat,' said Mr. Tinsley, the publisher, to me one morning. 'She wants me to buy a new three volume novel from her. If I'm out of the way when she calls you can talk to her.'

"YOU'RE MISS MARRYAT?"

"I asked how I was to recognize her. 'You'll recognize her easy enough,' said Mr. Tinsley. 'She is a tall, striking looking woman, and she'll talk to you just like a man.' A few days later a tall lady called. I fancied she might be Miss Marryat. She looked around the office, and then, addressing me, she said, 'Is Bill in?'

"To this I replied that Mr. Tinsley was not in. Could I do anything for her? 'I must see Bill himself,' she said. 'Tell the old bounder I called.' 'You're Miss Marryat?' I ventured. 'Yes. But, stop! How the dickens do you know I'm Miss Marryat? I never saw you before.'"

A Word and a Smile.

If I knew that a word of mine,
A word not kind and true,
Might leave its trace on a loved one's face
I'd never speak harshly, would you

If I knew that the light of a smile
Might linger the whole day through
And brighten some heart with a heavier part
I wouldn't withhold it, would you?

He Was Paying Himself.

Tommy Deagen, soldier of fortune and distinctive character, worked for the trolley company in the old days—"the good old days," he called them, but that is largely his point of view. He had worked five or six days, and he had worked hard, as conductor. He liked the work, and he found it worth while. One day as he hopped off his car at the division office he saw a crowd of conductors standing around in an expectant attitude.

"WHAT'S THIS, BOYS?"

"What's this, boys—a strike?" he asked in surprise.

"Nope," was the reply. "This is pay day. Didn't you know it?"

"What?" faintly ejaculated Deagen. "Pay day, pay day! Does the company pay us too?"—Boston Record.

Their Two Medicines.

The native pharmacopoeia in Skye used to be of the simplest character. A man from the island, during his first week of night duty as a Glasgow constable, went into a chemist's shop and expressed frank astonishment at the bewildering array of bottles. "These medicines are ferry numerous—yes ferry numerous indeed." "Yes, we have to keep a great many," the chemist said blandly. "Now, in Skye, where I come from," the constable went on, "the medicines are not what you might call numerous at all." "No?" said the chemist. "How many do you have?" "Juist two. There is tar for the sheep and whisky for the people."

Breaking the Chain.

In 1881 a bill was introduced in the Massachusetts senate which provided for a bounty of $5 for the killing of "a lynx or wildcat." When the bill was under discussion Senator Bird of Essex, who had a habit of asking the committees to explain some parts of bills they had reported, said he would like to ask the committee who reported the bill whether the term "lynx or wildcat" referred to two different species of animals or whether it was the same kind of animal called by different names. Senator Rockwell of Pittsfield, who never let an opportunity to say a good thing pass, arose and said, "In the absence of the chairman of the committee who reported this bill I would say for the information of the honorable senator from Essex, who, having always lived in the eastern part of the state, is not probably aware that for years there has been a chain of wildcats roaming over the Berkshire hills, that the object of this bill is to take some of the links out of that chain."

Right to the Point.

John Sharp Williams says the best nominating speech he ever heard was made by Private John Allen, who used to be a member of the house from Mississippi. The man Allen wished to get on the ticket was an ex-Confederate soldier who had lost both legs and had a crippled arm. There were many things that could have been said about the man's war record, but Allen wished to be brief. He got up, looked at the fellow and brought the entire gathering to its feet by his speech. He said: "I desire to nominate all that's left of poor John Smith." — Philadelphia Ledger.

MRS. CLARK'S LEAGUE.

Wife of Speaker Plans Organization With Famous Motto.

"Ich dien," or "I serve," will be the motto of a new organization of public spirited men and women all over the country who are anxious to serve the people in forwarding reforms, according to plans announced by Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house of representatives.

Associated with Mrs. Clark are Thomas Nelson Page, Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Andrew Carnegie, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Low and others whose individual efforts have heretofore been directed toward social service. The proposed association will concentrate its previously scattered efforts.

"Ich dien" is the original German adopted centuries ago from a captive in battle to be used as a motto ever since by the British Prince of Wales.

Clearly Incompetent.

"Have you ever been married before?" asked the license clerk.

"Great heavens, young man!" exclaimed the experienced prima donna. "Don't you read the papers?"

Whereupon she wired immediate instructions to discharge her press agent. —Washington Star.

—She—"You must admit that a woman can always make a fool of a man." He—"Sure; whenever he wants her to."

John D., Ruler of the Oil Kingdom, Says Money Can't Buy Happiness

But I know better!

John has got the money, but I'll stake a suit (and a good one too, because you'll find the Rothberg label in the best only) that he doesn't know how to spend it. The man who spends his money right will buy happiness, for what is happiness but satisfaction, and to get honest values will satisfy any man.

THIS IS THE CLOSING WEEK OF MY SALE.

You'd better come in before it's too late. Remember, to get one of my suits at the price I am asking this week will bring you satisfaction—and happiness.

USES LAST TICKET IN MILEAGE BOOK OF 1891

Perth Amboy, Aug. 14.—The last ticket from a mileage-book sold on October 5, 1891, to the Rev. N. G. Bogert, of Woodfern, was collected here by S. T. Johnson, a local Lehigh Valley Railroad conductor. The use of this book for twenty-one years is believed to set a record.

Since November, 1901, books have been sold with the understanding that the tickets are good only one year.

MINSTREL'S WIFE STARTS SUIT FOR SEPARATION

White Plains, Aug. 15.—George Primrose, the famous minstrel man, at present associated with Lew Dockstader, will have to pay his wife, Esther Primrose, $75 a month and $750 counsel fees pending the trial of her suit for separation.

Mrs. Primrose alleges cruel and inhuman treatment, says her husband is worth $750,000, and asks for a permanent allowance of $250 a week and $2,500 for expenses of the suit.

Her husband's brother, Albert Primrose, is blamed for some of her troubles.

Mr. Primrose is known to a number of Plainfielders. He formed friendships in this city when his troupe rehearsed here several years ago.

CAPTAIN NEARLY LOST LIFE ON HIS SCHOONER

Elizabeth, Aug. 15.—A crew of wreckers was at work last night in an effort to raise the schooner Toledo, which sank at the mouth of the Elizabeth River Sunday. The Toledo's own crew had been unable to make any headway, so the wreckers were sent for by Captain Alfred Post, of Keyport, commander of the vessel.

Captain Post had a narrow escape from drowning when the boat went down. The vessel dropped anchor off the Sayre dock Sunday and all the crew except the captain went ashore. Captain Post awakened soon after 2 o'clock to feel the vessel settling. He leaped from his berth and was swept back by a torrent of water that burst through the portholes. It was with difficulty that he reached the deck and jumped overboard just as the Toledo sank. He managed to make the pier a few seconds later.

BOY THIEF PLEADS GUILTY.

Elizabeth, Aug. 15 (Special).—George Buss, a Plainfield boy, pleaded guilty on an allegation in the Court of Quarter Sessions yesterday afternoon to the theft of $179 from the store of William W. Wilson, in Plainfield. He was charged with breaking, entering and larceny, the sum of $22 being mentioned as his theft. He will be sentenced next Wednesday. There will be no court sessions until then.

ELECTION SITTING.

Elizabeth, Aug. 15 (Special).—Judge Edward S. Atwater will sit in the Court of Common Pleas on August 21 for the purpose of attending to election business. WILSON ARRANGES TO TALK IN JERSEY

In Gloucester Today—Can't Attend Marshall Notification.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 15.—After refusing regretfully the pressing invitation to go to Indianapolis to participate in the notification ceremonies of his running mate, Governor Marshall, Governor Wilson indicated that for the next month and a half at least he will confine his speeches and public appearances to New Jersey rallies and to non-partisan gatherings in other states. The engagements on the diary do not yet take up so much time, but there will be no trouble to fill out the dates.

Although invitations are coming in daily to fill in about every day and most of the nights the Democratic nominee and his managers are agreed that it will not be well for him to undertake any formal campaign efforts until after the middle of September. In the meantime he will accept such invitations as will not interfere with his manifold tasks of being a governor and a nominee at the same time.

This does not mean that he will not touch upon political subjects in his talks. The contrary is the case. When he talked to the farmers at Gloucester today he discussed the pending questions as they affect the farmer. He will do the same in Williams Grove, and of course he will adhere to the subject when he talks from the veranda of the little white house and at Wilson and Marshall rallies.

ARMY BILL PASSES.

Senate Adopts Measure With Clause Retiring General Wood Eliminated.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The senate passed the army appropriation bill, carrying $94,000,000 and replacing that originally passed but vetoed by President Taft.

The new bill does not carry the provision of the original which would have retired General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army.

PUMPS, OXFORDS AND SHOES

Are Being Gobbled Up In Two, Three, Four and Five Pair Lots By Women Who Know Values When They See Them.

This round-up of factory surplus stocks brought up a lot of mighty good shoes to put into this sale at $1 a pair. There hasn't been any sale like it. People never got such value at $1 a pair.

When you come to think that none of these shoes would sell for less than $1.50, and that many are worth $2 and $3, and some as much as $3.50, you will see that the proposition is a mighty fine one.

The fact that the collection is so large and so varied, and the shoes are so really dependable, makes it easy to sell them. No wonder the crowds continue day after day with the selling as big one day as the day before.

These in the collection—

Women's Gunmetal Oxfords, Pumps and Ankle Strap Pumps, with welt soles, worth $2 to $3.50.

REDS CHECKED BY JERSEY SOLDIERS

Artillery Strengthen Battle Line of Blues.

PRETTY CAVALRY BATTLE

Red Troops, Massed to West of Derby, Tried Vainly to Break Line in Vicinity of Huntington Center—Massachusetts Finds New Jersey Worthy Foe.

Stratford, Conn., Aug. 15.—The blue battle line has been strengthened by the artillery. After two days of retreating the blue defenders held their own against the red invaders. The artillery had been stationed to the west of the present fighting scene.

The red troops, massed to the west of Derby, tried vainly to break the solid blue line in the vicinity of Huntington Center and Walnut Tree hill. It was Massachusetts against New Jersey. The Massachusetts reds, with four troops of the Tenth United States cavalry, began the attack. Troops of the First and Second New York cavalry encountered red cavalry to the southwest of Huntington, the blue right flank. A pretty cavalry engagement occurred in the narrow roads and amid the bowldered fields at this point. If the United States were scoured from boundary line to boundary no rougher country could be found than in the Connecticut war zone.

Jersey Regiments Adamant.

The two Massachusetts red brigades found the New Jersey regiments a solid wall of defense. On the blue left flank the First and Second Connecticut and Second Maine reds found themselves opposed to the Fifth United States infantry and the First Vermont infantry. The second New York brigade (blue), consisting of the Fourteenth, Twenty-third and Forty-seventh regiments, acted as a reserve and did not participate in the action. This brigade broke camp shortly after daylight and hiked north from Bridgeport to camp on the Mill river to the west of Long hill. The First New York brigade (red), consisting of the Seventh, Twelfth, Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first regiments, acted as the reserve for the invaders.

An artillery duel began between the reds on the lower White hills to the northwest of Shelton and the blue artillery at Walnut Tree hill. The object of the reds was to turn the blue right flank. The blues then began to force their cavalry from the right wing up toward Derby in an effort to cut off the reds from their reserves. The reds promptly ordered the New York brigade held in reserve at Orange to move into Derby and so thwart the efforts of the blues.

NEWPORT HEARS OF ASTOR, JR.

Fashionable Colony Took For Granted Naming of Newly Born.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 15.—News that a son has been born to Mrs. John J. Astor was received here early, having come over the ticker at a brokerage office. The news spread quickly, and when people began to assemble at the Casino it was the general topic of conversation. If Mrs. Astor could have but heard the expressions of pleasure and good will at the event it would have done her good. There was also something significant, as the child was born on the day of the Astor cup race, and by common consent it was taken for granted that he would be called after his father.

Mrs. Astor has not been identified with Newport to any great extent. She was here last summer with her parents at Beechwood, the Astor villa, for a visit just after her engagement was announced, and it was there that the wedding took place.

NO CANAL BILL PERHAPS.

House and Senate Seem Hopelessly Deadlocked Over Measure.

Washington, Aug. 15.—A deadlock over the Panama canal bill was reported to the senate and house. Leaders asserted that it promised to prevent the passage at this session of any general bill for administration of the isthmian waterway.

Railroad ownership of steamship lines is the question over which the senate and house conferees are divided.

Chairman Adamson of the house interstate commerce committee fearing a hopeless deadlock over the bill declared that he was preparing a resolution to give the president authority for general management of the canal. Such a measure would be a temporary substitute for the provisions of the present bill.

MALIK-I-TAWUS.

Mysterious Sacred Peacock of the Devil Worshipers.

The trustees of the British museum in London have received through the National Art Collections fund the gift of a sacred emblem of the Yezidis in the shape of the peacock god, Malik-i-Tawus, wrought in steel, which has been presented to the nation by Imre Schwaiger, the principal dealer in antiques in Delhi.

Nothing is known of the history of this peacock, which is a very handsome bird, standing quite two feet in height, with tail outspread. It is not of great antiquity, but is believed to have been fashioned about 150 or 200 years ago and to have belonged to a temple of the Yezidis, a very widely scattered people of Kurdistan, Armenia and the Caucasus. The Yezidis worship the redeemed devil under the symbol of a peacock. The belief in this spirit is a very ancient one.

MALIK-I-TAWUS.

The Zoroastrian doctrine opposed darkness and light, evil and good, Ahriman and Ormuzd. Included among the powers of evil was a very considerable amount of what in this country would be described as unorthodoxy. Differences of theological opinion were classed under the general heading of the powers of the devil, and it is possible that some of those unorthodox practices and doctrines which were condemned by the Zoroastrians survive among the Yezidis. These people regard the redeemed evil one as the highest power and hold him in enormous reverence.

In the center of the tail of the peacock is a figure of a man with a veil over his face. This at first sight suggests Mohammed, because he is generally represented with a veil over his face, his features being too sacred to be seen, though now and then he is shown with his features visible through the veil. As the Yezidis place Mohammed in the same rank as the Biblical prophets, not giving him a special position, it is not likely that the figure represents him in this instance.

TARRYTOWN CAN'T SLEEP.

Colonel Clowry Makes Protest Against Noise From Motorboats.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Colonel Robert C. Clowry, John D. Archbold, Princess del Braga, Joseph Eastman and other wealthy residents who live along the banks of the Hudson have been much annoyed this summer by the noise from motorboats traveling up and down the Hudson without mufflers.

Colonel Clowry has complained to the board of trustees and says that sleep is impossible. He has asked Village President Pierson to try to have the nuisance stopped, saying that New York residents had been successful in a similar crusade. The matter has been referred to the harbormaster.

500 TON DERRICK FALLS INTO RIVER

FEARED THAT TWO WILL DIE

Big Wrecking Machine Engaged In Repairing Bridge Over Wanaque River at Ringwood Junction Crashes Through Bridge and Plunges Into River Below.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 15.—A 500 ton wrecking derrick and its crew of nine men engaged in repairing a bridge over the Wanaqua river at Ringwood Junction, on the Greenwood lake division of the Erie railroad, crashed through the bridge and fell fifty feet into the river below. All the men were carried down with the derrick, and two of them were pinned underneath it.

The engine attached to the wrecking train kept the rails, and Engineer Balan and Conductor M. Wynne immediately formed a rescue party with the rest of the workmen and at great risk extricated the injured men, two of whom, it is feared, will die.

A call was sent to Jersey City, and the special hospital train that the Erie railroad has had in commission for two years was sent out for the first time. Station Master S. W. Swann took charge, and he got five doctors under Dr. Short to go on the train.

The injured men were put on the hospital train, which started for Jersey City immediately the rescues had been accomplished. Two of the men were so badly injured that the train was stopped at Montclair, and they were taken to the Mountainside hospital. They were Emil Art, fifty-five years old, of Jersey City and Thomas Morgan, twenty-four years old, of Mountain View, N. J.

Three others were taken to the St Francis hospital, Jersey City. They were Burt Bay, A. B. Babbitt and Robert Cummings. The last named was badly hurt. Four others were also slightly injured.

The Erie had to make a call on the Lackawanna road for a wrecking train besides sending the wrecking train from Port Jervis.

SIX HURT IN MOTOR CRASH.

Family of West Philadelphia Injured Near Egg Harbor.

Egg Harbor, N. J., Aug. 15. Six persons bound for Atlantic City were hurt here in an automobile collision. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. McKeeman, their four children and Mr. McKeeman's father and mother. They reside at Philadelphia.

Young Mrs. McKeeman sustained injuries of the entire left side, while her six-months-old child received a fracture of the hip and possibly internal injuries. Mr. McKeeman's mother had a finger broken and suffered cuts and bruises, while her husband's wrists were cut by glass. McKeeman and his son escaped with slight cuts. The machine was badly damaged.

The party was on its way to visit Mrs. McKeeman's mother at Atlantic City, but the members will return to Philadelphia. They say that the other machine did not give them sufficient room to pass.

AERONAUT UP MILE AND HALF

Farmers' Picnic at Washington Park See Ascensions by Two Balloonists.

Washington Park, N. J., Aug. 15.—The crowds attending the South Jersey farmers' eighteenth annual picnic here saw two balloon ascensions. One aeronaut went up a mile and a half, descending at Mount Ephraim, N. J., the other reached a height of 3,000 feet and came down at Gloucester.

There were 20,000 picnickers in the park who viewed with interest the displays of vegetables, live stock and poultry and automobiles, wagons and machinery also were on exhibit.

There was a horse show. Farm work teams were shown. There were silver cups awarded.

Governor Wilson will speak in the exhibition building after being entertained at luncheon.

SHOT IN FIGHT OVER CHICKENS

Vineland Man Slightly Wounded and Brother of Magistrate Arrested.

Vineland, N. J., Aug. 15.—In a fight over chickens Walter Scott of this city, brother of Magistrate Scott of Philadelphia, shot his neighbor, William Holt. Holt got one birdshot in the end of his nose and one in the tip of his chin.

Scott and Holt have adjoining chicken farms. The chickens got so mixed that a separation of the flocks is in order every few days.

The men disputed over the division of the fowls. Each armed himself with a shotgun. Scott said Holt fired first, but missed, and he, just to show Holt what shooting was, planted a shot in his chin and nose. Scott will be given a hearing.

Aviator's Swift Flight.

Paris, Aug. 9.—Aviator Brindejohne, bound from Paris for Berlin in an attempt to win the Pommery prize for a straightaway cross country flight, left the Paris suburb of Villa Coublay. He was averaging ninety-four miles hourly.

NOT TOO GREEN.

He Knew Enough to Painfully Realize His Exact Position.

Francis Kilkenny landed in Chicago some years ago, fresh from Ireland, with but a few dollars and no job in sight. He decided to buy a second hand lawn mower and make some money cutting grass. He was directed to the north side of Chicago and finally struck the place where the big houses and fine lawns are.

He went up the steps of a mansion, hammered on the front door and was vastly astonished to have a man stick his head out of an upstairs window and ask: "What are you doing there, you greenhorn? Can't you see this house is closed for the summer?"

"But you're in it," answered Kilkenny.

"Sure I'm in it. I'm the caretaker. If you want anything just go round to the back door, where you belong."

Kilkenny started round, but came to a tall board fence that ran clear across the lawn and had spikes on it. He didn't see the door in the fence and, after figuring for a time, put his lawn mower against the fence and tried to climb over regardless of the spikes. The lawn mower slipped, and Kilkenny stuck on one of the spikes and hung suspended.

"HOW LONG HAVE YOU BEEN OVER?"

The caretaker heard his yells and came out. Finding Kilkenny hanging there in the air, he looked up at him and said:

"Well, you are green! How long have you been over?"

"Begobs!" shouted Kilkenny. "I ain't over yet!"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Jefferson's Prayer and Poultice.

Joseph Jefferson was suddenly taken ill once while visiting at the home of a friend. The wife of the friend whose hospitality he had enjoyed became alarmed over his condition and, being of a religious turn of mind, wished to instill in the mind of the actor her belief in the necessity for spiritual contemplation. A call to his room for the purpose of applying a poultice gave her the much desired opportunity.

"Mr. Jefferson," she said, nervously shifting the poultice from one hand to the other, "for your sake, for the sake of your friends, your family, I—I would like to pray for you."

The actor listened attentively, and his answer came slowly. "Yes, madam," he said, "you may—for my sake, for your sake, for everybody's sake—but for heaven's sake put on that poultice!"

A Pertinent Question.

Speaking of common sense, Dr. Faulkner, head of the Vineland (N. J.) hospital, told the following story:

A queer looking building had been erected on the outskirts of a small town. It was shrouded in mystery. All that was known about it was that it was a chemical laboratory. An old farmer, driving past the place after work had been started and seeing a man in the doorway, called to him:

"What be ye doin' in this place?"

"We are searching for a universal solvent—something that will dissolve all things," said the chemist.

"What good will thet be?"

"Imagine, sir! It will dissolve all things. If we want a solution of iron, glass, gold—anything—all that we have to do is to drop it in this solution."

"Fine," said the farmer, "fine! What be ye goin' to keep it in?"—Everybody's.

COOPER RUSHING SURROGATESHIP

Candidacy Strengthened By Warren Organization and His Campaign Is Active.

SOMERSET WAR NEWS

Progressives Open Headquarters In Somerville—Former Assemblyman La Monte Seeks a Friendly Campaign For Congressional Nomination.

Political gossip, now that the worst of the hot weather is past, is beginning to be heard in Somerset county. The recent organization of a Republican Club in Warren township, which was noted in the Daily Press some days ago, has given an impetus to the candidacy of Edward E. Cooper, for the office of surrogate, as he has the endorsement of its members. Mr. Cooper will have his petition out soon and up to the present time he seems to have no opposition in his party. He was in Somerville on Saturday conferring with his friends and he feels very well satisfied with the outlook. Deputy Surrogate C. D. McMurtry is not to have everything all his own way in the Democratic primaries. Philip A. Hickey, of Somerville, has cast his hat in the ring. He is a well known contractor and for many years resided in Raritan.

The Progressives of Somerville have opened a campaign headquarters in the Galpin building and are in this respect ahead of the old parties. No decision has been reached by the leaders here as to what will be done in reference to the county ticket. Most of them, it is said, favor the endorsement of the Republican candidates or, at least, an agreement of some kind by which they can support the local Republican ticket. James E. Bathgate, Jr., of Basking Ridge, attended the conference of Progressives which was held in Trenton on Tuesday. Former Governor Fort was chosen State chairman and Frank R. Higgins, of Jersey City, secretary. Former Congressman Charles N. Fowler, who, it is rumored, wants another term in the house, started a lively debate by suggesting that wherever possible the fight should be made within the Republican party as to who should make the race against the Democrats.

Petitions are being circulated for the nomination of former Assemblyman George M. La Monte for Congress in the Fourth District. Mr. La Monte, however, is not going to have a walkover. There are to be at least two candidates from Mercer county on the Democratic ticket. Former Assemblyman Allan B. Walsh, of Mercer, is to run in the primaries and Colonel William J. Libbey, who nearly defeated Hon. Ira W. Wood two years ago, also has the bee in his bonnet. Mr. La Monte was in Trenton on Tuesday consulting with his friends. He is anxious to have a friendly campaign and made the proposition to Chairman Joseph S. Hoff of the Mercer Democratic Committee, to join with the other candidates and make a canvas of the entire district. He will accompany them on a tour of Mercer county and in turn he will escort the other aspirants through Somerset, Mr. La Monte's home county, in his automobile and introduce them to the voters. He says this is to be a friendly fight for the nomination, that they are all Democrats and there is no reason why the candidates should make antagonistic campaigns. Mr. Hoff will probably put the proposition up to the other candidates and it will be up to them to decide.

Freeholder James B. Brown has filed his petition to succeed himself as a member from Somerville borough, on the Republican ticket.

MISS LEICHTENTRITT WEDS.

Miss Sadie Leichtentritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Leichtentritt, formerly of this city, but now of Somerville, and David E. Kramer, of Metuchen, were married at Victoria Hall, New York, by Rev. Dr. Cain, on Sunday afternoon last. There were about sixty guests, relatives and friends, present. The couple will reside in Metuchen, where the bridegroom is associated with his father in business. Mr. Kramer's father is president of the borough council.

SON FOR FRELINGHUYSEN.

Former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, Republican leader in Somerset county, and Mrs. Frelinghuysen are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son last Sunday morning, at their summer home at North Hampton, L. I. This is the first son in the family, the Senator having two young daughters.

—Neuman Bros. will receive tomorrow morning for tomorrow's trade, 100 baskets fancy Jersey peaches. This is especially fine fruit.

EXCURSIONIST LEFT HIS CHILDREN BEHIND

Drake Didn't Know It Until He Got Back to Plainfield.

Among the many happy excursionists to Asbury Park, yesterday, were Frederick Drake, of 74 Elm place, and his three children. They had a most enjoyable time at that famous resort. In fact, "Frederick" confessed that he had the time of his life and had so given himself up to the enjoyment of the hour that it was a great surprise to him to find on arriving at the North Avenue station that he had left his three children behind him in Asbury Park.

A telegram was dispatched to the police there asking if there was intelligence of the missing ones. But there was none. The distressed Drake was making inquiries as to when the next train would go to Asbury when a train entered the station and the three lost ones bounded off and embraced their delighted father.

MAKING READY FOR POPULATION INCREASE

Bound Brook Residents Preparing to House Workers In Asbestos Plant.

The great buildings of the Johns-Manville plant, at Finderne, are nearing completion. The iron frame work is well advanced. A gang of 30 machinists and boilermakers, who will install the boilers for the big plant were in the borough looking for boarding places.

The company has already begun the work of seeking permanent homes and boarding places in Bound Brook and nearby towns for the big army of employes which they will bring into this section to run their plant. A considerable number of residents of Bound Brook have already offered boarding places for desirable boarders and others owning building sites are now active with a view of providing homes for the new comers in the future.

PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS IN THE 4TH

Somerset county voters will probably have an opportunity to cast their ballot, if they wish to do so, for a Progressive candidate for Congress. The Mercer County Progressive League, at a meeting held last night, unanimously endorsed John E. Gill, at present an Assemblyman, as their candidate for Congress. Mercer and Somerset being in the same district, Mr. Gill's name will also be on the ticket in Somerset county.

Mr. Gill's name was brought up at the meeting last night, when President Joseph W. McKenzie, of the Mercer county league, was urged to appoint a committee to wait on Mr. Gill with regard to making the fight. The resolution presented said that Mr. Gill had been one of the first men in the county to declare for Roosevelt; that he was the leading spirit in the Progressive movement in Trenton, and that his natural ability and legislative experience, coupled with his beliefs in a protective tariff admirably qualified him as a representative both of manufacturers and workingmen.

This resolution was unanimously adopted after cheering had ceased. Mr. Gill said nothing except to whisper to a man beside him: "They'd better send the committee to talk it over with Mr. Gill."

While he declined to say so it was generally understood among the leaders of the league that Mr. Gill was in a receptive mood and that he would accept the nomination.

FUNERAL OF JOHN MACKEY.

The funeral service of John Mackey was held this afternoon at his late home on Emerson avenue, but owing to the fact that it was private, only relatives and a few intimate friends attended. Rev. Frank Fletcher, a retired Baptist minister of this city, officiated. The burial was in Hillside cemetery. The pallbearers being Thomas Gurnell, Valentine Utzinger, Peter Flynn, Henry Nischwitz, Walter Bradford and Edward Baker, Jr.

CARD CLUB PICNIC.

The Wednesday Afternoon Five Hundred Club and their children, held a picnic at Holly Park, yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mendel did much to entertain their friends. They put their lake at the disposal of their friends for bathing, which many of them enjoyed. After a bountiful lunch the afternoon was spent in various sports.

SCHWARTZ REMINDS DAIRYMEN OF LAW

Faulty Print Measures and Bottles Found—Short Measure Ice Cream.

Augustus Schwartz, of Elizabeth, county sealer of weights and measures, suddenly dropped into town yesterday, and his investigations disclosed a number of violations of the law. He examined nine scales, seven of which he found to be faulty. He also discovered several cases where print butter was from three drams to a quarter of an ounce short in weight in the container. The butter is supposed to weigh sixteen ounces without the container and it was further discovered that the required label "16 ounces" did not appear on the container.

Mr. Schwartz visited two dairies, where he found that the proprietors had not complied with the law by having bottles with the quantity of milk they hold blown into them, together with the name of the dairyman. They were warned and told that if they did not attend to the matter action would be taken at once.

In a visit to ice cream places, Mr. Schwartz found in several instances that the paper boxes used for carrying cream were short of the standard measures and they were confiscated on sight. The inspector also learned that some of the peanut venders were using liquid measures instead of dry measures, for selling peanuts. Nine such measures were taken by Mr. Schwartz. Package goods were examined in several stores and the dealers were given timely warning. Following his trip to Plainfield, Mr. Schwartz visited Westfield and Scotch Plains, and in both places he found numerous violations.

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR CALEDONIAN GAMES

The first annual field and track meet of the local order of Scottish Clans will be held on Parker Field tomorrow afternoon and the entries are coming in fast for the numerous events scheduled. The parade will begin at Robert Murray's store on West Front street and proceed through the business section of the town at 1:15, arriving at the field about 2 o'clock, when the meet will be started. A number of the members of Clan Gordon, of Elizabeth, are entered and all that remains for its success is a clear sky. The pipe drum band of an out of town organization has been engaged to furnish the music for the exhibition drill and the Scottish dances which will be a part of the card.

The presence of the "braw laddies" in their picturesque costumes will create an atmosphere of the ancient Scottish games and is considered one of the features of the meet. The prizes are handsome and numerous and should attract the cream of the athletic world.

BALL PLAYER ENGAGED.

The engagement of Enda W. Cronce, of Essex street, to James R. Emery, has been announced, and the wedding will take place sometime in the near future. Both Mr. Emery and his fiancee are well-known in this city where they have lived most of their lives. They are schoolmates. Mr. Emery is the popular shortstop of the Plainfield Baseball Club and has played with a number of minor league organizations during his varied career as a ball player.

SAMUEL BROWN BURIED.

The funeral services of Samuel Brown, who died at Muhlenberg Hospital, Wednesday, were held at St. Mary's church, this morning at 9 o'clock. Father Bogan was celebrant. The pallbearers were John Varden, William Hartfelder, Fredrich Dahrn, and Anthony McDonough. Interment was made at St. Mary's cemetery.

FISHERMEN FIVE.

FUNERAL OF MISS RANDOLPH.

The funeral service of Miss Emma D. Randolph, aged 64 years, who died at Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday, will be held at her late home, the residence of Frank F. Randolph, Prospect avenue and Center street, Dunellen, tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

PASTOR CLEARED IN POLICE COURT

Freeman Strait's Charge of Assault Against Dr. Hauser Peters Out.

COMPLAINT DISMISSED

Justice Rules That No Evidence of Assault and No Basis For Case Is Shown—Clergyman Not Even Called to Stand.

Rev. George Hauser, of Warrenville, pastor of the German Reformed church, Duer street, was cleared of a charge of assault and battery made by Freeman Strait, a neighbor, yesterday afternoon, when the case came before Justice Snape in the North Plainfield court. After Justice Snape had heard Strait's story and complaints, he dismissed the case without calling Rev. Hauser to the stand. He said that there was no evidence and no case against the clergyman.

The trouble between the minister and Strait started when Mr. Hauser's dog ran on Strait's property. Strait told Mr. Hauser to keep his dog off his place or he would shoot it. The dog slipped out of the house the other day and Strait shot and killed it. Rev. Mr. Hauser went to talk with Strait. He stepped up on the veranda and walked toward the door. Strait said that the pastor slammed the door in his face, and this was the "assault and battery."

S. S. Swackhamer, counsel for Rev. Mr. Hauser, said that the clergyman "carried no weapons or clubs, and did not have an attitude of assault when he stepped on Strait's porch." He merely wanted to know his reasons for shooting his dog and effect a peaceful understanding with his neighbor.

It is said that Strait thought Dr. Hauser intended filing a complaint against him, and hurried to town to file a complaint before the minister could. Rev. Mr. Hauser thinks he has good cause to file a complaint against Strait, but nothing definite has been decided by him regarding such action as yet.

AVIATORS WILL USE THE CURTISS BIPLANE

Thrilling Evolutions Planned to Mark Flights at Driving Park Next Week

Beckwith Havens and Lincoln Lincoln Beachey, the widely-known aviators, who will appear at the Plainfield Driving Park, Friday and Saturday, August 23-24, will make their flights in a Curtiss biplane. Both of thes birdmen have been giving wonderful exhibitions throughout the country and their presence in this city should attract thousands of people who are interested in the progress of the flying machine. The flights will be made each afternoon at 3 o'clock, rain or shine. The Dallas (Tex.) News has the following to say about Havens:

"While so widely heralded as some of the famous birdmen who have been seen in Dallas, Beckwith Havens, the aviator, engaged by the State Fair management to fly here during the remainder of the fair, by two splendid flights yesterday afternoon demonstrated skill in the manipulation of his Curtiss biplane that predicts rapid recognition in the world of aerial navigators."

In their exhibition in this city, both Havens and Beachey will go through a series of graceful and thrilling evolutions and for those who have never witnessed airship flights, they cannot fail to attract. The spot selected for the flights is considered one of the best in this section of the State.

SHERIFF MOBUS PUTS DOWN A LITTLE RIOT

Gang of Italian Strikers Subdued Near Harlingen—10 Prisoners Fined.

A riot among a gang of Italians employed by Sigafoos & Poore on the new stone road between Harlingen and Skillman, this week, became so serious that the contractors were obliged to send for Sheriff Mobus and his deputies to quell the disturbance. The sheriff, accompanied by County Detective George Totten, Deputy Sheriff Ross and Deputy Major, well armed, hurried to the scene of the trouble, and after a stiff fight, in which the rioting Italians were subdued, they were hustled into automobiles and taken to the county jail at Somerville.

The Italians were given a hearing yesterday before Justice Sutphen, of Somerville, and fines ranging from $10 to $20 were imposed on each of the ten offenders, who promised to cease their warfare, and not cause any more trouble. The rest of the gang has continued to work as usual.

Part of the gang struck early in the week for an increase of pay from $1.70 to $1.80 a day. The demand was promptly refused by the contractors, and immediately about a dozen Italians began to raise a disturbance. They threatened to drive the bosses and other men off the job and prevent them from completing the contract. The strikers were meeting with considerable success in holding up the work and then the call for help was sent to Sheriff Mobus.

When the sheriff and his deputies arrived, he found the strikers armed with baseball bats, and other implements and at first it looked as though they might be too much for the county officials. The latter took no chances and made one decided and final effort to land the disturbers. The fight lasted for twenty minutes before the Italians were put under subjection and landed in the automobiles.

POSTAL CLERKS DIDN'T GET VACATION MONEY

The failure of Congress to pass the appropriations so that pensioners could get their quarterly checks this month, as stated yesterday, did not affect regular salaried employes of the postal deprtment. Every employe on a salary received his check yesterday as usual. The trouble has been with the appropriation for the vacation time of the employes. This has been held up, but it is expected the trouble will be adjusted within a short time.

The pensioners have not yet received their checks, but a story sent out from Washington, yesterday, indicates that the appropriations will be passed within a day or two, and the checks should be sent out next week sometime. As stated yesterday there are a number of cases where the delay has caused a hardship, especially among those who have no other means of support.

WESTFIELD'S NURSE ILL.

Miss Minnie Clarke, district trained nurse, of Westfield, is ill with appendicitis and is unable to attend to her duties. This leaves the town without the greatly needed services of a public nurse and steps are being taken to fill the vacancy. The women interested in the maintenance of the nursing bureau will hold a meeting Monday, when it is expected the Miss Cunningham will be appointed to take Miss Clarke's place. Since Westfield has had the services of a district nurse, it has been realized that the town cannot go without one. The nurse can be called to any home in the town, and may be had free or for whatever the patient feels he or she can afford for the services.

T. A. B. FAIR.

The T. A. B. Society of St. Mary's parish will hold a fancy sale and fair of a week's duration in the hall, West Fourth street, in November. The date when it will be opened is November 2 and the closing date November 9. As this is election week the society considers that it will be a most opportune time. The proceeds of the fair will go to the benefit of the society. The committee to have charge of the arrangements will be the committee of the society as a whole.

POLISH DANCE.

The members of John III Sobieski Society, will hold an entertainment and dance in their hall on East Second street tomorrow night. A special orchestra has been engaged. The proceeds will be devoted to the benefit of sick members of the society.

BICYCLIST HURT BY AUTO IN COLLISION

Gettano Too Bruised to Appear Against Chauffeur In City Court.

Pencevengo Gettano, an Italian employed by the Century Rubber Company, of North avenue, was riding his bicycle yesterday afternoon on North avenue, when an automobile belonging to the National Standard Vulcanizing Company, driven by John DeForest, of East Sixth street, collided with him, knocking him off the bicycle and wrecking the latter.

Gettano was cut about the knees and was attended by Dr. B. van D. Hedges. He was unable to appear in court this morning to prefer a complaint against DeForest. The latter contends that the fault was Gettano's, but that he was quite willing to pay for all the necessary repairs that the bicycle would require. The car was travelling about twelve miles an hour, he said, when it collided with the bicycle.

REED TO BECOME A PLAINFIELD RESIDENT

Former State Senator Buys Handsome and Costly Home On Woodland Avenue.

Former State Senator and Mrs. Charles A. Reed, former residents of North Plainfield, are soon to become residents of Plainfield, after an absence of about two years. Mr. Reed, through his broker, Charles H. Lyman, has just purchased the attractive and valuable residential property on Woodland avenue, formerly owned by William B. Wadsworth, and will take possession about October 1. The property consists of a tract of six acres of land and a modern dwelling complete in every appointment.

Since giving up their residence in North Plainfield Mr. and Mrs. Reed have travelled extensively abroad. Mr. Reed making an around-the-world journey partly for pleasure and partly on business. While he has not made any announcement of his plans for the future, Mr. Reed will doubtless continue his relations with large business interests. For many years he was associated with William A. Coddington in the practice of law under the firm of Reed & Coddington, and during his residence in North Plainfield was counsel for the borough.

ALL TOO POOR TO CARE FOR THEIR AGED FATHER

Mrs. Frances Miller, of 330 East Fourth street, was arraigned in the police court today on complaint of Mrs. Kate Kelly, of Cottage place, for the alleged use of insulting language. Mrs. Kelly told City Judge William G. DeMeza that Mrs. Miller had called her an "Italian monkey." After admonishing both to be of good behaviour, he suspended sentence.

To show cause why they should not contribute to the support of their father Nelson Peterson, Albert Peterson, son, Lucy Peterson, daughter, and Delia Randolph, step-daughter, were arraigned by the Overseer of the Poor in the city court this morning. It was shown that they were in such indigent circumstances that none of them were able to accommodate him with a home. It was agreed that he should be sent to the almshouse, each of his relatives to contribute fifty cents towards his maintenance.

BOWLED OVER BY OFFSET.

Elizabeth, Aug. 16 (Special)—Charles Ludwig, of Broad street, Westfield, who was sued by Gustav Schmal, a journeyman baker, for wages for work performed, turned the tables on Schmal in the District Court, yesterday, in an "offset" action recovering $65 judgment for rental due him from Schmal for rooms and used as a bakeshop and also for money loaned. Schmal claimed $22.64 for wages due.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders will meet at the new West End avenue bridge in the borough next Tuesday morning to pass on the structure, which is now completed.

EXPECT LOWER TAXES IN BORO

Administration's Hopes Based On Standstill Expenses and Higher Valuations.

LAST YEAR'S RATE 2.20

Fire Department and Sewer Account Cut $2,000—Police and Street Departments Get More—Figures of County Budget.

The North Plainfield tax budget for this year will total $30,796. This was computed and passed on by the Borough Council at an adjourned meeting last night. The actual amount of the budget is $36,796, but as $6,000, the estimated receipts from licenses and fines, has to be deducted from this, it leaves $30,796 to be raised by taxation for the borough expenses. This is only $1,446 over the amount required last year.

There have been a number of changes made in order to take care of the new conditions arising this year. The police department appropriation has been increased $1,300, while the fire department amount has been reduced $2,000. It was found necessary to increase the street fund $1,500 but the sewer appropriation was reduced $2,000.

The Board of Health requested a larger amount and their appropriation was raised from $600 to $1,000.

The amounts required to be raised by tax for the year 1912 and those called for last year are as follows:

	1911	1912
Police Dept.	$4,000	$5,301
Fire Dept.	3,800	3,600
Street Dept.	7,000	8,500
Lights	5,900	5,950
Water	1,500	1,595
Poor	1,400	1,600
Bonds and Interest	2,050	1,000
Bor. en. Fund	5,000	4,000
Sewer	3,000	1,000
Board of Health	600	1,000
Shade Tree	100	250
Suspense		1,000
Total	$34,350	$35,796
Contingent Fund	1,000	1,000
	$35,350	$36,796
Estimated receipts from licenses and fines, etc.	6,000	6,000
Total amount to be raised by taxation	$29,350	30,796
Increase this year		$1,446

It is believed that valuations will be higher this year and with expenses practically the same, the high tax rate of $2.20 of last year will be lowered considerably.

J. W. Barrett resigned his position as a member of the shade tree commission. W. J. Hudson, street commissioner, was appointed to fill out Mr. Barrett's term which will expire Aug. 5, 1915.

Councilman Milne, of the street lighting committee, reported that the men had made arc inspection and found that the branches of trees around the lights, greatly lowering the efficiency of the lighting system. The shade tree commission was ordered to trim such trees.

On the recommendation of Mr. Milne a resolution was passed which calls for the uniform and regular placing of street lights. They are to be directed toward the centre of the street, and are to be 14 feet from the roadbed. The lamps cannot be any nearer the pole than 3 feet 6 inches.

John P. Emmons, J. V. E. Vanderhof and George White were appointed Commissioners of Assessment for the recent improvements on Park place and Steiner place.

The Somerset Board of Freeholders has fixed the county budget as follows: Current expenses, $82,000; bridges, $64,000; roads, $60,589. This made a grand total of $206,589, far in excess of that of last year, when it was only $174,000. After considerable discussion it was resolved to ask the county board of taxation for $195,000. County Collector Allen and Counsel Frech were requested to meet with the tax board and endeavor to impress upon the latter the need for the large sum desired this year, made imperative because of extra amount needed for bridge work, much of which is required under recent laws.

The amounts asked for bridges by each member were as follows: Bedminster, $6,500; Bernards, $12,000; Branchburg, $8,500; Bridgewater, $2,800; Franklin, $3,500; Hillsborough, $5,500; Montgomery, $2,500; North Plainfield, $2,700; Warren, $2,000; Borough of North Plainfield, $11,000; Somerville, $2,500; Bound Brook, $800. Total, $60,300.

At the budget meeting, which was held Wednesday, the Somerset Water Company applied for a permit to run its pipes along the county road in Bedminster township for the purpose of supplying Peapack, Bedminster and Gladstone with water. The matter was laid over until the next meeting to allow Counsel Frech to present

MAKING READY TO ISSUE NEW DIRECTORY

Second Canvas to Be Taken Next Week to Increase Completeness.

W. L. Richmond, publisher of directories, who has taken over the work of publishing a directory for Plainfield and vicinity, has finished the first direct canvas and next week will start the second canvas, this one being for the purpose of correcting mistakes, omissions, etc., and to recanvas vacant houses, offices and places that were found closed on the original canvas.

Mr. Richmond would appreciate any co-operation on the part of Plainfielders in helping to make the new directory as near correct as possible; also on the part of those who may think their name might have been overlooked, or who have made a change in residence during the past six weeks; especially roomers and boarders, who are often forgotten by the landlady. Mr. Richmond requests all such to send him their full name, occupation and address to the Warburton building, Yonkers, N. Y. The address moved from should be given with new address.

Cursory glances must be second cousins to coss words.

Appealing to a man's reason is almost as productive of results as appealing to a woman's vanity.

GEORGE D. PORTER.

Police Official Who Caused Big Raid In Philadelphia Tenderloin.

George D. Porter, director of public safety of Philadelphia, is waging a personal crusade against vice. The other night he rounded up 300 in a series of raids. The inmates of the dens are attacking Porter because of his efforts to clean the city. They have taken desperate measures to break up his home life. Porter is now striking back.

NAT GOODWIN BADLY HURT WHILE BOATING

Noted Actor Thrown on Rocks. Condition Critical.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 16.—Nat C. Goodwin, the actor, was badly injured at Rocky point, twelve miles south of Hueneme, first by being thrown from a skiff on the rocks by the breakers, and then being struck by the boat itself as it was dashed ashore.

Goodwin and a woman of his company engaged the launch Nora, Captain Albert Hyder of Santa Monica, to make a trip up the coast with a view to locating some land which Goodwin said he wished to buy and convert into a summer resort.

The woman had a note which she told Captain Hyder was for an Indian who lived near Hueneme, and when a spot twelve miles south of that place had been reached she espied an Indian's hut and demanded that Captain Hyder take her note ashore and give it to the Indian. Hyder refused because of the strong tide and rough breakers, but Goodwin, taking off his coat, grabbed the note and jumped into a rowboat.

As the boat reached the breakers line it was overturned. Goodwin was thrown upon shore and stunned. With the next roll of breakers the boat was thrown upon Goodwin. Hyder got Goodwin into the launch and hurried to Santa Monica, where the actor was placed in a hospital.

His physician said that the patient's case was critical.

Weather Forecast.

Fair, cooler on the coast; tomorrow fair; moderate northerly winds.

T. R. TO FIRE FIRST SHOT IN CAMPAIGN

Leaves For Providence, Where He Speaks Tonight.

WILL TACKLE GOV. WILSON

To Define What Is Meant by "Platform" and "Program"—Replies to Accumulation of Accusations—Will Speak at Revere Beach, Near Boston, Tomorrow.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Colonel Roosevelt will fire the opening shot in the Bull Moose campaign tonight. He will speak in Infantry hall, Providence, R. I.

It will deal in part with the tariff issue and the woolen schedules, for which, the colonel says, some of Rhode Island's conspicuous citizens are largely responsible. The other address is to be delivered tomorrow afternoon at Revere Beach, near Boston. On this occasion, the ex-president says, he will discuss the problem of the courts and the reforms advocated by the Progressives in behalf of social and industrial injustice.

He asserted that he had no intention of making an attack on Governor Wilson. He made it clear, however, that upon one or two points he expects to take a fall out of the Democratic candidate.

He takes exception to the declaration in the governor's speech of acceptance that his platform is not a program. A program of party action, Colonel Roosevelt declared, is exactly what a platform should be. His own, he contends, is just that, to become later a contract between his party and the people when they shall have approved it at the polls.

Replies to Many Charges.

Colonel Roosevelt put in some time looking over the accumulation of charges against him and his administration. He began by supplementing the statement branding as false ex-Governor B. B. Odell's account before the senate committee of the so called Harriman fund in the 1904 Republican campaign treasury.

George R. Sheldon, the campaign treasurer, had phoned, the colonel stated, to say that the Sheldon letter defending the ex-president, to which ex-Governor Odell took exception, had been submitted to the governor before being published and at that time met with his entire approval. This statement from Mr. Sheldon, the colonel thought, added another but unnecessary proof of his accuser's lack of veracity.

It was a reported interview with ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, however, which most riled the ex-president and prompted him to issue a lengthy statement, in which he denounced the Vermont statesman for his attack upon the Roosevelt administration and his defense of the anti-trust law.

Another rumor which Colonel Roosevelt believed he succeeded in nailing came from Toledo, O., and was to the effect that the colonel had declared to Brand Whitlock of that city that in the event of Governor Wilson's nomination he would not be a candidate. He gave out a telegram received from Mr. Whitlock repudiating the rumors and denying that any such declaration had been made by him.

Mr. Roosevelt left here for Providence at 1 o'clock on the Knickerbocker limited on the New Haven railroad. It is his intention to return home from Boston Saturday night.

FLINN THREATENS PENROSE.

Declares Impeachment Proceedings May Be Brought Against Senator.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 16.—The Pittsburgh Leader, owned by William Flinn, Roosevelt leader in Pennsylvania, served notice on United States Senator Penrose that he faces impeachment, based upon his alleged financial transactions with John D. Archbold, financial agent of the Standard Oil company.

The Leader says that the Archbold letters, which were brought out in the course of an attack on the Standard Oil company's alleged payments to prominent politicians and government officials, will be presented to the state legislature next winter. Flinn will control the legislature.

The Leader says that Penrose knows all about the letters and that is why he is fighting so desperately to elect assemblymen who will obey him and help him keep the scandal suppressed.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN" CHECKS

Mrs. Belmont Adopts Novel Method to Help Along Cause.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 16.—"Votes for women" printed across the face of her personal checks is Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's latest move in the interest of the suffrage movement.

Mrs. Belmont never loses an opportunity to promote the interest of the movement for which she is giving practically her whole time, and she evidently thinks that this form of notice may do some good among the men to whom she pays accounts.

NEGRO ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

There will be an interesting exposition at Philadelphia next year of the work of colored citizens of the country, with an idea of showing their development as a race since the Emancipation Proclamation was promulgated nearly fifty years ago. At the exposition, for which plans have been under way for a year or more, everything exhibited will be the work of colored men and women, and all of the preliminary plans are being made by members of that race.

Here in New Jersey the Legislature made an appropriation to prepare the exhibit of the State, and as the result of a civil service examination a negro minister of Trenton has been selected as the chief organizer of the exhibit, with three assistants of his own race. One of these assistants, Alain L. Locke, is a graduate of Harvard, a former Rhodes scholar at Oxford, and he will have charge of the sociological features of the New Jersey exhibit.

In all probability this exposition will be one of the most remarkable that has ever been held, and the prominence which it will undoubtedly attain will open the eyes of the country to the success which is being made by the negro in business and professional life wherever he is given a chance. From the northern states there will undoubtedly be demonstrations of the splendid work being done by members of the race as doctors, lawyers, minisfers, dentists, teachers, and in other professional walks of life, while from the south the negro will be shown in various agricultural pursuits. Such expositions as this are a good thing. We look for the time in the none too distant future when they will be frequently held, and each will show new development being made on educational lines. The negro in the north is becoming self-reliant, realizes that his vote counts as much as that of the next fellow, and is making rapid strides forward. In the south an unfair disenfranchisement law makes his position harder, but the problem will be solved there in time.

Commissioner Job S. Lippincott, head of the New Jersey State Motor Vehicle Department, is determined to have the men under him as inspectors earn their salaries. In order to bring about what he believes to be the right method to make these men more active in their work, he asked the Civil Service Commission to take them from the competitive class, and allow him to appoint whom he pleased to the positions. The Civil Service Commission, very rightly, has refused the request. If an inspector who is protected by Civil Service does not do his duty properly, such protection does not prevent the commissioner from discharging him. He can order a man to devote all of his time to the duties of the office, and if the order is not complied with all he need do is to dispense with his services, and ask the Civil Service Commission for a list of eligible men to fill the vacancy. The commission will soon furnish the list, and no favored politician who has not passed the examination for the office, can be put in the place of the man discharged. Civil Service for State employes has had a pretty thorough tryout, and the law put on the statute books largely through the efforts of former Senator Ackerman, of Plainfield, has been found to stand the test. The last Legislature authorized a commission to investigate the working of the Civil Service law, the idea being to try to find some way to discredit it but it is a safe guess that there will never be any changes in the Ackerman act, except to strengthen it.

Tomorrow's editorial, contributed by R. F. R. Huntsman, a resident of this city for many years, and the successful advertising manager of the Brooklyn Standard - Union, is of live interest to everyone in Plainfield, but especially so to the business man. When Mr. Huntsman was asked to write something about advertising, he said that the Press would not print what he had to say. What he has written may hurt some people's feelings, but it will do many others a lot of good. Mr. Huntsman is one of those men who has done things in his chosen profession, and hence what he has to say comes with authority. His greatest accomplishment probably was the making of a five year contract with John Wanamaker, by which the latter uses a full page every day in the year in the Standard-Union. Mr. Huntsman has been the treasurer for many years of the "Sphinx Club," which is the oldest and most exclusive organization of advertisers in the world. We hope that every reader of the Press will take the time to carefully read what he has to say tomorrow. There are plenty of local references in the article.

In spite of the fact that Mr. Hilles says that the only ticket Mr. Taft will have to beat at the November election is that of the ancient enemy, "Democracy," we note that the Republican papers are giving a whole lot more attention to the Progressives than to Mr. Wilson's candidacy.

H. C. Frick pays the organist who plays his $100,000 instrument in his home $15,000 a year for an hour's work each day. One condition is that he shall play "Dearie" at least once during the hour. If he does that every day in the year he earns his money.

The secretary of the Democratic State Committee in Pennsylvania says that "all T. R. voters are ignoramuses." Judging from the result of the primary held in that State earlier in the year, the intelligent men must be in the minority over there.

The House at Washington seems to be taking as much pleasure in over-riding President Taft's vetos, as the New Jersey Legislature did in over-riding those of Governor Wilson during the session which ended at Trenton in April.

The baby that was left "only $3,000,000" from a great New York estate will be able to worry along on the income probably, at least until he becomes of age and can go out and earn his living.

Talk about the advantages of a higher education! A police justice over in East Orange let an auto speeder off with a light fine the other day because he was a college student.

It does not sound like lack of prosperity when we are told that one locomotive works is employing 19,000 men in three plants and cannot keep up with orders.

Judging from recent developments in New York police circles, it is very evident that all of the financiers are not to be found in the Wall Street section of that city.

THE TEMPERATURE.

MRS. MONTANYE'S FUNERAL.

The funeral service of Mrs. Frances Montanye, wife of Joseph D. Montanye, was held at 8 o'clock last night at the late home on Arlington avenue, and was in charge of the Brethren Religious Society, with which Mrs. Montanye was identified. The burial was in Hillside cemetery this morning.

REFORMS PROPOSED BY TAX BOARD ASSN.

A. C. Pleydell, of Borough, One of the Speakers at State Meeting.

Trenton, August 16 (Special).—Many important tax reforms were proposed yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Association of County Tax Boards of New Jersey, and if they shall be put into concrete form through laws the taxation regulations will be revolutionized and many thousands of dollars worth of taxable property added to the ratables throughout the State. One of the most important changes suggested was that the day of assessment be moved from May 20 to January 1, each year. Now all assessments are made as of May 20 and this works out so that tax appeals cannot be decided before the tax rate is fixed in September. The result is that whenever on appeal an assessment is lowered, the municipality suffers, because the tax rate and the budget have been fixed upon the total ratables as they stood before the appeals were taken. This situation has long been a crying evil in tax matters in this State.

It was shown yesterday afternoon that by changing the assessment day to January 1 the assessors could be given until April 1 for the completion of their work and the duplicates could be completed and all appeals heard before the tax rate was fixed in September. It was agreed that this reform was greatly needed.

Another reform insisted upon as needed was the providing of tax maps in every taxing district of the State. The rural sections are almost universally without such maps as the basis for assessments, with the result that thousands of dollars worth of property escapes taxation annually. The present law provides that such may be made, and it was the prevailing opinion that this statute should be made mandatory. It was also thought that it would be a wise thing to make mandatory the present laws permitting the publication of the assessment lists in all the taxing districts. This law has never been observed because it is not compulsory and would entail some expense. It was urged that such publication would, of itself, result in curing most of the evils of inequalities in taxation.

Senator Carlton B. Fierce, of Union county, president of the special legislative commission appointed by Governor Wilson under the Pierce resolution to investigate general tax questions in this State, addressed the association, upon invitation. He outlined the progress his commission is making. Eight counties have already been visited and public hearings conducted at which much valuable information was gathered.

The remaining counties are to be visited in September. Senator Pierce told the association that the unit of taxation should be in creased and that a uniform basis of taxation that would not admit of discrimination between individuals or taxing districts, should be adopted for all the districts. He said the members of his commission were open minded on tax matters and would be glad to receive any suggestions that might be made.

Senator Pierce declared that when his commission had reached conclusions which could be formulated into a report for the Legislature, the County Tax Boards should be called together to confer with the State Commission on the form of the report to be submitted.

Frank B. Jess, president of the State Tax Board and also a member of the Pierce Commission, also spoke. He praised the County Tax Board system and declared that the boards had wrought many improvements. This system, he said, is a decided improvement upon the one that formerly existed. He thought the new association should meet oftener than annually, and that much good would come from it. Assemblyman McAllister, of Cumberland; A. C. Pleydell, of Union, and Thomas B. Usher, of Hudson, all members of the Pierce Commission, spoke. It was their thought that a legislative bill agreed upon by the commission and including the reform suggested, and then ratified by this association, would stand the best chance of becoming a law.

The officers elected by the association were: President, William Carman, of Middlesex; vice president, William K. Devereux, of Monmouth; secretary, William L. Dill, of Passaic; treasurer, Andrew Kenney, of Somerset.

JERSEY DAY AT SEA GIRT.

Democrats from all parts of the State, including several from this city, have been invited to attend the observance of "Jersey Day" at Sea Girt tomorrow. The occasion is to be a big rally and the feature, of course, will be an address by Governor Wilson. Arrangements for the rally, which will be called "Home folks' day" were made by Thomas H. Birch, of Burlington, chairman of the Wilson campaign committee of New Jersey. Special trains will be run from all sections of the State and an unusually big crowd is expected.

FIRE AT GREEN VILLAGE DOES $25,000 DAMAGE

A fire at Green Village this week destroyed barns and other property valued at $25,000. A large number of horses and much other live stock, including a $1,000 bull, perished in the flames. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Charles Fredericks, one of the men aiding in preventing the spread of the flames, which threatened a house and other buildings besides those burned, was injured and rendered unconscious for a time.

The fire broke out in William DeMott's barn and later it spread to an outhouse, fifteen feet away, which belonged to William Roberts. The conflagration spread rapidly and produced a glow which could be seen at a great distance.

The fire started at about 6:30 p. m. and it was after 1 p. m. before the blaze was sufficiently subdued to justify the firemen in leaving it.

At the beginning of the fire all the cows were driven out to safety, but it was impossilile to drive out the horses, all of which, thirteen in number, along with two mules, perished in the flames. A magnificent Guernsey bull, whose sire, owned by Mrs. Twombly, was valued at $12,000, was also burned.

Among the contents known to have been totally destroyed were two automobiles, one an Overland touring car and the other a Hupmobile; 25 sets of harness, a large quantity of hay and straw, a carload of corn and three calves.

The buildings destroyed were a horse barn and garage combined, a cow barn, pig pens and a creamery, with all they contained, belonging to William DeMott, and a barn belonging to William Roberts, but all the supplies were taken from this before it caught fire.

BOROUGH POLICE COURT.

William Emmons, a contractor, of Codington avenue, was arrested by Chief Weiss, of the North Plainfield police, yesterday afternoon, for being helplessly drunk. When arraigned before Recorder Gano this morning he was released on a suspended sentence and a promise to "keep straight."

MRS. SARAH M. READING.

Lambertville, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Sarah M. Reading, aged seventy-one years, widow of Colonel Richard B. Reading, died at her home at 22 Jefferson street yesterday, after a short illness from heart disease. She is survived by three children, Willard B. Reading and Richard B. Reading, of Trenton, and Mrs. Bertha Reading Brooks, of this city.

Application was made to have Mountain road, in Montgomery township, approved for survey and improvement under the State road act. It was explained that this road was but a spur of the Plainville road, now being improved to the Hillsborough township line, and was but sixtenths of a mile long. The members voted unanimously in favor of the improvement.

Messrs. Hoagland, Paulison, Dilts, Everett and Brown were appointed a committee to make temporary repairs to a bridge in Hillsborough township.

A communication was received from a resident of South Bound Brook in reference to injuries received by Edward A. Hayes by reason of the bad condition of the road in that place. The freeholders disclaimed liability and the communication was filed.

The board will meet next Tuesday at 10:30 a. m., on the West End avenue bridge in North Plainfield, and also at Basking Ridge on Monday, August 26, to receive bids on the new bridge between Somerset and Union counties.

Freeholders Adams, Brown, Remsen, Opie, Kirch and Demler, together with Director Thomas Douglass, were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Freeholder Robert Zergiebel, late of Warren township. The resolutions were ordered published in the county papers and also a copy sent to the late member's family.

The finance committee reported that the bills paid prior to the meeting amounted to $133,930.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

COOKING HALIBUT.

HALIBUT is a fish that is desirable for the summer table. It is light and easily digested.

When fried, halibut should be cut in slices less than an inch thick.

There must be plenty of butter, oil or drippings in the frying pan, and it should not be hot before the fish is put in.

When baked there must be enough butter to keep the fish moist.

To Whet the Appetite.

Steamed Halibut.—Select a nice piece of halibut. Put it on and let steam. When it is hot remove the skin and return fish to the steamer. Steam from one-half to one hour, according to size. Make a cream gravy and pour over just before serving. Garnish with hard boiled eggs and sliced lemons.

Grilled Halibut.—Have some nice cutlets about an inch thick, clean and wipe dry, sprinkle with salt and stand for three hours. Brush them lightly with oil, place on a hot gridiron and grill for ten minutes or more. Send to table very hot with a little lemon juice squeezed over and some fried parsley as a garnish.

Uses For Cold Fish.

Minced Halibut.—Take a pound of halibut, remove skin and bones and chop fine. Mix this with four tablespoonfuls of creamed butter. Then add two tablespoonfuls of milk, a teaspoonful of salt, a little pepper and a few drops of onion juice. Shape the mixture into thin, flat cakes, roll in fine sifted breadcrumbs, then in an egg beaten with a tablespoonful of cold water and again in crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat and drain on brown paper.

Serve with a sauce made from the bits of fish and stewed and strained tomato in equal quantities. For one cup of each melt four level tablespoonfuls of butter and add the same amount of flour. When combined stir in the liquid and boil for three minutes, then add one-half cup of cream and season highly with salt and pepper.

Bisque of Halibut.—Boil a pound of halibut. When done free it from skin and bone and chop it fine. Stir the fish into a quart of white stock, add salt, pepper and a little minced parsley. Rub a tablespoonful of butter into one of flour and cook these together, adding a cupful of milk very gradually. When it thickens add a half cupful of cracker crumbs, finely powdered, and the fish stock. Boil and serve hot.

MODISH MATTERS.

Cutaway Styles to Be Seen This Autumn—Long Sleeves the Thing.

Advanced styles of tailored suits for autumn show long cutaway coats, braid bound.

The new long sleeves have frills around the wrist and nearly to the elbow.

Some fine suits show brocaded silks and tapestries for trimming.

In spite of the fact that long, straight lines are still correct ones,

—"I hate flattery," she said. "Of course you do,' he replied. "Every pretty girl does." Then she drew a long, deep sigh and permitted him to press her cheek against his own.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Good Form

The Card Party.

Cards are a source of unending interest to most women and many men, and the hostess who selects a card game as the basis for her entertainment is pretty sure of meeting with success.

When giving a card party it is well to provide prizes, as in this way the hostess may let her guests know that she does not expect them to play for money.

To invite people to your house and then oblige them to do something of which they may disapprove is an unpardonable offense against good manners as well as good morals. It also shows a lack of consideration for the young men and women who cannot afford to lose money. A girl can often escape by making some excuse, but for a man, who is supposed to be independent in money matters, this is more difficult. As debts contracted at cards are not recognized by the law and are therefore held to be debts of honor, a young man in poor circumstances who is forced by a thoughtless hostess to incur such a liability is placed in a most unpleasant predicament.

Since expensive prizes create envy and bad feeling, it is better to select pretty trifles that please by their novelty, beauty or oddity, rather than by their money value. The exact cost of these gifts will vary somewhat in accordance with the means of the giver and her friends.

It would be in bad taste for the wife of a man living on a small salary to offer a prize that might be given without impropriety by the wife of a man with large means and rich associates. One's circle of acquaintance usually knows more accurately than one supposes the amount of income the hostess possesses and criticises any display of extravagance. The well bred woman tries to avoid the two extremes of meanness and ostentation.

It is now thought best not to show the prizes until the end of the evening, and the consolation ones are awarded by lot rather than to the poorest player.

It is important to have the seats of the right height so that the guests may be comfortable. Dining room chairs are better for the purpose than those usually found in a drawing room, the latter being too low and often to cumbrous. Light gilt chairs and card tables may be hired. If ordinary small tables are used they should be covered with a cloth to prevent the cards from slipping.

The hostess herself does not play at a card party unless it should be necessary to fill a vacancy. It would be awkward for a late comer on her arrival to find every one deeply absorbed in cards and no one free to welcome and talk to her. The lady of the house moves about among her guests to see that all are comfortable, well placed and not exposed to drafts.

Manners.

Every one is familiar with the story of an accomplished host who drank out of his finger bowl to save an unsophisticated guest from embarrassment. This is offset by the social kindness and tact of a certain physician, famous alike for courtesy and skill. A countryman, coming early one morning for the doctor, was kept for breakfast. At the table the countryman poured his hot coffee into his saucer and set his cup on the immaculate damask beside it. Then he looked around the large table only to perceive that he alone had done this. But before the flush could fairly show in his face the doctor had likewise poured his coffee into his saucer and set the cup beside it, to the evident great relief of his guest. There is a saying in the Talmud that he who causes another to blush is as if he shed that other's blood. And so, conversely, he who spares or shields another's blush saves some wounding of the spirit. For good manners really call for much chivalry, much heroic self control and living for the moment in the experience of another. For as soon as we go below the surface we find that manners are one with morals, since the taproot of both is the same. That famous order of Grant's by which Lee was spared the soldier's pain of surrendering his sword is a happy instance of the "best" manners, since it combines chivalry and magnanimity alike, a full appreciation of the situation with a fine consideration for another's feelings.

Good Form in Dress.

It is hardly possible to put the whole matter of good form in dress into a series of stated rules, for it frequently happens that over dress is as much an error of judgment as dress of too informal character. Therefore, the sense of exact proportion, perfect fitness for the time, place and occasion is the important element of good taste in dress. There are instances in the life of every man and woman when the question of just what to wear was a more or less perplexing one. The exact hour, the object, the character of the entertainment, the manner of life and ideas of one's host or hostess, the locality—all these enter into the matter of dress—and while in the great majority of cases there can be no doubt whatever, in others the question must be decided entirely by circumstances and common sense. But it should always be remembered in cases where there is the least doubt that full dress is the safe rule for an evening affair.

CLOSE FITTING HOUSE JACKET.

A DAINTY negligee is illustrated here. Its close fitting lines commend it to those who do not like the kimono and its kind. The jacket is cut on simple lines and is fitted with inside casings, through which narrow ribbons are run. Then when the garment is put on it may be drawn snugly about the waist and the ribbons tied invisibly.

THE WAY WITH WOMEN.

A woman's sense of humor is a treacherous thing. It deserts her when she has most need of it—when she is in love.

The chief trouble with life is that we usually refrain from learning its lessons till it is too late for them to be of any use to us.

It was a cynic who said that the wedding march was a splendid battle hymn. As a matter of fact, he was right—musically speaking.

A man's manner before marriage is as much like his manner after as the bicycle in the shop is like the one you have used for a few months.

MOTOR GARB.

An Outfit That Is Both Chic and Fashionable.

This handsome automobiling outfit shows what fashionable women favor at this time. The coat is of gray and white, the stripes being adjusted to give a skirt and coat effect at the sides. The deep revers, the collar and the cuffs are faced with gray suede with piping of white. Large black and white buttons embellish the front. A soft white hat trimmed with a band of gray and white ribbon, a gray veil and white buttoned boots complete the outfit.

Simple Disinfectant.

For disinfecting the sickroom take half a cupful of common salt and two or three ounces of sulphuric acid. Upon the salt pour one-half ounce of the acid and stir. Every fifteen minutes repeat this until all the acid is used.

Tainted meats, fish or other stuffs can be purified by being confined in a tight box with salt and sulphuric acid.

All effluvia of an animal nature can be removed from a room by burning pulverized coffee upon a fire shovel.

—The man who is willing to admit he may be in the wrong generally isn't.

NOVEL PINCUSHIONS.

They May Be Made With a Napkin Ring.

An unusual and decidedly charming pincushion for a desk or writing table can be made from an old silver napkin ring.

Wind zephyr until you have a ball large enough to slip into the ring and be quite tight. Cut a circle of soft silk two inches wider in circumference than the opening of the ring and place this over one side of the ball.

Now press this through the ring until the silk side rises above the edge of the ring. Cut a circle of cardboard the exact size of the ring and glue it to the bottom of the zephyr ball so that the ring stands flat on it, and you have a cushion that can be made new in a few minutes when the silk becomes soiled.

A cushion made from a carved wooden ring or one of the many fancy and curious Japanese rings is a pretty gift for any one.

THE RUBBER PLANT.

How to Make It Throw Out Many Graceful Branches.

A rubber plant grows in one stalk. To make it throw out numerous branches take a sharp knife and cut the stalk about six inches from the top, then take a little mud and place it over the end of the stalk and tie a little piece of cloth over it in order to prevent the mud from sliding off.

This will prevent the plant from "bleeding to death." As a result the plant will put forth new shoots all the way up the stalk. Take the part that was cut off from the top and plant it in another pot.

This will take root and you will have another rubber plant if it is given plenty of water. If the leaves are washed with clean water occasionally they will shine and the plant will be healthier.

Gifts For Baby.

Fascinating displays are made in notions for the baby, and each article can be bought in either blue or pink.

Little hot water bags are covered now with an outer bag of satin or china silk, decorated with little sprays of flowers in water color. Sleeve elastics are run in a satin ribbon, finished with a tiny satin daisy. There is also a small board covered with art canvas and painted in a dainty design. This has dependent from it three ribbons, each ribbon finished with a bone ring and in each ring are clasped graded safety pins. The board is made to hang against the wall. A gorgeous new record for baby days is bound in blue moire silk and is called "The New Baby."

Household Glues.

A glue for glass may be made as follows: Dissolve isinglass in alcohol, then mix over the fire in warm water and stir until it is of a proper glue consistency.

A glue for china is made by mixing rice powder to a paste with water and boiling one minute.

To make a glue which remains liquid dissolve ordinary glue in whisky instead of water. It will always be liquid and ready for use.

Kitchen Aprons.

To make kitchen aprons last twice as long make a seam down the front. Then when the front is wearing thin sew the two sides of the apron together and open the front seam and you have practically a new apron.

To prevent pockets from catching on doorknobs and tearing put them on wrong side of apron.

FINAL CONTESTS IN MFG. ORGANIZATION

The Spicer and P. S. C. Teams Will Play the Preliminary At Crescent Oval.

Tomorrow's trio of games will conclude the official schedule of the Manufacturers' Baseball League but there are several postponed games to be played off and the organization will probably live until the first or second week in September. In the event of the R. G. E. combination scoring 2 wins over the Saurer bunch tomorrow it will greatly strengthen its claim for the championship title and the games tomorrow would practically cinch it. The Banks and Commercials will fight it out between them and this may decide whether or not the Clerks are entitled to the runner-up position. What promises to be the best and hardest fought game will be the one between the Spicers and Public Service teams who play the preliminary contest on Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon. These two teams are a couple of the most evenly matched aggregations in the organization and bitter personal rivalry exists between them. This will determine the outcome of third place and both of these teams have their eyes open for this position.

THREE FAST GAMES IN BIBLE SCHOOL LEAGUE

Organization's Schedule Rapidly Nearing Completion.

The Sunday-school league contestants will return to their regular schedule tomorrow afternoon and a series of three games will be played off. The league race is more than half over and from now on the teams in the first division will have to play a high grade of ball in order to be in the running at the finish.

In order to hold its berth on the top rung the Monroe Avenue team will have to go the limit in its game with Hope Chapel tomorrow as the Chapelites are traveling along at a fast clip just at present and have gotten the idea that nothing can stop them in their dash for the pennant. Captain Grisley, of the Hopes, has had his men out to regular practices and has been drilling them steadily for one of their hardest contests of the season which is scheduled for tomorrow.

Another good game will be the one between First Baptist and Park Avenue. Both of these nines are putting up a fast article of ball and the result may have some direct effect on the outcome of the race.

Temple Baptist seem to have come into their own lately and the contest with South Plainfield tomorrow should be a spirited one as the village nine is always hailed as a fighter and Temple Baptist can also fight when it feels in the humor.

FISHING NOTES.

Newark bay assumed a natural appearance last week, when dozens of rowboats containing crabbing parties could be seen dotting the water from the Hackensack river plank road bridge to Elizabethport. The best of the catches were made on the flood tide, as the crabs could not stand the polluted water when the tide flowed out. At Elizabethport many of the crabbing parties brought in as high as 300 large crabs, and at Seawaren it would have been no trouble to fill a rowboat in a day.

The oldest of the old-time fishermen on the fishing steamer Taurus actually grew tired of pulling in humpback sea bass last Tuesday. When two-thirds of the catch are fish that weigh over five pounds, it must become tiresome pulling them in with a pound lead attached to twenty fathoms of heavy line.

The discovery on the part of a fishing boat owner that there were plenty of fluke feeding in the Ambrose Channel has caused many other boat owners to go no further with their parties. On the Frances Etta, last Sunday, the largest catch was fifty-seven fluke that weighed over two hundred pounds. The lowest catch was fourteen fish, and it was all the fisherman cared to carry home.

Surf fishermen will find plenty to do if they fish from the beach between Spring Lake Beach and Como. There is a life-saving station along there, and the fishing has been wonderfully good in front of the house. Bluefish, kingfish, weakfish and striped bass were taken there in large numbers all of last week.

There is a long arm of land extending out from Keyport which forms a series of sand bars as the tides rush against the arm. It is called East Point, and for many years it has a favorite fishing ground for men who go out in power or rowboats. Last week the first of the weakfish appeared there and with them came a number of kingfish. Captain Edward Bloodgood, of Morgan Station, located the fish last Tuesday and the news soon spread. Boats from Keyport and Morgan and some from Staten Island points appeared there as if by magic, and they all left with fish.

Ocean or surf fishing from Sandy Hook to Cape May is attracting anglers from all the neighboring States It is practically a new sport with Pennsylvania and New York men, but with such large schools of kingfish and fluke along the coast, even the novice has no trouble in catching a fair quantity of fish to take home When the kingfish find their way to the Hook they must be plentiful, while the fluke are always in the surf in season. Down Point Pleasant way the large bluefish are feeding in the surf, where they find young moss bunkers and spearing, and anglers from as far north as Asbury Park journey there to catch them.

CAN'T CATCH INFANTILE PARALYSIS FROM CATS

Washington, Aug. 16.—That there is no danger of catching infantile paralysis from cats was the assurance of the United States Public Health Service today, in answer to the report from Springfield, Mass., that the Board of Health there believes the epidemic of that disease now raging at Buffalo and other cities may have had its origin in feline pets.

Passed Assistant Surgeon W. H. Frist, of Buffalo, who has made a special study of the disease, reported that it is not traceable to any animal and his colleagues here agreed with him today.

MR. O'POSSUM ESCAPES FROM THE CITY LOCKUP

A prisoner escaped from police headquarters last evening and there was much commotion when its absence was discovered. Mr. 'Opossum is the name of the prisoner and his incarceration was voluntary, he having surrendered without the formality of a warrant. It is believed that the charge to be preferred this morning by Patrolman Sweeney was to have been one of vagrancy for Mr. 'Opossum seemed to have no visible means of support.

The evening before it had timidly entered headquarters and silently besought shelter for the night. This concession being granted it lay down behind the door and went asleep. All night it slept and all next day. "Dan" McDonald sketched and Detective Flynn took 'Possum's "picture" while it slept. Sweeney was the last to see Opossum, which he said reminded him of a leprauchan he had once seen in "droll Donegal." $100 has been offered for its apprehension dead or alive. The description issued by the intelligence department is as follows: Face long and sharp; stubbly beard and side whiskers; hair gray and prickly; no hat; heavy gray frieze coat; age uncertain.

Our business is negotiating small or large loans for people keeping house.

We charge a reasonable service fee, arrange payments either weekly or monthly, and give each customer a memorandum of agreement.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Lest you may have forgotten it within the last two weeks, there will be several attractions out in the direction of Parker Field tomorrow afternoon. On one side of the board fence there will be one of the best baseball games played on the Oval in many moons and on the other side the sunny sons of Scotland will perform in their annual athletic meet.

Manager Dorflinger is making great preparations to sidetrack the whole crowd to the Oval Saturday afternoon and says that the Highlanders' games can be seen just as well from the Oval anyway. What is the use of going another block?

No attempt will be made to rope off the field tomorrow to hold back the crowd.

Neither will there be any effort to keep the fans from viewing the game in airships now that that craze has taken a hold on the local inhabitants.

There was some thought of having taxis run between the Central Railroad station and the grounds to accommodate the Bound Brook fans, but inability to get the cars has dissipated that idea.

No, the Central Railroad will not use special trains to convey to the grounds those fans from the "up country way."

The management will not engage a brass band to enliven the occasion; the fellow in the bleachers back of home plate makes enough noise for that.

Eddie Stallings says that if the visiting outfielders do not bring along compasses tomorrow they will get lost looking for the ball where he hits it.

Elaborate plans are being made for the fall opening of the peanut stand at the Oval. Three workmen have been engaged to plaster the eyes of the proprietor so that they will be in the blackest of condition for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Simonovitch Bladeks, of Bound Brook, are among the first to apply to Manager Dorflinger to have a "box" reserved.

"Line forms on this side."

Might as well tell you now, you'll hear it Saturday afternoon anyway.

As we were saying there should be some bunch, or mob, at the contest.

That Spicer-P. S. C. warming up affair should be some attraction in itself.

Wouldn't be surprised to see many of the officials in the front row.

TRIPLE BILL AT CRESCENT OVAL

Bound Brook Will Meet Plainfield In the Main Attraction.

ARMLESS PHENOM HERE

Spicer and P. S. C. Teams to Engage In Preliminary Struggle—Manager Dorflinger Will Have An International League Twirler In Reserve

Tomorrow will be a big day in the direction of Crescent Oval and not the least of the attractions will be the second game of the much talked of and speculated on series between the Bound Brook and Plainfield baseball teams. The first contest went to Bound Brook on the famous "tin can" diamond when they overwhelmed the Plainfield crowd and pounded the offerings of Frederickson to the four corners of the lot. Both nines will have their regular lineup on the field and this will further add to the interest already displayed in the affair as the supporters of both aggregations are anxious to see which is the better team. Manager Dorflinger will be prepared for such a situation as sprang up in the first game between these two nines when the Plainfield twirler was knocked from the box and Eddie Stallings had to be brought in from the outfield to take up the box work. Although Dorflinger does not look forward to a reoccurrence of this hitting streak on the part of Bound Brook he has signed up Barberich, one of the best twirlers in the International League, to warm the bench. Barberich has been pitching for the Providence team of that organization and will be ready to go into the box at a moment's notice tomorrow. Slocum will wear a Bound Brook uniform in the pitcher's box, and with these two strikeout kings occupying the center of the field at once it should prove a little side show in itself.

Frank McKeown,

Armless Baseball Phenom.

The Bound Brook bunch are a crowd of natural hitters and any twirler is up against it when he faces them. Freddy is particularly in a hole as the "Bees" pounded the curves of the Plainfield youngster to the four corners of the farm, on which the last game was played.

One of the features of the afternoon on the Oval will be the appearance of Frank McKeown, the armless ball player, who will give a ten minute exhibition before the big show. McKeown travels about the country giving demonstrations of what an athlete can do without arms, fingers or hands, and always draws a big crowd of ardent admirers. The armless phenom lost his salary wings in an accident in the Passaic rubber factory a number of years ago and since that time has been perfecting the art of playing baseball under the greatest of difficulties. He has since learned to shave himself, eat with a knife and fork, write his own letters, play ball, play the piano and roll cigarettes.

His latest accomplishment is to play the national pastime without the use of his fingers, hands and arms and the way he does it always excites considerable interest among his watchers.

The third feature of the afternoon on Crescent Oval, but the one which will lead off the festivities, will be a preliminary contest between two of the fastest aggregations in the Manufacturers' Baseball League and as a warming up affair a contest of that kind could not be equalled to satisfy those who have a habit of hiking it out to the Oval immediately after lunch. The "prelim" will be taken care of by the Spicer and P. S. C. baseball teams and should be a hot one, as both of these aggregations are traveling along at a fast clip and both have the idea that their team should end the season in third place in the league standing. The first contest will be called at 2 o'clock and the line-ups of the two factory aggregations will be as follows:

Public Service—Carrol, 1b; Carner, 2b; Scheffer, c; Coriell, 3b; S. Montross, lf; Houston, rf; Moulton, cf; Mullin, ss; Montross, p.

The main attraction will take the field as follows:

Umpire—Cullien.

DUNELLEN GOES TO RARITAN TOMORROW

Rubber Game Between These Two Rivals Promises to Be Hot One.

Manager Bob Bogardus and his combination of ball tossers will journey to Raritan tomorrow afternoon and engage in a rubber contest with the team of that place. The Dunellenites are putting up a gilt-edged article of ball just at present and are hopeful of taking the rival bunch into camp at that time. The Dunellenites' outfield will be strengthened by the addition of Wolfe, the former Somervillian, who will in the future appear in a Dunellen uniform. Wolfe was one of the best hitters in the eCntral New Jersey League last season and will prove a valuable addition to the Dunellen clan. He is also a remarkably fine outfielder and covers a large amount of territory. The infield will also receive a shake-up by the absence of plucky little Billy Coyle who is a prominent figure around the shortstop position. Coyle is out of the city and his place will be supplied by either DeNitzio or Frank Evans, of this city. The rest of the lineup will remain as usual with Warry McLaughlin on the mound and Dixon behind the bat. A large number of Dunellen fans are expected to accompany the home nine to Raritan and will leave with the team early in the afternoon.

The two teams will take the field as follows:

Raritan—Kraft p, Hand c, Porter, 1b, F. Hickey 2b, Mattie ss, Conti 3b, Cunnningham lf, T. Hickey cf, Smith or Lockwood rf.

TILT BETWEEN RIVAL MANAGERS

Misunderstanding In Regard to the Sunday Game Scheduled for 'Plains.

BOGARDUS VS. ALBERTS

Both Magnates Have Their Own Ideas of the Affair—Non de Plume May Be Resorted to—Letter From Alberts.

Although Joe Alberts, who manages the Scotch Plains baseball team, has advertised a game with the Dunellen baseball team for next Sunday afternoon, Bob Bogardus, who looks after the business end of the latter combination says that he has not been consulted about such a contest and no team playing under the Dunellen name will appear at the 'Plains on Sunday. Bob is not an advocate of Sunday baseball and no team under his management will play the game on this day. When seen by a Plainfield Daily Press reporter, last night, Bogardus had the following comment to make: "I do not see where the Scotch Plains management got the idea that my ballplayers would play as a Dunellen team at the 'Plains on Sunday afternoon and as far as I am concerned, do not care. For my part, I will agree to no such contest and if my players have signed up a game of their own accord with Alberts' nine, they will have to play under an assumed name and I will have nothing to do with the contest. I have only seen one game of Sunday baseball in my life and it was such a rank failure that I never want to see another. I have no objection to my players earning an extra salary on the Sabbath or any other day provided they do not in any way affiliate me in their plans by playing under the name of a team which I am personally responsible for."

Bogardus appeared to be very much wrought up over the affair last evening, and it is probable that the game will be played under an assumed name, as Bob is well liked by all his charges and none of them would willingly do anything to hurt his feelings.

As this little note is being scribbled off a letter from Joe Alberts comes to light with his side of the question, and he has the following to say about the affair.

"Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 16, '12.

"To the Sporting Editor:

"Dear Sir:

"Just a few lines to let you know that Mr. Bogardus is a little worked up over the game scheduled for Sunday afternoon and he says that they will change the name of the team and release every man that takes part in this game. Brit Martin has informed me that he will be on the job with the regular aggregation. Mr. Bogardus also says that this is a scheme to get his team up here but I want the Dunellen manager to understand that I do not have to scheme to get his men to line up against mine. Brit Martin asked me for the game and I gave it to him under the name of Dunellen, and that is the way the game will be played on Sunday. The preliminary contest will be between the West End A. C. and the Saurer team of the Manufacturers' baseball league, and the main attraction between Scotch Plains and 'Dunellen' will start at 3:15.

"The umpire for the occasion will be James Monahan, of Plainfield.

"As long as the team wants to play Sunday without Mr. Bogardus as manager, the latter ought not to begrudge it to them.

"Yours truly,

"Joseph Alberts,

"Mgr. Scotch Plains Baseball Team."

WESTFIELD AND HYATTS AT RECREATION PARK

Manager Eddie Flynn of the Westfield baseball team, has signed up the Hyatts for his attraction at Recreation Park tomorrow afternoon, and one of the best games of the season is expected. The Hyatts are the champions of the Newark Manufacturers' League and have a large following of rooters who will be out in large numbers to cheer their team at Westfield. Special cars, that will pass close to the ball grounds, have been chartered to convey the Hyatt rooters to Westfield, and taken all together, it looks like a big day for Mt. Ararat. Ortlieb and Gallen will be the battery for the home nine and the rest of the lineup will remain unchanged.

GIANTS WIN IN THE FIRST FROM THE CUBS

The Yankees' team of the Parker Field Baseball League took a one-sided game from the Cubs' aggregation at the playground yesterday morning by the score of 11 to 8. The winners got a quinte of their scores in the initial round and from then on the game was all their own although the Cubs picked up considerable lost ground in the last few innings. The winner's pitchers allowed but four scattered hits between them and held the situation well in hand at all stages of the contest. The offerings of the Cubs' moundsmen were easy for the Yankees who counted up fourteen bingles, and these together with the seven misplays, made by the opposing fielders were enough to sew up the game. Hamilton, Deady and Schillinger took the hitting laurels, getting a trio of hits each and these three also did good work in the field for their team.

Sure, It's Your Money But Why Waste It On Inferior Clothing

And Franklin was right.

SWITZERLAND PLEASED

Miss Agnes McWilliams Tells of Travels Through Land of Picturesque Mountains—An Experience With Customs Officer.

Letters which have been printed in the Daily Press have described the trip to Europe which six young women took as guests of this newspaper. The party returned home on Tuesday, and since their arrival, Miss Agnes McWilliams, of Raritan, has sent a letter for publication describing the trip during the week from July 18 to 25, which is the only period that has not been told of in these columns. Miss McWilliams writes as follows:

Continuing where Miss Leighs finished her letter July 18, it gives me great pleasure to give you an account of the next week of travel.

July 18—

We left the hotel Ruth du Rhin, Lucerne, at 9:45 and boarded a train for our journey to Interlaken, via Brunig Pass, Meiringen and Brieuz. The railway over the Brunig Pass is partly narrow gauge and partly rack and pinion, and our train was divided in three parts.

The route commands a view of most magnificent mountain scenery. Beginning at Lucerne, the railway lies close to the Lake of Alpnach and passes the beautiful Lakes of Sarnen and Lungern; goes through woods and across ravines to the summit of Brunig Pass, 3,379 feet high. Here an enchanting view meets the sight, lakes, waterfalls, snow covered mountains, and a splendid outline of the Bernese Alps in the distance, while near the train one is greeted by a profusion of flowers, principally crimson ramblers and blooming in the middle of July too. Here and there the pretty little cottages of the peasants with their bright red roofs gave a touch of color to the charming landscape. At Lungern we saw a fine Catholic church with a terraced cemetery adjoining. We were so near the snowcapped mountains and at such a height that we could feel a decided change in the atmosphere.

We stopped at Brunig to have lunch and about 1:30 p. m. we resumed our journey. As the train descends the lovely valley of Meiringen meets your eye, and this is beautiful beyond description. Looking up you have the most wonderful mountain scenery, glaciers, gorges and rippling cascades that look like ribbons of silver; the slopes are covered with fields of grain of such variety and so symmetrical their lines, that they look like a patchwork quilt; while below in all its verdant beauty, is Meiningen, so distant that the dwellings look like toy houses. I have never seen such beautiful trees as at this point—endless in variety, towering in height and so perfectly straight that they look like sentinels guarding this fairyland of Alpine grandeur. Near Meirnigen is the remarkable gorge which the river Aar has carved through a hill.

The altitude was so great it affected my hearing, the sound in my ears being like the roar of the sea.

We reached Brienz about 2 o'clock and here the boat "Jungfrau" awaited us to take us across the lake to Interlaken.

Lake Brienz is charming, the water being of a whitish-green, or, as our party decided after a great deal of discussion, that it was matrix green, and is entirely surrounded by mountains. At one point we saw where an avalanche, or land-slide, occurred and later passed Giessbach Falls of thirteen cascades. Here some of our passengers got off. It was a pretty spot with large hotels that looked very inviting. There were so many places along our line of travel that we expressed a desire of visiting, if we stopped at all of them, I fear we would not reach home until Christmas. However, we continued on our way to Interlaken, and reached our hotel, the Beau Site, at 4 o'clock. It was splendidly located and from our windows an ideal view of the Jungfrau—the "Queen of the Alps" on the right and the Monch on the left was enjoyed. Here again we experienced the novelty of roses blooming outside the windows while snow and ice were so near as to be easily distinguished with the naked eye. Right here, let me remark that no country can compare with Switzerland in scenic grandeur and the further we traveled the more favorably were we impressed—every new stopping place surpassed the previous one.

Interlaken is a popular summer resort and lies in a beautiful glen between Lakes Brienz and Thun as its name implies. The principal avenue is the Hoheneg, lined with walnut trees, and along here are the best hotels and shops. Speaking of shops, I would advise any tourist to wait until reaching Interlaken for the purchase of embroideries, as they outclass those of Lucerne both in price and quality.

After dinner that evening, the 18th, we decided to go to the Kursaal, the pleasure park of the town where balls, concerts, etc., take place during the season in the large building therein. We enjoyed the concert given by a band of about 75 musicians. There is a spacious ballroom where one may trip the "light fantastic," and a gambling room for those with sporting proclivities. I will not enlighten our friends as to where we spent our time, let it suffice to say, we voted the Kursaal a right good place to spend an evening.

The gardens of the Grussal are most attractive, one thing particularly claimed our attention, the clock. It was fashioned from plants and flowers of various colors and so designed that the figures for the minutes and even the seconds were plainly visible. It had large gilt hands and kept perfect time. Back of this was a small rustic house covered with vines and blossoms and in it were five tiny brownies with hammers in their hands, and in front of each, what looked like mush-rooms and proved to be bells. At very hour these funny little men played a tune on the bells and then the largest one, in a most solemn manner, tolled the hour. It was a most unique timepiece and very "striking" as well. In the afternoon the place is crowded with people having afternoon tea while listening to the delightful music..

On Friday morning, the 19th, we arose to find it raining very hard and I can assure you we were disappointed as arrangements had been made for our excursion to Grindelwald. Hoping it would clear off, we started on our way. We rode for an hour through the picturesque valley of the Grindelwald with the rushing current and many rapids of the river Lutschine visible nearby all the way. We ascended a steep mountain grade with the cogs again in use and as we looked down into the deep ravine we thought, with a shudder, what would happen to us should an accident occur here.

We reached Grindelwald in safety, and here we were transferred to carriages and rode to the glacier situated near the Wetterbory which is grand, with fields of snow and ice everywhere, and it reaches the point of sublimity when, after a walk of twenty minutes, the ice cave is reached. Here is a huge mass of greenish-blue ice, large enough for persons to walk in to a distance of 45 feet or more, and is still being further extended.

We returned to Grindelwald proper, and had a splendid lunch at the Beau Site hotel, after which we boarded a train and reached Interlaken about 4 o'clock, having greatly enjoyed the trip in spite of the inclement weather. We finished the day shopping and were a weary lot of tourists when we retired for the night.

Arose early next morning, the 20th, had breakfast at 6:30 and left on the Bernese Oberland Railway at 8 o'clock en route to Geneva. The ride brought us close to the shore of beautiful Lake Thun and as it was a bright, sunshiny morning, everything was at its best. At 9:45 we stopped at Beru, the capital of Switzerland and it looked like a very busy city. We arrived in Lausanne about noon, took a cable car for the lake front, had lunch at the Beau-Rivage Hotel which, by the way, is a very handsome one, and about 2:30 we took a boat for our trip across the lake to Geneva.

Lake Geneva is a magnificent sheet of water, half moon in shape, with an area of 225 square miles and is 1,230 feet above sea level. The water is a deep blue, and has many rises and falls, hence a strong current. After a delightful, though cool trip, we reached Geneva about 5 o'clock and went at once to the International Hotel. After dinner, Miss Leighs and I went out for a walk, and stopped to look in a window when I heard someone remark, "Germany is the place to buy them!" and I thought, "that voice sounds familiar." Looking around we saw Miss Murphy and Miss Bovel, (two fellow-passengers on the Merion with whom we were very well acquainted) admiring meerschaum pipes. It was a very pleasant surprise to us as we had not seen them since leaving the Merion, they going over an entirely different route. We had a pleasant evening together and also went to church next day, Sunday, Miss Leighs and Miss Bovel to St. Peter's Cathedral, where Calvin at one time preached, and Miss Murphy and I went to the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

Sunday afternoon, Misses Smith, Leighs, Bovel, Murphy and I went for a carriage drive through the city. We saw among other things the Avenue de Bastions, Conservatory of Music, Grand Theatre, University, Chamber of Commerce, Jewish Synagogue, which is of a beautiful though uncommon style of architecture; Great Power House, Duke of Brunswick Monument, Ronsseau's home, Hotel De Ville, founded in the 15th century, and the Cathedral in 1024. Geneva is famed for its handsome quays along the lake and rivers which afford splendid promenades and needless to say, we found them very much to our liking and from which we had a view of Mt. Blanc in the distance. We visited Mon Repos park, a most attractive spot, and also saw where the waters of the Rhine and Arve meet.

The next morning, the 22d, our Conductor informed us we could spend as we liked and all chose "shopping" as our pastime. Geneva is noted for its manufacture of watches and jewelry, and the shops certainly appealed to us, so I can safely say there are fewer watches, trinkets, etc., in Geneva because of our stay. In the afternoon, carriages were supplied, and the Cook party, including Misses Howard, Vail, Smith, Hudson and Leighs, were taken out sight-seeing, the route covering the places already mentioned. In the evening the usual routine was gone through, writing, chatting and inspecting the purchases of our friends.

On Tuesday, July 23rd, we left our hotel at 12:45 after enjoying our luncheon. We were entertained while eating by musicians playing on stringed instruments, and a woman singing. One of the numbers rendered was "The Stars and Stripes Forever," which carried us back in fancy to the dear old U. S. A., so you can rest assured it received hearty applause.

We traveled to Paris, via Lausanne, and were due to arrive at midnight. At 5:30 we arrived in Bontalier, and here the Customs officer came through and gave us the most vigorous search of any we had. He spied my large suit case and requested that I open it, after which he dumped nearly everything out of it. He picked up a silver cigarette case, I had purchased for a friend, and opened it to see if any cigarettes were there. Failing in this, he attacked my camera next, and after examining thoroughly, said, "Photography?" to which I replied in the affirmative.

With a few extra tosses and disarranging things in general, he left me, and I had my hands full for some time getting things back to where they used to be. We had dinner on the train and set our watches back one hour. We reached the gay and handsome metropolis at 12 o'clock and were conveyed to our hotel. On the way one of our carriages collided with an automobile, the one, Ida, Ethel, Agnes and I were in, and though it frightened us considerably no one was hurt. Upon reaching the Windsor Hotel we all retired, rather weary after our day's travel.

Next morning, July 24th, our conductor told us we were to have this day to ourselves, so as usual we made up our minds to look around and get "located." We went out for a walk and looked in some of the shops but did not purchase. On our way home, we visited the Catholic church of St. Augustine and were just in time to witness a marriage ceremony. After lunch we went out shopping, visited the Au Printemps, La Fayette Galleries, Bon Marche and Louvre, and made several purchases, chiefly in the millinery line, as a Paris hat was something we all coveted ownership.

After dinner each followed her own inclination in the way of pastime for the evening. For my part I went out with a friend who was staying in Paris for some time. We drove through the principal boulevards, the Champs Elysses, etc., and it is along these wondreful thoroughfares the full tide of the incomparable Parisian life flows day and night, a marvellous living picture. Here are its great hotels, most splendid shops, and celebrated cafes, in front of which all Paris spends its leisure and takes its recreation in public. No other city affords such a variety and abundance of attractions, and before we left it, we saw everything of importance in the way of architecture, fine arts and recreation that the capital offered, and which will be described in detail by Miss Hudson.

This completes the account of my week of travel and I regret that I could not forward it sooner, but to do more than take notes while traveling and waiting until on the sea, homeward bound, to write it up.

Our trip has been one grand round of pleasure, intensely interesting and covering a route that was all any one could desire. We all feel deeply grateful to you, the editors of the Plainfield Daily Press, for the opportunity afforded us, and I thank you most heartily.

One of the pleasant features of our whole journey was our congenial party, viz: the four prize winners and our chaperone, Miss Howard, and I hope that the new ties of friendship thus formed will remain unbroken.

Lastly, I want to again thank my friends whose assistance secured for me this never to be forgotten vacation, and whose welcome greeting, "I am glad to see you safely home again," is of more real value than the treasurers of the Old World so recently visited.

AGNES H. McWILLIAMS.

The "Copper."

There are two theories as to the source of the term "cop" or "copper," the familiar name for an officer of the law in the mouth of the mischievous gamin. One derives it from the letters C. O. P.—central office police—but the other and more usual explanation of the word is that it referred to the eight point star made of copper and surrounded by a copper ring worn by the Metropolitan police of New York in the late [illegible]. This badge, a huge affair, which was fastened to the buttonhole by a chain about four inches long, was later superseded by a special badge of smaller size.

For His Own Pleasure.

"I suppose your wife was more than delighted at your raise of salary, wasn't she?" asked Jones of Brown.

"I haven't told her yet, but she will be when she knows it," answered Brown.

"How is it that you haven't told her?"

"Well, I thought I would enjoy myself a couple of weeks first."—Judge.

Cupid's Recall.

"Father, what do you think of the recall?"

"Well, my dear, I hardly know. Some people think it is dangerous. But why do you ask?"

"I sent Ferdy away last night, and now I'm sorry."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

LIGHTS THAT FAILED.

Gloom Reigned When Thackeray and Charlotte Bronte Met.

Those do not always shine who should, as many a chagrined host or hostess has found out. Amusing in retrospect, if quite otherwise at the moment, must have been the occasion when Charlotte Bronte, "the little lady from Yorkshire of whom all England was talking," appeared at the London house of the author of "Vanity Fair." The story is told in Lewis Melville's "The Thackeray Country."

Thackeray gave a dinner party to meet Charlotte Bronte in June, 1850, and among the guests were the Carlyles, the Procters, the Brookfields, Mr. Crowe, Miss Eliot and Miss Perry.

"It was a gloomy and silent evening," Lady Ritchie has recorded. "Every one waited for the brilliant conversation which never began at all.

"Miss Bronte returned to the sofa in the study and murmured a low word now and then to our governess, Miss Truelock. The room looked very dark; the lamp began to smoke a little; the conversation grew dimmer and more dim; the ladies sat round still expectant. My father was too much perturbed by the gloom and the silence to be able to cope with it at all. Mrs. Brookfield, who was in the corner in which Miss Bronte was sitting, bent forward with a little commonplace, since brilliance was not to be the order of the evening.

"'Do you like London, Miss Bronte?' she asked. Another silence, a pause; then Miss Bronte answered very gravely:

"'Yes—no.'

"After Miss Bronte had left I was surprised to see my father opening the front door with his hat on. He put his finger to his lips, walked out into the darkness and shut the door quietly behind him. Overcome by the gloom and constraint, he was running away to his club."

FUGITIVE SLAYERS SEND POST CARD

MESSAGE GOES TO WEBBER

Mailed In Methuen, Mass.—Dougherty Dispatches Sleuths There In Rush. Whitman Offers $5,000 Reward For Missing Men, Dead or Alive—Indictments Postponed.

New York, Aug. 16.—A daring act by Harry Horowitz ("Gyp the Blood") and Louis Rosenzweig ("Lefty Louis"), wanted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, half amused District Attorney Whitman and apparently greatly angered the police department.

Do the best you can. We're all right. Your pals, L. AND G.

Within a few hours central office men were on their way to Methuen, confident that they would be able to locate the fugitives. Max D. Steuer, Webber's counsel, having obtained the tip from Webber, handed it over to the district attorney, who supplied the information to Deputy Commissioner Dougherty. The card was a surprise to Webber. It was inclosed in two envelopes. Webber tore up the envelope, but kept the postcard. He sent for Mr. Steuer and told the lawyer that he believed the message was bona fide and that the fugitives were in Methuen.

Mr. Steuer sent for Keeper Ryan, and Ryan gathered up the scraps of torn paper that the prisoners had scattered. From these scraps Mr. Steuer reconstructed the envelope that bore the postmark and the address. The postmark showed that the card had been mailed at Methuen at 1 o'clock on Wednesday night. This was the address:

"L. Webber, City Prison, West Fifty-third street."

Webber Says Its Genuine.

Webber was deeply impressed with the message. He told Mr. Steuer that he believed it was genuine and that Horowitz and Rosenzweig wanted merely to show him that they were not afraid of police activities. Webber was so earnest that he convinced Mr. Steuer, and Mr. Steuer in turn convinced the district attorney. When Deputy Commissioner Dougherty got the tip he said he believed that it was the best information the police had yet obtained. Mr. Dougherty at once sent four men to Methuen.

Mr. Whitman announced that he will offer a reward of $5,000 for Horowitz and Rosenzweig. The money will be paid to whoever gets the fugitives dead or alive. There will be an offer of $2,500 for each man.

"I have become tired of waiting for the mayor and the police to take the usual steps in a matter of this kind," said Mr. Whitman. "I supposed at the start that the mayor or the police would see to it that the usual inducements were offered for the apprehension of the criminals. Since they have shown no inclination of offering a reward I have decided to do it myself."

The district attorney does not want to begin the trials of Lieutenant Becker and the others accused of the Rosenthal murder until Horowitz and Rosenzweig are taken. He will start the court proceedings without these men being under arrest if he has to, but prefers to have them in prison before taking the defendants before a jury. His plans were indicated by a dispatch which came from Albany to the effect that he has asked the governor to order an extraordinary session of the supreme court for these trials.

The grand jury at the request of the district attorney delayed the filing of indictments against Rosenzweig, Muller, Horowitz, Cirofici, Jack Sullivan and William Shapiro as well as a superseding indictment in the case of Lieutenant Becker. The papers had been drawn up and were in the grand jury room ready for the signature of the district attorney. The grand jury was ready to vote the indictment, but Mr. Whitman, having heard that Schepps was returning voluntarily to this city and that Schepps would be a valuable witness, asked the grand jury to put off its vote until next Tuesday.

Grand Jury With Whitman.

A notion got around that the grand jury had declined to vote indictments because of a lack of evidence. That was not the case at all. A vote would have been taken had not the district attorney interposed a plea for delay. Mr. Whitman made this statement:

"The report that there was any clash or disagreement in the grand jury room was absolutely unfounded. It is essential that all the evidence be so presented that indictments found against the several defendants may be properly found. I requested the grand jury myself to delay the filing of indictments until Tuesday, and I assume that it was at my request that such a delay occurred. The grand jury and the district attorney are in entire accord, and there had been no suggestion of friction or disagreement of any kind."

Wireless Plays Important Part In War Between Reds and Blues.

DECISIVE BATTLE OF "WAR" BEING FOUGHT

On Its Result Hangs "Fate" of New York.

Stratford, Conn., Aug. 16.—Both armies shifted troops back and forth in anticipation of the big two days' battle on the result of which hangs the fate of New York. At midnight the belligerents began their moves against each other, and at daylight the deciding fight of the Connecticut campaign began.

The blue defenders are concentrating their troops in the neighborhood of Tashua hill, northward and to the west of Upper Stepney and toward Newton. Somewhere near Newton the heaviest fighting will probably take place. Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss moved his headquarters to Newton so that he as chief umpire can watch the big fight.

The blues have fallen back considerably. It was not a forced retreat, but a move to locate in a more advantageous position. The blue headquarters is at Redding, and near there the blue artillery is concentrated.

The battle formation is a huge V with the apex somewhere near Cold Spring. The New Jersey troops, who bore the brunt of the recent fighting, have fallen back and will act as reserves. The Second New York brigade, consisting of the Fourteenth, Twenty-third and Forty-seventh regiments, have become the advance guard of the blues.

FARMERS CHEER WILSON.

Makes First Stump Speech of Campaign at Country Fair.

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 16.—Governor Woodrow Wilson returned to the little white house in a happy frame of mind, after his first stump speech of the campaign. He had addressed an audience of about 2,500 farmers at a farmer's picnic at Washington Grove, near Gloucester, N. J., and, judging from a purely practical campaign standpoint, as well as from the standpoint of a nominee for the presidency, it had been a success.

He had been applauded as he preached lower tariff as a necessity to farmers; as he called for a merchant marine, and as he approved the Democratic legislation concerning American ships in the Panama canal.

NEW EFFORT TO FREE BRANDT

Warden Ordered to Produce Him In Plattsburg Today.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Another effort to secure freedom for Carl Engel Brandt, the Schiff valet, will be made at Plattsburg this afternoon. Attorney General Carmody was notified that Warden Kaiser of Dannemora had been served with an order to produce Brandt here in court.

Warden Kaiser says that Mirabeau L. Towns, Brandt's lawyer, asserted when the valet was returned to prison that he would yet secure his release.

REFUSED GIRL, HE TRIES MURDER

FIVE OTHERS HELPED HIM

Aged Father Wouldn't Give His Daughter Permission to Wed, and Enraged Lover Plans Vengeance, It Is Alleged. Committed to Jail For Attempted Murder.

Hoboken, N. J., Aug. 16.—The refusal of his daughter's hand to John Cavalla, twenty-one years old, according to Salvador Miraglia, an elderly fruit dealer, almost cost him his life when he was set upon by six young men, bound with wire and thrown across the West Shore Railroad tracks.

Miraglia told the story of the assault when he appeared before Recorder McGovern and identified Cavalla as one of his assailants. He failed to identify five other young men who had been arrested with the rejected suitor.

"This man," said the fruit dealer, "came to me and demanded that I consent to his marriage with my daughter Fannie. I would not hear of it because he had taken out a license to marry another young woman only two weeks ago. When I told him how I felt about it he became enraged and said:

"'I'll fix you for this, and it won't take long.'

"I thought it was just a bluff, but as I was going home about midnight six young men fell on me, knocked me down and after kicking me in the head and stomach carried me down to the foot of the Fourth street hill. Then they began to bind my legs and wrists with wire, and as they were doing it I recognized Cavalla.

"As soon as they had tied me up they tied my coat over my head like a bag so that I could not make an outcry, and the first I knew after this I had been thrown across the West Shore railroad tracks."

TO DEATH IN A SEA PUSS.

Hospital Orderly Insisted on Taking Dip Despite Life Saver's Warning.

Spring Lake, N. J., Aug. 16.—A few minutes after he had ignored the warning of Captain Osborne of the Spring Lake live saving station of the United States life saving service, Joseph McFallon, thirty-two years old, an orderly and trained nurse, was swept to sea in a sea puss, and resuscitation was impossible after he was brought to shore by the life saving crew.

McFallon went bathing with little Alexander McCabe, a nephew of Miss Caroline McCabe, matron of the Ann May Memorial hospital, at which the orderly was employed. Captain Osborne warned them that the section of the beach where they anticipated bathing was dangerous, but McFallon plunged in despite the life saver's admonition. A few minutes after he dived into the water he was being carried to sea and Captain Osborne launched a lifeboat.

WRECKED IN A JOY RIDE.

One Likely to Die and Another Severely Hurt—Car Demolished.

Cape May, N. J., Aug. 16.—One man, Albert Russell, a chauffeur, of Philadelphia, was so severely torn and bruised that he will die, Jacob Tenenbaum, son of Isaac Tenenbaum, a Cape May merchant, was severely bruised and scratched and Charles Devore of Philadelphia escaped injury in a joy ride auto accident three miles north of Cape May. The machine, owned by Miss Kunkel, a sister of Judge Paul Kunkel of Harrisburg, Pa., which cost $5,000, was destroyed.

Those who saw the accident at Cold Springs say that the party was racing another machine, and when the other machine passed it raised so much dust that the driver of the Kunkel machine, who was Devore, could not see. The car was going at such a terrific rate of speed that it side swiped two joints of picket fence and tore down five more joints and was stopped by running into a telephone pole.

JERSEY BANKER ROBBED.

Burglars Give Silverware Acid Test Before Taking It Away.

Morristown, N. J., Aug. 16.—Burglars entered the residence of Robert C. Foote, president of the National Iron bank of this city, and stole several hundred dollars' worth of silverware. The plated ware was tested with acid and left behind. The bulk of the silver was in a vault and was not touched, but all the solid ware in daily use was taken.

Mrs. Alexander H. Tiers, sister-in-law of Mr. Foote, heard the men moving about, but supposed it was some of the many servants. A servant discovered a forced window and gave the alarm.

Their Hotel Life.

Friend—Given up housekeeping and gone to a hotel, eh? How do you like hotel life? McTiff—First rate. Never was so happy in my life. Friend—Indeed! And how does your wife like it? McTiff—First class. Friend—Where are you staying? McTiff—I'm at the St. Charles, and she's at the St. James.—New York Weekly.

Everything Out.

A "cub" reporter was sent out by his city editor to cover a fire in the Back Bay district. Before he could reach the house the fire had been extinguished and the fire department gone. Nothing daunted, the reporter rang the bell of the house and soon was confronted by a servant girl.

"I wish to see Mr. Robinson," said the reporter, politely tipping his hat.

"He's out," tersely answered the servant.

"Is his wife at home?" asked the reporter.

"No; she's out too."

"Well," came back the reporter, "I understand you have had a fire here."

"Oh, that's out, too," and the reporter went sadly away as the door slammed in his face.—Boston Traveler.

A Suggestion.

The retailer stopped one of his oldest customers on the street.

"I want to speak to you," he began.

"Go ahead, and see if I care."

"You've got to care. This bill of yours has been running a long time now."

"Poor thing! How can you be so cruel as to let it run a long time?"

"Well, what are you going to do with it?"

"I'm going to make you a suggestion. If that bill has been running for as long as you say it has give it a rest. Let it stand for a month or two."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Wideawake Prisoner.

"The jury has unanimously found you guilty, prisoner at the bar," said the judge dryly, "but for some reason unknown to me they have recommended you to the mercy of the court. In view of your crime you must be hanged, but in view of that recommendation to mercy you may choose the method of hanging."

"All right, you're honor," replied the prisoner. "If that's the case I guess I'll be hanged in effigy."—Harper's.

Allayed His Fever.

Old Bachelor—Whatcher looking so blue about, old man? De Chappie—Reason enough. Last night I dramatically told Doc De Rocks that I was consumed with love for his daughter, and the old chump prescribed quinine for a fever and said he'd send the bill later.—Boston Record.

Fills the Bill.

"A sentence with the word exposure," the teacher demanded, and a sturdy boy put up his hand.

"If you fellows don't quit your grafting I'll exposure," he quoted grandiloquently from the noted reform lecturer he had heard.—New York Times.

Advertising Pulls—It Doesn't Jerk

That is if it is put together rightly and placed in the right mediums. Under such conditions it is certain to influence your business to the betterment of it if you will only have the courage to "keep at it."

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You wouldn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it. If you can't find the necessary time to devote to advertising your business properly phone us. We have an expert who will put up your "Copy" that will bring sure results.

TO ILLUSTRATE GOSPEL BY MOVING PICTURES

New Brunswick, Aug. 16.—Moving pictures will be used by the In His Name Society, incorporated here Wednesday, to preach the Gospel. There are four trustees connected with the organization. They are Mrs. Addie Voorhees, of 271 Handy street, this city; Mrs. Virginia Cobb and Mrs. Emma Van Buskirk, of Jersey City, and Miss Laura V. McGee, of Trenton. Mrs. Voorhees is the agent for the society.

There is no pecuniary benefit to be derived from the organization, but it has been formed solely to teach men and women Bible truths and moral and religious lessons. Moving pictures, dramas and musical compositions will be used, as well as the circulation of tracts. Most of the work will be done through the distribution of literature.

FREEHOLDER OUT OF RACE.

Rahway, Aug. 16.—Freeholder William H. Randolph, who was indorsed for renomination at the Union County Republican outing last Saturday, yesterday declared he will not run. He gave as his reason that he has not the time to give the office proper attention under the new law creating the small board. A petition is being circulated by friends of former Freeholder Benjamin King, who is a candidate for place on the board.

—Forty baskets of fancy, delicious Maryland muskmelons will be received by Neuman Bros. tomorrow morning for tomorrow's trade.

ISLANDS OF CORAL

True Ones Only In the Pacific and Indian Oceans.

THE GREAT BARRIER ATOLL.

This Famous Coral Reef, Off the Australian Coast, Is the Largest In the World and Extends For Thousands of Miles—Bermuda's Worm Tubes.

There are no true coral islands in the Atlantic. The coral islands of the Pacific and Indian oceans are very distinct from the so called coral islands of Bermuda and the West Indies.

True coral islands, or atolls, are formed by corals building upward on a submerged reef or peak until the growth reaches the surface of the sea or so near it that broken pieces of coral, drift, sand, etc., accumulate and in time build an exposed islet. At other times the coral reef is raised above the water by volcanic action. The Pacific reefs are often circular or semicircular in form, and such reefs are known as atolls.

The largest coral reef is the Great Barrier reef of Australia, which extends for several thousand miles.

The coral islands of the Atlantic are formed by wave broken shells and bits of coral which have become solidified and fossilized by chemical action and age. This material is known as aeolian limestone and after exposure to the air is exceedingly hard and durable, but where freshly broken or cut it is very soft and can be chiseled and sawed into blocks for building purposes.

Many of the West Indian coral islands are partly composed of fossil coral reefs which have been raised far above the present sea level by the volcanic uplift of the rocks to which they were attached. Such coral reefs, says the American Boy, are often found hundreds of feet above sea level and in places are found alternating with layers of lava, showing that the islands have been raised and submerged several times in the past.

The atoll-like reefs in Bermuda are not coral at all, but are formed of innumerable worm tubes belonging to certain annelids. These worm tubes are often thickly incrusted with other growths, such as coraline, seaweeds, bryozoa, corals, etc., and thus have the appearance of being composed of real coral.

Corals, when alive, are not white, but are of many beautiful and vivid shades of green, pink, red, brown, yellow, lavender or orange.

A mass of living corals, when seen through the wonderfully clear waters of the tropical sea, is a very beautiful and brilliantly colored sight. There are a great many kinds of coral. Some are rounded and massive and are known as "brain corals." Others are broad and spreading or branched, while others are delicately formed and very brittle. Others are covered with rose shaped or star shaped markings and are called "rose" or "star corals."

The openings or indentations in any coral mark the spot where a coral animal lived. The animals or "polyps" are very similar to sea anemones in form and have numerous fleshy tentacles, which may be drawn in out of sight when danger threatens. The entire coral is covered with animal matter when alive, and it is only after all the flesh is removed and the skeleton is bleached that the white coral appears. All the corals mentioned are known as "stony corals."

Another very large group of corals is the "horny corals," or Gorgonias. The well known "sea fans," as well as the "red coral" used for jewelry, belong to this group.

Corals are not all confined to tropical seas. There are numerous species found as far north as the Grand banks of Newfoundland and Greenland, but these are not the reef building species, but belong to groups inhabiting the deep sea. One species is quite common on the coast of New England, but Bermuda marks the northern limit of reef building species in the Atlantic.—Exchange.

Locating Himself.

The telephone girl in a certain New York hotel answered a queer call over the house exchange the other morning about 11 o'clock. When she "plugged in" a man's voice said: "Hello! Is this the So-and-so hotel?"

"No," replied the girl, who was slightly surprised. "This is Such-and-such hotel."

"Oh, all right!" said the man. "Just woke up and didn't know where I was."—New York Telephone Review.

His Favorites.

"I am inclined to suspect the sobriety of the last student in our class."

"Why, so?"

"When I asked him what were his favorite studies in ornithology he replied swallows, bats and larks."—Baltimore American.

Not Normal.

"I don't like those people at all. They're too good."

"What's the trouble?"

"They've kept the same maid for eight years and insist that they've never had a washwoman disappoint them."—Detroit Free Press.

Willie's Question.

"Pa, was Job a doctor?"

"Not that I know of."

"Then why do people have so much to say about the patients of Job?"—Boston Transcript.

Who accepts from another sells his own freedom.—From the German.

BOND ISSUE WILL PROVIDE BRIDGE FUND

Freeholders Award Road Bonds To N. Y. House—Attend Flag Ceremony.

Elizabeth, Aug. 16 (Special).—The Board of Freeholders awarded the $145,000 county road bond issue at a special meeting yesterday to John D. Everett & Company, of New York City. The bonds are four and one-quarter per cent. thirty year bonds of the value of $1,000 each and the proceeds are to go to repair several county roads.

The award was made to the Everitt Company on the recommendation of County Collector Nathan R. Leavitt, who stated that this concern was the lowest bidder and, in his opinion, the most suitable bidder. A resolution complying with his request was then adopted unanimously.

The board also approved of the special bridge committee's recommendation to issue bonds to the extent of $33,897.35 to make up for the shortage in the bridge account because of the many bridge repair contracts now under consideration or awarded. These bonds will also be thirty-year four and one-quarter per cent. bonds of the denomination of $1,000 each.

The special committee was appointed at the last meeting to devise a way in which the board could carry on its bridge repair work, despite the shortage of funds. Several of these bridges are located in Plainfield, Westfield and vicinity and work on them will now be resumed.

It was stated in the committee's report that it was necessary to continue the bridge work in order to safeguard the traveling public.

The board members attended in a body the ceremonies incident to the return of the war flag of the Fourteenth New Jersey Volunteers to the city of Elizabeth, which ceremonies took place on the courthouse steps.

PROCTOR'S BIG SHOW.

Proctor's big laugh show delighted three thousand patrons yesterday, and it is predicted it will do the same thing today and tomorrow. The bill is an especially strong one, including Hal Davis & Co., in a skit, "The Money Getters," an absolute cure for the blues. There are six comedians all fun-makers. Brown and Barrows, singing comedians, are bright and witty. Herskins, the cartoonist, is making a big hit making pictures of people in the audience. Elsie Hale, an unusually clever violinist, offers a fine program. Sweeney and Rooney, eccentric dancers, complete the fine bill.

END OF A TOUR THROUGH EUROPE

Mrs. Ida C. Smith Brokaw Writes of the Last Days.

SIGHTS IN OLD CHESTER

Interesting Narrative by the Tour Winner In the Fourth District Completes the Account of the Press Party's Vacation.

Wednesday, July 3—Arrived in Chester at 8:30 Tuesday evening after being on the road all day since 10:30 a. m., and we were quite well pleased to find our hotel not far from the station.

After we were settled in our rooms the conductor sent word 'round that the following morning was for us to do as we pleased. Some went shopping, others occupied their time visiting the famous Roman Wall, a huge piece of construction 2,000 years old; it originally surrounded the entire city; but parts of it now are well broken and shattered. There are one or two places where you can get a very good view of the River Dee.

At eleven o'clock our grips and bags were called for and sent to the station ahead of us, while we had luncheon, after which we boarded a train at Chester station at 12:30. A train very similar to our trains that we have called "locals," stopping at every back door and double houses twice. It was quite a change too, for we had been accustomed to traveling by express.

We landed at Birkenhead Ferry in the trains of rain, and there waited 'til 3:30 before we boarded the floating hotel called the "Haverford." It seemed quite natural both to be on water and in a hotel, for we had grown quite used to the one night stand business, and in fact if the truth be known we'll miss it. "So say we all of us."

As I mentioned, it was raining when we reached the ferry, so it was when we left Chester, and when we boarded the Haverford one would think it was raining for spite.

The first night on board was a ferocious one; I mean by that that the rain beat in on our side of the boat so that we couldn't even sit in our chairs.

We turned in early (for a change) and were very glad when the night ended.

Thursday, Aug. 1—Still cloudy and rainy, but hope for clear weather before the day is ended. About 11 o'clock is cleared off splendidly but was not warm in spite of it. While at luncheon we sailed into a fierce rain storm and you could see the different people running from their seats to close the port holes in their rooms (we included), but while they were gone (which was only a short time) we had passed through it and the storm was over.

About 3 o'clock we landed at Queenstown, there to take on about 30 more passengers and to let 10 off. We stayed there long enough for some passengers to purchase Irish laces, Rosary beads and other things; even the N. Y. Herald could be bought; but since the Plainfield Daily Press couldn't be had, we didn't care for any other.

After we had started on again it w astime for tea; and it was quite a sight to watch one and all of us gather 'round the server like so many "Hungry Henriettas" as if we hadn't had anything to eat in quite a while. But really we can't help it on the sea, see?

We turned in at 10 o'clock and from reports all slept well, in fact so soundly some of us barely heard the first "call" for breakfast.

The "call" is some sort of a Chinese gong and sounds like so many pots and pans rioting in the pantry.

Friday, Aug. 2—We have just had our breakfast and are going around to visit the girls in one large party, who are not feeling "tip-top" as a result of the Englinsh Channel; finding them sightly improved we feel much relieved.

Luncheon being over, some went to their rooms and some to their chairs (while they can) for we don't know at what minute we will have to go in from the cold and rain. The weather has been very cool, consequently if we have it the least bit comfortable we make use of it. There are very few of us who have not used our big coats.

The trip is, oh! so different in every way coming back. Going over as you know, we had concerts, dances and entertaining on the bow by the sailors, but we don't even have that unless they wake up later.

The only amusement so far is a little English boy of fourteen years, traveling alone. He is going to Pittsburgh and from there to Dayton, Ohio. Miss McWilliams and myself have the child believing that in Pitts-

U. S. COMMISSIONER FREES PLAINFIELDER

James Parker Hill Not Guilty of Criminal Intent Is His Advertisements.

James Parker Hill, of this city, who was arrested here a week ago on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails by advertising an alleged catchpenny scheme, was arraigned for a hearing before United States Commissioner Parker at Newark, this morning. After hearing all the evidence, the commissioner decided that no criminal intent on the part of Hill had been shown and he promptly discharged him.

William A. Coddington, of this city, appeared with Hill as his counsel, and it was through his strong presentation of the case before the commissioner that the latter discharged the accused man. Mr. Coddington drew the commissioner's attention to the fact that his client had obtained ideas for promoting his scheme from the "Trade Review" published at Fishkill, N. Y.

The accused man's mother, who was in court, and after he was discharged there was a pathetic scene when his mother threw her arms about his neck and wept for joy. She was profuse in her thanks to the commissioner and also Mr. Coddington.

Hill in his advertisement offered to show people how they could make $1 an hour and when they forwarded the required fee, they received instructions to get a job washing windows. There was also enclosed a formula for making a preparation to wash windows.

TRUSTS, UNIONS, COMBINES AND AMASSING OF WEALTH

The evangelist in the large pavilion on Darrow avenue, has increased his corps of laborers by two. The newcomers are from Washington, D. C. This will add much to the good music already furnished.

Last night a fine company assembled, and listened with interest to the subject, "Trusts, Unions, Combines, Amassing of Wealth. What Does All This Mean, and What is God's Remedy?" The speaker's remargs were taken largely from the parable of our Saviour recorded in Matthew 13:24-30. He said the spirit of federation, that nearly every enterprise was controlled by unions and combines; and that all this was a fulfillment of the above named parable, whichi s one more of the great mile-posts, which point to the end of this earth's history.

AUTOMOBILE TURNS TURTLE THREE PASSENGERS KILLED

Whitehouse Station, Aug. 17.—Edward H. Burling, a retired merchant of Bethayres, Penn., Mrs. Burling and their chauffeur John Kilroy, were instantly killed her yesterday when their automobile turned turtle and pinned them beneath its wreckage. Two friends who were in their party, on the way home from a three weeks' tour of the White Mountains, were Miss Lillian H. Tiel and Miss Emma Robinson. They were thrown clear of the car and suffered only minor injuries.

The accident occurred at 2 o'clock at Greathook, in a narrow part of the Flemington-Whitehouse road.

WILLIAM MELICK.

William Melick, aged 65 years, one of the best known famers in this vicinity, died last night at his home at Mt. Pleasant, following an illness of seven months. He had always lived within a short place of where he died. He is survived by a wife, two children and two grandchildren, Howard and Grace Melick. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon from the house at 2:30 o'clock.

GOING TO PORTUGAL.

Alice McGee, the infant daughter of W. Vaughan McGee, will make her home with Mr. McGee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. McGee, of North Plainfield. Mr. McGee expects soon to go to Portugal for the Standard Oil Company. He represented the company in Manchuria for three years, returning home recently.

CADET JACKSON'S FAREWELL.

Cadet Mattie Jackson having been accepted for officership will read the lesson at the evening service at the Salvation Army tomorrow night and make a short farewell address. She will leave next week for the Salvation Army Training College in New York city.

BIBLE SCHOOL LEAGUE HAS LIVELY SESSION

Officials Have to Mount Tables to Make Themselves Heard Effectively.

A lively session of the Sunday-school Baseball League was held in the Frost building, last night, and arguments flew back and forth so fast in the protest between the First Baptist and Monroe Avenue that the league officials were compelled to make their speeches and state their sides of the question while standing on tables.

First Baptist applied the term "squealers" to the league leaders and defied them to put any argument before the board which could prove that they were in the right. The First Baptist representative claimed that the reason that the Monroe captain called the game last Saturday afternoon was because the latter team had only five players on the field, and under the rules of the organization they would be compelled to forfeit the contest. Rather than hand the game as a forfeit the captain of the west end nine claimed that the field was not in condition to play on, and therefore used his authority in calling off the contest.

The league officials awarded the game to the First Baptist, thus putting them on a par with the Monroe's for first place.

The rest of the meeting was taken up in balloting for players who will make up the all-star team to play against the aggregation from the Manufacturers' organization in the post-season series. The following men will be in the lineup: Stewart, p; Howell or Stine, c; Smith, 1b; Pierson, 2b; Taylor, ss; Snyder, 3b; Heron, lf; Beiley, cf; Mosher, rf.

SUMMER SCHOOL'S SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Six Weeks' Session Ends With Record of Highly Valuable Service.

The Plainfield Summer School has just completed its six weeks session with a record of work done which means much to Plainfield students, and also much to Plainfield taxpayers.

In every large school system there are students who fall behind their class because of sickness, lack of application or "hard luck" just at examination time. The summer school enables students to catch up with their class and thus eliminate an extra year in school. By concentrating for six weeks upon one or two subjects and receiving much individual assistance from the teacher, a pupil may gain new inspiration and learn better methods of attacking the difficult subject. Incidentally it affords opportunity for ambitious students to shorten their four-year course to three years.

As summer schools receive State aid, Dr. Maxson logically claims that it is a good proposition, both for the students and the taxpayers, and there is no reason why Plainfield should not receive her share of the benefits.

In the High School department there was an enrollment of about 10 students. The work has been especially successful as Dr. Maxson was able to secure the services of an experienced and efficient faculty. Mr. George E. Webster, who was principal and taught mathematics, is a graudate of two normal schools and thre universities, and has specialized in education. Mr. A. W. Hauck, who taught modern languages, is a graduate of Heidelburg and of Harvard universities. Mr. E. J. Beers, who taught science, is a graduate of Colegate university. Miss H. E. Pierce, who taught latin and history, is an alumnus of P. H. S. and of Smith College. Miss R. L. Mixner, who taught English, is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College.

Mrs. Wardner was principal of the Grammar School and taught the eighth grade. In that department there were about 160 pupils enrolled and were instructed by the following efficient faculty: Miss Trembath, seventh grade; Miss Pond, sixth grade; Miss Faulkinburg, fifth grade; Miss Burdick, fourth grade.

FORMER RESIDENT TO PREACH.

Rev. D. H. Clare, of Orange, who will preach at the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow morning, is known to many Plainfielders, having lived here when a boy. He has preached several times in this city and no doubt will be heard by a large congregation at tomorrow's service. There will be no evening service.

HOW MR. CASE GOT HIS LOST DOG BACK

Vice President of Plainfield Trust Company Discovers An Unofficial Pound.

J. Herbert Case, vice president of the Plainfield Trust Company, lost a valuable Airedale terrier this week, and recovered it. He tells how he found it in the subjoined letter. He will tell the location of the barn mentioned to any one interested. Mr. Case writes as follows:

Plainfield, Aug. 15, 1912.

Editor, Plainfield Daily Press:

A tale of a lost dog, apropos the valuc of advertising. That is pays to advertise has again been demonstrated though in a somewhat unusual manner. Monday evening a valuable young Airedale terrier belonging to one of my children disappeared. As the dog did not return home on Tuesday, I inserted an advertisement in your "Lost and Found" column, fully describing the dog and giving the number of his license tag which was firmly attached to his collar. In spite of a most careful search nothing was heard from the dog until today, when I learned through one of your readers that it would probably be found chained in a dark stall in a barn well out on Plainfield avenue. Upon my arrival home this evening I promptly drove to this barn and found the dog chained in the stall as described. Needless to say the dog is now at home, though minus his license tag. I understand that other dogs have had an acquaintance with this same barn. As the loss of the dog had been advertised in both local newspapers for two evenings it is perfectly apparent the barn owner is not a subscriber to either. Therefore, if any other one of your readers lose a dog it might not be amiss for him to visit this private pound.

LEAVES PULPIT FOR MISSIONARY WORK

Farewell Reception to Rev. George D. Rockey By Scotch Plains Methodists.

Rev. George D. Rockey, pastor of the Scotch Plains Methodist church, who has resigned his charge to engage in missionary work, was given a farewell reception, last night, by the members of his flock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Jamison, of Stout avenue. The evening was spent by pastor and people playing games and enjoying vocal and instrumental music, and while all regretted the severing of their relations, still the evening is one that will long be pleasantly remembered by both Mr. Rockey and his people.

Mr. Rockey was appointed to the pastorate about two years ago while still a student at Drew Seminary, Madison. During that time he has built the church up and his sunny manner has won him many friends in town who regret his departure. He graduated this year and decided to give up the pulpit to engage in missionary work in India.

He will preach his farewell sermon tomorrow night. Mr. Rockey is a native of Ohio and will spend several weeks at his home before leaving to engage in his work in the foreign fields.

TROLLEY CAR BREAKS ANKLE OF DUNELLEN MOTORMAN

David Walsh, a motorman of North avenue, Dunellen, is suffering with a broken ankle at the Muhlenberg Hospital today as the result of an accident at 12:35 o'clock last night when he was struck by a westbound Main Line car at Chestnut street and North avenue, Dunellen. He jumped from an east-bound car and walked directly in front of another car going in the other direction. His foot caught in the fender and his ankle snapped.

He was taken on the car to the home of Dr. Pittis, who administered first aid and sent him to the hospital.

Walsh is a motorman on the Main Line. He was going home after taking his car to the car barns at Dunellen when the accident occurred.

J. V. F. DILTS FILES PRIMARY PETITION

Statement to Voters By Democrat Who Would Succeed Collector Townsend.

J. V. F. Dilts, of this city, is an avowed candidate for the nomination for tax collector to succeed William R. Townsend, on the Democratic ticket. He has been a resident of Plainfield for many years and it is said is thoroughly conversant with municipal affairs. Mr. Dilts has filed his petition for the nomination and has issued the following statement to the voters:

J. V. F. Dilts

Plainfield, N. J., Aug. 17, 1912.

To the Democratic Voters of the City of Plainfield:

I have today filed with the city clerk, my petition for nomination to the office of tax collector on the Democratic ticket, at the ensuing primary election. I desire to say I have always advocated the open primary as the most equitable way of obtaining the expression of the rank and file of our party as to who should be the candidates for the respective officers at a general election.

My petition is filed at this early date, not that I expect thereby to gain advantage over any other prospective candidate for the nomination to said office but rather to encourage others to enter the field against me.

I wish to see engendered in our local campaign a healthy and friendly rivalry for office, that will tend to awaken every Democratic voter to a realization of his full duty to his party and his city. With such a rivalry can we effectually vitalize a well-known Democratic principle and at the same time present to our fellow citizens for election to office worthy and capable candidates.

To attain that end I feel I have done my part in submitting to you my name for nomination as tax collector; you can and should do yours by exercising your right of suffrage on September 24th next, in favor of those candidates you deem best qualified for the nominations they seek. No matter who may be the primary choice for the office to which I aspire, I will cheerfully abide your decision. Should some one other than I be your selection for said office, I will accord to him and all other candidates on our party ticket for election in November, the same hearty and loyal support I would expect to receive had I been the successful nominee.

Yours respectfully,

J. V. F. DILTS.

SAY WATCHUNG HUNT DOGS KILLED THEIR CHICKENS

Residents in the vicinity of South Plainfield are greatly incensed over the loss of chickens which have been killed, it is said, by dogs owned by the Watchung Hunt Club, and unless a stop is put to it they will take legal steps against the owners of the dogs. One family, it is reported, had a large number of chickens killed this week by the dogs, one of them being a rooster valued at $6.

It was stated today by a person living in the vicinity of South Plainfield that the dogs get out of the kennels, especially at night, and roam about the country. It was also said that the keeper at the hunt club found it very difficult to keep the dogs on the club's premises.

BRODHEAD LEADS CITY DEMOCRATS

SEA GIRT DELEGATION

An enthusiastic meeting of the Wilson and Marshall Club was held last night, when most of the details of organization were completed, including the election of permanent officers for the year. Calvin E. Brodhead was chosen president, J. O. Stevens treasurer and John F. Zerega secretary.

United States Senator James E. Martine was made honorary president, and Howard Fleming, Percy H. Stewart, R. A. Claybrook were elected vice presidents at large, while William L. Saunders, David Bodine, David T. Kenney and Samuel Townsend were chosen as vice presidents from North Plainfield. Ten Eyck R. Beardsley, of Fanwood, will be the vice president from that place.

Four ward men were elected as follows: First ward, J. P. Owens; Second ward, R. B. Corey; Third ward, ReRoy J. Ellis; Fourth ward, Fred Ivamy. There was a general discussion of plans and as soon as the president announces the regular committees the work of the campaign will be undertaken in earnest.

The club decided to send a representation to Sea Girt today to attend the gathering of Democrats from all parts of New Jersey. At that time Governor Wilson will address the gathering. The following Plainfielders will attend, making the trip in automobiles: John F. Zerega, LeRoy J. Ellis, C. E. Brodhead, Howard Fleming, TenEyck R. Beardsley, R. B. Corey, J. O. Stevens, Councilman Fred Endress, R. A. Claybrook, J. C. Schinkel, J. P. Owens, Fred Ivany and Henry Vosseller.

"ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE" AT THE THEATRE TONIGHT

The local theatrical season will open at The Plainfield theatre tonight when "Alias Jimmy Valentine" will be the attraction. Tickets are now on sale at the box office at the theatre and the indications are that a crowded house will mark the opening of the playhouse for the fall and winter season.

Sensitive fingers that could open any safe put Jimmy Valentine on the wrong side of cold, gray walls; but a heart that beat right when he fell in love with "the right sort of girl" secured his pardon, while he himself worked out a straight and narrow path after he was in the sunshine again. Few plays have been so much talked about and written about as "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

WHISTLER WILL AMUSE TOTS AT NETHERWOOD HOME

The usual vesper service will be held at the Home tomorrow afternoon at 3:45. The speaker will be F. H. Andrews, who is by no means a stranger to this work, and whose addresses in the past have been intensely interesting. The soloist will be Elmer Wheeler, flutist. The meetings for the week following will be full of interest not only to the mothers and children of the Home, but to outsiders as well.

At the entertainment next Wednesday evening, it is expected that Miss Edith Hamilton will whistle, Mrs. Stephen H. Tugwell, contralto, will sing, and Mrs. Royle T. Phillips will entertain the children with some of her clever monologues. The Home will be open for two weeks more, the closing service will be held on Sunday the First of September. The public is cordially invited to all the services and entertainments of the Home.

DR. GALLUP TO PREACH.

Th union service will be held tomorrow night at the First Baptist church and Rev. Dr. C. M. Gallup, of Providence, R. I., will be the preacher. The other churches uniting in this service include Trinity Reformed, First M. E. and First Presbyterian.

DR. HAUSER IN PULPIT.

Rev. Dr. George A. Hauser will assume his duties as pastor of the German Reformed church, Craig place and Duer street, tomorrow morning, preaching in German. The service will begin at 11 o'clock.

Miss Lillian Fisher and Master Lewis Moore enjoyed a trolley trip to Asbury Park on Thursday.

Mrs. R. E. Charles and Mrs. C. L. Warwick, of East High street, are spending a few days at Selin's Grove, Pa.

Mrs. John A. Van Doren and daughter, of New Bound Brook, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. [illegible] at Newtown, Pa.

'Plains & Fanwood.

Southard Outwater has returned from a week's stay at Lake Hopatcong.

R. Spearin is entertaining friends from New York.

Seeley's paper mills have been undergoing some needed repairs. A new concrete floor has been laid in the storeroom and several other improvements have been made.

Miss Mary Thoema has returned to her home in Bound Brook after a short visit to her cousin, Miss Rose Thoema, of North avenue.

Miss Edith Lidgate and Miss Lena Jahn will leave Monday for a week's stay at Asbury Park.

Mrs. John Lewis and children have returned from a stay at Asbury Park.

Miss Anna Fox has returned from visiting relatives at Stony Hill.

Henry Demarest, of the Plainfield Trust Company, is enjoying a week's vacation, which is being spent in daily trips to nearby resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Stevens have returned from a two weeks' sojourn at Ocean Grove, where they were registered at the Continental.

The local ball team plays the strong Dunellen team tomorrow afternoon on Thope's field. This will bring "Old War Horse" McLaughlin pitching against his old team. Manager Alberts will pitch Frederickson and the fans can be assured that the game will be a pitchers' battle.

Donald Saunders has returned from a two weeks' outing, which was spent at Hinkly, Maine.

Mrs. Thomas Farrell, of Garwood, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Jacob Shackleton.

The Township Committee met last night in the town rooms. Besides the regular routine business, the Committee decided to take such action as will enforce the recently passed dog ordinance, which compels owners to take out a license at a cost of $1 with a fee of 25c. The ordinance was passed several weeks ago, but to date only thirteen have applied for the necessary license. The Committee decided to notify all owners of canines that the license fee must be paid or summons will be issued and the owners will be hailed before the court..

Township Clerk Edward L. Hand, Tax Collector John Z. Hatfield, William Ward, Frank Weldon and William Lindsay spent yesterday fishing and crabbing at Sewaren. The day's sport yielded enough fish and crabs to keep their friends fed up well for several days.

Mrs. John Kandelky, of Springfield, is visiting her father, Thomas Whitenack, of Front avenue.

South Plainfield.

The Misses Madeline and Anna Riley, of North Plainfield, formerly of the village, were visiting friends here yesterday.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Hundreds of Plainfield Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Plainfield people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Plainfield reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. Cecelia Rosseter, 127 Watchung avenue., Plainfield, N. J., says: "I am only too pleased to again recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and I hope that all kidney sufferers who read my statement will profit by my experience. I have received a world of good from this remedy, backache, headache, dizzy spells and trouble with the kidney secretions being corrected by its use. I do not know what I would have done without Doan's Kidney Pills and I am certain that there is no kidney medicine that can be compared with them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

THE CHARM OF FINE FURNITURE

Your architect may be never so clever, your decorator may be never so artistic, and your home instincts may be never so intense, yet all these things combined are insufficient to create a real home atmosphere. For that you must depend upon the furniture.

Can you not see with your mind's eye scores of homes, beautifully planned architecturally, the color scheme well thought out in so far as the interior decorating and draperies are concerned, and yet the effect totally ruined by an unfortunate choice of furniture?

One needs so little furniture to make a home really beautiful and comfortable that it is a pity that one does not always not only choose the best, but that one does not also always purchase where beauty of line and sturdiness of construction can be absolutely depended upon. This is one of the secrets of the success of the furniture department of the John Wanamaker store. Every piece in the present sale of furniture has lines of genuine beauty. It is furniture to live with—furniture that grows in value as time and association add their charm.

It is made so easy to get around in this sale, to locate just the style and kind of furniture one wants, that there is real pleasure in making a choice. And not the least pleasure is to be found in the radical price reductions made throughout. They offer the home-lover an unusual opportunity to make delightful selections of fine furniture that at other times might prove too costly for her consideration. That woman is wise who takes advantage of it.

GERMAN VALLEY READY WITH GUNS FOR THIEVES

German Valley, Aug. 17.—Shotguns are being kept handy in most of the households here since the raids of a gang of burglars, who made of tour of this community, this week, including churches, in their desire to gather up plunder. An indication of the daring of the strangers was left on Mr. and Mrs. William T. Swackhammer, whose residence is near the Lutheran church. There the burglars ransacked the house from top to bottom, left evidence of haying been close to the bed upon which the couple were sleeping and left without much reward for their trouble.

From the reports thus far heard by the authorities here, the burglars did not make much of a haul in any of the places entered. In one place, Welsh's garage, they contented themselves with forcing an entrance. The Lutheran and Presbyterian churches were those visited by the maurauders, and so far as is known nothing was taken from either edifice. The strangers left nothing by which they might be traced, but the residents here have prepared a warm reception for them if they return.

END OF TOUR THROUGH EUROPE

burgh he will encounter wild Indians, any amount of them. We weren't nosy but we did like to know what he was going to do for pastime for the three months that he would be in Dayton. He made the firm reply that he was going to be a "cow boy." We then asked him if he had a cow boy hat. He answered, "No, the only 'at I 'ave, is the one I 'have on." We noticed that it was firmly anchored to his buttonhole by a nifty black string, so we feel sure that he'll keep it 'til the Indians scalp him.

To avoid seasickness Harry (the little English boy) sleeps on deck. Last night Miss McWilliams and I tied both of his shoe strings n about a dozen knots so they wouldn't blow off; as yet we have not seen Harry this morning. Oh! what you won't do when you haven't any other diversion. I tell you this nothing to do 'til tomorrow business is enough to drive me to the benches in the park—providing you shut the gates after you so you won't catch cold.

It has just been raining for about five minutes and now the sun is shining brightly.

We have just met "Harry" and after a few minutes' talk with him we learned that some hard-hearted creature had knotted his shoe strings so that he had to cut them and put new ones in. To be sure it was quite a task for Miss McWilliams and I to keep straight faces while listening to the pathetic story of "Harry's Shoes."

After luncheon the afternoon passed very quickly, spent in reading, walking and "tea" drinking.

The first call for dinner rang, and to be sure there weren't many to be seen on deck after it, each and every one scrambles to his or her room and fusses up a bit and is waiting for the second notice. "Very few are seldom late for meals."

After dinner we spent part of the evening in card playing and piano playing; at nine we had tea and crackers, a walk on deck and then to bed.

Sunday, Aug. 4—A gloomy morning this and naught to do but sit in your chair and read. At 10:15 this Chinese affair was rung, taking the place of church beels and calling for those who go to church.

After church we came up to find that the weather hadn't cleared any. One doesn't know what to do in a case of that kind, so one by one they sneak off to their rooms to sleep, others to the saloons to read and write.

Luncheon being over now, the same routine seems to be gone through without any other diversions but those I have mentioned.

It is time for bed now and this "old crib" is rocking some and the wind whistling, sounds most ghostly; in fact it blows in through the small port hole and sounds like the ocean and all were coming in to spend the night with you.

Monday, Aug. 5—After having spent an awful night rocking, pitching and tossing we got up to find a great improvement in the weather, but the water has not calmed very much, consequently we only made 258 miles yesterday and last night.

I got up at six a. m. and was quite alone on deck for some time. Then they started to come up on deck one by one. It reminded me of a business street wherein each one in turn comes to business and finally there's a crowd all 'round you.

I ate a very hearty breakfast (as usual) and returned to my chair 'til it got so damp that I had to go in and read.

After luncheon I read some more, and in fact all the afternoon 'til dinner time. After that a bunch of us gathered in the dining room, played and sang. That growing monotonous Miss McWilliams and I made ourselves scarce and went to the reading room and there became quite interested in our books, where we caught the sound of a violin. Needless to say we rushed out and traced the sound to the deck, there to find about thirty, mostly one party, standing around listening to a very "good player." The first thing some one started dancing and then singing and before we knew it we had a concert all by ourselves. When eleven o'clock struck the deck steward came around and said, "Ladies, it's 11 o'clock," and we, all like a bunch of boarding school children, took to our heels and went to bed.

Tuesday, Aug. 6—Had very good night and find this morning greatly improved, although the sun is not out, it isn't raining, it's not so cool and damp, neither is the boat rocking. We expect it to clear before the day is over. (But you never can tell.)

After going through our usual routine of the day and the weather turning out as we hoped for, it gave us new ambition. The first thing on the list to start something was a program planned for a concert to be given the following evening.

Wednesday, Aug. 7—This morning it's up to it's old tricks again, cloudy and rainy. The weather has been wretched, the ocean is very rough and the "old tub" is rocking some these days and nights too. The wind is very strong and forcing us to lose three miles an hour, consequently the highest run we've made is 285, and as low as 242, so I guess we'll reach home sometime before Christmas—maybe.

The day went by without much change of routin eor weather. This is the night we have the concert. We are in hopes of a crowded house—regardless of the weater.

The first gong has rung and Miss McWilliams and I are still in our chairs waiting for the second. After dinner we are going to "spruce up within an inch of our lives"—for the concert.

At last the time has come when one and all of us are to sit quietly for a change, and enjoy the program which has been so nicely planned for the party. The decorations too. Over the piano, in the center is a white flag with a blue eagle, on the left side of that is the "Good Old Glory," on the right is "Johnny Bull." On the chairman's table was draped an immense "American Flag" (two of us and one of "Johnny" looked mighty good to me) which added greatly to the decorations.

After the concert we had a supper, then Miss McWilliams and I went up on deck on to find it raining for all it was worth. The outlook was so dark and dreary that the lightning added to the tragic scene most wonderfully.

It reacheing the hour of eleven, Miss McWilliams and I beat the deck steward to it and went downstairs before he could reach us. We, landing on the first lower deck and seeing one of the room doors opened, we peeped in, finding one of our girls sleeping. I put an apple in her hand. We then caught sight of a long coat hagging on the door. Taking it down and placing it on the bed of another, stuffed it to look like a person, put shoes at the bottom, sticking out like feet; then rigged a hat up for a head.

We were caught in the act by one of the girls of that room, who was a good sport and wouldn't tell the other two. The three of us stood aside and admired out work of art. Not to blow our own horn, but it was very clever. We left is there for the remaining two and retired.

Thursday, Aug. 8.—Another mean morning and you can't do anything but read, write or play cards. At breakfast this morning I could hear across tables that they were talking about the dummy in bed. How they laughed and took it all in good part. While I was in the writing room the girls in whose bed I put the stuffed lady came in and told Miss McWilliams and I all about it. I thought she choke telling it, for she thought it was the funniest thing she had seen since she boarded the boat (there's so much variety). Miss McWilliams and I had to laugh and wonder who did it. Miss McWilliams said that "we would have loved to have seen it." She left the room laughing very heartily, but none the wiser.

After luncheon it was raining very hard, all the canvasses were drawn up and it was the gloomiest place you'd want to look at without having to be in it.

Miss McWilliams and I have just been talking to the captain and he informed us if this weather kept up we'd reach port by Monday—which was very encouraging. We got permission to sleep on deck 'til we land.

The evening being spent by attending a very interesting lecture on China by a missionary, we were up to our hazing again. The night before starting us—as it were.

There is a girl on whom we have quite a joke as she was the subject or rather one of them. I borrowed a suit from one of the boys and put a collar and tie on it and when the clothes were all stuffed the dummy looked fine. We watched our chance and put it in her bed. It surely was a fine specimen of man.

Now for the second; a fellow whom some of the girls want to play a good joke on chose Miss McWilliams to do the dirty work. The same clothes as we used the night before were obtained for us and we set to work at once making the little lady, with whom very few were acquainted. After we had completed our task, we drew over the curtains and there she lay—calmly and peacefully in her new bed.

Feeling as though we'd accomplished something, Miss McWilliams and I in our quiet little way, made ready our chairs and turned in. As it was, not quite eleven o'clock we sat talking to a few of the "night owls" who were anxiously awaiting their orders to remove themselves.

Friday, Aug. 9—It's a fine morning, sun shining brightly and a nice breeze blowing—strange the breeze should be blowing. We spent a very comfortable night on deck and feel fine for it. Breakfast being over we have heard a few reports of the "Mysterious Beings." The young lady was almost frightened to death, but thought it was a very fine looking man.

The tables have been turned and the joke is on us. The young lady has politely locked the suit in her suit case—is going to keep it there 'til the owner—or the one who played the jokes, comes for it.

The chap for whom we made the lady fair has also done the same thing. He too was pleased. But we have chosen an innocent person to get them for us, so the joke is not on us after all.

According to this morning's weather we will not have much use for our rugs, coats, etc., and neither will we have to sit inside. That is a change, but a good one.

After luncheon we learned that there is going to be a dance tonight and needless to say, we are all glad. At eight o'clock we came up from dressing and dinner to find the deck beautifully decorated with flags, both national and signal—the piano in a corner.

The event of the evening was the "Turkey Trot" danced by a couple by request and I must say that it was danced to perfection. Of course a fussy woman who was looking on with her daughter couldn't and wouldn't stand it, so she took her daughter's hand (the girl was about 20) and left. She wasn't to be seen; probably she was sitting in a dark corner watching. Who knows?

For refreshments we had lemonade or squash, as it is called on the other side, and it was good too. At eleven o'clock the lights were turned low, the piano closed, so that meant the dance was over.

Saturday, Aug. 10 — Another bight, sunshiny morning and nearer to home too. We made 290 miles yesterday; in other words broke the record of the trip. I'm glad we didn't break the engine of the ship.

Took a few pictures, read and wrote. The crowd is getting very ill. Had dinner, and a little music and went to bed; still sleeping on deck. It beats all the stateroons a boat could have. Some of the girls say that they would be afraid, but it's silly.

Sunday, Aug. 11—A fine morning and everybody seems to be happy, I suppose 'cause we're within a day of landing. Breakfast being over and everyone nicely and comfortably situated in their chairs, the weather has changed. It's raining fiercely and coming in on all sides, so you see the weather at sea cannot be depended on. It's more than likely a shower.

Services are over and the sky is beginning to clear, for which we are all very thankful. What is gloomier than a rainy Sunday at sea? There was a most beautiful sunset in spite of it, and they were standing two deep at the rail watching it.

Monday, Aug. 12—Oh! what a fine morning and to think we may land today or tonight. The people are just full of excitement, each and everyone with their glasses reminds me more of the races on land than at sea, looking for the money they won't get.

Miss McWilliams and I spent the morning in writing to those we left behind us and the Misses Howard and Vail are packing and taking pic- came on. It was very interesting in- tures. About eleven o'clock the pilot deed to watch the quick change from one boat to the other.

Having had luncheon, I left Miss McWilliams to do her packing. I did mine yesterday. I'm glad too for today is a scorcher. About 3 o'clock we reached the first quarantine—Reidi Island. There were two doctors who came in from a small boat, about the size of a pilot and waited there for them. The first stop they made was the steerage and the crew. It was quite interesting but at the same time sickening to watch the people being vaccinated. From the smallest to the largest had to have it done. Some screamed, others fainted and went on something terrible. You couldn't blame them in a way, notwithstanding it.

We stayed there watching them 'til we were asked to pass in front of the doctor, who was waiting for us on the front of the deck. That being over and he passing us, it was time for dinner. We came up from dinner and the little boat was still beside us.

We were sitting in our chairs and we were attracted to the front of the boat by the passengers hanging over the railing. We went to see, and there they were lowering one of the steerage passengers, a very nice clean cutlooking young man, to the little boat 'cause he refused to be vaccinated and they were shipping him off to the island for fourteen days with a steward to watch him, and his food for that time.

It was getting dark when the little tug pulled off from beside us, and it was a very pretty sight to watch her glide right through the water without—seemingly—any effort.

The tide having turned us around while we were at dinner, we turned again in our direction and started off. About 9 o'clock we landed at the State Quarantine off Marcus Point. There the same routine and examinations were gone through. Only a few were vaccinated, but not one of the "Plainfield six"—four as they were at that time.

We remained out at Marcus Point all night, and to be sure the deck had more than the two "lonesome maidens" sleeping out. At about 6:30 a. m. we started to move along toward shore. Were we glad? Well, I guess. As were were "pulling for the shore" I spied my mother and daddy and Mr. Brokaw. Right away I wanted to jump over to them. It seemed as though we'd never get there then. Miss McWilliams saw her people too, and I can tell you, we were a couple of anxious "kids." At last we got off the boat. Miss McWilliams and I were the first ones off too.

After an abundance of greetings and "glad to see you home again," etcs., we were anxiously awaiting to have our grips examined. I, not having anything dutiable, got by very easily. The Misses Howard and Vail didn't have any trouble either. Miss McWilliams was the only one charged with duty—of our party.

I think I have said all that I can think of as to what happened and took place, as well as I could remember, but there is still room for me to add "That I am more than grateful both to the Plainfield Daily Press and my friends who so kindly aided me to win the trip abroad. I can only say that 'I had the time of my life'."

IT'S EXCEPTIONAL

Men who are well posted—who travel—say that our summer suitings are of exceptional excellence and aristocratic exclusiveness. When you select a suiting from our stock you can do so with the absolute certainty that you are securing not alone a pure wool or pure silk and wool fabric but you are also securing a fabric whose design is exclusive. Of course, the style and fit will be A-1—that's guaranteed.

HOW TO BE A WISE ADVERTISER.

To write a thousand words on advertising is harder than to tell your best girl in a ten word telegram all that you neglected to tell her last night. And to show somone else how to advertise is still more difficult.

A local advertiser in a paper like the Daily Press, however, has a great opportunity, and one that he rarely takes full advantage of.

Merely buying space in a newspaper isn't advertising, any more than renting a store is store keeping. You must fill the store with merchandise, and you must fill the advertising space with brains.

As a store-keeper you must keep the stock fresh and clean, and discourage the lingering fly; and as an advertiser you must dust off the copy from day to day, and keep it bright and attractive.

One recognizes old friends in the advertising columns of Plainfield papers. Some of the same advertisements I am quite sure I ran in the "Central N. J. Times" some twenty odd years ago, when my uncle, L. V. F. Randolph, and W. J. Leonard allowed me to wrestle with the local advertising.

On the other hand there are local advertisers here now—small as well as large—who use space well. They are real advertisers.

They tell the story of their store in language they would use if they were talking—not shouting. They do not use the circus appeal, or throw three or four superlatives at every noun. And they change copy frequently. And they write with common sense.

The Wanamaker advertising is strong because it tells all about the goods, gives interesting information, makes no competitive comparisons, and mentions prices truthfully.

People "want to know;" you do. See others as you see yourself and you can advertise successfully, even though your college education came to you under an green apple tree along Green Brook.

Don't advertise that you sell the "best" groceries or shoes or hardware. "That's what they all say," and, besides, perhaps you don't.

Take one or two or more articles, according to your space. Talk about them in your copy. Explain their special points of value and manufacture. Tell why they are good. Use words that the man over the mountain will understand. Imagine that you have one customer you are talking to, and write as if you were really talking to him—not making a Fourth of July oration at Washington Rock.

You must tell a different story constantly in order to attract and sustain interest in you and your business. Or you must tell the same story in a different way.

The Plainfield minister who preached the same sermon very often would soon be forced to take an extended vacation. And as a rule people are far more interested in the saving of their own souls than they are in your particular business.

Do not think it necessary to take big space in order to say something. Sometimes a whisper will attract when a shout would not.

It is what you say, first; how you say it, second; and when you say it, third.

And you can get more value from advertising in local papers like the Plainfield papers than it is possible to secure in any other way. The reason is found in the home quality of their circulation. There is no waste circulation or duplication of circulation.

Every copy counts. It goes into a home, and it is always welcome. Where can you secure a salesman who could get inside the front door of half the homes in Plainfield? You couldn't find one because there isn't one. And if there were, he wouldn't be welcome in most of those homes, or at least he would find he had no proper audience.

Don't confuse programs of pink teas, chowder parties, etc., with advertising. If you want to conciliate an organization or individual hand them the money as a cash contribution John Wanamaker, philanthropic as he is, never allows his firm name to appear in a program, and for the reason that you cannot advertise that way to advantage.

One more important factor—that is type.

If you wished to create a good impression upon a person you would dress neatly, not loudly, in a few harmonious colors.

Same way in advertising. Do not mix eight or ten styles of types in your advertisement. Use two or three styles at the most for ordinary sized copy, and as few fonts or sizes as you can. You would not sing your advertising story; then why run the scale with fancy type.

But above all, be enthusiastic about your advertising. Don't spend your time dressing your window and forget to bring people to your window. Be enthusiastic about both, even though you often cannot see the result.

I remember an excitable Dutch member of the Alert Hose Company who always caromed from trouble to trouble at every fire. But he was enthusiastic and got things going. The water came from fire wells in the street at the corner of Front and Somerset streets and a long rubber hose, screened at the end and called a "sucker," was connected with the engine.

Hans was the "well" man. Arriving a bit late one cold night he found the fire burning fiercely, and everyone standing around waiting for the engine to get up steam.

"Yimminy gracious," he yelled, "vy you don't put that sucker down?"

Being told no steam was up, he shouted:

"Put the sucker down, put 'er down; and put 'er down now, you ——— ———. It maybe vill do some good."

Watch your business for an opportunity to make a "spread" about something. Then come out in big space, tell the story just as it is and as big as it is. Give the reason for the "holler" and you'll soon know how nice it feels to be a Director in the Bank rather than a mere depositor.

BOY SCOUTS CAMPING AT NEW PROVIDENCE

Two companies of the Boy Scouts of America are in camp in New Providence Township, on the bank of the Passaic river, to remain until Labor Day. One of them will be under the charge of Roy Tinney, of Jersey City, who has been a summer camper in this region for a number of years, and he will improve in an interesting way the opportunity which their stay affords. He will make between one and two hundred photographs of the boys, their camp, their evolutions and exercises, and what not else, and from these will make lantern slides for stereopticon exhibitions.

After the camp season here has ended and some matters of personal business have been settled, Mr. Tinney will set out on a trip across the continent, stopping at all important cities on the way, and going north in the Pacific coast as far as Vancouver. His trip will be devoted to lecturing and organizing in the interest of the Boy Scouts movement, and the scene of camp life in New Providence will thus be displayed to thousands of spectators all over the land, and probably also in other continents.

The magnitude which the scout movement has attained already may be estimated from the fact that there are now more than 8,000 scout masters in the United States. The system was invented and has been chiefly promoted by General Robert S. S. Baden-Powell, of the British army, the hero of some of the most brilliant achievements in the South African war.

CHURCH CELEBRATION WILL RECALL LONG-GONE DAYS

The coming celebration of the one hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary of the New Providence Presbyterian church, says the Passaic Valley News, will be a reminder of the age and some of the historic associations of this place. When that church was founded, George II was King of England; Frederick the Great and Maria Theresa had not yet come to their thrones; Oglethorpe had just founded the colony of Georgia, and New Hampshire was still a part of Massachusetts. New Providence, or Turkey, as it was then called, was at that time already a considerable settlement, the most important between Elizabeth and Morristown. The coming celebration will doubtless result in the recalling of many interesting historical facts, and it will be gratifying and profitable if all who have any records and data bearing upon the early history of the place will make them known so that the history not only of that venerable church, but of the whole community may be compiled as fully as possible.

FIRTH IS BOOMED FOR STATE FIREMEN'S HEAD

Phillipsburg, Aug. 17—The exempt relief firemen and the local firemen's relief associations throughout the State have indorsed Mayor Joseph H. Firth, of this place, for the office of president of the New Jersey State Firemen's Association. It is rumored that the present officers are to be opposed by rival candidates at the convention in Atlantic City on September 11.

A large number of the 1,200 delegates, which will comprise the convention, is said to be opposed to the present administration, and it is understood that the incoming body will be asked to amend the present laws governing this body, in order to reduce the expenses by the elimination of unnecessary officers and committees, which, it is asserted, have been too numerous in recent years.

—Love may be blind, but that is no reason why the neighbors should be.

—Considering the two monster battleships are put out of commission during a naval war game, one may wonder what would happen if they got into a real war.—Washington Herald.

—Why marvel at a National Convention with only six delegates? We have heard of a convention with but one.—New York World.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SOME MOLASSES CAKES.

THE old fashioned molasses cakes of our childhood had many merits that modern cooks would do well to recognize. They were as toothsome as they were wholesome.

Sugar then was higher in price, and the molasses cake may have owed some of its popularity to the fact that it was inexpensive, so in these days, when the high cost of living is a topic of such interest, the merit and economy of these dainties are well worth considering.

Timely Hints.

Soda must be used with molasses to neutralize the acid in it, and when a batter is made baking powder is added to make it light. When making molasses cakes brush your pans with melted lard to prevent the cakes sticking.

Here are some recipes for toothsome molasses cakes:

Molasses Drop Cakes.—Take one cupful molasses, three cupfuls flour, one-half cupful butter, the grated rind of a lemon and one teaspoonful soda. Beat the ingredients together and drop in spoonfuls on buttered pans. Bake five or six minutes in quick oven.

Spicy Cakes.

Orleans Cake.—Take one pound of pastry flour, one pound powdered sugar, three-fourths pound butter rubbed to a cream with the sugar, six eggs beaten light and the yolks strained, one cup cream, a half glass of orange juice, one teaspoonful mixed mace and cinnamon, one teaspoonful soda dissolved in hot water, two teaspoonfuls cream tartar sifted with flour. Add the strained yolks to the creamed butter and sugar; to this, the cream and soda; then, in alternate supplies, the whites and flour; finally, spice and orange juice. Beat up hard for three minutes, and bake in two square loaves. The oven should not be too quick, but steady. Cover with paper if the cake shows signs of crustiness on the top before it has risen to the proper height. It should bake one hour.

Molasses Sweets.—Take one cupful of sugar, two-thirds of a cupful of sour cream, one cupful of New Orleans molasses, three eggs and grated rind of a lemon and one and a third teaspoonful of soda. If sour milk is used instead of cream use a whole cupful of butter. Flavor to suit. Fruit may be added. The cake must not be turned out of the pan until nearly cold.

Anna Thompson.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

Autumn Frocks Show Plaits in Conservative Forms.

Serge or charmeuse street dresses show plaits in many forms; also the favorite panniers.

Small quantities of metal embroideries appear on the more elaborate new fall suits.

Fur trimmings in the shape of narrow bands, collars and cuffs are already seen in Paris.

Two toned striped fabrics will be seen in the new autumn coats, the richer and rougher the better.

Chiffon overdresses for evening dresses are now embroidered very heavily with pearl or crystal beads.

The plain gored skirt is always fashionable, always needed. This one is equally well adapted to the coat suit and to the indoor dress to wear with odd waists. The seams give long lines, and the front can be lapped over the side gores in panel fashion.

MISS HAZEL MANNERS.

Crowned Titania XII., Queen of 1912 Asbury Park Carnival.

In the spacious Ocean Grove auditorium, seated upon a make believe royal throne and surrounded by her court—1,000 gypsies, Indians, boy scouts, choristers, colonial dames, fairies, Japanese maidens and others in costume—Miss Hazel Manners of Newark was crowned Titania XII., queen of the 1912 Asbury Park carnival and baby parade. The spectacle was witnessed by an audience of 10,000.

Memorial to Mrs. Decker.

The women of Colorado will probably erect a memorial in the form of a woman's building at the State university to the life and work of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker. The movement was started by the alumnae of the university, and Mrs. Decker was enthusiastic about it. The building will be for the use of needy women students at the university. Mrs. Dewey C. Bailey, president of the Denver Woman's club; Mrs. James D. Whitmore, a past president, and others will attend a meeting at which the matter will be discussed and the memorial idea take form. Mrs. Whitmore says in regard to the proposed memorial, "I know that its erection to her memory and in honor of her life and work would be the most fitting and beautiful tribute within the power of the womanhood of Colorado to bestow."

Said About Womankind.

Life is not long enough for a coquette to play all her tricks in.—Joseph Addison.

If a fox is running, a woman in love is a thousand times more so.—Proverb.

The happiest women, like the happiest nations, have no history—George Eliot.

A mother's prayers, silent and gentle, can never miss the road to the throne of all bounty.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A good tempered woman, of the order yclept buxom, not only warrants a pair of expansive shoulders, but bespeaks our approbation of them.—Leigh Hunt.

Sulphur.

Sulphur is a solid, nonmetallic mineral which has been known from earliest ages. It is hard, yellow and brittle and has a most offensive odor. It is found in veins or beds, mostly near active volcanoes. The imported sulphur generally comes from Solfatia, in Sicily, but large quantities are also procured from copper and iron pyrites. These minerals are heated, and the sulphur, being volatile, flies off in fumes, which are conveyed by means of pipes to a condensing room, if left in the powdery state in which it condenses it is called flour of sulphur. If melted and cast into bars it is called roll sulphur.

Who Was He?

Mrs. Blase—Who was this man Washington, anyway? Mrs. Highupp—Some horridly un-American person, I guess. They say he actually advised against our making any foreign alliances.—Puck.

Attics and Closets.

Most women dread housecleaning, and it is little wonder, if one could see into their attics and closets, says the Woman's Home Companion. They have the "saving mania" and have indulged it all their lives, and many a one, especially she who has stayed in the old home, has not only her own but the accumulations of generations of women before her.

How can any sensible woman be so selfish and so self abusive at the same time as to keep what benefits her in no possible way and yet makes her so much extra work every year? Why not dispose of things to the best possible advantage as they become useless and save half the work of the spring overhauling as well as do a great deal of good?

Health Hints.

People cultivate nerves to a large extent and do not apply simple rules to cure them. Healthy work, particularly out of doors, is an excellent antidote to nerves.

Onions are a very good tonic for nervous people.

Cranberries are good for sufferers from inactive liver.

Evidently Not Worried When Camera Snapped Him in Woods.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

"WAR" TO BE OVER IF REDS GRAB RAILROAD

Twenty Thousand Soldiers Engage In Today's Conflict.

Stratford, Conn., Aug. 17.—A complete map brought into camp by Lieutenant Benjamin D. Foulois, after a fifty-nine minute fight north through the scene of the Red and Blue army maneuvers, shows the doughty generals in charge of the opposing armies are marching their men steadily northward in parallel lines instead of engaging in the much heralded battle which was to decide the fate of the metropolis.

This is not quite according to the plan mapped out for the Reds and Blues, but was to be expected, for the New York and New England railroad through Hawleyville affords a key to the entire situation. If the Reds capture the railroad they will have access to Danbury, the Blue base of supplies, and will virtually be in possession of New York.

The general engagement will have its climax in a grand assault by the Red army against the strongly entrenched center of the Blue forces on the ridge of Newtown and Redding. Practically al the 20,000 soldiers, who have been in training for a week in this war, will be thrown into the conflict.

GOODWIN CRIPPLED FOR LIFE

Comedian Develops Paralysis Following His Accident in Surf.

Santa Monica, Cal., Aug. 17.—"It will be impossible to tell the exact extent of Mr. Goodwin's injuries or his chances for recovery for at least four days," said Dr. C. W. Thomton of the physicians who were in conference in St. Catherine's hospital over Nat Goodwin, the actor, who was perhaps fatally injured yesterday at Rocky Point. Mr. Goodwin was thrown on the rocks when his rowboat was caught in the breakers.

"He will be probably crippled for life, but we are doing the best we can do. He sustained internal injuries in the lower abdomen and several lacerations. The entire groin and right leg in the region of the pelvis are also affected."

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OF INFANTRY REMNANT

Rahway, Aug. 17—Four local survivors of the Fourteenth New Jersey Volunteer Infantry will attend the golden anniversary reunion of their regiment at Freehold, August 26. They are Captain James H. Putnam, George Ayery, O. F. Jones and Matt Burns. Not more than half a dozen survivors live elsewhere.

The reunion will be held on the farm of James B. Vredenburg, whose brother, a major, was killed in battle. The late James H. Bodwell, of this city, was company commander of the Rahway contingent. He was wounded in battle and compelled to retire from service. Lieutenant Putnam was made captain, heading the command in every fight it entered thereafter. The principal speaker of the celebration will be John Handy. A dinner will be served.

HEALTH CODE.

The Plainfield Board of Health at its semi-monthly meeting last night passed on two readings an amendment to the health code, regulating the carting of compost through the city streets between May 1 and October 1, and further providing that those engaged in this work will not be permitted to carry it on at other times of the year unless they use wagons that are covered in such a way as to prevent any nuisance.

BOUND BROOK DEMOCRATS.

At the meeting of the Bound Brook Democratic Club the following officers were elected: President, Leon W. DuFour; vice-president, William F. Vosseller; secretary Louis J. Bowlby; treasurer, Richard B. Casey; auditing committee, Joseph M. Dunne, George H. Packer, Ruynon Field; campaign committee, R. H. Brokaw, V. E. Canode, Henry Nolty, George M. LaMonte, Louis J. Bowlby.

CARNIVAL AT OAK TREE.

A carnival with moving pictures will be held at Oak Tree, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 20 and 21, afternoon and evening, for the benefit of Marconnier Reformed church. Walter Palmer, of New York, will have charge of the pictures. There will be a typical country store and other special attractions and amusements. The women of the church will assist at the various booths and tables.

DAVID ALLEN ROBERTS.

David Allen Roberts, husband of nee Helen Bushnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bushnell, of Central avenue, died yesterday at his home in Moorestown, from typhoid fever. He had been ill about a week. Mr. Roberts was engaged in the electrical business. He is survived by his wife. The funeral service will be held at the late home Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

NOT HIS FAULT.

Frederick Drake, of Elm place, whose three children were left behind when the Warren chapel excursionists returned from Asbury Park, Thursday, says that the reporter was in error when he said the children were in his care. Mr. Drake said he didn't go on the excursion, and that the children were in charge of a woman friend of the family.

DR. BILLINGSLEY TO PREACH.

The Rev. Dr. J. J. Billingsley, of New York, will occupy the pulpit at the First Methodist church tomorrow morning and will preach at the union services at the First Presbyterian church in the evening.

FORMER MARCONNIER SUPPLY.

Rev. Seymour Purdy, who will preach at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow morning, was at one time the supply at Marconnier Reformed church, when it was a chapel. During his stay here he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Veghte, of 27 Jackson avenue.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from the State Trust Company today follows: 9 a. m., 67 degrees; 11 a. m., 75 degrees; 1 p. m., 78 degrees.

—Don't despise the little things," quoted the Wise Guy. "That's right," agreed the Simple Mug. "If you were an elephant you would get more pleasure from a peanut than from a bale of hay."

—There are hardly enough Democratic millionaires to fill up half the diplomatic corps.—Washington Post.

—The Republican party looks like a family back from Reno.—Charleston News and Courier.

—The only difference between a bachelor girl and an old maid is whether we are using the terms before her face or behind her back.

DIED.

MELICK—On Friday, August 16, 1912, William L. Melick, aged 65 years.

Funeral services at his late residence, Mt. Pleasant, N. J., on Monday, August 19, at 2:30 p. m. Interment in Hillside cemetery.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

FISHING NOTES.

Fresh-water fishermen are having good perch, sunfish and catfish angling on the tidewater streams of this State. The largest hauls are being made on the following streams: Rancocas creek above Centreton and southwest branch of this creek above Hainesport, Assiscunk creek above Burlington, Mantua creek above Paulsboro, Raccoon creek eastward from Bridgeport, Oldmans creek and flooded meadows between Jumbo and Pedricktown. The above-named waters are within easy reach, none of them being more than an hour's trip from the Camden terminals.

The lakes and streams of the southern section are now in excellent condition, and black bass and pickerel are beginning to bite more freely since the cooler weather set in. And the outlook for good catches from now on promises to lure large numbers of bait and fly casters, who have heretofore been spending their week-end holidays at the seashore resorts in quest of salt-water angling.

The guides at the lakes in the northern section of the State claim that there will be excellent bass and pickerel fishing the latter part of this month and the first of next. The lakes are nearly through purging and the fish can be seen early any morning working along wherever the water is clear.

Porgie fishing is not over-exciting but if a man is using a light rod he can have considerable pleasure catching the splendid pan fish. They are very thick at the Raunt and boats from Joe Schy's boathouse are bringing in from fifty to seventy-five every day. The weakfishing is nothing to brag about over there, but by fishing with a guide that is familiar with the best grounds, a man can always pick up a dozen.

Make sure that shedder crabs are kept where you intend to go fishing as several parties have been disappointed by finding that, owing to the poor fishing, the boathouse keepers had cut out the bait and they had to return home. Shedders have been a loss to everybody that handled them this year so many boat owners have given them up for the season.

All of the smaller power boats go no further than Ambrose Channel, where the best fluke fishing is to be had. They drift along with the tide, which gives the bait a live movement and in this manner hundreds of fluke are taken in a few hours' fishing.

If you want to get away from the heat for a day go out to the fishing banks on the steamer Cape Cod. A sail of sixty miles with three hours' fishing for a dollar is the best and cheapest trip leaving from New York today. Every day but Monday this boat leaves the Battery at 8:20 and women and children are welcome as well as the men.

Morgan Station is a good place to fish for crabs. The fishing is done in Chesequake Creek, a stream that runs into the country about five miles. Boats can be had at Willett's, Ryerson's or Applegate's. The power boats to hire for fishing with guides are at Ryerson's, Applegate's, Bloodgood's and Hartman's.

Motorboat owners lookng for fish in Raritan Bay had better anchor just south of the boundary beacon or under the Staten Island light. The channel between Perth Amboy and Tottenville is another good place. The vicinity of Old Orchard shoals is a good place to troll or chum for bluefish.

No better fishing trip is scheduled for tomorrow than the one on the steamer Cape Cod from the Battery. This is a large boat with ample accommodations for women and children. The boat leaves at 8:20 every day but Monday but the trip scheduled for today is omitted as some repairs are to be made.

Acker's boats are bringing in a few weakfish at Seawaren and plenty of crabs. Last Sunday he had seventy boats out and each one brought in baskets of crabs. Some of the men folks fished for eels while the women and children caught crabs and in this way they brought home a combination of food.

When the Thelma landed at her dock Thursday night, every man among the fifty that walked ashore wore a happy smile because they had all had some wonderfully fine fishing. Humpback sea bass, weighing up to seven pounds, were taken and the smallest catch was twelve fish. Captain Lehlbach anchored at Long Beach that day and just to try it again he will go to the same place tomorrow. The Thelma leaves from the Central Railroad pier, Jersey City, at 7:30 a. m.

FISH AND GAME LAW FOR THE SPORTSMAN

Compiled By the State Fish and Game Commission For Open Season.

The State Fish and Game Commission has compiled the open season for various kinds of game and fish according to the fish and game laws enacted by the last Legislature. Quail, rabbit, squirrel, male English ringneck pheasant, rough grouse, prairie chicken, wild turkey, and Hungarian partridge may be shot during the months of November and December. The shooting of female English ringneck pheasants is absolutely barred until November 1, 1914.

The open season for gray or English snipe is March and April, and from September 1 to December 31. Rail birds and reed birds may be shot from September 1 to December 31. The shooting of upland plover is prohibited until August 1, 1916, and there can be no shooting of wood ducks until April 1, 1915. The open season for woodcock is from October 15 to December 31, and there is a special penalty of $100 for taking any game, the killing of which is prohibited from October 15 to November 1.

Black and mallard ducks may be shoot from November 1 to March 1. Other ducks and swan from November 1 to March 15, and geese, brant, and shell-drake from November 1 to April 10. There is a special law for hunting ducks, geese and brant on Delaware river and bay, and this makes the open season for this game September 1st to March 1st. The open season for shore birds such as surf snips or bay snipe is from May 1 to December 31.

Deer can be shot only during the first five days of November, only those having horns visible above the hair may be taken, only one deer a year may be shot; hunting deer with dogs is prohibited, and it is illegal to use any rifle or any firearm of any kind of a smaller calibre than twelve guage or to use any missle larger than buck shot. Hunting deer at night is prohibited.

The open season for fish is as follows: Brook trout, April 1 to July 15; black bass, Oswego bass, white bass, calico bass and crappie, May 10 to November 30. Pike and pickerel, the month of January and May 20 to November 30; pike-perch or wall-eyed pike, May 20 to November 30. The open season for game fish in Delaware river and bay and their tributaries where the tide ebbs and flows is from June 15 to December 1.

SCOTCH PLAINS VS. PLAINELLEN

Martin Will Lead Hybrid Bunch of Players Against Plainsmen Tomorrow.

WHAT MARTIN SAYS

Fast Game In Order—Four Dunellen Players In the Lineup—Team Not Originally Signed Up As Dunellen.

Dunellen will not play at Scotch Plains tomorrow afternoon, but four of the Dunellen players will appear with a team to be know as the "Plainellen" baseball team. Although Manager Alberts has advertised the game under the name of Manager Bogardus' aggregation, the players who will make up the combination have refused to play under the name of that team, because of the fact that the Dunellen manager will not give his consent to them to play as a team on Sunday. It was claimed by the Plains manager that Brit Martin, the Dunellenites' captain, had arranged a game with his team for Sunday afternoon, and had told him to advertise the contest under the name of Dunellen and he had done so only upon Martin's consent.

When seen last night Martin had the following comment to make: "Manager Alberts asked me to bring down a team of ball players to stage the exhibition game at the Plains next Sunday afternoon, and nothing was said in regard to naming the combination after Dunellen, which I play on on Saturdays. Manager Alberts has an entirely reverse idea of the situation if he advertises the team under the name of Dunellen for the contest Sunday my players will not take the field."

The Plainfielders who will make up the Plainellen combination are as follows: McLaughlin, p; Dixon, c; Emery, 1b; Martin (capt.), 2b; Dodge, ss; Montross, 3b; Evans, lf; Wilson, cf; Elliott, rf. While this lineup does not stand as final and Martin says that he may strengthen it to some extent, it looks as though the nine would prove formidable opponents for the Scotch Plains bunch, and the game tomorrow should be a corker.

PLAINFIELD LADS ENTER COMING CANOE RACES

Among the entrants in the water carnival to be held next Thursday at Belman will be several from Plainfield, and they are looking forward to getting away with some of the many handsome prizes offered for the various events. In the canoe doubles for boys, Gerald Thickstun and Daniel McNamee are entered and have been practising together daily on Shark river. Both of these youngsters have had more or less experience wielding a paddle and are considered likely aspirants for first place in the events in which they are entered. In the canoe singles for senior entrants, Robert Thickstun is entered, and as he took first place in the same event last year, he is looked upon as a leader in the coming carnival. The two lads entered in the junior races have never competed in a competition event before, and their friends are watching with interest the outcome of the affair. Robert Thickstun is an experienced canoeist and has been seen in other water carnivals of the same kind. If they are successful in the races next Thursday the fellows expect to file their entries in the Asbury Park, Belmar and Spring Lake water carnivals which are to be held during the month of August.

PARKER FIELD SCHEDULE.

The following games will be played in the Parker Field junior baseball league schedule next week: Monday, Athletics vs. Cubs; Tuesday, Giants vs. Yankees; Wednesday, Cubs vs. Pirates; Thursday, Pirates vs. Giants; Friday, Yankees vs. Athletics.

CAN YOU GUESS WHO THIS REALTY MAN IS?

The Gingery Contributor of the Passaic Valley News devotes himself this week to an exposition of one way in which railroads are approached for such things as new stations and more trains. One might spend an interesting minute or so trying to guess the name of the wayback boomer referred to. Says the G. C.:

We were lunching at the Railroad Club the other day, and the talk turned upon the subject of local improvements on surburban lines. One of the company complained of the unwillingness of the average official to listen to, much more to grant, the reasonable request of the traveling public.

"You are quite wrong," interrupted my friend Veritus, the General Manager of the P. D. Q. "The fact is that we are eager to hear and to consider all reasonable requests, complaints, and what not, and we always try to act upon them. It is the unreasonable ones that we turn down."

"Don't you think," ventured the other, "that it is reasonable to ask for a station agent where one is needed, and for additional trains when they are needed?"

"Yes," said Veritus; "but it isn't reasonable to expect us to grant such things without proof that they are really needed, on the mere sayso of some irresponsible and self-seeking individual; especially when we find out that he has misrepresented the case.

"For example, there was Wayback, on our road. One day a man wrote to us an urgent demand for the appointment of a permanent station agent there. He had put up $40,000 worth of new buildings, he said; and such a growing place ought to be encouraged. We had not heard of any such growth at Wayback, so we sent a man out to see. He found that all the new buildings and repairs made by all the people of the region round about in the last three or four years would just about foot up the total which our enterprising petitioner had named. Well, we didn't appoint the agent.

"Pretty soon the same man bobbed up again, this time with a list of real estate sales which he had just made. There were twenty-five or thirty of them. He had the list printed in a local paper, so worded as to convey the impression that he had made all those sales within a fortnight. It was news to us, and we sent out again to see about it. Our agent reported that that list of sales comprised all that the speculator had made in the place during the five or six years of his operations there. Again, we turned a deaf ear to his petition. Too bad, wasn't it?

"Now if some real resident of the place, not a speculative 'boomer,' had come to us with freight bills showing how many hundred dollars of freight came there in a month, and with a list showing how many passengers got on there, and other such data, we should have listened attentive and gratefully, and might have been convinced of the need of granting the request. But when the appeal to us was based upon nothing but extravagant misrepresentations—well, we are not buying gold bricks!"

"And the moral of that?" I asked.

"Simply the Golden Rule. Deal honestly and reasonably with the railroads, and they will do the same with you."

Then the waiter served the coffee.

SOCIALISTS TO CONDUCT CO-OPERATIVE STORE

Elizabeth, Aug. 17.—A meeting of the American Co-operative Society of the Socialists was held in the rooms, 21 Broad street, to plan for the opening of a grocery store and the society decided to lease the store formerly occupied by J. W. Orr.

The store is situated at the cross roads opposite the monument. Business will be started as soon as alterations in the building can be finished, which will probably be in the next two weeks. The membership of the society has been growing steadily until it now has about 225 on the roll.

A controlling committee was elected to look after the business of the store. A manager will be appointed to take charge of the store and the needed help employed. The controlling committee is as follows: Julius Baldauf, Arved Bertleson, August Fischer, John Gordon, John Kalmin, Julius Schmitt and Ernest Sarvin.

The meetings of the society are held every second Tuesday in the month.

The board of directors will hold a special meeting on Thursday night of next week, when it will take up the business difficulties of the society.

About $800 has been paid into the treasury, and more has been promised by men and women who will shortly become members. The profits of the store will be divided according to the number of shares the stockholders have. Among the officers of the society are: President, H. L. Keiper, and secretary, R. J. Borer. The membership fee is $5. The store is incorporated under the laws of New Jersey.

Sure, It's Your Money But Why Waste It On Inferior Clothing

And Franklin was right.

Furthermore, I believe that everything that Life possesses should have a "string attached" to it—including our money.

To spend money foolishly is as criminal as to waste one's life—for life without money is a failure!

IT WAS A DARK AND STORMY DAY ON THE BEACH

A Five Million Dollar Insurance Policy

A New York Surety Company was recently requested by a banking institution to issue a hold-up and robbery insurance policy for $5,000,000. This was to protect the bank during the removal of its securities to a new location. If a rich and powerful institution insures against a chance of loss lasting only a few hours, you should by all means protect your family against a risk which exists every hour of your life. Life Insurance will do it.

Admiral Reynolds and General Pershing Will Join Him on the Way.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Secretary of State Knox, special ambassador to Japan, left Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Knox and Ransford S. Miller, to represent President Taft at the funeral of Emperor Mutsuhito at Tokyo Sept. 13.

The party goes in a special car by way of Chicago to Seattle, where the armored cruiser Maryland is waiting. At Seattle it will be joined by Admiral Reynolds as naval aide and at Yokohama by Brigadier General Pershing, military member of the staff.

ADE SURPRISED BY LONDON.

"Many Signs of American Progressiveness," He Says.

London, Aug. 17.—George Ade, motoring in England after a rest cure at Carlsbad, finds London greatly Americanized since his last visit, eighteen years ago.

"It is surprising," he said. "To see American progressiveness in the shops and streets. Shop windows are more attractive, clerks more alert, and everything denotes the influence of American business methods."

GIRL CAUGHT IN MACHINE BELT

Her Fiancee, Few Feet Away, Powerless to Help.

WAS TO BE MARRIED SOON

Worked Late at Factory In Order to Help Furnish Home She and Prospective Husband Hoped to Occupy. Badly Disfigured, She's In Hospital.

New Brunswick, N. J., Aug. 17.—Mary Hendrickson was working in the factory of the Consolidated Fruit Jar company here, only a few feet from her fiance, Clifford Baker, a local boxer, when just a few minutes before the 6 o'clock whistle announced the end of the day's work her hair became loosened and caught in a belt.

In an instant she had been drawn to the fly wheel, and her scalp, her ears and eyebrows and much of the skin of her face had been torn off. When her horrified companions finally stopped the machinery she was rushed to St. Peter's hospital, and Dr. Howard C. Voorhees sewed on her scalp and gave her what relief he could.

Miss Hendrickson was to have been married in two weeks. She had expected to leave her position at the factory before this time, but had stayed that she might earn money to help in furnishing the home she and her lover hoped soon to occupy. She was a leader among her fellow workers and a bright, companionable spirit. She made and held friends easily, and of late much of the conversation in her department had dealt with the coming wedding and with the happy sendoff her companions would give her.

SAYS HE WAS HYPNOTIZED.

Brentwood Man Under Spell Since Wednesday Found In Brooklyn.

Brentwood, N. J., Aug. 17.—Under a hypnotic spell since Wednesday evening, Joseph Hagen, twenty-four years old, of this town was found by a policeman at Bedford avenue and North Eleventh street, Brooklyn. Still oblivious to his surroundings and deaf to the policeman's questions, Hagen was taken to Williamsburg hospital, where with drugs he was partially revived.

To the surgeons he said he was approached by a man in Brentwood Wednesday who offered him a position. The stranger said he was a hypnotist and would make Hagen his assistant. When he declined the job, Hagen said, the man passed his hands before his face, and that is all he remembered until he was revived in the hospital.

DR. WILLETT'S WIFE DIES.

End Comes to Mother of Rear Admiral at Spring Lake.

Spring Lake, N. J., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Eliza Jane Willetts, wife of the Rev. Dr. A. A. Willetts, died here at the age of eighty-eight. She had been failing for several years. Since her husband's retirement from the ministry at Dayton, O., Mrs. Willetts had been his active aid in volunteer church work.

The funeral will be at Manasquan on Sunday. Mrs. Willetts leaves six children—Dr. Charles Willetts of Philadelphia, Rear Admiral A. D. Willetts, United States navy, now at Washington; Frederick Willetts of Philadelphia, Mrs. Joseph Porter of Spring Lake, Mrs. William F. Brown of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. A. B. Lewis of Los Angeles.

FLEW TO ATLANTIC CITY.

Bergdoll Carried a Passenger From Philadelphia.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 17.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the Philadelphia sportsman, woke up Atlantic City with the whirr of his aeroplane propellors after a perfect flight from Llanerch, four miles outside of Philadelphia. He carried Charles Krouse as a passenger.

The aeroplanists were in the air just 1 hour and 25 minutes. The highest altitude was reached over Berlin, N. J., when Bergdoll soared 7,003 feet above the earth. The birdman maintained an average speed of fifty miles an hour, at times going over the sixty mark, but keeping a steady gait for the greater part of the trip.

BIG RAID AT ASBURY PARK.

Twenty-seven Arrests For Liquor Selling and Gambling

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 17.—The biggest roundup of alleged illegal liquor sellers since the big raid shortly after the annexation of the west side in 1906 was made. Twenty-seven arrests were made.

All the arrests were made on warrants issued on complaints of Chief of Police William H. Smith. Arraigned before Magistrate J. A. Borden, the alleged violators were held in $500 bail each. Some of the arrests were for conducting gambling resorts and disorderly houses.

Relatives In Prussia Told Estate Is $4,500,000—He Died Penniless.

Berlin, Aug. 17. — Newspapers of Rhenish Prussia, where Herman Rosenthal came from, assert that the murdered gambler left a fortune of $4,500,000.

Four German heirs, it is said, will put in claims to the estate. One of them is Ludwig Rosenthal, a bookbinder, who is an inmate of the Municipal hospital at Gladbach.

So far as is known, Herman Rosenthal was practically penniless when he was murdered. Sam Paul has said that he paid the dead gambler's funeral expenses.

RUNYON LIKELY TO BE CANDIDATE

Said Today That Petition For Primary Nomination Would Soon Be Out.

RAN TWO YEARS AGO

Defeated Then By Wilson Landslide—District Was Normally Republican Before Reapportionment, and Is Stronger Now Than It Ever Was

That former Judge William N. Runyon may be a candidate for Congress again this year at the November election, has begun to look more than likely. The question as to whether or not he would run was put up to him squarely this morning, and he said that, while a petition would soon be in circulation, seeking signers to place his name on the Republican primary ballot, he has not positively made up his mind yet whether the petition would be filed with the county clerk so that the name could be voted upon.

Mr. Runyon ran for Congress two years ago against William Tuttle, of Westfield, the present incumbent. At that time the great Democratic landslide which carried Governor Wilson into office took Mr. Tuttle along with it, although this district is usually Republican by a safe majority. Since that time Judge Runyon has been urged to try again, and his statement this morning is the first definite one he has made on that subject. The lines of the district have been changed to make it more strongly Republican, as Warren county, which always could be depended upon to turn a Democratic majority, was removed from the district by the re-apportionment act of a year ago.

Judge Runyon has a large circle of friends in Plainfield, and would undoubtedly make a strong showing in this city. When he ran in 1910 he had a majority of nearly 1400 over his opponent in the city, but he lost Morris and Union counties by about 1200 at that time. It is not generally believed that this year the Democrats will poll so large a vote as was the case two years ago, and if the third party does not have a candidate for Congress, the Republicans look for a victory this fall.

MISSIONARIES RETURN TO THE CHINESE FIELD

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Davis, who have been staying at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. W. H. Rogers, 424 Central avenue, left yesterday for China where they will continue their missionary work to which they have devoted their lives. They have been in America a year, a vacation that followed a long stay at a missionary station at Shanghai.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers gave a farewell family reunion in their honor last Thursday evening. At the party Mr. and Mrs. Davis related many interesting experiences they had had during their 33 years' stay at the heathen town of Shanghai.

Those present at the farewell party were Dr. T. L. Gardner, editor of the Sabbath Recorder; Mrs. Stillman, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Jordan, of New Market; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Van Sickle, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Davis, Mr. and Mrs T. G. Davis and Miss Ethel Titsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis have spent a large part of their lives teaching the gospel to the Chinese. During their stay in China they seldom saw any people other than natives for weeks at a time. They are commissioned by the Missionary Board of the Seventh Day Baptist church.

FINDS RELIC OF CITY'S OLD FIRE DEPARTMENT

Elston M. French, of Somerset street, while looking through some old effects a few days ago, discovered the silver plate that was attached to the first steamer owned by the Plainfield Fire Department, which was organized April 10, 1854, when the city and borough department was one, and it is now on exhibition at Mr. French's office on North avenue. The inscription on the plate is as follows:

"Plainfield Fire Department, N. J., organized April 10, 1854. Board of Officers, 1867. Oliver Runyon, president; Jeremiah VanWinkle, treasurer; Theodore F. French, secretary; John Rosell and P. M. French, directors." Messrs. French and VanWinkle resided in the borough at that time, and Messrs. Runyon and Rosell lived in the city.

Rev. F. St. John Fitch, of Park avenue, occupied th epulpit of the Fairmount Baptist church, Newark, yesterday.

SPEAKEASY KEEPER IS FINED FIFTY DOLLARS

Foreigners Crowd Courtroom to See Delacaro Plead—Colored Carver Surrenders.

Casual visitors to City Judge DeMeza's court this morning would probably have gotten the impression that the Black Hand had been gathered in, judging from the number of foreigners who crowded into the little court room to see justice meted out to Dominick Delacaro, of 353 Hill street. Chief Kiely has been under the impression for some time that Delacaro was selling liquor on Sunday without a license for any day in the week, and yesterday he took Patrolmen Flynn and McDonald with him and paid a visit to the Hill street address. There he picked up Delacaro, and also Andy Sundii and two other Italians, who both claimed their names were Michael Santo, the latter three being charged with disorderly conduct. Judge DeMeza after hearing Delacaro's plea of guilty, fined him fifty dollars, with the privilege of spending thirty days in jail, and Delacaro decided to pay the fine. The other three men were given suspended sentences.

George Gilbert, colored, was on the carpet next. Some weeks ago, in what he described as a "fooling moment" he carved the face of his wife, Hattie Gilbert, the cuts being thoroughly administered. He then skipped town. Saturday night late he came back, and Hattie refused to let him in, so after wandering around, he turned up at police headquarters yesterday morning and gave himself up, saying that he was prepared to face the music. The charge was artocious assault and battery.

George said he did not know just how he had cut his wife, but that it must have been with a knife she was using in preparing dinner, as he had not carried a knife or razor for seven years. He seemed a little vague on that score. Hattie was called on by the Judge and she said that she thought maybe it would be best to let the law take its course. After the Judge had talked to George for a while longer, during which the man protested that he loved his wife and would be good to her, Judge DeMeza suspended sentence for a month, saying that if there was any more trouble the man would be held for the Grand Jury. Chief Kiely said that Gilbert had a good reputation as a working man.

Thomas Carrar, of 107 Somerset street, was picked up on Saturday night by Patrolman Wicht, charged with being drunk and disorderly. He explained to the court this morning that it was his first offense of the kind, and hinted that the arrest was not justified. The Judge thereupon held Carrar under $50 bail for a hearing tomorrow morning, when the officer will be on hand. Carrar has a good reputation and has never before been known to have been under the influence of liquor.

William McCarthy, of 649 East Sixth street, was brought into court charged with stealing four dollars from the drug store of C. M. Nagle. He was represented by Lawyer John P. Owens, who entered a plea of not guilty for the young man and he was held under $100 bail for a hearing. According to the charge it is alleged that on Saturday afternoon he and another young man entered the store and taking advantage of the opportunity afforded while Mr. Nagle waited on another customer, annexed four dollars which was lying along side of the cash register. Mr. Nagle discovered his loss and reported it to police headquarters, and Patrolman McDonald picked McCarthy up yesterday. McCarthy was arrested twice in 1908, once for vagrancy and once for being disorderly, and in 1910 he was sent to the Rahway reformatory for an assault upon his father. He remained there thirteen months, and since getting out has been working at the plumbing trade.

While Chief Kiely and his assistants were on their way to Hill street to arrest Delacaro they noticed Ralph Dalto, who said he was a barber from Somerville, walking through Cottage Place, and carrying a small bag such as jewelry pedlers carry. The chief learned that the man was selling cheap jewelry and arrested him for selling without a license and on Sunday Judge DeMeza fined him $5 this morning.

Richard Norwood sent word over to police headquarters by his wife last night that he would like to have an officer or two at his home, 364 Arlington avenue, as he was afraid his neighbor, Ernest Gatewood, the city dog catcher, was planning to make things hot for him (Norwood.) An officer was sent around by Captain Frederickson, and peace was restored for the time being, but Norwood appeared this morning at headquarters to make a complaint against Gatewood. Judge De Meza had adjourned court and left, but Norwood left the names of Gatewood, Isaac White, Mary Walcott for summons.

END SUMMER COURSE AT WATCHUNG CREST

Children Weep Over Departture of Student-Teachers—Certificates for Graduates.

It was an exceptional gathering which met in the auditorium at Watchung Crest last Saturday morning to take part in the closing exercises of the Summer Course for the Training of Teachers of Exceptional Children, which was conducted at Herbart Hall by the National Association for the Study and Education of Exceptional Children. The children sang and recited with marked spirit, and representatives of the student teachers spoke with unexpected enthusiasm of the group of able men who had made up the staff of lecturers during the course.

As for the student-teachers' own exceptional fitness for the work of which these exercises marked the "Commencement," nothing attests it better than the tears with which their departure was greeted by the little people whom they had come to learn how to help. The chief thought in the minds of all seemed to be the desire to carry away a portion of that self-sacrificing devotion to the cause which they had seen in the lives of Dr. Groszmann and his son, Waldemar H. Groszmann, the principal of the school.

Mrs. Cynthia M. Tregear, superintendent of the International Sunshine Branch for the Blind, was present to add her word of appreciation for the work of aiding the mentally and morally blind which the Groszmann's are carrying forward with such a surprising degree of success.

Dr. Groszmann in a brief address declared thet he laid no claim to having solved the problem of the exceptional child, but merely was among the first to broach that problem.

Assemblyman William de la Roche Anderson, who is vice president of the association, presented certificates to the graduating teachers.

DR. J. J. BILLINGSLEY AT UNION SERVICE

Four Congregations Hear the Eloquent Pastor of 24th St. M. E. Church.

The union service of the First Reformed and First Presbyterian churches was held last night at the First Presbyterian church, and, as usual, there was a large congregation representing all the churches. The music was in charge of Herbert Harold, organist, and the quartet choir sang several selections.

Rev. Dr. J. J. Billingsley, pastor of the Twenty-fourth Street M. E. church, New York, who occupied the pulpit of the First M. E. church in the morning, was the preacher. Rev. Seymour Purdy, of Newbury, N. Y., who occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church in the morning, assisted in the service. Dr. Billingsley took his text from Amos 6-4: "For thus saith the Lord unto the house of Israel, seek ye me and ye shall live." He emphasized the words of the text, "seek ye me." He described Amos as a prophet who was sent into Israel among a hostile people to deliver the word of God and told of his excellent work.

The preacher said that it was through the heart and not the head that a person is saved; that unless the heart is right with God nothing can be right. He made an earnest appeal to his hearers to see that their hearts are right with God so that they might have that everlasting peace and happiness and an assurance that everything is all right when the last call comes.

During the service Mr. Purdy read the Scripture lesson and offered prayer. The last of the union services will be held next Sunday night at the First Baptist church.

HIS FAREWELL SERMON.

Rev. George D. Rockey preached his farewell sermon, last night, as pastor of the Methodist church, Scotch Plains. In the morning he occupied the pulpit at the union service held in the Baptist church, Scotch Plains. Mr. Rockey was greeted by a large and appreciative congregation at both services. In the evening the members of his church turning out in force to wish him success in his new work in the mission field of India.

BICYCLE STOLEN.

George Hummer, of Codington avenue, had his bicycle stolen on Friday afternoon while calling for a few moments at a house on Greenbrook road.

R. R. DETECTIVE HELD ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Threatened at His Hearing—Warrants For Other Central Policemen.

Charles Kaub, of the New Jersey Central Railroad police, has been held in $500 bail by Recorder David S. Campbell, of Dunellen, on a charge of assault preferred by Charles Hartman, of Cleveland, who has been visiting relatives at Dunellen, and other warrants will be issued tonight for the arrest of Detectives Gray, Lavarett and other detectives, alleged to have ben implicated in the recent trouble at Dunellen.

The action against the detectives grew out of the alleged false arrest of Hartman and Charles Wyckoff, his uncle, at the latter's home in Dunellen recently.

Francis J. Blatz represents Mr. Hartman, being called away, requested Judge R. P. F. von Minden, of New Market, to look after his client's interest. When the case was called, there was considerable excitement in the overcrowded court room, and several times the detectives were threatened. Damage suits against the railroad company are threatened in an effort to determine the rights of the citizens of Dunellen in such cases.

AVIATION MANAGERS OPEN FRONT STREET HEADQUARTERS

The promoters of the aviation meet to be held at the Plainfield Driving Park, Friday and Saturday afternoons, have opened headquarters on East Front street, opposite the Y. M. C. A., where all the details of the affair are being arranged. Lincoln Beachey and Beckwith Havens, two of the best known birdmen, will gve the exhibition in this city, as advertised, rain or shine.

Both Havens and Beachey have distinguished themselves in flights with the Curtiss biplane and they promise to give one of their best exhibitions in this city, besides carrying United States mail from the driving park, for which permission has been obtained. The flights will include many graceful and thrilling evolutions in mid-air, and an effort will be made to break the world's altitude record.

FRED. H. ANDREWS SPEAKS AT NETHERWOOD HOME

A large number of people attended the services at the Netherwood Fresh Air Home yesterday afternoon. F. H. Andrews, of Central avenue, was the chief speaker. His topic was "The Leper." Elmer Wheeler played selections on his flute and the children's choir sang. Elizabeth Metzler and Marion Hendsey, two of the children at the home, took the offering.

The leaders for the week will be as follows: Tonight, J. F. Parker; Tuesday, the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh Day Baptist church will have charge. Wednesday, Miss Edith Hamilton will entertain with whistling selections and Mrs. Royle T. Phillips will tell stories and sing. Thursday evening, the Epworth League of the Monroe Avenue Methodist church will conduct a religious service and Friday the Christian Endeavor Society of the Trinity Reformed church will take care of the services.

Next Sunday, Rev. E. R. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Dunellen, will be the chief speaker, and Miss Helen B. Downer, contralto of the First M. E. church choir, will be the soloist.

PROGRESSIVES CENTER OF COUNTY INTEREST

Ol dParty Leaders In Union Keenly Anxious About Coming Meeting.

Political interest in Union county seems centered in the movements of the third party leaders. Organization Republicans are making strenuous efforts to get them to forego naming candidate for Congress and Assembly, while the Democrats are deeply interested in bringing this about. The Democrats believe that with a third ticket in the field they will be certain to elect their entire ticket.

The Bull Moose men anounce that they will hold a county meeting probably on August 25, when they will decide on their course of action. There is a division of opinion among them. Some want to put an entire third ticket in the field, while others want to make the county fight within the Republican party.

One obstacle in the way of a third ticket has appeared. John K. English, of Elizabeth, who has been mentioned as a Bull Moose candidate for Congress, announces that he will not take an active interest in the campaign, although he still is interested in the Roosevelt movement.

There seems to be plain sailing for the slate announced last week by the Republican organization. Indications are that George T. Parrot, the present incumbent, will be renominated for surrogate without opposition, and that William F. Groves, George L. Babcock and Charles N. Codding will be nominated for the Assembly in the same way. One or two men, not slated, may get freeholder nominations, but in the main the favorites of the organization will be chosen, it is expected.

Frank Smith, the county chairman, is out with a statement that makes it appear that the freeholder race is a free-for-all, but this is not taken altogether seriously. Among the men slated for freeholder nominations are S. P. T. Wilbur, of this city; Peter J. Olde, of Elizabeth; Henry Krouse, of Roselle; John N. Cady, of Summit, and William H. Randolph, of Rahway. The latter has said he will not be a candidate, but he may be induced to run.

FORMER ATHLETES HOLD REUNION HERE

Members of Old Amaranth Club, of Elizabeth, Guests of A. L. Conant.

A reunion of the old Amaranth Athletic Club was held yesterday at the home of Alvah L. Conant, on Fairview avenue, who was the president of the club during its existence in Elizabeth. Among those present were Louis Allison, Wallace Laing, Stanley Decker and wife who was secretary of the organization, and Samuel Manahan, all of Elizabeth.

The athletic club to which these young people belonged closed its doors in 1905 with many of Union county's best athletes and baseball players on its membership roll. Laing was one of the best ball players in this vicinity at that time and pitched many of the games against the old Crescent Athletic Club. Allison held many records in the running broad jump and was often seen at his best in the meets held by the club on their own athletic field in Elizabeth.

Conant needs no introduction to the athletic faction of this city, where he has conducted a number of athletic meets, among them being the Charter Day meet in 1906 and he was actively engaged in promoting the Y. M. C. A. meet for July 4, when he was suddenly taken sick. He was formerly captain of the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. track team and has run in some of the foremost long distance races of the country.

Old winning days were discussed by those present and defeats gone over in a way which brought back old memories of past track and field meets. After the meeting refreshments were served on a table decorated in the club's colors, green and cherry. At a late hour the guests returned to their homes at the county seat to call on and remember those members who were unable to be present at the home of Mr. Conant.

BURIED IN THIS CITY.

Mrs. Kate Bronk, widow of H. P. Bronk, who died at her home in Red Bank, on Friday, was buried this morning in the M. E. cemetery, Rev. John G. Currier, curate of Grace church, officiating. Mrs. Bronk was a resident of Plainfield thirty years ago, and was a member of Grace church at the time Rev. E. M. Rodman was rector. Mr. Bronk was engaged in the real estate business here.

PLAINFIELDERS HELP AT HOPATCONG FIRE

Morrison and Duckworth Join Salvage Corps When Colonial Inn Burns.

Lake Hopatcong, Aug. 19 (Special).—For the second time this season, Lake Hopatcong was visited by a disastrous fire Saturday night when the Colonial Inn, the newest and most modern of the large hotels at the resort situated on the west bank of the River Styx, was totally destroyed, the fact that the blaze started at 10:30 is probably all that prevented a loss of life as the hostelry was crowded to its capacity with regular and week-end guests, many of whom were visiting different parts of the lake at the time. Only a few who were in the building and had rooms near the ground floor managed to save their effects. The total loss is placed at $25,000.

The fire was caused by the proprietor of the inn, John Curtin, who struck a match in the basement to locate a leak in the acetylene gas plant which illuminated the building. An explosion followed that hurled Curtin against a wall and burned him badly from head to foot. He managed to stagger up stairs where help was given him, but nothing could be done to stay the progress of the flames that followed the explosion. They spread about with lightning-light rapidity, while a scene of wild confusion ensued when the guests realized what had happened. In the midst of the excitement several babies were left behind in upstairs rooms but were saved by heroic men who braved the danger. Among those who helped in saving the few effects that were gotten out were Harvey Morrison and "Jack" Duckworth, of Plainfield, both of whom were visiting friends at the inn at the time.

The Colonial Inn was built less than a year ago and this was its first season. It was owned by a stock company of which Curtin was the organizer and largest holder. He said today that the insurance on the building only covered the first mortgage and that his personal loss would be very heavy.

The building was of terracotta and tile construction and although supposedly fire proof was a mass of ruins in two hours. An hour after the blaze started the walls were shattered to pieces by the exploding of the acetylene gas tank and several nearby cottages were saved only by the work of bucket brigades.

The flames lighted up the entire lake and offered a brilliant spectacle for the thousands of summer visitors as the inn was situated a hundred feet above the water.

ARMSTRONG BACK FROM DRUGGISTS' CONVENTION

Thomas S. Armstrong, the local druggist, returned this morning from a week's trip to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he attended the annual gathering of the National Association of Retail Druggists. He returned over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with a number of others from Philadelphia and nearby places who attended the gathering.

Mr. Armstrong says that the gathering was most successful, and that the trip both going and coming was the pleasantest and most attractive from a scenic point of view that he has ever attended. At the convention he tok a leading part, having been a member of the credentials, organization and nominating committees.

WOMAN HURT WHEN TROLLEY CAR IS FIRED BY LIVE WIRE

Mrs. E. G. Whitney, of Clinton avenue, was slightly hurt last week on a main line trolley car at Rahway Junction. Mrs. Whitney was returning from Elizabeth, when the car ran into a live wire just outside of Garwood. The car caught fire and in the excitement the conductor knocked down Mrs. Whitney.

The fire was extinguished and another car brought the passengers to their destinations. Mrs. Whitney was severely bruised and it was feared was suffering with internal injuries. However, no injuries have set in as yet, and she is resting comfortably.

BACK FOR REUNION.

They will return via Buffalo and Niagara Falls, reaching home on Labor Day to attend the annual reunion of the Hummer family to be held this year at the country estate of Joseph B. Anderson, known as Rockland Farm, near Staunton, N. J.

WOMAN KILLED IN ROAD CRASH

Mrs. Hazlin's Skull Fractured When Auto and Carriage Come Together.

NEAR DARLING FARM

Oscar Harrison, Who Drove Car Figured In Similar Fatal Accident Six Years Ago—Buggy Smashed. Occupants Escape With Bruises.

Mrs. Andrew Hazlin, of Lincoln, was killed in an automobile accident between Dunellen and Lincoln yesterday afternoon, her companion, Oscar Harrison, of Dunellen, was slightly injured, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Arsdale, of Prospect place, North Plainfield, into whose rig the auto crashed, were thrown, but escaped with slight bruises and shock.

Albert Galloway, of Lincoln, who happened along in his automobile a few minutes after the crash, assisted in placing Mrs. Hazlin in his car and started with her for Muhlenberg Hospital. Before Dunellen was reached she died. An examination later showed that her skull was fractured. Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale returned home in an automobile, their carriage being a complete wreck. The horse was uninjured.

Policeman Davenport, of Dunellen, arrested Harrison and the latter was paroled in his charge until this morning when he was arraigned before Judge Daly in New Brunswick. The prisoner was held in $3,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter, and Mr. Winter, proprietor of a hotel at Dunellen, furnished the security. Detective Fitzgerson, of the county prosecutor's office, has been asigned to investigate the case.

The accident happened on the Bound Brook road, near the Darling farm. Both the automobile and the carriage were going toward Plainfield. Mr. Van Arsdale says that he was driving along leisurely, when the automobile bore down so suddenly upon him that he did not have time to turn to the left and escape a collision. The machine crashed into the carriage, throwing Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale out and reducing the vehicle to kindling wood.

At the same time the automobile overturned and both Mrs. Hazlin and Mr. Harrison were thrown out. The women landed in a ditch on her head, with her companion but a few feet away. The latter, quickly recovering his senses, hastened to assist Mrs. Hazlin. He found her unconscious. Just then Mr. Galloway came along and his automobile was pressed into service.

Although the woman died on her way to Plainfield the journey was continued to the hospital, where it was definitely decided that she was beyond hope. The body was then taken to the undertaking parlors of George W. Cole on West Second street, awaiting further orders from the Middlesex county authorities who had been notified.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale not being seriously injured were able to care for themselves. An outoist who came along soon after the accident offered to bring them home and arrangements were made for taking the horse to Plainfield. Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale when they started out for a drive were accompanied by their bull dog. He disappeared at the time of the accident and has not been seen since.

It was learned today that Mr. Harrison had been attending a clam bake near Lincoln and that it was from that place that he started on the auto ride.

Prosecutor Silzer is in charge of the case. It is said that Mr. Harrison claims that before the collision he tooted his horn and that Mr. Van Arsdale attempted to turn in the opposite direction from what he expected and that the crash was unavoidable. Judging from the fact that both the carriage and auto were overturned, it is said by some that the machine must have been traveling at a high rate of speed.

Mrs. Hazlin was about forty-six years old. She leaves a husband and seven children. Her husband is engaged in the wholesale bottling business near Lincoln. The remains were taken to the late home this morning. The funeral service will be held at the home Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock and at St. John's R. C. church, Dunellen, at 9 o'clock. The buriel will be in St. Mary's cemetery, Plainfield.

Mr. Harrison, who is employed in the bridge construction department of the New Jersey Central, figured in a somewhat similar accident at Dunellen a few years ago, the only difference being that the conditions reversed. At that time he was driving a horse, when the late William R. Stanbery, of Scotch Plains, and Mrs. William A. Westphal, of this city, in the former's automobile, crashed into Harrison's rig. As a result Mrs. Westphal was killed.

SAY BIG GRAFTER WILL BE INDICTED

Whitman's Man at Work Long Before Murder.

JACK ROSE MADE MISTAKE

At Becker's Order Demanded $150 From Club Where Politicians Enjoyed Friendly Poker Game—There Was Howl of Indignation and Word Got to Whitman.

New York, Aug. 19.—"The district attorney's office has obtained the connecting link between the crooked inspectors and the powerful police department official for whom they worked. Within three weeks this uniformed official and two inspectors will be indicted for extortion."

That statement was made by one of District Attorney Whitman's confidential aids. The district attorney, in Manchester, Vt., learned that his assistants had succeeded in directly linking the man higher up in the police department with the blackmailing operations of the uniformed officials.

On Saturdy night this assistant district attorney discovered who had been collecting graft for the influential official of the police department. At the same time he uncovered the collector's bank account covering the period between December, 1911, and August, 1912. In eight months the collector deposited $75,000. It was the method of transferring cash from the bank account of the collector to the pocket of the police department official that supplied evidence against the big man.

After Grafters Five Months.

The story told by the assistant district attorney, who says positively that there will be indictments within three weeks, was as surprising and as interesting as almost any detail of the explosive Rosenthal case.

He says that even if the angry Rosenthal hadn't gone to Whitman and made accusations of police crookedness that the district attorney would sooner or later have trapped the grafters. The information was coming slowly before Rosenthal set fire to the straw pile. But since the assassination the information has been pouring in. The story goes back to December, 1911, just about the time that Lieutenant Becker was becoming active in the Tenderloin.

"In that month," said the assistant district attorney, "Jack Rose, already pretty well known as Becker's collector, went to a poker club made up of well known politicians and demanded, on behalf of Becker, that the club put up $150 a month for the privilege of playing poker privately in its own rooms. Now, keep in mind that this club has been in existence for fifteen years. It wasn't a gambling house. Few people outside of its members knew that poker was played there.

"The men who belonged to it, and who often played a little table stakes or a modest limit game, were politicians of influence. They were amazed when Rose walked in and made his cool request. They couldn't believe their ears. But they didn't take very long to decide what to do. One of them said to Rose: 'Look here, you grafter, you go back and tell the man who sent you that if he ever makes a play of this kind again that I'll spend the rest of my life putting him in stripes. As for you, get out or you'll be helped out.'

Hear No More From Becker.

"Rose went in a hurry and never repeated the demand. Nothing was heard from Becker, and the club decided to let the matter drop. They weren't looking for publicity and it wasn't their business to stir up scandal. They were merely protecting themselves. But one of them was so mad that he told a close friend what had happened, and the friend happened to be connected with the district attorney's office.

"From that day this officer has been after Becker and other grafting policemen. We knew that one or two inspectors had blossomed into influence at police headquarters, and it was the talk all over town that they were working for one official. About five months ago we got information that clinched the belief that the grafting was widespread and systematic and under the management of big men, one of whom is a civilian outside of the police department, another of whom is the police department official referred to and another is a hotel man with political connections.

"Five months ago we began to shadow these men and their underlings. They couldn't go anywhere beyond the range of detectives. Lately they suspected that they were being watched, but it was too late for their suspicions to do them any good. We know where they met and with whom they talked.

"Little by little, out of a mass of information, we have built up a case against some of the biggest grafters that will be as strong as the murder case. I am not at liberty to say just how the connection between grafting inspectors and their protector in the police department was obtained. That information is part of the case before the grand jury, but this much can be said that when the name of the man who has been collecting for this official and who had been the go-between for this official and inspectors was learned the case became comparatively simple. We run down the collector's bank account. The big man had been rather indiscreet at times in getting his money. That is all I can say."

T. R., "DELIGHTED," IS BACK AT OYSTER BAY

Jubilant at Reception He Got In New England.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Colonel Roosevelt is back to Sagamore Hill flushed with satisfaction over the impression he believes he has made in Massachusetts and Rhode Island and jubilant over the unexpectedly enthusiastic reception accorded to him in those two states. While he reiterated again that he would studiously avoid making a personal attack upon Governor Wilson, he desired to make plain his determination to give blow for blow if the governor himself opened hostilities. The colonel said he considered his reply to the aspersions cast on the Progressive platform by Wilson as very neat.

It was not necessary, he continued, for the Progressive party to borrow from the Democrats or Republicans, while on the part of Democratic candidate there seemed to be a strong disposition to point out continually the resemblance of his principles to those of the Progressive.

MOB TRIES TO LYNCH SLAYER

West Virginians Attack Policemen, Who Fire Into Crowd.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 19.—Police officers and deputy sheriffs guarding the Italian, Joseph Devona, who murdered James Devine and Mike Clancy, were compelled to fire upon a mob that made an attempt to lynch Devona.

Extra officers are on guard at the city jail, and every precaution has been taken to prevent the storming of the place. It is feared that another attempt will be made to secure Devona.

The officers were taking Devona through the streets to the jail when the mob made a rush. The situation became so critical that the police opened fire, and the mob fled to cover.

EARTHQUAKE IN ARIZONA.

Seismograph at Georgetown University Records Shock In West.

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 19.—According to a dispatch received, Williams, Ariz., 400 miles west of here, was severely shaken by an earthquake.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Pronounced earth shocks at a distance of about 1,200 miles were recorded by the seismograph at Georgetown university, lasting five and a half minutes. The disturbance, which is not believed to have been particularly severe, probable occurred within the United States.

BOY'S SECOND POISON VICTIM

Father of California Youth Who Killed His Mother Dead.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Aug. 19.—The poisoned coffee that killed Mrs. James Clark last Sunday caused the death of her husband.

Their fifteen-year-old son Adam was charged by a coroner's jury with the murder of his mother. The boy confessed he put poison in his mother's coffee pot because she had scolded him.

BANKS TO RECEIVE CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Their Aid Asked In Popular Donation Plan.

M'ADOO SENDS LETTER.

Meant to Be Nonpartisan Proposition. New Method, Originally Suggested by Governor Wilson, Calculated to Eliminate All Corporations Seeking Favors.

New York, Aug. 19.—William G. McAdoo, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, will send this week to every bank and trust company in the United States a letter asking its officers to accept campaign contributions not only for the Democratic party, but for the Republicans and Progressives also.

Along with the letter which Mr. McAdoo sent went a letter from Governor Wilson in which the governor said that "to bring about the election of a president through a campaign financed by popular subscription would be a distinct and gratifyng triumph."

Mr. McAdoo thinks that his idea will go a long way toward eliminating the evil of large campaign contributions from corporations and others who would have favors to ask in case the contributions help a party into power. It is no new thing, he was pointed out at Democratic national headquarters, for parties to appeal to the voters for contributions, but Mr. McAdoo thinks it will be easier for individual voters to give money in small sums through their banks than to send it in checks or money orders through the mails. He figures that there will be more small contributors than ever before.

Patriotic Service, Says Letter.

This is Mr. McAdoo's letter:

Dear Sir—An unprecedented opportunity is presented to the banks and trust companies of this country for the performance of a patriotic service of inestimable value to the people. There has long been a deep seated conviction in the public mind that presidential campaigns have been financed by certain interests having a special stake in the control of the government. It is clear that such campaigns should, for the common good, be free from the suspicion of sinister influences.

The Democratic party at least will respond to the overwhelming popular sentiment in favor of the financing of presidential campaigns by the people themselves. This year's campaign must be financed by popular subscription. These cannot be secured unless convenient and responsible agencies all over the country are provided for the receipt and transmission of subscriptions.

Banks, trust companies and newspapers are the best agencies. The newspapers are already at work. Will the banks and trust companies perform the same patriotic service? The banks and trust companies of course will not be partisan. They should accept and transmit subscriptions for each of the national parties if they act at all.

Will you agree to receive and transmit subscriptions to the Democratic national committee, the Republican national committee and the Progressive national committee? Speaking for the Democratic national committee, I would not ask you to act for one unless for all. This must be a patriotic service to the public and not to any one party. Each day a list of the banks agreeing to act will be given to the press. Will you kindly telegraph at our expense if you will serve? If you agree to do so, please notify the newspapers of your community. In order that you may know the attitude of Governor Wilson in regard to popular subscriptions, I inclose a copy of a letter from him on this subject, just received. W. G. M'ADOO.

Governor Wilson's Letter.

This is the letter from Governor Wilson and which Mr. McAdoo inclosed:

Bringing about the election of a president through a campaign financed by popular subscriptions would be a distinct and gratifying triumph. It would strikingly evidence the renewed supremacy of the people and would mean the permanent emancipation of our government from those selfish influences which have too long been relied upon to furnish the campaign funds in return for favors to be bestowed. I am in hearty sympathy with every effort that may contribute to such a result. The idea back of the proposed contributors' movement is thoroughly commendable, and I hope that you and your associates will push it and make it an effective instrument for the attainment of so praiseworthy an object. Yours very truly, WOODROW WILSON.

There are upward of 17,000 banks and trust companies in the United States. In 1904 and 1908 Democratic newspapers in various parts of the country raised for the party treasury more than $250,000, but it is supposed that Mr. McAdoo's scheme will produce a much larger amount.

WOULD UNSEAT BOWMAN.

Chairman Ansberry Charges Corruption and Bribery In His Election.

Washington, Aug. 19.—"Political corruption" and "bribery" were terms employed by Representative Ansberry of Ohio, who made a bitter attack in the house on the right of Representative Bowman of the Eleventh Pennsylvania district to occupy his seat on the ground that his election was obtained by fraud.

Ansberry was severe, charging that corruption of all sorts, including the purchase of votes, was proved by the evidence. He charged that Bowman was anxious to delay the vote and that he feared to speak in his own defense on the floor.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Plainfield, N. J., August 19, 1912.

There is no time when an attack on a person's character has so little influence with the American people as it has during the heat of a political campaign. This has been proven time and time again. The American public always brands a charge against any man who is running for office as the charge of a political enemy, and no matter how serious that charge may be, unless it is inspired by men other than those who are actively engaged in politics, no attention is paid to it. We suppose that before the campaign is over Colonel Roosevelt, who is probably the most maligned man in American public life today, Governor Wilson and President Taft will all be subject to every kind of an attack that small minded men can think up for the partisan press to print. The first evidence of this came last week when a woman with a name easily confused with that of the wife of the New Jersey Governor gave out an interview saying that she believed that it was perfectly proper for women to smoke cigarettes. Of course some sensational newspapers took advantage of the opportunity to try to create the impression that Mrs. Wilson had made the statement, and she was compelled to make a denial of the story. It seems to us that such yarns need not be dignified by an answer. When we read of the careers of men in public life today, there is hardly an account in which the influence of the wife is not described as having had much to do with the success of the husband, and the cigarette smoking kind of women are not the kind that show remarkable devotion to their homes. They would rather be off with other sporty women of their type, playing bridge or attending matinees, when they should be at home darning socks and seeing that things are made comfortable for the rest of the family. Mrs. Wilson need have no fear of the effect of the story so far as it may influence her husband's campaign.

Former Senator James Smith, Jr., is reported to be planning to enter the primary campaign for the United States Senatorship this fall, to succeed Senator Briggs, in case the Democrats carry the Legislature. The Trenton State Gazette has it figured out that Mr. Smith might be selected, if he made the fight, and secured the highest primary vote of any candidate running on the Democratic ticket. No one disputes that such is the case. There is only one way in which Mr. Smith could get the highest vote, and that would be for him to persuade favorite sons to run in every county, and then depend upon the larger normal vote in Essex and possibly Hudson, to make him top man, for no one disputes that the former Senator controls the Democratic organization in Essex county. Governor Wilson's fight against him and his machine has made him a back number in all other parts of the State, as was shown at the May primary, when he had to run as a district delegate in order to go to the Baltimore convention uninstructed, realizing that he could not carry the State against Wilson. When Governor Wilson opposed the Senator before it was because he felt that the preference of the people as expressed by the primary for Senator James E. Martine, should be respected. If Mr. Smith should enter the primary this year, showing that he was willing to trust his case to the people, Governor Wilson would in all probability take no part in the campaign, other than to cast his own ballot. The Governor's friends, however, could be depended upon to do their level best in all parts of the State to defeat the former Senator.

Another hero has died in the government service, and not from a bullet. Passed Assistant Surgeon T. B. McClintic, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital service, after giving two years to the investigation of the Rocky Mountain "spotted fever," during which he had practically eradicated the "tick" which carries the disease, has succumbed, a victim of the disease which he has so successfully fought. For fifteen years he has given his time to the service of the government and fellow man, and had just reached that age where service warranted his being placed in some position in which he could be of great service without endangering his life. While the death of such a man as Dr. McClintic is usually briefly noted, and then forgotten by the general public, he is as much entitled to a monument as many whose heroism is described for long years afterward, and Congress could do no more fitting thing than to provide a pension for the bride of a few weeks whom Dr. McClintic left behind.

Chairman Hilles, of the Republican National Committee, a few days ago said that Taft would carry thirty four States. Next William G. McAdoo, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, went Hilles one better, and said that Wilson would carry thirty-eight States. There is nothing left for Senator Dixon, of the Progressive National Committee, to do but claim the whole forty-eight. Optimism (in print) is one of the characteristics of the men who run political campaigns.

Dispatches tell us that the three candidates for the Presidency may meet at Atlantic City and all speak from the same rostrum. Let us hope that all will not appear at the same time.

"Would rather die, he says, than support wife," is the way a newspaper headline describes a man in Passaic. It would be better for the community if he had his way.

Yeggmen cracked the safe in the Little Silver postoffice twice in three weeks. Looks almost as if it was getting to be a habit.

ITALIAN OWLS FEAST ORGANIZER OF THEIR NEST

T. W. Morgan, of Scranton, Pa., was the honored guest at a banquet given by the "Italian Nest of Owls" held at the home of Ercole Brancati, Terrill road, last night. Mr. Morgan was the organizer of the local lodge and has helped it to get on a substantial basis.

Speeches were made by the various officers during the evening complimenting the lodge on its brilliant start. Music, singing and a good feast were the features of the evening's pleasures.

SALE FOR BABY CAMP FUND.

A cake and candy sale was held at the home of A. G. Hicks, on East Second street, Saturday afternoon, for the benefit of the King's Daughters' Baby Camp and netted $7.05 for that end. The sale was presided over by Elizabeth Hicks, Helen McKillop and Gladys Alberts, who were assisted by Marjorie Oakley, of Newark. All of the children are under fifteen years of age and besides the sale cake and candy, fancy articles made by the children were also disposed of.

P. B. C. PONY.

Little Stahmen Herr, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Herr, of the Plainfield Business College, is the proud owner of a new Shetland pony and he is seen daily riding the little animal on a small track next to the college on West Front street. The animal is a beauty and has a track record of 2.40. Stahmen received the pony as a present from his father who bought it from the Moffet farms at Lebanon. He isan expert rider and a speedy animal just suits him.

Detroit's Graft Scandal

MAYOR WILLIAM BARLUM THOMPSON of Detroit, Mich., who recently engineered a coup whereby a number of that city's aldermen were caught at bribe taking, was elected in 1907 on the Democratic ticket. His platform was "no compromise on three cent fares," a problem which has been paramount in the Michigan city's municipal affairs for years.

The active work in the exposure was done by Detective William J. Burns, whose services were enlisted by Mayor Thompson. Andrew H. Green, Jr., a public spirited citizen, footed the expenses of the investigation.

For years the Wabash railroad had been making efforts to get a large freight house and depot built, but in order to carry out the project it would be necessary to close a certain street and the consent of the board of aldermen was required. The chamber of commerce approved the idea, but the aldermen blocked it.

Stories were going around that the Wabash plans could not be got through without paying several thousand dollars in bribes. It was on this phase of the undertaking that Burns and his men got busy.

Burns had one of his operatives, W. J. Brennan, open offices in Detroit and announce himself as the representative of the Wabash. This was done with the knowledge of the railroad people, who were made acquainted with the entire plan. Brennan drew up a petition to present to the aldermen in which was asked just what the chamber of commerce and Mayor Thompson had been trying to get for the Wabash. The aldermen promptly defeated the petition, which was what had been expected.

Then Brennan got to work several individual members of the board of aldermen and the secretary. He took them about the town in automobiles and discussed the situation while he was thus entertaining them. Certain sums were agreed upon to be paid upon the passage of the petition, which was duly put through the board. Then, when the aldermen came to Brennan's office to collect under the agreement, they were placed under arrest.

The aldermen and board secretary have been indicted and are now out on bail, totaling $50,000, pending trial. Edward R. Schreiter, the secretary, and at least one of the aldermen are said to have confessed.

Chicago University's Coat of Arms.

The University of Chicago has just adopted a new coat of arms after years of heraldic investigation and experimentation. The coat of arms shows, in heraldic terms, in a field argent, a phoenix gules, an open book, argent, bound, and the motto "Crescat scientia; vita excolatur" (suggested by Professor Paul Shorey, and translated by him, "Let knowledge grow from more to more, and so be human life enriched"). The colors, gules (a fiery red) and argent, are the heraldic equivalents of the university colors, maroon and white. The university seal contains "the phoenix and the book" as its central figure.

FUNERAL OF W. L. MAULDIN, BROTHER OF MRS. CHAMBLISS

The Greenville, (S. C.) News, of August 16, gives an account of the funeral of Governor W. L. Mauldin, brother of Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, who died in that city on August 12. He was one of the leading men of the South, loved and respected by all who knew him, and many men of prominence attended the funeral which was held at the First Baptist church, Greenville, on Thursday, August 15.

Among those who took part in the service was Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, former pastor of the First Baptist church, this city, now president of the Anderson Female College. Governor Mauldin was a visitor in this city several times when his sister resided here, and he made a number of friends in Plainfield.

FUNERAL OF WM. LOWRIE.

The funeral service of William Lowrie, aged 17 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lowrie, who died in New York on Friday last, will be held at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. Littleton Sturgess will officiate. The burial will be in Evergreen cemetery. Mr. Lowrie formerly lived in Plainfield.

FUNERAL OF WM. MELICK.

The funeral service of William Melick was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at his late home, Mt. Pleasant, there being a large attendance of relatives and friends. Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which the family were attendants, officiated. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT.

The Common Council will hold an adjourned meeting tonight to take up the matter of widening Somerset street; also to receive bids for street work. It is expected that there will be a quorum present, although several members of the Council are still out of the city.

MISS DOOLEY BURIED.

The funeral service of Miss Kathryn Dooley, who was a sister of Mrs. Frank P. Burke, of 825 West Third street, and was well-known in this city, was held at her late residence in the Bronx, N. Y., yesterday afternoon. Interment was made at Calvary cemetery, N. Y.

BICYCLE TO ASBURY PARK.

Franklyn Newell, Bradford Willard and Elston Hoagland started at 5:30 this morning on their bicycles for Asbury Park, where they expect to spend the rest of the week. On their way home they will spend a day motorboating on the Shrewsbury with Egbert Fountain.

DROP IN SECOND CLASS R. R. PROPERTY VALUES

Elizabeth, Aug. 19.—The second class railroad property valuations were filed with the Union County Board of Taxation, today, it being the first report since the State Commission fixed the valuations some time ago. The figures show a decrease all along the line of the New Jersey Central in Union county, except Elizabeth, where there is a slight increase.

The valuation in Plainfield for 1912 is $181,823,000 as against $183,473,000 in 1911. The total figures for the county for 1912 are $3,890,632 as against $3,981,368 for 1911.

PLAINFIELD SOLDIERS BACK FROM WAR GAME

Nineteen members of Co. K who took part in the mimic warfare during the past week in New York and Connecticut, arrived home last night, all feeling pretty good despite the hard work they were subjected to. The Plainfielders were attached to Co. I, Fifth Regiment, and excellent reports have been received concerning their work.

The Plainfielders say that they were glad to get the actual experience that the engagement afforded as it will better prepare them for any real trouble that might come to them in the future. Co. K will hold a meeting tonight and Captain Charles Peterson would like especially to meet all the members who are on vacation, or out of employment.

HE RODE WITHOUT A LIGHT.

Frederick Trefinger, of Warrenville, was fined $1 by Recorder Gano this morning in the North Plainfield court for riding a bicycle Saturday night without a light.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

MODISH MATTERS.

Three-quarter Length in Wraps Is Very New and Smart.

Wraps both for day and evening show a tendency to the three-quarter length.

Hats are still rather low on the head, but show more of the hair than formerly.

Parasols are of colored and white linen, embroidered or plain, to match the gown.

In Paris sleeve frills are very important; also jabot frills with vests and revers.

Women are once more using the old cream tinted Spanish lace for evening scarfs.

The dominant style tendency is better described by directoire than anything else.

The very delightful little suit pictured is developed in pale buff linen.

SUMMER DRESS OF BUFF LINEN.

The blouse is tucked becomingly, and the material is of sufficiently light weight to allow of this treatment. The skirt is five gored, and both blouse and skirt are closed at the front—a feature that in itself is appealing.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

These May Manton patterns are cut for the skirt in sizes from 22 to 32 inches waist measure and for the blouse from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents each for these patterns to this office, giving numbers—skirt 7494, blouse 7378—and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

PINEAPPLE SALADS.

PINEAPPLES are now plentiful and inexpensive. Why not enjoy in its prime a fruit that is so delicious and does so much for our physical well being? The juice of the pineapple is cooling to the blood and acts mildly on both liver and kidneys. The delicate acid which the fruit contains is useful in cases of dyspepsia. To eat liberally of pineapple will tone tired nerves and bodies.

Fruit salads are particularly useful summer dishes. Served on curly lettuce they are very attractive. Some recipes for pineapple salads are given here:

A Fruit Combination.

Mixed Fruit Salad.—Take a large pineapple or two small ones; peel, slice and sprinkle with sugar and let stand on ice overnight. In the morning slice six bananas, four oranges, half a cupful of English walnuts chopped fine and add one cupful of sugar. Serve with or without cream.

Pineapple in Oil.

Cuban Salad.—Soak slices of canned pineapple in olive oil until tender. Then spread with cream and pimento cheese and a little pickled onion. This is served in a nest of parsley. No dressing is needed, as the vinegar is in the pickled onion, and the oil is in the pineapple.

In Lettuce Nests.

Pineapple and Lettuce Salad.—Cut slices of fresh, firm pineapple into small pieces. Add a cupful of finely chopped celery, one cupful of walnut meats and one cupful of orange pulp. Serve on white heart of lettuce leaves.

Mix one cupful of mayonnaise and stir it lightly with the pineapple, etc. Heap in the little lettuce leaves and decorate with chopped walnuts.

A Handsome Dish.

Poinsettia Salad.—A dainty salad is made by laying a slice of canned pineapple on a lettuce leaf. Heat a knife and spread cream or Neufchatel cheese over the pineapple, arrange pointed strips of pimento like the petals of a poinsettia over the cheese, heap mayonnaise in the center and put a stuffed olive on top.

Sweet Fruit Salad.—Quarter six oranges. Mix with half a can of sliced pineapple cut into dice. Add a dozen marshmallows cut into bits, then add broken English walnut meats. Mix well. On each salad plate place a lettuce leaf and some of the salad and dress with mayonnaise. This is delicious, besides being decorative for the table.

PROBLEMS OF VACATIONISTS

How to Get Rid of the Summer's Tan and the Idler's Accumulation of Too Solid Flesh Is a Troublesome Question.

THE summer girl may be proud enough of her coat of tan at the end of the summer outing, but when she faces the fact that weeks of careful attention will be required to get her skin into condition it may be a matter for sighs rather than congratulation, for, while the "nut brown maid" is all very well in the rural regions where the dusky tints were acquired, society favors a fairer skin. Hence on the return at the end of the summer vacation season there is a rush for cold creams and lotions. An enterprising woman who makes a specialty of renovating temporarily damaged complexions or selling lotions designed to repair the ravages of winds and sun and waves on short order ought to be a success. There are plenty of simple lotions that she could supply to customers for this purpose at a profit.

The woman who makes her own lotions for this purpose will find lemon juice one of the safest and most desirable face bleaches. Combined with a little glycerin and rosewater it is effective and painless. Peroxide of hydrogen judiciously applied with a soft handkerchief is a rapid bleach. After it has been used the skin should be washed in warm water with white castile soap. When dried it should be well rubbed with the glycerin and rosewater lotion or well rubbed with a good cold cream.

When there is a tendency for the skin to peel off cold cream is the best thing to use. It will be healing and help in the removal of the dead skin. In such a case no bleaches are needed. The use of cold cream and a lotion of equal parts of glycerin and rosewater at night is all that is necessary.

There are many formulas for skin bleaches, but the simpler ones are the most harmless. A little borax dissolved in the water in which you wash is a gradual whitener. Buttermilk baths are also useful.

The summer sun is likely to bleach or discolor the hair. After sea bathing, particularly if the salt water has access to the hair, it may be hard and dry. A good tonic is what is required, and if you do not mind the odor a combination of castor oil and oil of bergamot is excellent for dry hair. Eau de quinine is also a good hair tonic.

The hands show the bad effects of the outdoor life unless one has been wise enough to wear gloves. Any of the bleaching and softening processes that serve for the face are excellent for the hands.

Very few women can honestly assert that they are indifferent to the appearance of their figure. To be possessed of one which is good undoubtedly adds pleasure to life if only for the distinction it confers on one's clothes, and clothes, we know, exercise a considerable influence on the mood of the wearer. Many women put on extra flesh in summer.

How one's pride and pleasure in a smart new frock are enhanced by the knowledge that it suits to perfection and that the grace of its folds will not be disturbed by the awkward gait which so often accompanies a bad figure.

Games and physical exercises are prescribed as remedies for the defect, but many of us have neither the time nor the means to indulge in such luxuries and with a sigh resign ourselves to the thought that we can never present the appearance of a modern Juno. To do so, however, is to make a mistake.

A very excellent remedy lies close at hand, one that even a croaker will admit is eminently suited to women. In a word, housework, whose varied branches call into play nearly every muscle in the body, is said to work wonders in effecting the transformation of a bad figure into a good one. Sweeping, washing and scrubbing and nearly every form of domestic activity develops a woman's muscles to the advantage of her figure.

For instance, sweeping tends to develop the chest.

The use of a carpet sweeper exercises the muscles of the back, while scrubbing floors has a beneficial effect on spine and chest.

Homemade bread is usually considered rather nicer than the ordinary variety. With what added pleasure shall we knead it knowing that thereby we are helping in the development of a shapely forearm!

Lastly, there are the innumerable errands entailing a pilgrimage up and down stairs. Such errands should be sought rather than avoided. If we are fat repeated trips will reduce our adipose deposit, serving also to develop the muscles of the thighs. So it will be readily seen that indulgence in household duties is a task to be sought in order to take a beauty tonic in very practical form.

A Darning Hint.

When darning large holes in children's black stockings—so worn that they are hardly worth mending—an excellent plan is to fix a patch of old veiling over the opening. The meshes of the net make a foundation for the needle, and you can darn as before but far more quickly.

AUTUMN COSTUME.

The Smart New Peplum Backed Suit.

MODEL IN BROWN WHIPCORD.

Although somewhat eccentric in cut, this new autumn costume is decidedly chic. It is made of brown and cream whipcord, with trimming of cream broadcloth.

The square, deep collar and square postillion, the pointed peplum and hanging cuffs are all interesting features of the new styles.

CLEANING EMBROIDERY.

An Easy Way to Renovate Fine Needlework.

Apropos of embroidery, lacemaking and fine needlework, it is well to know how to clean articles of this kind without having to send them to a professional cleaner.

If you will wash all your fine embroideries yourself by the following method, not trusting them to the hired maid or washerwoman, you will, no doubt, have splendid results:

Put a half pint of bran into the same amount of cold water and let it come to a boil slowly. After it has boiled twenty minutes strain off the bran water and add a pint of boiling water. Use this mixture instead of soap when washing fancy work, fine embroideries and laces for the first time. Be careful not to rub, wring or twist them, but just squeeze them gently with the hands after the first washing in this manner. Soap jelly made by dissolving a pure white soap in boiling water may be used.

A little salt added to the rinse water, which should be clean and moderately hot, will set the color in embroidery silks and cottons if there is any fear of them running. It is best to immerse colored embroideries in strong salt water before they are washed at all. Then there will be no danger of the colors running.

Fancy work should be dried as quickly as possible and ironed on the wrong side, first spreading the work over a folded blanket covered with a clean muslin so that when it is ironed the embroidery will stand out in bold relief, each stitch showing up as if it were new.

Fringed edges must be shaken out thoroughly while they are quite damp and never touched with the iron, or they will become matted and unsightly in a short time.

When ironing lace fold a Turkish towel, lay the lace right side down on the towel and press with a warm iron on the wrong side. This will allow the small upstanding threads on the towel to push through the mesh of the lace and make it look like new.

Never starch lace. Iron it before it has become entirely dry.

The Irresistible Lily.

When Mrs. Langtry was at the summit of her beauty and her fame—when crowds followed her in Bond street and in the Row—she met at a semi-royal dinner an African king. Mrs. Langtry, dazzling in her beauty, sat beside this king. She was in good spirits, and she did her best to amuse and please him. And she must have succeeded, for at the dinner's close he heaved a deep sigh and said to her, "Ah, madam, if heaven had only made you black and fat you would be irresistible!"

SCHEPPS ARRIVES IN N. Y.; STATEMENT TO WHITMAN

New York, Aug. 19 (Special).—Sam Schepps, "wanted for murder," in connection with the Rosenthal killing, arrived in town this morning accompanied by a distinguished entourage. With him on the New York Central train that rolled in at 10 o'clock were District Attorney Whitman, Assistant District Attorney Rubin, Detectice Al Thomas, attached to the District Attorney's office; Detective Stewart, whom Schepps referred to facetiously as his "valet," and a crowd of photographers, special correspondents and camp followers. When District Attorney Whitman was asked if he had secured a statement from Schepps, he said: "I have and it is very satisfactory. He has corroborated Rose on many points."

RICHMOND COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY SHOT BY CLIENT

New York, Aug. 19 (Special)—Albert C. Fach, District Attorney of Richmond couny, was shot and probably fatally wounded shortly after 9 o'clock this morning in his private offices on the second floor of the Stapleton Savings Bank building at Stapleton, S. I. The shooting was done, according to the police, by Mrs. Elizabeth Edmunds, 40 years old, of 258 VanDusen street, Stapleton, wife of Dr. John Edmunds, a dentist, of 610 Sixth avenue, Manhattan.

"Mr. Fach was my lawyer," she is quoted by the police as saying, "and was engaged in pressing my suit against my husband. He showed a lamentable lack of ambition in my case."

HERBERT'S FAT FRIEND.

He Kept the Appointment, but Didn't Transact Any Business.

Victor Herbert, the musician, owns a six story house up in the seventies, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times Star. It is built tall and narrow, like a well. Mr. Herbert's music room and study occupies the entire sixth floor, and there is no elevator. The other day one of Mr. Herbert's acquaintances wished to see him on a matter of business.

"I'll be here until sharp noon," said Mr. Herbert. "Then I must go to fill an engagement. I can't wait a minute after the hour."

Mr. Herbert's friend is built a good deal like an orange. He makes a good deal of fuss about plain walking. Stair climbing is a thing he never does except under compulsion. When he reached Herbert's home it was just twenty minutes of 12. The servant telephoned up to the music room.

"Tell him to come right up," said Mr. Herbert.

Mr. Herbert's fat friend began climbing. He paused at the top of the first flight to breathe a little while. His pause grew longer and more impassioned at the top of each succeeding flight. When he got to the sixth floor he was just able to dab a damp hand at Herbert and sit down in a stuffed chair and begin to remove the evidences of internal heat from his streaming forehead. Mr. Herbert pulled out his watch.

"It's five minutes to 12," he said warningly.

His fat friend waved his hand at him mutely and went right on doing some of the best panting of the current season. His well padded sides rose and fell like a hot air balloon just before the ropes are cast off.

"Two minutes," said Mr. Herbert.

"Uh, uh—ugh," said his fat friend, feeling the veins in his neck thicken.

"Twelve o'clock," said Mr. Herbert, snapping the cover of his watch. "Sorry. I must go. Goodby."

Fifteen minutes later the wraith of a fat man crept down six flights of stairs, standing on each landing and holding to the banister until his knees stopped trembling.

"Tell—uh—uh—Victor I'll meet him at the Lambs club," said he to Mrs. Herbert. "Street door."

Mixed Liquors Barred.

Rory MacSnory was the village blacksmith and one of the most powerful singers in the choir of the kirk at Auchlencheries. To show off his voice to full advantage he would vary his style from bass to alto and from alto to treble in the same hymn. The minister had long observed that Rory's methods were upsetting the general melody of the congregation's singing, and at length he resolved to bring the culprit to book.

"Hymn thirty-four," he announced, "and a'thegither! And, Mr. MacSnory, if ye're tae sing tenor sing tenor, or if ye're tae sing bass sing bass, but we'll hae nae mair o' yer shandygaff."

A Supreme Court Chip.

Mr. Justice Day of the United States supreme court has the distinction of being the thinnest member of that august body. His sallow cheeks and slight figure are in striking contrast to those of Chief Justice White, Associate Justice Lamar or any other member of that tribunal, for that matter. The eldest son of Justice Day, who is an attorney in Ohio, is unusually well built, weighing a good deal more than the average man. Attorney Day appeared before Justice Day and the other justices recently, and when he had completed his argument in behalf of a corporation which he represented Associate Justice Holmes leaned over to Justice Day and remarked, "Will that boy of yours is a block off the old chip."—Puck.

N. Y. CALEDONIAN CLUB'S ANNUAL FIELD MEET

The foremost Scottish organization in this country is the New York Caledonian Club, whose clubhouse at 846 Seventh avenue, Manhattan, is looked upon as the center of Scottish affairs. Beginning with the games held in the Elysian Fields in 1857, the club has always promoted New York's annual leading professional athletic event. On Labor Day, Monday, September 2, the fifty-sixth annual games of the organization will be held at Washington Park, Grand street, between Maspeth and Newtown, L. I., and it is safe to predict that they will eclipse in interest any previous gathering. The great five-mile race will bring in competition the fastest men in the United States and Canada. In addition to the regular prizes a gold medal presented by Walter Scott, of New York, vill be awarded to the best performer in the Highland Fling and Broadsword Dances. Extra prizes, presented by Captain William G. Reid, will be given in the Highland dress competition for club members. One of the features of the club's annual meet is the large number of resident and visiting Scotsmen who attend in their picturesque Highland costume.

BAMBERGER'S
THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE
MARKET & HALSEY STS.

It would require ten pages in today's paper to enumerate all of the specials which we have prepared. In fact we doubt whether ten pages would tell the story.

BAMBERGER'S REMOVAL SALE

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Merchandise at Drastic Price Concessions. Many Entire Stocks Reduced

THE GREATEST MERCHANDISING ATTEMPT IN LOCAL RETAIL HISTORY--IN FACT, ONE OF THE MOST DECISIVE REDUCTION MOVEMENTS EVER PLANNED BY AN AMERICAN STORE. THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE IN NEW JERSEY AND SURROUNDING STATES HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR BAMBERGER'S REMOVAL SALE AND WE HAVE TAKEN CARE THAT THE EVENT ITSELF SHALL EXCEED RATHER THAN MERELY MEASURE UP TO EXPECTATIONS. WE HAVE PLANNED THIS SALE UPON LINES HITHERTO UNKNOWN IN RETAILING--UPON A SCALE THAT CANNOT HELP BUT MEET WITH THE APPROBATION OF EVERY THINKING PERSON

WE HAVE REACHED THE PARTING OF THE WAYS.

THE TIME HAS ARRIVED WHEN IT BECOMES NECESSARY FOR US TO PUT AWAY THE OLD FOR THE NEW—TO DISCARD THE PAST FOR THE FUTURE—TO PREPARE TO ENTER UPON A BETTER AND BROADER MERCHANDISING COURSE.

SOME STORES FACE THIS SITUATION ONCE—SELDOM DOES A STORE FACE IT MORE THAN ONCE—AND SOME STORES NEVER FACE IT. THE BAMBERGER ORGANIATION WILL PROBABLY NEVER AGAIN DO WHAT IT IS ABOUT TO DO, NAMELY, REDUCE ITS ENTIRE STOCK TO NIL. IT IS NEITHER PLEASANT NOR PROFITABLE TO BE COMPELLED TO OFFER NEW MERCHANDISE, SUCH AS WE SHALL OFFER DURING THIS SALE, AT REDUCED PRICES. THE EXIGENCIES OF THE SITUATION DEMAND IT, HOWEVER, AND WE HAVE MADE UP OUR MINDS TO LEAVE NO STONE UNTURNED TO ACCOMPLISH A COMPLETE CLEARANCE OF EVERY DOLLAR'S WORTH OF GOODS IN OUR STORE. THE NEW STORE, SHALL BE NEW IN EVERYTHING BUT THE POLICY. THIS WE PROMISE YOU.

WHAT COURSE ARE WE GOING TO PURSUE?

THE ONLY COURSE LEFT OPEN TO US—THE ONLY COURSE THAT A GREAT BROAD-GUAGE INSTITUTION COULD POSSIBLY PURSUE. WE HAVE INAUGURATED A SALE IN WHICH NOT ONE OR TWO OR THREE OF OUR DEPARTMENTS WILL PARTICIPATE, BUT ONE IN WHICH EVERY ONE OF THE SEVENTY-TWO DEPARTMENTS UNDER THE ROOF OF OUR STORE WILL CONTRIBUTE SOMETHING.

"AM I TO REDUCE THE PRICE OF THIS GOODS?" INQUIRES ONE OF OUR STAFF. "AM I TO SELL THIS MERCHANDISE AT A LOSS?"

"CERTAINLY," WE REPLY, "THE NEW STORE MUST BE A NEW STORE IN THE STRICTEST SENSE."

THIS IS THE THEORY WE HAVE GONE UPON, AND IN MARKING DOWN OUR VARIOUS LINES WE HAVE DONE SO CHEERFULLY BECAUSE WE KNOW THAT OUR REWARD WILL SURELY BE FORTHCOMING WHEN THE NEW STORE IS OPENED WITH ITS SPLENDID FRESH, NEW LINES.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS' WORTH OF MERCHANDISE WILL FIND ITS WAY INTO THIS SALE. EVERY DEPARTMENT HAS CONTRIBUTED LARGELY, WHILE IN FORTY INSTANCES ENTIRE LINES HAVE BEEN REDUCED. THINK WHAT THIS MEANS TO YOU! THINK WHAT A VERITABLE HARVEST IS IN STORE FOR THE THRIFTY! TRULY, THE BAMBERGER REMOVAL SALE OPENS UP A VISTA OF MONEY SAVING SUCH AS NO SALE EVER DID BEFORE—SUCH AS NO SALE EVER WILL AGAIN. EVERY INCH OF AVAILABLE TABLE AND COUNTER SPACE HAS BEEN UTILIZED FOR THE DISPLAY OF UNDERPRICE MERCHANDISE. THE WHOLE STORE IS DOTTED WITH PRICE TICKETS—EACH AND EVERY ONE OF WHICH CONVEYS A HELPFUL MESSAGE OF MONEY SAVING. IF WE WERE TO TELL YOU IN ACTUAL FIGURES THE NUMBER OF REDUCTIONS WE HAVE MADE YOU WOULD SCARCELY CREDIT US.

OUR ENTIRE SALES FORCE HAS RETURNED FROM ITS VACATION AND EVERY ONE IS FRESH AND ACTIVE. WE HAVE ALSO TAKEN ON SEVERAL HUNDRED NEW EMPLOYEES IN ORDER TO BETTER SERVE YOU. THE WHOLE BAMBERGER ORGANIZATION IS THOROUGHLY IMPREGNATED WITH THE SPIRIT OF THE REMOVAL. IT HAS BEEN THE THEME OF CONVERSATION AND THE SOURCE OF ACTION HERE FOR MONTHS PAST. EVERY DETAIL HAS BEEN CAREFULLY THOUGHT OUT, AND WHILE WE EXPECT THE LARGEST CROWDS THAT EVER ATTENDED A LOCAL SALE, WE CAN SAFELY SAY THAT ALL WHO COME WILL BE PROPERLY CARED FOR.

COME TO THIS SALE EXPECTING MUCH—COME WITH YOUR IDEAS KEYED UP TO THE HIGHEST PITCH—COME PREPARED FOR THE MOST REMARKABLE VALUES EVER OFFERED AT THE BAMBERGER STORE, AND YOU WILL GO AWAY PLEASED. SO PLEASED, IN FACT, THAT YOU WILL IN ALL PROBABILITY BE A DAILY VISITOR DURING THE REMAINDER OF THE SALE.

GOVERNOR LEE CRUICE.

Oklahoma Executive Leads Raids on Prohibition Law Violators.

Governor Lee Cruice accompanied Chief Law Enforcement Officer Caudill and his men in a series of raids that resulted in the finding of ten establishments where the state prohibition laws, it is said, were being violated. The amount of liquor confiscated was small, due to a warning passed along the line that the raid was in progress. At several points it was necessary to chop down the doors before entrance could be gained.

BANKER'S WIFE SEES BURGLAR TAKE GEMS

Remained Quiet, She Says, to Save Husband's Life.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Walter F. Klem, wife of a Philadelphia banker, lay in bed and coolly watched a burglar steal jewels worth $12,000 from the apartment of her summer villa at this resort rather than chance injury to her husband by waking him.

For ten minutes the woman kept perfectly still, her eyes on the robber as he ransacked the room. She waited until she was, sure he had left the house before arousing Mr. Klem.

He immediately alarmed the neighborhood, organized a posse of wealthy cottagers and searched the neighborhood, some going in automobiles while others combed the district afoot, all to no avail. The police were notified and are working on the case.

TRAIN KILLS THREE WOMEN.

A Fourth Fatally Hurt on Baltimore and Ohio Tracks at Frostburg.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 19.—Three young women were killed and a fourth probably fatally injured near Frostburg when a Baltimore and Ohio eastbound passenger train, running over the Western Maryland extension, struck the party just after they stepped off the westbound track to avoid an approaching freight train.

The dead are Mrs. Oscar Schneider of Orlando, twenty-seven years old, who came to Frostburg for "homecoming week;" Jennie Schneider, twenty-two, and Bessie Williams, thirty-two.

The injured are Edna, twenty-seven, head crushed and internal injuries, probably will die, and Minnie Schneider, thirty, bruised and suffering from shock.

FOR DOCTOR'S HEROISM.

Widow of McClintic, Who Died of Fever, May Receive $5,760.

Washington, Aug. 19.—In recognition of the quiet heroism of a physician whose life was a sacrifice to the disease he long had fought to eradicate, Senator Myers of Montana has introduced a bill to pay $5,760, an amount equal to two years' salary, to the widow of Dr. T. B. McClintic, who died here last week of Rocky mountain spotted fever.

Dr. McClintic was connected with the public health and marine hospital service, and so successful had been his work in fighting the deadly disease in the Bitter Root valley, in Senator Myers' state, that not a case of the malady developed there this year until the one which caused the doctor's death.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Wister and children, of West End avenue, left this morning for Atlantic City, where they will sojourn for awhilee.

PLAINELLEN TOOK SABBATH CONTEST

Scotch Plains Loses Much Talked Of Contest With a 5 to 3 Score.

FREDERICKSON WILD

Bases on Balls Costly—Many Substitutes Used—"War Horse" McLaughlin Reigns Supreme—Frederickson Has An Off Day.

Plainellen put one over on the 'Plains team in the game played yesterday at the 'Plains, the score being 5 to 3. "Old War Horse" McLaughlin was invincible, and the 'Plains men were only able to gather three hits from their old teammate, while twelve fanned the air. Frederickson, who was in the box for the 'Plains, was unsteady at times walking four men and forcing in one of the tallies. Five hits were made off his delivery, this in itself would not have helped Plainellen, but the three errors made by the home team were costly.

The 'Plains took the lead in the fourth inning by putting two runs across the pan. Frentz got on with a clean single after Gray and Denitzo had failed, H. Alberts put a fly to left field, Wilson muffed, and Hand came up and brought both men across with a three-base hit to centre. In the sixth Plainellen started with a merry-go-round. Martin went out by the fly route to Miller, Emery drew a pass, McLaughlin lined one to left garden, Dixon put a hot one to Mullin at short, Tommy fumbled. With the bases full Montross drew a pass forcing Emery across with Plainellen's first run; Dodge was the right man at the right time, and his single scored McLaughlin and Dixon. In their half of the eighth two more tallies were brought across. Dixon got one through Mullin's error, Dodge found another for centre field and Dixon came across on Hand's throw to second to catch Dodge, who came home later on Stratton's hit to centre.

The 'Plains managed to put one across in the ninth by the aid of McLaughlin, who hit three men, after H. Alberts had put a two-base hit to centre field, coming home on a wild pitch. McLaughlin, however, settled down and managed to pull out of the hole by fanning Wiltse and Denitzo.

MFRS. LEAGUE

A general shakeup occurred in the standing of the Manufacturer's Baseball League in their week end games and the Commercials are now leading the R. G. E. combination in the race for the Daily Press cup. By taking the game from the Public Service combination the Spicer aggregation crept a little nearer third place. The tail end Saurer combination took two from the top-notch R. G. E. team and by so doing climbed out of the cellar and took possession of fifth position. The beating handed to the league leaders puts an entirely different aspect on the chances of the R. G. E. ball tossers for a walkover in the league race.

Saurers 8, R. G. E. 7 (11 innings).
Sauers 5, R. G. E. 1.
Commercials 12, Banks 2.
Spicer 12, Public Service 5 (6 innings).

The Spicer aggregation lived up to its predictions Saturday afternoon, and came out a winner over the Public Service team in the preliminary game on Crescent Oval with a score of 12 to 6. The game was fast and well played, and although it lasted for only six rounds this was plenty long enough to give the joint makers the superiority. The gas men took advantage of the appearance of Tommy Mullin on the Oval, and while he was waiting for the Plainfield and Bound Brook teams to get in action he consented to help his employers out and he was the whole show for that team. Out of four trips to the plate he got away with four lusty wallops, one of them a home run and two more went for two-base hits.

Both nines played a ragged game in the field and most of the runs were the direct results of misplays in the handling of batted balls, the two teams chalking up a total of fifteen errors. The official league season ended with the games Saturday afternoon, but there are a number of postponed games to be played off yet, and it is anybody's race until these games are completed. Dolan twirled one of his best contests of the season for the joint makers, and held the hard hitting gas workers to seven clouts.

Time of game—1 hour 15 minutes.

The Commercials team of the Manufacturers' Baseball League took a one-sided game from the Banks on Saturday afternoon, by the score of 12 to 2. The game was loosely played and one-sided from start to finish, and the outcome was never in doubt. The offerings of Demlar were hit to the four corners of the lot and the Commercial players circled the bases at will. Conover, who twirled for the winners, was invincible and held the opposing hitsmiths well in hand at all stages of the contest. He allowed but six scattering hits and fanned eleven of the men who faced him. Harriman and Ricketts were the only ones who could do anything with his curves, and they each got two safeties. For the Commercials, Lambertson led off with the stick, getting a trio of lusty clouts, one of them being a three bagger and the other a two bagger. Clarke got into the limelight by pounding out a three-base hit which aided materially in the run getting.

PLAINFIELD GETS REVENGE ON OVAL

Dorflinger's Pets Wallop the Bound Brook Nine In Second Game of Series.

SLOCUM IS BATTED OUT

Score 9 to 4—Lidgate Twirls Masterful Game After Slocum's Retirement in the Fourth—Harter Hits the Ball Hard.

What Plainfield did to Bound Brook on Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon, was ample to revenge the 16 to 2 beating dealt out by Bound Brook two weeks ago. The outcome of battle incidentally saved the lives of some of Plainfield's more ardent and hopeful supporters who had been boosting their favorites' stock to the limit. Spectacular fielding featured the work of both nines in the field and the respective box artists were time and again pulled out of some tight hole by a lightning heave on an almost impossible catch.

Although Frederickson twirled his usual steady and effective game the victory must be credited to a large extent to the men in the field who put up a gilt edged article of ball behind him. Slocum, on the other hand, allowed but six bingles during the four rounds he occupied the mound, but these together with the five bases on balls he dealt out and a few wild throws and slow returns to catch men pilfering bases gave the opposition nine runs. After Slocum retired in the fourth Eugene Lidgate went into the box and certainly proved that he could deal out the pill as well as receive it. During the five innings he faced the local hitsmiths he was practically invincible and held the side down with one hit and the score runless. When Lidgate was called upon to do the box work Henry Alberts was brought in from right field to catch and these two worked together like clock work.

The Plainfield nine was minus the services of Dalton, their star third baseman, but Bill Stallings cavorted around that station and a player bearing the name of Daly covered the keystone sack. He hailed from Fordham College in New York city and showed the goods as a second baseman.

Plainfield's big run harvest came in the third and fourth innings when a spasm of free trips to first and the trusty wallops of Joe Harter and Bill Stallings brought home the bacon. Harter got one of the prettiest three base hits seen on the Oval this year and ended up his afternoon's work by clouting out a two bagger. Wally Cosgrove was also there with the willow, getting a single and a two bagger out of four trips to the plate.

For Bound Brook the hitting laurels were monopolized by the two Plainfield players in the lineup. During the four innings Slocum was in the fray he strode to the rubber twice and both times clouted the pill for a safety. Tommy Mullin, the midget third baseman of the visiting aggregation, made his walloping ability felt and laced out two scorching extra base licks. He also played a snappy and consistent game in the field and added the life needed to his team's playing.

The game Saturday was the second of a series which has been arranged. The first contest resulted in a 16 to 2 walkover for the Newhouse club and Plainfield will go to Bound Brook next week for the deciding contest on the famous "tin can" diamond. The score:

TAYLOR AND WOODLAND WIN.

William P. Taylor and H. H. Woodland, challengers, defeated Charles B. Morse and H. L. Moodey, holders, in the "goats" competition at the Park Golf Club, Saturday, by a score of 4 up and 3 to play. In the weekly competition for the President's cup, these cards were returned: Royle T. Phillips, 105, 28-77; William P. Taylor, 84, plus 2-86; H. H. Woodland, 97, 8-89; H. L. Moodey, 101, 11-90; Oliver B. Hill, 119, 29-90; Charles B. Morse, 106, 6-100.

S. S. LEAGUE

Saturday's games in the Sunday-school Baseball League developed a triple tie for first place between First Baptist, Monroe Avenue and Park Avenue. The Hope team did the unexpected by trimming Monroe Avenue to the tune of 12 to 3, thus setting them back a game and letting the other two teams now in the triple tie get a look into the first place argument. Temple Baptist went to South Plainfield and came back with the villagers scalps after one of the hardest fights yet staged in this league. Park Avenue got its bats working and bounded out a win against the First Baptist nine and by doing so made a bid for first place honors.

RESULTS OF SATURDAY'S GAMES

Park Avenue 8, First Baptist 6.

Temple Baptist 6, South Plainfield 5 (11 innings).

Hope Chapel 12, Monroe 3.

Park Avenue lowered the colors of the First Baptist aggregation in the Sunday-school League race Saturday afternoon by taking a scorching 8 to 6 battle. Although the losers rallied after the fifth inning and scored consistently from then on, they came out of the fray two runs to the bad and sacrificed their top rung position. Heavy hitting, loose fielding and stolen bases told the tale, and in the fourth and seventh stanzas the Parks practically sewed the game up.

Although Smith twirled for a losing combination, he had decidedly the better of the pitcher's argument. He allowed but seven hits which were all pretty well bunched in the two run getting innings and fanned six of the opposing batters. VanArsdale was touched up for eleven bingles and fanned eight. He was accorded better support than Smith, who had to counteract seven bad misplays.

Besides holding up the receiving end in grand style, Stine contributed three healthy bingles out of five trips and brought three of his team's six runs across the pan. Bailey, Taylor, Pierson, Wilson and Tice also did good work with the wagon tongue, each getting a pair of life givers.

The game was featured by many close plays which brought forth volies of kicks from the various players. Nearly all of the runs scored were the direct result of the condition of the field. The ball was sidetracked from its regular course by a number of large stones and holes on the diamond.

Putting up the article of ball that is ticketed to win pennants, cups and any other kind of an inducement which is ever offered for first place in a championship race, the Hope Chapel baseball team trounced the last year's champions with a 12 to 3 score. The Chapelites displayed their old time form pounding the offerings of the Monroe pitcher when hits meant runs and circled the bases at will.

Hope Chapel had their runfest in the third and fourth innings when they came across with a total of nine runs. Monroe Avenue was never dangerous and although they did fairly good work with the stick their fielding was woefully ragged and seven misplays were chalked up behind Hess. Hope Chapel put up a faultless fielding game and accorded Schott encouraging support. The Chapelites' pitcher held the hits down to five and disposed of five along the strikeout route.

Terry was the shining light of victory for the victors, getting three two baggers out of his first trio of trips to the gutta percha. His batting added materially in the Hope's run getting.

Temple Baptist journeyed to South Plainfield Saturday afternoon and came back with the better end of a 6 to 5 score after a long drawn out eleven inning contest. The game was one for blood and protests and kicks on the part of the players were frequent and numerous, and the contest lasted until seven o'clock.

Temple got off to a four run lead in the first inning when Coombs got a berth at first on Terry's fumble, went to second on G. Huff's single and both counted on Steward's timely two bagger. D. Parrott singled and Steward and Parrot both counted on a series of fumbles. South Plainfield got runs in the first, third and sixth. Temple Baptist came back in their half of the eighth with one run when Huff singled, went to second on Sofield's wild pitch, stole third and went home on Terry's wild pitch.

South Plainfield made an extra inning contest necessary in the last half of the eighth when Terry singled, went to third on a wild pitch by Steward and registered on Bittner's single; Bittner scoring later on Conger's safety.

The visiting aggregation won out in the eleventh when after two outs were made F. Parrott got a two bagger, stole third and went home on Meyers' hit to centre, winning the game.

Steward twirled his usual steady and effective game, fanning fifteen of the opposing batters and holding the hit column down to nine. Sofield was not far behind Steward, with thirteen strikeouts and but ten bingles given out. Conger, Barrera, G. Huff, Steward, F. Parrott and Meyers each got a pair of hits for their respective aggregations.

DUNELLEN LOSES TO RARITAN IN TWELFTH

Both of Dunellen's Scores Are the Result of Circuit Clouts.

Dunellen lost a red hot twelve inning struggle to the Raritan ball tossers at the latter place Saturday afternoon and at the same time lost the season's series. The Dunellenites only two runs came as the result of circuit clouts by Wolfe and Giddes who played phenomenal ball in their respective positions. Raritan was a head up until the eighth when the visitors came up neck and neck with one tally and made an extra inning contest necessary. The game was one of the hardest fought battles of the season for both nines and was a hard one for the Dunellenites to lose as it was the deciding one of a three game series. The contest was fast and well played from start to finish and was anybody's contest until the Raritan bunch got their sticks working in the twelfth and brought the needed run across in their last time at the bat.

Both combinations played brilliant ball in the field and the runs of the respective teams were all earned by consistent stick work. Manager Bogardus had two new players in his lineup and both showed that they would prove valuable additions to the Dunellen combination. Wolfe upheld his reputation with the stick, getting two of his team's hits, as did also Giddes. These two players were responsible for both of the visiting team's scores and played fine games in the field.

SCOTCH MEET WAS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Large Attendance at First Games of Clan Mackenzie —Highland Parade.

The first annual field and track meet of Clan Mackenzie 204, Order of Scottish Clans, was held on Parker Field Saturday afternoon before a crowd of nearly five hundred people and proved a great success as far as the Highlanders were concerned. Contestants were present from several athletic organizations throughout the State and the events were numerous and varied. Most of the athletic feats were typical Scottish events and brought forth some of the best Highland dancers in the country.

The meet was preceded by a street parade which began at the railroad station on North avenue and proceeded through the business streets. The demonstration was led by the tallest living Highlander and he presented an interesting appearance as he shouted out his commands far above the heads of the other Scotchmen dressed in kilts. Following the Scotchmen came a band of ten bag pipers who disbursed native Highland airs along the line of march, and pulling up in the rear was the boy scout patrol of the First Presbyterian church, of this city.

Upon arriving at the playground on Randolph road, where the athletic events were scheduled to be run off, the band proceeded to the center of the baseball diamond and played Scottish airs until after six o'clock in the evening. A majority of the athletic events were closely contested and although the entries were somewhat limited there was enough in events, except the relay race, for competition. The quarter mile relay was run as an exhibition and the gold medals awarded to the Cranford High School relay team who were the only ones to appear on the field. A feature of the affair was a 50 yard race for women which was won by Miss Alice Murray in 8 seconds. One of the pretiest races of the afternoon was the three mile event which was won by Westervelt Ashmead of the Yonkers Y. M. C. A. Ashmead ran a fine race, keeping well in the lead of Fritts, his nearest contender and the second man to finish. Jack Fritts, of this city, won the all around trophy for piling up the largest number of individual points. He had three firsts and one second to his credit and was presented with a china made vase for his afternoon's work.

Herman Rosenson, of this city, took first place in the 100 yard dash and the 440 yard dash, showing his heels to some speedy cinder path winners. Alfred Manley won a close race in the mile, coming into the home stretch about six inches ahead of a speedy Cranford man.

PLUMBERS JOYFUL ON THEIR ANNUAL PICNIC

Play Ball, Eat Many Clams and Hear All the Broadway Hits.

The plumbers of Plainfield and vicinity enjoyed their annual outing and clam bake at William Lee's grove at Scotch Plains last Saturday afternoon and evening. The feature of the afternoon was a baseball game between the married men and single men, and after the contest all "fell to" the clam bake. Minion brothers, of Newark, entertained the men during the evening with jokes and all the latest Broadway hits. The committee in charge were Frederick Eckart, chairman; Walter Chandler, Fred Winn, Arthur Peterson and J. Walker.

The married men showed themselves superior to the single men in the art of playing baseball and defeated their opponents by a score of 15-0. Fred Winn, who tossed for the married team, pitched a no hit game.

The lineups were:

Married Men—G. McVoy, 3b; G. Perry, c; F. Winn, p; W. Walker, 2b; M. Terry, ss; A. Chandler, rf; W. Connors, 1b; F. Eckart, lf; J. Walker, cf; F. Sears, rf.

Single Men—E. Peterson, 1b-p; F. Krauss, ss; J. Taylor, 3b; H. Riley, cf; P. Kellum, c; W. Eick, 2b; J. Conklin, p-3b; Barry, lf.

A SQUARE DEAL TO EVERYONE

Robert Owen said, "A business transaction where both sides do not benefit is immoral."

The truth of this statement strikes me right,—not only must the one who sells an article make his profit, but the purchaser must make AS MUCH PROFIT.

And a business union where both sides do not benefit is not only immoral, BUT IT WON'T LAST LONG!

I started this business for the purpose of making money. Not only have I done this, but I have made loyal, life-long friends too.

I'll soon be in the midst of the fall season, and I want to say right here that your money will buy more at my store this season than ever before!

THRIFT OF THE SWISS.

Hard and Perilous Work of the Haymakers of the Alps.

The thrift of the Swiss turns every bit of ground in the Alps to the best account. If a few square yards can anywhere be made or reclaimed the requisite labor is not grudged.

The farmer makes the very soil. He builds terraces along steep inclines, lines them with blocks of stone and then packs the earth on them. Thus he transforms the mountain and the rock into a little patch, where he plants a vine or raises oats or corn. Along the edge of precipices the peasant haymaker goes in search of grass, clinging to the rock with iron clampers on his feet. He hangs on the sides of the cliffs which imprison the valley and mows down a few tufts of grass on craggy shelves here and there.

His scythe on his shoulder, armed with his iron shod stick, provided with his clamp irons, a cloth or net rolled up in his bag, he sets out at midnight in order that the dawn may find him at work. During the two months of hay harvest he goes down to the village only three or four times to renew his supply of food. By this hard and perilous occupation an Alpine mower makes from 3 to 5 francs a day, his food not included, and many times under some projecting rock he must seek a bed and pass the night.

Once dried the wild hay is carefully gathered into a cloth or net and carried down to the first little plain, where it can be made into a stack, which is weighted down with large stones to prevent its being blown away.

In the winter, when everything is covered with snow, the mower climbs again the mountain, carrying a little wooden sledge on his shoulders. He loads it with hay, seats himself in front and shoots down with the swiftness of an arrow. Thus the hay crop of the Alps is brought in.—New York Sun.

MRS. LITTLETON.

She Loses Fight For Purchase of Home of Jefferson.

MRS. LITTLETON LOSES.

Her Plan For the Purchase of Monticello Postponed to Next Session.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Another chapter was added to the controversy between Mrs. Martin W. Littleton and Representative Levy of New York over Monticello, the home of Jefferson, which Mrs. Littleton insists shall be purchased by the government. Mr. Levy owns Monticello and is opposed to Mrs. Littleton's plans. The battle has raged all session, and Mr. Levy has been forced to devote nearly all his time of late to circumventing Mrs. Littleton.

Mrs. Littleton has lost her fight for the session, as the rules committee has decided not to report the Monticello resolution. She intends, however, to continue the fight next winter.

SHOT FOLLOWS TRYST NOTE.

Miss Blanchet Appears In Answer and Finds Dillon Wounded.

Orange, N. J., Aug. 19.—Julian Dillon, son of a New York department store manager, was shot in the left shoulder in the woods. Those who discovered that he had been wounded were Miss Marie Blanchet and Miss Marie Donnelly of South Orange.

They were playing tennis at the South Orange Field club's grounds when a note from Dillon was brought to Miss Blanchet asking her to meet him in the woods. She and Miss Donnelly went there and as they approached heard a shot. They found the young man bleeding from a bullet wound, and a man who happened along informed the police. Dillon is in the Orange Memorial hospital.

Why Dillon should have requested Miss Blanchet to come and find him wounded is not entirely clear, and the young woman would not discuss the affair. A member of her family said that she had only a slight acquaintance with Dillon. He denies that he shot himself, and the police deny his denial.

FEAR FOR TWO EXPLORERS.

Friends Get Disquieting Note From Men In British Columbia.

Milburn, N. J., Aug. 19.—"Goodby to civilization. We are about to plunge into unknown lands. Fish and game so far not as expected, been living sparingly on canned goods and meal, but will trust to luck. Carriers are leaving us now and will take this note to the mails."

This is the substance of a note scrawled by W. Foster Patterson of this place and Frederick K. Vreeland of Montclair on the edge of the wilds of British Columbia. The note has just been received here, and friends of the pair are somewhat concerned about their safety. Leaving several weeks ago they were to visit that part of the Canadian Rockies lying north of the Peace river. They are exploring for the Smithsonian institute.

SAYS HUSBAND IS BIGAMIST.

Wife Wants Divorce From Man Serving Time For Forgery.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 19.—Charging her husband with bigamy, Mrs. Lillian A. Orr has applied for a divorce from Charles T. Orr, who is now serving time in the New Jersey state prison for forgery and obtaining money under false pretense.

The petitioner sets up that when Orr married her he was the lawful husband of Mary Lena King. Orr, who is a young man, had a number of sensational business escapades in Trenton in the real estate business and gained a reputation as a lively spender.

RESCUE FIVE, SIXTH DROWNS.

Life Guards Overlook One Member of Bathing Party.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug 19.—While life guards were rescuing five members of a bathing party they overlooked Henry Broderick, twenty-two, of Aldan, Delaware county, Pa., the sixth member, and the youth drowned despite the yells of warning from Oscar Lofstead, his chum.

The boys, who came here for the day, had entered the water together. They were caught in the strong undertow and swept out into the heavy breakers. Efforts to find the body proved futile.

TERROR OF A BOMB.

A Dramatic Incident of the Political Unrest In Russia.

Here is the story of a Russian anarchist outrage in the words of one who was nearly killed in the explosion: While staying at Cannes H. Jones Thaddeus, author of "Recollections of a Court Painter," met the Grand Duchess Elene of Russia, who gave him an account of the then recent attempt upon the life of the czar. The czar was a few minutes late in his arrival in the dining room, and for this reason the explosion was premature. After describing the event the grand duchess told Mr. Thaddeus:

"When the echoes of the explosion died away a dead silence succeeded, which, united with the darkness prevailing, so dense as almost to be felt, conduced to render our helpless position still more painful and unendurable. We dared not move. There was no escape from the peril which surrounded us. Presently out of the darkness came the clear, calm voice of the czar, 'My children, let us pray!' The sound of his voice, while reassuring us as to his safety so far, relieved the awful strain on our nerves and brought comfort to our hearts.

"We sank to our knees, sobbing. How long we remained so I really do not know. It seemed an eternity of anguish before the guards appeared with candles, little expecting to find us alive. Some of us were nearly demented when the welcome relief arrived, and our feelings were not calmed as we then contemplated the awful nature of the destruction we had escaped.

"A few feet in front of the czar was a black chasm where so short a time before had been the brilliantly lit dining room filled with servants. Not a trace of it or of them remained."

A Personal Application.

When one of the large benefactors of Harvard college library was a business man in Lawrence a customer of his firm contracted a debt which ran along for a year or more without any signs of settlement. Several letters, says the Boston Herald, failed to bring about liquidation.

One day, while glancing over the religious notices in a local paper, Harvard's benefactor saw something which gave him an inspiration, and he went to his desk and wrote the following note to the debtor:

Mr. —:

My Dear Sir—I see in the local press that you are to deliver an address on Friday evening before the Y. M. C. A. on "The Sinner's Balanced Account." I inclose yours, as yet unbalanced, and trust that I may have the pleasure of attending your lecture. Yours truly, —.

MUCH LIGHTNING, LITTLE DAMAGE

Trinity Church Steeple and Regent Street House Struck By Bolts.

STREET LIGHTS ERRATIC

P. S. C. Engineer and Telephone Wire Chief Say Their Service Brings No Danger Into Households During Electrical Storms.

That appearances are sometimes deceiving was illustrated last night by an electric storm of unusual intensity that passed over this city. It looked for a time as if the electric [illegible] to shoot up every b[illegible]ld, but little actual damage [illegible]e. For more than an hour and a half sharp flashes of lightning followed each other at intervals so close that they seemed continuous. The flashes were followed by such loud peals of thunder that many thought each bolt had struck very near them.

The steeple of Trinity Reformed church was struck and part of the cornice shattered and knocked down. No fire resulted and the damage was very slight. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cowling, on Regent street was hit by a bolt which pierced the roof and tore off a few shingles.

Mrs. Jonathan Randolph was slightly shocked and knocked out of bed at her home near the brick yards in Dunellen. Very little damage was done to the house and Mrs. Randolph was not hurt.

The storm tore down a circuit cable of the P. S. C. on North avenue, Dunellen.

The Westfield Fire Department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Griswald, on Summit avenue, to extinguish a smouldering attic fire caused by the lightning. No damage was done.

The electric lights about the city were extinguished off and on during the storm, but the engineer at the substation said that no damage had been done. He explained that the magnetic waves of electricity in the air merely caused the circuit breakers in the power house to fail. He added:

"Many people believe that electric lights and wires in a house draw the lightning but this is not true. A house or building with an electric current running through the wires during a thunderstorm is just as safe as any other building."

More than 200 telephone stations and about 100 telephones were put out of working order by the storm, but the New York Telephone Company said that was a common occurrence and this storm was not as destructive to their lines as many other and shorter storms. The wire chief made this statement in respect to the fear of many as to danger in telephoning during an electric storm:

"There is not the slightest danger in talking over the telephone during a storm. If perchance electric induction causes the line to 'blow out,' no shock can be received at the instrument as fuse plugs insure against such emergeencies. It is a foolish idea that telephone wires and instruments in a house draw the lightning."

For a short period the rain fell very heavily and gutters were flooded almost instantly. The storm sewers about the city were stopped with dirt and flooded to capacity and great puddles of rain water collected in all the low places. Traffic was stopped on Watchung avenue, under the railroad bridge, between Fourth street and North avenue. The water rose above the sidewalk and deposited a large quantity of dirt on the street. The water was about 18 inches deep and as it came above the trucks of the trolley cars, traffic was delayed for half an hour.

John Nagle, the local weather man, reported that 1.35 inches of rain fell in two hours. The Weather Bureau reported the storm as a local thunder shower. It was the storm which the weather prophets had expected for today but they say its appearance last night is no guarantee that it will not pay a return visit today.

W. L. HETFIELD, JR., ALIAS I. WALTON, JR.

Elizabeth Historian Discovers G. Y. M. of G. O. P. Loves Barnegat Next to Plainfield.

Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., of this city, was the subject yesterday, of one of a series of sketches which the Elizabeth Daily Journal is running on men prominent in public life at the county seat. The sketch is enriched by a snapshot of Mr. Hetfield, caught when he was looking his nattiest and in a deeply serious mood. This is what the Journal says of The Grand Young Men of the Plainfield G. O. P.:

"Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., is one of the younger lawyers of the county who has made good.

"Mr. Hetfield studied law with his father, Judge Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., of the Plainfield District Court. One feature of the Hetfield family politics is that the prosecutor is a dyed-in-the-wool Republican, while the judge is equally prominent in Democratic politics and is a candidate for Surrogate.

"Outside of office hours, the assistant county prosecutor's time is mainly spent fishing at Barnegat Bay. He makes frequent trips, during the spring, summer and fall to his favorite fishing ground and many sea bass, weakfish and flounder falls victim to his skilful angling. He is often accompanied on these fishing trips by County Detective John Galatian and County Prosecutor C. Addison Swift.

"Mr. Hetfield has been assistant county prosecutor since March, 1908.

"Although he is a strong Republican, his children, of whom he has three, used to drive a little donkey and donkey cart about the streets of Plainfield. So, as he laughingly said to a friend one day: "'You see, although I am a Republican, I have a donkey for the children out of deference to the Democratic tendencies of my ancestors.'"

TRI-COUNTY CLUB'S FIELD DAY SATURDAY

Varied Program Promises Keen Sport—Dance to Follow the Games.

The first field day of the season will be held by the Tri-County Club next Saturday, August 24, and a particularly interesting program of events has been arranged by Carl Sollmann and his associates of the field committee. The sports will be held on the spacious grounds of the club at Plainfield and Mountain avenues, Union Village, and will include the following:

1.—Rifle shooting, 75 yds.
2.—Obstacle race, 100 yds.
3.—Children's race, under 10 years, 25 yds.
4.—Boys' dash, under 16 years, 100 yds.
5.—Ladies' race, 50 yds.
6.—Quarter mile race.
7.—Boys' dash, over 16 years, 100 yards.
8.—High jump.
9.—Egg race for ladies.
10.—Fat men's race.
11.—Throwing baseball, for girls.
12.—Putting shot.
13.—Tug of war.
14.—Long jump.
15.—Throwing baseball.
16.—Sack race.
17.—Fungo batting.
18.—Three-legged race.
19.—Discus throwing.

Those who remember, as hundreds do, the delightful field days of the club last year will feel assured of an uncommonly good time and keen sports on this occasion. A nominal entrance fee will be charged and valuable prizes will be awarded in all events. Entries are cordially invited from compeitors in all neighboring communities.

The house committee of the club will serve refreshments at the Clubhouse, and in the evening, after the field sports, there will be an informal hop in the Assembly room.

DUNELLEN JRS. TO CELEBRATE.

William G. Holton Council, No. 55, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Dunellen, will hold its twenty-first anniversary tonight in its hall. Past State Councilor William LaRue and State Councilor Samuel Hand, of Jersey City, will be present and make addresses. Refreshments, cigars and tobacco will be served and a general good time is expected. All members and visiting members of the order are invited.

—Neuman Bros will receive tomorrow morning for the day's trade 150 baskets of fancy white and yellow peaches, delicious flavor, at 75 cents, $1 and $1.25 a basket.

PROBLEM CONFRONTS COUNTY COMMITTEE

Democratic Leaders Face Complications In Effort to Winnow Surplus Candidates.

The entry of Judge Walter L. Hetfield into the race for the Democratic nomination for surrogate promises to complicate matters for the Union County Democratic Committee, which will meet tonight in an effort to eliminate some of the candidates for county office in order to give the districts outside of Elizabeth fair representation on the ticket.

Three other candidates are in the field for surrogate. They are Assistant City Attorney Joseph T. Hague and Justice of the Peace James P. Kelly, of Elizabeth, and Leroy Gibbey, of Summit. It was expected the county committee would designate Mr. Hague as its choice for the nomination, but with Judge Hetfield in the field things may be different.

There will be other knotty problems for the county committeemen to decide. It has been planned to allow only three nominees for freeholder to be Elizabeth men, giving four to the outside districts. In order to do this all the Elizabeth candidates will be asked to seek the three-year term. This may be arranged, but there promises to be a surfeit of candidates outside of the city.

James J. McCann, of this city, was looked upon favorably as the nominee for freeholder from the northern end of the county, but opposition has developed to him here and friends of James B. Guttridge are booming him for the nomination. It is said Vice County Chairman Frank J. Shattle is behind the candidacy of Mr. Guttridge. Efforts are being made to get Mr. McCann to withdraw from the race, but he declared yesterday that he would not do so.

The attitude of Mr. McCann seems to be that of many other candidates who may be asked to withdraw by the county committee. So far only one candidate for the Assembly from outside of Elizabeth has been mentioned. He is TenEyck R. Beardsley, of Fanwood, and he probably will be slated for a nomination. Originally it was intended that only one Assembly nominee should be from Elizabeth, but there are several candidates there and it may be difficult to get any of them to stay out of the race. It is known that overtures have been made to get William A. Leonard to withdraw, but he has declined to do so.

SYCAMORE AVE. BRIDGE ACCEPTED BY FREEHOLDERS

The bridge over Green brook at Sycamore avenue was accepted by the Somerset County Board of Freeholders at a special meeting held at H. C. Blatz's hotel on Somerset street today. The members of the board inspected the bridge this morning.

The Ferro Concrete Company, of Pennsylvania, constructed the bridge at a contract price of $9,000. The Crescent Color Company, of Dunellen, painted the bridge. H. Denchlau, of the Crescent Company, entertained the board at a course dinner at Blatz's.

CITY TRYING TO HAVE ALL HOUSES PROPERLY NUMBERED

Under the direction of the Street Committee an effort is being made to have correct numbers placed on every dwelling and store in the city "plainly visible from the sidewalk." That part of the city east of Park avenue hase been nearly completed, but there are hundreds of cases west of Park avenue where the numbers are wrong or where there are no numbers at all.

The number on the house or store should be one of the numbers found on the tax bill.

AT SPRING LAKE RECEPTION.

Mrs. R. H. Hood, of Stelle avenue, is attending the reception to Governor and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and children being given to them this afternoon at Spring Lake.

GOING TO EUROPE.

F. A. Alexander and family, of New Market road, Dunellen, are packing up and intend sailing for Europe for an indefinite stay.

Frank Toense, of Rutherford, is visiting Arthur Grisley, of New street.

Mrs. Charles Hummer, of Linden avenue, left today for a two weeks' stay at Annandale.

HACKMEN HOLD RACE

Fare of One of Them, Unwilling Participant in the Sport, Finishes His Journey Home In An Ambulance—Other City Court Notes.

Judge DeMeza had a busy time of it in the local police court, this morning, there being eight cases awaiting his disposition when the session opened. The most serious charge was against Mike Ludino, an Italian, who was picked up at 2:45 this morning by Office Baeder, on East Front street near Richmond, and found to be carrying a loaded revolver. The Judge read a strong lecture to the man, and told him that if he went before Judge Atwater he would probably be sent to the State Prison at Trenton. After thoroughly emphasizing the seriousness of the case, the Judge told Ludino that he would give him thirty days in the county jail, with the option of a $50 fine. The latter had not been paid this afternoon, so the man will probably go to Elizabeth.

Frank Brown, Jack Brown, Irving Cassel, Elmer Probasco, Ernest Jackson, Arthur Brown, William Brown, Walter Hooper and Elmer Rice, colored, Abraham Fay and Clyde VanVliet, white, were rounded up by the police within the last couple of days for a crap shooting party which they held at the old freight station on South Second street, on August 11. All were in court this morning, and all except Hooper were fined $2. He got off by paying $1 because it was his first offense.

John Lacey, of Harmony street, North Plainfield, and Harold Martin, of East Third street, two local hackmen, had an idea last night that Watchung avenue was a good place to hold a road race, and the fact that Mr. Grant, of 320 East Seventh street, was in one of the hacks did not interfere with their pleasure. As a result of their efforts to speed the two wagons came together between Fifth and Sixth streets, and were badly smashed up. It was necessary to take Grant home in the ambulance. The two hackmen were held for a hearing on Friday, when they will have lawyers present. The charge is reckless driving.

Rudolph Kistner, of 1629 West Front street, was held until tomorrow for trial, the complainant being his wife, who charged him with being disorderly.

Ernest Gatewood, the city dogcatcher, who also says he is a minister, Isaac White and Mary Walcott, three colored residents of Arlington avenue, were in court to explain their difficulties on Sunday night with Richard Norwood, a neighbor. Norwood was not in court and the case was adjourned.

William McCarthy, who was arraigned yesterday charged with stealing $4 from C. M. Nagle's drug store, was in court this morning. Yesterday he pleaded not guilty through John P. Owens, his counsel, but during the day he admitted to Chief of Police Kiely that he took the money. Mr. Nagle was in court and said he wanted to give the young man a chance, and he was paroled for thirty days with the understanding that he would pay the money back in that time.

On complaint of George Studer, of 969 Arlington avenue, Benjamin Rosenson, Morris Kline, Edward Sachar, Robert McDowell and Samuel Davidson were brought into court charged with stealing grapes. The young men apologized to Mr. Studer and sentence was suspended.

NURSES ON VACATION.

Miss Isabelle McNicol, who has been spending her vacation on Staten Island; Miss Harriet Connolly, who has been in Nova Scotia, and Miss Molly Scott, who has been enjoying her vacation in New York State, return to their duties as pupil nurses at Muhlenberg Hospital, tomorrow. Three other pupil nurses will start at that time on their vacation, Miss Aurelia Brown going to Massachusetts; Miss Evelyn Sutphen to Buffalo, and Miss Susan Whitney to New Hampshire.

CONCERT AT THE WALDORF.

Henry Windham, proprietor of the Waldorf Hotel on East Front street, has placed a handsome automatic piano-player in the Waldorf Annex, and announces that a concert will be given there tomorrow night, to which the public is invited. The piano-player is a marvel of ingenuity, and its tones are unusually fine.

"AEROPLANE ACROBAT" DESCRIBES BEACHEY

Flyer Who Will Exhibit Here Is a Thriller—'Plane Arrives.

At the aviation meet next Friday and Saturday at the Driving Park two of the greatest aviators in the world will appear. These are Lincoln Beachey, universally recognized as one of the most spectacular flyers in the history of aviation, and Beckwith Havens, fresh from the great war menoeuvers in Connecticut, where his success as an aeroplane scout helped to put the flying machine in a commanding position for all future military purposes.

There have been many attempts to hold aviation meets in New Jersey. Some of these have resulted in some flying of the ordinary sort; others have proved such lamentable failures that many persons have learned to shy at the words "aviation meet."

In securing Beachey and Havens, the Plainfield people have undoubtedly engaged a great card. Neither Beachey nor Havens has ever failed to fly when they were expected to go up. Wind or rain does not deter them. They will fly in any sort of weather and at the hours stated in the program.

Beachey has probably flown more miles in an aeroplane than any other aviator in the world. It is safe to say that he has flown twice the number of miles of any other two aviators in the United States. His exhibitions have taken him into every state in the Union, to the West Indies, South America, Mexico and Canada. No feat is too hazardous for him to attempt. He is the only man who ever flew over the Niagara Falls, down the gorge and beneath the great steel bridge spanning it. He holds the American altitude record of 11,642 feet made at Chicago last year, and is soon to attempt to break the world's altitude record of 14,301 feet.

Beachey's flights are absolutely startling. He can best be described as the "aeroplane acrobat," and his executions of the "turkey trot," the "Texas Tommy" and the "ocean glide" dances in an aeroplane, are as amusing as they are thrilling.

Beckwith Havens, who is highly connected socially in New York, and who took up aviation for the sport of the thing, is scarcely less spectacular than Beachey. He has been flying for a year and a half, but like Beachey, his exhibitions have been mostly given outside the states of New York and New Jersey.

There will be no disappointment in store for the crowds that go to the Plainfield Driving Park next Friday and Saturday. Beachey's and Havens' names are an absolute guarantee that there will be flying a-plenty, and flying of a most unusual sort.

One of the features of the day's events will be the carrying of United States mail by Beachey from the Driving Park to the Post Office in the city of Plainfield. A branch post office will be established on the Driving Park grounds where the public

ONLY 3 COUNCILMEN APPEAR FOR SESSION

Failure to Hold Meeting Makes Re-advertising of Street Bids Necessary.

The absence of several members from the city, together with the heavy thunder shower, made it impossible to hold the adjourned meeting of the Common Council last night. The only members who put in an appearance were President R. I. Tolles and Councilmen W. L. Gloak and P. J. Reville. City Clerk James T. MacMurray and George B. Wean, the city typist, were also present. After waiting a sufficient length of time, President Tolles called the meeting off.

The purpose of last night's meeting was to receive bids for street improvement work and to take up the matter of widening Somerset street, between Front street and Green brook. Because of the failure to hold a meeting, the bids will have to be readvertised. These matters will now probably go over to the regular session of the Council, which will be held on Tuesday night, September 3, as no arrangements were made last night for a special meeting before that date.

JAMES C. FIELD, JR., MAKES AN ASSIGNMENT

James C. Field, Jr., who for the past few years has been conducting a stationery store and newsstand on Park avenue, and more recently a sub-postal station, made an assignment today to Attorney Arthur Murphy for the equal benefit of all his creditors. The store was closed yesterday and the work of making an inventory is now underway. The assets and liabilities are not known at present.

In an official notice published in the Plainfield Daily Press today, creditors are required to file their claims within three months from date. The fact that Mr. Field was in charge of one of the sub-postal stations, will necessitate a change being made. The matter has been reported to Postmaster E. H. Bird and he is now making arrangements for the transfer of the station to another place.

SURPRISED GEORGE MONCK.

CARS CRUSH OUT R. R. MAN'S LIFE

Tully Killed While Working Over Couplings of New Jersey Central Train.

HIS SKULL SMASHED

Victim Lived In Bayonne—Permit to Remove Body There From Dunellen Granted By Coroner Flynn, of Perth Amboy.

William J. Tully, aged twenty-four years, of West Twenty-second street, Bayonne, employed as a brakeman on the drill engine at Dunellen, lost his life at that place, last night, while engaged in making up a passenger train. The engine was backing up a coach to be coupled onto another one, and Tully was resting his hand on the moving train in a stooping position waiting to make the coupling when his head was caught between the buffers. His skull was crushed.

Several trainmen rushed to the man's assistance. An engine and special car was made up for the purpose of bringing the injured man to Muhlenberg Hospital, but he died before Plainfield was reached. Coroner W. J. Flynn, of Perth Amboy, was notified and after viewing the body gave a permit for its removal to Bayonne.

Tully is survived by a wife, twin children aged seven years and three brothers. He had not been in the employ of the New Jersey Central very long, and the fatality is said to be due somewhat to inexperience. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock.

DUNELLEN RESIDENTS WANT MORE POLICE PROTECTION

Complaints are being made by the merchants and residents of Dunellen over inadequate police protection. It is held by the dissatisfied taxpayers that the sight of a policeman would be a curiousity. During the day a marshal can be found in the business center but never away from the Main street, and at night after 11:30 no one in authority can be found out of bed.

The residents say that as the town is growing and they pay taxes enough, and are near the railroad where tramps working their way often pass through, they should be protected. It has been a wonder, the complaining ones say, that a serious crime has not been committed. They assert it is about time the Town Fathers woke up and not wait until the horse is stolen before locking the stable door.

DOG FIGHT AND SOME SHOOTING IN DUNELLEN

There was considerable excitement last night on the Washington avenue bridge, Dunellen, caused by a fight between dogs owned by Edward Pennock, the druggist, and Wesley Blaine, the borough marshal. During the fight some man unknown, claiming to be a deputy sheriff, drew his revolver and shot at the dogs. As he was not much of a marksman the spectators withdrew and his identity could not be learned.

Pennock's dog was badly injured and Marshal Blaine's dog cannot be found. As the dog has been a pet of the Blaine household for the past fourteen years it would be decidedly unhealthy for the "deputy" to be found by the marshal.

CAPT. KITCHELL 75.

Captain Hudson Kitchell, who has been a resident of this city for several years, quietly observed the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birthday, yesterday. Captain Kitchell is a descendant of the first president of Harvard University, and his family has been more or less prominent in wars since the Revolution. They were among the pioneer settlers of Newark. He has two sons, one being Captain Harry B. Kitchell, of Elizabeth. The aged captain is a veteran of the Civil War.

MARION FOSTER.

Word has been received here of the death of Marion, the infant daughter of Pierrepont Beers and Elizabeth Bowen Foster, which occurred at Marblehead Neck, Mass., yesterday. Mrs. Foster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue, this city. The funeral will be private.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Depicting life in a Massachusetts fishing town, portraying in a strong manner, true life, with all its sorrows and sunshine, "The Confession" from the pen of James Halleck Reid, will be presented at the Plainfield Theatre, Tuesday night, August 27. The play is one of the strongest up-to-date dramas that has been offered to the theatre-going public for a number of years, enjoying a successful run at the Bijou theatre, Broadway, New York, for five months. A deep love story is woven into the plot. A beautiful girl in love with a lad, who gives more of his time to the ways of the world, a mother of the wayward son, patiently striving to save him, the allegiance of a young boy, who has been picked up from the Bowery, New York, and given a good home. The faithful brother, the French Canadian who tries to drag the lad down, the attorneys who try to save him from the gallows and the Governor of the State, all who make this great play the most powerful production that has even been presented in this city. The story is of a wayward, but good-hearted boy, in love with a young heiress, who is an orphan. They quarrel and she sends him away returning their betrothal ring. There is another brother who has been given his first parish. The wayward son leaves on a very stormy night going to a saloon. There he meets a brother of the girl, who upbraids him for his actions, a fight follows and the girl's brother is murdered.

Male choruses are as hard to collect and train as they are entrancing to listen to when properly trained. When the curtain goes up on the wonderful organization of Primrose & Dockstader's Greater Minstrels, a male chorus will be heard in the grand opening which has been drilled for two months and which sings like the bass section of a great pipe organ, so perfect is the co-relation of all the parts. Forty male voices so perfectly equalized have seldom been heard together before and will prove a rare treat in the cities which the organization is to visit. The last scene is on the old plantation and all the old Southern melodies have been woven into a wonderful medley. No music lends itself to the male chorus like the old darky songs, and when properly sung, they are as wonderful as the great classics of Bellini, Donizetti and Verdi, and to the great proportion of theatregoers, they are far more enjoyable. This show will appear at the Plainfield theatre, Thursday, August 29.

George H. Broadhurst cast aside all stage conventions, when he wrote "Bought and Paid For," which will appear at the Plainfield theatre, Labor Day, September 2, coming direct from William A. Brady's playhouse, New York, where it has been the dramatic sensation of present day theatricals. The story is one that grips and holds to the pulsation of the heart, as we see it from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The incidents and happenings are such that every husband and wife will draw a lesson from it. Mr. Broadhurst has imbued into his story a new vein of comedy, that is really delightful and is bound to leave a lasting impression upon the mind of every auditor. The cast and production comes here under the personal direction of William A. Brady, who has spared no expense in sending to this city the complete Playhouse company.

FALL FROM HAY LOFT FATAL TO AGED MAN

Summit, Aug. 20.—Falling from a hay loft in a barn owned by James Giddis, in Franklin place, Saturday night, Frederick Johnson sustained injuries which caused his death in Overlook Hospital Sunday.

Johnson, who was about sixty years old had no home nor relatives in this country. He did odd jobs about Mr. Giddis' place and slept in the hay loft. Just how he met with the accident has not been determined although it is believed he walked into an opening in the hay loft. He was found lying in a stall beside a horse directly underneath the opening in the hay loft by Mr. Giddis' son about 9 o'clock.

The man was unconscious. Dr. David E. English was summoned and found that Johnson's right hip was broken and that the man was suffering from internal injuries. Johnson was immediately removed to the hospital.

County Physician Westcott viewed the body at a local undertaking establishment and issued a burial permit. The funeral will probably be arranged for by natives of Sweden, where Johnson was born.

In the New York Shops.

[A postal addressed to O'Flaherty's New York-Suburban Shopping Guide, 150 Nassau St., New York City, will supply information as to where the articles mentioned in this column may be obtained.]

A dainty concett put out by one of the New York shops is a diminutive pincushion. This is made up of silk, padded over a round disc, and painted delicately by hand in cherry blossom and iris designs. It is finished with a tiny ruffle of the silk. The price is 10 cents. These dainty articles make most attractive favors.

Gun Metal Mesh Bags are selling for $3.95 and $6.75 at one of the stores. Very attractive Mesh Bags in Gold Plate have been reduced to $10.50 and $12.00.

The newest shades and styles in felt hats for fall wear, are selling for $1.95 and $2.98. Some of these are trimmed, but for the most part they have merely a ribbon band.

Covered Silk Pails with perforated lids are selling for 50 cents.

The house that boasts of a baby cannot afford to be without one of the baby hammocks, selling at one of the department stores. The hammock proper is made of woven twine, and is box-like in shape, effectually preventing the baby from either climbing or falling out. It swings from a frame made for the purpose, and can be used anywhere, in the house or outdoors. The price of the hammock is $2.00. The frame sells for $1.50.

The vacationist who has failed to bring back spoils in the shape of pine needles for pillows can console herself with the spiciest of Balsam Pine Pillows which one of the stores is selling for 50 cents.

Blue and White and Green and White Japanese Cotton Scarfing is selling at one store for 89 cents for 10 yards.

The summer girl will want one of the linen wash belts with dainty pockets attached for purse or handkerchief. They can be had in white, tan, pink or blue, and cost 50 cents.

Now is the time to take advantage of the low prices prevailing in the stores. Double faced Duchess Satin a yard wide is selling for $1.85 a yard. Its former price is said to have been $4.00.

Children's wear, stamped for embroidery is selling from 25 cents to $2.00. Linen Rompers made up, with a stamped yoke design, sell for 75 cents.

English Tinsel Voiles, which make up prettily into evening frocks, are selling for 12 cents a yard for the 26 inch width.

SUN ASSASSINATED?

Rumor Not Believed at Chinese Consulate or Newspaper Offices.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who was the provisional president of China and the head of the revolutionary party, was assassinated in Peking by troops acting under orders supposed to have been given by President Yuan, according to an unconfirmed report in local Chinese circles. The news has reached Dr. Sun's son and daughters, who are on the Pacific coast.

The rumor is not credited at the Chinese consulate or in the offices of the two Chinese daily newspapers, where no news of an attack upon Dr. Sun has been received. At the consulate the report was dismissed as entirely improbable.

—"We shall all be made perfect in heaven," remarked the good deacon. "Then I suppose even a one-legged man will get there with both feet." snickered the unregenerate backslider."

SCHEPPS ADMITS HE PAID SLAYERS

Whitman Gets Story on Train From Albany.

BECKER FURNISHED CASH.

Says He Acted as Messenger Between Rose and Becker When Former Was in Hiding—Police Made Desperate Efforts to Secure Custody of Witness.

New York, Aug. 20.—On a train from Albany to this city District Attorney Whitman got Sam Schepps' story and outwitted the police. Schepps said that he and Rose paid Herman Rosenthal's murderers with money furnished by Lieutenant Becker. Schepps also said that he had been the messenger between Becker and Rose while the latter was in hiding.

As soon as the train bearing Mr. Whitman and Schepps got here detectives, acting under orders from Commissioner Waldo and Second Deputy Commissioner Dougherty to deliver Schepps at police headquarters, made two attempts to take the informer away from the district attorney. Mr. Whitman warned the detectives that if they laid a finger on Schepps they would be arrested for oppression.

They backed down and reported to Commissioner Waldo, who rescinded the order. But by that time the informer had been rushed by Whitman's men to the West Side court, arraigned for vagrancy and held for one week—long enough for the district attorney's purpose to work out.

The efforts to snatch Schepps from the district attorney forced the first open clash between the police department and the county prosecutor. Trouble has been simmering for weeks, until it boiled over. The district attorney charges that the police wanted to intimidate Schepps before permitting him to talk about the murder of Rosenthal or the blackmailing operations of policemen. Commissioner Waldo replies that his action was based on the belief that Schepps was under arrest and that he did not want the procedure to be any different in Schepps' case than in the case of any other prisoner.

Dougherty Makes Apology.

To this explanation the district attorney replied that the police department was aware that Schepps was not a prisoner, but merely a witness voluntarily returning to this state, and that even if he had been a prisoner charged with murder the police officials knew perfectly well that the first place to take Schepps was a magistrate's court, not to headquarters. And to this comment Deputy Commissioner Dougherty, saying that he spoke for Waldo, answered by saying that it was all an unfortunate misunderstanding. Dougherty apologized to Whitman.

Back of the conflict which flared up in two places in the sight and hearing of hundreds of excited or amused citizens, the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station of the New York Central and the Grand Central station, were three telegrams sent by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty to Detective Albert Thomas, who, although a member of the district attorney's staff, is a department policeman. The telegrams show that as far back as last Thursday Dougherty was preparing to receive Schepps. Commissioner Waldo says that Dougherty asked for orders on Friday. At any rate, Dougherty sent this telegram to Thomas last Thursday:

Detective Albert Thomas, en route New York, St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Train:
Extra rush. Advise when and what route you take with Schepps and when due here. GEORGE S. DOUGHERTY,
Deputy Police Commissioner.

To this Detective Thomas made no reply. His position was extremely delicate. Under orders from the district attorney on one hand to use the utmost caution in handling Schepps and pressed by his immediate superior in the police department on the other, he took counsel with discretion and wished he was in Buffalo.

The following day, Friday, Thomas received this telegram:

Detective Albert Thomas, Care of Conductor Train or Pullman Conductor on Train 4, Big Four R. R., Cleveland, O.:
Report at police headquarters with prisoner upon arrival at New York. Answer that you understand.
GEORGE S. DOUGHERTY,
Second Deputy Police Commissioner.

"X" is the department code letter for "O. K."

The harrassed detective consulted with Assistant District Attorney J. Robert Rubin, who was in charge of the party. Mr. Rubin suggested that Mr. Thomas wait until the party got to Buffalo and well within the state of New York before replying.

Thomas Answers Dougherty.

George S. Dougherty, Deputy Police Commissioner, 240 Center Street, New York City:
Leave Buffalo 12:05 a. m. Aug. 19; due 9:25 a. m., via New York Central.

At Hot Springs Thomas saw that Dougherty was in a hurry, but he was under orders from the district attorney not to communicate news concerning Schepps until Schepps had been put on the soil of New York state. Thomas therefore sent no reply. When the party arrived in Buffalo Thomas found this telegram awaiting him:

Albert Thomas, Hotel Stadtler:
When you arrive in New York city report at police headquarters with prisoner.

Illustrious acts high raptures to inuse,
And every conqueror creates a muse.
—Edward Waller.

GEORGE S. DOUGHERTY,
Deputy Police Commissioner.

Thomas meanwhile had been in communication with District Attorney Whitman, who was in Manchester, Vt. He was ordered by Whitman to state the case to Dougherty, which he did in a telegram to Dougherty stating among other things that Schepps consented to waive extradition.

Forewarned of the attempt to be made by the police department to seize Schepps, District Attorney Whitman left Manchester, Vt., on Sunday evening, after communicating with Assistant District Attorney Rubin, and hurried to Albany. Mr. Whitman had been told by Rubin over the long distance telephone that Schepps was nervous and frightened and that he feared the police would do him harm or would try to force him into a denial of Rose's confession.

"Schepps is scared half to death," Rubin telephoned. "Thomas is worried over the position he has been placed in. What can we do?"

Mr. Whitman answered the appeal by instructing Rubin to wait with Schepps in Albany until he got there.

T. R. SAYS HE BANNED STANDARD OIL CASH

Declares He Wrote Cortelyou to That Effect.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Colonel Roosevelt gave out a statement concerning the certificate of deposit for $25,000 given to Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania by John D. Archbold. Colonel Roosevelt said he knew nothing about the contributions to his campaign fund in 1904.

"As regards Senator Penrose's statement, I have only to say that I have not and never have had the slightest knowledge whether he or any one else during the campaign of 1904 raised any money to be used in carrying the state of New York.

"But as a matter of fact, it happened that in the campaign of 1904 I wrote to Mr. Cortelyou stating that I wished no money received from the Standard Oil company.

"If any money was received from the Standard Oil company it was not only without my knowledge, but in spite of my written prohibition.

"As for the funds used or raised in Pennsylvania, I had no more knowledge of them than of the funds used or raised in Ohio or Illinois. In 1904 Senator Penrose was not the Pennsylvania leader, and as far as I know he was supporting me simply as all other Republican senators, if senators from New York, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts and California were likewise supporting me."

DYING, BEGS TO BE SHOT.

Wife Pinned Beneath Auto—Husband Calls Aid With Horn.

Petaluma, Cal., Aug. 20.—Mrs. E. W. Mason, wife of the secretary of an oil company, lay in the road beside their overturned automobile fatally injured and begged her husband to end her agony by shooting her. Ten minutes later she died.

When Mason lost control of his car and it ran into a ditch and overturned, Mr. and Mrs. Mason were pinned under it. Mason could reach his horn and sounded it repeatedly till some farmers heard the call. His wife was dead before help came. He will recover.

ASBURY IS READY FOR BABY PARADE

Expect 125,000 People at Shore Resort Tomorrow.

TOWN IS GAYLY BEDECKED

Miss Hazel Manners of Newark to Queen Titania XII.—Governor Wilson Will Attend—Princess Cinderella and Ladies at Court Have Been Selected.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 20.—The stage has been set for Asbury Park's baby parade here tomorrow, and the little actors who will participate in the annual pageantry have only a day left in which to rehearse their parts. They are groomed not to indulge in a speaking performance and are intended only to look sweet and pretty.

The town is gayly bedecked with streamers of the carnival colors and the royal purple of Queen Titania, visitors are pouring in on every train, and eleven of the fairest young women here are fidgeting, if the truth were known, for they're human, if they have suddenly been made royal.

These twelve young women are the queen, the Princess Cinderella and ten ladies at court, and they will be the center of a staring holiday throng of 125,000 or more, dozens of photographers will level their cameras at them and state and county notables—and a national figure, too, Governor Wilson—will be presented to them.

Hazel Manners Queen.

Really, these young women are quite as important as the parading babies. They represent the fairest type of outdoor American girl and are selected from among thousands of candidates. The queen, of course, is the central figure in the scheme, for she is Titania, the patron saint, so to speak, of the fairies and the babies.

The queen this year is Titania XII. In reality she is Miss Hazel Manners, the daughter of ex-Assemblyman and Mrs. Frederick Manners of Newark. Mr. Manners has been in Sweden, where business for Howard Gould, whose secretary he is, took him. He returned yesterday.

Miss Bernice Dorothy Hetrick of Asbury Park is the Princess Cinderella, the highest lady at the queen's court. The nine other maids of honor are Miss Grace Trimble of Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Miss Ethel Pauline Rugarber and Miss Virginia Hope Kelsey of Asbury Park; Miss Agatha Filon of Weehawken, N. J.; Miss Arita Smith of Philadelphia, Miss Alice Watson of Newark, Miss Ida Mittag of Park Ridge, N. J.; Miss Mary E. Dunlap of Arlington, N. J., and Miss Clarissa M. Lawrence of Cambridge, Mass.

O'BRIEN TO FACE MAGISTRATE

Philadelphia Boxer Prefers Counter Charge Against Accuser.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 20.—"Philadelphia" Jack O'Brien, the boxer, of Philadelphia, will appear before Magistrate Walton to answer to a charge of larceny and one of assault and battery preferred by Billy Payne, former pugilist, also of Philadelphia. O'Brien has sworn out a counter warrant charging Payne with assault.

The suits are the result of a dispute over money at Inlet park on Monday of last week. According to Payne, his wife fell down a flight of steps in the American Athletic club, run by O'Brien in Philadelphia, and O'Brien agreed to give a benefit for her at the Inlet. After the exhibitions, in which O'Brien and his young brother were the features, Jack demanded $75 of the proceeds. When Payne refused the request, he says, O'Brien grabbed a handful of bills. Payne alleges he was severely beaten by the O'Briens and swore out the warrant.

HIS RARE BIRD DIES.

John Norwood's Passenger Pigeon Had Been Captive Twenty-four Years.

Montville, N. J., Aug. 20.—A passenger pigeon which had been kept in captivity since March, 1888, died on the farm of John Norwood, at Lower Montville.

Prior to 1880 the passenger pigeon used to visit the wooded sections of New Jersey in flocks.

That the birds in a wild state have disappeared is shown by the fact that ten years ago the Audubon society of Illinois offered $100 for definite proof of the finding of a nesting pair of passenger pigeons. No claimant has ever appeared.

DYING, HE CALLS AMBULANCE

Patrol Finds Patient Unconscious When It Arrives.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 20.—Although dying from hemorrhages, William Adams, clerk in the drug store of Richard S. Justice of this city, yesterday called the police department on the telephone and asked for an ambulance.

When a motor patrol was sent to the place Adams was found unconscious. He was taken to the Cooper hospital, where he died. He has two sisters living in Philadelphia.

RELIGIOUS PREJUDICE.

Opponents of Governor Wilson seem to be hard pressed for arguments to present against his candidacy for the Presidency. Reference has been made to the despicable effort to create the impression that Mrs. Wilson smokes cigarettes, the evident idea being to insinuate that a man with such a wife should not be made president. Now other enemies of the Governor have started a story that he is opposed to Catholics, with the intention of trying to hurt him, and when he showed that members of that church have been favored with appointments at his hands, another element tried to belittle him by saying that he is favoring that church. This kind of campaigning is about as mean and small as any of which we can think. Governor Wilson has been fair to all creeds. A man in public office has no right to look into the church affiliations of prospective appointees. All that needs to be known is that the name under consideration is that of a man who is capable of holding down the job in a manner which will give the best service to the State. Catholics have held responsible positions in New Jersey, and we hope to see them continue to receive equally responsible positions. Are a man's religious connections to be considered when he does his duty fairly and squarely by the people? Many Catholics have been chosen to office by the suffrage of the voters without their religious affiliations being brought into the campaign. There are Senators and Representatives in Congress, many State officials, and hundreds of local officials allied with the church who are doing splendid work for their constituents, and in their enlightened age no fair-minded man ever brings a man's religion into a political campaign. It is only the small-minded fellow, with no sense of the propriety of things that brings up such charges as those being made against Governor Wilson. The latter will gain more votes than he will lose by such tactics.

Was there ever a time when a man made a clean statement of facts when he was accused of wrong doing that it did not react in his favor? The other day a Philadelphia councilman sent in his resignation, with the explanation that he had served time in Massachusetts for crime, and that therefore he did not think he was entitled to be in office. He had been leading a straight life in Philadelphia, but one of his former prison mates had discovered him, and after blackmailing him for a while, threatened to take the whole story to the newspapers. The councilman forestalled this by sending in his resignation, and giving the story to the papers himself, at the same time leaving town until he saw what effect his confession would have. The Mayor and other officials took him at his worth, and immediately started a movement to have him pardoned and his citizenship restored in Massachusetts, and later a wealthy Philadelphian who had also been in prison in his younger days, came forward and said that he would start the councilman in a business career, as he had proven that he had reformed by frankly telling his story and resigning. It is probable that if he had tried to conceal the facts in the case, and they were made public through the blackmailer, he would have been unable to again earn an honest living in the city, and would have had to leave there. A frank and free confession that he has done wrong by a man who has reformed, always brings friends and assistance.

Usually we have to go away from home for advice. Evidently the editor of the Summit Record knows more about Newark than the people of Newark themselves. Here is what he has to say about the Mayor of Newark, who a short time ago threw all discretion to the winds and told the public there that he had no intention of enforcing the liquor laws and closing up the hundreds of disorderly establishments in the city: "Mayor Haussling has been the most successful and competent mayor that Newark has had in twenty years, and he is by all odds the most desirable candidate that party (Democratic) could select in the approaching campaign. The idea of a movement against him being engineered by William Harrigan must arouse the indignation and resentment of every person conversant with Essex county politics." After reading that article it becomes evident that the editor of the Summit Record is not a "person conversant with Essex county politics."

Over in New York State they have found it necessary to call upon the Governor to select a special judge to try the murderers of Rosenthal, the gambler. There is justification for this, in view of the fact that most of the judges in New York city have been elected by the influence of the Tammany Hall politicians, and that organization is more or less tied up with the crowd being exposed in the graft scandals. Here in New Jersey such action would not be necessary. We cannot remember a time when suspicion has been cast upon any of the judges appointed under the New Jersey law by the Governor. The appointive method assures a better type of judge than the elective one, and suggestions that New Jersey elect the judiciary are never heard. There are no fairer courts in the land than those of this State, and Jersey Justice has a reputation for fairness and expedition which extends from one end of the country to the other.

Colonel Roosevelt has started his campaign with a vim. He spoke last week in Providence and Boston, and it is said that the crowds he drew in those cities made the politicians in both old parties sit up and take notice. While the Democrats seem to think that they will have an easy time of it on election day, it seems to us that there never was so much uncertainty about a result as that at the present time. Governor Wilson will stay at home and let the delegations come to see him; President Taft says that he will not campaign, but after his fight at the primaries he may feel that he will have to take a swing around the circuit, and Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Johnson, both of them fighters from the word go, will make a strenuous campaign from now until election. The result is very much in doubt, with the real fight between Wilson and Roosevelt.

The way they are shaking up police conditions in New York makes it hard to keep track of the name of the "Czar of the Tenderloin." There are plenty of New York policemen who would like to have the title for life, but the police commissioner thinks differently.

THE TEMPERATURE.

SANITY OF CHILD-SLAYER STILL UNDER CONSIDERATION

Elizabeth, Aug. 20.—Dr. Britton D. Evans, head of the State Hospital for the Insane at Morris Plains, made another visit to Mrs. Charles Henry at the Union county jail. He declined to make any statement regarding the woman's condition, saying that the visit was merely an informal one in the course of the investigation he is making at the instance of Porsecutor Swift to establish for the State Mrs. Henry's mental responsibility or irresponsibility for the crime with which she is charged.

The charge against Mrs. Henry alleges that on June 20 she slew her 3-year-old daughter, May Louise, while the child lay asleep in its crib. The brutality of the crime aroused the country at the time. The infant's throat was cut with a paring knife from ear to ear. Mrs. Henry was arrested after telling several conflicting stories and finally made a confession, admitting the deed.

The question of her sanity was raised and Dr. Evans, superintendent of Morris Plains Asylum, was called into the case by the State to determine the mental capacity of the woman. He has made several observations of the prisoner and will render a report of his diagnosis to Prosecutor Swift when satisfied as to her mentality.

PERSONAL.

Harry Dreier, Morris Abrams and Jacob Fass left this afternoon for a business trip to Nova Scotia. They will be away about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Martin, formerly of this city, but now of New York, are registered at the Narragansett House, Oak Bluffs, Mass. They will remain until Labor Day.

Mrs. M. D. O'Keefe, of West Fourth street, entertained Mary Costello and Martha Lutz, of Washington, D. C., during the past week. Miss Lutz formerly resided in this city.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

All Souls Unitarian church on Park avenue is closed until September 8, when the regular services will be resumed.

The last union service of the First Baptist, First Presbyterian, Trinity Reformed and First M. E. churches will be held Sunday night at the First Baptist church.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, is expected to return to his pulpit September 1, on which day there will be the regular communion service with reception of new members.

IOWA WANTED DIRECT NEWS OF WILSON CAMPAIGN

Returning from his vacation spent at Rock Rapids, Iowa, Charles P. Sebring, of this city, is circulating the story of an interesting little incident of his trip in the Middle West. Before leaving town Mr. Sebring left instructions to have the Daily Press forwarded to him at Rock Rapids. He made a number of stops on his way to Iowa and upon arriving found that a big bundle of the newspapers had accumulated in the postoffice. When he called for them the postmaster was about to dispose of the bundle via the waste basket. He made known his mission and when he informed the official that the papers were from New Jersey they were handed over.

Several days elapsed before his next trip to Uncle Sam's mail depository and when he was handed his bundle of papers the second time he noticed that all of the wrappers were torn off. He inquired about that and was told that some of the postoffice employes had heard him say the papers came from New Jersey and were so anxious to get direct news from the Wilson camp that they confiscated the papers temporarily. The postmaster said that the men were so interested in getting a direct line on the political situation through a New Jersey oracle that they read the papers up and down and crossways. Upon learning this Mr. Sebring told the men that they were welcome to the papers as long as they left the reading matter intact because he was just as much interested as they were.

THOMAS R. MARSHALL.

© 1912, by American Press Association.

Thomas Taggart, Indiana national committeeman, and Colonel John I. Martin, sergeant-at-arms of the Democratic national committee, were the advance guard here of the committeemen and others who notified Governor Thomas R. Marshall that he was nominated for vice president at the Baltimore convention. Colonel Martin came to make arrangements to handle the crowd. Judge Alton B. Parker of New York was chairman of the notification committee.

WARD R. HAYES ELECTED PRESIDENT OF STATE A. O. H.

Phillipsburg, Aug. 20—The biennial convention of the A. O. H. divisions of New Jersey, was held here yesterday.

The body composed of about 250 delegates, opened its first session, which was public, at 11 o'clock, after the delegates had attended a solemn high mass sung by the Rev. P. J. Quinn, with the Rev. Maurice Spillane as deacon and the Rev. Hugh Massey as sub-deacon.

The convention was called to order by John P. Duffy, of Phillipsburg, who introduced Mayor Firth. The latter gave the address of welcome, which was responded to by Edward R. Hayes, of New Brunswick, the State president.

The following officers were elected: President, Ward R. Hayes, New Brunswick; vice-president, J. J. Sweeney, Trenton; State secretary, P. T. Hayes, Jersey City; State treasurer, John J. Cacoyne, Orange. The officers were installed by the chaplain, the Rev. William T. McLaughlin, of Union Hill. The next convention will be held in Elizabeth in 1914. The treasurer's biennial report showed receipts of $7,409.59 and expenditures of $6,938.31. The balance on hand is $471.27. The membership is 7,000, in 84 divisions distributed in eighteen of the twenty-one counties of the State.

MIDDLESEX REPUBLICANS ARE ANXIOUS FOR PEACE

The Middlesex Republican County Committee planned for the coming campaign a few days ago. The members are very anxious to avoid any primary contests this year and are also listening intently for the Bull Moose.

Reports were made that the Bull Moose leaders are not united on the question of putting a third ticket in the field in the county. Judge Lyon, of Perth Amboy does not want a third county ticket, while some of the others do. Some decision may be reached at the Bull Moose outing at Seidler's Beach soon

—Wigwag—"Don't ... know the total number of tea drinkers in America?" Guzzler—"I do not. I am no tea totaller."

—Wigg—"Don't you think Miss Yellowleaf is rather slow?" Wagg—"She must be. It has taken her about 40 years to reach the age of 25."

THE FORUM.

LEST WE FORGET.

Plainfield, Aug. 21, 1912.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Over half a century ago the very flower of the youth of our country sprang to the defence of Its Flag. Many, many laid down their lives that human liberty might prevail. No braver men offered their lives a sacrifice in that cause than went out of Plainfield. Almost every city, town and hamlet throughout the land have carved a stone to the memory of those that never came back. Is it not due Our Boys that a suitable monument be erected to their memory, lest our children forget?

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

SNAPSHOTS OF FASHION.

Bright Colors Seen in Autumn Dress This Season.

Though gray is again to be in great favor, yet there are to be some lovely bright colors seen in dress this season, and our modistes are unlikely to forget that the success of all such bright colors lies in the moderation with which they are used.

At a sensational dress show recently the draped skirt and the bunched panier were features of many of the models, and the modified color touch proved once more how telling it is. For instance, a fawn colored embroidered tussore coat and skirt had a Chinese red collar, which gave it a cachet.

Frocks made in semiprincess style are going to be just as popular this autumn as they have been all summer.

SMART SEMIPRINCESS FROCK.

The cut shows a delightful model of this kind. Lightweight serge is the material used, but there are numberless novelties offered in the shops that make up in this style to great advantage. Trimmings of silk and velvet on wool are in vogue this season and are very becoming adornments.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls of sixteen and eighteen years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7557, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

DELICIOUS TEA BISCUIT.

THE light supper with which the day may be closed in summer will be made particularly attractive if it is furnished with a pan of flaky, well browned biscuit.

These soft round cakes, made from dough raised with yeast or soda and shortened with lard, may be more easily and more evenly browned if a teaspoonful of sugar is added to them.

Recipes for biscuit are many. Here are a few that may be easily prepared:

Light and Fluffy.

Raised Biscuit.—Take a pint of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, four tablespoonfuls sugar sifted together. Mix one tablespoonful of lard and one of butter into flour with fingers, one pint of milk or half milk and half water, lukewarm; one cake compressed yeast dissolved in milk. Beat this into the flour with a spoon, add more flour to make a medium soft dough. Set in warm place to rise, make into biscuits, let rise again and bake in a quick oven. If mixed at noon these will be ready for 6 o'clock supper.

Baking Powder Biscuit.—Take one quart of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one tablespoonful of salt. Mix thoroughly and sift. Then rub in one tablespoonful cold shortening and mix in with a spoon sufficient cold sweet milk or water (milk is the best). This makes a dough too soft to be rolled; turn it out well floured, press with your hand to the desired thickness; cut in shapes and bake at once in a very quick oven. When mixed with milk you may leave out the shortening, if you prefer not to use it. If your oven is at the proper heat, ten minutes will suffice to bake.

Delicate Hot Breads.

Tea Biscuit.—Take one pint of scalded milk, one-fourth cup of butter, one yeast cake, one tablespoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, white of one egg and four cupfuls of flour. Make a sponge, letting it stand in a warm place in a pan placed in warm water. Then add the flour, knead it for twenty minutes and shape into biscuit. Let these rise until twice the first size and bake.

Buttermilk Biscuit.—Take four cupfuls of sifted flour. Stir into it a tablespoonful of baking powder and a teaspoonful of salt. Melt two tablespoonfuls of lard and mix with the flour. Then mix to a soft dough with a pint of buttermilk, into which one-half a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Roll out to half an inch thickness and cut into biscuit. Bake in a quick oven.

ANNA PAVLOWA.

Anna Pavlowa's conquest of London society was manifested as never before when the Russian dancer held court in her suburban home in north London. Her latest triumph was the talk of London.

Among those present were the Duchess of Marlborough, the Duchess of Rutland, Mrs. Asquith, Mrs. Leopold de Rothschild and Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador, as well as a crowd of other prominent persons.

Pavlowa danced on the lawn in gold slippers and provided other entertaining surprises.

What Women Are Doing.

Mrs. Caroline Weeks Barrett of Brooklyn, until recently connected with the Pratt Institute, is said to be the originator of the plan to raise a fund of $100,000 as a memorial to Mrs. Ellen H. Richards. Mrs. Richards was the first president of the American Home Economics association. The income from the memorial fund is to be used in putting the Journal of Home Economics on a firm foundation and to establish prizes and scholarships to encourage research work on problems relative to home life.

Miss Rosa Belle Holt of New York is said to be the only woman oriental rug broker in the world. Miss Holt gained her training by foreign travel and selecting rugs for her friends. When the time came for her to earn a living for herself she announced that she would gladly fill orders for oriental rugs. Success came to her almost from the start. Now she is said to have scores of private clients from Maine to California as well as many in England and other European countries.

Mrs. Maggie Carter of Wakefield, Mass., is known in her section as the "lady milkman." She keeps forty-five cows, covers five towns in her daily route with more than 500 customers and employs six horses in her delivery. Though she has six or more men in her employ, she does much of the daily milking herself, delivers a good share of the milk and manages alone the financial end of her business.

Mrs. Elizabeth Davidson is said to be the only woman bank president in Maine. She is at the head of the York County National bank, which was started about six years ago by her husband, the late James T. Davidson, a lawyer, in York. The bank rapidly outgrew its original quarters, and the business finally increased to such an extent that a large building had to be erected to accommodate it.

Daytime Jewelry of Amber.

Amber is at present a very highly favored item of daytime jewelry. It is seen as the hatpin head, globular in shape and of a medium size, and is the ornament of combs and prongs.

Magical properties were believed to be ascritable to amber in former times, and there were wearers of the beads who vowed they were saved by them from that tedious and troublesome complaint, hay fever. The new delight found in amber is traceable not to any occult connection, but to the fashion for every shade of gold, through all the gradations from the most pallid to the most radiant tint.—London Mail.

For a Rainy Evening.

Misquoted quotations is a game which will cause amusement and at the same time is something of a tax on the player's knowledge of poetry. In this each visitor is handed a slip of paper with all kinds of muddled up quotations, as "Some are born great, but to be or not to be a rose by any other name is the question." To straighten out a great many such quotations and to finish them correctly is a good test of the true lover of poetry. Sometimes amusing mistakes are made.

Points for Mothers

Comfort For Stay at Home Mothers.

"We are staying home this summer," said the young mother, "as we do not think the baby old enough to be taken out of its usual environment, and we would not go without him." There are no doubt thousands of young mothers and fathers doing the same thing. They realize that there are a certain number of years of their lives that they must give to the children and that they must put aside their own comfort in order to do it. Mothers don't break down when they are doing this sort of work as a general thing and should try to live as calmly and comfortably as possible under the circumstances. It is always with relief that one hears the young mother say "we" are staying at home, for the father owes it to his child as much as the mother to be near it during the critical months of babyhood. Together they can most certainly do better for the child than either one could alone, and along with the cares of motherhood should go hand in hand the responsibilities of fatherhood. The child who is only mothered loses much in its life, for the father's influence is often sane where motherhood is only sweet. The well brought up child must have the father's help as well as the mother's through every step of his life, and he generally gets it in America, whatever may be said of the better training for parenthood in other countries. The father has a double duty to perform, for while he looks out for his child he must also see that the mother keeps herself in condition. An irritable mother will very likely have the same kind of child. She may not be at all at fault, having been rendered physically incapable of caring properly for her child by worries of one kind or another. So the young husband must see that she is amused if necessary, that she has nourishing food and that she is not unduly worried by all the business troubles of the family. That precious baby does not realize all the sacrifices that are made for him, and he never will be aware of them until he, too, stands with a child of his own in his arms and the pride of fatherhood in his eyes.

Educating the Children.

The bishop of London once said: "I am convinced that the uplifting of the morality of our people lies above all and everything else in educating our children rationally and morally. I believe that more evil has been done by the squeamishness of parents who are afraid to instruct their children in the vital facts of life than by all the other agencies of vice put together."

Of this same phase of education Dr. Rosalie Slaughter Morton of New York says:

"The classes in social settlements are doing a tremendous work in giving both boys and girls many impersonal, wholesome interests, and in each of these settlements there should be classes for fathers and mothers, where the sex question is taken up frankly."

Week End Gifts.

The house party guest who cannot think of a suitable gift for a family of children should look over an assortment of boxes fitted with all sorts of indoor and outdoor games for boys and girls and selling at the smallest prices. A box, for example, containing two little tennis rackets with balls and a jumping rope is 25 cents, and for a larger child a box with two rackets and balls is 50 cents or $1. A box of battledore and shuttlecock is 50 cents or in larger size $1. A special outfit for little girls includes a battledore set, a catchball and a jumping rope, all with white and gold handles. It is 75 cents. A catchball with a trumpet end that issues a startling blast is 15 cents.

"Seeing Things at Night."

If mothers notice that the brains of their little ones conjure up uncanny sights and thoughts from the shadows of a room more or less dark let the light burn brightly. To force a child to become accustomed to the darkness is a grave error if its nervous system is so organized that this forcing is productive of a fright.

The nervous system of a child is a very susceptible organization, and the deleterious impressions made upon it will often make their influence felt throughout its whole after life. If the child asks for a light under such circumstances do not refuse it.

A Birthday Ring From Germany.

A newly imported novelty from Germany is a wooden birthday cake ring brightly painted in a manner to appeal to children and pierced with holes, in which the birthday candles are to be set. As the holes are many, it is possible to have as many candles as are necessary, even when the children of a family are grown up. The ring of wood is only about an inch thick, and it is intended that the cake be set inside this rim

MONTGOMERY'S SUCCESSOR IS TO BE NAMED TONIGHT

Elizabeth, Aug. 20.—Company C, Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., will hold an election tonight to choose a successor to Captain R. J. Montgomery, who was cashiered by a general court martial several weeks ago.

The candidates for the captaincy are First Lieutenant Raymond B. Moore, who has been in command of the company since Captain Montgomery was placed under military arrest last May, and Second Lieutenant William R. Grant. Moore seems to be the leading candidate. There are several aspirants for the lieutenancy that will be made vacant by the advancement.

SOMERSET PROGRESSIVES TO NAME ASSEMBLY CANDIDATE

Somerville, Aug. 20.—The Progressives of Somerset county have decided to name a candidate for the Assembly, to indorse for Congress the selection for that office to be made by the Progressives of Mercer county and not to place in the field any candidate for surrogate. It is the hope of the Somerset leaders that Assemblyman John E. Gill, of Trenton, will be the Congressional nominee. In deciding not to nominate a candidate for surrogate the high character of the two old party candidates, Calvin McMurtry, Democrat, and former Sheriff Edward Cooper, Republican, was taken into consideration. The following were constituted a committee to suggest names for membership on a county committee that is to be named: Former Mayor Charles Kenyon, of this place; former Prosecutor John Regre, of Raritan; former Judge Louis N. Schenck, of Neshanic; Charles Wheeler, of Watchung, and James E. Bathgate, Jr., of Basking Ridge.

SEVEN MURDER INDICTMENTS EXPECTED IN N. Y. TODAY

New York, Aug. 20.—The long-deferred indictments against prisoners in the Rosenthal murder case will be returned today, according to the belief of District Attorney Whitman. The men who are to be indicted, if the prosecutor's forecast is right, are Rosenzweig (Lefty Louie), Horowitz (Gib the Blood), Cirofici (Dago Frank) and Muller (Whitie Lewis), believed to be the four gunmen; Jacob Reich (Jack Sullivan), William Shapiro and, upon a superseding indictment, Lieut. Charles Becker.

It only remains for Sam Schepps to tell his story to the Grand Jury, said Mr. Whitman this morning. "I can say," he continued, "that the case against Becker is already made, but Schepps' testimony has a certain value just the same. We could have got along without Schepps, but it is just as well to have him. The Grand Jury would have returned indictments last Thursday, had I not requested the delay."

STRINGENT ACT REGARDING SALE OF ALL FIREARMS

Dealers and the police will be interested in chapter 225 of the laws of 1912, page 364. This is an act concerning the carrying of deadly weapons. The principal features of this law are that a permit may be obtained from the mayor of the town where the person resides who carries the weapon or from the judge of the court of common pleas of the county. Such permits are good for a period of one year and must be honored throughout the State. All such permits are invalid unless, within ten days after they are granted, they be recorded in the clerk's office of the county. It is a crime to sell such a weapon to any one under the age of twenty-one years. This section includes any toy pistols, whether loaded with full or blank cartridges.

The law further requires that every retail dealer, pawnbroker or otherwise, shall keep a register in which shall be entered at the time of the sale the name, age, occupation and residence of every purchaser of a pistol or other firearm, together with a description of the pistol. Such registers must be kept open for the inspection of the police department. It is a crime for one person to sell a pistol or other firearm to another person without first notifying the police authorities.

CARMIE DILLON.

Califon, Aug. 20.—The body of Carmie Dillon, who died from a hemorrhage on the highway at Middle Valley Thursday before medical aid reached him, was taken Saturday from Andrew W. Naughright's undertaking establishment to Merwensville, Conn., for burial. Dillon, who was employed as a chauffeur by Joseph P. Day, of Short Hills, was spending part of his vacation at Lake Hopatcong, and was on a fishing trip here accompanied by Sherwood Youngs, Lackawanna agent, and Samuel Fredericks and Frank Fredericks, of Millburn. Dillon, driving the automobile, was taken suddenly ill. He was forty-two years old and leaves a wife and three children at Great Barrington, Mass.

may mail cards or letters. These will carry a special stamp reading "Posted by Aeroplane Mail Route."

Another feature will be a five-mile race between the two aviators. As both will use 80 h. p. Curtiss aeroplanes, the contest will be exceedingly close and exciting.

Beachey will also make an altitude flight of 10,000 feet shutting off his motor at that height and dropping to earth at an angle of 70 degrees. This is a stunt that he has performed in many places and everywhere it is declared to be the most daring and thrilling air performance ever seen.

Flights will begin at 3:30 p. m. and end at 5 p. m.

Lincoln Beachey's biplane, the one he will use in his flights at the Driving Park, arrived here today, and the mechanicians are due here tomorrow. The biplane has been taken to the park and placed in the hangar built there for the purpose. The machine to be used by Havens will probably reach here tomorrow. The promoters of the meet announce that they will distribute to school children on Thursday afternoon aero-dictionaries. The distribution will take place at the headquarters on East Front street, opposite the Y. M. C. A.

FUNERAL OF J. G. REINMAN.

The funeral service of John G. Reinman was held at the late home, 31 Harrison avenue, North Plainfield, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel, officiated. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Potter have returned to their home in Texas after a visit with Mrs. Potter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woodruff, of East Second street.

—Neuman Bros. will offer for tomorrow's trade a large assortment of fresh vegetables, the finest in the market.

The Poet's Roost.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Bound Brook fans have not recovered from the shock handed out to them by the Plainfield Clan on Saturday afternoon and are still trying to figure out the cause. Plainfield hitsmiths had a good day Saturday and they are gloating over what they did to Slocum.

All the loyal fans of that burg have thrown aside every form of manual labor and are resting up for a big time on the "tin can" diamond next Saturday.

Salt air could not have agreed with Slocum very well for he certainly could not find the direction where the batters were waiting for them to come over.

Better not take a chance on sending Lidgate to the shore this week, as he may be needed again in the next contest.

We saw Slocum and Frederickson leaving for the shore yesterday afternoon and when asked the why of such a thing they said they were going to train together.

It certainly looks kind of bad to see these two youngsters going away together and the deciding contest but four days off.

Slocum came back with a sore arm from his last sojourn. It will be a game worth seeing next Saturday if they both appear with lame salary wings.

The appearance of Lidgate on the mound brought back memories of the 1909 Plainfield High School team when Lidgate was the chief factor in the much talked of reversable battery. His battery partner was "Rope" VanZant, who is now doing the backstop work for the Commercial team. A game seldom was played by the High School team but what these two players swapped off positions, both taking a hand at the twirling and catching.

Eddie Stallings was a trifle peeved over his batting average for the week-end but he has been wielding the willow to good advantage in recent contests and is certainly entitled to a vacation when every one else is clouting the pill.

Joe Harter is distinguishing himself with the willow in the Bound Brook series. Slocum has no terrors for him and he is rising rapidly in the wagon tongue league.

The Highlanders did not seem to have much effect on the attendance at the oval.

You cannot phase a baseball crowd no matter how many antiqué prizes you hang up on the other side of the board fence.

Most of the people on Parker Field were taking the ball game in with one eye and trying to be polite to the Highlanders with the other.

An eruption is about to take place in the Monroe Avenue camp and this may mean a disaster in the Sunday-school League race.

Stick it out Monroes. Don't quit with the league race so near over. The best is yet to come.

Have you ever seen that respected citizen who attends all the Bound Brook games at the oval? His nose looks like the crimson glow and he always wears a seegar in the side of his face. Some thought the aforesaid fan was gradually being cremated from the internal effects and one nosy fellow told him to wipe the ashes off. He pulled that seegar out and stabbed the offender in the eye.

Manager Dorflinger has no kick coming along that line but some of his players look as though they were afflicted with locomotor ataxia.

DELAYED PROTEST IS AWARDED TO SPICERS

Dates Set For Postponed Games at Manufacturers' League Meeting.

It was Manufacturers' League night at the Y. M. C. A. again, last night, and the affair was well attended by the governing board of the organization, President Kimball was in the chair and disposed of several important business matters that have been a matter of contention in the organization for some time. The much talked of protest of the Saurer baseball team in regard to the game played some weeks ago with the Spicer team, was decided in the latter's favor, and this matter has finally been disposed of. President Kimball made a thorough investigation into the cause of the argument and after presenting his views in the matter left it up to the governing board to render the decision. They could not see any grounds for a protest and the game was awarded unconditionally to the Spicer aggregation.

Although the official schedule of the league has been completed, there are still a number of postponed games to be played off and the league decided on dates for the first set of these last night. Next Saturday's games will be as follows: R. G. E. vs. Spicer, at Crescent Oval, and Commercials vs. Public Service, at the Clinton Avenue field. The Saurer and Bank team will not play their contest because of the Saurer outing, which is to be held on Staten Island on that date. The Banks manager is requested to notify E. C. Ostlin at the Y. M. C. A. as soon as possible, the earliest time they can get on the field Saturday and a contest may be arranged to work in as a double header with one of the other league teams.

All managers are requested to turn in their score books not later than Wednesday to the secretary of the league so that the year's records and batting averages can be made public before the league is forgotten. An all-star team will be selected as soon as all the score books are in to represent this league in the coming championship games with the Sunday-school Baseball League.

A number of comments have been made on the attitude taken by the R. G. E. team in regard to the coming all-star, post season series, and although the various other teams in the league regret that the R. G. E. material will not be available they are confident of victory over the Bible class organization.

ROYAL GIANTS LOSE A PITCHER'S DUAL

They Get But Three Hits Off the Brooklyn Edison's Box Man.

Manager Simmons and his team of Royal Colored Giants, of this city, were forced to accept a 6 to 1 defeat at the hands of the Brooklyn Edisons, yesterday afternoon, after a well-played and hard fought battle. The game turned out to be a pitchers duel between MacDonald and Hogan, with the odds slightly in the latter's favor. He allowed by three scattered hits and fanned nine of the men who faced him. The Royal Giants' twirler allowed but five hits, but was a little wild, handing out five free passes. The Edisons won the game in the fifth when they managed to push a quartet of tallies across the rubber and sewed up the game, for their twirler held the Royals well in hand from then on and the latter's lone tally came in the last stanza.

Besides his work in the box, Hogan did some good stick work, pounding out a circuit clout, which started the run harvest in the fifth.

CARLSTROM SIGNED BY BOSTON RED SOX

Elizabeth Boy With Lawrence Gobbled By Leaders of American League.

Major league magnates have claimed another one of Plainfield's former ball tossers and it now looks as though we would have another shining light around the shortstop position in the American league. The new acquisition is Albin Carlstrom, who played shortstop for the Plainfield baseball team during the existence of the Central New Jersey league. He was one of the cleanest fielders in the organization and a dangerous man at the bat. Besides playing with the local team, Carlstrom has performed for Bound Brook and for a number of the fastest semi-professional nines around Elizabeth which is his home town.

After several weeks of rangling, the Boston Red Sox yesterday signed Carlstrom to play shortstop for them. In signing the Elizabeth lad the Red Sox beat out the New York Americans and the Detroit club. Carlstrom will report to the Sox immediately after the close of the New England League.

Carlstrom will not be altogether strange with the Bostonians. He played two games with them last year, at the end of the New England season, and his work was praiseworthy. He covered the shortstop position in his usual good style, but he still was inexperienced and the Boston management sent him back to Lawrence.

For several weeks past there have been three teams baiting for the long shortstop. Carlstrom has seen two seasons in the New England league and his work this year has been of a high order. His hitting and fielding are 100 per cent. better than last year's work, and it is this sort of labor that has brought him into contract with the leaders of the American league.

Carlstrom's playing is peculiar, in that he seems to take everything as cool as a cucumber. At the shortstop position where they come thick and fast he takes 'em as though it made no difference—but he always cops them. At the bat he is about the same. He'll swing at a ball and if he misses he stands up waiting for the next one as though he never had a strike on him. But when he meets the sphere there is some speed behind it and it usually travels for a two baser.

EXTRA INNING GAME COPPED BY ROYALS

They Defeat a Consolidated Nine After a Hard Eleven Inning Struggle.

An eleven inning game of baseball was played on Parker Field, yesterday afternoon, when the Royal Colored Giants managed to nose a 9 to 8 victory out of the Plainfield Scrubs. The scrub organization was made up largely of Manufacturers' League players and put up a good game, both in the field and at the bat. Both twirlers were hit frequently and hard and the hits were generally turned into runs by the respective aggregations.

The leading sluggers of the contest were Maiden, Kline and Brown, who each got a long extra base wallop. Kiely was also there with the stick, getting two life-givers in four trips to the plate.

PLAYGROUND LEAGUE RACE GETTING HOT

Cubs Drop Another to the Athletics and Are Gradually Slipping.

Baseball is proving a popular diversion at Parker Field every afternoon now and the Junior league, which has been organized at the playground, has some good players among its number. In yesterday morning's contest the Cubs dropped another to the Athletics' team by the score of 8 to 6 and the former nine is gradually falling off in their league standing. For a time they occupied the top rung and it began to look as though they had the pennant cinched, but the Pirates and Athletics are looming up strong now, and it seems to be a race between these two. Several of last year's High School stars are playing with the nines at Parker Field and they add a great deal of strength to the combinations that are fortunate enough to secure them. Arthur Grisley, the last year's P. H. S. keystone guardian, played with the Athletics yesterday and his stickwork was probably the cause of the Cubs' defeat.

Dilts' pitching in the pinches was the feature of the game and time after time he pulled himself out of almost impossible situations when a hit would have sewed up the game for his opponents. The hitting laurels were divided among Grisley, who got a single and a triple, and Henderson, who pounded out two doubles.

FISHING NOTES.

Crabs are thick in Newark Bay and Staten Island Sound, as was evidenced by the thousands taken from the local waters yesterday. Not only did Elizabethans take advantage of the good season but many Newarkers and men residing in the upper part of Union county engaged in the sport.

The threatening weather did not keep those anxious to taste the shellfish from taking a chance, and the local boat owners had a hard job trying to supply people with boats so great was the demand.

Crabs galore at Sewaren is what everybody coming home from there says. One hundred in an afternoon is not considered a big catch.

Kingfish and fluke can be caught in the surf at the Highlands. There are several good spots between the hotel at the bridge and the rocks toward the point of Sandy Hook.

For genuine exercise and a lot of fun pack your fishing outfit and join the army of surf fishermen that can be found any day or night from Asbury Park to Point Pleasant. If you don't own a surf rod take a bank rod or heavy weakfish rod strong enough to throw a four-ounce lead and a half-size lead squid. Put on an old pair of trousers or overalls and wade in the water to the knees and then fish. It might take a few lessons or trials to cast seventy-five feet or more, but you will always find men willing to give a few points to the beginner. It is great fun now that the fish are so plentiful along the shore.

HIBERNIAN CONVENTION HELD AT PHILLIPSBURG

Phillipsburg, Aug. 20.—The forty-seventh bi-ennial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of New Jersey, opened in Phillipsburg yesterday morning with about 300 delegates from all parts of the State present. At 9:30 o'clock the delegates met in Parochial Hall and marched in a body to Sts. Philip and James' Catholic church, where the services were opened with a solemn high mass, at which Rev. P. J. Quinn was the celebrant; Rev. Maurice Spillane, deacon, and Rev. Hugh Massey, subdeacon.

Following the mass the delegates again marched to the hall, and the welcoming address was made by Mayor Joseph H. Firth. The response was made by Edward R. Hayes, of New Brunswick, State president of the order. Other addresses at the morning session were made by Monsignor P. F. Connelly and Fathers Quinn, Spillane and Massey.

At noon a dinner was served at the Shafer House, and the order went into executive session at 1:30 o'clock, with County President John R. Duffy, of Phillipsburg, presiding. This is the first time that the convention has been held in Phillipsburg.

A SQUARE DEAL TO EVERYONE

Robert Owen said, "A business transaction where both sides do not benefit is immoral."

The truth of this statement strikes me right,—not only must the one who sells an article make his profit, but the purchaser must make AS MUCH PROFIT.

And a business union where both sides do not benefit is not only immoral, BUT IT WON'T LAST LONG!

I started this business for the purpose of making money. Not only have I done this, but I have made loyal, life-long friends too.

I'll soon be in the midst of the fall season, and I want to say right here that your money will buy more at my store this season than ever before!

GENERAL BOOTH DYING.

Hope Is Abandoned For Life of Salvation Army Head.

Salvation Army heaquarters in New York announced that Miss Evangeline Booth, daughter of William Booth, had received several private cable messages saying that her father was sinking. The text of the messages was not given out, but word of the general's death was expected any time.

TAFT ASKS FURTHER ACT TO CANAL BILL

Wants It Understood Treaty Is Not Violated.

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Taft sent to congress a special message on the Panama bill. He urges the passage by congress of a joint resolution which will make it apparent before the world that the United States had no intention of violating the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

This resolution, in the president's opinion, should take the form of a declaration that the present legislation will not supersede any treaty rights conferred by the Hay-Pauncefote convention. The president would leave it to the United States supreme court to construe the treaty and determine whether or not the granting of free tolls to American ships in the coastwise trade constituted a violation of it.

The free tolls provision is the only objection that the president cites to the bill as it has been laid before him. The Democratic leaders of the house will refuse to support a resolution such as the president proposes, and his efforts along this line will ultimately fail. What the president will do when congress turns down his joint resolution has not been definitely settled.

T. R. GATHERING IN MORRISTOWN

Morristown, Aug. 20.—Letters have been mailed to a considerable number of voters in the county of known Progressive tendencies, calling them to a conference to be held in Morristown tomorrow afternoon. At that time a plan of county organization will be outlined and steps taken to make it effective.

The question of candidates for local offices will be discussed and some action probably taken. The call has been sent out under the name of the Morris County Progressive League, and is signed by its president, Stephen S. Day.

As in other counties, there is not unity of thought as to the nomination of a complete ticket. Some are enthusiastic to cast off all connection with the old parties, nominate a ticket clear through and fight to the end.

These persons see in the suggestion which has come from some quarters that the Republican Assembly candidates be indorsed only the furtherance of the ambition of Daniel S. Voorhees to be re-elected State treasurer. They also fear that the pledge made by the candidates to vote for the candidate for United States Senator having the highest number of Republican votes in the preferential primaries, with the refusal of Progressive to vote at the primaries, means that Senator Briggs might secure the Republican vote. These voters are opposed to his re-election to his present office.

On the other hand, there are many who desire to support Theodore Roosevelt for President, but feel that they can vote at the September primaries and have a selection of candidates for county offices to their liking. They say that the Assembly candidates are running on what is practically a Progressive platform, and, as they are new men, that they are eititled to the support of Progressives.

SOCIALISTS HAVE OUTING.

Elizabeth, Aug. 20.—Several hundred persons Sunday attended the outing of the Union County Socialist organizations to Bellewood Park. The trip was made by special trains over the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

FREAK CALF AT NEWTON.

Newton, Aug. 20.—James Smith, of Park place, is the owner of a freak calf, born on the farm of Howard Hamilton, several miles from town last week. The animal is normal, with the exception of the head. Instead of its nose being in the middle of its face, it has one nostril on each side of the face with the mouth in between. The calf's facial expression is not unlike that of a bulldog. Since birth the animal has been growing rapidly. It is fed with milk pumped through a large rubber tube. The mother of the calf is a five-year-old Holstein. The animal will be kept for exhibition purposes this fall.

COW DRAGS AGED WOMAN.

Califon, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman, seventy-three years old, wife of Noah Hoffman, was severely injured in a peculiar manner at her home, near town. Mrs. Hoffman was leading a cow with a rope, when the animal took fright and started to run. The rope became entangled around Mrs. Hoffman's body, and she was dragged a considerable distance over the hard ground before being extricated. She was considerably cut and bruised about the body. Dr. Isadore Topkins dressed the injury.

BERNARDS DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE FOR WILSON

Bernardsville, Aug. 20.—Democrats of Bernards Township, at a meeting in Casey's Hall, organized a Wilson and Marshall Club. Officers were elected and plans discussed for the coming campaign.

The officers are: President, Charles A. Moran; vice-presidents, George H. Gaston and William C. Blazure; treasurer, George D. Cross; secretary, John J. Foley; assistant secretary, Michael L. Balco. A large executive committee was chosen.

The club authorized the president to send a telegram to Governor Wilson notifying him of the forming of the club. Another meeting will be held next Friday night.

A Wilson and Marshall banner will be raised, and the club will arrange a number of meetings, at which it is proposed prominent speakers shall be heard. The majority of the officers and members of the executive committee are wealthy residents of this section.

Prices Wilt on Women's Bathing Suits

We've been selling Women's and Misses' Bathing Suits for less money than any other store we know of all thru the season, and now we are ready to make the final cut in prices to close the life out absolutely, so that there will not be a suit carried into next season.

We offer Women's and Misses' Bathing Suits, made of black and blue mohair and brilliantine, in pleasing variety of pretty models, variously trimmed—

Suits worth to $3.98 to go at $2 Suits worth to $7.50 to go at $3

Still Good Picking 'Mongst the GOOD SHOES at $1

Some might be lead to think that choice of styles and sizes would not be as good this week in these lots of shoes at $1 a pair; but the fact that we had so many thousands of pairs has kept the variety up and will keep it up to almost the last moment of the sale, so that those who bought before and want more of the shoes, and those who have not been here may come expecting to find an unusually large and varied line of styles and sizes, and the same extraordinary values as were secured by those who came the early days of the sale. We are anxious to close out every pair of these shoes this week—ought to do it, for when were such shoes as these sold at, a pair $1

All Our Parasols

NOW TO GO AT BELITTLED PRICES

This is the best opportunity of the season to buy parasols for little money, and you've lots of time ahead for using them; besides they will be good next season if properly cared for.

We have divided out entire stock into four lots, and they will be sold as follows:

In Lot 1 are Parasols of Plain Taffeta and some with flowered borders; they are the usual $2.50 kind, and will be sold tomorrow at $1.29

In Lot 2 are Parasols of Pongee with pretty flowered borders, black and white checked effects, flower insertion and plain colors, the values running to $2.75, special at $1.65

In Lot 3, Parasols in Black and White Striped Effects, and some with fancy borders and insertion; they are the sort we have sold at $3; take them now at $1.95

In Lot 4, Parasols in Fancy Striped Effects—beautiful borders and rich plain colors; they were originally $4.50 and $5; you may have them now for $3.25

Washable Dresses $2.98

Advertising Pulls—It Doesn't Jerk

That is if it is put together rightly and placed in the right mediums. Under such conditions it is certain to influence your business to the betterment of it if you will only have the courage to "keep at it."

How did John Wanamaker and our other commercial kings build up their vast enterprises? Simply by good business ability and—Advertising constantly—keeping at it. You wouldn't apply a liniment with a feather would you, you rub it in—just the same with advertising, except that you keep on rubbing it in and the harder and longer you do the rubbing the greater the returns.

We once read in a country paper the following: "If you have a prosperous business, advertise and keep it—if not advertise and get it. If you can't find the necessary time to devote to advertising your business properly phone us. We have an expert who will put up your "Copy" that will bring sure results.

WILSON TALKS AT GERMAN FESTIVAL

Says He Hasn't Made Promise of Any Kind.

REPLIES TO TAFT FOLLOWER

Tells Interrupter He Will Find He Is In Blind Alley—Declares Baltimore Convention Was Unbossed—Plenty of Ideas, but They Can't Be Carried Out.

Union Hill, N. J., Aug. 20.—Declaring that he was running for office without having made a promise and without having been asked to make a promise of any kind, Governor Wilson addressed 10,000 people of the Plattdeutsche Volksfest Verein. He said it was a great honor to address a multitude of people who were banded together in such splendid charity.

"One of the things I admire about associations of this kind," he continued, "is that they seem to bring out of the older countries a feeling of kinship which binds them together as nothing else can. I have sometimes protested against speaking of German-Americans, Italian-Americans and Irish-Americans because it seems to me we might as well drop the first part and think of ourselves as simple Americans."

The governor declared that America had been peculiarly enriched by the admixture of blood. The country today is the same as it was when it was first settled. The governor said that after the majority of people come to this country, no matter what his accent might be, his thoughts proclaim him a true American or otherwise.

Hard to Pass Laws.

"How can we guarantee you our thoughts, and after we have guaranteed our thoughts can we guarantee we are going to put them in practice? That is what the people of the United States are asking this very minute. They have had lots of ideas, of good American ideas, and they have found it mighty difficult to get them translated into acts of congress and acts of legislature. There is nothing the trouble with the ideas, but there is something that clogs and embarrasses the working out of the ideas, and we are asking ourselves this question now as we face the coming election in November. 'Which is the open road to get what we want?'"

Out in the crowd a man cried "Taft!" and immediately afterward a dozen voices shouted "Wilson!" and one man added, "That's all."

The governor turned to the first shouter with a smile. "Our friend over there is perfectly willing to use his road, but if he goes that way he will find that he is in a blind alley."

That brought a hurricane of approving shouts, after which the governor added: "There is one thing that was proved at Baltimore, and that is that the people of the United States choose their candidates and bosses do not," which brought another roar.

WILL MARK LINCOLN ROUTE.

Roads Traced Over Which Family Moved to Illinois In 1830.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 20.—A preliminary investigation of the route traveled by the Lincoln family in removing from Indiana to Illinois in 1830 has been finished by Charles M. Thompson of the University of Illinois, working under an act of the state legislature.

Mr. Thompson says the route led across the Wabash river at Vincennes, Ind.; then by the Vincennes-St. Louis stage to Lawrenceville, where it turned northward and led through Palestine, York and Darwin to Paris. From Paris the family drove to Charleston and Shelbyville and eventually landed in Decatur. An effort is being made by the state historical library trustees to have the route marked with suitable monuments.

NICARAGUA REVOLT SPREADS.

Managua Health Conditions Bad—A Thousand Dead In the Fields.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Revolution is spreading in Nicaragua, and health conditions about Managua, the capital, are distressing, according to state department reports from American Minister Weitzel.

No effort has been made to dispose of the dead from the bombardment of the city. The minister reports 1,000 bodies in the fields. Chinandega has been attacked by the rebels, and an assault upon Corinto, the principal seaport on the Pacific, is feared. Telegraphic communication between Managua and Corinto is interrupted.

COSTLY HOMES ON MOUNTAINTOP

Union County Investment Co. Plans Transformation of 200-Acre Tract.

RIVAL LLEWELYN PARK

Road From Mountain Avenue Up the Southern and Down the Northern Slope to Washington Valley—Freeholders Abandon Paper Roads

Extensive plans for the improvement of a 200 acre tract of land on the Watchung Mountains along Johnston's Drive, which is owned by the Union County Investment Company, is well under way. When the work is completed it will be one of the most attractive spots in this part of New Jersey, rivalling Llewelyn Park in the Oranges. The plans include the erection of a $60,000 residence by Louis K. Hyde, as well as the building of a number of other fine residences, and it is the intention to make the section exclusive. The site is an ideal one, owing to the natural rolling country and the exceptional view to be had from all points. Attractive walks, driveways, gardens, etc., are all a part of the proposed development.

There was only one thing that stood in the way of these improvements and that was the number of proposed streets and avenues staked out on one end of the tract, but which were never opened up. When the Mountain Park Land Company owned what was known as Mountain Park Inn, now the Groszmann School, the company staked out and named these streets. That was fifteen years or more ago.

In the meantime the Union County Investment Company took over the property under foreclosure and then steps were taken to have these proposed streets taken off the map so that they would not interfere with the plans for the park. An application was made to the Somerset County Board of Freeholders for the appointment of commissioners for the purpose of having these streets and avenues set aside. The commissioners were appointed and they met recently at Probst's hotel, in the "Notch." At that time a hearing was granted to all the interested parties.

No objections were offered to the request of the Union County Investment Company, and upon the recommendation of the commission the freeholders caused the proposed streets to be taken off the map so that there will be no trouble in the future in this respect.

In view of the improvements to be made the City Union of the King's Daughters will be obliged to find another location for the baby camp, which is now situated on Johnston's Drive within the tract owned by the Union County Investment Company. That site will be used for one of the handsome residences and right in that vicinity a road will be built extending over the mountain, leading from Mountain avenue to the main road in the vicinity of Elsinore Castle, the home of Dr. Richard Moldenke. This road will follow a path which has been used for years as a "short cut" over the mountains.

The King's Daughters have been notified of the changes to be made and early next month the officers will hold a meeting to discuss plans for removing the baby camp. However, this summer's plans will not be interferred with, as the camp will be closed before its removal will be made necessary.

This camp was established in 1896 and has been supported by all the local circles of the King's Daughters. There is no doubt but that some equally favored spot on the mountains can be found to continue the camp work. A couple of years ago Fred H. Martin sold his bungalow on Johnston's Drive to Mr. Hyde. This building which is on the 200 acre tract is to be removed to make room for a handsome residence.

All the plans for the improvements are far enough advanced now to insure their ultimate completion, but no hint of what was intended was made public until the owners of the tract obtained free and unrestricted rights. The property is now controlled in such a way that it will always be exclusive and only residences costing a certain figure or over will be built on it.

DUNELLEN COUNCIL HEARS R. R. DETECTIVE

One of Accused C. R. R. Police Defends Action of Himself and Fellows.

Detectives Gray and Lavarett, of the New Jersey Central police department, appeared before the Dunellen Council, at an adjourned meeting, last night, requesting that they be given an opportunity to explain their actions in connection with recent arrests made in the borough. In granting the detectives the privilege of the floor, Mayor Richards gave the men to understand that they were not to be personal in their remarks.

Detective Gray acted as the spokesman, and his speech, which lasted for more than an hour, was devoted to criticism of the Mayor and Council, police officials, Recorder Campbell and the newspapers. At the outset Gray stated that all he asked was fair play, claiming that the railroad was entitled to as much protection from coal thieves as any merchant in the borough. He declared that the company was always willing to co-operate with the borough authorities in making arrests, but the trouble had been that when arrests were made in Dunellen, no one in authority could be found.

The detective bitterly criticized the treatment received, especially from the newspapers, and said that in his twenty-seven years' experience he had never been so badly called, in fact, citizens who were formerly friends, hardly spoke to him. He then criticized the Mayor, Council, recorder, police and newspapers.

"If Dunellen had a chief of police," continued the detective, "the New Jersey Central would be only too glad to give him a free pass." This remark called forth a rejoinder from a person in the crowd, who said, "The company would have to do that anyway."

Recorder Campbell, when interviewed later, said that he was always willing to hear complaints from citizens, and to his knowledge the detectives had never asked him to grant a hearing nor asked for the co-operation of an officer in making arrests or serving a warrant. Mr. Campbell was greatly incensed over the remark of Detective Gray, that the reason the prisoners were taken to New Brunswick instead of being arraigned before him that it saved the borough 25 cents for each person arraigned.

The citizens of Dunellen are thoroughly aroused over the actions of the detectives and are hoping that the Council will take steps to put a stop to such behavior. They, of course, want improvements from the railroad, but not at the expense of making wholesale arrests of the citizens on peculiar charges. They insist that police business be transacted in a legal manner. It is claimed that Dunellen has granted the railroad many concessions and if any more are given improvements will be demanded in return.

Fully 50 per cent. of the large crowd present at last night's meeting is said to have been railroad employes. The Council made no comment on the hearing.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DEPARTMENT WILL HIKE TO MOUNTAINS

Henry Wells and E. C. Ostlin, of the Y. M. C. A., will take the boys of the association on a cross-country hike tomorrow morning. All members of the boys' department who want to make the trip are requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. building at 8 o'clock when the trip will start.

Each fellow will bring a lunch, in which a supply of frankfurters and rolls must be included. The hikers will go to a point in the mountains where a camp fire will be built and the "hot dogs" roasted on it. The return trip will be made early in the afternoon in order to reach the building in time for the regular afternoon plunge in the tank.

AUTO HITS WAGON.

Miss Emmons, of Craig place, North Plainfield, while driving her auto on Front street, near Park avenue last night, bumped into the rear of a wagon driven by Richard Baldwin, of Jackson avenue, and smashed one of the wheels on the rig. Jackson failed to signal for the benefit of the machine behind, when he slowed up. No one was hurt.

TRAINING DAILY FOR HIS ALTITUDE FLIGHT

Beachey Striving to Increase His Chances of Beating Record Mark.

When Lincoln Beachey and Beckwith Havens, two of this country's most experienced and ready flyers, appear at Plainfield Driving Park next Friday and Saturday afternoon, the people of this territory will be given a fine opportunity to judge the progress in man-flight during the past year, both from the military and spectacular standpoints. Havens is fresh from the big military maneuvres in Connecticut, where, as a member of the New York State Guard attached to Governor Dix's staff, he gave a wonderful demonstration of the use of the aeroplane in warfare, while Beachey is the acknowledged leader among the world's aviators as a daring and spectacular performer. It is a part of his daily business to startle the spectators with feats that would seem to cheat the law of gravity itself and to thrill them with admiration for his skill.

Both Beachey and Havens have proved time and again that an aeroplane, in the hands of a competent operator, is as safe to fly in a wind as in a calm. Neither has ever disappointed a crowd because of wind. In fact they take a certain satisfaction in flying in a gale to prove their skill.

Havens is the foremost operator of the hydoaeroplane in this country, and recently flew from Bridgeport, Conn., across the Sound to New York, carrying a passenger. Beachey is in daily training to beat the present world's altitude record for aeroplanes, which stands at 14,501 and is held by an Austrian. The little American champion expects to set a new mark within the next month and at Plainfield will ascend to ten thousand feet or more on both days, descending with the motor shut off. Recently at Hammondsport, N. Y., Beachey dropped 6,000 feet in 28 seconds, and he claims this is the fastest traveling ever done by man

F. ELTON GILES WEDS TOTTENVILLE, S. I., GIRL

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Margaret Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Skidmore, of Tottenville, S. I., and F. Elton Giles, son of Arthur S. Giles, of this city. The ceremony was perfomed Sunday night at 7:45 o'clock by Dr. H. K. Carroll at his home on Westervelt avenue, North Plainfield.

The couple was attended by Miss Romie Giles, of Grove street, and Edward Clarkson, of this city. After the ceremony the wedding party had supper. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Giles are stopping at the Hotel Kensington. Next month they will reside on Verdon street, North Plainfield.

Both the bride and bridegroom have a large circles of acquaintances in this city, Mrs. Giles having visited here many times. Mr. Giles holds a position with the United Cigar Store Co. on East Front street. Since the announcement of the marriage the couple have been receiving congratulations from their friends.

ORPHANS' COURT ORDERS $28,000 ESTATE SETTLED UP

Elizabeth, Aug. 21 (Special).—The settlement of the estate of the late Charles F. Aaron, who died at his home on West Eighth street, Plainfield, two years ago, was ordered by the Orphans' Court at Elizabeth this morning when the Plainfield Trust Company, as administrator, was directed to settle the estate according to the will. The estate amounts to about $5,000 of personal securities and $25,000 invested in real estate in Brooklyn. The court ordered a decree accepting the accounts of the Plainfield Trust Company as administrator and authorizing the company to pay the widow, Mrs. Nellie M. Aaron, now of Rochester, N. Y., one-third of the personal estate and two-thirds of the estate to the guardian of the three minor heirs. Mrs. Aaron was appointed guardian.

In all of the proceedings in New York and New Jersey William A. Coddington, of Park avenue, has been counsel and attorney for the Plainfield Trust Company and the estate.

HETFIELD WILL REMAIN IN RACE

One of the Democratic Candidates Who Haven't Been Weeded Out.

WINNOWING A FIZZLE

County Committee Meets Behind Closed Doors and Refuses to Tell About It Afterwards—Little Hope of Killing Off Aspirants.

The conference between the Union County Democratic Committee and candidates for county offices held at Elizabeth, last night, was behind closed doors and after the meeting adjourned, which was about midnight, the conferees declined to give any information as to what was done. It was said, however, that the conference was a hormonious one. Among the Plainfielders present were Andrew E. Kenney, LeRoy J. Ellis, James J. McCanh, Frank J. Shattle, Robert C. Woodhouse, Judge Walter L. Hetfield and Thomas Hughes.

It was announced that Judge Walter L. Hetfield would seek the nomination for surrogate, his petition having been filed. This means that there will be four candidates for that office, two from Elizabeth, one from Summit and Judge Hetfield from this city; five candidates for the Assembly, three from Elizabeth, one from this section and one from Rahway, and many candidates for freeholder from all parts of the county.

Among those mentioned for the Assembly are Hugh J. McLoughlin and William A. Leonard, of Elizabeth, and Ten Eyck R. Beardsley, of Fanwood. Those talked of for freeholder are Thomas J. Pierson, J. Logan Fay, Dennis F. Hennessy and William A. Bourdon, of Elizabeth; James J. McCann, of Plainfield; William Swain, of Summit, and A. R. Johnson, of Roselle.

It was reported that the efforts of the committee to eliminate some of the candidates met with little success and that the party again faces the prospect of having a majority of the nominees from Elizabeth. Some of the aspirants expressed a willingness to withdraw, it is said, but in most cases they are considered the strongest men and the committee is unwilling to have them get out of the race.

Thomas J. Hughes, of 348 East Second street, it was learned had filed his petition for the nomination for freeholder and that he had secured a large number of signers.

READY TO LAY CORNERSTONE OF ELKS $60,000 CLUBHOUSE

Arrangements are being made for the laying of the cornerstone of the Elks' new clubhouse on Watchung avenue, on Saturday afternoon, August 31. There will be no elaborate ceremonies, the officers and committee in charge planning to reserve such a celebration until the building is completed and ready for occupancy. All the members and friends will be invited to witness the laying of the cornerstone, and there will probably be two or three short addresses by the officers.

The work on the building is progressing rapidly. The foundations and the iron work for the first floor are up and from now on the work will be pushed as fast as possible. Albert Pangborn, of Chatham street, the borough, has the general contract, while Arthur E. Smith has the iron work.

OLD RESIDENT DIES, PARALYSIS VICTIM

Thomas C. Aldrich Was, Until Recent Retirement, Prominent In Leather Trade.

Thomas C. Aldrich, aged 74 years, a resident of Plainfield, with the exception of a short interval, for nearly forty-six years, died this morning at his home, 69 Grove street, following several strokes of paralysis. His last illness was of about three weeks' duration, he being detained to his room during that time. He was obliged to retire from business more than a year ago and since then had lived in retirement.

Mr. Aldrich was born in Fall River, Mass., September 10, 1838, where he spent his boyhood days. He removed to Plainfield in 1866. At that time he held a position with Hoyt Brothers, of New York, who were then the leading tanners in this part of the country. It was this firm that was instrumental in organizing the United States Leather Company, and Mr. Aldrich was the first employe to go from the old concern to the United States Leather Company, and for twenty years he held a position of responsibility in the auditing department of that company. His services were considered almost invaluable because of his extensive knowledge of the business.

Mr. Aldrich was a man of exceptional Christian character. He was a member of the First Baptist church for many years, serving as a deacon, and at the time of his death was deacon-emeritus. During the time he lived in New York City he was a member of Calvary Baptist church, of which Rev. Dr. Robert S. MacArthur was pastor, serving there as a deacon and also treasurer of the church and Sunday-school. His wise counsel was always sought in church affairs both in New York and in the First Baptist church. He is survived by a wife, one son, Thomas B. Aldrich, of Pelham Manor, N. Y., and one brother, George I. Aldrich, of Brookline, Mass.

The funeral service will be held at the late home tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. Frank Fletcher officiating. The burial will be at Manchester, N. H.

OAK TREE CARNIVAL IS GREAT SUCCESS

Reformed Church Grounds Thronged With Merry-Makers.

The carnival held at Marconnier Reformed church, Oak Tree, yesterday afternoon and evening, was a success. The affair will be continued this afternoon and evening. The grounds were one blaze of electric lights last night and many automobile parties stopped and patronized the entertainment.

Attractive booths were scattered about the grounds where useful and fancy articles are offered for sale. There were games for old and young and many other attractions, including the moving pictures given in the church by Walter Palmer, the artist. He was assisted by his daughter, Miss Florence Palmer, who sang the illustrated songs. There will be a change of program this afternoon and tonight.

Among the things that will go to some lucky person is a live pig, and the conditions are that it must be carried home by the one getting it, whether a man or women. There is a large refreshment booth, where everything that one could desire is to be had for a nominal sum. A conveyance will meet the trolley car on Park avenue tonight at 8 and 8:15 o'clock, and those taking these cars from the Watchung avenue terminus at 7:45 and 8 o'clock will be carried free from the trolley to the church, and later in the evening will be brought back to the trolley.

DAVID J. WOLFE RETURNS.

David J. Wolfe, of 428 West Front street, has returned from Valpariso, Ind., where he was graduated from Valpariso University with the degree of bachelor of science. During his college career Mr. Wolfe was prominent in class affairs and his fraternity. He leaves the latter part of September for Tampa, Florida, to take a position as instructor in manual training in the High School of that city.

AUTO VICTIM BURIED.

The funeral services of Mrs. Andrew Hazlin, of Lincoln, who was killed in the auto crash Sunday evening, were held at her home at 8 o'clock this morning and at St. John's church, Dunellen, at 9 o'clock. Father Dunphy was celebrant. The services were largely attended and there were many large and beautiful floral tributes. Interment was made at St. Mary's cemetery, in this city.

PROTECTS MOTHER FROM STEPFATHER

City Judge Commends the Son and Soundly Rates Ugly-Tempered Husband.

Family difficulties in the home of Rudolph Kistner, of 1629 West Front street occupied the attention of Judge DeMeza for over an hour this morning at the police court. Mrs. Kistner had her husband arrested for disorderly conduct at their home last Saturday, and after both sides had produced their witnesses, Judge DeMeza read Kistner a lecture which he is not loable to forget, and found him guilty as charged, imposing a fine of $20 or forty days in jail. The Judge then suspended sentence, advising Kistner to go home, treat his wife properly, and contribute toward her support.

Acording to the testimony Kistner on Saturday last took a club and threatened to brain his wife and his step-son, John Retmier, who lives with them. He had been out of work for some time, and in order to support herself, Mrs. Kistner has taken in boarders, these including a step-son and Kistner's two daughters by a former wife. On Saturday noon an argument was started in which Kistner called his wife names that would not look well in print, and threatened her, and the son rushed to his mother's defense. The older man got a club and went back at the son, shoving the mother out of the way while doing so, and she fainted as a result of the excitement. The son thought she was hurt and went for an iron bar which was in the back yeard, but others in the house calmed him down before the two men came to blows. Several witnesses were produced, and all testified as to the main facts in the case, the only difference being as to what language Kistner used to his wife. When Mrs. Kistner left the stand after telling her story she fainted.

In passing sentence, Judge DeMeza advised Kistner to try to live happily, and if he could not do that and try to make his wife, who is not in good health, comfortable, he should separate from her, and provide for her maintainence. He commended the son for going to his mother's defense, and said that he would have done the same thing. Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., represented Mrs. Kistner, and J. Henry Crane was counsel for Kistner.

Arthur Jackson, another one of the troupe of crap shooters which the police rounded up some time ago, most of whom appeared in court yesterday, showed up this morning and was fined one dollar, it being his first offense. The Judge told him that he intended to stop crap shooting in the city, if there was a way to do it.

METUCHEN ANXIOUS AS TO ITS WATER SUPPLY

Metuchen, Aug. 21—Aroused by reports concerning the condition of the city water supply, Mayor Samuel H. Clarke and Herman Gross and C. P. Hull, of the Board of Health, yesterday conducted an investigation.

Several times the local health board has had trouble with the water company over the using of foul pond water and well water combined and the State Board of Health once found it necessary to take a hand. The Water Company was said to have an arrangement for using the pond water only on days when the demand for factories at Carteret was great.

One thing that stirred the authorities to action was a report by Rev. M. I. M. Bogert to the effect that he has seen boys swimming in a pond from which the Middlesex Water Company frequently draws water to mix with the artesian well water that is pumped to South Plainfield, Metuchen, Woodbridge, Fords, Sewaren, Port Reading, Carteret and Chrome.

NEW TURTLE RECORD.

Elmer Teeple no longer holds the record of having captured the largest turtle in South Plainfield. Mr. Teeple's record turtle weighed twenty-six pounds. George Sandher, while on his way home from work, last night, found a turtle which weighed thirty-seven pounds, beating Mr. Teeple's by eleven pounds. The turtle is now on exhibition in H. W. Phillips' grocery store in South Plainfield.

CAMP RAM'S HORN.

Harvey Morrison, Herbert Gray, William Giles, Walter Hamilton, Howard Maag and "Jack" Duckworth, all of this city, have returned home after a pleasant stay at Camp Ram's Horn, Lake Hopatcong. All but the last two named were guests for two weeks. Plainfielders at the Camp this week include Robin S. Hamilton, of Verdon street, and William Hoffman, of West Front street.

TART SEQUEL TO CLASH IN COURT

Smalley and Hermann Have a Personal Encounter After a Chancery Hearing.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

Temporary Rule Obtained by Hermann Against Crusher Discontinued—Lie Passed and Livelier Things Threatened.

The temporary injunction against former Mayor N. B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, obtained by John Hermann, of Somerset street, was dissolved by the Court of Chancery at Trenton yesterday afternoon. Hermann claimed that stones flying from Smalley's stone crusher were destructive to his property and a menace to the lives of his family. Mr. Smalley contended that Hermann could not prove that the stones did not come from other blasts and stone crushers in that vicinity. On this contention the court dissolved the temporary injunction and refused a plea of Counselor S. S. Swackhamer for an apportunity to present a new affidavit for Hermann. William A. Coddington was counsel for Smalley.

Hermann claims he can prove the stones do not come from any other quarry other than that of Smalley's and that he will present this proof at the final hearing to be held in November.

Hermann alleged that stones weighing from 2 to 73 pounds had been hurled on his property by blasts and the stone crusher. He claims one of these stones tore a large hole in his roof, another shattered a log nine inches in diameter into splinters and another, 37 pounds in weight, ripped down a tree in its fall.

Mr. Smalley says that his neighbor exaggerated the conditions. He said today:

"Only a few years ago I was compelled to purchase some land from Hermann because he threatened to build a mill adjoining a tract of residential land I owned. I have offered to buy Hermann's property adjoining my crusher but he asks $7,000 for the property which is assessed at $2,600. I have had the land appraised by several neutral men and $4,500 is the highest estimate I received. I will not pay him such an exorbitant price as $7,000."

When Mr. Hermann was asked about this, he replied:

"Several years ago Smalley and I had some kind of a three handed proposition for the purchase of my land but the deal fell through. I don't want to sell my land now. Mr. Smalley has not offered to purchase my land and I wouldn't sell it to him. I have made it my home and as I have water power for my wood turning and stair building mill I don't care to sell."

The trouble between the two led to a physical clash at Trenton Junction yesterday afternoon when the parties to the action were returning from Trenton. During a conversation Hermann said that the reports circulated by Smalley to the effect that he (Hermann) was lying were untrue. Hermann said that Smalley was not truthful in court and he could prove it. With this remark Hermann brought his hand down on his neighbor's shoulder. Smalley's retort was vigorous and in kind, and things were looking decidedly interesting when a bystander intervened. Hermann said today that he merely tapped the former Mayor on the shoulder in a friendly way without any intention of hurting him. Mr. Smalley's comment was:

"No man can call me a liar."

CONSIDERING LOCATION OF NEW P. O. SUBSTATION

Postmaster E. H. Bird has as yet reached no decision regarding the sub-postal station which has been given up at James C. Field, Jr.s' stationery store on Park avenue, beause of an assignment by the latter. It rests with Mr. Bird where this station shall be located and he has already received several applications. The Government was paying Mr. Field $100 a year for taking charge of the station, the original salary being $50.

The stand on Park avenue was considered one of the best in the city, that station doing more business than the other two put together. It is likely that the station will be located somewhere in the same neighborhood.

ASBURY PARK EXCURSION.

About one hundred and fifty Plainfielders left on the Central Railroad excursion to Asbury Park, this morning. A train of seven cars was required to transport the excursionists and the cars were pretty well filled up when they reached here. Stops were made en route to the shore and the excursionists arrived in time to take in the baby parade. Uncertain weather conditions may make the postponement of gala events, carded for today, necessary, and if they are called off it will prove a big disappointment to the large number of excursionists.

Here is one case of it:

C. L. Treat, painter and paperhanger, 411 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I suffered for a long time from kidney trouble and for years could not find anything that would give me relief. My back ached constantly and there was pain across my kidneys. My kidneys were in bad shape and I became all run down, in fact, was almost a physical wreck. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply and they made a different man out of me. I got this remedy at Randolph's Drug Store and my experience was so satisfactory that I cannot make my endorsement of it too strong. I simply would not be without a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand."

100 HURT AS GRAND STAND COLLAPSES

Marshall Notification Is Marred by Accident.

Indianapolis, Aug. 21.—In the midst of the rejoicing and enthusiasm at the formal notification of Governor Thomas R. Marshall of his nomination for vice president by the Democratic national convention, a gayly decorated stand collapsed, carrying down most of the members of the notification committee, many prominent Indiana party leaders and scores of women.

More than 500 persons went down and more than 100 were injured. Many are in a serious condition, and three or four may not recover. The fact that the timbers were too light to bear the burden of the 500 people caused the accident.

Alton B. Parker was about halfway through his notification speech when he was stopped by a grinding noise that caught the attention of the big crowd that was facing the stands. Judge Parker, Governor Marshall, former Vice President Fairbanks, Samuel Ralston, Democratic candidate for governor; Colonel W. T. Durbin, Republican candidate for governor, and many other well known men occupying the speakers' stand turned in time to see the bleachers sway first to the right and then back to the left like a pendulum.

Cries went up from the men and women in the bleachers, but escape was impossible.

HASBROUCK FOR JUSTICE.

Named By Republicans of Third Judicial District.

Albany, Aug. 21.—G. D. B. Hasbrouck of Kingston was named by the Republican committee of the Third judicial district as the party's candidate for supreme court justice to be voted for at the coming primary.

Mr. Hasbrouck will be a candidate for the supreme court bench to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Justice James A. Betts of Kingston. Mr. Hasbrouck was appointed supreme court justice when Benjamin B. Odell was governor to fill a vacancy which a year later was filled by election, at which time Mr. Hasbrouck was not the regular Republican nominee.

TO BREAK BUFFALO STRIKE.

Freight Houses Put 500 New York and Boston Men to Work.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 21.—More than 500 strike breakers from New York and Boston were put to work in water front freight houses under the protection of the police. Although there were threats and mutterings from the crowd of more than 2,000 striking freight handlers the police kept the strikers on the move and prevented a clash. The contractors say that the backbone of the strike has been broken with the coming of the strike breakers.

There are many lake steamers in port awaiting unloading.

ZELIG FURNISHED CREW OF GUN MEN

Says He Was Fearful of Becker's Wrath.

DREADED TERM IN PRISON

Detectives "Framed" Him by Placing Revolver In His Pocket—Becker Promised to Free Him if He Got Men to Kill Rosenthal.

New York, Aug. 21.—Lieutenant Charles Becker, Jack Sullivan, William Shapiro, Louis Rosenberg, Frank Muller, Frank Cirofici and Harry Horowitz were indicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. Rosenberg and Horowitz are still at large.

The indictments were filed after the grand jury had received from Sam Schepps perfect corroboration of Jack Rose's confession accusing Becker and after hearing "Big Jack" Zelig, the gang leader, testify that he furnished the crew of murderers to please Becker and to keep Becker from sending him to Sing Sing for fourteen years on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. The indictments would have been returned even if Schepps and Zelig had not appeared. Their testimony clinched the cases.

The appearance of Zelig was unexpected. On Monday Zelig was arrested in Providence as a "suspicious person." The arrest was made against the wishes of District Attorney Whitman. The district attorney had made an agreement with former Magistrate Wahle, Zelig's lawyer, which required the presence of Zelig whenever the district attorney wanted him. That arrangement was known to George S. Dougherty, second deputy commissioner of police. On several occasions Dougherty asked Mr. Whitman if he wanted Zelig to be arrested. The district attorney said no, that he could have Zelig whenever he needed him. Nevertheless, acting under instructions from the police department here, the Providence police arrested Zelig Monday and held him under $2,000 bail, an unusually large amount for the kind of case.

Police Are Accused.

As soon as this news got to the district attorney's office Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss, Mr. Whitman's aid in the murder prosecution, made the charge that the police had once more attempted to interfere with the work of the district attorney and that they had attempted to interpose new obstacles. The district attorney himself characterized the proceedings as stupid or worse.

At any rate, no attempt was made to prevent Zelig's appearance here before the grand jury. His counsel saw to it that bail was furnished. Zelig went at once to the district attorney's office and had a long talk with the district attorney. He outlined what he would tell the jury. His story dovetails exactly with the stories of Rose, Webber, Vallon and Schepps, and is further corroborated by five witnesses who have no connection whatever with the murder case.

Zelig's story is that after he fought with the Tricker and Cirrocco men in Chinatown he was arrested in Siegel's cafe at 76 Second avenue on May 12 by Detectives White and Steinert of Lieutenant Becker's staff. They charged him with carrying a concealed weapon. They produced in the Fifth street station house a loaded revolver which they said they had found in Zelig's pocket, and later they swore in court that Zelig had been carrying the weapon.

Heard Becker Was to Job Him.

The gang leader had been warned some time previous to his arrest that Becker intended to put up a job on him. Rose and Webber knew that Becker needed Zelig. They said that he would stop at nothing in making Zelig his creature. They were friends of Zelig and naturally they saw to it that Zelig had an inkling of what was to come. Zelig was prepared. He saw to it that he was surrounded by friends wherever he was. On May 12 Zelig was in the Siegel cafe with George A. Greenberg, Louis Gold, Joseph Siegel, the proprietor, and Robert Mendelock. Detectives White and Steinert of Becker's staff entered the place and walked toward the table. Zelig knew what to expect, he says. He promptly arose, threw his coat back, turned his pockets inside out and laughed at the detectives. Zelig said to his friends:

"I want you people to watch now. I have no gun on me, but these fellows will try to plant one. Now, all of you look. You see I have no gun."

White and Steinert arrested him, took him to the station house and had him locked up for carrying a pistol. In court they made the necessary statements. Zelig was held for trial on $10,000 bail. His position was very serious. It was the second time he had been charged with pistol carrying and a conviction meant a term of fourteen years. He knew, he says, that Becker had gripped him.

Walks Off Train In Sleep.

Tipton, Ga., Aug. 21.—Fast asleep Paul Inman, twelve years old, of Tyty Ga., walked from a swiftly moving Atlantic Coast line train. The shock of the fall failed to awaken the lad and he did not know of the perils he had survived until he was roused by a party of searchers near Willacoochee. Young Inman bore no bruises.

TOO SOON TO JUDGE.

Trenton was the first city in New Jersey to adopt the commission form of government, and it has been under the rule of five commissioners for about one year. The change was brought about because of the continued manipulation of the city machinery by the Republican machine there, and was considered a repudiation of that party's organization. Last Sunday a newspaper in that city printed a statement, which, through the manipulation of figures, showed that under the commission form the city expenses had increased $100,000 over the expense under the old government by mayor and council. The story, as published, was hailed by those who had opposed the commission form of government, as proof that the change should never have been made, and as justification of the attitude of opposition which they adopted when the people voted for the change.

Mayor Donnelly, who was one of the fighters for the change and then ran for and was elected to the governing body, has issued a statement in which he attacks the figures which allege to show the cost of running the city, and his denial rings true. He claims that the statement was prepared by a deposed former official, who deliberately distorted known facts; that $28,000 has been saved in salaries alone; that for six months the commission was required to work under extravagant contracts let by the old council, as well as the budget prepared by that body, and that on street work alone the commission had saved about $25,000 on contract work.

The commission form of government has been most successful in the cities in the west where it has been given a thorough trial. The result of one year's work under such rule cannot be taken to decide whether it is successful or not. We believe that the city of Trenton will benefit materially under the commission, and that as soon as the commissioners get things running in the business-like way they are striving for, with none of the disadvantages willed to them by the old form of government still hanging over them, it will be the best governed city in the State.

Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, has long been accused of being a machine politician with corporation interests, but few people thought that the actual "goods" would ever be found on him. Now that it has been shown that he received $25,000 from the Standard Oil Company in 1904, he makes the excuse that it was a campaign contribution, and in an effort to protect himself, he says that it was used to help Colonel Roosevelt. The Colonel is yet to be heard from, if he thinks Penrose's statement is worth paying any attention to, but even if it is proven that Roosevelt had anything to do with the matter, it does not help the Penrose case. It is probable that the Colonel knew nothing about the affair, even if the money was used to help in his election. Penrose knew when he accepted the money that favors would be asked of him later, and as a United States Senator he has not shown that he has any marked enmity to the corporations, Standard Oil or any other. His position is about as bad as that of his henchman, Judge Archbold.

President Taft's supporters have decided to call a series of meetings for the purpose of reading out of the various State Republican organizations all members of the Progressive party. If they started reading out all who intend to vote the Progressive ticket who are not in the party organization, they will not have many left to vote the Republican ticket.

Plainfield will be very much on the map next Friday and Saturday, so far as aviation news is concerned. The two men who will give exhibition flights have more than passing prominence in the flying world, and if no mishap befalls them the show should make a splendid summer attraction for those who have remained at home.

It seems to be quite the proper caper now for all of the old machine bosses to say, when it becomes public that they received corporation money, that it was given to them to help bring about Colonel Roosevelt's election in 1904. Nothing like having some one handy to put the blame on. If in doubt, ask Odell and Penrose, for instance.

We are forced to think, after reading exchanges supporting the Republican, Democratic and Progressive tickets that the three Presidential candidates are the finest citizens that can possibly be presented for the job, and also that the same three men are the worst scoundrels that ever sought public office.

Governor Marshall having been notified that he is the Democratic vice presidential candidate there is only one political secret still under cover. Perhaps that is so unimportant that it will not be bothered with. We refer to the notification of "Sunny Jim" Sherman that he is again to run as the tail to the Taft kite.

Not many of us can save $85,000 in one year on a salary of $2,250, and yet that is what it looks as if Lieut. Becker, of the New York police force, did.

Evidently city business takes second consideration during the hot weather when only three councilmen appear for a meeting of that body.

SENATORIAL PETITIONS.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 21 (Special).—The lack of definiteness in the election law with reference to the time for the filing with the secretary of State of petitions nominating candidates for United States Senator, is cleared up in an opinion rendered today by Assistant Attorney Gaskill to Secretary of State Crater. Mr. Gaskill says they should be filed at least twenty-one days before the primary election. As this election this year comes on Tuesday, September 24, the last day for filing petitions for United States Senator will be Tuesday, September 3.

COPIOUS RAINS GIVE BIGGER MILK SUPPLY

Newton, Aug. 21.—The breaking of the drought by copious rains and showers and the revival of the pastures has brought up the milk supply going to New York and nearby cities. But the supply is still below the market receipts for July, 1911.

The Milk Reporter, published at Sussex Borough, by John J. Stanton, and considered an authority on the milk situation, under the head "The Situation," will have this to say today:

"Market receipts for July, 1,577,102 cans of milk and 113,376 of cream and unsweetened condensed milk, the whole equal to 2,143,982 cans of plain milks, a daily average of 69,159 cans.

"Compared with receipts in July, 1911, this is a loss of 11,326 cans of milk and 4,378 of cream, the whole equal to 33,216 cans of plain milk, a daily average in loss of 1,072.

"The decreased receipts were not the result of a lessened demand, but because of light production due to the rapidly decreasing number of milch cows in commission.

"Statistics show that on August 1, 1912, there were 294,000 less milch cows in the State of New York than at the same date in 1909. This number would yield 58,800 cans of milk daily. Total market receipts of milk and cream in July, as shown above, were equal to 69,159 cans.

"Market price from July 1 to 15, 3, and from July 16 to 31, 3½, an average of 3.258 cents a quart. No change since the price was advanced to 3½ cents a quart, $1.40 per can."

WOMAN AUTOIST MISTOOK CENSOR FOR "MOTOR FLIRT"

Somerville, Aug. 21.—Mistaking a motorcycle patrolman for a highway flirt, Miss Edna Wade put on speed Sunday and was promptly arrested for breaking the law restricting automobiles to twelve miles an hour. She was fined $10.75 by Borough Recorder Sutphen, in spite of the story she related in extenuation of her act. Her arrest is the subject of much indignant comment among drivers of motor vehicles and others.

Edward Kenner, newly appointed motor patrolman, made the arrest. He went on duty for the first time Saturday. Miss Wade, who owns a country home north of the borough, is known as a careful driver, and possesses several cars. When put on trial she explained to the court that she had no thought of flouting the speed law, but that when a young man on a motorcycle rode up beside her and kept pace some distance she thought he was trying to strike up an acquaintance. She said he alternately looked up at her and smiled and looked down, presumably, as the events showed, at his speedometer. She declared there was nothing on his clothing to indicate to her that he was the speed censor.

Aiming to show the man that his attentions were not welcome, Miss Wade said she put on speed, at which he closed in and declared her his prisoner. She did not deny breaking the limit, but declared with emphasis that her suspicion of the man was her sole motive. The court inflicted the fine, however, and she paid it under protest.

NEW SOMERSET WATER COMPANY GETS FRANCHISE

A new water company which is to furnish water in Peapack and Gladstone was granted a franchise for twenty-five years for $100 at a special meeting of the Board of Freeholders of Somerset county held in H. C. Blatz's hotel on Somerset street, yesterday. F. S. Taynor, of Brdminstr, an engineer, presented the company's application and explained that eight inch pipes would be laid, the supply being in Morris county. The reservoir will be in Morris county and the officials of that county have granted a franchise, gratis. Mr. Taynor said the company will be capitalized at $50,000 and would stand responsible for all damages caused by the installatino of the distributing pipes.

The painting and repairing of the Sycamore avenue bridge was inspected and the new concrete West End avenue bridge was accepted.

FRED HAND PURCHASES SOMERSET ST. PROPERTY

The report that Fred Hand, of the Hand Storage & Express Company, had purchased the Fisher property on Somerset street were verified by Mr. Hand today. He said the papers were signed at Charles Lyman's real estate offices on Park avenue last Friday. The property consists of three lots, 150 feet on Somerset street adjoining the Hand Express Company's building. It was owned by Mrs. Annie D. Fisher, of East Seventh street.

Mr. Hand denied the report that he was going to build stables on the land. He said he had not fully determined exactly what he would do with the property. He merely purchased it as a protection to his own property. A house and a store rented and occupied by the Randael Harness Company, stands on the property at present.

To use sour milk for griddle cakes, never add baking powder, but instead an even teaspoonful of baking soda to each cup of milk.

To remove ink stains from brown boots make a paste of chloride of lime and water. Cover the stains with this and leave it for a couple of hours. Then wash off with cold water and polish with brown boot cream.

To clean white marble mix together two ounces of common washing soda, one ounce of powdered pumice and one ounce of finely powdered chalk. Make into a paste with cold water and rub well into the marble. The stains will then disappear.

NEGRO WILL STAY ON ATLANTIC CITY BOARD

Trenton, Aug. 21.—The appointment of James F. Bourne, a negro, as a member of the Atlantic City Board of Education, was sustained yesterday by Assistant Commissioner of Education J. Brognard Betts. The decision followed a hearing given at Atlantic City last week.

The appointment of Bourne together with that of another member who declined to serve, was made by former Mayor Harry Bacharach at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 16, or just two hours before the new commission was actually sworn into office. The appointment was made under the act of last winter, increasing from seven to nine the membership of certain boards of education.

Bourne's selection aroused a storm of protest, the outward basis of which was that it was made solely for political reasons and to reward the colored voters, who had been valuable allies of the old machine.

The appointment was attacked upon the ground that the act of last winter could not become operative in Atlantic City until next February, the time specified for regular appointments, and that the term of Mr. Bacharach had expired at midnight of July 15.

Mr. Betts resolved both questions in favor of Bourne. He held that the act became immediately effective, and that Mr. Bacharach was Mayor until the commission was actually sworn into office, which was two hours after the appointments were made.

LODGE ANNIVERSARY.

William G. Holton Council, No. 55, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Dunellen, held its twenty-first anniversary in the Council Hall last evening. Speeches were made by Past Councilor William LaRue. A telegram was read from State Councilor Samuel Hand, of Jersey City, regretting he could not attend also sending his greetings. Visiting members of Pioneer, Good Intent, Franklin, Warren and Friendship Councils attended and all had a few words to say. The award of the $5 gold piece has been postponed for two weeks and all members are requested to make returns by that time. A general good time was had. Pipes, cigars, lemonade, cake etc., were served. Councilor Tinsman entertained with his phonograph.

—"I breathe my vows from a subchafred heart," murmured the young man. "Nonsense, Henry," said the coldhearted damsel. "You don't breathe from your diaphragm."—Washington Herald.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

The Square Pot Furnace gives best service

Ever noticed the ordinary furnace? After 2 or 3 years it becomes rusted—it commences to decay and fall apart—the grate bars are warped and burnt and its actions are erratic.

The patented Square Fire Pot Furnace is a reliable furnace. Heat just where and when you want it and just the desired amount.

It cannot clog with ashes. It is economical. It is clean and always looks so. In short, the Square Pot is ideal. Ask your dealer—he'll show you why.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

TEMPTING RISSOLES.

THE rissole is an entree of meat or fish made with breadcrumbs and yolk of egg, sometimes wrapped in puff paste or covered with rice and fried or baked.

Rissoles of Liver.—Mince boiled calf's liver, season and add a little minced onion and butter. Roll a rich biscuit dough and cut into small squares. Upon each of these put a spoonful of the liver. Turn over and pinch together the corners of the squares. Bake in a hot oven. Serve hot.

Meat and Egg Rissoles.

Ham and Veal Rissoles.—Take a pound of cold boiled potatoes and mash them with one ounce of butter, season well with salt and pepper. Add two tablespoonfuls of finely minced veal and ham or any other cooked meat and a dessertspoonful of tomato sauce. Mix to a paste with a well beaten egg. Form into rissoles, dip them in beaten egg, cover with breadcrumbs and fry in boiling fat a golden brown. Drain very dry and serve garnished with slices of tomato and chopped parsley.

Egg Rissoles.—Boil six eggs till very hard, then throw them into cold water and remove the shells. Take out the yolks and place them in a mortar. Add to them two ounces of breadcrumbs which have been previously soaked in milk, a teaspoonful of fine minced onion, a teaspoonful of minced parsley, pepper and salt to taste and one ounce of butter. Pound all together until they become a stiff paste. Then add the whites of the eggs chopped small and mix thoroughly. Bind with the yolk of a well beaten egg. Shape into rissoles, dip in egg and breadcrumbs and fry in boiling fat till of a light golden brown hue. Take out quickly. Drain carefully on clean kitchen paper, dish up on squares of crispy fried bread or buttered toast, pour a little tomato sauce round the base and serve at once.

With the Homely Potato.

Potato Rissoles.—Take some cold mashed potatoes, heat them in milk and butter and add the yolks of two eggs, beating them into the potatoes one at a time. Sprinkle in seasoning and chopped parsley and spread on a flat dish to cool. Take a large teaspoonful of this at a time and roll it into a little ball. Flour each ball as it is shaped and when all the potatoes have been used in the same way dip the rissoles into beaten eggs and cover them with very fine dry breadcrumbs. Let them stand for the crumbs to harden, then fry in a wire basket, which should be plunged into a pan containing boiling fat to entirely cover them. Drain and serve hot.

Dominance of Gray a Protest Against Vivid Colors.

The surprising predominance of gray in this strong color season is said to be due to a revolt against too much color. Wherever gray has come from it has indubitably arrived. In every fashionable assemblage one notes many gray gowns and wraps, some of the gray weaves being mixed with color in charming shot effects, the gray subduing and softening the mauve, rose or green in the changeable weave.

Coats made with deep revers, yet leaving openings of only moderate depth, are features of the incoming season. This one is extremely good looking.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

THE SUCCESS OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

(From The Independent.)

While our misguided sisters in England are striving to get their way by the old feminine tactics of everlastingly nagging, the women who have the franchise go quietly about their business in the most inoffensive manner. This much may be said with confidence about woman suffrage, that it makes trouble only where it does not exist. Even those who have the lowest opinion of woman's ability would be willing to concede that she can cast a vote straighter than she can cast a stone.

It is curious to see how quickly the woman suffrage question disappears as soon as women get the vote. This is not the case with everything. The tariff question does not disappear when a tariff bill is passed. The liquor question remains a subject of discussion even in prohibition States. The enfranchisement of the negro is not a dead issue a generation after it was accomplished. But when a woman suffrage law is passed, by however slender a majority, society adjusts itself automatically to this supposedly revolutionary change and within a few months it seems to the people as though it had never been otherwise. The women of California vote like veterans already. In Australia and New Zealand there are some 6,000,000 people living under a recently established regime of equality and nobody thinks anything about it. It is as hard to draw an Australian into an argument over woman suffrage as it would be over the subject of whether or not it is desirable to have schools, steam engines or weather reports.

Differences of race, climate and history seem to make no difference with woman suffrage. It works as smoothly under the North Star as under the Southern Cross. In fact the women in England, under the shadow of the autocratic Czar, have taken a more active part in government than in the self-governing British islands of the South Pacific. Ever since the adoption in Finland of universal suffrage in 1906 there have been from fourteen to twenty-five women members of parliament and they have with few exceptions been re-elected by their constituencies. They represent all classes and occupations, including cooks, dressmakers, teachers, journalists, factory workers, sanitary inspectors and statisticians. They belong to various parties; in the last parliament the twenty-one women members were distributed as follows: Twelve in the Socialist, four in the Swedish, one in the Young Finn and four in the Old Finn parties.

Up to the beginning of last year, according to an article in the last Contemporary Review, the women had brought in twenty-nine different legislative bills, of which the following had passed:

(1) The establishment of laws for child protection against ill-treatment.

(2) The complete freeing of the wife from the legal guardianship of her husband.

(3) The raising of the marriage age from fifteen to eighteen years.

(4) The organization of colonies for youthful criminals.

(5) The right of women to assist in the department of public medicine.

(6) The abolition of police observation over prostitutes.

Among the bills introduced by the women members but not yet passed were some that are intended especially to benefit their own sex, such as bills for maternity insurance, for Government midwives, for giving a wife the right to dispose of her children instead of leaving them in the exclusive control of their fathers, for the improvement of schools of domestic economy, for the appointment of women as factory inspectors and for enabling women to serve in public institutions on equal terms with men.

But the women delegates to the Finish parliament are not concerned solely with the interests of women, for among their measures are: A bill to separate the supreme court from the senate, establishing an independent judiciary, a bill to give Jews equal rights with Christians, a bill extending the suffrage to all adults, a bill to regulate the relations between employers and employes, a bill to increase the punishment for cruelty to animals, a bill granting free meals to school children and a bill for improving the position of illegitimate children and establishing homes for them. The women members unanimously supported a bill prohibiting the importation, sale and consumption of alcohol.

As a whole this is certainly a creditable program, neither visionary nor unduly sentimental. Few of exclusively masculine legislatures could show a better one. The opponents of women suffrage have open to them only two alternatives; they must either assume that this legislation is intrinsically unwise or that it would have been advanced just as much if the women had not voted. Neither position seems tenable.

In Finland the women voters outnumber the men by 64,436, but they have not taken advantage of it to put an undue proportion of their sex into office. In other places where equal suffrage prevails the number of women in the legislative bodies is much less. It is not probable that the proportion of women in such positions will be very large and we do not think it desirable that it should be. The holding of political offices and the running for them are not among the occupations best fitted and most befitting for women. Most women can find employment in the home more serviceable to the State. There arise from time to time exceptional women better qualified than men for administration and legislation, and they should not be debarred from any offices, even the highest. But it should be made plain in this campaign that the women are asking for votes, not for offices, and that they want votes, not for the purpose of forcing upon the community a body of laws antagonistic to men, but in order that they may co-operate with men in the promotion of measures in the interests of both. Even in a political campaign an attitude of "sweet reasonableness" is the best policy. Equality now reigns in the six Australian States and in six of the American States. The six other States now considering the matter, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Kansas, Oregon and Nevada, may well follow their example. It is no longer an experiment. It is a demonstrated success.

Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee, announced that George R. Sheldon has been selected as treasurer of the committee for the present campaign. Mr. Sheldon was treasurer of the Republican national committee in the campaign of 1908.

T. R. TO TAKE PART IN WILKESBARRE RALLY

Will Visit Father Curran in Coal Fields.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Colonel Roosevelt completed preparations for today's trip to Wilkesbarre, Pa., where he will take part in the celebration in honor of his friend, Father Curran, the well known arbiter of coal mine labor disputes. The colonel's speech will deal, he says, primarily with moral issues, and only in a general way does he intend to touch on politics. The greater part of today he spent in the Outlook office, leaving for Wilkesbarre at 5:57 p. m. on the Lehigh Valley road. He will return tomorrow night, reaching home again Friday morning for another rest preparatory to the inroad of Vermont.

Colonel Roosevelt had as a visitor yesterday Francis J. Heney, the California graft prosecutor. Heney motored out to lunch with the colonel and had a conference over the aspects of the California situation and the projected visit of the Progressive candidate during the big trip.

Two Others Hurt In Auto Wreck Near Middletown.

Newton, N. J., Aug. 21.—D. M. Dickson, a wealthy resident of Sussex county, was instantly killed and W. S. McCoy and Morris Davis, merchants of Sussex, were badly hurt in an automobile accident near Middletown, N. Y.

The men were on their way to the races at Goshen and were about four miles from that place when a tire on their automobile blew out. The driver was a son of Mr. Dickson. He lost control of the machine and the car went into the ditch. Mr. Dickson was thrown against a stone fence and instantly killed. Mr. Davis had four ribs broken and was badly hurt. Mr. McCoy sustained internal injuries. Young Dickson, who is proprietor of the Union house at Sussex, was only slightly hurt.

CITY OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Call for Sealed Proposals for Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000) of Street Improvement Bonds of the City of Plainfield, N. J.

Pursuant to resolutions adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, N. J., at a regular meeting thereof held August 5, 1912, and duly approved by the Mayor, notice is hereby given that Tuesday, the third day of September, 1912, at eight o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., the Common Council of said City will receive and open sealed proposals for the purchase of Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000) of Street Improvement Bonds called for by the said resolutions and the other resolutions and ordinance therein referred to.

The Street Improvement Bonds referred to are in the denominations of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) each, and will bear date as of the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and be payable as follows: July 1, 1915, with the option to the City to redeem or pay off the said bonds or any one or more of them at any time after one year from the date thereof and before three years from the date thereof, on giving personal notice to said holder of said bonds or thirty days' notice by advertisement in the official newspapers of the City of the intention to make such redemption or payment. Said bonds will bear interest at the rate of five per centum (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually. Principal and interest will be payable in gold coin of the U. S. of the present standard of weight and fineness, at the office of the City Treasurer in said City. The forms of both bonds and coupons are on file in the office of the City Clerk and there open to inspection by bidders. The Bonds will be delivered to the purchaser at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Plainfield, N. J., on Thursday, September 12th, 1912, at eleven o'clock a. m.

A certified check for two per cent. (2%) of the face value of the bonds bid for, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield, N. J., must accompany each bid. All such checks except the checks of the party or parties whose bids shall be accepted will be promptly returned by the City Treasurer. If all bids are rejected, all checks will be returned. All proposals for bids must be submitted on the forms of proposals especially prepared for that purpose, copies of which may be obtained from the City Clerk.

The bonds will be engraved under the supervision of and certified as to genuineness by the Columbia-Knickerbocker Trust Company, of New York City. Each proposal together with the certified check accompanying the same shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Proposals for Bonds," and addressed "The Common Council of the City of Plainfield, N. J." and delivered to the Common Council at the time and place specified in this advertisement.

No bid for less than par and accrued interest will be accepted.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council, together with that of waiving any informalities or defects.

At the time and place appointed, to wit, Thursday, the 12th day of September, 1912, at eight o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J., the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the bids or sealed proposals and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Common Council.

J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.

LIKELY TO ABANDON SEA GIRT FOR GUARD

Maneuvres Convince State Officers That a Rougher Training Camp Is Desirable.

Trenton, Aug. 21.—State military men who have returned from the United States army maneuvres in Connecticut involving an attack upon New York city, say that the schooling received there by the New Jersey soldiers was the best in the history of the National Guard of this State. The maneuvres were the most elaborate military movement in which the New Jersey troops ever participated and it was the nearest approach to real warfare in which the New Jersey Guardsmen ever engaged.

The work required of the soldiers of New Jersey was very different from the usual evolutions at the Sea Girt encampment. Each day the soldiers were in the field, except the final engagement, they marched from 8 to 10 miles, besides the skirmishing and other military duties. Camp was broken daily about 4 o'clock a. m., the morning's military routine followed, and by 7 a. m. the New Jersey troops were on the march to the point where they were to take their part in the day's "fight." A different camp was occupied each night and the cooking, the work of camp sanitation and building and breaking camp were the same as they would be in time of real war.

The section of Connecticut invaded was selected by the federal military authorities with special reference to its fitness as a military training ground and as presenting engineering and tactical problems that would best develop the soldiers taking part in the maneuvres.

The elaborate work done at the maneuvres has led to a revival of the talk of the abandonment of the State camp ground at Sea Girt as a military schooling ground for the New Jersey National Guard. One of the military officers of the State said today that in his opinion the Sea Girt grounds eventually will be abandoned for another site large enough for simultaneous maneuvres of the entire New Jersey division of the National Guard and which will also give some forest land and a more rolling country so that the evolutions will not be like drilling on an armory floor on the level camp ground at Sea Girt. The development of the real estate adjoining the Sea Girt camp on the north, where the sham battles have been fought in the past, adds to the difficulty of a successful camp at the State grounds. In order to conduct a sham battle in the future it will be necessary to go some distance from the camp site.

RATIONS WERE LIGHT DURING MIMIC WAR

Private Thompson Tells Some of the Hardships Jersey Soldiers Suffered.

Private James A. Thompson, of Co. K, who was one of the nineteen members of the local militia organization that engaged in the regular army manoeuvres last week, in a further description of the campaign relates some interesting incidents. Thompson was with Co. I, Fifth Regiment. Among other things he says:

"While waiting to be called into action our regiment concealed itself in a field behind a stone wall, across the way from a genuine country store, where one could get anything from a carpet tack to a brass bed. As the majority of the men did not have any breakfast, they made a beeline for the store. The crowd in the store was so great that the proprietor was almost crazy in his efforts to wait on customers. He was finally obliged to lock the doors and wait on the boys through a window.

"We were held in reserve from 9 until 12 o'clock, when the First Battalion was ordered to advance against the left flank of the enemy in an effort to draw their fire so that the "Blues" could rush part of the reserve up to the trenches to strenfthen the body that was attacking the front of the "Reds." Co. I was sent to the brow of a nearby hill and was ordered to remain concealed behind the stone-wall. This position was an excellent one, because we could "pour" our shots into the enemy without fear of being in any danger ourselves. The umpires claimed that we had succeeded in shooting the enemy's flank to pieces and had won the decision. After the battle we marched to our next camping grounds at Redding Ridge, a distance of twelve miles. Thursday we staid in the same camp, resting for the final battle. Friday morning we broke camp and proceeded two and a half miles to Bethel, where we pitched camp and lay around all the afternoon, expecting to be ordered out any minute.

"The meals that we had consisted chiefly of dust, water to wash it down and sometimes a cigarette for dessert. The officers claimed that the shortage of rations was due to the lack of conveyances and the poor transportation facilities on the railroad. We thought we were being treated like kings if we were able to get two meals a day. Most of the time we would get a light breakfast, march and fight all day, get to the next camping grounds after dark and get a cup of coffee to go to bed on. Such is war.

"In the final battle the umpires gave us the decision, claiming that we held the best point of vantage, and we were naturally proud of this fact. Saturday afternoon was spent in paying off the men in the three New Jersey Regiments. Late Saturday night it began raining and continued all night. Sunday morning at 6:30, we broke camp for the last time and it was raining in torrents. At 7 o'clock we left camp and marched to Bethel in mud up to and sometimes above our ankles, a distance of about three miles to the point where we entrained for our return trip. We finally reached Paterson at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon after encountering many delays. At Paterson we disbanded and the Co. K men boarded a trolley car for Elizabeth, where we took the 8:05 train for home, tired but mighty glad to get back.

"Corporal Keppler enjoyed the manoeuvres so much that he took them to bed with him. All night he tried to get his tent-mates to execute the skirmish line drill for him. One night he wanted to know who was going to shovel the snow off the front porch of the tent. Some dreamer, believe me. All the boys from Co. K. were asked if they would like to go back again, and in reply raised their hands and said, 'never again.' Those in the company from this city were Corporals George Bowe and John Keppler; Privates Thomas Arrants, Charles Bauman, Charles Clark, John Clark, Robert Green, Frank Hall, Robert Harrison, Herbert Klein, Theodore Mendell, Wm. Micksner, Philip Millwater, John Peary, F. S. Thompson, Harry B. Toms, J. A. Thompson and Charles Wood."

NOTICE.

At a special meeting of the Piscataway Township Board of Education to be held at the New Market School house Monday, August the 26th, bids will be received for transporting pupils along the following route: Commencing at Isaac Randolph's on the New Market and Stelton Road thence to William G. Smith's, thence by Brunswick Avenue road past Noble's to Wagner's Corner, thence to South Plainfield around the village block, thence via Plainfield Avenue to the Plainfield High School.

The Board desires that separate bids be submitted, one for transporting pupils along the above route to and from the Plainfield High School for morning session, the other along the same route to and from said school for the afternoon session.

Bidders must agree to furnish a good covered spring wagon whose sides and ends can be opened or closed as the weather requires. Bidders must also agree to furnish a good gentle team not afraid of automobiles or cars, said team to be driven by a competent driver.

Bidders must agree to furnish a sufficient number of blankets to keep the pupils warm.

Bidders must also agree to conform to the rules and regulations prescribed by the Board of Education for the transportation of pupils.

All bids must be in the hands of the District Clerk not later than 8 o'clock p. m. August 26, 1912.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Now the Saurer team of the Manufacturers' Baseball League has come across with one of those "get acquainted" outings like the Spicer team had a few weeks ago.

The big time is carded for next Saturday and the place!.—Well they are going to the same place that the Spicer bunch went. Enough said.

It took Spicers a couple of weeks to get over the effects. Wonder how long it will take the Saurers? They are farther down the league ladder and the race is nearly over.

Things have been shaken up a little in the Manufacturers' league during the last few days. Wonder how the R. G. E. stock is now? Commercial's is going up.

Who put the hope in Hope chapel? Nobody; it has always been there and will make itself felt before the league season is over.

Captain Grisley's colts have shaken the jinx now and a report has been circulated to the effect that he has engaged Frank Toense to travel with the nine as a good luck mascot.

Three two baggers in a row, one after another, with the same bat, on the same ball, off the same pitcher and by the same slugger. Going some. Keep it up Terry, we will enroll you on the Cheese cloth of fame in the Human Wagon Tongue League if you repeat it.

Why not wait and play that post-season series next summer? The completion of the league schedule will take up most of the winter.

One consolation the teams in the Manufacturers' league will not have to go South in the spring to get into condition. Their winter workout will keep them fresh.

Heard on the street—"So glad to see you back. Have a nice time. Oh, just been away for a day? Haven't seen you around for a week. Where were you Saturday?"

An add has been inserted asking for information concerning the whereabouts of one Louis Slocum.

We don't know, ask Frederickson.

Wonder if the aviation meet will have any effect on the attendance at the "tin can" diamond next Saturday?

Connie Mack says that automobiles have had a bad effect on players.

Ernie Dorflinger can go Connie one better. He says that autos are a scarce thing among his players, but aeroplanes have a tendency to slow them down.

Superintendent Swartz, of the New Jersey weights and measures commission, dropped into town one day last week and found that several peanut venders were using liquid measures instead of dry measures.

Beware ball players. Let them alone.

Someone has asked us who put the fly in the airship. We do not know, but the inquirer can find out by taking a trip to the Riding and Driving Park next Friday or Saturday.

Six o'clock in the morning, just in time to hear the roosters crow. A certain young man has just completed his morning chores and is putting a vacation crease in his pants.

"What are you around here yet, Muzzle? I thought you were going down by 'de oceens' for the benefit of your health and the public in general for a couple of days."

Fares, please; I haven't got another nickel so I guess I will have to postpone that outing until next year.

YANKEES BAT WAY INTO THIRD PLACE

Cubs Are Lowered to Fourth Place When the Giants Drop a Game.

By taking a 6 to 3 game out of the Giants' team of the Parker Field Baseball League, the Yankees forged ahead of the Cubs in the pennant race, taking third place. The game was close and exciting at all times and the Yankees won out by some heavy stick work in the two final innings. Several High School stars seem to be playing a good article of summer ball with the Parker Field league, among them being Grisley. He seems to be having a varied career as a junior leaguer, playing under the colors of the Athletics Monday and with the Giants yesterday. Toense, his side partner, is also playing a traveling game. He plays with Grisley's opponents in each contest. Monday he was a Cub and yesterday a Giant.

Both moundsmen were hit hard in yesterday's contest and although Hamliton had decidedly the better of the pitcher's argument, he lost out. Todd, Crook, Brennan and Grisley got away with the batting laurels, getting a trio a piece. Rosenson was sent in to bat for Denny in the ninth and came through with a scorching single.

FACTORY LEAGUE RACE

Daily Press Cup May Be the First to Be Placed In Club's Trophy Case—Have Had Good Baseball Team—Have Many Followers in Plainfield

By some steady and consistent playing in an uphill fight, the Commercial baseball team, of the Manufacturers' League, have at last secured a hold on the top rung and are out to tame the R. G. E. combination who have been having a cabinet made in which to place the cup offered by the Daily Press for the league championship. Although the R. G. E. team was generally conceded as a sure winner and it seemed as though nothing could stop them in the race for the flag, the Commercials have always claimed that they would be in at the finish and have been steadily plugging. They have not made sensational leaps and bounds but have gradually come up from behind and with the help of the Saurer nine climbed into first place Saturday afternoon.

Now that the clerks are leading the R. G. E. team by one game margin their stock has begun to rise and in a close fight this aggregation is always to be figured on. Although the R. G. E. ball tossers have three games to play and the Commercials but two contests remaining before they complete their season's schedule, the most the consolidated five can do is to tie the league leaders. In the event of a tie remaining at the close of the league race, a play-off will be necessary between the Commercials and R. G. E. teams. A fight of this kind would just suit the Commercials as all the players are natural fighters and with the outcome of the cup presentation at stake they are sure to play winning ball. The R. G. E. nine is booked to play the Spicer crowd at the oval Saturday and the Joint Makers are just as likely as not to spring one on the R. G. E. bunch. When going at its best the Fourth street aggregation can cope with any of the other league contestants and they may help the Commercials along Saturday. The latter nine will play the Public Service combination and a battle royal is expected. The Gas Workers are out for third place and the Commercials for first, so both have something to fight about.

A question has come up recently as to where the silver trophy will go if the Commercials do win it. Some have expressed the wish that one of the other contestants would win it because the clerks have no organized club at present and people think it would be a personal fight between the players to see who would take the cup home. All that apprehension has been set aside, however, by the announcement of the formation of an athletic club under the auspices of the Commercial baseball team. Extensive plans are under way to organize a club that would promote every form of athletic competition. A clubhouse will be rented and officers and coaches selected for the new organization. In the event of the Commercial nine winning the cup they will place it in the club's trophy case as the first award ever presented to the organization. It will also spur the fellows on to speedy efforts to effect an organization and the project will in all probability become a reality within the next few weeks.

MURDERER STARS IN ODD BASEBALL GAME

Sunbury, Pa., Aug. 21.—The Northumberland County Prison baseball team defeated the Sunbury club in the jail yard by a close score Monday, the catcher for the criminals being Frederick Nye, convicted of murdering Harry Miller, of this place, but who has not yet been sentenced to hang.

Nye was the star player of the game, scoring one run, one hit, nine putouts and two assists. He caught just where a gallows was erected recently for the hanging of a murderer.

FISHING NOTES.

The seines and pound nets are getting kingfish, and the net men say that the anglers would catch them if they fished on the bottom. Sedler's net had half a bushel last Tuesday night, and some of the nets at Belford and Port Monmouth had several bushels.

Kingfish, weakfish and fluke are keeping hundreds of anglers busy along the shore, and the men that fish from the piers are also catching them. Dreamland pier and Steeplechase pier at Coney Island, are lively places any clear evening, as hundreds of men and women line the rails and fish. It is a poor angler who can't catch at least ten pounds of fish in an afternoon or evening, but the evening is the best time to fish.

The fishing piers at Asbury Park and Belmar are worth a visit to any person who wants to fish from a safe point. Kingfish have been in there for ten days and hundreds are caught from each pier every day. For a time the fluke were popular, but now they are scorned for the better flavored kingfish.

Reports of weakfish and bluefish at Huguenot, S. I., were received by the writer yesterday. We do not know any of those reported as having made the catches, but the information comes from a reliable source.

Seventy-five of Philadelphia's best fishermen are preparing for their annual trip to the fishing banks on the Taurus, and when they get out to sea there will be some fun on the boat. They don't claim to be expert fishermen, but they buy every spare fish on the boat before it docks.

Farmer friends are sending us word that they will have a good crop of rabbits ready for the gunners when the season opens on November 1. The new law prevents the killing of rabbits by the farmers out of season, so now they intend to make bunny pay for the damage it does by guarding him until the city sport arrives.

Echo Lake, Union county, is a good place to fish during the fall season. This lake is in the village of Mountainside, about four city blocks east of Westfield avenue. In order to reach it take the Maplewood car to Maplewood and there change to the Morris Traction Company car. Get off at Springfield immediately in front of the Springfield Hotel. Westfield avenue begins there, and follow this avenue south for about forty minutes of steady walking to the lake. Catfish and eels are biting well at night and during the day black bass, pickerel, sunfish, roach and perch can be caught from the shore. To make the trip by automobile or bicycle go out Springfield avenue to the Seven Bridge road to Morris avenue, up Morris avenue to Westfield avenue and Westfield avenue to Echo Lake.

GEBHARDT THINKS SMITH WILL HELP HIS CHANCES

Trenton, August 21.—Believing that such a move will aid his own candidacy, State Senator William C. Gebhardt, of Hunterdon county, hopes that former United States Senator James Smith, Jr. will enter the race for the United States Senatorship to succeed Frank O. Briggs. Senator Gebhardt thinks that if former Senator Smith should enter the primary contest he will draw largely on the North Jersey vote that would be opposed to the Hunterdon Senator and thus would increase the latter's chances of winning the nomination.

"I hope Smith does announce himself," declared Senator Gebhardt yesterday. "It certainly would aid me if he should get into the race."

Senator Geonardt is waging his campaign on the ground that he was the original Progressive in the Democratic ranks in New Jersey. Discussing this question today he said:

"In this day of Progressive ideas and of a demand for Progressive laws, the candidate for United States Senator should be a man who has stood consistently for Progressiveism. I claim to be entitled to this nomination because I have been a Progressive longer than any other Democrat in New Jersey. I stood for and fought for Progressive laws years ago in the Senate when I had to stand alone and fight absolutely single handed. It was not pleasant in those days to be a Progressive, but I stuck to my course and now claim that I should have this nomination."

Senator Gebhardt declared that former Judge John W. Westcott, of Camden, had no record of achievements as a Democrat on which to base a claim for the nomination. "All he has done is to make a speech nominating Governor Wilson for the Presidency, but that is not performance enough to win him this position on the Democratic ticket," declared the Hunterdon Senator. Continuing, he said that Judge William Hughes, of Paterson, had done more for his party but had not given sufficient evidence of being a real progressive to make him the logical candidate.

STATE DELEGAT...

Trenton, Aug. 21.—Governor Wilson today announced the appointment of the New Jersey delegates to the annual Tax Conference at Des Moines, Iowa, on September 3 and 4. Those appointed were: A. C. Pleydell, of Plainfield; Frank B. Jess, of Camden, president of the State Tax Board, and Thomas B. Usher, of Jersey City, a member of the Pierce special legislative tax investigating commission.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber, the Collector of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, pursuant to the authority of the statute in such case made and provided, will on at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the said Collector's office, No. 151 North Avenue, in said city, expose for sale and sell the several tracts or parcels of land hereinafter specified, or any part or parts thereof severally sufficient for the purpose, on which taxes for the year nineteen hundred and eleven remain in arrears, to such person or persons as will purchase the same for the shortest term and pay the tax lien thereon, including interest and costs of sale, or in fee where no one will bid for a shorter term.

Thursday, September 5, 1912,

This sale is made under the provisions of the act of the Legislature of this State, entitled: "An Act for the assessment and collection of taxes," approved April 4, 1902, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

Further particulars of the land to be sold, as shown on the City records, may be obtained at the office of the subscriber any week day prior to the day of sale, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., except holidays and Saturdays, and on Saturdays between 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

The following is a list of the several tracts and parcels of lands to be sold, which shows the names of the delinquents, the supposed owners thereof as the names of the delinquent owners appear on the books of the taxing district, together with a statement of the wards of the city wherein said lands are respectively situated, and the street in which each lot is situated, the block and lot number of each lot as they appear on the Official Assessment Maps of the City of Plainfield, on file in the office of the City Collector, and the amount due from each of the said lots respectively. To the amount due on each lot and parcel as hereinafter designated, there will be added interest at the rate of ten per centum per per annum from the twentieth day of December, 1912, to the day of sale, and the fees provided by said act of the Legislature, viz.: for preparing and publishing notices of sale twenty-five cents for each parcel of land advertised; and for selling twenty-five cents for each parcel sold; and for each certificate of sale, fifty cents, besides necessary disbursements for printing, postage, affidavits and acknowledgements, which are hereby estimated at three dollars for each item of arrearage, and the City Clerk's fee for recording report, ten cents for each parcel of land sold; and all said fees and expenses shall form part of the tax lien and be paid by the purchaser at the tax sale.

Sale Number.	Supposed owner or person to whom assessed.	Ward.	Block No. City Assessment Maps.	Lot No. City Assessment Maps.	Street or Avenue.	Year.	Amount of Tax.	Date from which interest will be added at 10 per cent. per annum to date of sale.

GEN. BOOTH DEAD; SPLENDID CAREER

Founder of Salvation Army, Power For Good.

WIFE GREATLY AIDED HIM

When He Started Militant Religious Band He Was Hailed With Derision. Queen Victoria P-aised His Work. Failing Since Operation For Cataract.

London, Aug. 21.—There is widespread mourning here today over the death of General William Booth, chief of the Salvation Army. An operation for cataract was performed on his left eye last May, since which time he failed steadily.

William Booth was born in Nottingham, England, April 10, 1829. His father was a carpenter, who had little but a consuming religious zeal to support him in the world. By dint of much economy the carpenter managed to give his son an education and to send him to a private tutor for preparation in the Methodist ministry. At twenty-three the young man took his first church, a chapel in Nottingham.

It is said that the Rev. William Booth was not a magnetic speaker nor one especially qualified for evangelical work, but into that work he plunged with tremendous zeal shortly after his admission to the ministry of the church. During his travels over England on preaching tours he met Catherine Mumford, and after a long engagement they were married in 1856. The Rev. William Booth's wife was in many ways a remarkable woman. She had the same religious zeal as her husband, the same instinct for organization and a strong appealing quality in her personality, which later served to attract the besotted people of the London slums to her.

Had Precarious Existence.

For five years after her marriage Booth and his wife lived the precarious existence of revivalists. He laid a plan of campaign before the conferences of the Methodist New Connection church. It was so radical they would have none of it. Then it was that the zealot cut loose from orthodoxy, as it was construed by his superiors, and went down to preach to the people of the mean streets in his own way. The flock he chose to lead was of the very neighborhood of the criminal, the lowest dregs of a great city, born to an inheritance of crime through generations. In 1865 Booth and his family settled in Mile End Waste, one of the blackest corners of the east end, and the work of saving souls by new methods began. His first tabernacle had been a second hand tent erected in a disused burying ground on Mile End road. Before 1878, when the Salvation Army had its inception, Booth had learned the bitterness of the work that he had selected for himself.

Paraders Attacked by Roughs.

Probably the bitterest moments that the indomitable evangelist were ever made to feel followed the first marchings of this tattered Christian "army" of regenerated sots and criminals through the streets of Whitechapel. It was a holiday for the masses whenever the little band straggled out of their tabernacle and marched behind their wheezing instruments. Everything that lent itself to hurling was hurled, and in many cases the police sided with the roughs and arrested the Salvationists for obstructing the highways. Then when the noise of this sensational evangelizing reached the ears of the clergy of the west end congregations they rose in wrath and denounced the "vulgar sensationalism" and the "irreverant trumpery" of this Salvation Army.

When a year had passed there were 137 officers in its ranks and eighty corps had been established throughout England. Before the Salvation Army was four years old General Booth and his wife began the long series of social reforms and sterling charities which stand today monuments to their greatness, as enduring as the army itself.

Recognition of General Booth's work came in a startling manner and just at the time that the storm of persecution was at its height. This was in the form of a message from Queen Victoria praising his work of salvation.

Chinese Brave the British Lion.

Hongkong, Aug. 21.—Chinese pirates landed on British territory near here, shot a sergeant and two soldiers in a Hindu regiment, cracked a safe, stole $1,000 from it, confiscated a quantity of arms and ammunition and escaped.

FOUR BADLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

State Road Commissioner's Son Is Victim.

ALSO THREE SOCIETY GIRLS

Lawrence Stevens Becomes Excited When Headlights of His Machine Reveals Big Auto Truck In Front and Crashes Into Telegraph Pole Head-on.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 21.—Lawrence Stevens, son of the New Jersey state road commissioner, with three prominent young women as passengers in his high powered automobile, met with an accident that may cost him his life. The young women were all seriously injured.

Stevens was driving his car between Petersburg and Marmora at high speed. On the seat beside him was Miss Jane Curran, daughter of Vice Commodore Charles J. Curran of Philadelphia and one of last season's debutantes. In the tonneau were the Misses Grace and Marjorie Malpass, daughters of E. M. Malpass, vice president of the Centennial National bank of Philadelphia.

As Stevens drove his car around a bend in the road the headlights of his machine revealed a big auto truck directly ahead. Stevens became excited and threw on his reverse clutch while shutting off his power. His car skidded for thirty feet over the sandy road and struck a telegraph pole head-on. The force of the impact snapped off the pole and catapulted Stevens and his passengers out of the machine.

Stevens struck head first on some logs at the side of the road. He received severe internal injuries, his scalp was lacerated and he is suffering from concussion of the brain. Little hope is held for his recovery.

Miss Curran had her leg crushed and torn. It is believed a splinter was driven through it. The Misses Malpass were so badly bruised they were helpless for the time.

MAYOR OF ORANGE WEDS.

Jersey Executive Takes Miss H. Seton McCabe as Bride.

Orange, N. J., Aug. 21.—Mayor Cornelius A. McGlennon of East Newark and Miss H. Seton McCabe, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen McCabe of South Orange, were married with a nuptial mass in the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows, South Orange.

The Rev. Timothy H. Donovan was celebrant of the mass. The Rev. Maurice P. O'Connor, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, Harrison, N. J., the Rev. Joseph P. Donohue of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic church, New York, and the Rev. Henry Sheridan assisted at the mass.

Dr. William B. McGlennon of East Orange, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Miss Kathryn McLaughlin of Newark and Miss Evelyn O'Keefe, both nieces of Miss McCabe, were maid of honor and bridesmaid respectively.

SUSPENDED FOR CRUELTY.

Rahway's Chief of Police Fired by Mayor—Handcuffed Young Boy.

Rahway, N. J., Aug. 21.—Chief of Police David H. Ramsey was suspended by Mayor Tyffe, and Detective Sergeant George Conger is in command, pending trial of charges against the chief before the common council on Aug. 27.

The action of the mayor is the outcome of the arrest of Sidney Levy of Avenel, aged seventeen, charged with bathing in the city limits while improperly clothed on Sunday, Aug. 11.

Chief Ramsey, passing in his automobile, stopped and made the arrest. In doing so, it is charged, he displayed cruelty by putting nippers on the boy's wrists and twisting the steel chain with such force that the marks were seen when Levy was arraigned next day. The boy was fined $2.

JAPAN TO INCREASE ARMY.

Two More Divisions, and Increased Cost Will Be $13,000,000.

Tokyo, Japan, Aug. 21.—The Japanese military authorities have decided to increase the strength of the army in Korea by two divisions.

The scheme will go into effect next year and is to be completed by 1918. The increased cost is estimated at 26,000,000 yen (approximately $13,000,000).

HERE'S A BIG SALE OF

EMBROIDERED FLANNELS 49c

AT THE PRICE OF PLAIN FLANNEL

Suppose you were a flannel embroiderer! Suppose some big buyer came along during your dullest season and gave you an order big enough to employ your hands thru this dull season. Wouldn't you be inclined to give him the best price it was possible to give? Wouldn't you be willing to sacrifice all your profits to keep your hands employed and your factory running? Of course you would.

And so in the case of the embroiderer who sold us all his 18-yard lengths of Plain White Flannels and worked them into beautiful petticoat patterns in effective silk needlework scallops—in dainty leaf, in pretty flower, and in the always lovable French knot designs; also in hemstitched effects.

And the price made us by this manufacturer, who perferred to keep his machinery in motion to laying off hands, brings to you a bargain that will prove a delight to you, for this tasteful needlework flannel is to be sold at the price of the ordinary; plain flannel 49c

Come tomorrow and get your share of those cunning little designs that mothers always pick for infants' petticoats, and for those more elaborate designs that are so useful for other purposes, all priced the same—49c.

RELIEF IS FOUND FROM HIGH COST

Abundance of Fruits and Vegetables Lifts Some of Householder's Burden.

PRICES REASONABLE

Dealer Declares Present Prices In Local Produce Market Vary Little From Those of 15 Years Ago—Limas One Disappointment.

There has much said of late regarding the high cost of living, especially as to the price of meats, but an investigation shows that just now hundreds of families have found welcome relief through an abundance of fruits and vegetables that are to be found in the market. Inquiry among the local dealers show that fruits and vegetables of the best quality are coming into the market every day in large quantities, which has a tendency to keep the prices within the reach of the average householder.

The only vegetable at present that is not really cheap is the lima bean. They are not so plentiful and dealers are asking 30 cents a quart. This is due chiefly to the fact that the beans got a late start and until just now weather conditions have not been the best for their growth and development. The pods have been slow in filling out.

Sweet corn of an excellent quality is to be had at from 20 to 25 cents a dozen, which averages about two cents an ear, and it is predicted that by next week the prevailing price will be 20 cents. Egg plants which are just coming in are sold at from 10 to 12 cents each and they are of good size and quality. In a few days they will be cheaper.

One of the cheapest vegetables in the market is the tomato. They are being sold at 30 cents a basket. They are large size and excellent in flavor. Green and wax beans are bringing 8 cents a quart and they make one of the best vegetables these warm days. Beets are bringing from 4 to 5 cents a bunch, large size, and carrots are very cheap at 5 cents a quart, while summer squash can be bought for from 5 to 8 cents, which is very reasonable and they make a fine dish.

Sweet potatoes are now about as cheap as white potatoes, bringing 8 cents a quart, and the dealers say that they are about the best seen in the local market. Apples thus far have been a little scarce, but excellent varieties can be had at 50 cents a basket, while the top grade bring 70 cents.

One of the leading dealers in discussing the condition of the market said that recently he was comparing the local prices with those of fifteen years ago, and he noticed that there was very little difference. He declared that because of the fact that so many people have stopped buying meat there is now an unusual demand for fruits and vegetables, and in consequence trade in that line is brisk, especially at this time of the year. Several instances were cited where families buy meat for their Sunday dinner and depend on fruits and vegetables during the week. In this way the man of ordinary means does not find the cost of living so high.

IT WAS J. J. KENNEY.

It was John J. Kenney, of Sandford avenue, who attended the Union County Democratic Committee meeting at Elizabeth, Tuesday night, and not his brother, Andrew E. Kenney, of the borough, as stated. The latter has been made a borough representative of the Wilson and Marshall Club, which was recently organized in this city.

FRANK CONDE BURIED.

The funeral service of Frank Conde, Sr., who died at High Bridge last Monday, was held at the undertaking rooms at 200 West Second street at 11 o'clock this morning. Rev. George Hauser, pastor of the German Reformed church, officiated. Interment was made at Hillside cemetery. Mr. Conde was formerly a resident of this city.

PETITIONS FILED.

The petition of Assemblyman George L. Babcock for a renomination, and that of Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur for a renomination, on the Republican ticket, were filed in the office of the county clerk at Elizabeth, today.

CODDING STILL COY AS TO HIS CANDIDACY

Agrees With Judge Runyon As to Qualifications For Congressional Nomination.

Charles N. Codding, of Westfield, who is being actively boomed by his friends as a candidate for the Assembly, has not yet made any formal announcement as to his position. The boom started on the Isabel while the Union County Republican Committee was holding its annual outing, and at that time it was understood that Mr. Codding had consented to run. At least he raised no dissenting voice when his candidacy was under discussion, but several days later, while in Trenton, he gave out an interview stating that the canvas in his behalf was being made without his consent.

When seen yesterday by a reporter, Mr. Codding said that in a few days he would be in a position to announce positively his acceptance or withdrawal. Until that time he did not care to make any statement. Asked regarding the reason for his continued silence, Mr. Codding said that it was of such a nature that he could not for several reasons at this time make it public, but would be able to do so in a few days.

Turning from the Assembly situation, Mr. Codding talked regarding the Congressional candidates. He has been away for some time and out of touch with politics in Union county. When told that Judge William N. Runyon's petition was being circulated, but with considerable doubt existing as to whether or not it would be filed, just as there was doubt regarding Mr. Codding's petition, he said that he was heartily in accord with Judge Runyon in the belief that a Republican of undoubted and unquestioned loyalty to President Taft should be on the ticket for Congress with him.

CASH STOLEN FROM TILL OF FRONT STREET STORE

Sometime during the early morning hours the sum of $6 was taken out of the cash drawer at Paul Collier's art and sporting goods store on East Front street. He reported the matter to the police and an investigation is being made. Mr. Collier says that when he left the store he locked the front door, but later it was found unlocked. This morning when he arrived at the store upon going to the cash drawer discovered that the money was gone. Nothing else apparently had been disturbed and so far as known only the money was taken.

It is said that the policeman on that beat found the door locked when he tried it on his rounds.

FRIENDS WHO EXPECT TO ATTEND BIG CONFERENCE

Copies of the official program for the Friends' General Conference to be held at Chatauqua, N. Y., August 27 to September 3, have been received by members of the society here. The members of the local meeting who expect to be in attendance are Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Williams, of Darrow avenue, who will make the trip to Chatauqua in their automobile; Mrs. Keturah S. Palmer, of East Second street; Mrs. Amy E. Lorton, of East Third street, and Miss Margaret F. Vail, of Church street, who will join the New York Friends and go by special train on the Erie road, leaving Jersey City on the morning of August 27. The trip home will include a visit to Niagara Falls.

CODDINGTON WON'T RUN.

Former City Judge William A. Coddington announced today, that although he had been urged to do so he would not enter the race for the Democratic nomination for surrogate. He said that the four men who had announced their candidacies are all personal friends of his and that under no circumstances would he enter a primary contest against them. The candidates are Assistant City Attorney Joseph T. Hague and Justice of the Peace James Kelly, of Elizabeth; Leroy Gibbey, of Summit, and Judge Walter L. Hetfield, of this city.

CLAN MEETING.

All members of Clan Mackenzie who were given tickets to dispose of for the games held on Parker Field last Saturday are requested to meet at Robert Murray's store on West Front street tomorrow night. A special session of the executive committee will be called at 7:30.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from the State Trust Company, today, is as follows: 9 a. m., 76 degrees; 11 a. m., 87 degrees; 1 p. m., 88 degrees.

DOG OWNER SUMMONED.

William Lindsey, of the Netherwood Farm, on Mountain avenue, has been summoned to appear before Recorder Gano in the North Plainfield police court tonight when he will be arraigned for alleged violation of the game laws. The borough police say they have repeatedly found his dog running rabbits.

LOSES LOAD OF TOMATOES.

Elizabeth, Aug. 22.—Louis Dilipo, a trucker living near South Plainfield, while driving along Newark road this morning with a load of tomatoes for the Newark market, went into a ditch with his wagon. The tomatoes were dumped into the road, resulting in practically a complete loss to Dilipo.

JUDGMENT GIVEN ON NOTE.

Swackhamer & Bird, representing A. H. Reynolds, obtained a judgment for $70 on a note in the District Court, Somerville, before Judge Isaac P. Runyon, yesterday. The action was against Gerald H. Underhill and his mother, Mrs. Anna Underhill, of Watchung.

JUDGMENT FOR $70.

Only one judgment was given at the weekly session of the District Court, today. That was in the case of Thomas Stonewall Jackson against Oscar Moore, who was suing on a note. The judgment was for $70. Swackhamer & Bird represented Mr. Jackson.

GEORGE BUSS IS SENT TO THE REFORMATORY

All But 68 Cents of the $179 He Stole Has Been Recovered.

Elizabeth, Aug. 22 (Special)—George Buss, a Plainfield youth who robbed William W. Wilson's store in Plainfield of $179, was sentenced in the Court of Quarter Sessions by Judge Atwater yesterday afternoon, to the Rahway Reformatory. All but sixty-eight cents of the stolen money was recovered at the time of Buss' arrest.

Andrus Posz, of this city, charged with a serious offense by a fourteen-year-old girl, was sentenced to State Prison for a term of not more than fifteen years or less than three, at hard labor.

GENIAL SAM CUNNINGHAM ONCE AGAIN IN OUR MIDST

Samuel Cunningham, the genial theatrical man, who was formerly associated with William J. Counihan in the management of the Plainfield theatre, dropped into town today to renew acquaintances and incidentally tell his friends that on Wednesday, September 11, the Aborn Opera Company will present "The Bohemian Girl," at the Plainfield theatre.

Sam, who is the "advance man" of the show, says that the company numbers eighty people and carries two carloads of special scenery, and that the performance will be one of of the best seen in Plainfield this season. The Aborn Opera Company will take a trip through to the coast, playing all the large cities.

J. EMMONS HENRY IS STRICKEN WITH BLINDNESS

J. Emmons Henry, of 22 Somerset place, widely known throughout this section of the State as an insurance agent, is totally blind, the result of facial paralysis with which he was recently stricken. Specialists who have been called to examine Mr. Henry agree that there is practically no hope of his recovering his sight again. A trained nurse is in attendance all the time.

Mr. Henry has been detained at his home for nearly two years, being in a helpless condition most of that time following the breaking of his leg by a fall. The break was a bad one and the bones were slow in knitting. The double affliction has greatly affected Mr. Henry's physical and mental condition and while at times his mind is clear it apparently grows weaker. For many years Mr. Henry was the local representative for the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York.

HAUGHTY AUTOIST WANTED NO AID IN HIS DISTRESS

Several Plainfielders who were returning in automobiles from Somerville, yesterday afternoon, came upon a large touring car ditched in the road, between Bound Brook and Finderne. The auto party comprised a young man and six women. Assistance was offered the young man in getting his heavy car back on the road, but he spurned all offers, declaring that when he wanted help he would ask for it and he did not want any interference from any one.

The women stood by in silence while the young man did the talking and the expressions on their faces indicated that they had little sympathy for him and would only have been too glad to have received help from passersby. Those who had offered to assist the stalled autoists finally left them, presuming that eventually they could be able to continue their journey.

EPIDEMIC OF LOCKJAW AMONG HORSES FEARED

Elizabeth, Aug. 22.—Dr. F. A. Zucker, city veterinarian, reports that an epidemic of lockjaw is imminent among horses here. Dr. Zucker has treated many animals by injecting antitoxine and has been successful in most cases.

He urges owners to be careful in the treatment of cuts and other wounds suffered by their horses in order to prevent the spread of the disease.

QUICK PROGRAM OF THRILLS BY FLIERS

No Tiresome Waits Between Daring Feats at the Aviation Meet.

There will be flying at the Plainfield Driving Park tomorrow and Saturday, regardless of the weather conditions. Aviators Lincoln Beachey and Beckwith Havens will carry out a definite program between 3:30 and 5 o'clock on both afternoons and there will be no long, tiresome waits. Following is the program of events:

3.30 p. m.—Exhibition flight by Beachey, who will show the trick flying for which he is famous. Beachey will use the machine which has been specially built for him to try for the world's altitude record of 14,501 feet, in New York next month.

3:40 p. m.—An exhibition flight by Beckwith Havens, using the machine with which he played an important part in the military manoeuvres in Connecticut last week.

3:45 p. m.—A five mile race between the two aeroplanes, crossing the line for the start at the same time.

4:10 p. m.—Bomb dropping at a target painted in the center of the field to represent a battleship. The aviators will use oranges for bombs.

4:25 p. m.—Carrying the U. S. mail by Beachey from the Driving Park to Plainfield by aeroplane. Letters and cards may be posted at the Driving Park and will be stamped with a special stamp. "By Aeroplane Mail Route."

4:35 p. m.—An altitude flight by both aviators. They will ascend to a height of 5,000 feet or more and shut off their motors and glide back to the field. Beachey will do his thrilling spiral and "Dip of Death," dropping at an angle of 70 degrees from a height of 5,000 feet or more, and landing on the spot he started from. In this drop, Beachey travels at more than two miles a minute.

4:50 p. m.—Finale. The two aviators will ascend and go through a series of startling evolutions together, Beachey diving beneath Havens and performing his original aeroplane version of the "Turkey Trot" and the "Texas Tommy" dances.

"I hope all Jersey turns out to see Beachey fly," said Beckwith Havens, in speaking of the coming meet. "He is certainly a marvel and will startle even those who have seen a lot of flying by other aviators. In fact, compared with his acrobatic stunts, New Jersey has never had any real flying. I can put my Curtiss machine through some pretty nifty stunts, but being reasonably conservative and having the average desire to live to see the aeroplane become an every day commercial utility, I have no intention of trying to imitate Beachey. No one is likely to dispute his well deserved title of 'The man who shakes dice with death daily.'"

Being modest, Havens does not tell of the chances he takes and of the aerial acrobatics he performs quite as easily as Beachey. Havens is enthusiastic about the use of the aeroplane in warfare. He is a member of the New York State Guard and used his Curtiss biplane in th recent manoeuvres in Connecticut with great success, being attached to Governor Dix's staff. He did scouting duty daily from the Blue Army's headquarters, along with the regular army aviators, Lieutenant Milling and Lieutenant Fulois, and has as he expresses it, "learned a lot about the use of the aeroplane in warfare in the future."

"Governor Dix watched the manoeuvres with the greatest interest," said Havens, "and particularly the work of the military aviators. New York has the distinction of being the first state to use the aeroplane in practical military work, and I believe that the State Guard will soon own one or more machines as a part of their equipment.

"We took a lot of chances in scouting for the enemy, flying over a country that was hilly and wooded and affording but few landing places. It was a case of putting your faith in your motor and going out regardless of the rough country. This is, of course, exactly what would happen in actual warfare. However, I think everyone will agree that the Connecticut manoeuvres proved the absolute necessity of adequate force of aviators and machines in the various State Guard organizations, as well as the regular army."

Havens, like a number of other guardsmen taking part in the manoeuvres, succumbed to the hardships of the campaign, coupled with the social functions incident to the Blue Army's stay at Stamford, Bridgeport and Stratford, and was brought to a New York hospital on the last day of the battle suffering from malaria. He has fully recovered, however, and will fly at the Driving Park tomorrow and Saturday.

BORO DEMOCRATS TO CAMPAIGN STRONGLY

Plants Afoot For Militant Organization In Wilson and Marshall's Interest.

A score or more of the North Plainfield Democrats met in Debele's Hall on Chatham street, last night, when plans were made for an organization meeting to be held next Monday night in the hall. It is expected that former Mayor William L. Saunders, of Rockview avenue, who is a member of the State finance committee of the Democratic party, will address the meeting.

David Bodine, who was secretary of last year's Wilson Club, has communicated with Mr. Saunders, who is in Maine, and has received assurance of his attendance. J. W. Conroy, president of last year's club, will be temporary chairman of the new club, which is to be organized under the name of "The North Plainfield Wilson and Marshall Club."

At the meeting Monday night the matter of obtaining suitable rooms for the club will be taken up. The Democrats at last night's gathering thought that a banner strung across Somerset street, near Front street, would be an excellent adjunct to the club activities. Postal cards and literature on the campaign are to be distributed and everything will be done to make the local campaign vigorous.

The matter of a councilmanic ticket will be considered and strong candidates will be groomed for a place in the borough government. The terms of Morris C. VanArsdale and William J. Buttfield expire this year.

ALLEGED PROPRIETOR OF DISORDERLY HOUSE HELD

Dominick Paretto, who has been wanted by the Plainfield police since last November as one of the alleged proprietors of a disorderly house on Cottage place, surrendered yesterday at Elizabeth, and was held by Judge Atwater in $1,000 bail for trial on October 7. Paretto was jointly indicted with Dominick Rocco and Ralph Matthews following the raid.

Rocco at the time was arrested and put under $1,000 bail, but forfeited the amount and has disappeared. Matthews is out on bail. Paretto's mother a short time ago consulted local counsel, and was advised to have her son give himself up.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIOR BOYS CAMP OUT FOR THE DAY

Fifteen members of the Y. M. C. A. junior department left the association building on a hike this morning in charge of Henry Welle and E. C. Ostlin. The boys hiked to a point in the mountains in the vicinity of the baby camp where a camp fire was built and an out-door lunch prepared. Lunch boxes, consisting of a plentiful supply of frankfurters and rolls were carried by each lad and the meat took the form of "hot dogs" after it was roasted over the camp fire. Each one of the picnicers took a hand in the story telling and popular songs were sung around the fire.

The return trip was made early in the afternoon in time for the regular afternoon's plunge in the tank at the Y. M. C. A. A number of these outings have been planned by the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. and the excursions will be conducted weekly.

FUNERAL OF T. C. ALDRICH.

The funeral services of Thomas C. Aldrich was held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the late home on Grove street, the borough, where there was a large gathering of friends and neighbors. Rev. Frank Fletcher, of the borough, formerly pastor of the New Market Baptist church, officiated. The remains were sent this afternoon to Manchester, N. H., where the burial will take place tomorrow.

LAD BREAKS HIS ARM.

Frank Cousins, aged eight years, of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home, while playing about the grounds, this morning, fell and broke his arm. He was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital, where the bones were set. The lad is reported as doing well.

SOMNAMBULIST BADLY INJURED

Mrs. Catherine Day Falls Downstairs While Walking In Her Sleep.

SHE IS 80 YEARS OLD

Her Great Age Makes Her Hurts and Shock of the Accident Serious—Both Wrists Broken and Body Much Contused.

Mrs. Catherine Day, aged nearly 80 years, of 230 Somerset street, is in a critical condition in Muhlenberg Hospital, suffering with contused wounds of the body, eyes and nose and with two broken wrists, the result of a fall at her home, early yesterday morning. Owing to her advanced age the physicians do not look for speedy recovery.

Mrs. Day was walking about her room, supposedly in her sleep, and going out into the hallway to the head of the stairs, lost her balance and fell the entire distance to the first floor.

Other members of the family were aroused and hastening to learn the cause of the noise, found the aged woman lying at the bottom of the stairs in an unconscious condition and helpless. A physician was summoned and she was removed to the hospital.

Mrs. Day's age makes her injuries exceedingly serious. She is suffering also from shock attendant on the accident.

WORK ON ROCK MEMORIAL IS STEADILY ADVANCING

Co. K, Second Infantry, N. G. N. J., of this city, and Camp No. 98, P. S. of A., of Dunellen, are included among the more recent contributors to the Washington Rock Memorial Fund, which was started by Continental Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The total amount of the fund to date, exclusive of the original $500 in hand, is $2,079.49, and it is still gradually growing.

The work on the memorial is well advanced, having been started several weeks ago, and many Plainfielders have been sufficiently interested to walk to the Rock and watch the progress and take a look at the plans. The following have contributed to the fund recently:

Co. K, Second Infantry, N. G. N. J., Camp 98, P. S. of A., Dunellen; Mrs. Emily B. Corey, W. W. Howland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart H. Patterson, the Misses Patterson and William Thorn.

PLAINFIELD BABY IN ASBURY PARK PARADE

Among the 705 entries in the twenty-second annual children's carnival and baby parade held at Asbury Park yesterday afternoon was one from this city and three from Westfield. The Plainfield entry was Richard Leigh Melick, aged 7. The Westfield representatives were Lucy Amy Williams, aged 10; Charles Roga Williams, aged 6, and Billie B. Dixey, aged 5.

Although the contestants named were not awarded any of the special prizes they will each receive a Sterling silver loving cup presented to all participants in the pageant.

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

New Providence.

Miss Ruth V. Howard, of South street, Murray Hill, left Tuesday for a week's stay at Ocean Grove and Asbury Park.

William A. Crane, William D. Clark, Luther V. Badgley and Jarvis J. Badgley returned Tuesday from a fishing trip to Green Pond. The combined catch numbered eighteen fine pickerel and perch.

Mrs. A. H. Ball and family, of Passaic street, left yesterday for a short stay at Lake Hopatcong.

The railroad officials have had the rail on the easterly side of their Murray Hill station removed and are now using the plot that was maintained as a lawn to the circle for an ingress and egress for express purposes. The fence shutting off all communication with the southerly side of the station, which was erected by order of George T. Bernard, is still there.

Miss May E. Kennedy, of Springfield avenue, left Wednesday for a two weeks' stay with her cousins, the Misses Eleanor and Edna Kennedy, of Borough Park, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Frank O'Rourke and family, of Berkshire, N. J., after spending the past week with her sister, Mrs. Edward Furnald, of Central avenue, returned home Wednesday, accompanied by Mrs. Furnald, who will make an extended stay with her.

Hunterdon County.

Mrs. Daisy Milne, of Glen Gardner, left yesterday for Ocean Grove, where she will spend some time before visiting relatives in Brooklyn, Orange and Plainfield.

Alvah Van Syckle, of Newark, is spending a vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Van Syckle, at Spruce Run.

Miss Jeanette Siteliff, of Glen Gardner, has as her guest Miss Radcliff, of Pittsburgh.

Samuel Humphrey and son, of Philadelphia, were Sunday guests of Mr. Humphrey's brother, former County Collector Edward Humphrey, at Glen Gardner.

Jacob Welsh, of Hampton, will soon move his family to Michigan.

A game of baseball will be played in Glen Gardner Saturday afternoon between the home team and Colored Giants, of Washington. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the Fountain Grove cemetery.

After a week at the home of her daughter in Newark, Mrs. Sarah Runyon has returned to her home in Glen Gardner.

Carlton Bradbury and son, William, of Plainfield, were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, in Glen Gardner.

Miss Sadie Hartrum has returned to her home in Glen Gardner, after a visit to her sister in High Bridge.

Miss Daisy Plum, of Clinton, is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Charles Castner, in Glen Gardner.

Frank L. Mattell, of Washington, D. C., is visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Rush, at Glen Gardner, where Mrs. Mattell and daughter are staying.

Miss Leah Ward, of Phillipsburg, is the guest of Miss Mabel Apgar at Hampton.

Mrs. William Wilson and son, of Raven Rock, are spending a few days in Hampton, at the home of her sister, Mrs. T. S. Bray.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanning, of Westfield, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Swayze, in Hampton.

$5,000 REWARD FOR MURDERERS

Offer by Whitman Follows Rockefeller Message.

SCHEPPS ADDS TO STORY.

Says Becker Sent Word to Rose to Remain Hidden, That He Had Every One Fixed and That He Need Have No Fear of Punishment.

New York, Aug. 22.—District Attorney Whitman announced that he would pay $5,000 to anybody not a member of the police department or an employee of the department who apprehended Louis Rosenberg and Harry Horowitz, wanted for the murder of Rosenthal. This announcement followed a visit from the private secretary of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The actual importance of Sam Schepps as a grand jury witness in the final proceedings, which resulted in the indictment of Lieutenant Becker, the four accused of shooting Rosenthal and Jack Sullivan and William Shapiro, became known when the main points of Schepps' evidence were ascertained. It turns out that he was, as he had boasted, the connecting link that the district attorney needed.

After a long and unimportant narration of his experiences as a friend of Jack Rose when Rose was collecting graft for Becker, Schepps testified as to what Becker had said to him about the murder of Rosenthal. In Rose's behalf Schepps called on Becker three times, twice at Becker's home in the Bronx and once at police headquarters.

Went to Becker's Home.

On the Tuesday night after the murder he went to Becker's house to tell the lieutenant that Rose was sick and discouraged and wanted some assurance that he would be protected. Night had fallen and Becker and Schepps were sitting in an unlighted room. Schepps struck a match to set fire to a cigarette.

"Don't do that, you damn fool," said Becker. "There may be detectives around this house now."

Schepps kept this incident in mind. It made him begin to doubt Becker's boasts about being able to control anybody in the police department. Becker sent word to Rose by Schepps to brace up. He said, according to Schepps, that he was the biggest man in the department, that he could control anybody in it, even the commissioner, and that there was no reason for Rose or anybody to worry about what was going to happen.

Schepps took this message to Rose who was at Harry Pollok's house. Rose wasn't satisfied. He wanted assurance that Becker had a pull with the district attorney as well as the commissioner. So Schepps trotted to Becker again, this time finding the lieutenant at police headquarters. So, while the detectives were apparently making efforts to find murderers and accomplices, Schepps was calmly chatting with Becker in the office of the strong arm squad, about 100 feet from the entrance of the detective bureau.

Could Fix District Attorney.

"You go back and tell Rose," said Becker, "that I can fix the district attorney all right. He can't do anything without evidence from the police, can he? Well, he won't get any evidence."

"But he has got the number of Shapiro's car," said Schepps, who had been reminded by Rose not to forget this fact.

"Well, that will do him a lot of good, won't it?" Becker said, scornfully. "What's he going to get out of that? Libby and Shapiro will stick, and all Rose will be asked about is why he hired the car. He won't be hurt."

Schepps looked around and took in the numerous uniformed and plain clothes men that were passing in the corridors and in and out of Becker's office. The prospect wasn't reassuring. He suggested that a lot of trouble would be made over the murder. Becker became angry.

"You talk like a fool," he said. "Who gives a damn for a cur like Rosenthal? I tell you I've got this thing fixed. That's good enough, ain't it?"

Schepps reported again to Rose, who was weakening fast, and again Rose sent him to Becker to suggest that it might be a good thing for Rose to go to headquarters and get the questioning over with. Becker didn't approve of that at all, but Schepps assured him that Rose was half crazy and was apt to do something rash.

"Well, if the chump insists let him go," said Becker, talking to Schepps on Wednesday evening at the Becker home. "But tell him not to mention my name. They'll only ask him about the gray car any way, and he's used that a hundred times."

VERDI'S COOL CRITIC.

A Chap Who Liked to Eat His Cake and Still Have It.

When Giuseppe Verdi's opera "Aida" was first being presented to Italian audiences the composer received the following letter, dated May, 1872, from a man residing in Reggio, a town near Parma, and about 100 miles from Milan:

"Much Honored Signor Verdi—The 2d of this month I went to Parma, drawn there by the sensation made by your opera 'Aida.' So great was my curiosity that one-half hour before the commencement of the piece I was already in my place, No. 120. I admired the mise en scene. I heard with pleasure the excellent singers, and I did all in my power to let nothing escape me. At the end of the opera I asked myself if I was satisfied, and the answer was 'No!' I started back to Reggio, and listened in the railway carriage to the opinions given upon 'Aida.' Nearly all agreed in considering it a work of the first order.

"I was then seized with the idea of hearing it again, and on the 4th I returned to Parma. I made unheard of efforts to get a reserved seat. As the crowd was enormous I was obliged to throw away five lire in order to witness the performance with any comfort.

"I arrived at this conclusion about it: It is an opera in which there is absolutely nothing which causes any enthusiasm or excitement, and without the pomp of the spectacle the public would not stand it to the end. When it has filled the house two or three times it will be banished to the dust of the archives.

"You can now, dear Signor Verdi, picture to yourself my regret at having spent—on two occasions—32 lire. Add to this the aggravating circumstances that I depend on my family, and this money troubles my rest like a frightful specter! I therefore frankly address myself to you in order that you may send me the amount. The account is as follows:

	Lire.
Railroad—going	2.60
Railroad—returning	3.30
Opera tickets	8.00
Detestable supper at the station	2.00
	15.90
Twice	2
	31.80

"Hoping that you will deliver me from this embarrassment, I salute you from my heart. Bertani.

"P. S.—My address: Prospero Bertani, via San Domenico, No. 5."

Verdi happened to be more amused than offended at the cool impertinence of this amateur critic, and he instructed his publisher to forward Signor Bertani the sum demanded minus 4 lire. By way of justifying this deduction he wrote, "The sum is not quite so much as the gentleman demands, but I think he might have taken his supper at home!"—Exchange.

How It Affected Him.

A young lawyer asked a veteran at the bar if a lawyer ever got used to losing cases.

"I can't say, sir," responded the veteran. "I really can't say; but, as for myself, I am very much in the same fix as the man from Osceola who had been defeated for office. He was telling me about it and, in order to acquit himself of the charge of being a bad loser, kept interjecting the remark that he was not complaining. 'It doesn't pay to complain,' I said, agreeing with him.

"'No, sir, it doesn't,' he exclaimed, 'and I won't complain, but at the same time I want you to understand, sir, that it makes me durned sick.'"—Kansas City Journal.

Just a Jolt.

"What's the matter?"

"Oh, nothing."

"No, no; don't tell me that. Something disagreeable or discouraging has happened. Your look shows it."

"Well, if you insist on knowing, I started out this morning feeling as gay and chipper as a boy of twenty, but a little while ago I met a former sweetheart of mine, and she told me that her second daughter had just graduated from high school. Say, are the wrinkles around my eyes very noticeable?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

LET HIM SCOLD.

Detective Gray, of the Central Railroad of New Jersey force, is upset because the newspapers and residents of Dunellen have seen fit to criticise the action of his men in a recent escapade some of these fellows had in that town. The chief is entitled to his opinion, but he must at the same time realize that others are entitled to say what they think also. It is generally believed that many men holding railroad detective commissions are not fit for the jobs, and that some of them have served time as crooks. They may perhaps have reformed upon getting their jobs, but such reformation has not made them any gentler in handling prisoners, under the cover of the law, than they were before in handling citizens whom perhaps they held up.

Railroad detectives are appointed by the Governor upon the request of the legal departments of the various roads. The names presented for appointment signify no more to the executive than would an equal amount of Greek and Latin. The State does not provide any fund with which to investigate whether these men are fit to hold the places, or whether they are a lot of converted blacklegs, confidence men, or hold-up artists. Some of the things that they have done, such as the recent shooting of a boy by a railroad detective should be investigated by grand juries, and one or two of them should be punished to show others that they have no business to fire when they feel like it.

Chief Gray can scold the newspapers, the officials of Dunellen or any other town, and can talk all he wants. His opinion may not coincide with the opinion of a large majority of the citizens of the State, but the chances are that this majority is right.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey has probably the finest set of higher officials that is to be found on any road in the State. They go out of their way to please the public. We doubt whether any of the officers of the road would approve of the action of Chief Gray in appearing at the Dunellen Council meeting on Tuesday night and reading a diatribe against those who do not happen to agree with him.

If such action as that which took place at Dunellen a short time ago is repeated the Chief certainly does not think that the newspapers and people are going to remain quiet, and not criticise the work of his men. His attitude of holding himself above the summons which the local officials issued for him, and assuming an attitude of indifference to a minor court, which he may consider beneath his notice, is not creditable to the man or the company for which he works. The law is the law, whether administered in the backroom of a grocery store, or in a million dollar courthouse, and the sooner some people realize that fact the better it will be for the cause of law enforcement.

Ocimum virdie is coming to the rescue! At least that is what they say it is going to do. What is it? Those who know say that it is a plant which will drive mosquitoes away. The United States Bureau of Plant Industry explains that it is a native of Southern Nigeria, West Africa. The director of the Agricultural Department of Ibada obtained the seed and says that its foliage while green is hung in dwelling houses to keep away the pests, and that the dried plant is burned in the open for the same purpose. If the plant will do all that is claimed for it it will prove popular in New Jersey, and the man who first successfully markets it will soon have a fortune. It is to be tried in Essex county next year, and the inhabitants of the rest of the State will watch the experiment with much interest.

Yesterday the babies ruled in Asbury Park. The famous parade of the little tots has been a feature of that resort for years, but usually it has been held about two weeks later in the season. Bad weather at the later time of the year, due to the prevalence of the equinoctial storms about the first of September, has changed the date, but nothing can change this great annual show. It is one of the most remarkable events held in this country.

They say that the Standard Oil Company is planning to raise the price of gasoline in and around New York city up to the thirty cent mark. Just what excuse there is for such action is hard to understand. We have not heard of any shortage over past years in the supply, or any great increase in the cost of manufacture. The corporation merely is going to raise the price so that it can squeeze more inflated dividends out of the public.

With potatoes at fifty cents a basket, tomatoes at thirty-five, and other vegetables at correspondingly low prices, the high cost of meat does not seem to be such an awful obstacle to those who are willing to be vegetarians.

These are the days when the festive commuter gardener strives to make his neighbor jealous by describing his tomatoes, corn and cucumbers.

THE FORUM.

ILLS OF SOCIETY.

Aug. 17.

Editor, Daily Press:

I have read attentively the editorial in your issue of 10th inst, and I have reread it, large caps and all, which I suppose were indicated by Mr. Herman and I ask myself in great perplexity what does it all amount to. These be wild and whirling words, but how do they throw any light on the situation, or suggest any rule of action for the betterment of present political, economic and social conditions? It seems to me such articles can only add fuel to discontent and make men the more ready to discard the institutions they have, without giving careful consideration to what is to take their place. Does Mr. Herman in his reading of history find record of any period when the people were "happy, peaceful and contented?" If so, I should be glad to be referred to it.

As I read history it is the story of the failure of society to so frame governmental institution as to prevent the rule of the big brained and powerful to the disadvantage of those less favorably endowed by nature. All government is necessarily experimental, and unless some miraculous change comes over human nature, it must always remain so. No set of institutions however cunningly devised will ever bring about a social milenium. Mr. Herman seems to think that we have outgrown the constitution framed by the Fathers. I think he should rather question whether we are working within that constitution to the best advantage. The men who framed that instrument were profound political philosophers and statesmen; they did not build for an agricultural population alone; they were sketching only the broad outlines of government—outlines within which the several political organs established were to work. Very broad powers were given, ready for conditions to the framers unknown, and which they did not attempt to forsee, but which they certainly dimly contemplated. Their vision far outran the thinly peopled Atlantic coast line; they knew that beyond the Alleghanies were broad fertile plains, and beyond those the great Mississippi with its lands further beyond; and that great domain they had marked out for their people. Surely, anyone who reads with care the wonderful document which they produced cannot accuse them of narrowness. And it is not narrow. Take the one clause giving Congress the right to regulate interstate commerce, and note what powers undreamt of in 1787 have arisen therefrom.

Again, Mr. Herman says we must hear more of the Nation and less of the State, and yet it is the State government which comes closest to us, and controls our daily actions. To each its powers, with no encroachment from either governing authority. The people rule through Nation and State—there can be no conflict between them.

The real trouble is to be found in the indifference of the people to the fact that they are the ultimate governing body, and that by virtue of this fact grave responsibilities rest upon them which they have basely shirked. If the old-fashioned primary system broke down, whose fault was it? If the new system in turn falls under the control of professional politicians, whose fault will it be? Certainly as Mr. Herman says we want co-operation, but it must be a co-operation of the citizens in the intelligent performance of their political duties. How many men sign petitions for primary candidates out of good nature, and because they cannot bear to say no to a friend, or to the friend of a friend? How many earnestly consider the qualifications of the petitioner? How can we expect any institutions to work successfully when so little attention is paid to the personal of those who are to work them? We do not want Revolution (either in diamond type or big caps), we want a national development of existing powers, and a thoughtful addition to them where necessary. We do not want to so add to the national power as to make it impossible for the Federal Government to exercise it—we do not want to reduce the States to impotence.

We do want honesty in private life, in business, both big and little, and in the exercise of administrative and legislative authority. In a recent issue of the New York Times was a horrifying account of a traffic in diseased meat, so commonly devised as to escape both Federal and State interference; and yet this business so destructive of health and life is conducted by American citizens, who presumably have large interests in the preservation of society, and who would appeal to the law if they thought those interests threatened. Do these men want good government? Look at the small tradesmen who use false weights and measures; who weigh in the containing paper or box; who adulterate their goods. Are these practices any less reprehensible than those of big business?

No—we do not want Progressiveism if it means Revolution—the discarding of the old and the adoption of the new methods, the only purpose of which would be to try to protect the people against their own indifference. We want such contribution of time and money from citizens as may be necessary to work our present institution successfully, for the benefit of the many. It would take too much space to prove their sufficiency for this purpose, but the political student will have no difficulty in seeing it. Let us forego appeals to discontent, and make appeals to citizens to honestly and conscientiously discharge their political duties, and to regard their duties as obligations.

LOVES THE TRUTH.

Aug. 22, 1912.

Editors, Daily Press:

The Plainfield Courier-News is a stand-pat Republican Taft platform supporter. July 8 that paper said, "Wilbur F. Wakeman, secretary of Protective Tariff League, declares that the election of Woodrow Wilson to the Presidency and enactment into laws of his theories on the tariff would cause hundreds of thousands to be thrown out of employment." And on August 11 that same paper said, "The voters put the Democrats into power in 1892 and then came soup houses and a general financial depression. Mills were forced to close, and wages took a downward revision."

I wrote two letters to the Courier News, and also called on the editor in person, asking Mr. Wakeman for proof of his extravagant statement, which was made to throw sand into the eyes of voters. I also wrote a reply to their untruthful statements about "soup houses," and "reduced wages," and I stated that in the interests of truth my letters ought to have been printed, but NO, NOT a word has appeared in that paper, which makes it appear to me that to them Taftism and Republicanism, even when wrong, is more important than truth. I would rather stand alone in the right than with the multitude in the wrong.

Kindly print this in your valuable paper. It may help to remove some of the sand from the eyes of some of your readers, and lead them into the light and help bring prosperity once more to our, at present, unfortunate country.

DR. ELIOT CRITICIZES MISS JANE ADDAMS

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 22.—Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, at his summer home in Mount Desert, in an interview yesterday, disapproved of women's participation in politics and condemned Miss Jane Addams for seconding Roosevelt's nomination.

Dr. Eliot said:

"Women have no proper share in a political convention. Never before in our history as a democratic nation have we gone so far as to permit women to nominate a candidate for the Presidency. Miss Addams received a great deal of popular acclaim when she seconded Mr. Roosevelt's nomination. It was a very spectacular proceeding, but it was in very bad taste.

"I also understand Colonel Roosevelt had the bad taste to compliment her publicly on her action and thank her. That, too, was spectacular. Lately he seems to have been playing cards. And I was surprised that he should so unreservedly play the cards of the woman's movement in his convention. I think he will repent doing so.

"I admire Jane Addams for what she has done at Hull House. She is doing a splendid work in her way. But I dislike to see her held up in the limelight as an example for all other women to follow.

"We need women to bear children and attend to their homes. The men ought to be able to regulate their own politics to meet all needs, without direct assistance of the women."

UNION COUNTY'S COLD WATER TICKET NAMED

Elizabeth, Aug. 22.—Nominations were made by the Union County Prohibition party at its convention in W. C. T. U. Hall. The ticket is as follows:

For surrogate, Frederick W. Ellsworth, of Westfield; for Assembly, W. M. H. King, Summit; Eugene A. Smith, Union, and Irving W. Story, Rahway. For coroner, Peter N. Dalley, Elizabeth.

The new county chairman is Eugene A. Smith, of Union; secretary, Peter Dalley, of Elizabeth; and treasurer, I. M. Brookfield, of Rahway. The executive committee is made up of Frederick W. Ellsworth, Dr. T. H. Tomlinson, of Plainfield, and W. H. King, of Summit.

Plans were inaugurated for a vigorous campaign in the county.

Mrs. William Camp, of West Fifth street, is registered at the Whitfield, Ocean Grove, for the next three weeks.

LIEUTENANT MOORE ELECTED CAPTAIN OF CO. C., 2D REGT.

Elizabeth, Aug. 22—First Lieutenant Raymond R. Moore, has been elected captain of Company C, Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., to succeed R. J. Montgomery, who was cashiered by a general court-martial several weeks ago as the result of charges of falsifying records brought against him by Major William B. Martin. Lieutenant Moore was elected over Second Lieutenant William R. Grant on the first ballot. His election was then made unanimous. He has been in command of the company since Captain Montgomery was placed under military arrest last May.

Lieutenant Grant was unanimously elected first lieutenant. First Sergeant James R. Dobb was elected second lieutenant on the fifth ballot. He was opposed by Sergeant B. S. Bowles and Corporal Frank Lynch. Sergeant Bowles withdrew after the fourth ballot.

The election was conducted by Major Conrad Hall.

LOTT WILL MAKE FIGHT AGAINST G. O. P. TICKET

Elizabeth, Aug. 22.—While it is generally believed that the Roosevelt men in Union county will put a ticket in the field, it is probable petitions will be filed for only six freeholder candidates, because Van Wyck Lott, who is identified with the Progressive movement and who has the support of the leaders, intends to make a fight at the primary election next month in an effort to beat the slate put in the field by the Republican county organization.

The Lott's friends are confident he will be one of the seven nominees chosen next month. The Progressives will hold a county meeting Tuesday night, when their course of action will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, with regard to a third party ticket to be decided upon. The meeting city.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

Blouses That Are Becoming to the Very Slim Woman.

Very pretty lace blouses with waist belts of colored silk and basques front and back, but cut away on the hips, are being a good deal worn. They are particularly becoming to slim people, and one was seen this week which looked very well with a trim black moire skirt. It was in Irish lace with long sleeves, turned back collar and cuffs of black moire and a folded waist belt of the same. The basque behind was about a foot long; in front it was a little longer.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

BLUEFISH.

THE bluefish is a favorite in most households. The bluefish has more or less oil distributed throughout its body. Therefore it is rather rich and not good for those with delicate digestions. All fish should, of course, be perfectly fresh and should be well cooked.

Use For Small Fish.

Fried Bluefish.—Small sized bluefish may be fried. Clean them and wipe dry. Then sprinkle with flour and season with salt and pepper. The fish should be cooked in butter or lard until a golden brown. When done take them out and drain. Serve and garnish with parsley.

Broiled Bluefish.—The broiler should be well buttered and the fish laid on it with the inside toward the fire. When that side is browned turn the other. Then place on a buttered pan and stand in the oven for a few minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve with the following sauce:

Sauce.—Put two tablespoonfuls of butter into a frying pan and when very hot add a tablespoonful of minced parsley, a tablespoonful of vinegar, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, half a teaspoonful of salt and a quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper. Let these boil and pour over the fish.

Tempting Recipes.

Steamed Bluefish.—Clean and wash the fish. Place the tail of the fish in its mouth and fasten it there. Then lay the fish on a dish and pour over it half a pint of vinegar seasoned with half a teaspoonful of salt and a saltspoonful of pepper. Let this stand on the fish for an hour in the refrigerator, then pour off the vinegar. Place the fish in the steamer over boiling water for twenty minutes or more, according to the size of the fish.

Baked Bluefish.—Clean, wipe the fish dry and rub with salt before stuffing and sewing up. Slash the sides of the fish in two places and put strips of salt fat pork into the cuts. Skewer into the shape of the letter S. Rub with butter, salt and pepper outside and place in the pan. Dredge with flour. Put in the oven without water and baste when the fish is brown. Serve with drawn butter sauce.

Milady's Mirror

For Malodorous Perspiration.

Certain parts of the body perspire more than others, and often there is a very offensive odor. Absolute cleanliness is the best safeguard against such a misfortune, not only for the body itself, but for the clothing. A silk bodice saturated over and over again with perspiration becomes too offensive to be worn, as those who have to sit in street cars and crowd into shops very well know. The better way is to wear only washable goods in hot weather and use fresh shields every day, even if one must stay up half an hour to wash them and take an extra few moments to insert them.

Many times such a condition comes about from the lack of thorough rinsing after using soap. Any remaining particles soon decompose; hence the odor.

After the bath, and it may be needed two or three times a day, a good cologne should be applied to the underclothing, while the wet wash cloth should have a little toilet ammonia poured on it and the parts wiped well. Salicylic soap may be used to wash the shields. A cake costs but a dime or maybe two at the drug store. Have an ounce of boracic acid and the same of salicylic acid in powder and dust with this before putting on the garments. When the shields are to be replaced drench them with cologne. There is a great deal of rectified spirits in cologne that helps in such cases.

Where the head perspires too much the usual remedy is to shampoo too often, so the roots of the hair rot, just as will the roots of a plant that is watered too much. The very best and surely the easiest method is to let the hair hang and dry out the perspiration. A dry shampoo must of necessity be used where a woman has to spend her days in an office. She can fill the head with a mixture of very finely sifted cornmeal and powdered orris root at night, equal parts, let it stay until morning and then give the thorough brushing that will require an extra half hour. On holidays, Sundays and at night when possible the hair should be aired and a regular shampoo only once in a couple of weeks given.

There is brushing and brushing, and the right way is to hold the hair out from the head and pass the brush through each tress from the scalp to the ends with long, steady strokes. The brushing should be felt only pleasantly on the scalp, not a sort of "banging," but just enough to stimulate the glands to secrete the oil instead of its running through the long hair. After a shampoo use a little cologne with massage on the scalp and always loosen and brush the hair at bedtime.

To Have Clear Skin.

A French physician says the woman who would have a beautiful complexion must live plainly, avoiding rich meats, greasy soups, too much game, heavy wines and highly seasoned food.

Wealthy people who live highly and dress improperly often have fine features which are marred by a miserable complexion. Women in the middle class of life, who live more simply and eat plainer, simpler and more wholesome food, often have much finer complexions and do not seem to grow sallow and faded so soon. Their habit of going to bed early and getting up early and getting the health giving morning air also makes a fresher, clearer complexion.

One cannot eat and dress as one pleases, regardless of rules of health, and have a pretty complexion. One must live as nature says is best if one wishes to be beautiful and healthy.

It is said that carrots are very good for the complexion, and if properly cooked they are very good to eat.

Water Waves and Curling Irons.

Beyond a doubt hot irons are the shortest and least difficult of the routes to wavy hair. The straight haired girl will suffer no harmful effects by resorting to the iron at long intervals, but if she wishes to keep her hair a crown of glory she will use the hot iron sparingly indeed.

Safer and more natural is the water wave. This lasts well on some hair, even on straight hair, while with other girls it is not successful. Failure is usually due to oil in the hair.

The hair is wet and brushed back flat to the head. It is then pushed out from the forehead with a comb for about an inch and held in place with small hairpins. This is repeated until the entire face is circled. Then another section of the hair is combed up and again pinned in place, the process being repeated until the entire head is covered with a series of little ridges.

Are We Deteriorating?

Dr. Wood, of Columbia University, after a careful study of the conditions of the American school children, finds that 75 per cent. of the twenty million pupils who attend the public schools are defective. His conclusions are as follows:

From 1½ to 2 per cent. or 400,000 of these have organic heart disease.

Probably 5 per cent.; 1,000,000 at least, have now or have had tuberculosis of the lungs.

About 5 per cent., or 1,000,000 have spinal curvature, flat feet or some other moderate deformatory serious enough to interfere to some degree with health.

Over 5 per cent., or a million, have defective hearing.

About 25 per cent., or 5,000,000, have defective vision.

About 25 per cent., or 5,000,000, are suffering from malnutrition, in many cases due in part at least to one or more of the other defects enumerated.

Over 30 per cent., or 6,000,000, have enlarged tonsils, adenoids or enlarged cervical glands which need attention.

Over 50 per cent., or 10,000,000, (in some schools as high as 98 per cent.), have defective teeth which are interfering with health.

Several millions of the children possess, each, two or more of the handicapping defects.

It must be admitted that Dr. Wood's estimate does not speak very well for advanced civilization. If, in spite of all effort to better the human race by the most improved methods that modern science can supply, three-fourths of the members of the rising generation are physically deficient, is it not an indication that the situation is not fully understood?

Probably the most serious arraignment of the nation is made in the statement that 25 per cent. of the school children are today suffering from malnutrition. In this land of plenty that is a situation that should not exist. In many cities the system of furnishing free lunches for children, or lunches at a price that puts them within reach of all, has been tried with success. It is to be hoped that the time will soon come when the penny lunch, or the free lunch, will be as much a part of the school system as the free text books.

Men; Not Things.

The trouble with modern life is that we are putting the accent upon things rather than upon men. Automobiles, big houses, fine clothes, expensive living and the rest. We clamor and scramble over one another to get them.

The remedy will not be found in any superficial economic cure-all, such as socialism or collective ownership. Dogs will still quarrel over the bones.

The hope of the future lies in teaching men to look upon human life as a chance to express the Spirit and not to indulge the flesh, and the value we put upon manhood and womanhood will be its mark.—Chas. A. Richmond, President of Union College, Indiana.

The Value of Play.

Self improvement societies that have tried to find the best way to live have never discovered anything more valuable than play.

A man may shake up a continent by his energy, or build kingdoms by his brains, but, so far as his personal life is concerned, he has been a failure if he has not learned to play. Play, of course, is not confined to games. It may be a walk in the woods, a row on the river, a sail on the lake; to some, tending their garden; to others, chopping wood. To play is to follow the irresponsible inclination which gives the most pleasure with the least mental strain and bodily wear.

Ideal play is a brief period of carefree living snatched from the regular routine. It is enjoying the pleasure of being alive; it is absorbing from the earth and air and sun without conscious effort. More and more we are trying to teach the children how to play, but we do not know ourselves. We send our children to the public playground, and go on ourselves getting heavy and gloomy and nervous. We shall be happier if we alter this.—Answers, London.

GREATEST PLAYGROUND YEAR.

This will be the greatest playground year in the history of New York City, according to Park Commissioner Stover. Figures for the first seven months of 1912 show that 2,859,900 children have been in attendance at the park play centers in Manhattan and Richmond. This enormous attendance is a net gain of 1,300,000 over the same months in 1911.

Filipinos Who Can Climb Trees in Monkey Fashion.

Young students who are interested in the history of our country are aware that when the United States assumed jurisdiction over the Philippine Islands many strange tribes of people came under the rule of Uncle Sam. Some were civilized and law abiding, but many could have been classed under the head of "undesirable citizens." Indeed, some of the tribes were little better than savages. Under Spanish rule these people were given no opportunity to improve their condition, but since Uncle Sam took charge schools have been established, and even the wildest tribes are learning the arts of civilization. Among these are the Igorrotes, a tribe of Luzon, who were among the wildest of them all. Recently a tribe of sixty of these queer people were on exhibition in London. Among their accomplishments is that of being remarkable toe dancers, metal workers and experts at tattooing. Both men and women are expert spear throwers, and the picture shows that they can climb trees with as much ease as monkeys.

New Blind Man's Buff.

When this game is played with care and some little art it is very amusing. The blind man does not have his eyes bandaged; he needs them and all his wits besides.

A white cloth is hung against the wall in the same way as for magic lantern pictures. The blind man is seated in front of it on a stool low enough to prevent his own shadow from being thrown on the cloth. At some distance behind him is placed, on a high stand or other suitable support, a single lamp, and all the other lights are put out.

When all is ready the persons in the party form a sort of procession and pass one after the other between the lamp and the back of the blind man, who is forbidden to turn his head. The light of the lamp throws upon the white cloth a succession of clearly defined shadows.

As the shadows pass before him the blind man is obliged to name aloud the person whose portrait he imagines he sees in profile, and the mistakes made cause much amusement. Every one has the privilege of changing his appearance as much as possible by stooping, limping, making faces or trying in any way to make himself unrecognizable. Forfeits may be given by the person guessed if desired.

Reason For Haycocks.

Farmers try to get their hay "made" as soon as possible, so that it shall escape the rain, for rain washes the goodness out of hay, leaving it very poor food for animals.

That is why, instead of being left spread about the ground to dry, hay is made up into heaps called haycocks.

Half an inch of rain means fifty tons of water on an acre of land. If the hay is spread about over the ground all those fifty tons of water wash the goodness out of the hay.

But if the crop is made into haycocks these take up only one-tenth of the space. Therefore they are washed by only one-tenth of the rain water. In other words, as you can at once see, the hay is then washed by only five instead of fifty tons of water falling upon it.

This is the reason why hay is made into haycocks.

Game of Still Palm.

This is played like blind man's buff, except when he who is blindfolded counts ten and says, "Still palm, no moving," all must stand still.

How Much He Will Know!

I'm six years old and go to school.
I always mind the teacher's rule.
I'm 'bout as good, I guess, you know,
As most little boys of six or so.
Sometimes grandpa asks what I'm thinking about
When I sit so still and try to find out
How many, many things there will be
That I'll know when I'm as old as he.

But yesterday right after tea,
Tom figured on his slate for me,
And he found, if I should learn each day
Just one little bit of something, say,
When I'm all grown up and my hair is white
(It's true, for my brother can figure right)
At the end of seventy years I'll know
'Bout twenty-five thousand things or so!

TOSSED BY AUTOMOBILE, FARMER IS BADLY HURT

Whitehouse, Aug. 22.—Alfred Dodge, about fifty years old, a farmer living between North Branch and Raritan, was severely injured while driving on the macadam turnpike west of North Branch. An automobile crashed into his wagon from the rear and wrecked it.

Dodge turned to the left to enter a side road at about the same time the automobile turned to the left to go around and the wreck was the result. Dodge landed on a stone pier on a small bridge at that point. He was badly cut and bruised and three ribs were fractured.

The automobile was owned by a florist from Bound Brook named Bryen. A woman, whose name was not obtained, was at the steering wheel. The machine was stopped and the injured man was taken to his home. His condition is not serious.

TOO STRENUOUS IN HIS ADVOCACY OF WILSON

Whitehouse, Aug. 22.—William Moore, colored, who says his home is in Harrisburg, Pa., was arrested at Whitehouse Station on a disorderly charge by Constable John H. Reed, and was lodged in the county jail at Flemington. Justice of the Peace Voorhees committed him for ten days.

Moore landed in town Tuesday, and had not been here more than an hour before he started talking politics, advocating Wilson for President. Soon he started a house-to-house canvass. He walked right into various homes without asking admittance, attempted to shake hands with all the occupants, and immediately began to seek votes for his favorite. Several women, who were alone in their homes, were badly frightened at his actions. The authorities were notified, and his arrest and sentence followed.

FRECH, OF SOMERVILLE, ENTERS CONGRESS RACE

Trenton, Aug. 22—The latest aspirant to announce his candidacy in the Fourth Congressional District is John A. Frech, of Somerville, the home of former Assemblyman LaMonte, who also is a candidate. Besides LaMonte and Frech, the other Democrats seeking the nominations are Allan B. Walsh, Washington E. Sperry, Colonel William Libbey and Charles J. Blake.

Taft Republicans, in their search for a business man who will enter the race for the Congressional nomination, received another disappointment yesterday, when Charles Weekes announced that he would not be a candidate.

It is also definitely known that Charles Howell Cook does not intend to accept the tender of the Republican support.

William E. Blackman, a lawyer, has filed his petition as a candidate for the nomination and Prosecutor William J. Crossley is also being mentioned as a possibility.

SETS OUT ON CIRCUITOUS PATH TO A MAYORALTY

Elizabeth, Aug. 22—At a mass-meeting, last night attended by more than 100 voters of the Sixth Ward General Dennis F. Collins announced that he will be a candidate for City Council from the ward. The announcement was made in response to the unanimous request of those at the meeting. After the sentiment of the meeting was ascertained, a committee was appointed to visit General Collins at his hime and ask him to appear before the meeting and tell those waiting whether he would be a candidate. Former Excise Commissioner Paul J. Carroll presided at the meeting and John Fallon acted as secretary.

The formal entrance of General Collins into the race for Council is of greatest significance in local politics. There already are two other candidates for the nomination, and the General no doubt will have a fight at the primaries, but his nomination is expected. The Republicans will put their strongest man against him without question, and he may have trouble being elected.

In the event of his election, it is expected that he will oppose Edward Nugent for president of Council, probably with a view to becoming acting mayor in the event of the resignation of Mayor Stein, if he is re-elected, to take the appointment as prosecutor, for which he is a candidate.

A FIELD CLUB AT METUCHEN.

Metuchen, Aug 22.—A new athletic association is being formed by the young men of the borough, to be called the Metuchen Field Club, and will include any man of any age interested in athletics. The number of charter members will be limited to fifty; after that an initiation fee will be charged. The next meeting will be held in the bank building this evening when officers will be elected and members of the organization committee, Messrs. Crosly Clarkson, Wesley Benner and Austin Crehoe will be present to receive names of new members.

—The young man wanted an understanding before he proposed. "Can you wash dishes" he asked. "Oh, yes," said the girl; "can you wipe 'em?" He didn't propose.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Are you still hoarse after a four days' lapse since the big show?

We mean "the hilly town" guy in the bleachers.

Wonder if they paid him to advertise the "city?"

He surely was a friend of Louis.

On the level, Newhouse, how do you feel; sore, glad or both?

Which is the better team? Who is the better twirler? Who is the loudest rooter? Who was it put the "lid" on Lidgate? Who put the "heart" in Hunter when Louis got wabbly? How many straw hats is your family minus?

How much did you annex and how much will you have for next week's battle.

Lidgate still insists that his assortment of "colves" are too good to hide behind the plate.

Sir Henry Alberts, the boy who can take care of any department of the game, did nobly behind the platter.

Eddie Stallings puts the life needed in the "pets" games. He takes all the taunts handed out to him good naturedly and he is some kidder himself.

There may be some good third sackers but take it from your Uncle Fanny Fan, that boy Mullin is the goods with a capital "G."

He makes errors. There isn't a GOOD shortstop that doesn't. He takes more chances than a Steve Brodie and he brings home more than many a player.

He's as quick as lightning—almost. His wing is one of the features of his playing and the pill travels to Bollinger on a straight line.

When he goes to the plate with a man on the bases it seems to get his Irish up and he generally brings the needed hit across.

It's about time some one came across with another athletic meet.

Plainfield has placed itself on the cinder path circuit now. A movement has been reported in the camp of the Knights of Columbus. Keep it going, push the thing along.

Now that the boroughites think they have developed enough to play the strenuous game of football, we will have some more of those good old gridiron battles.

The trophies won at Stockholm by James Thorpe, the American Indian, who captured the decathlon and the pentathlon, are now on exhibition at John Wanamaker's new building, motor entrance, in front of the Burlington Arcade. The trophy for the decathlon is a silver representation of a viking ship, the gift of the Czar of Russia, and that for the pentathlon is a bronze bust, the gift of the King of Sweden.

N. P. H. S. WILL REVIVE FOOTBALL

Interscholastic Gridiron Struggles Are Likely to Be Renewed During Coming Season.

WEALTH OF MATERIAL

Plenty of Candidates—Enthusiasm Reigns High — Coach Webster Available—Prospects of Formidable Eleven Bright.

Interscholastic football contests will again be the centering attraction on the gridiron during the coming season. After a year's retirement from this line of sport the North Plainfield High School Athletic Association has again decided to place an eleven on the field. Lack of material and a lagging interest in the sport was the cause of North Plainfield's withdrawal last year but enthusiasm reigns high in the borough now and one of the best teams ever gathered together in N. P. H. S. will represent that institution on the gridiron during the season which is so near at hand. Warriors to chase the pigskin are numerous and a wealth of fast material is at hand for organization. Although most of the veterans have either left school or have been graduated to play under the colors of some other institution those who are sounding the call for candidates say that they will have little trouble in geting out a team.

Football relations between the North Plainfield and Plainfield High Schools have always been friendly and it was with keen regret upon the part of the respective team's supporters that N. P. H. S. announced its withdrawal last season. During recent years the local High School has ruled a favorite and have as a rule won the interscholastic championship. The boroughites have always been handicapped by the limited enrollment in the school and have had to scrape and scratch in order to get a formidable eleven on the field. A decided shakeup occurred in 1910 when most of her heaviest and best warriors were graduated after a prolonged course at the institution. That was the crisis, and in 1911 it was impossible to get eleven fellows to stack up against the surrounding High School teams and the athletic board voted to drop that line of sport for a period of one year.

An announcement of a revival of football in N. P. H. S. will be welcomed by a large number of interscholastic followers and the success of the borough eleven is practically assured. The boroughites are fortunate enough to have the services of Professor George Webster to coach the team and the records of the athletic teams he has coached during his connection with N. P. H. S. have been of the highest order and his appearance on the side lines will further raise the stock for a premier eleven. A number of the borough High School athletics who were graduated last year have decided to take a post-graduated course and they will add materially in a rough and tumble fight.

—There seems to be such a "What's-the-use" air about the Taft Presidential campaign.—Baltimore Sun.

—"What party does that statesman belong to?" "He would be offended if he heard that question. You should ask what party belongs to him.'—Washington Star.

—Scientists are trying to discover a cure for the blues. Men who have tried to cure them by painting towns red find that scheme a decided failure.—Nashville Tennessean.

Maurice E. McLaughlin and T. C. Bundy of California won the national tennis doubles title on the Casino courts at Newport, R. I., before a large gallery, defeating Raymond D. Little and Gustav Touchard of New York.

WORLD'S BEST ATHLETE LIKES AUTO RACING

He May Be Seen at the Wheel of a Racing Automobile.

Jim Thorpe, the wonderful Carlisle Indian athlete, who won both the all-round athletic competitions at the Olympic games in Stockholm, may be found in a new field after the football season is over this fall.

Besides being the greatest all-round athlete the world has ever seen, Thorpe is on the All American football list and is being sought by baseball managers of the big leagues and by fight promoters as a real "white hope."

But the Carlisle wonder does not care for the professional "squared circle" or diamond and if he is found in the lists of sports after his graduation it will most likely be at the wheel of a racing automobile.

Thorpe only took up autoing when he went abroad this summer, but he is fast becoming an enthusiast and he says that if he had Andrew Carnegie's money he would make it a "hobby."

When Thorpe landed from the Finland at Stockholm and walked off the dock the first thing he saw was a Chalmers car. "That American car over there looks pretty good to me," said Thorpe, and he went over and spoke to the owner.

He happened to be a Swede and as Thorpe could not talk Swedish, or the Swede English, there was little conversation passed between them. Nevertheless Thorpe made the Swedish Chalmers owner understand that he wanted a ride and the resident of Stockholm being obliging like all the others, gave the American Indian a seat in the car and motored him around.

The Swede took to Thorpe and Thorpe took to the Swede and the Chalmers and from that time on it was a common sight during the games to see Thorpe with the Chalmers owner riding about the city and out in the country.

"We had some great rides," says Thorpe, "and once outside the city used to go like the wind. I'll bet I could win one of those Vanderbilt races with one of those cars. Anyway, if I was going to buy a car I think I would get one just like it. If the fellow who owned that one picked it out as the best when it was made 4,000 miles from Stockholm and in a foreign country I think it should be good enough for any American."

MFG. LEAGUE TO TRY BASKETBALL

Baseball Organization Will Be Swung Into An Indoor League.

SEASON DRAWING NEAR

A Number of Courts Needed—Many Teams Want to Be Entered As Contestants—Wealth of Material Waiting For This Opportunity.

Basketball is the popular topic of discussion among the Manufacturers' league magnates these days. With the close of a successful baseball season near at hand it is being planned to swing the organization into a six team basketball league. Plainfield has been a basketball-mad burg since George L. Listman established that line of sport on a firm basis in 1905. The athletic faction of the city has a host of basketball rooters and a number of cracker-jack teams enrolled among its number and plenty of interest could be enticed into an organization of that kind.

Judging from the amount of enthusiasm already aroused, the coming season will not only come up to the standard, but possibly exceed the records of all previous seasons.

There is but one drawback to hinder the progress of this work and that is the scarcity of good courts to play the games on. The only gymnasium which has a gallery for spectators around it is at the Y. M. C. A. and the schedule of that institution is so nearly filled up that it is practically impossible to arrange a program of games for six contestants and have all the games played at one place. Debele's Hall, in North Plainfield, is transformed into a basketball court during the winter months but the lighting and seating facilities at that place are so inadequate that it would be out of the question to lease the hall as it now stands. A number of the team managers have suggested Reform Hall on West Second street, as a possible acquisition for the contests. At present the hall is lying idle and with a very little remodeling could be made one of the best basketball courts in the city. The officials have agitated the question of getting a hold on Reform Hall and definite steps will probably be taken toward that end.

A number of the contesting teams in the baseball league have expressed their willingness to place a basketball quintet in the field and several cracker-jack outside fives are available. Scattered in about the various factories and other commercial houses in Plainfield, are a large number of fine basketball players and many of them are itching for just such an opportunity as this one will present to get back into the popular indoor game.

With baseball talk still flying thick and fast and the jargon of the world's series to be breaking in the regular flow of conversation relative to baseball, we catch our breath and hold it just for one moment and then exhale to announce that the basketball season is pounding at the door. The great indoor game has awakened from its hibernating berth and is full of life. It is kicking a good, strong, healthy kick, and if the portals are not swung wide in short order "Kid Basketball," all decked up in his debutante garb, will burst in on us unawares.

A meeting of the league officers will be called within the next few days and the first guns will be discharged at that time.

Proof Is the Weapon That Removes All Doubt

When Columbus told King Ferdinand that he had discovered a new land, Ferdy came right back at him with the two words that were to make Missouri famous years afterward.

When I tell you I am preparing for a big Fall season, not only big business, but big values, I don't want you to take my word for it—I WANT YOU TO MAKE ME PROVE IT.

In a very short time this new line will be ready.

Don't fail to see it—for your good as well as mine.

BOUND BROOK'S BOSS IS SOME PESSIMIST

Outlines the Cause For His Team's Downfall Last Saturday Afternoon.

Charlie Newhouse is not discouraged in the least over the showing his team put up against the Plainfield nine on the Oval, last Saturday, and he really imagines that he has cause to believe that the locals are an inferior crowd. In a letter to the manager of the New Brunswick team where his charges play next Sunday against the same bunch of players who perform here on Saturday, he has the following to say

"After witnessing the game last Sunday between the McKeesports and New Brunswicks, I have come to the conclusion that I, as manager of the Bound Brook Baseball Club, can beat New Brunswick in a series of games The first game will be played Sunday, August 25. I consider my team equally as strong as New Brunswick, having beaten Driscoll's Plainfield team twice this season. Last Saturday I was beaten by Driscoll's team at Plainfield for the reason that my pitcher was in bad condition. He notified me on Saturday morning, but I could not get another on such short notice. In the fourth inning I put my catcher in to pitch, and he held Driscoll's team to one hit for five innings, and fanned six of Dave's heavy hitters. This shows you that if my pitcher can't hold them, I have other men on the team that can.

"Hoping you will grant this favor and publish this in your paper, I am,

"Yours,

"CHARLES NEWHOUSE,
"Mgr. Bound Brook Baseball Club.

PEACE RESTORED IN THE MONROE CAMP

Sunday-school Officials Reverse Their Decision of the Previous Week.

A special meeting of the governing board of the Sunday-school Baseball League was held last night to decide the counter protest of the Monroe Avenue baseball team in regard to the decision rendered in favor of First Baptist aggregation the previous week. In the first protest which was presented by First Baptist the latter claimed that the Monroes crawled out of their contest scheduled to be played with First Baptist on August 10. The Monroes claimed that the grounds were not fit to play and that was the reason the Monroe captain exercised his authority in calling off the contest. The league officials could not see it that way but awarded the contest and the game to the team that presented the argument. The decision appeared so one-sided to the Monroe Avenue ball tossers that they threatened to withdraw from the Sunday-school league if the decision was not reversed.

A special meeting was called last night and the Monroe representative presented his counter charge. The league officials felt a little more lenient last night and saw the point brought up by the Monroe supporters. A vote was taken and the former decision thrown out. Peace and harmony now reign in the Monroe's camp and the league will now go along smoothly.

PENROSE ATTACKS HIS DETRACTORS

Declares $25,000 Archbold Letter to Be Forgery.

GOT $125,000 FOR T. R. FIGHT

Says Flinn Offered $2,000,000 to Get Seat in Senate—Van Valkenburg, He Declares, Was Saved From Bribery Conviction by Senator Quay.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The reply of Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania to the charges that he accepted $25,000 from John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company caused a big sensation. The senate galleries were packed as he began his speech.

Senator Penrose explained the $25,000 sent to him and the letters written to him by John D. Archbold. He charged that publication of letters now was in the nature of political blackmail to intimidate him. He said there was no connection between the Archbold check of $25,000 and his work on the industrial commission of the senate which was investigating the trust question in 1901.

Says Letter Is Forgery.

Penrose said that he had reason to believe the $25,000 letter was a forgery. He challenged its production. He acknowledged, however, that he received such a contribution from Archbold for the campaign.

Mr. Archbold wanted to make this further contribution, but was overruled by his associates. Penrose said that after the election he received a message from Roosevelt expressing his heartfelt appreciations for what had been accomplished in Pennsylvania. Penrose charged that William Flinn, Roosevelt's lieutenant in Pennsylvania, has made a fortune out of "crooked municipal contracts."

He declared he was chairman of the state committee and in sole charge of the campaign in Pennsylvania. Mr Archbold, Penrose said, had several talks with him and the late Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the national committee. Archbold finally agreed to contribute $125,000. Of this $100,000 went to the national committee for Roosevelt's campaign outside Pennsylvania, and the remaining $25,000 went to Pennsylvania.

Hot Shot For Opponents.

He charged further that E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor of the North American, another Roosevelt lieutenant, was arrested and indicted for bribery in 1896 and escaped conviction through the leniency of Senator Quay. Penrose charged that Flinn upon the death of Senator Quay offered him $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 if he would favor his ambition to succeed Quay in the senate. Penrose produced a letter written by Flinn in 1904 to Archbold, asking the latter to bring pressure to bear on Penrose so that he would favor Flinn's candidacy.

In reply a cipher message was sent to Flinn by Archbold. Penrose produced both the cipher and the translation.

RICH AMERICANS FLAYED.

English Newspaper Comments on Whitney's Costly Shooting Party.

London, Aug. 22.—With the declaration that "one English laborer is worth more to England than a thousand American millionaires," the Star editorially denounces the leasing by the Earl of Strathmore of his Holwick grouse moors to Harry Payne Whitney, who pays $75,000 for a few days' shooting for his friends and himself.

It is asserted that in consequence of such leases 30,000 Englishmen will emigrate soon. Comment on Mr. Whitney and the party of Americans he is entertaining now at Holwick is made as follows:

"The land of Great Britain cannot afford to pay agricultural laborers a living wage, but it is worth while for an American millionaire to spend $75,000 on a fragment of it for a few days' shooting, bringing his guests over the Atlantic in private suits, costing $750 each, and one member of the party edifying the voyagers by wearing a diamond necklace worth $50,000."

SEVEN MURDERERS TO DIE.

Fail to Get Signatures to Abolish Capital Punishment.

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 22.—Seven condemned murderers must die next month in San Quentin and Folsom penitentiaries, as a petition to initiate new legislation affecting capital punishment failed to get the necessary signatures.

Governor Johnson, who had granted reprieves to the condemned men, said he could no longer stand in the way of the law and ordered the sentences carried out.

BEEF UP ANOTHER NOTCH.

Fancy Steers Sell For $10.60, but Inferior Grades Are Lower.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Thirty head of fancy heavy steers, high grade shorthorns, sold on the Chicago market at $10.60 a hundredweight, the highest price in trade history. The cattle were fed by R. E. and A. L. Hill, Morrisonville, Ill., and were sold to Armour & Co.

Eight other loads of ripe bullocks reached $10.55 a hundredweight, also an exceptionally high price. Inferior grades of beef, however, showed a considerable weakening in price.

FIND BANK LOOTER LOOKING FOR WORK

Ex-Judge Flack Had Eluded Capture Two Years.

New York, Aug. 22.—John A. Flack, former judge and bank cashier, who eluded arrest for nearly two years on the charge of embezzlement, was captured while searching for work in Third avenue and with nothing left of the thousands of dollars he is alleged to have taken while cashier of the Abilene State bank at Abilene, Kan.

Flack and his wife, who had shared in his wanderings since he fled from Abilene, were in want. The pursuit of him became so keen recently that he was unable to hold a position long, but he ventured out from the small room he had engaged at 192 Palisade street, West Hoboken, to look for something to do to relieve the immediate distress of himself and his wife. A detective, John J. Allen, employed by the National Surety company and agent in this city for the Kansas banking department, accompanied by A. M. Birdsall, head of the claims department of the surety company, recognized the hunted man and placed him under arrest.

It is charged that Flack had taken $75,000 from the bank vaults, but he denied this after his arrest and placed the amount at $30,000 to $40,000. Flack, who had been a probate judge in his county, was prominent socially, financially and politically, and the discovery of his shortage caused a sensation in the state. He is forty-nine years old.

MILE OF BABIES IN MERRY PARADE

650 Little Oaes In Asbury Park's Carnival.

GOVERNOR WILSON PRESENT

State Executive Forgot Politics For Occasion—Babies All Enthroned on Brightly Bedecked Floats or Carriages—Miss Hazel Manners Was Queen Titania XII.

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 22.—An actual mile of babies marked the twenty-second annual baby parade of Asbury Park, which ushered in the summer carnival and the reign of Queen Titania XII. The babies, 650 of them, lined up on Ocean avenue and then were wheeled into the amphitheater in eight divisions to be judged.

The queen and her ten maids proceeded in state from the Ocean hotel to the amphitheater, where the young queen's throne was prepared.

Directly across the inclosure, arranged to seat 7,000 persons, was the state box, which was reserved for Governor Wilson and his party, who motored down from Sea Girt, escorted by the committee, to review the parade.

For some days the town has been gayly decorated with streamers and flags in the carnival colors.

Queen Titania on Throne.

The babies were all enthroned on brightly bedecked floats or in carriages, but most prominent in the brilliant pageant were Queen Titania XII., Princess Cinderella and the nine royal court ladies. The young women who took the parts of royalty were chosen from thousands of candidates to represent the fairest type of the American girl.

The queen in her robes of royal purple, trimmed with ermine, reviewed the babies and was attended by her ladies in waiting while she made the round of the carnival gayeties.

Titania XII. is in reality Miss Hazel Manners, the daughter of former Assemblyman and Mrs. Frederick Manners of Newark. Miss Bernice Dorothy Hetrick of Asbury Park is the Princess Cinderella, the highest lady at the queen's court. The nine other maids of honor are Miss Grace Trimble of Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Miss Ethel Pauline Rugarber and Miss Virginia Hope Kelsey of Asbury Park, Miss Agatha Flion of Weehawken, N. J.; Miss Arita Smith of Philadelphia, Miss Alice Watson of Newark, Miss Ida Mittag of Park Ridge, N. J.; Miss Mary E. Dunlap of Arlington, N. J., and Miss Clarissa M. Lawrence of Cambridge, Mass.

FATHER OF 25 CHILDREN DEAD

Sixteen of Whom Are Alive—Lived at Harrison Twenty-five Years.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 22.—Peter G. Walker, sixty-four years old, of Harrison, died at his home. He was the father of twenty-five children, sixteen of whom are living. He had resided in Harrison since arriving in this country from Scotland twenty-five years ago.

His wife and family, with the exception of one son who is in Scotland, were gathered around his bedside when the end came. By a former wife who died in Scotland Mr. Walker was the father of ten children.

Of the children living four are by the former wife and twelve by the surviving one. All reside at the Harrison address, with the exception of the one in Scotland. Seven grandchildren survive.

LIFE GUARDS SAVE EIGHT.

Federal Men Have to Haul to Rescue Stranded Launch.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 22.—After a strenuous battle in a turbulent sea, federal guards from the Bends Beach station saved the lives of five women, two children and a man from the launch Anna C, which grounded on Goose bar, a dangerous shoal a half mile off the station. The surfmen took long chances to rescue the boat party and were compelled to battle every inch of the way to and from the launch.

The rescued included Captain Abel, commander; the Misses Adelaide, Carrie and Rita Thomas, Mrs. George C. Thomas, Mrs. Harry Beyer, Thomas and Louise Beyer. They are all residents of Tuckerton, N. J.

DIVES AND BREAKS NECK.

Fellow Workman Jumping to Rescue Has Both Legs Fractured.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 22.—John McCartney, fifty years old, employed on the new pier, was almost instantly killed when he dived from the outer end of the partly-completed structure. He landed in shallow water, breaking his neck.

Thomas Haley of Philadelphia, another member of the gang of workmen, saw McCartney sink from sight in the turbulent sea and remain under. He jumped to the rescue and fractured both legs.

Denmark's Prime Minister.

The prime minister of Denmark, Klars Bernstein, was principal speaker at a banquet given in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the Danish Woman Suffrage society at Helsingfors last month, and in the course of his remarks said that "no amendment to the constitution shall be given without including the political suffrage of Danish women."

The king of Saxony is a man of democratic tastes, who likes nothing better than to be taken for one of his own subjects. One hot afternoon when he was out riding, accompanied by an attendant, he came upon a butcher who was trying to repair the broken axle of his cart. The king at once offered his assistance, and for over an hour the three men—king, butcher and attendant—worked in silence beneath the blazing sun.

"YOU ALSO ARE A BUTCHER?"

When they had finished the butcher stared stolidly at the king for a moment. Then his face lighted up as he thought that he saw the explanation of the kindness.

"Oh," he said, "you also are a butcher?"

"No," replied the king regretfully; "I only look like one."

Senator's Speech Attacking Flinn and Van Valkenburg Causes Stir.

BRAMWELL BOOTH IS SALVATION LEADER

Eldest Son Named Successor to Dead General.

New York, Aug. 22.—At the headquarters of the Salvation Army here a cablegram was received announcing that William Bramwell Booth, eldest son of General William Booth, has been appointed general of the Salvation Army to succeed his father.

General Booth left a sealed envelope, which it was said contained the name of the person he wished to succeed him.

Memorial services, national in scope, for General Booth will be held, it was announced, on Sunday, Sept. 1. The services in this city will take place in Carnegie hall and all denominations will be invited to participate.

Miss Eva Booth, head of the Salvation Army in America, although she had been prepared for her father's death by a cablegram from England, that he was "on the verge of the river," was prostrated when the actual news was given her at the Salvation Army headquarters.

TAFT PRAISES SHERMAN.

Says He Is Proud Again to Be a Joint Standard Bearer.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Unable to attend the ceremonies incident to Vice President Sherman's notification of his nomination, President Taft sent his running mate the following telegram: "I am very sorry that public business prevents my presence at the ceremonies at which you are to receive formal notification of your second well deserved nomination by the national Republican party for the high office you hold. I congratulate you and the party on your nomination.

"The Republican party continues to be the party of the constitution, the defender of our guarantees of civil liberty, private property and pursuit of happiness and other civil rights; the upholder of law and order, the opponent of Socialism, the sturdy supporter of high compensation for wage earners and our industrial success through a protective tariff. I am proud again to be a joint standard bearer with you for that party of conservatism, sanity and progress."

HITS BALTIMORE CONVENTION

Mayor Preston Calls Such Assemblages Cumbersome and Clamorous.

Washington, Aug. 22.—James H. Preston, mayor of Baltimore, who had much to do with the arrangements for the Democratic national convention at Baltimore, where he was for awhile being groomed as vice presidential running mate for Champ Clark, has had enough of conventions. He has written a letter to a member of the Maryland delegation in congress condemning such national assemblages as "cumbersome and clamorous."

The letter moved Representative J. Charles Linthicum, member from Baltimore, to introduce a bill in congress providing for a national presidential primary plan and suggesting a national convention of smaller numerical strength for use only in framing a national platform.

WANTS TO SEE SLAYER DIE.

Father of Murdered Celia Funka Wishes to Attend Execution.

Washington, Pa., Aug. 22.—August Funka, father of Celia Funka, who was murdered near here on Aug. 2, declared that he wished to be present when the slayer of his daughter paid the penalty for his crime. He called upon Sheriff R. G. Lutton and asked permission to attend the execution.

The sheriff could make no promise, as no one has been tried for the murder. George Green is in the county jail, where he was committed by the coroner's jury.

SMOKE FOR A LIVING.

French Tobacco Testers and Their Peculiar Line of Work.

In the French ministry of finance there is a class of officials whose activity is little known to the outer world. These men are the official tobacco testers, and they pass judgment on every kind of tobacco manufactured in France.

They consist of a chairman and five assistants, and from morning to evening they have nothing to do but smoke cigars, cigarettes and pipes, in order to arrive at an estimate of the different kinds of tobacco submitted to them.

It is not only the products of home industry that come before them for judgment, but the cigars and cigarettes that are sold in France have also to make their appeal to the decision of their palate, and the pleasantest part of the day's work comes when it falls to their lot to test the high price Havana cigars sold by the state.

The officials who undertake this difficult and responsible duty are ex-inspectors of tobacco manufactories who have passed a certain number of years in the state's service and have given proof of their capability for this peculiar kind of work. Their by no means light duty consists in smoking from 9 in the morning to 5 in the evening, and very often it is by no means the best kinds of tobacco with which they have to deal. The injurious influence of this tobacco debauch, which produces great dryness of the mouth and throat and might easily lead to nicotine poisoning, they endeavor to combat by drinking great quantities of black coffee, which acts as an antidote to the effects of the nicotine imbibed. And it is only black coffee that renders it possible for them to distinguish between and estimate the value of the various kinds of strong tobacco.

The danger run by these valiant officials can best be gauged by remembering the highly poisonous character of nicotine as brought out especially by the experience of a Croatian in the Crimean war, who, on finding a snake in a wall, knocked the bowl off his chibouk and plunged the end into its mouth, with the result that it fell dead at his feet as stiff as a piece of iron.—Hamburger Nachrichten.

eating the coarse fare of the railroad laborers and got little enough even of that, so that they all had a magnificent hunger on when the train reached a small station at which there was a restaurant, and the Englishman was the first to find a seat at a table. "Bring me in a hurry," he said to the landlord, a burly western man, "a porterhouse steak, some deviled kidneys, a brace of chops, plenty of vegetables and two bottles of Bass' bitter beer."

The landlord looked startled for a moment, stuck his head out of the dining room door and yelled to somebody in the rear apartment, "Say Bill, tell the band to play 'Rule Britannia;' the Prince of Wales has came."

PROGRESSIVES IN MILITANT MOOD

T. R. Followers In 5th Congressional District Ready to Fight For Offices.

UNION COUNTY CALL

Plainfield Men Prominent Among Those Who Will Organize Moose Ranks at Meeting in Elizabeth Next Week—Morris Forces Align.

That the Progressives in the Fifth Congressional district mean business, and will undoubtedly make a fight for Congressional and other offices at the November election is now assured. In this morning's mail those who are known to be in sympathy with the movement throughout Union county received copies of a circular letter calling a mass meeting at Association Hall, in the Y. M. C. A. building at Elizabeth, for next Tuesday night. In Morris county the Progressives met on Wednesday night at a largely attended mass meeting, and completed plans for making their organization fully as effective as that of both the old parties in the same county. Candidates of the party for Congress have not yet been selected, but there is some talk of Charles H. Ennis, who was the Morris county delegate to the Republican and Progressive conventions, being the candidate of the new party.

The call for the Union county meeting next Tuesday is signed by about two hundred men, among them being Mayor George W. V. Moy, Stanley E. Gunnison, C. Layton Ford, John Lindsley, David C. Smalley, Arthur Murphy, S. B. Howe, Jr., A. B. Jones, Boyd Fullerton, Wallace Pierce, A. E. Force, William Freeman Sharpe and S. Arthur Crone, of Plainfield. There are numerous signers from every other town in the county. Edgar A. Knapp, who was the Union county delegate at both the June and August conventions, is chairman of the committee issuing the call, and Clarence P. Morrell, of Elizabeth, is the secretary.

The circular states that it is impossible to reach everyone who cares to join the Progressive movement in the county, and it is requested that a general invitation be extended by all who do get the letters, to their friends, regardless of political belief. An urgent invitation is given to the women to attend the meeting. The circular urges all who are in favor of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt for President, and Hiram W. Johnson for Vice President, and who approve the platform adopted at the Progressive convention held at Chicago, to assemble in Association Hall, East Jersey street, near Broad street, in Elizabeth, next Tuesday night at eight o'clock, to perfect an organization of the Progressives for this county. It says: "All who are in sympathy with this movement, and desire to see the success of Roosevelt and Johnson and the principles for which they stand, and intend to support the Progressive candidates who will be nominated, will please give attention to this call and attend accordingly."

In Morris county, the other subdivision of the Fifth Congressional district, the Progressive party came into being on Wednesday, when the Progressive League of Morris county was organized at a conference, held in Royal Arcanum Hall at Morristown. A call had been sent out to many men of supposed Progressive leanings, signed by Stephen S. Day, chairman of the organization effected for the primary election.

Mr. Day was chosen temporary chairman and Woodruff M. Vance, temporary secretary. After discussion, it was voted to organize and the following officers were elected:

Chairman, Stephen S. Day, Morristown; vice chairman, Frazier A. Sofield, Denville; secretary, Leclair L. Welsh, Morristown; treasurer, John L. Tallmadge, of Morristown.

It was determined that a committee be formed representing each of the municipalities of the county, and that such committee should be chosen, not by those assembled, but by the Progressives of the several districts. To that end nominations were made from the floor for men in each of the districts who should be charged with the calling together of the voters, the selection of municipal committees and the extension of the organization into the voting precincts.

The question of local offices came up for some discussion. Daniel Brooks, of Rockaway, was not in favor of supporting any other than Presidential and Congressional tickets as in his borough, he said, they had a Socialist Mayor and it was desired that he be defeated. In order to do this everybody had to join forces. Besides his borough has a candidate for Assembly, he said.

Mr. Crane, of Madison, said his

DOG OWNERS FINED FOR RABBIT'S DEATH

Feast of Their Pets Costs Lindsay and Haberle $20 Apiece.

William Lindsay, of the Netherwood Farm, on Mountain avenue, and John Haberle, of 24 Harmony street, North Plainfield, were fined $20 each by Recorder Gano in the North Plainfield Police Court last night when they were arraigned for violating the game laws. William Kiernan, a special marshal, and Samuel E. Betham, a game warden, testified against them.

A few days ago Haberle's rabbit hound and a dog owned by Lindsay were caught chasing a rabbit. The dogs caught the animal and devoured it. Lindsay or Harberle could not prove that the dogs were not theirs.

Recorder Gano said the game laws must be enforced. He fined each defendant $20.

The law requires that all dogs especially hunting dogs must be chained or prevented from running loose except from October to February.

STRANGER FOUND ILL AT NORTH AVENUE STATION

Herman Bian, aged 45 years, who gives his residence as 445 Park avenue, this city, and his occupation that of a cigar maker, was found ill by the police at the North Avenue Station, yesterday afternoon. He was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital. The hospital authorities were unable to learn much about him yesterday. During a brief period of consciousness, the man said that he had started out with a friend to go somewhere, but he could not recall the place and his mind appeared to be very hazy.

Bian seemed to be suffering from a complication of troubles, and his general condition was reported as being unfavorable. Today the man brightened up some and seemed to be improved. He said that he was married and has a sister who was living in New York. He does not know whether she is there now or not. He has nothing to say about his wife.

Bian has been working in Eggerding's cigar store, according to Chief Kiely. He was on Long Island when taken sick and a deputy sheriff from there came here with him, reporting to Chief of Police Kiely, after he had left the man in care of an officer at the station.

MAN WHO DROVE SUFFERING HORSE FINED IN FANWOOD

Nick Melnick, an Italian residing at 23 Prince street, Newark, was arrested at Fanwood yesterday by Mrs. S. G. VanHoesen, the S. P. C. A. agent, on a charge of driving a horse improperly harnessed causing a sore on the animal's neck. The man was arraigned before Recorder Scheelein and a fine of $5 or thirty days was imposed. The money will probably be paid today. In the meantime the rig is being held.

Melnick was driving a team and was using a crow-bar for a whiffletree. The way the horses were harnessed, one of them was doing all the pulling and was suffering from a bad sore on the neck. When the man was arrested he was making a second trip from Newark with a load of butcher's fixtures. Mrs. VanHoesen has reported the matter to the Newark authorities and the animal will be watched.

DISSATISFIED PASTOR ORGANIZES NEW CHURCH

Rev. George W. Bailey, formerly pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, who resigned because of dissension in the congregation, has organized the Union Baptist Institutional church which meets every Sunday and Tuesday in Reform Hall. Mr. Bailey is pastor of the flock, which he says numbers about 180.

It is said that his friends in the Calvary church have joined the new organization thereby showing their loyalty. However, there are still a goodly number of members in Calvary church who are opposed to Mr. Bailey. Officers of the latter church claim that the opposition has made no noticeable effect on the attendance at their services and the congregations are as large as ever.

CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH ORGANIZER SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsay's Short Illness Ends Fatally —Lived Here 42 Years.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsay died in her seventy-ninth year at her home, 311 Madison avenue, at 3:25 o'clock this morning, after a short illness. She was a resident of this city for forty-two years. She was born in Scotland, removing here in 1870.

She was an organizer and active member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and was well known among the members. She managed an intelligence agency for over twenty-five years and often took care of the florist store of her late husband, John D. Lindsay.

Surviving her is one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Mehlenbeck, of Madison avenue. Mrs. Lindsay took great pride in the fact that she had four great grandchildren. The funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, 311 Madison avenue. Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel, will officiate. Interment will be made at the Somerville cemetery.

HORSE SOLD AT $2.50 COST $20 IN FINE

Woman S. P. C. A. Agent Makes New York Speculator's Deal Unprofitable.

James Sylvester, who claimed Mt. Vernon, N. Y., as his home, and who was arrested in Westfield for driving a horse in a wretched physical condition, was fined $20 by Judge Collins, of Westfield. The fine was paid last night and the horse was released, with instructions that the man was to give the animal good care.

Questioning on the part of Mrs. S. G. VanHoesen, the S. P. C. A. agent, who caused Sylvester's arrest, disclosed the fact that Sylvester had bought the horse for $2.50 and was on his way to Finderne, where he hoped to sell the animal. When arrested Sylvester was arrested he said that he was taking the horse to his boss at Bound Brook, but the "boss" proved to be a myth. The animal is eight years old and is 17 hands high.

PLAINFIELD AUTOISTS HEAR INTERESTING TALK

It was "Plainfield Night" last evening at the Stewart Automobile Academy, 231 West 54th street, New York city, where William H. Stewart, Jr., well-known here, gave a most interesting lecture before a large gathering of automobilists from Plainfield and vicinity, upon "Proper Tire Inflation."

The lecturer gave a number of demonstrations and in closing his lecture said "running on a flat tire for any distance after you have had a puncture will cause the walls of the tire to crack. Proper inflation of tires at all times is most important, in order to obtain good results in tire wear."

SPINSTER DAUGHTER OF RICHARD MANNING DIES

Miss Emma B. Manning died last night at her home, 248 East Front street, from a complication of diseases. Miss Manning was the only surviving daughter of the late Richard Manning, after whom Manning avenue was named. She was in her seventy-third year.

Funeral services will be held from her late residence, tomorrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Interment will be in the North Plainfield cemetery.

THOMPSON A CANDIDATE.

Former Assemblyman Lloyd Thompson, of Westfield, is circulating his petition for the Assembly nomination on the Republican ticket, Charles N. Codding having decided to withdraw from the contest. This makes the organization ticket for the Assembly nominations, George L. Babcock, of this city; Lloyd Thompson, of Westfield, and William F. Groves, of Elizabeth. This ticket is considered a strong one geographically.

PEACE ONCE MORE ON ARLINGTON AVE.

Law Student Norwood Is Magnanimous After a Little Legal Exercise.

After hovering around uncertainly since early last Sunday morning, the dove of peace has settled down over the homes of Richard Norwood, Ernest Gatewood and Mary Walcott, on Arlington avenue. Be it said that Gatewood, acording to Chief Kiely, is a dangerous man to the dogs, as he is the official dog catcher, but Norwood is satisfied now that Gatewood's efforts to do him up on Sunday were all the result of a misunderstanding.

The neighborhood difficulties of the principals were aired in Judge De Meza's court this morning, and after it was all over the Judge smoothed things down so that all shook hands and departed for their respective residences with smiling faces. Norwood appeared as the principal witness for his side, and then acted as his own attorney, and showed that his training as a law student in Alfred B. Cosey's law office came in good stead. First he told how the disturbance started early on Sunday morning, and he had to chase Gatewood and the Walcott women out of the hall below his apartments, where they were carrying on an animated conversation. Then he said that in the evening the same two, augmented by a "mob" started a "riot," which resulted in him sending for four policemen, who calmed things down so that all hands buried the hatchet long enough to go to church. After church it all started again, and at 9:45 Norwood had Officer Kelly sent from headquarters again, and this time he hauled Gatewood in, the complaint by Norwood being that his life had been threatened by the official dog catcher, who, by the way, is a minister when he is not chasing vagrant canines off the street.

The Judge heard both sides of the case, and then decided that the best thing for all to do was to go home, settle down to the quiet life that preceded the disturbance of last Sunday, and be good neighbors.

John Lacey and Harold Martin, who started a modified Marathon with their hacks, on Watchung avenue one night earlier in the week were in court, but their case was put over until a week from today.

Two small boys, William and Henry Buss, of South Second street, appeared with their mother, and the latter was told by the court to keep the youngsters away from the home of Mrs. William Kanouse, a neighbor. Mrs. Kanouse had complained yesterday that the youngsters had been more or less trouble and annoyance to her, and asked that they be summoned.

CHEMICAL ABOUT FINISHED.

Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, has received word from the Allentown, Pa., branch of the International Motor Company, that the chemical engine, which has been converted into a motor-driven apparatus by the company, will be brought to Plainfield the first part of next week. Two extra coats of rubbing varnish is being put on the apparatus this week.

MRS. N. W. RAPPELJE INJURED BY A FALL

Seventy-Five-Year-Old Invalid Breaks Her Ankle In Two Places.

Mrs. N. W. Rappelje, aged seventy-five years, of Westervelt and Brook avenues, is in a serious condition at her home, the result of a fall Wednesday afternoon, when she fractured her leg in two places. She suffers intense pain and owing to her advanced age it is doubtful whether the broken bones will ever knit perfectly. The breaks are in the left leg at the ankle. Dr. E. W. Hedges was summoned to set the bones.

Mrs. Rappelje has been an invalid for several years with spinal trouble, and her daughter, Mrs. Fred M. VanEmburgh, is in almost constant attendance. Wednesday afternoon Mrs. VanEmburgh left her mother for about ten minutes and during that brief period, the aged woman got on her feet and with the assistance of a chair was trying to walk. In some way she stumbled and fell. She was found a few minutes later in a helpless condition and assisted to her bed.

MARKER ON PART OF WASHINGTON ROUTE

Bound Brook D. A. R. Dedicate Memorial Tomorrow—Mrs. Vail to Speak.

Bound Brook, Aug. 23 (Special)—Camp Middlebrook Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will dedicate another marker at Griggstown, tomorrow afternoon, indicating the route taken by Washing on his march from Princeton to Morristown. The exercises at Griggstown will be held at 5 o'clock and all patriotic people interested are invited to be present.

The program of dedication will be as follows:

Invocation, Salute of the Flag; welcome by the regent, Mrs. Rogers; address by Mrs. Vail, of Plainfield; unveiling by Miss Helen VanDoren.

At the close of the ceremonies supper will be served by women of the Kingston church, who will be holding their annual harvest home at that time.

Among those especially invited are Mrs. William Libbey, vice-president general from New Jersey, of the D. A. R., and Mrs. Yardley, the State regent.

The following chapters of the D. A. R. have been invited: Morristown, Continental of Plainfield, Jersey Blue of New Brunswick, Princeton, Rocky Hill and General Frelinghuysen.

The other societies invited are Washington Camp Ground Association, the Somerset County Historical Society, Nathan Hale Society, C. A. R., and the Revolutionary Memorial Society.

An automobile bus for the Bound Brook members will leave the station at 4 p. m. The fare will be $1.

PASTOR'S HEALTH BETTER.

Rev. Edwin Shaw, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church, is still in the mountains at Long Lake, N. Y., but is improving and expects to be home in two weeks. His pulpit will be occupied tomorrow by Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel.

TOWN WINS LONG BATTLE IN COURTS

Westfield, After 3 Years, Defeats P. S. C. In Noted Pole Case.

Westfield, Aug. 23 (Special).—Town Attorney Paul Q. Oliver received notice today that the Court of Chancery had decided in favor of the Town of Westfield in the suit against the Public Service Corporation which has been in the court for over three years. The origin of the controversy was over the erection of electric light poles on Rahway avenue, Scotch Plains and Alston road, and dates back to the spring of 1909.

The company obtaining permits from property owners erected poles on these thoroughfares. When the matter came to the attention of the Council the town solons contended that the company had no right to erect the poles without permission from that body. The Council served notice on the company to remove the poles; if not the Council would have them chopped down.

Following this drastic demand the P. S. C. applied for an injunction restraining the town from cutting down the poles. The order was granted by court on condition that the company refrain from erecting additional poles, without the consent of the Town Council, until a decision was rendered.

Final argument in the suit was made January 10, 1910, by Attorney Oliver and counsel for the plaintiff. According to the decision the company to erect additional poles, according to original plans, must comply with the provisions of the Limited Franchise Act of 1906. It is the general belief of Westfield officials that the P. S. C. will appeal to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

MAID, HYSTERICAL, SAYS ARROWSMITH BEAT HER

J. L. Arrowsmith, of 624 West Seventh street, telephoned to police headquarters last night shortly after nine o'clock, saying that he wanted an officer sent to his home. Patrolman Kelley went down there, and found that Arrowsmith had been having trouble with a couple of his maids, Matilda and Kate Cannon, and that one of them was in hysterics as a result of an alleged beating up which Arrowsmith had given her.

Kelley got the story from the girls and they promised to appear at nine o'clock this morning and make a complaint, but they were not on hand when court opened.

AUTO TRIP TO THE LAKE.

County Register Frank H. Smith, Assistant Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield Jr., and former City Judge William N. Runyon, left this morning in Mr. Smith's automobile for a pleasure trip to Lake Hopatcong. They will return home tonight. It was said that the trip had no political significance, being just a day's outing planned by the trio.

FAIR WEATHER FOR FLYERS.

Those interested in the aviation meet to be held today and tomorrow at the Plainfield Driving Park will be pleased to know that the weather predictions are fair tonight and Saturday, with cooler weather tonight. The maximum temperature for today is reported as 87 degrees and the minimum temperature 65 degrees.

MAKE ALL READY FOR THE FLIGHTS

LANDING IN THE CITY

Flyer Will Descend With Mail On Nearest Suitable Lot to Postoffice —Cooper Substitutes For Havens, Who Is Ill.

The Driving Park was a scene of activity this morning in preparation for the aviation exhibition which is in progress there this afternoon. Mechanics were busy putting together the two biplanes, which are being used for the exhibitions this afternoon and tomorrow, and employees of the grounds put finishing touches on the stands, and completed the arrangements for handling the mail which is being sent by air route from the sub-station that has been established on the grounds. Postmaster Bird sent two big mail boxes out to the field, and they have been set up at the ends of a long counter which has been provided for those who wish to write messages. The grandstand has been decorated with American flags and bunting, and the field presents a gay appearance.

Beckwith Havens, the young aviator, who achieved more than passing fame during the war game around New York city last week, and who has been advertised as one of the flyers for the Plainfield exhibition is not here, and will not be here to fly tomorrow. He was stricken with fever during the maneuvers, and is now in a New York hospital recovering from the effects. Lincoln Beachy, one of the most skilful, and at the same time most daring aviators in the country, who will take part in the meet, arrived in town this afternoon, and to substitute for Havens, John D. Cooper, who is one of the Curtiss team, is here, and will go through that part of the program arranged for Havens.

Winthrop M. Southworth, secretary of the Aero Club of America, arrived in Plainfield this morning, and is in attendance at the meet. In a talk with a representative of the Daily Press this morning, Mr. Southworth said that Beachy was the one aviator with whom he would not care to take a ride, and that before he takes his machine apart tomorrow night the Plainfield people will undoubtedly see some thrillers. Beachy is absolutely fearless, and no kind of weather keeps him off of the ground.

The two machines in use at the Driving Park are of the Curtiss biplane type, and both have been used in various parts of the country, being inscribed with hundreds of names and addresses. That in use by Beachy was flown last week at an exhibition in Altoona, Pa., while No. 13, which will be used by Cooper, has come from the Curtiss factory and school at Hammondsport, New York, prior to which time it was used for exhibition purposes in the south.

Mail deposited in the boxes at the Driving Park will be postmarked "Via Aerial mail" and brought by one of the fliers to a lot as near the postoffice as can be found, where he will alight and deliver it to someone to take to the office. The exact spot for alighting for this purpose had not been decided at noon, at it was determined that the best thing to do was for one of the aviators to make a flight to the city and locate a suitable landing place from above. It is expected that during the two days many thousend cards will be mailed, so that friends of Plainfielders in other places may have the unique distinction of receiving mail sent by one of the first aerial routes in the country.

The flights began this afternoon at 3:30, and are scheduled to begin at the same time tomorrow. Stages are being run from the end of the Arlington Avenue trolley line to the grounds.

CANDIDATE HAS QUIT ALL SPECIAL PRIVILEGE

Metuchen, Aug. 23.—Urged by a following of the Progressives in Asbury Park, Lakewood and other towns in the Third Congressional District, Mark Osmand Prentiss, of Metuchen, launched his Congressional boom at a rally.

"One thing I wish made clear," Mr. Prentiss said, "I have cut off entirely all connection with special privilege."

Mr. Prentiss is associated with his personal friend, George W. Perkins, in publicity work at Roosevelt headquarters. He is a personal friend of Colonel Roosevelt.

METUCHEN POLITICS.

Metuchen, Aug. 23.—The engineers of the local political machines are speeding them up for the races about to be commenced. The Democrats are in high feather because the "regular" Republicans and the Roosevelt Progressives appear to be hopelessly split. Borough Assessor W. T. McAdams, Democrat, will finish his term this year, and it is announced that he is not looking for another term. The Republicans and Progressives are said to be unable to find a man for the job, and some of them agree with the Democrats that McAdams ought to run again. Jesse Perry, borough treasurer and tax collector, is the only Prohibitionist holding office and Democrats, Republicans and Progressives are casting covetous eyes on his job. The Democrats say that it is going to be an easy proposition to elect two councilmen to succeed Edward Kramer, Democrat, and B. D. Ford, Republican, but the Democrats are not talking of re-electing Kramer, being out for raw material in the shape of Eben H. Veen, Thorfin Tait and George Edward Kelly. Kelly may run for treasurer in order to leave the field clear for Tait. D. A. Power may run for treasurer and Kelly for assessor in case McAdams refuses to be a candidate. Ex-Mayor Washington Wilson wears a regular Taft smile as he firmly refuses any information about what his party will do locally. It is felt that to be successful the Republicans and Progressives must work together on a local ticket, or the Democrats and Prohibitionists combined will carry the day next November. Leaders of the Progressives say they are going to cut away entirely from the G. O. P.

SWIPED THE AIR.

At a recent meet where Lincoln Beachey, the aviator who will thrill Plainfield with his daring at Driving Park this afternoon, was to have exhibited, the enthusiasm of the townsfolk behind the exhibition interfered seriously with the birdman. The committee provided the biggest band ever organized in town for the meet, and the musicians were told to keep everlastingly at it. They did. When the time for flight came Beachey didn't go up. The committeemen waited and waited, and then they went to Beachey with aspects full of question marks. "I can't fly," Beachey explained, "because the air is full of music." Just then the music stopped, and Beachey set to work preparing for a flight. He was tightening something with a screwdriver when the leader of the band came up to the chairman of the committee on the run, and told him that one of the bandmen has disappeared with the music for the next number. Beachey put his screwdriver in his pocket. "It's all off," he said. "You can't expect me to fly if somebody has swiped the air."

IT MAY BE TRUE.

Luther Genuch, of Schwencksville, Pa., writes in disparagment of Lincoln Beachey, who will fly at the Driving Park today and Saturday. In a note to the Daily Press Mr. Genuch says: "When Mr. Beachey was in Schwencksville a year ago our citizens gave him a dinner. A chicken was set before Mr. Beachey and the aviator."

"BIG TIM" SULLIVAN.

He May Run For Congress, Preferring Washington to Albany.

Although "Big Tim" Sullivan is in the west looking after his health, there are signs making it look more likely that the senator has decided not to return to Albany. All the signs indicate that the "big fellow" has decided on a seat in congress. The Tammany selection of Harry E. Oxford to run for the assembly from the Third district this fall points to the retirement of Sullivan.

APPRAISERS' WORK TO BE INVESTIGATED

Taft Names Board to Probe Alleged Irregularities.

Washington, Aug. 23.—President Taft appointed a committee of government officials to investigate the board of United States general appraisers to ascertain if there has been "neglect of duty, malfeasance in office or inefficiency" on the part of any of the board members. The board has headquarters in New York.

President Taft named as the investigation committee Chandler P. Anderson, counselor for the state department; William Loeb, Jr., collector of customs of New York, and Winfred T. Dennison, assistant attorney general of the United States. Mr. Dennison prosecuted the sugar fraud cases.

The treasury department announced that the scope of the inquiry would be broad enough to include all the activities of the board both at New York and at ports throughout the country where its members hear customs appeals.

The investigation will be part of the general plan of the treasury department to rehabilitate the customs service as a whole and, according to an official statement, "is the result of complaints that the work of the board does not give satisfactory results as a portion of the government mechanism of collecting revenues from customs."

RAISED MILLIONS TO DEFEAT TAFT

Penrose Says Perkins Furnished Money For T. R.

IS ANXIOUS TO TELL ALL

Senator, Under Fire, Takes Steps to Force Subcommittee to Investigate His Charges—Conference With La Follette Regarded Significant.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Senator Penrose caused another big stir in the senate when he declared that George W. Perkins and his associates underwrote $3,000,000 to bring about the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt and the defeat of President Taft at Chicago.

Senator Penrose made a new and unexpected move in connection with the charges concerning his relations with John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company during the Roosevelt campaign of 1904. He took steps to force the subcommittee of the senate committee on privileges and elections, which is investigating campaign contributions, to investigate the charges which he made concerning oil trust contributions in his reply delivered in the senate. He entered a motion directing the committee to instruct the subcommittee to probe into the matter, and asked that the motion lie over until later, when it would be taken up and considered.

Penrose Anxious to Tell.

The subcommittee referred to is headed by Senator Clapp. The latest action of Senator Penrose is an indication that he is willing and anxious to go before the subcommittee and tell what he knows. Inasmuch as he asks that "all persons mentioned" in his speech be called as witnesses, it is possible that Colonel Roosevelt may be requested to come to Washington.

The expectation is that the senate will pass the motion and that the outcome will be that the Clapp subcommittee will make a thorough and early investigation of all the circumstances of the Archbold contribution. The motion made by Penrose amounts to a strong inclination that he believes the subcommittee is reluctant to go into all the facts because Senator Clapp is a friend of Roosevelt.

Senator Penrose and Senator La Follette were in conference just before the former put in his motion. This led to a rumor that the Wisconsin senator was anxious to press the inquiry, in the belief that it would embarrass Roosevelt and the bull moose movement.

Penrose's assertion that Archbold gave $125,000, of which $100,000 was used by the national committee, and this with the knowledge and approval of Roosevelt and Cortelyou, contradicts the Cortelyou testimony, and it is felt here by many senators makes it incumbent on the Clapp committee to search deeper.

TO MAKE VOTING MANDATORY

Oklahoma Attorney to Frame Bill With Heavy Penalty For Neglect.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 23.—A mandatory voting bill is to be submitted to the next legislature of Oklahoma by Charles J. Wrightsman, an attorney and prominent oil and gas operator of Tulsa.

"I propose to make every qualified voter in this state exercise the right of suffrage in state elections," said Wrightsman. "My bill will provide that every qualified voter shall vote in a primary and general election unless he is away from home or disabled.

"The important matter to be settled is the penalty, but it probably will be more than nominal. It may be that it will provide that a man's tax receipt will be held up until he has voted and be delivered to him by the proper authority after he has cast his ballot."

Ruth Morrill, Thirteen, Missing From Her Boston Home.

Boston, Aug. 23.—A thorough search is being made by the police for thirteen-year-old Ruth Morrill, who disappeared after leaving a note on her mother's bureau declaring her intention of killing herself. The note read:

"Dear Mother—I am leaving this world for ever. I am going to kill myself. I displeased you and could not bear to live and see you displeased. If you want to know the reason, why go to the Deaconess home. 'Love for darling Dick and you.

"Do not waste money for police, for I will be dead. Millions of kisses.

RUTH."

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

(From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 6:46, rises 5:19. Evening stars: Venus, Mars, Jupiter. Morning stars: Saturn, Mercury.

Plainfield, N. J., August 23, 1912.

The primary fight for Congressman in the Fourth district, consisting of Somerset, Mercer and Warren counties, promises to be a lively one in both of the old parties. Three or four avowed candidates have come forward in each to seek the nomination, and there is no telling how many more will file their petitions before the time limit expires. It looks as if the campaign would begin from the day the petitions are filed, and last until election day. John A. Frech, of Somerville, former Assemblyman LaMonte, of Bound Brook; Francis B. Lee, of Trenton, and possibly Colonel William Libbey, who was the Democratic nominee four years ago, will seek the honor in that party. On the Republican side Prosecutor William J. Crossley, of Mercer county; Willard C. Parker, a Hunterdon county lawyer, and William E. Blackman, also of Trenton, have declared that they will seek the office. Crossley will probably have the endorsement of the somewhat decrepit Mercer county Republican machine, and the others will make the fight against them there, and in the other two counties of the district.

Mayor Hunt, of Cincinnati, was reported recently as saying in a speech that his city had found a new way to use the services of its firemen, and at the same time it has reduced the fire danger materially. A certain percentage of the men in the department have been put at work assisting the building department, and as a result of this careful inspection, which was found impossible before because of lack of men, there has been little or no trouble in securing a betterment of conditions by the owners or occupants of buildings in the city. Here in Plainfield Chief Doane, of the Fire Department, is also the building inspector, and he has more than enough to do with the two positions. Why could not some of the firemen be detailed to assist him in his work of inspecting the buildings? The work as members of the department is not so heavy but that a little time could be found to help the chief, were the authority given him to call upon his men.

The editorial tomorrow night will be contributed to the Daily Press by a local young man who has made good. He occupies a responsible official position, and in addition to that is very active in politics, both locally and in the county. He has made a name for himself in his chosen profession, and what he will have to say through the Daily Press will be well worth reading. The Saturday editorials are refreshing, and of a varied character, so that all find something of interest in them. That they are widely read is proven by the comment we receive upon them. Frequently the writers hear from readers of the Press commending them upon what they have had to say, and the interesting manner of expressing themselves.

Chairman McAdoo, of the Democratic National Committee, has suggested that the banks of the country act as collectors of campaign contributions, receiving them for all parties and sending them to the proper authorities at certain stated intervals. Such a plan would not be a bad one, and would put the handling of the money under those who are regulated by federal law. It would, however, entail much work on the banks, from which they would get little or no return, and in case many small contributions were received it would actually make the expense of handling a loss. The plan will probably not be adopted with great alacrity by many bankers.

Some of the Democratic leaders are counting their chickens before they are hatched. They are already talking about whom they will make president of the Senate next year, with the idea that the man who gets the job will be the Governor. Wouldn't it be well to elect Governor Wilson president, and choose a Democratic Senate, before completing the details of the Senate officers?

The man who wrote Florodora is a bankrupt. If all of those who took part in the comedy as members of the "original sextette" should contribute a dollar each, Mr. Stewart could probably pay off all his debts. Come forward, you fair ones of the chorus! Help the man who helped you gain fame!

The words "Roosevelt Attacked By" are kept standing in the composing rooms of the newspapers now. The headwriters have found that they need the three words each day to place before the name of some discredited Republican.

All of the Republican papers are telling how former Governor Stokes has returned to the Republican fold, but we have failed as yet to see a statement which credits Mr. Stokes with saying that he is going to vote for Taft.

It takes a man with a better reputation than Boise Penrose to make the people believe the yarns that he is telling about Colonel Roosevelt's knowledge of Standard Oil contributions in the campaign of 1904.

The editorial writer who is able to find a topic other than politics and the New York graft scandal deserves a gold medal these days.

All this talk about that three million dollar baby is tiresome. Has anyone a child that is not worth fully as much to the parents?

Metuchen is again in the limelight. They have a real hero there. One man is willing to admit that he is going to vote for Taft.

"Plattdeutschers Cheer Wilson," a headline says. That first word would make a good college yell to cheer anyone with.

Those who set the styles say that this year carrot color is to be in vogue. That's better than burned onion, anyway.

Pleased as they were to have him back, the New York authorities did not give Sam Schepps the freedom of the city.

TEMPERATURE REPORT.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 71 degrees; 11 a. m., 60 degrees; 1 p. m., 70 degrees.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Emily Klinehans, son and daughter, of Pittsburg, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Vermeule, of Jackson avenue.

Mrs. Horace C. Huff and son, Herbert, of Codington avenue, are visiting Mr. Huff's mother, Mrs. Alletta Huff, of Three Bridges.

GETS HER CLOTHES.

Mrs. Emily Randolph, of Clinton avenue, was awarded possession of her clothes in an action brought against her by the Queen City Laundry, at the weekly session of the District Court, yesterday, to recover a bill, which it was claimed she owed the laundry. Knight L. Fawcett, proprietor of the laundry, appeared to press the suit, while V. W. Nash, Jr., represented Mrs. Randolph. Mrs. Randolph admitted that she owed the laundry $2.39, but Mr. Fawcett had presented a bill for more than $10. It was shown that the defendant had offered to settle the bill of $2.39, but refused to pay the added amount. Judge Hetfield after hearing the evidence gave Mrs. Randolph the clothes upon her promise to pay the $2.39.

—It's a waste of time to tell a man who suffers from a chronic thirst to dry up.

Campaign Press Directors

WHEN Joseph Pulitzer shouted "Publicity, publicity, publicity!" through the columns of the New York World he only started to give a description of the troubles of the head of a publicity bureau of one of the national committees during a presidential campaign. To describe that job adequately a large company of opera singers and professional barkers would have to shriek "Publicity!" at the top of their voices for several hours.

The press bureau heads of the three national committees for 1912 are Josephus Daniels for the Democrats, David S. Barry for the Republicans and Oscar King Davis for the Progressives. To be technically exact, Mr. Davis is secretary of the Progressive national committee, but as he is a newspaper man it is generally taken for granted that he will be the actual head of the press bureau, whether officially so or not.

Photos by American Press Association.

Mr. Davis was the publicity man of Colonel Roosevelt's anteconvention campaign for the Republican nomination and prior to that time was head of the Washington bureau of the New York Times. He first became known as a war correspondent, representing the New York Sun and Harper's Weekly at Manila during the Spanish American war and Boxer troubles in China and the New York Herald during the Russo-Japanese war. He is also author of "Our Conquests In the Pacific," "Dewey's Capture of Manila" and several stories.

Josephus Daniels has been a member of the Democratic national committee for many years and a member of the executive committee for at least a part of the time. He is also editor of the News and Observer of Raleigh, N. C. He was admitted to the bar, but never practiced. Daniels is popular with newspaper men of all parties and his been guide, philosopher and friend to the Democratic national committee for so many years that nobody remembers when he started in that role.

David S. Barry, head of the Republican press bureau, was assistant in the same bureau four years ago. Richard V. Oulahan was head of the publicity bunch during that fight. Barry has been on the Sun's Washington bureau and more recently has acted as Washington correspondent of the Providence Journal and other papers.

As the campaign progresses we may expect a heavy bombardment of news paper stories for the various candidates which will show that the press bureaus are in action.

LOCAL COUNTY CANDIDATES FILE THEIR PETITIONS

Elizabeth, Aug. 23.—Among the candidates' petitions filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday were those of George L. Babcock, of Plainfield, Republican candidate for the Assembly; S. P. T. Wilbur, of Plainfield, and Van Wyck Lott, of this city, Republican candidates for freeholder, and Alexander R. Johnson, of Roselle, Democratic candidate for freeholder. Mr. Wilbur is one of the men slated for a nomination by the G. O. P. organization. Mr. Lott is not slated, but is putting up a strong fight, and promises to be one of the nominees.

PROGRESSIVES MILITANT

borough formerly had a citizens' ticket, and he did not advocate politics in borough affairs.

Mr. Day said the problem should be thoroughly and freely discussed in executive session of the committee.

Mr. Lunger suggested that the sense of the voters of each district be had on the question and the result be brought to the general committee.

William Jones saw difficulty in maintaining a party if only a portion of a ticket is nominated. Then, he said: "The Progressives must attend some other primary to help select good men, and thus lose their party standing." He wanted a ticket from top to bottom.

Mr. Ennis said that it was certain that there were more Progressives than regulars in the county and the Progressive party would have primaries next year. He said it is necessary to get men to declare themselves, and recommended that an enrollment be made.

The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to meet a committee of Union County Progressives to put a candidate for Congressman in nomination, and it was moved that when the meeting adjourn it do so, to meet at the call of the chair.

Mr. Day said that he understood that nobody in attendance at the meeting would participate in the primary of any other party. The Progressives, he declared, belong only to that party, are looking after their own interests and capable of taking care of them.

POLISH WOMEN ORGANIZE TO PROTECT IMMIGRANTS

The Polish women of Plainfield to the number of about 180 met at Sobrieski Hall on East Second street, yesterday, and formed a society to be known as The Star of Liberty. It will be a beneficial and social organization, the chief object being to assist and care for Polish women who locate in Plainfield and vicinity and to give them such protection as may be necessary, especially until they become acquainted with the customs and ways of the country. They will also be assisted in getting good positions.

There are about 500 Polish women in Plainfield and the idea of forming a society occurred to some of the older residents who have noticed that from time to time some of their country women have got into trouble simply because they were unfamiliar with American ways and have been duped by persons taking advantage of their ignorance. The society will meet every Thursday afternoon in the hall on East Second street. On Saturday, August 31, an entertainment and dance will be given. The women will appear in native costume.

These officers were elected yesterday to serve until December, when others will be chosen for the full year: President, Miss Sophia Surowiec; vice-president, Mrs. Nellie S. Stroke; recording secretary, Miss Mary Zych; financial secretary, Miss Julia Szolok; treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Hansen.

LITTLE GIRLS HELP TWO CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS

About $18 was realized on a festival held by three tots of North Plainfield on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seader, 102 Manning avenue, yesterday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home and the King's Daughters baby camp. The managers of the affair were Bertha Martin, Ethel Hall and Louise Seader.

The lawn was prettily decorated with bunting and Japanese lanterns and home made ice cream, cake and candy were on sale. Each charitable organization will receive $9 as the results of the festival. Among those who assisted were Grace Wakefield, Lucy Koch, Katherine Stiglitz, Blanche Martin, Elsie Kurzial, Dorothy Seader, Arthur Seader, Charles Wakefield and George Hall.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

NICE LUNCH CAKES.

SIMPLE cakes suitable for the school lunch basket will soon be in demand. A few simple recipes for making wholesome ones are given here.

These include both small cakes and those that must be cut.

If smaller cakes are required reduce the quantities of the ingredients for the larger ones.

Bake the cakes in fancy pans when you can. The children will like this.

Simple Confections.

Brown Drop Cakes.—Take a cupful of New Orleans molasses, one cupful brown sugar, half cupful shortening, three cupfuls flour, three-fourths cupful boiling water, three eggs, one teaspoonful baking powder. Mix the molasses, sugar and shortening together until smooth, then add the baking soda, which has been dissolved in the boiling water; add the well beaten eggs, then the sifted flour. Bake twenty minutes in moderate oven in gem pans.

Molasses Cookies.—Take a cupful of New Orleans molasses, half a cupful of butter, one egg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of sour milk in which an even teaspoonful of baking soda has been dissolved, a little cinnamon and a pinch of ground cloves. Enough flour to roll—about a quart—is sufficient. Proceed as for ordinary cookies.

Attractive Cakes.

Daisy Cake.—Mix together one cupful sugar, one-half cupful butter, one-half cupful milk, one-half cupful cornstarch, one cupful of flour, the whites of four eggs, one teaspoonful cream of tartar and one-half teaspoonful of soda. Flavor with peach juice and bake in a quick oven.

Frosted Cake.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of butter, one cupful of sweet milk, two cupfuls of flour and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. The whites of five eggs beaten to a stiff froth are mixed in last. This is fine with a frosting made with the whites of two eggs, one-half pound of pulverized sugar and cocoanut sprinkled on top.

FASHION POINTERS.

Fall Traveling Dress—Underbrim Trimming on Hats.

A smart costume designed as a traveling dress for a well known American has a coat of dark green cloth, the front basques of which were cut away a little over a stylishly cut dark green and blue tartan skirt. The plain material of the coat was introduced on the skirt in the form of stitched, shaped bands, while, en revanche, the tartan cloth was repeated on the jacket in tiny revers that successfully brightened the rather somber look of the dark green material.

Have you noticed the hat trimmings' new position? Look under the brim if you would find out.

A famous French milliner introduced the large flat hat with the underbrim trimmed as suggested.

The blouse that is closed invisibly at the back and yet has the front edges overlapped is going to be one of the favorite fall models. The blouse pictured has just these features, and the double sleeve is another smart note.

BLOUSE WITH OVERLAPPED FRONTS.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 44 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7552, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

—One of the joys of life is a girl with a permanent complexion.—Toledo Blade.

Points for Mothers

Memory In Children.

Much to the easement of our social amenities, the precocious child has gone out of fashion. No longer have we to stifle yawns and to smile while our fingers tingle from a desire to smack as a baby prodigy recites Shakespeare or makes grandiloquent speeches or gives impromptu scale practice on the piano.

In fact, the tendency is the other way. We are on the upswell of a Rousseau movement, and the dear babies are being turned out to do gardening and to cultivate powers of observation apart from books and pen and ink. The nursery has become a menagerie and botanical museum, and that her boy or girl of seven is ignorant of the alphabet is the latest and proudest boast of the loving mother.

A change all to the good surely did it not seemingly take as much time, trouble and teaching to keep up a condition of book ignorance as of book knowledge.

What is considered brain development in a child is nearly always a matter of memory and adaptability, just a parrot-like quality strongly developed. The child just remembers and imitates.

One has this shown very clearly in the historical records of royalties. Where the young prince or princess has, through the pressure of state affairs, been obliged to live surrounded by diplomatists and ministers, the child has picked up the jargon in the most astonishing fashion.

Is it not on record that when Mary, queen of Scots, as a child of eight years, met her mother at Rouen, the little queen's reply to the maternal caresses was the inquiry, "What factions continued to exist in the noble families of Scotland?" and "whether the English still harassed her native country; whether worship remained pure and the prelates and clergy did their duty?"

At eleven she quotes Plutarch, and at twelve she writes an essay on the demeanor and duties of princes couched in the language of an elderly statesman. Yet, though a brilliant woman, who can say that Mary Stuart's later life was remarkable in wisdom and diplomacy? Her precocity was just the repetition of the sentiments and expressions she heard about her.

And might not one hazard the opinion that the weighting of the memory destroys other faculties and gives a reason why the precocious child so early becomes a distinct rocket—its light and fizzle and glare all ended before maturity is reached. Perhaps it is this consciousness which makes us all have a feeling of pity for the precocious child and to rejoice so heartily that juvenile displays no longer shadow our afternoons. In some things at least we make for progress.

Books For the Little Folks.

Nowadays nobody remembers a book entitled "Sandford and Merton," and nobody reads "The Parent's Assistant," yet once upon a time these two musty, tiresome, goody goody books were considered by wise and proper grownups to be appropriate and beneficial reading for their boys and girls.

All of which proves the fallacy of hankering for "the good old days." We should be grateful for our wonderfully progressive twentieth century that sends "Sandford and Merton" and "The Parent's Assistant" disappearing beneath an almost bewildering avalanche of charming juvenile publications and be glad that our boys and girls are provided with books written to meet the needs of their natures and imaginations.

Perhaps the worthiest progress has been made in the books that are now written for very little folks, for those children who are just beginning to discover the wondrous delight of reading themselves. They must have books wherein the print is large, the language simple and the illustrations attractive. And these have been given to them. Not only Grimm's and Andersen's fairy tales have been retold, but Kingsley's "Water Babies," "Robinson Crusoe," "Stories of King Arthur's Knights" and "Undine" have been issued in delightful little volumes devised to suit very young readers.

Besides these, there are many story books and picture books that are marvels of workmanship and cleverness. Among these can be recommended Brooke's "Johnny Crow's Garden," Blaisdell's "Tommy Tinker Book," Beatrix Potter's "Tale of Peter Rabbit" and "Tale of Squirrel Nutkin," Holbrook's "Hiawatha Primer" and Chase's "Children of the Wigwam."

Exercise For the Baby.

After the baby is a few weeks old it exercises its own muscles by kicking, reaching and crowing. Every little sound it makes exercises its lungs. For this reason it is not harmful for a baby to cry a moderate amount every day. Of course violent crying should be avoided if possible, as there always is danger from an overstrain. When the baby is a few weeks old it begins to throw its arms and legs about. Then it should be allowed to lie on its back when awake and exercise as it desires. The clothing should be arranged so as not to interfere with its free movements. There is no more perfect picture of health than that of a growing baby lying on its back, kicking and crowing contentedly.

DAINTY TRIFLES THAT COST LITTLE

The Clever Woman May Adorn Her House With Knickknacks That Are Expensive If Bought In the Shops.

WEALTHY people may have the means to buy beautiful things even when they do not have the taste to evolve them, but on inquiry you will find that most of the dainty trifles which surround the millionairess had their origin in the brain of some clever and tasteful woman of scant means who was compelled to make something out of comparatively nothing and with results so pleasing that others were glad to profit by them.

Take the fancy boxes which are now a fad in smart drawing rooms. They are made of cardboard and covered with satins, silks, velvets or laces. The boxes are designed in quaint shapes.

The cardboard models are made to represent grand pianos, sedan chairs, old fashioned chests of drawers, miniature bureaus and oddly shaped cabinets. These, by the aid of rich fabrics and scissors and paste, are skillfully converted into things of beauty and often of value, for they are covered not only with rare brocades, but with everything old and interesting, from quaint backed playing cards to old wall paper, scraps of precious lace, French and oriental embroideries and even jewels, set so as to outline and emphasize the patterns of real lace.

Any woman who has a well filled scrap bag can design a score of these valued trifles to put away in the

NEW RIBBON WORKBAG.

Christmas drawer for use at holiday time. They are also acceptable contributions to the church or charitable bazaar, and in these days when their collection is a fad they are sure to find enthusiastic buyers.

Doilies and table centers are admirable things to have. Nowadays, when the cloth is so often dispensed with in favor of the polished table top, handsome centerpieces and doilies are treasured possessions. The new pierced embroidery is especially popular. So, too, are patterns adorned with Irish crochet lace.

Covers for candle shades may also be designed and made at home. The individual touch in them adds to their value and attractiveness.

The girl who likes raffia work can weave fancy covers in the natural or tinted material and use it over the beaded linings in tint to harmonize.

Lace covers for candle shades are nice. They may be made of odds and ends of lace from the scrap bag, pieced together. The covers should be kept separate. They may then be tacked to the linen or silk lining, which have bead fringe and mica foundations.

Fancy work designed of fancy ribbon, of cretonne and figured chintz is also a fad. Fancy cretonnes and chintzes are so artistic and cheap that they afford infinite opportunity for the exercise of the ingenuity of the tasteful woman. Almost the same may be said of the fancy ribbons now sold in the shops, odds and ends of which may now and then be picked up at moderate prices. Illustrated here is a handsome workbag which can be made of plain silk and figured ribbon or may be fashioned entirely of cretonne in plain and fancy patterns. The triangular section is for the accommodation of scissors, while the oblong beside it is stitched to form compartments each of which will accommodate a spool. The compartments below open inside the round bag, whose mouth may be gathered together with a drawing string. Thus the work can be kept clean and in order. The convenience of the bag is that it may be folded over and carried by the two cords or hung up by them so that its real use is not apparent.

DYING PARENT WANTS HER

Mother of Missing Woman, on Death-bed, Constantly Calls For Her Daughter, While Child Continually Asks, "Where Is Mamma?"

Alpine, N. J., Aug. 23.—A rosy cheeked baby boy is calling for his young and pretty mother, who left her home here a week ago Saturday for a visit to New York. An aged mother, lying at the point of death in the same place, yearns for the sight of her daughter, the rosy cheeked baby boy's mother.

Mrs. John Ambrose came to Manhattan on Saturday, Aug. 10, for an overnight visit with her aunt. On the following morning she left to make a call on her cousin, Miss Hilda Jordan. She never reached her cousin's home, and she has not been seen nor heard from since. After her departure her mother, Mrs. John Jordan, underwent an operation and is in a very critical condition. She constantly calls for her daughter.

John Ambrose, husband of the missing woman, has been searching everywhere for his wife. He has not the faintest clew to her whereabouts. He said that he and his wife had been married for three and a half years and that they were perfectly happy up to the time she came to New York, nearly a fortnight ago. The girl wife loved her mother and adored her child. She had often talked of "going to work," but he had always objected, saying that he could earn enough for both. She talked of trying for a place as a hospital nurse.

"It may be that she has secured employment somewhere," said the husband, "but I cannot understand why she should not communicate with us. We have no police department in Alpine, only a constable.

"My wife's disappearance is preying on her mother's mind. Our little boy cries for her and is asking continually, 'Where is mamma?'"

GIRL SHOT WITH BOY'S RIFLE

Trenton Lads Were "Hunting Burglars" With Firearm.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 23.—May West, ten years old, of this city, is in a critical condition at St. Francis' hospital as the result of a bullet wound in the right temple inflicted by either her sixteen-year-old brother, Charles West, or twelve-year-old Joseph Brenna, a neighbor's boy, while the boys were hunting burglars in the Brenna home.

Both boys are under arrest and are held without bail. Young West told the police that he and Brenna, the latter armed with a 22 caliber rifle, were searching for burglars in Brenna's house, having heard a noise, and the family being away.

Young Brenna, West says, gave up the hunt, stepped to the front door and discharged the rifle. The little girl, who had been playing in the street, happened to be passing the door at that instant and she received the bullet in her right temple. Brenna maintains that he did not fire the shot which injured the girl.

JERSEY TELEPHONE RATES.

Move to Block Camden Raise, Which Might Extend Through State.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 23.—The state public utility commissioners now have before them for final decision the question of the right of the Delaware and Atlantic Telephone and Telegraph company, a part of the Bell system, to increase its rate for service in the Camden district. The taking of testimony was completed about two weeks ago, and briefs have been submitted by counsel. The case is an important one because it is asserted that if the new rates are upheld the company will put in force similar increases in other sections of the state.

The public utility commission will resume on Sept. 9 the hearings in the Paterson-Passaic gas rate investigation.

ABANDONED GIRL IDENTIFIED

Now Newark Police Search For Child's Missing Parents

Newark, N. J., Aug. 23.—The pretty little girl who was found abandoned in a department store here on Monday was identified by Peter Renard and Marion Jepson as Ella Schwartz.

They said that the child's father had not supported the mother, who was forced to work for a living. The parents at one time occupied a room adjoining one occupied by Renard in the house of Mrs. Jennie Jepson. The child recognized and greeted the identifiers. The police are now searching for some trace of the parents.

Permanent Boarder.

Doris was radiant over a recent addition to the family and rushed out of the house to tell the news to a passing neighbor.

"Oh, you don't know what we've got upstairs!"

"What is it?"

"It's a new baby brother!" And she settled back upon her heels and folded her hands to watch the effect.

"You don't say so! Is he going to stay?"

"I guess so," very thoughtfully. "He's got his things off."—Everybody's.

HARVARD TRACK MAN VISITS IN PLAINFIELD

Crack Quarter Miler and Captain of Team Drops In For Few Days.

Ever since that Y. M. C. A track and field meet on July 4, Plainfield has become a centre for athletic work, although this is not the reason Edward Hein strolled into the Y. M. C. A. building, last night, it has probably had some influence on his decision to remain here for a few days. He is the captain-elect of the Harvard track team for next year and canvasing in New Jersey to help cover the costs of his tuition.

Hein is one of the best known quarter milers in the country, and ran in the Intercollegiates at Philadelphia last year. He qualified in his heat at that time but was put out of the finals by a strained tendon in his leg.

One of the victories he likes to tell about and the one which is perhaps the sweetest to him, is his victory over Charles Lippincott, of Syracuse University, who was a winner in the recent Olympic games. He romped home ahead of the Olympic athlete in the quarter mile at the indor meet held at Columbia University during the past indoor season. He also established a new mark for the 440 year dash in the Twenty-second Regiment meet at the same time that John Paul Jones made his famous mile mark.

Hein will continue his vacation work until the second of September, when he returns to Harvard to look after the candidates for the track team. He has instituted a new method of training at the noted American university and will keep his men on the training table from the time they enter college until after the collegiates in June.

FISHING NOTES.

Snappers or young bluefish are running in Long Island Sound and in another week they can be looked for around the Coney Island piers. From there they will work along the Jersey shore as far south as Atlantic City.

There will be a gathering at the Highlands tomorrow composed of fishermen from all parts of the State, because weakfish have been reported as found feeding along the bay shore. One captain said that the blues were playing off Sandy Hook Point and that they would be inside before sunrise. The regulars will get out to the fishing grounds early tomorrow morning and get in their fishing before the visitors arrive.

This is the season for soft and shedder crabs. They can be found at low tide where there is a mud bottom or clinging to the roots of plants along the creek and river banks. Soft crabs make excellent bait for fishing, although the shedder crab has the best calf.

There will be a good fishing tide Sunday. The full ebb and the full flood tides can be fished from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., with the slack water at noon.

Five and six weakfish are being caught to a tide from Van Pelt's boats at Perth Amboy. While this is a small catch, it is above the catches made so far this summer. The fishermen anchor on the oyster flats just off the boathouse or else fish in the channel between Perth Amboy and Tottenville.

Sea bass can be caught about a mile southwest of Swinburne Island in the lower bay. The fish are not of the humpback kind, but they are large enough for pan fish. Sea porgies are also there and early this week quite a few of the big fluke were taken there.

The best fishing of the year is now being done at Lake Hopatcong. If you are acquainted with the fishing grounds in this lake you should have no trouble in getting a dozen bass in a day.

SWEDEN A WOMAN'S PARADISE.

Women share every privilege offered there to their husbands and brothers, and those who have to earn their living find the doors of no profession shut in their faces.

The fair sex invades every public department. Women are the bank clerks, as well as the postoffice clerks, and life in a Swedish town is made very pleasant for the worker. Every day, for example, the postoffices are closed from 3 to 5 o'clock, and during that time the clerks may rest or take part in some of the many outdoor games that are popular there.

It is to Sweden that the Socialist might look for examples. The state interferes very little with the liberty of the subject. Legal matters are so arranged that the poorest man can hope for justice at a small cost. Arbitration is held in high favor.

Stealing is rarely heard of, and the more serious crimes are almost unknown. The street cars have no conductors to collect fare; each passenger puts the money in a little box by the door. In places of amusement people hang their hats and coats in a large hall, and there is no attendant in charge of valuable furs, often left to the mercy of the passer-by.

Drunkenness is almost impossible, owing to the very Draconian laws regulating the sale of wine and spirits. No tobacco can be purchased by boys.

PROCTOR'S GOOD SHOW.

Blanchard's school kids, boys and girls, in a merry whirl of mirth and melody, are the big hit at Proctor's this week. The whole act is a good one, the singing and dancing being above the average. Louise Galloway, Joe Kaufman & Co., present a clever sketch, "The Little Mother," which has a true moral. The Four Sons offer a fine musical act, classical and popular. Adele Archer, a singer with a powerful soprano voice, is pleasing. The number, Tosti's "Good-bye" making a hit. Fred and Opal Elliott, singers, dancers, comedians and musicans, complete a fine show.

Sunday at Lake Hopatcong.

Walter A. McCreery Insane.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—Walter A. McCreery, clubman and international polo player, who returned to San Francisco from London this week, bundled in furs, has been adjudged insane.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

JUST TAPS BY "BUNTS"

Wonder how aviation and baseball will agree with each other tomorrow afternoon?

We will take a dose of the flying stuff this afternoon but will have to wait until tomorrow to see Slocum go up in the air.

Eddie Stallings has sent out warnings to all the Bound Brook residents who pasture their poultry on the Main street baseball diamond to keep them in the coop tomorrow afternoon. If they don't it will be chicken pie for Eddie.

While looking over the Bound Brook field as a possible landing place for tomorrow's flight Lincoln Beachey tripped on a chicken and aviator!

Beware, he may drop in on you tomorrow.

Good opportunity to catch up with your correspondence, the airship will take it up for you.

The two ball teams ought to go along swimmingly in tomorrow's game as there is a creek on the diamond.

At last Saturday's contest the peanuts sold like hot cakes. Don't know whether hot cakes are sold like shoes. Ask the shoemaker.

Now that Frederickson has had a dose of the Slocum cure at the seashore he may have become one of those real tony lads. Let's hope he won't say "cawn't" for "can't."

Wonder how the Commercials and R. G. E. crowd will feel after their games tomorrow?

Hope they break that tie and finish up the season before next summer.

The First Baptist team now has a clear conscience anyway. They say they did not want that game with Monroe but only intended to borrow it for a few days to see how it felt to sit in the first row.

Saurers have an outing tomorrow! And they go to the same place that the Spicer crowd did. Enough said. We hope for their safe return. Oh, no, your wife won't read this.

Everybody seems to be pitying the poor Giants. We poor guys are leading the league and the club won't make a cent less than $250,000 on the season. Only a hardened old geezer can fail to shed a tear over that long layout.

Say, have you noticed the people going about the streets with their necks craned and eyes turned heaven-ward?

Oh, no, they are not trying to look pious or hauty, or even trying to shun you, but they are looking for the Havens and Beachey troupe.

IMPORTANT GAMES IN THE FACTORY LEAGUE

Tomorrow's Contests May Decide the Pennant Race In Manufacturers' League.

Two postponed games will be disposed of in the Manufacturers' Baseball League tomorrow and both will be the hottest kind of battles. The Spicer aggregation has it in for the R. G. E. bunch and Manager Thompson is anxious to finish up the league season so you can land a safe bet that the Spicer team will make the pennant aspirants go the limit. The R. G. E. combination is weakened by the absence of Jimmy Montross, its star all around man, and the loss of his stick work will have some effect on the outcome of the battle. In the absence of the Plainfield baseball team, which will play in Bound Brook, the Spicer and R. G. E. fight will be waged on Crescent Oval.

Commercials will cross bats with the Public Service ball tossers on the Clinton avenue field, and as the former are determined to hold their one-half game lead they will put up their best brand of ball. The Banks-Saurer game will have to be played on a later date because of the Saurer outing to Staten Island tomorrow.

JACK MARTIN PLAYS IN ROCHESTER GAME

Manages to Get In Some Stick Work But Errors Still Cling.

Jack Martin donned a Rochester uniform yesterday and was put to work by Manager Ganzel at short against the Providence team. Although he fell down on two chances, Martin's afternoon's work was fairly creditable. He got one of his team's hits, stole a base, figured in a double play and accepted six chances. Rochester won the game by the score of 8 to 2.

Tommy McMillan, the young shortstop who figured in the trade for Martin, played his first game as a Yankee on Wednesday against the Chicago White Sox. Considering that he is a youngster he put up a fair sort of a game, but as yet has shown no improvement on Martin's work. In the first game he made two errors which let in the only run scored on Caldwell, but he also helped along a double play. He stole a base and scored one of the Highlander's runs in the same game.

He recovered himself in yesterday's game against the White Sox and came through the fray without an error. He also chalked up two hits, two putouts, one assist and pounded out a sacrifice.

Martin is not new to the International league fans, as he played for some time on the Rochester team before he was called to the big show. Jack makes friends wherever he goes, and those in the minor league have not forgotten his sensational playing during his previous connection with the champions.

DECIDING GAME AT BOUND BROOK

Plainfield Will Go to the Hilly City to Break the Tie.

TO USE REGULAR MEN

Another Pitching Duel Between Frederickson and Slocum—Both Teams Have Reserve Men to Call Upon For Box Work.

Although the aviation meet is a thing that cannot be seen every Saturday, a number of ardent baseball fans are willing to take a chance on the bird men dropping in on the spectators at Bound Brook tomorrow afternoon and many will make the trip to the hilly "city" to see the Plainfield baseball team stack up against Newhouse's "Bees" in the deciding contest. In the first meeting the Bound Brook sluggers pounded the offerings of Frederickson to the four corners of the town and kept sixteen runs in that burg against the two taken away by the Queen City players.

Conditions were reversed at Crescent Oval last Saturday and Slocum was given just as hot a reception. Plainfield kept the larger end of the tally in their own possession during the second trip and managed to even up the series by a 9 to 4 score. In both contests the regular twirler was taken out before the nine innings were completed and another member of his team took his place on the mound. In the first game it was Eddie Stallings who supplemented in the box and he did nobly during his stay on the mound. Manager Newhouse was forced to call upon Eugene Lidgate in last week's game and he held the locals to one hit in five innings. Now the question arises as to who will shine as a substitute tomorrow?

Both nines are keyed up to a high pitch for the deciding contest and both managers will have their regular lineup on the field.

Plainfield—Cosgrove, rf; E. Stallings, lf; Harter, cf; Dalton, 3b; W. Stallings, 2b; Driscoll, 1b; Emery, ss; Nelson, c; Frederickson, p.

Umpire—Degnon.

ROYAL GIANTS WILL PLAY AT WESTFELD

"Westfield Won at the First Meeting But Will Not Repeat," Says Simmons.

Manager Pete Simmons and his aggregation of Royal Colored Giants will play their second game at Recreation Park in Westfield tomorrow afternoon. The first contest between Westfield and the Giants was a hard fought struggle from beginning to end and the home nine just scraped through with a 1 to 0 victory over the Royals. Simmons will have the same lineup on the field in the second contest and a fast and exciting game is expected.

A large number of rooters from this city are likely to accompany the dusky ball tossers on their trip and Manager Simmons says he is going to spring one on the Mt. Ararat crowd. The lineups of the opposing nines are as follows:

Royal Giants—Borden 3b., Brown 1b., Jones 2b., Thomas ss., Simmons rf., Kline lf., Ford c., McDonald p., Coleman, cf.

Westfield—Macauliff lf., Evans ss., Lang cf., Wallen 1b., Kull rf., Kurfuss 2b., Gallen c., Ortlieb p., Ulrich 3b.

DOUBLE HEADER PLAYED AT PARKER FIELD

Yankees Defeated the Athletics and Giants Trounced Pirates Yesterday.

Pirates	5	3	.625
Athletics	6	4	.600
Yankees	5	4	.556
Cubs	4	5	.444
Giants	3	7	.300

Two games of ball were played in the Parker Field junior league yesterday morning, the Yankees taking a 6 to 5 count out of the Athletics and the Giants trouncing the Pirates to the tune of 11 to 2.

The Giants landed on Coughlan in the last two innings and won the first game of the double-header by lacing out fourteen hits. Moulton twirled a star game for the victors, getting sixteen strikeouts, and allowing but five safties. Berse was the leading hitsmith, getting three safe licks out of five trips to the plate.

The second game was close and exciting from start to finish and the Yankees barely managed to nose out the Athletics by pushing a winning tally across in the ninth. Both pitchers put up a fast article of ball but were accorded wretched support, their fielders chalking up a total of fourteen misplays.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL RACE NOW ON IN EARNEST

Scrappy Monroe Bunch Are Now Sole Holders of First Place Berth.

With the Monroe Avenue ball tossers leading the Sunday-school League race, and the First Baptists shoved back into third place as a result of the counter protest handed in and decided in favor of the Monroes, the games scheduled for tomorrow are bound to bring out some change in the league standing. The league leaders will entertain the South Plainfield team and as the villagers are likely to spring one at any time they may succeed in taking one out of the scrappy Monroe bunch.

First Baptist has a different proposition to stack up against, and as these two aggregations are tied for third place things are bound to fly when they come together. Hope chapel has been plugging along at a steady clip all season and it would not be a great surprise to see the Chapelites occupying a berth on the top rung before many more contests have been played—and they don't annex their wins on protests either. Temple Baptist and Park Avenue Baptists will complete the trio of contests to be played and as the Temples have been playing sensational ball during their last few engagements they may add to the excitement by tanning the Parks.

DUNELLEN TO PLAY AT RAHWAY TOMORROW

Manager Bogardus' Clan Will Try To Even Up Early Season's Defeat.

Dunellen will go to Rahway tomorrow afternoon and hook up with the team of that place in the second game of their series. The first contest resulted in a 5 to 4 win for Rahway after a ten-inning contest had been run off.

Manager Bogardus will have to get along without the services of Lou Dixon, his star catcher and slugger, in Saturday's contest, as he is out of commission just at present with a pair of split fingers that he received in the Plainfield-Scotch Plains game last Sunday. Percy Harney will take his place behind the bat and as his work in this position is well-known to Dunellen fans he will prove a capable substitute.

The two teams will take the field as follows:

Out of town patrons will find it advantageous to arrange to spend several days in Newark during this sale.

Morning shopping is very desirable these days. It certainly looks like Christmas in the store these afternoons.

BAMBERGER'S

"THE ALWAYS BUSY STORE"

MARKET & HALSEY STS., NEWARK

If the elevators are crowded please use the moving stairways. You will save much time, and time is precious.

This sale has set a new standard for August. Every day is a record day. Tomorrow will be the best yet.

The Great Removal Sale

Each Succeeding Day Brings Greater Triumphs to the Bamberger Store

FROM EVERY POINT OF VIEW THE BIG REMOVAL SALE IS THE MOST PRONOUNCED TRADE SUCCESS IN THE HISTORY OF THE BAMBERGER STORE, WHICH IS TO SAY THAT IT IS THE MOST IMPORTANT SELLING FUNCTION ON RECORD IN NEWARK. FEW ESTABLISHMENTS HAVE EVER ASPIRED TO SUCH A PRODIGIOUS SALE, AND IT IS NOT AT ALL PROBABLE THAT THE PEOPLE OF NORTH JERSEY WILL EVER AGAIN BE TREATED TO SUCH A VARIETY OF SUBSTANTIAL BARGAINS. WE HAVE MADE UP OUR MINDS TO DISPOSE OF AS MUCH OF OUR STOCK AS POSSIBLE BEFORE ENTERING OUR SPLENDID NEW STORE, AND WE HAVE SET ABOUT RESOLUTELY TO ACCOMPLISH OUR PURPOSE. THE NEW STORE MUST BE NEW!

The Object of This Sale

We have determined that the "Great New White Store" shall be new not only so far as the building itself is concerned, but that the merchandise shall be new. It therefore behooves us to dispose of as much of our merchandise as we can before entering the commodious store now nearing completion. We have reduced prices to such an extent as to make it worth your while to help carry away much of the merchandise now crowding our six floors.

PROPOSALS FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT WORK.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Committee on County Roads, Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, at 2:00 p. m. on Tuesday, September 3, 1912, at the Court House, Elizabeth, N. J., for the following described work:

Improvement of South Avenue, from Summit Avenue to Terrill Road, in the Borough of Fanwood, Union County, N. J., being about 1.344 miles in length.

The items of the work are as follows:
Excavation, 1578 cu. yds.
Road Surface, 12804 sq. yds.
Crushed Stone, 1800 tons.
Cleaning and scraping gutters, 12000 lin. ft.
Culvert at Martine Avenue, complete.
Culvert at station 41x25, complete.
Cobble Stone gutters, 66 sq. yds.
Tile underdrains, 1600 lin. ft.

Plans, cross-sections, profiles and specifications for this work may be examined at the office of the State Commissioner of Public Roads, State House, Trenton, N. J., and also at the office of the County Engineer, 120 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J. Bidders may secure copies of the plans and specifications by leaving a deposit of $10.00 with the County Engineer, as a guarantee that the same will be returned.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for the sum of $1,000, made payable to the County Collector, as a guarantee of good faith, as set forth in Section 15 of the specifications for the work.

The right is reserved by the Committee on County Roads and the State Commissioner of Public Roads to reject any or all bids, as may be deemed best for the interests of the County of Union, and the State of New Jersey.

JACOB L. BAUER,
County Engineer.

CIVILIAN NOW IN WHITMAN'S NET

His Deposits Follow Withdrawals of Police Inspector.

INDICT TWO DETECTIVES.

Charged With Oppression In Placing Revolver In Jack Zelig's Pocket. Becker Had $125,000 In Safe Deposit Vaults and Speculated In Wall Street.

New York, Aug. 23.—District Attorney Whitman issued a statement showing that Lieutenant Becker had on deposit in nine banks from November 1911, to August, 1912, $49,623.75 and that Mrs. Becker withdrew $20,008.73 from eight savings banks on July 31 and Aug. 1, after Becker was indicted for murder.

It is now estimated that the bank deposits, together with cash, known to have been put in safe deposit boxes will approximate $125,000. In addition Becker put up heavy margins for Wall street speculation.

The district attorney has established a graft connection between a civilian employee of the police department and an inspector who owed his promotion to this employee. It has been learned that the uniformed official had two safe deposit boxes and a bank account and that the inspector had three bank accounts and a safe deposit box. The withdrawals from the inspector's bank accounts and the visits of the official to his safe deposit boxes tally precisely as to dates. These men and a second uptown inspector will be indicted, it is said.

Two Detectives Indicted.

The grand jury took an adjournment for ten days after returning indictments for oppression and perjury against Detectives James C. White and John C. Steinert, formerly of the "strong arm" squad commanded by Lieutenant Becker. The grand jury met solely for the purpose of hearing testimony that these detectives had at Becker's request conspired to make it appear that "Big Jack" Zelig, the gang leader, was guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and that they had sworn before the grand jury that indicted Zelig that they found a loaded pistol in his pocket.

Zelig himself was one of seven witnesses who testified. His testimony was practically a repetition of what has already been published.

The pistol which it is alleged Detectives White and Steinert placed in his pocket on the occasion was brought from police headquarters. It was a 38 caliber Hotchkiss. Zelig made the point in his testimony that he could not have concealed so large a weapon in any of his coat pockets. The grand jurors experimented for themselves with the coat that Zelig wore on that occasion and declared that Zelig was right. When they put the revolver in the biggest of the pockets part of it was in plain sight.
